

Chapter 414

Under the guidance of Henry, the onlookers who were from the beginning inclined to the Peerless Jade, now began to abandon it.

Bing's face darkened. He knew that if this matter was not handled well today, he, as a gambling stone shop owner, would be in trouble. Now, he could only pin his hopes on the old man.

The old man wiped the sweat on his face and stared at the stone he chose.

After two strikes, nothing was found. By the time the third cut failed, the old man's face was already very ugly and beads of sweat appeared on his forehead.

The fourth cut, and when there was only one-third of the stone left, the staff stopped. The old man also showed a relieved expression on his face because of the staff's move. He knew very well what it meant.

However, now that there was a hint of green, he would not be happy at all. He only hoped that he would not mess up this matter.

The stone that the old man chose also had a piece of green. Although it was only a small piece, which was not as big as an adult's fist, it actually was inside.

The old man shouted to the onlookers, "Everyone, did you see that? It's easy to distinguish the stones in the Broken Jade Pavilion. These kinds of stones are all processed by themselves. There's definitely something in it."

Now, both Henry and the old man were able to dig something out of the competitor's store. The onlookers looked at each other. They didn't know which store was trying to cheat them. Could it be that both stores were like this?

A smile appeared on Bing's face. In this way, his reputation would be saved.

Henry laughed and said loudly, "You were just lucky. Why don't we change our playing style and pick ten stones at a time? Do you dare?"

This time, Bing did not immediately accept the challenge. He asked, "Why?"

"Because I just saw a lot of jade stones specially processed in your store!" Henry replied.

"B*llshit!" Bing roared.

"Haha." Henry smiled. "Young Master Ke, if you don't dare, I have nothing to say. If you don't want to play, it's okay."

Bing stood aside with a pale face and did not answer. He now wanted to get over this matter as soon as possible.

"Come on, make way, make way."

There was a voice in the crowd.

There was a group of more than 20 people walking out of the crowd. They looked at Bing and asked, "Boss, I heard that it is your opening day, each of us only needs to pay 200 yuan to buy the first stone right?"

"Yes." Bing nodded.

"Okay, then give each of us a stone." The leader said, and then everyone took out 200 yuan from their pockets.

"You can pick any stone you like." Bing took the money and looked at Henry complacently. Although the money was not much, it was important. In the end, everyone still came to Peerless Jade.

Bing's pride showed for a short while, but it disappeared completely because of the movements of the more than 20 people.

After more than 20 people paid the money, they all looked at Henry. The leader said, "Boss, you sent me a text message just now and told me that we have a chance to make a fortune. Which one should I choose?"

Bing suddenly had a bad feeling.

Henry reached out his hand and pointed on Bing's store. "That one, that one, that one, that one."

These people took all the stones Henry had pointed at, and they could see that Bing's face was pale at this moment. 20 stones that Henry was pointing to were specially processed by him. There were all the jades prepared by Bing himself!

The leader of these 20 people was none other than Wade White.

After choosing the stones, Wade took them to open in front of the onlookers. Without exception, all the stones inside were green.

Bing's face looked as if he had eaten the most disgusting food and it looked horrible. These jade pieces were all bought at a high price by him in the past. Today, they were sold for 200 yuan, and they were all taken away by others?

At this moment, Bing felt that his breathing was not smooth. How much were these jades? At least nearly ten million! Not only did he give them away in vain, but he also gave them to his enemy!

When the onlookers saw that all the stones were correctly guessed by Henry, no matter how dull their reactions were, they could understand how many tricks there were in this Peerless Jade. Otherwise, it was impossible for them to have such a probability of opening stones.

"Old man!" An onlooker shouted at the old man who was invited by Bing. "Didn't you just say that only if there was something fishy with the stone, it could be guessed correctly? What can you say now that your stones were all guessed correctly? Can you do that?"

"That's right. Your Peerless Jade went too far. You're so deceptive!"

"If someone didn't expose you, I don't know how many people would be cheated. Let's go and report them!"

The onlookers' words made Bing's face even more ugly. He looked at the old man. If he couldn't handle today's matter well, he would definitely pay the double price. The most important thing was that he was suppressed by Henry, which made him very angry.

The old man had just cut out a piece of green, and he was very lucky. Now they made him choose other stones and find jade in them. He was not confident at all. He couldn't be like Henry who picked more than 20 stones in a row and all of them had jade.

At this moment, the old man also had a feeling of being driven into a corner. He took a deep breath and walked back to the Broken Jade Pavilion. He chose more than 20 stones and shouted, "Open them all!"

The staff of Peerless Jade came up with professional tools and was ready to start.

"Wait!" Henry shouted and stopped his opponent's movement.

"What's wrong?" The old man was delighted. This man didn't allow him to cut the stones. Was there really something fishy in these stones? According to his experience, he had just found the most likely stones to have jade inside.

"Hey, Henry, aren't you very arrogant? You cut our stones, but you don't let us cut yours?" Bing's focus was no longer to clarify himself, but to strive to come back.

Henry shook his head and said, "It's not that I don't want you to cut. The stones just now were all bought with money. Now you want to cut our stones, you have to pay the money, right?"

After Henry finished speaking, he looked at Bing with a smile.

Bing was stunned for a moment and then said with hatred, "Okay. It's not that I lack money!"

"Okay." Henry nodded and pointed to the more than 20 stones picked out by the old man. "These stones are all clearly priced. Among them, there are two stones, one hundred and ten thousand and one hundred and thirteen thousand. The rest of them are all good-looking, with a starting price of between three thousand to fifteen thousand. For the sake of your master Ke, the total price is three hundred thousand yuan."

Chapter 415

Hearing Henry's words, Bing Ke narrowed his eyes and said in a low voice, "Henry, are you kidding me? You just took more than 20 rocks from me for 4,000 yuan. Now you want me to pay 300,000 yuan?"

"Young Master Ke, we are all businessmen here, you set your prices and we set ours. If you don't want to buy it, you don't have to." Henry smiled happily.

Bing took a deep breath. He was not short of 300,000 yuan. 300,000 yuan was no different from a thousand yuan in his eyes. But he just didn't want to follow Henry's order.

Bing said, "What bullsh*t King Stone? It's just a trick. I don't want any of these two stone. Others are worth 60,000, right? Go and swipe my card."

Bing waved his hand, and the people behind him immediately came up and paid the money.

"What's wrong? Can we cut the stones now?" Bing asked after paying the bill.

Henry made a gesture of "please", "Young Master Ke, you can do whatever you like."

"Open!" Bing shouted, and his men began to cut the stones.

One of them was cut open, but there was nothing. The second one, nothing. Third, forth...

The onlookers looked at stones quietly. When they cut the 17th one, they saw a little green, but it was not expensive. It was only worth more than 10,000 yuan. Compared with the cost this time, it was far from enough.

As the stones were cut one by one, Bing's face became more and more ugly. The old man was already sweating profusely.

In the end, all the stones were cut open, and only one piece of jade was cut out.

In fact, in the stone gambling market, among the one hundred people, there was one person who could make a fortune. Even if the odds were high, the old man chose the stones which were worth sixty thousand yuan and only got a jade worth around ten thousand yuan. He was lucky enough, but now, it was far from enough.

"Hey, those are the facts! There's something fishy about all the stones in Peerless Jade. There's nothing wrong with the Broken Jade Pavilion."

"That's right. This old man was just talking nonsense. He said these stones had been specially processed, and it looked like it was really processed. But in the end, there was nothing wrong."

"On the contrary, in your store, every stone had jade inside. Everyone knows that your store did something fishy!"

What happened now had already made it clear to everyone which store had been using some tricks.

Bing's face was gloomy. This time, it could be said that he was completely crushed by Henry. Bing clenched his fists tightly.

Henry's face was full of smiles, and he said to Bing loudly, "Young Master Ke, thank you. I'm a little embarrassed about your generous gifts today."

As soon as Henry finished his words, the people brought by Wade White all burst into laughter.

Wade raised the jade in his hand and shouted at Henry, "Boss, if there is again such a thing in future, please let me know. This money is too easy to earn. I really hope that such a fool would give money every day."

Hearing Wade's words, the onlookers burst into laughter.

Peerless Jade specially prepared some jade to cheat people. As a result, its competitors saw it and asked someone to buy all these jade. This person didn't cheat or earn money. Instead, he lost nearly ten million yuan. This matter would soon be spread everywhere. For a long time, Peerless Jade and Bing Ke would be the laughing stock of everyone.

"By the way," Henry snapped his fingers, "Young Master Ke, the two King stones you just rejected are pretty good. Since you are so generous today, I can't be stingy. I personally give money to open these two stones."

After Henry finished speaking, he waved his hand.

The staff of the Broken Jade Pavilion immediately stepped forward.

The reason why King Stone got a name King Stone was that it gave people an extraordinary feeling just by looking at it. Two King Stones were about 25 centimetres long, 6 centimetres high, oval-shaped. At first glance, these two stones were smooth in appearance and shiny. This kind of King Stone had a high chance to contain jade. It was likely to be found that the whole stone was a piece of beautiful jade after a slight brushing. Of course, there was also a smooth surface, revealing the nature of rough stones. In general, it was a big gamble to buy a King Stone.

If you couldn't find anything inside, it would cost you more than 100,000 yuan. If you could find something, it would depend on the quality of the jade. It was extremely difficult to find a jade worth more than 100,000 yuan.

With the help of the staff of the Broken Jade Pavilion, one King Stone, which was green on the surface, was gradually brushed away. Under the green, the rough stone surface was exposed, but it was just an ordinary stone.

Bing was glad to see this scene. Fortunately, he had rejected this stone just now, otherwise, it would be even more embarrassing.

The stone was completely opened, and nothing was inside, which meant that 100,000 was wasted. Henry seemed to have expected this.

As for the other piece of stone, with the polishing, the green colour became more and more obvious.

"There is something! There is something!"

"King Stone's jade!"

Anyone who knew even a little about stones could figure out what was going on.

"Judging from its appearance, it is not an ordinary stone."

"The entire jade is translucent and its patterns are clear. Is this worth a lot of money?"

"If you can really find such a whole piece, it's worth at least ten million yuan!" A knowledgeable person said the price.

Bing looked at the piece of jade that had been slowly brushed out from the stone. He only felt that his chest was so stuffy that it was hard to breathe. Such a treasure had just been selected and was rejected by him? Money was not a big deal. It was important to gain respect!

"Ha ha ha! The boss of the Peerless Jade is too funny. He deliberately chose not to buy those two King Stones. It's so funny!"

"What do you know? He's doing charity.

Didn't you see that he just gave so much money?"

"Charity! That's a good one!"

The crowd's words made Bing extremely angry, but he had nowhere to vent his anger. He lost to Henry again from the beginning to the end!

Henry looked at the green jade in King Stone, and he had already known that this group of jade stones were transported by the Stone King from Yun Province. It was no exaggeration to say that they were the best jade stones in the whole of China. The jade inside King Stone could not be cheap!

"This Peerless Jade said that there was something fishy about the stones of the Broken Jade Pavilion. In the end, they couldn't even see the treasure in front of their eyes! Do they still dare to say anything?"

"They'd better learn more from Broken Jade Pavilion."

Bing's face turned purple. He clenched his fists, then shook his hand and strode away. He couldn't stay here for a second. The onlookers looked at him like they were looking at a monkey.

Watching Bing leave, the crowd burst into an uproar. This kind of sound made Bing want to find a hole to hide in.

Chapter 416

Today, when the Broken Jade Pavilion opened, Bing himself came to humiliate Jenny. In the end, because of Henry, he did not succeed. Instead, he lost tens of millions of yuans. On the contrary, Peerless Jade also made a free advertisement for Broken Jade Pavilion. All the people present saw with their own eyes how many treasures had been cut out from the stones of Broken Jade Pavilion. The reputation of Broken Jade Pavilion had already reached the peak on the first day of its opening.

Henry didn't take any jade he got. He displayed them in Broken Jade Pavilion as samples.

Jenny had planned to invite Henry for dinner, but because of the incident with Peerless Jade, Broken Jade Pavilion became very popular. There were a lot of people, and the store was busy. Not only were there some friends Jenny invited to take care of the business, but also some passers-by. They were also very excited and wanted to make a few bets.

The stones in Jenny's store were from the Stone King in Yun Province. They were all high quality. One person with a salary of three thousand per month bought a stone and opened a jade which was worth more than two hundred thousand yuan. It was bought on the spot, which aroused a lot of people's enthusiasm.

When Henry saw this scene, he was relieved. He said goodbye to Jenny and left.

Compared with the popularity of Broken Jade Pavilion, although the door of Peerless Jade was still open, the door was a little cold and terrifying.

After Henry left the pedestrian street, he planned to go first to find some clues about Qi. When he walked past a pharmacy, Henry suddenly stopped.

In the pharmacy, an old man dressed in rags was talking excitedly with a medicine basket on his back.

In the pharmacy, a middle-aged woman in a white coat was waving her hand impatiently and driving the old man out of the pharmacy.

The reason why Henry stopped here was not because of the old man, nor the middle-aged woman in the pharmacy, but because of the things in the old man's medicine basket.

"We don't need your medicinal materials. Get out, get out!" The voice of the middle-aged woman came into Henry's ears.

Henry saw the old man walked out with a regretful face.

"Old master, are you selling medicine?" After the old man came out, Henry stopped the old man and asked.

"Yes." The old man nodded. "I'm selling some medicinal materials. These are all collected on the spot."

As the old man spoke, he took down the medicine basket on his back and kept pointing it at Henry, trying to prove something.

"How much? I'll take all of them." Henry's eyes were focused on the medicine basket.

"Three... Three thousand..." The old man said with some lack of confidence, "Young man, although it's expensive, my medicinal materials are fresh. These are all good things."

"Okay, 3,000 yuan is okay. I will transfer you via phone." Henry didn't bargain at all.

Hearing this, the old man's face lit up and he nodded repeatedly. "Okay, okay."

After Henry paid, the old man happily handed the medicine basket to him. Just as he was about to leave, he was stopped by a loud shout.

"Stop!" The woman in the pharmacy shouted and rushed out of the pharmacy. She said to Henry, "Young man, don't be fooled. This old man is famous around our Yinzhou. He fooled a lot of pharmacies before. This is not a medicinal material. He is just selling weed. He lied to you people who don't know how to do things."

"Don't slander me!" The old man shouted with panic on his face.

"Old thing, do you still want to be shameless?" The middle-aged woman did not show any mercy at all. "Look at this child, how old is he? You directly lied to him for three thousand yuan. Money is not a big deal. Can one eat these things?"

After the middle-aged woman finished, she quickly rushed to Henry and said, "Young man, call the police. Don't let this old man run away. You can't eat these things."

"Big sister, thank you for your kindness, but." Henry smiled and took out a piece of dead wood-like thing from the medicine basket. There were several summaries on it, "Just this thing is worth 3,000 yuan."

"What's this?" The middle-aged woman looked confused.

"Dendrobium Officinale!" As soon as the voice fell, a cry of surprise came from behind her. A doctor-like middle-aged man walked out of the pharmacy. "This is Dendrobium Officinale. How can there be such a thing in our place? Normally, the price of this herb reaches 500 yuan for one gram. Just one herb costs more than 3,000 yuan."

Henry nodded and smiled. "It's the Dendrobium Officinale, but the price is not so low. At first, this kind of herb was only used to nourish Yin and beautiful skin. But now, it can cure cancer, so it's heavily collected by humans. 500 yuan per gram is the price of artificial cultivation, but I haven't seen this kind of wild Dendrobium Officinale for a long time."

"Wild?" Hearing Henry's words, the middle-aged doctor was shocked. "If it's really wild, and it grows in our area, its nutritious value is higher than Chinese caterpillar fungus. Even ginseng and Snow Lotus can't be compared with it!"

"That's right." Henry nodded. "The price of this herb is about 12,000 yuan per gram. If sold in one piece, it'll cost hundreds of thousands of yuan."

Henry took it, but it was just as big as a block of deadwood, not as big as a thumb.

The so-called respect for the old did not mean that people should do something blindly. For this kind of person who was disrespectful, Henry had no respect at all.

The old man was so regretful that his intestines turned green. He grabbed his medicine basket and ran away. He still remembered where those plants were picked. There were still a few left in his memory, so he had to pick them quickly.

The old man took a taxi and left the city. After two hours, in a remote village, the old man hurried to a fenced garden. In the fenced garden, there was a field of medicine, full of Dendrobium Officinale.

The old man looked around with a sneaky look. When he found that no one was around, he sneaked into the fenced garden. His eyes were almost glowing. Just as the old man was about to take the herbs and leave, a loud voice sounded from outside the fenced garden.

"Stop!"

This shout made the old man's legs go numb.
