

The Mightiest Little Peasant Chapter 945

“You’ve finally shown yourself, supervillain!”

The elder from Martial Mountain grunted coldly, then laughed out loud.

Martial Mountain had been searching for the supervillain for a long time, but they could not find anything. He did not expect that the supervillain would come looking for them instead.

The supervillain was indeed unrivaled in the Void Realm and had upended its stability.

Of course, that was only in the Void Realm. In the real world, the kid could not cause too much harm.

His gaze gradually became greedy and eager as he stared at the kid’s chest.

That was Rainbringer’s divine bone, a supreme treasure coveted by all. That was how the kid became so powerful.

Other than the bone, this kid also had two dark gold shards, which were exceedingly rare.

Now, the kid had a ball of elemental fire in his body.

Any one of the three treasures was enough to make everyone go crazy, let alone all three treasures in a single body. No one could resist such a temptation.

The people from the other major factions also had the same eager expression on their faces.

Then, they looked at each other with hostility.

Each of them thought that they were the only ones qualified to obtain the kid's treasures.

“He's that supervillain?”

Many young people in the crowd were shocked by the revelation. They had heard of the supervillain who terrorized the Void Realm, but they had never seen him before.

In their respective factions, only the elders and the most elite disciples were allowed to access the Void Realm.

When they first heard the supervillain's deeds, they could not believe that a single person could dominate the entire region. How was it possible that the elders and the most elite prodigies could not defeat him?

As far as they knew, the supervillain was a previously unknown prodigy from the borderlands who unsealed five chakras and possessed the Rainbringer divine bone. He was a freak for killing several Golden Core cultivators in a row.

That made them even more shocked.

It was a huge blow to their self-esteem. They had always thought that they were the best among the younger generation in the southern region. Not many people could be their match.

However, the appearance of that monster completely overshadowed the brilliance of those prodigies. He was notorious not only in the southern region but the entire Ninth Continent.

Whenever someone mentioned the number one prodigy in the southern region, they would think of that anonymous prodigy instead of them.

The sect had sent many people to look for that guy.

Now that they had found him, he was just as savage and ruthless as the rumors said.

Everyone in the cave was discussing excitedly about the identity of that person who could agitate all the major factions.

Very quickly, they had a clue.

“He’s that anonymous prodigy!” Someone said confidently.

It was not difficult to reach that conclusion. In fact, someone had already made that guess a while ago. Not many young people in the southern region had such shocking power.

The only person who could possibly agitate the major factions must be that nameless prodigy, but they did not know why they called him a supervillain.

Moreover, they seemed to have a deep grudge against him.

Blinded by greed, they did not have time to pay attention to those details.

They were losing their minds over the prospect of obtaining Rainbringer’s divine bone and a ball of elemental fire.

Tang Hao stood nonchalantly in the middle of the battlefield. He had already expected this result.

If those people did not move, he was not going to move either. He wasted no time trying to unseal the Shenting chakra. Once it was unsealed, his chances of escape would be much greater.

“Do you still remember me, Qin guy?”

A young man from Martial Mountain jumped out of the crowd and shouted loudly.

Tang Hao looked up, frowned, and asked, “Who are you again?”

The young man was stunned, and his face turned ashen.

That guy did not remember him! Actually, it was more like that guy did not even know who he was. The supervillain had killed him with one slap and probably did not look at him.

His body trembled with anger when he thought of that humiliation.

“I might not be your match in the Void Realm, Qin guy, but here, you’re no match for me!” He shouted as the sword on his back flew out of its sheath.

It was an ancient green sword that hummed and vibrated with intense sword qi.

Six points of divine light lit up on his body.

“Isn’t he Su Jiantao, one of the prodigies of Martial Mountain?”

“He’s unsealed six chakras! Since when did that happen? Wasn’t it only five chakras a while ago?”

Everyone cried out in surprise.

Su Jiantao was a famous prodigy in the southern region. He was one of the two heroes of Martial Mountain.

“That’s the Greenfrost Sword of Martial Mountain. With his six-chakra cultivation, he might be able to put up a fight!”

“He might be able to put up a fight, but the chances of him winning aren’t great either!”

The crowd began to discuss again.

Su Jiantao shouted, and the Greenfrost Sword shot out explosively to attack Tang Hao.

Tang Hao narrowed his gaze. The qi aura of the sword was astonishing, but his body flashed and dodged the attack.

Su Jiantao was startled, and he sent another mental command to the sword to attack again.

However, the opponent was too fast, and he could not hit him at all.

“Stop dodging, dammit! Stand and fight if you have the guts!” He shouted in exasperation.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

The light from the sword formed an interweaving web, but it could barely touch the hem of the opponent's clothes. The opponent moved like a phantom and dodged all the attacks.

Everyone was dumbfounded.

The flying sword was considered one of the fastest Artifact weapons, but how could it keep missing that guy? That was inconceivable!

"The Fleetfoot Stride is truly miraculous!"

The elder from Martial Mountain muttered solemnly.

"Stop dodging, Qin guy! Let's fight fair and square!" Su Jiantao roared crazily.

"Alright then! Let's fight fair and square!"

Suddenly, Tang Hao stopped and said coldly.

A point of light suddenly lit up on his forehead. It was blurry at first, but it suddenly burst brilliantly. At the same time, points of divine light lit up on his chest and shoulders.

The six points of divine light filled the entire cave and dazzled everyone.

His qi aura expanded steadily.

Everyone was stunned.

Six chakras!

He also had six chakras!

When they came to their senses, their bodies trembled, and their minds were filled with extreme shock. They realized that the guy was trying to use the power of the elemental fire to unseal the six chakras right under their noses!

Moreover, he succeeded!

How brazen could he be?

Tang Hao grinned disdainfully as he faced the golden light that shot toward him. He took a step forward and threw a punch.

Clang!

The sword qi dissipated instantly, and the sword flew away. Sun Jiantao's body trembled, and he spat out a mouthful of blood.
