

Chapter 432

It was September and it was a little cold in the early morning. The people who went to work in the morning didn't wear short sleeves like before, some warmer coat was needed.

At half-past seven in the morning, it was still not time for ordinary people to go to work. The door of the Second Detention Centre in Yinzhou opened, and a young man walked out of the door with a weather-beaten face. Looking at the yellow autumn leaves outside, the young man took a deep breath.

A black Benz stopped in front of the detention centre. The rear door of the car opened and the young man sat in.

"Young Master Zheng, this was a hard period of time for you. Come on, you two, please massage master's shoulders." A voice was heard from the passenger seat of the Benz.

The person who came out of the detention centre was Sam Zheng.

For a long time, the Zheng Family had been looking for connections so that Sam could avoid the death sentence for the previous incident. However, the evidence was firm at that time. Although he had not been sentenced to death, it was impossible to release him. Now that Sam could be swaggering out of the detention centre, there must be someone who had pulled some connections.

Two sexy models were sitting in the back seat of the Benz.

"Master Zheng, I'll help you change your clothes."

"I'll massage your shoulders."

The two young girls said in a cute manner.

Sam looked at the front row and said, "Young Master Ke, you have spent so much effort to get me out. Just tell me what you want."

Bing Ke was sitting in front of the Benz.

Bing snapped his fingers. "It's good to deal with smart people. Young Master Zheng, I won't beat around the bush with you. The reason why I could get you out this time was because of my godfather. In the whole Ning province, it's absolutely impossible for others to help you. I think Young Master Zheng, you should remember how you ended up in prison the first time."

"Of course!" When it came to this matter, Sam was resentful. "If Henry Zhang hadn't ruined my plan, how could I end up like this!"

"By the way," Bing said, "You and I have a common enemy, Henry Zhang. Young Master Zheng, why don't you cooperate with me?"

"Cooperate? How do you want to cooperate with me?" Sam asked in doubt while enjoying the massage of the two models.

"It's very simple. The same way you got in. I've watched the video that day and there is a lot of evidence. We can do some editing, including the video shown by Henry. We can sue him for slander." Bing's eyes were filled with anger as soon as he mentioned Henry. He felt so wronged that he refused to let Henry alone. The last time he met Henry, Henry humiliated his gambling stone shop thoroughly and made him suffer a loss of nearly ten million yuan!

There was a hint of interest on Sam Zheng's face. He was a playboy. During this period of time, he almost went crazy in the detention centre. Now he had the chance to get out and even put the person he hated into the prison. It was impossible for him not to be tempted.

"Young Master Ke, how sure are you?" Sam asked.

"100%!" Bing's face was full of confidence. "I'm not the only one participating in this matter. The Chengs are also involved in it. It's up to us to take down the man surnamed Zhang!"

"The Cheng family!" Sam's body shook. In the entire Ning province, the Cheng family was a well-known powerhouse. This Henry dared to provoke the Cheng family. He was really looking for death!

"What do you think, Young Master Zheng? No need to worry now," Bing said with a smile.

"Of course. Young Master Ke, I'll do whatever you ask me to do." Sam smiled. If there was really the Cheng family's help with it, no matter how powerful Henry was, he couldn't turn the world upside down.

"It's very simple. Today, Young Master Zheng, you should relax for a while. Tomorrow, find the man who used drug last time and ask him to change his statement. Leave the rest to me." Bing's eyes showed a hint of coldness when he spoke.

During this period, Henry had a lot more leisure time. Sylvia did not hand over all the company's affairs to Henry, but she would talk about some things that were difficult for her to make a decision on with Henry.

Henry went to Jenny's stone gambling shop again. The business of the stone gambling shop was very good. Just as he thought before, the stone gambling shop was a monopoly industry in Ning province, there was only the Broken Jade Pavilion. Next door, the Peerless Jade store was also open. Unfortunately, no one went there. On the day of its opening, the reputation of the Peerless Jade was completely ruined, which formed a sharp contrast with the Broken Jade Pavilion.

Jenny had been guarding the Broken Jade Pavilion for the past few days.

"President Qin, the business is booming." Henry came in from the door. He saw that all the jades he opened that day were put in a pillar by Jenny and displayed in the Broken Jade Pavilion.

"Mr. Zhang, you're here." The staff of the Broken Jade Pavilion greeted Henry as soon as they saw him.

"It's a great honour. What brought you here?" Jenny walked over from the bar with a smile and asked, "Want some tea?"

"No." Henry waved his hand. "I'm free these days, so I'm walking around."

"Free?" Jenny raised her eyebrows. "Then it's just the right time. I have an auction here, and you coming here will bring more popularity."

"What auction?" Henry asked curiously.

"You will know it soon." Jenny deliberately made a mysterious expression and then asked the staff next to her, "How is it? Is everything ready?"

The employee nodded and answered, "President Qin, it's almost ready."

"Okay." Jenny responded and said to Henry, "Let's go, follow me."

Henry followed Jenny out of the Broken Jade Pavilion. It was not until then that Henry saw that she had also bought the two display houses next to the Broken Jade Pavilion. The two houses were both bigger than 300 square meters and were divided into two floors.

On the first floor, there was a huge exhibition hall, with some tables and chairs. On the second floor, there were all kinds of private rooms. The private rooms were rounded with semi-transparent glass and the exhibition hall could be seen from the inside.

The entire hall was decorated by Jenny using an antique style, giving people a sense of modern beauty.

Henry looked around the hall and said, "Your action is very fast."

It was only a few days after the opening of the Broken Jade Pavilion, and Jenny had already completed the decoration. It had to be said that she was also a woman who did things fast.

Henry saw that a lot of people had been sitting in the hall at this moment, including in the private room upstairs. The door was also tightly locked, and there were people sitting inside.

"Are you going to hold a stone auction?" Henry asked curiously.

"Yeah." Jenny nodded. "I intend to donate 30% of the profit to the Spring residential home. Weather is changing. The children also need more clothes. I specially bought a batch of King Stone and Emperor Stone from the Stone King. They are all top-quality."

Henry had also participated in this kind of stone gambling auction before, so he was not unfamiliar with it.

Chapter 433

At this moment, Jenny's cell phone rang.

Henry subconsciously glanced at Jenny's mobile phone. At the moment when her mobile phone screen lit up, Henry saw a search tab for children's autumn clothing.

Henry's opinion of Jenny was extremely good, and he especially liked her attitude towards the Spring residential home. In this society, there were many people who offered love and did good deeds, but there were very few people who really didn't want fame or benefits.

Henry was such a person, and Jenny was also such a person.

Now, it was the upgrading period of Hengyuan's business. If Jenny showed that she had been sponsor the foster home for free, it would definitely enhance Hengyuan's popularity. It would be good for Hengyuan. However, Jenny never mentioned it. For Jenny, helping the foster home was just a simple thing she wanted to do.

Jenny picked up the phone and said a few words on the phone. Then she hurriedly hung up the phone and looked at Henry with some embarrassment.

"You go ahead with your work. I can walk around on my own." Henry took the initiative to speak.

"What a sweet man." Jenny glanced at Henry and then strode away.

Henry wandered alone in the hall. He found that half of the people were having a foreign accent. It seemed that Jenny had done a good job in marketing. The stone gambling auction could maximize the reputation of this shop. In many aspects, Jenny's business sense was still very sensitive.

Just as Henry was turning around, a female voice came from behind him.

"Hey, brother-in-law?"

Henry looked back and saw a graceful figure with short hair standing behind him.

"Amy Zhang?" Henry glanced at her in surprise.

Last time when he went to Yinzhou University, Henry asked Daisy about Amy, but he didn't see her. Daisy said that Amy's family had something to do, so she asked for leave. But in fact, she posted many travel pictures on her social media.

"Didn't you go on a trip?" Henry asked curiously.

There was an unnatural smile on Amy's face, and then she nodded and said, "I went to have fun. I just came back two days ago. I heard that there is an auction, so I came to check it out. Brother-in-law, let me introduce it to you. This is my father."

Behind Amy stood two more men. One was a little older, and the other looked like he was in his twenties.

"Hello, uncle." Henry nodded and asked.

"This is Karl Ban, my..." Amy pointed to another young man. "My fiance."

Henry noticed that when Amy said the word "fiance", there was a struggle on her beautiful face.

Karl Ban was 1.8 meters tall. Although he was not fat, he looked plump and ordinary. In terms of appearance, he couldn't match Amy at all.

Henry also found that when Karl stood next to Amy's father, his face was not full of respect for his elders, but there was a kind of arrogance, as if he was the protagonist among these three people.

"Amy, who is this?" Seeing that Amy kept talking to Henry, Karl looked dissatisfied and asked.

"I'm my classmate's brother-in-law, so we call him brother-in-law." Amy explained.

"Oh." Karl nodded. "Okay, stop talking. The auction will begin soon. Let's sit down first. It's very difficult to find a seat this time."

After Karl finished speaking, he first walked to a seat.

There was a number plate on each seat, which was used to bid at the auction.

Henry looked at Amy's back and a bitter smile on her face when she just turned back. After thinking for a while, he also walked over.

Originally, Jenny left a private room on the second floor for Henry. Henry exchanged seats with people sitting next to Amy. When they heard that there was a private room if they were willing to be changed, they gladly accepted it.

Henry sat in the seat next to Amy.

"Brother-in-law, are you also here to attend the auction?" When Amy saw Henry sitting there, she was a little surprised.

"I just came to take a look," Henry replied.

"Amy, are you done with your talk? Are you addicted to talking?" Karl said with an unhappy face, "Look at him. His clothes are less than 500 yuan in total. Do you think he's going to participate in the auction?"

"No, my brother-in-law, he..." Amy was just about to tell Karl Henry's real identity when her father stopped her with his eyes.

"Speak less," Amy's father said.

"Oh." Amy nodded with a little grievance and didn't say anything more.

As time went by, there were more and more people in the hall, and the private rooms upstairs were also full.

When Amy was looking upstairs at the private room, there was a hint of envy in her eyes. If she had the strength to sit in the private room, she would not have so much trouble.

Henry looked at the time. It was three o'clock in the afternoon, and there was light music in the hall.

Just when the music started, a graceful figure stepped onto the stage.

Jenny was wearing a long white dress, with her hair rolled up and light makeup on her face. She had bright eyes and white teeth. Her appearance seemed to have made the lights on the stage lose their colour.

Seeing Jenny now, Henry suddenly recalled the first time he saw Jenny. She was also dressed in a white dress, just like an elf, pure and flawless.

"She's so beautiful." Amy looked at the stage and muttered, "So beautiful and capable."

When Karl looked at the graceful figure on the stage, he unconsciously licked his lips. There was a desire in his eyes, but it was very obscure. Because he knew that although he came from a good family, he still had a long way to go until he could be compared with this woman. Now everyone in Yinzhou knew Hengyuan Trade Company had monopolized the whole gambling stone industry in Ning province. There would be great prospects in the future for them.

"Thank you all for coming to the Broken Jade Pavilion to participate in this auction. I think you all know more or less about stone gambling. I will not talk nonsense with you here and waste your time. Today, we specially invited appraiser experts from the capital. All the stones that have been opened will be evaluated on the spot. We, Broken Jade Pavilion, can buy them. I, Jenny Qin, promise that every piece of raw stone is top grade. But I still have to remind you that there are risks in gambling on stones. You all need to be careful."

Jenny's voice came out of the microphone on the stand. There were not many adjectives in her speech, but it gave people a comfortable feeling. Now people were no longer easily fascinated by beautiful words. Compared with good words, everyone preferred honesty.

Jenny said that there was a risk in gambling on stones and that everyone had to be careful, which had won a lot of people's hearts in an instant.

After Jenny finished speaking, she walked down the stage with a fragrant breeze. When Jenny stepped down from the stage, a tall model was holding a tray covered with a golden silk cloth. On the cloth, there was an irregular raw stone with a length of 15 centimetres and a height of 4 centimetres.