

Chapter 425

One day passed just like that.

In the morning of the next day, Henry got up early. It was not dawn yet.

"Hey, it's almost autumn."

Henry felt the morning breeze, and the air was a little cold.

He walked to the old tree in the yard. In the past, Henry would do a full set of punches to the tree, but today, he changed his way. When he was in bed last night, he was thinking about the old man's way of exerting strength and had a lot of understanding.

When Megan got up, she saw Henry practising martial arts in the yard at a glance. When she saw Henry pointed at the tree with his finger, she smiled disdainfully and said, "You're pretending!"

Sylvia didn't go to the company this morning because she wanted to have lunch with Old Master Lin at noon. After she got up and cleaned up at home, she set off.

When they arrived at Lin's Manor, it was already past eleven o'clock in the afternoon. Because it was a gathering of the Lin's, Megan did not come.

After Sylvia arrived, she saw Channing Lin, his mother, and Daisy Xu and her mother, as well as Nelson Lin. As for Richard Wong's family, they had never seen each other since the last incident.

Everyone had known each other for a long time, so there was no need to be polite when they met. Channing's father was Leopard Kurata. A long time ago, he had shown his obedience to Henry. Daisy and Henry had a good relationship, so they chatted very happily together.

"Haha." A hearty laugh came from the main hall of the Family Lin. Robert Lin, who was wearing a wine-red Tang suit, strode out, looking very energetic.

"Grandpa, you look good." Henry greeted Robert.

Robert laughed and said, "Thanks to you!"

Everyone in the Family Lin knew that the reason why Robert could stand up was because of Henry. Now Henry's status in the family was exactly the same as Sylvia's. In some aspects, he was even higher than Sylvia. No one regarded Henry as a son-in-law but as a regular part of the family.

Seeing that the family got along so well, Robert nodded with satisfaction. With Henry, his grandson, in the Family Lin, he could leave at ease, knowing that the family will be safe for even a hundred years later. At least, the title of The Conqueror could keep the Family Lin safe for several generations. His granddaughter had really found a treasure.

As the family chatted happily, a black Benz drove into Lin's Manor.

"My old friend is here." Robert walked out of the hall with a smile and went out to greet him.

The younger generation of the Family Lin also followed him.

The Benz G stopped in front of the manor, and four people got out of the car, three men and a woman.

Among them, the oldest man looked about the same age as Robert. Another man looked the same age as Nelson, and the last man and woman were about the same age as Henry and the others.

"Haha, Old Liu, long time no see." Robert stepped forward and gave the oldest man a hug.

Sylvia stood next to Henry and introduced them to Henry, "This is Grandpa Liu, Adrian Liu. He was the leader of the province's business circle with my grandfather. That is Uncle Liu, Thomas Liu. He has a good relationship with my father. The woman's name is Abby Liu. I don't know who the man is."

"Old Lin, I heard that you are able to walk, and I was really scared. I thought you were lying to me, but I didn't expect it to be true." Adrian also held Robert's shoulder and clenched his fists on Robert's shoulder.

Thomas also came forward and greeted Sylvia's father and aunt.

"Hey, Sylvia, this is the husband you found." The young woman Abby came over and said to Sylvia. After that, she looked at Henry with disdain.

Abby was a tall woman with a height of 1.73 metres. She was considered tall among women. Her figure was also well maintained and her skin was white and tender.

Sylvia was not surprised at all at Abby's tone. When she was very young, Abby liked to compare with Sylvia. Everything had to be compared. At the youngest age, she compared new clothes and pencil cases, later she compared grades in school. When they were in college, it was a competition in appearance. But no matter how Abby compared with Sylvia, she was slightly inferior.

Sylvia had long been accustomed to Abby's comparison.

Sylvia held Henry's arm and smiled sweetly. "This is my husband. Henry Zhang. And you haven't introduced this man yet..."

Sylvia said as she looked at the young man beside Abby.

"This is my... well, my pursuer." Abby pointed to the young man beside her with satisfaction. "His name is James Wong."

"Hello." Sylvia nodded to James.

"Hello." James also nodded, but his eyes were lingering on Sylvia.

Abby took two steps forward. "Sylvia, your husband looks ordinary? What does he do?"

"Ha, ha." Henry touched his face. "I'm working in my wife's company. I am helping her."

"Working?" Abby burst out laughing. "I'm sorry, I couldn't hold it back."

"What are you laughing at?" Daisy came over from the side. Now Henry was an idol in Daisy's heart. Abby's attitude towards Henry had already made her dissatisfied. She said to Abby, "My brother-in-law is just polite to you. He not only works in my sister's company but also is a magical doctor. Even the president of the Ning province medical association has to respect my brother-in-law."

"Hey? Doctor? What a coincidence. James is also a doctor. He graduated from Johns Hopkins University in the United States and studied in the Department of Medicine. Which school did you graduate from, Mr. Zhang?" Abby said proudly. After all, in the whole world, Johns Hopkins University was one of the top five universities in the United States and was one of the top five medical schools in the world. Graduating from this university meant that you had succeeded in your life.

Henry shook his head. "I've never studied at university. My medical skills are all self-taught."

"Self-study?" Abby asked. "So you don't even have a Physician's Qualification Certificate?"

Henry nodded. "No."

"Hehe." Abby covered her mouth with her hand and looked at Daisy. "Little sister, is this the magical doctor you mentioned? A doctor without a Physician's Qualification Certificate? Are you joking with me?"

"What's so funny!" Daisy put her hands on her hips. "You can't understand my brother-in-law's medical skills!"

Daisy still remembered that when Henry held the lecture, not to mention the graduates of Johns Hopkins University, even the seniors and professors were waiting to listen to the class like students.

"Yes, yes, yes." Abby nodded repeatedly. "Of course, I don't know such low-class medical skills."

At the side, Robert and Adrian saw this scene, but they did not speak a word. For so many years, they had seen too many scenes like this. They were too lazy to care about the affairs of the younger generation. It was not necessarily a bad thing to fight over something.

Chapter 426

"Well, it's almost time for lunch. We haven't seen each other for a long time. Let's eat and talk." Nelson stood aside and called everybody.

Abby's father, Thomas Liu, patted Nelson Lin on the shoulder. "Old Lin, we haven't seen each other for a long time. Let's have something to drink."

"Sure, sure. You can't go back until you get drunk," Nelson said with a laugh.

When everyone sat down at the table, Henry found that the relationship between the two families was indeed very good. Thomas, Nelson and Sylvia's two aunties seemed to have endless topics to talk about, starting when they climbed over the wall together when they were children.

Abby even treated the manor of the Family

Lin as her own home. She didn't show any manners at all.

"Brother-in-law, this woman has been arguing with my sister since she was a child. However, she can't compete with my sister in any aspect." Daisy leaned over to Henry and whispered, "Wait for this woman to compete for something. Don't let her feel too proud."

"Hey, what are you talking about with your brother-in-law?" Sylvia was sitting next to Henry, so she heard Daisy's words.

"It's okay, sister." Daisy quickly waved her hand and stuck out her tongue.

Halfway through the meal, Abby put down her chopsticks and said to Sylvia, "Sylvia, I'm not being rude, but we've known each other for so many years. We haven't seen each other for such a long time, but you're still as dull as before, aren't you?"

Subconsciously, Sylvia looked at her clothes. Every time she came to Robert's house, she would carefully dress up. The dress she was wearing was also from Gucci's newest collection, which could not be regarded as a cheap piece.

Seeing the look of disapproval on Sylvia's face, Abby said again, "Although it's not an unknown brand, it's just a street commodity. Anyone who has a little bit of money can buy it. Once you go out, you can see people wearing it everywhere."

When Abby finished speaking, she deliberately raised her wrist and said, "James is a doctor abroad. Usually, he is in touch with many designers. My clothes were specially designed by Mr. Aelsan, and there are only a few like this in this world."

"Who are you lying to?" Daisy glanced at her mouth. The design Aeslan was famous all over the world. Every suit of clothes designed by Master Aeslan was limited edition.

"Lie? Do I need to?" Abby said arrogantly.

Henry, who was sitting on the side, said, "It's indeed designed by Aeslan. The pattern on the sleeve is a pattern that Aeslan often uses."

"Hey, do you really know how to do it? I really admire you. You're so good at it, aren't you?" Abby looked at Henry's ordinary clothes disdainfully.

Henry took a sip of tea and continued to say, "But your dress is from last year's collection, right?"

"So what?" Abby crossed her arms in front of her chest. "Even if it was 10 years ago, it is still a limited edition, unlike the common clothes worn by some people."

Sylvia smiled slightly and did not argue.

Seeing that Sylvia was about to admit defeat, Abby said again, "This person's taste can be influenced. We can't just look at people in front of us. It's a big deal to wear Gucci in Yinzhou, but it's nothing in the big city."

Sylvia's aunt looked at James in surprise. "I didn't expect that Mr. Wong and Mr. Aelsan knew each other. I remember that I went to a fashion show of Master Aelsan a few years ago. It was really hard to get a ticket. The popularity is almost as high as for Victoria's Secret."

James waved his hand and said, "I left my contact information after I checked Master Aelsan's illness. When he released this dress, he called me and I got it."

Hearing James's words, Henry, who was sitting on the side, looked at James for a few more times but said nothing.

Abby said proudly, "Sylvia, I'm not being rude. Don't think that because your family has some ability, you can just find a man casually. Life has just begun and you still have a long way to go. But it's normal for you to have no vision since you've been staying in a small place like Yinzhou."

Looking at this scene, Robert and Adrian smiled at each other and shook their heads helplessly. They had already been used to this kind of scene. "Come on, Old Liu, let's drink."

"Haha, let's drink."

"Abby, you may not know my brother-in-law's connections, so don't say anything." Channing Lin said helping Henry.

"Connections? I didn't see them." Abby shook her head, feeling proud.

She had been competing with Sylvia for so many years. This was the first time that she had gained the upper hand. Compared with James, Henry was nothing.

Daisy sat on the side, pursed her lips and looked unhappy. This Abby was really annoying!

Abby was very happy to have gained the upper hand in this comparison. She didn't say anything else, and her appetite seemed to be much better.

As the meal was going on, a voice came from the outside of the hall.

"Old Master, someone is outside. They said that they're Mr. Zhang's friends." The elder housekeeper of the Family Lin came in.

"Henry's friend? Please let them come in." Hearing this, Master Lin quickly opened his mouth.

In the room, the person who knew Henry's identity the best was Master Lin. As friends of The Conqueror, their identity could not be underestimated. Robert knew in his heart that if it weren't for Henry, such a person would not bother to come to the Family Lin, let alone wait in front of the door.

Less than a minute after Robert's permission, the people who were eating heard a noise outside the house, accompanied by the shouts of the housekeeper of the Family Lin.

"Come on, let's move a little further forward. Stop there. Right, right, the other car a little bit backwards."

Sylvia looked at Henry in confusion. "Honey, is there a lot of your friends outside?"

Listening to the voice of the housekeeper, everyone had a direct feeling. After all, the Family Lin had a parking lot, so it was not a problem to park more than ten cars.

12:27 ■

"Uh." Henry touched his nose. "I don't know."

Yesterday, Henry gave Wade an address and asked Wade to bring the clothes.

Master Lin laughed loudly and said, "This little Henry has come to our Family Lin. It's his first time to bring friends. We can't neglect them. Let's go out and welcome them."

After Master Lin finished speaking, he got up first.

The younger generation of the Family Lin saw the old master get up, so it was impossible for them to sit again.

Seeing Robert's attitude, Adrian looked at Henry in surprise. After all, there were too few people who could be greeted by Robert in person. Even friends of Family Lin's son-in-law were welcomed by Robert personally. This son-in-law was not as simple as he looked on the surface.

Adrian had lived for decades, so he was much more clear-minded than a junior like Abby Liu.

Chapter 427

The crowd followed Robert and walked out of the hall. At first sight of the door, everyone was shocked. No wonder the housekeeper of the Family Lin needed to command how to park. The parking lot with more than ten parking spaces was not enough at all.

In front of everyone, there were more than 50 Rolls-Royces, all of which were solemn black colour, neatly parked in front of the manor, and the license plates were from all over the country.

Looking at the luxury motorcade in front of him, Channing swallowed hard. "My brother-in-law, have you transferred all the Rolls-Royces in the country?"

Now, although the living standard of each person was improved and the Rolls-Royce was not as rare as it used to be, it was luxurious to see more than 50 cars! Even people like the Family Lin were shocked by the scene in front of them.

After all, the one who could buy the Rolls-Royce was not only rich but also proved that he had a certain identity, which represented his connections.

Seeing Henry appear in front of the door of the hall of the Family Lin, Wade ran all the way. "Hello, Boss and sister-in-law. This is uncle, right? Nice to meet you, grandpa Lin."

After Wade ran over, he greeted everyone politely.

Henry frowned. "What's going on? Why are there so many cars?"

"Boss, you can't blame me for this!" Wade quickly waved his hand. "It's all Felix's fault. These people are all brought by him."

As soon as Wade's voice fell, he heard a voice in front of a Rolls-Royce, "Boss, you can't blame me!"

Felix strode to Henry's side. He could guess what Wade was talking about without even listening.

Felix ran over, first greeted Sylvia and others, and then said, "Sister-in-law, didn't you say that you like traditional Chinese clothes? I tried to find a few designers to design, but the Red Hair insisted on getting involved. You know the influence of him in Europe. As soon as he spoke, Sea God couldn't sit still anymore. And Future saw Sea God, so she couldn't help but call a team to join in. Moon Goddess also arranged people from the island. When she heard that they were designing clothes for sister-in-law, one is was more excited than the other, so that's what happened."

Felix's face was full of bitterness. "Just this, only 10% of people are here, and only the finished products were brought here."

"Well... husband, did I do something wrong?" Hearing Felix's words, Sylvia just said that she liked the style of the clothes worn by Future and Moon Goddess, but she didn't expect that such a move would make her feel embarrassed.

"Sister-in-law, you think too much. It's an honour for them to design clothes for you." Felix said, and then waved to more than 50 cars and shouted, "Come on, bring the clothes here."

As soon as the voice fell, the Rolls-Royce door, which was parked in the front, opened. Four people got out of the car and opened the trunk. Each of them came with a stack of neat clothes.

Daisy's mother looked at the four figures getting out of the car with some doubts in her eyes. "Why do I feel that these four people look a little familiar?"

When Daisy's mother spoke, Abby also nodded subconsciously. She also felt that these four people looked familiar.

When the four people approached slowly with their clothes in their arms, Daisy's mother exclaimed, "My God, isn't this Master Albert? The one next to him is Master Horace? And these two Masters, Master Emir and Master Marcus. They are all the world's top fashion design masters!"

Daisy's mother loved fashion only, and she was very good at it. She didn't know much about those movie stars and singers, but she could almost recognize every fashion designer.

Abby was watching from the side, felt a little confused. Although she did not know these four clothing designers, she often saw them on TV.

Four top designers came to Sylvia and bowed slightly to her. "Beautiful lady, it's my honour to serve you."

"All right, cut the cr*p. Take the clothes in. Did you see people are lining up?" Wade waved his hand and urged.

Upon hearing this, the four of them did not dare to say too much and quickly carried their clothes into the room.

"Come on, let's continue." Felix waved his hand again, and another doors on Rolls-Royce opened, and four people got out of the car.

The moment the four people came down, Daisy's mother called their names: "Master Yates Mo, one of the top designers in China, only designs women's clothes. Master Quentin Zhuo, almost 80% of modern Chinese clothes designs are his ideas, the other two are Master Hodgson and Master Cornelius."

The four of them carried their clothes into the house.

"Let's go on." With another wave of Felix's hand, four more top designers came out of the field of clothing.

Everyone in the Family Lin, including Abby's family, were all stunned by the scene in front of them.

Daisy's mother never thought that she would see so many top clothes designers one day. Four people would come out from each of 50 Rolls-Royces. All of them were top designers in the world! Even Robert, who didn't pay much attention to the clothes, could recognize one or two of them. It could be seen how wide the scope of these people's range of influence was.

Sylvia looked at the clothes in the room that were almost piled up into a hill. Every one of them was made by the world's top designers.

"There are too many clothes. How can I wear them all?" Sylvia's pretty face was full of anxiety.

"Sister-in-law, these clothes are custom-made and are meant to be worn from September 4 this year until September 3 next year. Every day, there is a unique model, which is determined according to the customs of every month or even every day in China. All the design styles are different. They are made marked with a number and classified according to the style," Felix explained.

"One custom design for every day?" Sylvia was a little overwhelmed. Although Lins Group was rich, it was not this rich. For each of 365 days in a year, there were special custom-made clothes, which were made by the world's top designers.

"Yes." Felix nodded. "If you don't wear it on that date, it is also okay. Besides, considering the changing weather, each style is divided into three kinds, with long sleeves and short sleeves. So, sister-in-law, you don't have to worry about the clothes after the third of September next year. We've already ordered someone to design clothes for the next year. It'll be delivered next year."

Hearing Felix's words, all the people present were stunned.

One design per day, and each design had more kinds, this...

Looking at the clothes in the room, Abby was stunned. Just now, she was still wearing branded clothes and satirizing Sylvia on fashion. But after a while, she was slapped in the face by reality.

Chapter 428

"Boss, all the clothes are delivered, we'll leave first. We won't disturb your gathering." Seeing that all the clothes had been delivered, Wade waved to Henry.

"Okay." Henry waved his hand.

Wade and Felix took their men into the cars and left the manor in an orderly manner.

By the time they had left, the members of the Lin family and the Liu family had not recovered from their shock.

Looking at the hill-like clothes piled up in the room, who would have thought that they were all made by the world's top designers if they hadn't seen it with their own eyes?

"Brother-in-law, how rich are you?"

Channing couldn't help but sigh. For the works of a world's top designer, clothes worth hundreds of yuan or millions of yuan were very common, even tens of millions of yuan. Now there were so many clothes, one per day, enough for one year, how much money would it cost?

"These are all sent by friends. It's not about money." Henry waved his hand. "I didn't expect them to send so many."

"Sister, brother-in-law is too rich. You should pay more attention to him. Otherwise, if he runs away with someone someday, you will be the one to cry." Daisy leaned over to Sylvia and whispered.

"If he wants to run away, I can't stop him." Sylvia smiled and felt sweet in her heart. No woman would refuse her lover's gift.

Sylvia already had some understanding of Henry's financial resources before, so she was not surprised at all. After all, even people like Felix, a man who is feared by businessmen in the Du Hai, had to call Henry the Boss.

Robert had seen the influence of The Conqueror thoroughly. As his old friend had said, everyone in the world would respect The Conqueror and feel honoured to work for him.

"It's a waste of money and it's flashy." Abby curled her lips and sat back on the table.

"Then why did I just see someone show off their clothes? The piece from last year's collection was worn. My sister can wear a new style every day, and there are three types, one for the morning, one for the afternoon, and one in the evening." Daisy sat there with a smile on her face.

Abby snorted and stopped talking. There was a kind of undisguised envy in her eyes. She looked at the pile of clothes from time to time. This was a great temptation for women.

"Well, let's continue to eat," Robert said, clearing the awkward atmosphere.

During the dinner, Robert asked James, "James, where are you working now?"

James quickly replied, "Grandpa Lin, I have a private clinic in England."

"It's not a private clinic. It's a private hospital." Abby specifically repeated. "This kind of business requires 40% of knowledge and 60% of luck. Once you see the investment point, you can earn money. But doctors only rely on their own skills. No matter how rich a person is, he has to seek help from a doctor. So, personal talent is the most important thing. Otherwise, he will fall behind like a nouveau riche."

Abby had just got humiliated, and now she wanted to get it back quickly. In terms of medical skills, Abby was very confident in James. Although she had never seen James cure diseases, she had heard a lot about him. Most importantly, Henry, a person who had self-taught medical skills, could not compare with him, who graduated from the Johns Hopkins University. This was a top medical college. Those self-taught people did not even have the qualifications to enter the school.

"Haha, you run your own hospital at such a young age. You are really a promising young man." Robert said politely. If James had made some achievements in other industries, Robert might sincerely say that he was a promising young man, but it was about medical skills.

James looked as old as Henry. At this age, he could be proud of having a hospital of his own. But compared with Henry, he was nothing. Although Henry didn't have his own hospital, his title The Conqueror was the top in the medical field all over the world. It was a turning point!

Abby didn't understand the polite meaning in Robert's words. She said, "Grandpa Lin, I brought James back this time to check your illness. When I came, I learned from my grandfather that you have recovered. I'm really happy for you."

When Abby said this, Henry could tell that she was not lying. It seemed that Abby and Sylvia had a good relationship although they had a fierce quarrel.

"Little girl, thank you for your concern. My body is very tough now." Robert patted his chest.

"Grandpa Lin, I heard from Abby that you couldn't even stand up. Which hospital did you go for the operation?" Jame asked curiously, "I can go there and learn."

"James, you've learned western medicine, haven't you?" Robert asked.

"Yes." James nodded.

Robert smiled and said, "It's a Chinese medicine that cured me."

"Chinese medicine?" James frowned. "Grandpa Lin, forgive me for being blunt. There is no scientific basis for traditional Chinese medicine to treat people, and there will be future troubles. Why don't I take a look at it for you?"

"Nonsense!" Daisy couldn't help but make a sound. She was from the department of medicine, and she was also a Chinese medicine practitioner.

There was always a dispute between traditional Chinese medicine and western medicine. Whether traditional Chinese medicine was better or western medicine was better, both sides held the same word.

Now Daisy heard from James that traditional Chinese medicine couldn't work, so she was naturally unhappy. "Chinese medicine is the basis of treatment. Don't talk nonsense if you don't understand it."

James smiled and said, "Sister Daisy, you don't know whether traditional Chinese medicine is better or western medicine is better. We have done a lot of experiments abroad. According to the experiment, traditional Chinese medicine can only cure some simple diseases. If it is a serious illness, tumour and so on, we still have to rely on western medicine to cure it."

"Who is your sister?" Daisy looked at James disgustedly. "Chinese medicine has been passed down for thousands of years. How long has it been since Western medicine started? How many herbs of western medicine could be found in our ancient books of Chinese medicine?"

James shook his head. "There are some things that I can't explain clearly. If possible, you can call the one who cured grandpa Lin and confront me face to face. You will naturally know the gap between traditional Chinese medicine and western medicine."

Robert drank a glass of wine and said, "James, it's a coincidence. The person who cured me is not far away from here. It's right in front of me."

Hearing Robert's words, James's body shook. He subconsciously looked at Henry and said, "Grandpa Lin, are you talking about him?"

"Yes, it was Henry who cured me. A few silver needles could cure my long-term illness." Robert nodded.

"It's impossible, isn't it?" Abby was a little doubtful. At that time, how many doctors had been hired to cure Master Lin's illness? But they couldn't do anything about it. This person's medical skills were only self-taught. How could he cure him with a few silver needles?

Chapter 429

"Nothing is impossible!" Daisy puffed out her chest. "I've told you that my brother-in-law is a highly-skilled doctor!"

James was surprised and said, "Mr. Zhang, what method did you use to treat Old Master Lin?"

"Silver Needles," Henry replied.

"I see." James nodded. "If we stimulate the acupuncture points with silver needles, it is only temporary that Master Lin can stand up. But after a period of time, there will be problems. This state is called borrowing time in our medical field."

Borrowing time!

Everyone present was shocked by James's words. These words were not easy to say.

"Honey, is that true?" Sylvia looked at Henry nervously.

Including Nelson and the others, they were also very nervous.

"Of course not. He's just talking nonsense. Don't believe him." Henry shook his head and took a bite of the food.

Hearing Henry's words, Sylvia and others let out a long sigh of relief. They must believe in Henry more than James.

Old Master Lin had been very calm from beginning to end. If The Conqueror could not cure him, it would be useless for anyone in the world to come.

Daisy said to James, "Don't talk nonsense!"

James shook his head and said, "I'm not talking nonsense. This brother Henry knows it best. Why don't I use a western medicine technique to check Grandpa

Lin?"

"No, I have confidence in my husband." Sylvia had been silent all the time, couldn't help but speak at this time.

"Sylvia, don't be blindly confident. After all, your husband just came from a self-taught family, which can't be compared with a high-calibre student like James. It's not a big deal to let James check the grandpa. It's better if there's nothing wrong. If there's any problem, James can handle it." Abby said.

"Yes, let me see. After all, there is no scientific basis for traditional Chinese medicine. It's hard to say." James said again.

Henry put down his chopsticks and looked at James. "Do you really think western medicine is better than traditional Chinese medicine?"

For a long time, people had been arguing about whether western medicine was better than traditional Chinese medicine. But Henry thought that they all had their own advantages. Western medicine could do surgery, Chinese medicine could also do it. Chinese medicine could cure patients, same with western medicines. In the final analysis, there was a difference between traditional Chinese medicine and western medicine because doctors' medical skills were not good enough. Both traditional and western medicine had the same purpose of saving people, and they also saved people by using the medicine.

In this world, there were only a few known medicines. Chinese medicine and western medicine were used as well. The gap between Chinese medicine and western medicine was made by the method of taking medicine.

From Henry's point of view, traditional Chinese medicine and western medicine were no different, but now someone kept slandering traditional Chinese medicine. He could tolerate a few sentences, but Henry was also a little angry. After all, he had once learned Chinese medicine from others and promised to that person that he would pass on traditional Chinese medicine.

James raised his head. "I don't think western medicine is better than traditional Chinese medicine, but it is based on a scientific basis. In our clinical trials, 80% of the diseases can't be cured by traditional Chinese medicine."

"Oh?" Henry raised his eyebrows. "Clinical diseases? What kind of clinical diseases do you refer to?"

"That's not what you have to worry about." James shrugged his shoulders. "If you have any objections, let's compete."

12:29 ■

"Yes, if you don't like it, then let's compete," Abby said on the side.

Henry nodded. "Okay, how do you want to compete?"

Sylvia looked at Henry unexpectedly. According to her understanding of Henry, he would not compare with others so easily.

"It's very simple." James snapped his fingers. "What let's talk about Grandpa Lin's body. Why don't we take a look at his body?"

"It's boring." Henry showed a boring look. "In addition, in our country, no elder's body should be used for comparison. Why don't we change the method?"

A trace of dissatisfaction flashed in James's eyes, and then he asked, "Okay, then tell me, how do you want to compete?"

"It's simple, medical skills. In the end, it's to save people. Let's see who is capable of saving people." Henry suggested.

"How can you compete?" Abby was standing aside, said doubtfully, "There are no patients now."

"Patients can be found at any time." Henry stretched out his right hand and kept tapping on the table with his fingers. "Since we are doctors, I think James has a deep understanding of medicines."

"Of course!" Before James could speak, Abby proudly said, "James graduated from Johns Hopkins University. Medicine usage is a piece of cake for him."

James nodded in agreement.

Henry said, "That's right. Since we can all know how to use the medicine, why don't we poison each other, and then solve the cases for ourselves? If anyone can solve remove the poison, then he wins. if can't..."

Henry didn't finish his words, but everyone understood what he meant.

"Poison each other? It's not a competition. It's risking one's life!"

Hearing this, even Abby's talkative look changed. "This... this is not good."

"Henry, don't make trouble." Nelson scolded, "How outrageous it is to poison each other!"

Channing sat aside and gave Henry a thumbs-up. This brother-in-law was really awesome. He usually kept a low profile, but when he became arrogant, he was more arrogant than anyone else!

Sylvia pulled Henry's sleeve and said, "Well, he just joking. Don't take it seriously."

Henry shook his head. "I didn't say that I was joking. Well, James Wong, do you want to compete?"

James frowned and said, "Brother Zhang, we're just talking about medical skills. It's too much to poison each other, isn't it?"

"Do you think it's too much to poison each other?" Henry asked.

"That's going too far. Since Brother Zhang doesn't want to talk about medicine, just say it clearly. There's no need to do this." James waved his hand.

Henry chuckled and said, "James Wong, if you think it's too much to poison each other, then let me ask you, what do you mean by poisoning the soup in front of the old master?"

"What!"

All the people on the table changed their faces at the moment when Henry finished his words.

"Don't talk nonsense!" A trace of panic flashed in James's eyes and he shouted.

"Sylvia, your husband went too far!" Abby also shouted, "Since you don't want to compete, just don't compete. There is no need to slander James like this!"

Everyone in the Family Lin looked at Henry and said, "Henry, what's going on?"

Henry smiled and stared at James. "Who sent you here?"

Chapter 430

"I don't understand what you mean."
James shook his head and looked puzzled.

"Henry, I'm afraid you're joking too much."
Abby's father, Thomas Liu, frowned and said, "You can't talk nonsense."

"Honey, what's the matter?" Sylvia sat next to Henry, and there was something wrong with her pretty face. She knew Henry very well, and she knew that Henry was not the kind of person who would say this without reason.

"Sylvia, I want your husband to apologize to James!" Abby said loudly.

Henry listened to James, and his fingers were still tapping on the table. "I will count to three. If you don't say, I will twist your head, one..."

Chapter 430

"I don't understand what you mean."
James shook his head and looked puzzled.

"Henry, I'm afraid you're joking too much."
Abby's father, Thomas Liu, frowned and said, "You can't talk nonsense."

"Honey, what's the matter?" Sylvia sat next to Henry, and there was something wrong with her pretty face. She knew Henry very well, and she knew that Henry was not the kind of person who would say this without reason.

"Sylvia, I want your husband to apologize to James!" Abby said loudly.

Henry listened to James, and his fingers were still tapping on the table. "I will count to three. If you don't say, I will twist your head, one..."

"Brother Zhang, I don't know how I provoked you..." James wanted to explain.

"Two." Henry's timing sounded again.

"Henry, are you done? How dare you slander us!" Abby shouted.

"Three." After Henry's voice fell, he slammed his palm on the table.

The table shook and a pair of chopsticks placed on the table in front of Henry shook also. He waved his hand and patted the chopstick. At this moment, the chopstick was like a sharp arrow, shooting toward James.

Henry's move stunned the few people of the Liu family and Sylvia's two aunts. It was just like the scene in a kungfu movie, how did he do it?

James's face changed. Seeing that the chopstick was getting closer and closer to him, he jumped sideways and dodged it with agility.

Henry smiled and said, "You can't pretend anymore?"

James's sharp moves made the Liu family's faces change again. Abby was the most surprised one of them. She never knew that James had such skills.

James brushed off the dust on his body, and the corners of his mouth curled into a strange smile. "Interesting, I didn't expect this task to be this difficult. Family Lin has such a master like you."

"What the h*ll is going on!" Abby stood aside and looked at James's change. Her mind was a little off-guard.

James shrugged his shoulders. "I'm very curious. How did you see it? I'm very confident about my poisoning methods."

"I didn't see it." Henry shook his head. "I guess."

"You guessed!" James's face changed.
"Boy, are you kidding me?"

"The fingerprints on your fingers are all destroyed, the skin between your fingers is rough, and the pores on the back of your hand are thick, which shows that you often contact with the poison. Oh, by the way, if you changed your profession and said that you are a scientific researcher, maybe I would observe you for another two minutes." Henry sat in the chair, looking at James Wong, and said slowly, "And the coat you gave to Abby was not given to you by Aelsan. After all, he is not in England anymore, and even if he was sick, he wouldn't go to you for help."

James narrowed his eyes. "Who are you?"

"Interesting." Henry slowly got up. "It seems that the person who assigned you the task is going to use you as cannon fodder."

"Cannon fodder? You overestimate yourself!" James sneered.

As soon as James's voice fell, Henry's voice, like a ghost, sounded behind James.

"Really?"

Henry's emotionless voice came into James's ears.

His cold smile suddenly changed. It was so fast! He didn't even see how Henry came behind him.

As soon as he turned his head, he felt a strong force coming for his neck. His neck was grabbed by one hand, which was like a giant clamp.

James reached out and grabbed Henry's wrist, but Henry twisted it and put his hand behind his back.

Henry's movements were completed in one breath and almost completed in an instant.

He was much more handsome than those kungfu tricks from the TV.

Henry twisted James's arm and completely subdued him.

James gritted his teeth. "Who are you?"

"Many people ask me this question, but there is no need to know." Henry grabbed James's hand and pulled it hard. He was ready to disable James. However, such a move made Henry's face suddenly change.

"What!"

With a tearing sound came a mechanical sound, there was a spark on James's right shoulder.

The arm Henry took off was a mechanical arm!

Such a scene made the faces of all the people in the room change dramatically. This was really surprising!

Henry's eyes became much calmer. How many organizations in the world could do this?

The corners of James's mouth widened. "It seems that you have found something extraordinary."

James took out a white ball from his pocket with the other hand and smashed it hard on the ground. As the ball touched the ground, a strong cloud of white smoke suddenly burst out.

"Watch out!" Henry shouted.

The people in the room only felt that everything in front of them was white, and they couldn't see anything. They kept waving their hands in front of their eyes, and it took more than a minute before the smoke dissipated.

Everyone found that James had disappeared, including Henry.

The three people of the Liu family looked at each other in dismay.

"Robert, this..." Adrian looked at Robert and opened his mouth.

"Adrian, I know our friendship is strong. This matter has nothing to do with you." Robert said.

Lin's manor was located at the outskirts of the city. Outside the manor, there was a large area of thick forest.

At this moment, James was shuttling through the jungle and dialling a number at the same time.

"Hey! What's the deal with this mission? The other party is under the protection of a master, why didn't you tell me?" James's face was ferocious.

"You're just cannon fodder. Why do you need to know so much?" A light sound came from the phone.

"Cannon fodder..." These words slowed down James's speed of running away. Henry just now had also described him in this way. He, a great entrepreneur of the first generation, was actually treated as cannon fodder, which made James feel a strong sense of humiliation.

Henry's voice came from behind James, "I have told you are cannon fodder, but you still didn't believe me."

"How is it possible!" James's body shook. Suddenly, he turned around and saw Henry standing less than three meters behind him. "How... how could you..."

"What, do you think I can't keep up with your modified mechanical legs?" Henry's eyes revealed a hint of disdain. "The power of machinery is always limited. It's such a stupid choice to give up your own potential."

James took a deep breath and said, "Don't think that I can't hurt you."

"Sorry, I think so." Henry stepped forward, appeared in front of James the next second, and grabbed his head with one hand.

James dodged quickly, but he couldn't escape Henry's hand at all. Henry grabbed his head.

Chapter 431

At this moment, there was no one else around Henry, and he did not have to hold back. He pinched James's head and twisted it hard.

James's limbs were mechanical, but his head was not.

"Crack!" There was a loud crack.

James stared straight ahead, losing his colour. Even so, his body was still standing straight, which was very strange.

At James's feet, a mobile phone was dropped. The screen of the mobile phone lit up and showed that there was an ongoing phone call.

Henry knew that the other party deliberately did not hang up.

He picked up his phone and put it beside his ear. "Hello."

After two full seconds, the person on the other end of the phone replied fluent Chinese language, "I thought this modified person would be able to hold on for five to ten seconds under the attack of The Conqueror, but now it seems that he can't even hold on for a second. You are indeed the strongest man in the world. You deserve this reputation."

"Your compliment really makes me happy," Henry replied.

"Ha ha, The Conqueror, this operation was not aimed at you. As the king of the underground world, before we change the situation of the underground world completely, our leader thinks that it is necessary to report to you in some form, such as this."

Henry listened to the other side's words, and the corner of his mouth curled into a playful smile. "So, you are displaying your strength to me?"

"We don't dare." The other party quickly replied on the phone. "At least, at the current stage, you are still the king of the underground world, The Conqueror."

Although the other party's tone was polite, the ambition in his words was obvious. At this stage, they admitted that Henry was the king of the underground world, but they did not say that would be the case in the future.

Henry nodded. "In that case, I'll wait for the day when you come out of the sewer. Don't run around like rats in the sewer."

"This day will come soon."

After the other party finished speaking, Henry hung up the phone. Looking at the phone in his hand, he thought for a moment and threw it aside and walked towards the Family Lin.

When Henry returned to the Family Lin, everyone was still there. They all sat in the hall, waiting for him to come back.

"Henry, what's going on?" Nelson couldn't wait to ask as soon as he saw Henry.

In the Family Lin, Sylvia went to the Su Family some time ago and even learned something about ancient martial arts. She was not too shocked by this kind of thing. Channing Lin's father was Leopard Kurata. He had seen a lot of things and was very capable of accepting. Daisy had also been to the underground boxing house with Henry. As for Robert Lin, he also knew some things that others didn't know. Only Nelson Lin and Sylvia's two aunts hadn't been in contact with these things.

Henry waved his hand and said, "It's okay. Dad, just a small thief interested in the money of the Family Lin."

"Henry, I'm sorry for what I did just now." Abby's father said apologetically. Just now, he spoke up for James and reprimanded Henry.

Abby stood aside with an apologetic face, without any arrogance on her face. James came with them. If it weren't for Henry's presence today, Old Master Lin might have had an accident.

"It's not your fault." Henry shook his head. This time, it was someone else who targeted him. If it weren't for him, this person wouldn't have come.

Originally, the two families planned to have a good gathering. Today's banquet also meant that they would not go back home until they were drunk. However, after such a thing happened, everyone was not interested. Nelson arranged a room for Abby's family to rest, and Sylvia and other juniors said their goodbyes.

After leaving the Family Lin, Sylvia looked worried all the way.

Henry comforted her, "Dear, don't think too much about what happened just now. That's life, things happen, you know?"

After returning home, Sylvia arranged some things, changed her clothes, and went to the company. Megan Su naturally accompanied her.

Henry was alone at home. After practising on the tree for a while, he received a strange call at about four o'clock in the afternoon.

"Hello, little master, it's me, Lewis Yan." Lewis's laughter came from the phone.

"Hello," Henry replied politely, "What's the matter?"

"Little master, didn't we make an appointment for training? I am very sorry for what happened before, but we have already dealt with the person who should be dealt with. You see, when can we arrange another training?" Lewis said cautiously, afraid that he would say something wrong and make Henry unhappy.

"Oh, I see. Where's President Ma? Why didn't he call me?" Henry asked.

"He feels ashamed. He doesn't have the face to contact you. What happened last time..."

Henry interrupted Lewis, "Then let President Ma arrange another time. Avoid things like that happening again this time."

Lewis heard him and immediately revealed a happy voice. "Okay, little master, I'll go and inform President Ma right now."

Henry hung up the phone and smiled.

Anyway, President Ma had helped him a few times before, so these things should be forgotten.

On the top floor of Zhao's Building.

"Second Master, he is indeed from the Su family, and the fighting technique is the same as the Su's. No doubt." The young man in black stood behind President Zhao and replied.

Yesterday, they specially sent someone to test Henry and Megan.

"The Su Family, when did the Su Family's hand spread to Yinzhou? They even made a man surnamed Zhang become Future Master of the Su Family." President Zhao's face was full of doubt.

"Second Master, shall we..."

"Don't act rashly." President Zhao looked out of the window, and some of the leaves had turned yellow. "Underworld meeting will begin in a couple of days. I have to go back. I'll deal with this matter when I come back. If I really want to fight with the Su Family, I have to bring some people from my family."

"Understood." The young man in black nodded and left.

In recent days, Henry finally had some free time. He ran to Lins Group every day to see if Sylvia needed help. Since Henry made a lot of correct decisions for Lins Group last time, Sylvia certainly would not refuse this free help. Henry also took time to do the training for the medical association.

In the entire Yinzhou, after a few big events happened recently, it was completely calm.

Hengyuan Trade Company ushered in a new round of development, and it had entered the circle of the first-class enterprises in Yinzhou. Lins Group was also growing stronger and stronger. Chows' declaration from the last time made Lins Group totally relieved.

It was strange that the Zhao family, which had been fighting with the Family Lin for a long time, had been a little quiet these days, which was hard to understand.
