

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 944

Everyone in the cave was stunned.

They rubbed their eyes hard, unable to believe what they just saw.

There was no mistake. That guy had swallowed the elemental fire!

Was that guy crazy? Elemental fire was extremely hot and volatile! It was dangerous enough to hold it in their hands. That guy would instantly be reduced to ashes if he swallowed it!

“Heh! So he’s a hothead!”

Many people started to laugh mockingly.

They thought that the kid was extremely stupid. He probably did not know how scary elemental fire could be and swallowed it as though it were ordinary fire!

“Haha! That idiot swallowed the elemental fire! He has a death wish!” Jin Duoduo laughed loudly.

The princes and princess also burst into laughter. Their expressions were filled with ridicule.

They were just as young as Tang Hao, and some of them were considered prodigies. Naturally, they were displeased to see someone of their age being more powerful.

They were happy to see the guy committing suicide.

“That guy... is an idiot!”

Everyone shook their heads and waited for that guy to be burned into ashes from the inside out.

At that moment, Tang Hao furrowed his brows in agony.

He had underestimated the power of elemental fire. He could feel the ball of fire burning a hole in his throat. The pain was unimaginable. When the ball of fire entered his stomach, he felt as though his entire body was burning.

That was already considering that his physical body was extraordinarily resilient. A normal cultivator would have been reduced to ashes as soon as the fire entered their mouth.

The fire rampaged through his body, bringing him unspeakable suffering.

If it went on, he would not be able to control the elemental fire, and he could not unseal the chakra.

He gritted his teeth and channeled the power of the divine bone to control the fire.

The ball of fire resisted even more violently.

The two forces fought inside his body. The elemental fire consumed his body, but the divine bone constantly regenerated it.

“Dammit!”

Tang Hao’s face twitched in pain. He did not expect that the thing was so tricky.

After a while, the ball of fire calmed down a lot. Tang Hao steered the ball of fire to the top of his head.

At the middle of one's forehead was a chakra named Shenting. Among the four remaining chakras, that was the second most difficult chakra to unseal. Most people would choose to unseal the chakra between their legs as the sixth chakra because it was easier, even though it was much more difficult compared to the previous five.

If it were that easy, there would not be so few six-chakra prodigies.

The Shenting chakra was related to the soul, and unsealing it would strengthen the soul greatly. Moreover, it could hold a lot of qi and would increase one's power substantially.

That was why Tang Hao wanted to unseal that chakra first.

He guided the elemental fire and used it to ram the chakra repeatedly. He was surrounded by enemies, and he did not have much time to lose.

Everyone could not help but laugh when they saw the agonized expression on Tang Hao's face. They thought that he was going to die anytime soon, but somehow he did not.

The kid just stood there. He seemed to be in pain, but his body was completely fine.

Everyone was stunned and dumbfounded.

'Isn't he supposed to be reduced to ashes?

'That's really strange!'

They wondered if the kid had actually swallowed the elemental fire or hid it somewhere. Why was he still alive?

They scratched their heads and could not figure it out.

Soon, they realized that the kid's aura was turning unusual.

"Let's kill him first!"

Some people could not wait anymore. If they continued to waste time there, more people would come, and it would be difficult to escape.

Whoosh! Whoosh!

Several figures jumped out, shooting beams of light at Tang Hao.

Suddenly, Tang Hao stood straight up, and the agonized expression on his face disappeared. He grunted, activated his Fleetfoot Stride, and dodged the incoming attacks.

He appeared in front of a person and threw a punch.

Boom!

The punch was blocked by a light barrier that was activated in the nick of time.

"Tsk!" Tang Hao frowned.

He was not in the Void Realm but the real world. The cultivators all had defensive Artifacts, and it would not be that easy to kill someone.

It was not that difficult either!

His gaze turned cold as he threw another punch.

Bang! The light barrier shattered, and the elder could only watch helplessly as Tang Hao's palm landed on his head.

The elder's head exploded like a watermelon, and blood and flesh splattered everywhere.

His body flashed again and appeared in front of another person. After a few punches, that person exploded.

Two Golden Core cultivators in the early period died in the blink of an eye!

Hiss! Everyone gasped loudly.

They were shocked; some were even terrified.

Was that kid only in the awakening period? He looked more like he was in the early or middle period of the State of the Golden Core!

Earlier, he had managed to pull off a sneak attack against that cultivator, but this time, he killed two people in a row in a head-on confrontation. That was too shocking!

Moreover, the technique was simple yet brutal.

“Damn! Am I dreaming?” Jin Duoduo was stunned. When he came to his senses, he slapped himself.

“Ow!”

‘It hurts! It’s not a dream!’

He looked at that guy again and began to panic.

‘F*ck! That guy is a freak! He’s only in the awakening period, but why does he look like a middle period Golden Core when he fights? Where’s the justice in that?’

‘Also, that guy had swallowed a ball of elemental fire earlier. Why does he look like he’s fine?’

He could not understand it at all.

The other people had similar thoughts.

“Oh my god! That’s too savage!”

“Where did this monster come from?”

They all cried out in surprise.

An old man in the crowd frowned and muttered. "Why does that technique look so familiar? And his body..."

His gaze landed on Tang Hao's chest. There was a faint golden glow.

His eyes suddenly widened as he cried out involuntarily, "You're... you're that supervillain!"

He gritted his teeth and looked at Tang Hao with hatred.

"Supervillain? That's right, it's him! He can't be anyone else!"

Several people among the crowd cried out excitedly.

"Supervillain? Who is it? I've never heard of him before."

The other people were confused.

As far as they knew, no one in the southern region was known as the supervillain.

They turned around to look at the people who were shouting, and they were shocked when they saw that those people were from the major factions in the southern region. They were from Martial Mountain, the Yue family, and the barbarian tribe.

Those people were excited, but at the same time, they seemed to be filled with hatred. The other people could not help but wonder what was going on.
