

Chapter 61

Henry sighed. It seemed that tonight's action could not be carried out.

He sat on the stool in the locker room, took out his mobile phone, and was ready to kill time. He was waiting for the members of the clubs to finish their negotiations and would not leave until the woman surnamed Han left.

As soon as the mobile phone was taken out, the screen automatically lit up.

Henry took a look and found a WeChat message from Helen, asking where he was.

"Where am I? Just opposite of you!" Henry touched the screen and set the location of the Luxury Village to Helen. Then he began to play games on his mobile phone to ease the mood.

When it was about six o'clock, the quiet Roman Holiday Inn became noisy. Obviously, a lot of people had come.

Henry continued to play with his mobile phone and didn't care about anything.

"Go! Go upstairs and take a look! If there is anyone else, make them leave!" A shout came from downstairs. Then a series of "thump" sounded, and it was obvious that more than one person was coming upstairs.

Just then Henry heard someone open the door of the opposite room with a squeak, and hurriedly approach the locker room.

Henry reached out to cover his forehead, "What the f*ck is going on?"

He glanced at the wardrobe on his left, which was as high as a man's height. He opened the wardrobe's door and got in directly.

The second he got into the wardrobe, the locker room door was pushed open by Helen. The woman glanced at it anxiously, fixed her eyes on the wardrobe, and rushed over.

Henry hid in the wardrobe and watched someone pull the door of the wardrobe.

The moment she opened the wardrobe, Helen, who was in a hurry a second ago, froze there.

Both of them stared into each other's eyes, and neither of them spoke.

Henry could see that anger was rising in Helen's eyes!

The sound of footsteps outside broke the silence between them.

"Get out of the way!" Helen pushed Henry and squeezed into the wardrobe.

"Hi, what a coincidence." Henry waved to Helen with an unnatural smile.

"Shut up!" Helen made a gesture to Henry and closed the door.

Except for being a little taller, the interior space of this wardrobe was not very large. After Henry hid in it, it was already full. Now, as soon as Helen came in, their bodies squeezed together violently.

Helen's upper body was pressing against Henry's chest. The thin summer uniform could not cover her charming figure at all.

At this moment, they were so close that they could feel each other's breath and body temperature.

Helen subconsciously wanted to push Henry away. Just as stretching out her arms, she heard the door of the locker room being opened. She was so scared that she did not dare to move. Her hands were just holding Henry's waist, and this gesture looked like Helen was throwing herself on him.

They could hear several completely different footsteps. It was clear that more than one person had entered the locker room.

"Have you finished checking? There's no one left. Let's go!"

Someone shouted outside the locker room, and then the footsteps sounded again and gradually faded away.

Henry and Helen breathed a sigh of relief almost at the same time. The feeling of being squeezed made Helen feel particularly uncomfortable. She was about to push open the door and end the awkward gesture when she heard the sound again.

"You, you, you, and you, the four of you watch here. Don't make any mistakes today. Do you hear me?"

"Don't worry, boss!"

Helen, who was about to push the wardrobe door, saw a tattooed young club member standing at the wide-open door, so even a blind man could notice her if she went out now.

She was helpless and could only continue to stay in the wardrobe, but her current posture with Henry was too ambiguous!

The noise downstairs became louder and louder. With a "bang", the door of the Roman Holiday Inn was closed, which indicated that the negotiations between the two clubs had begun.

A person had to maintain a position for so long time that his body would become stiff. As time went by, Helen was no exception. She slowly twisted her waist, ready to stretch her sore arms, but she felt a constant sense of oppression in front of her body. Lowering her head slightly, she found that because of her small movement just now, her body was pressing against Henry's, and her neckline was wide open, which was rather attractive.

Henry was just facing Helen and couldn't even turn his head easily. He had no choice but to close his eyes to refuse this scene.

"Have you seen enough?" Helen said angrily in a low voice.

Henry curled his lips and said, "It's not my fault. I just stood there and didn't move."

"You!" Looking at the man in front of her, Helen was very angry. He had just sent her his location, but now he appeared in front of her!

"Captain, why did you come to the Roman Holiday Inn?" Henry was speechless now. He had never seen such a coincidence. He had made trouble with this Green Leaf Society three times, and all the three times he had met with Helen.

"Why can't our police watch over the negotiations between the two major clubs?" Helen glared at Henry, very dissatisfied with his behavior.

"Captain Han, are you going to intervene in the societies' negotiations? Why do you hate the members of the associations so much?" Henry asked. From the first day he saw her, he had found that this woman absolutely abhorred evil. She hated those who fought and made trouble from the bottom of her heart. Otherwise, she would not have been against him like this.

"Of course, I hate criminals!" Helen gnashed her silver teeth, "As long as I, Helen Han, am a policewoman, I won't leave these club members alone. It should be a legal and peaceful society, rather than a society where the underworld clubs could do evil things as they please!"

Henry stared into Helen's eyes. He saw that there was a kind of hatred, which was very intense.

"Well... In my opinion, you are a little too extreme. In this world, if there were no such club members, there would be something wrong." Henry tried to persuade Helen, but he was stared back by her.

"Cut the crap. What are you doing here?"

"I, I'm here to..."

Henry was about to tell the excuse he had thought of when he heard a woman's scream and a loud curse downstairs.

"Cut them to death!"

Then, there was a sound of tinkling.

Helen, who was questioning Henry, changed her face. She had no time to ask what he was doing. She kicked the wardrobe door open and jumped forward.

Chapter 62

The moment Helen came out, the members of the association in front of the locker room saw her.

"Han..." As soon as the member of the club opened his mouth, he was knocked by Helen.

Henry closed his eyes hard. This woman was really violent!

"Captain Han, you... you... why are you here..." The other members of the association, who were guarding the second floor, looked somewhat unnatural when they saw Helen.

Henry, who was hiding in the wardrobe, felt a little strange. These members were too afraid of Helen. Last time in the Rosy Night Bar, Helen's words made all these people obediently run to the police station to offer their statements.

"What are you doing here?" Helen frowned and asked.

"We... we..." That member answered flatteringly, but before he could speak more, he was interrupted by a roar from downstairs.

"Brothers, hurry up! This group of bastards are playing dirty!"

Upon hearing this, these members had no time to answer Helen's question. They picked up the benches around them and rushed downstairs.

Helen reached out to touch the gun hanging from her waist and also rushed downstairs. In a blink of an eye, Henry was the only one left on the second floor.

He walked out of the wardrobe slowly, stretched himself, and slowly walked towards the corridor.

Standing at the stairs on the second floor, Henry could clearly see what was happening downstairs.

On the first floor, at least a hundred people are holding sticks, stools, and machetes to fight in chaos.

Henry saw that the three masters of Green Leaf, whom he saw at the Rosy Night Bar that day, were also in the crowd.

"Gee, so bloody." Henry leaned against the guardrail on the second floor and looked down playfully.

For an ordinary person, he could not bear to see such a bloody scene, but in Henry's eyes, it was nothing. When he came into contact with the industry of killers, the first thing he learned was how to kill people, but their instructors disdained to teach them to kill people with machetes.

The members of the Green Leaf Society, who had just rushed down from the second floor, joined the fight quickly.

Helen looked at the situation in front of her with a frown. The armed fight in the Roman Holiday Inn had exceeded her expectations.

"Boss, look!" On the side of the Green Leaf Society, Leopard Kurata pointed to Helen.

Boss's face changed, "Why is she here?"

"Boss, what should we do?" Leopard Kurata looked very anxious.

It was not easy to stop a hundred people's battle.

All of a sudden, a gunshot rang out, causing all the people who were fighting to stop.

Helen stood at the entrance of the stairs, holding a gun aimed at the ceiling. The gunshot rang out from her.

It was at this moment that the members of the clubs noticed that there was a police officer in the restaurant.

Helen's face was as cold as frost, and she glanced around the hall, "Thunder Monster and you surnamed Tai, you two have gone too far, haven't you? Today, you are fighting in the Roman Holiday Inn. Tomorrow, you even want to fight in front of the police station, right?"

The members, who had just fought fiercely a moment ago, did not dare to look at Helen now.

"Oh, it's Captain Han!" A middle-aged man with whiskers laughed, "Oh, I didn't expect that you would be here. I'm so sorry, sorry."

"Hey, don't talk nonsense here. You Big Circle Society has not been quiet recently!" Helen looked at him with a warning in her eyes.

The middle-aged man with whiskers was the head of the Big Circle Society, Eli Tai.

The Big Circle Society was second only to the Green Leaf Society in the underworld of Yinzhou. It had more than a thousand members and was also a key target for the police of Yinzhou to attack.

"Haha, Captain Han, you misunderstood me. I, Eli Tai, have always been a law-abiding citizen. Today, I was forced to do this."

"It's really interesting. You, Brother Tai, have no choice but to be forced?" Helen sneered, "Who dares to force you?"

"Of course it's him!" Eli Tai stretched out his hand and pointed at Thunder Monster standing on the other side. Eli's face showed a look of grievance at the moment. "Captain Han, do you know that Thunder Monster will not give us a chance to live? What are we? Gang! As the underground leader of Yinzhou, it's okay that the Green Leaf Society doesn't lead us to develop, but it even restricts us to sell drugs and gamble. Tell me, is there any law in this world, huh?"

Helen looked at Thunder Monster in surprise. She didn't expect that the Green Leaf cared about these things.

Helen asked Eli, "Drugs and gambling are both illegal. You can't touch them in the first place, otherwise, what do you want?"

"What do I want?" The look of grievance on his face suddenly changed into a sinister smile. "Captain Han, what do you think I can do? I have to kill them, hahaha!"

"You're so unruly!" Helen shouted angrily, "You bastard, you're so disrespectful to our law enforcement officers!"

"Also don't take our Green Leaf in your eyes." Thunder Monster, who had not said a word all the time, chimed in with a gloomy face. "Hey, what do you think your Big Circle Society can do to me? We'll drown you all with our spittle!"

"Really?" Eli Tai raised his eyebrows. "Thunder Monster, ah Thunder Monster, have you forgotten how your wife died?"

As soon as he said that, Thunder Monster's face suddenly changed.

"Eli Tai, what do you want to say?"

When Thunder Monster asked the question, his body trembled slightly. He had guessed something.

"If I can't kill all the people of your Green Leaf Society, wouldn't I be able to kill the people closest to you? Hmm? Hahahaha!" Eli Tai laughed wildly.

"It was you!" Thunder Monster gritted his teeth, "You were the one who killed my wife!"

"I'll kill you!" Leopard Kurata roared and rushed to Eli. It could be seen that he was very stiff when he waved his arms. He hadn't recovered since the time Henry broke his arms.

"Kill me? Do you think only you can do that?" Eli Tai looked at Leopard disdainfully.

Then, with a crashing sound, the entrance door of the Roman Holiday Inn was pulled open from the outside.

Outside stood a mass of people in uniform black clothes. They swarmed into the building, at least 50 people.

At the moment when he saw these people, Thunder Monster frowned and said, "The men of Black Thunder!"

Black Thunder! The underground leader of the whole Ning Province was much more powerful than Green Leaf!

At the same time when these members of the Black Thunder appeared, Helen subconsciously looked upstairs. She probably guessed why Henry was here. These members of the Black Thunder must have something to do with him!

Chapter 63

"How do you feel, Leopard Kurata? Do you still want to kill me?" With a smile all over his face, he crossed his arms over his chest and was sure he would win.

Thunder Monster's face was completely gloomy. He knew that he might be defeated today. His long-standing position as the overlord in Yinzhou made him lack of vigilance. He did not expect that Eli Tai would take action in the Roman Holiday Inn. And he did not expect that Eli would ask the men of Black Thunder to help him.

"Eli, do you think you can replace Green Leaf by killing me?" Thunder Monster clenched his fists and made a gesture to his subordinate, "I'm not the only one in Green Leaf!"

"It's meaningless to kill you." Eli Tai laughed and waved his hand. "Go, bring Captain Han here."

A few minions of the Big Circle Society nodded and walked towards Helen.

"Stop!" Helen shouted and pointed her gun at Eli, "Hey, you're too bold, aren't you?"

"Bold? I don't think so." Eli held his hand, and suddenly changed the gesture of his raised right hand.

"Be careful!" Thunder Monster let out a cry.

Helen only felt a strong wind coming from behind. She was shocked. Just as she was about to react, she felt that her right wrist was hit by a strong force, and the pistol in her hand slipped out of her hand.

Helen's first reaction was to grab the gun, but she was blocked by a whip kick. She could only retreat and avoid the whip kick.

"Dum!" The pitch-black pistol fell to the ground.

It was only then that Helen saw the person who attacked her. He was thin and small, but was extremely nimble. When he came near Helen, she did not notice it at all.

"Captain Han, it's Black Thunder's Double-flowered Red Stick, what's his strength?" Eli said with a smile. He took two steps forward and bent down to pick up the pistol that Helen had dropped on the ground.

Thunder Monster pushed away the subordinate in front of him and strode to the front of Eli. "Hey, come to me if you have any problems!"

"Thunder Monster, you're not young anymore. What are you going to do with me?" Eli said in an educated tone. "You've also said that even if I kill you, I can't replace Green Leaf. So, I've come up with a good idea. Why don't you take your daughter's life in exchange for your automatically dismissing Green Leaf?"

He picked up the gun and pointed it at Helen's head.

The black pistol carried a cold and chilling atmosphere. Anyone who had not faced the gun would not be able to feel that kind of feeling.

When a person was pointed at by a gun, even if he knew that there was no bullet in this gun, he would feel a little scared. What's more, they all knew that there was a bullet in the gun.

Henry leaned against the arm of the second floor and watched what was going on downstairs.

"No wonder this female Tyrannosaurus hates the gang members so much. She turned out to be the daughter of the boss of the underworld. Judging from the conversation just now, her mother died in the hands of the underworld."

At this time, Henry also understood why those Green Leaf's men respected Helen so much. The identity of this female Tyrannosaurus was not only the police, but also the princess of the underworld!

Henry covered his forehead. This family's relationship was so messy. Father was the Big Brother of the underworld, and his daughter was the deputy captain of the police criminal investigation team. Daughter had always wanted to capture her father and eradicate the influence of her father.

Henry did not move but continued to lean there.

Thunder Monster stared at Eli Tai, and the killing intent in his eyes could not be concealed. "Eli Tai, as I said, if you have anything, just come to me!"

"With such a good hostage in hand, why should I go to you?" Eli asked, "Thunder Monster, you f*cking be the boss for so long that you become stupid?"

"Eli Tai, you don't care about morality!" Leopard Kurata clenched his fist.

"Bullshit, bah!" Eli Tai spat on the ground. "I wouldn't kill Thunder Monster's wife if I wanted to talk about morality. How about you? Your wife died in my hands, and your daughter will also die in my hands today. It feels great to kill your family! Hahahaha!"

The face of Eli Taii was full of enjoyment.

"Eli Tai, are you out of your mind?" Helen's voice rang out. She laughed at herself, "Do you think you can threaten Thunder Monster through me? Back then, he knew that his wife was in danger, but he was still unwilling to give up Green Leaf. Today, the Green Leaf has dominated Yinzhou for more than ten years. Do you think that he can give up the Green Leaf for me? You underestimate the ruthlessness of Thunder Monster!"

"Really? I don't believe it." Eli shook his head and rubbed his fingers against the trigger of the pistol. "I want to have a try, Thunder Monster, I'll count to three. You think about whether you should dismiss Green Leaf or I'll kill your daughter."

"One!" Eli's finger on the trigger stopped moving.

Thunder Monster was silent and did not speak.

There was no emotion in Helen's eyes.

"Two!" Eli's fingers gradually bent. "Tsk, tsk, tsk, Thunder Monster, your daughter is right. You are really inhuman."

Thunder Monster remained silent.

Helen's long eyelashes fluttered gently. She closed her eyes and a self-deprecating smile appeared at the corner of her mouth.

"Three!"

"I agree! I'll dismiss Green Leaf!" Thunder Monster unclenched his fists. "But you have to promise me that you will let my daughter go today!"

"That's right," said Eli with a grin. He put down the pistol, took out a piece of white cloth from his pocket, wiped the fingerprints on the pistol carefully, and then threw the pistol back to the ground. "Captain Han, I didn't do anything illegal. I've never seen a pistol or anything like that."

Seeing Eli threw away his pistol, Thunder Monster breathed a sigh of relief.

Helen opened her eyes, and there was a glow in her eyes again.

"Eli Tai, your purpose has been achieved. If you have any other tricks up your sleeve, show me!" Leopard Kurata stared at him full of hatred.

"No, no, no." He waved his hand again and again. "I haven't achieved my goal yet. How can you say that Green Leaf has been disbanded? How can I trust you? You Thunder Monster has already been famous in the world. I can't guarantee that when I leave the Roman Holiday Inn, you will burn all of us to death."

"Then you want my life?" Thunder Monster asked in a low voice.

"Oh, my god. Life!" A look of horror appeared on his face. "Thunder Monster, don't talk nonsense. Captain Han is here! How can you say that in front of the law enforcement officers? I, Eli Tai, am a good citizen! But..."

As soon as he said that, the panic on his face disappeared. "The law says you can't hurt people intentionally or kill people, but it doesn't say that you can't hurt yourself. Thunder Monster, everyone knows that your daughter is a good policewoman who hates evil. I don't want to be watched by your good daughter every day in the future. How do you like it that you break your limbs and let your daughter take you with her to leave Yinzhou, find a rural place, and enjoy a good life in the future?"

Chapter 64

Leopard roared, "Eli Tai, don't go too far!"

"Shut up!" Eli Tai picked up a chair and threw it at Leopard. "You don't have the right to speak here!"

Throwing out a chair and then straightening his clothes, Eli took a deep breath, "Phew, Thunder Monster, I don't have time to talk nonsense with you. You decide what to do. Either you break your limbs, or I kill your daughter. Think about it yourself!"

"Okay." Thunder Monster didn't hesitate and nodded directly and decisively.

Thunder Monster knew very well that Eli could do everything as he said.

"Yes!" A look of approval appeared on Eli's face. "This is what a father should be like. Well, let's start your performance, but don't make it too bloody. I can't see such a bloody scene!"

As soon as he finished speaking, a man standing beside him threw a dagger at Thunder Monster's feet. The dagger flashed with cold light and was extremely sharp.

Thunder Monster stared at the dagger for five seconds, then crouched down and picked it up.

"Big brother!" There was a flash of sympathy in Leopard's eyes.

"Eli Tai, I hope you'll do what you said. Don't deal with my daughter!" Thunder Monster said, gritting his teeth as he held the dagger in his hand.

"Of course, I'm a law-abiding citizen."

"Bro." Thunder Monster turned his head to look at Sneaky Viper who had remained silent all the time, "After going out, announce that Green Leaf will be dismissed. In the past two years, our brothers have made too many enemies with me."

Viper nodded and still said no word.

Those who were familiar with Viper knew that the anger in his heart was rising to the extreme. But now, the situation had been firmly controlled by the Big Circle Society.

The present members of the Big Circle Society, together with the people of Black Thunder, could outclass Green Leaf.

Thunder Monster smiled and took a deep look at Helen. Then he raised the dagger in his hand and stabbed at his knee.

Green Leaf's members could not bear to see it, so they all closed their eyes.

"Enough!" A clear and loud shout rang out.

Thunder Monster's dagger, which was about to pierce his kneecap, stopped.

It could be seen that Helen's eyes were already red. She looked at Eli and said in a choked voice, "Hey, do you have to hurt all of us?"

Eli's face was full of the smile of victory. "Captain Han, look at what you're saying. Thunder Monster chose the road by himself. I didn't force him."

Helen looked at Thunder Monster for a few seconds, suddenly turned her head, looked in the direction of the second floor, and shouted, "Mr. Zhang, the man you brought is almost driving us to certain death. Are you still going to watch the show on the upstairs?"

Helen opened her mouth, which startled Eli a lot.

"There is someone else? Find him!"

"Don't look for me, I'll come out myself." Henry's voice sounded, and his figure gradually appeared in the stairway.

"It's him?" At the sight of Henry, Thunder Monster and the others all changed their faces.

They still remembered that day when Henry beat 150 of them.

Helen looked at Henry and took a deep breath, "Henry, I beg you this time, let your men leave."

"Who did I call in?" Henry was confused.

"These people from Black Thunder were not hired by you?" Helen was shocked. She felt that she seemed to have done something wrong.

"Damn, it's not me. How could I find these club members?" Henry waved his hand.

"This..." Helen opened her mouth and didn't know what to say.

All along, she believed that the men of Black Thunder were called by Henry. Last time, in Rosy Night Bar, more than 150 people of the Green Leaf Society were hurt, and the Green Leaf Society did not want to reveal the truth. The police got the news that Black Thunder had inquired about the news of Green Leaf, so Helen assumed that it was Black Thunder who did it.

At that time, the person who had a conflict with Green Leaf was Henry. Helen did not doubt that Henry had such power at all as the son-in-law of the Lin family.

But now it seemed that this was not the case.

Henry had nothing to do with this conflict at all. Not to mention why he was here now, Helen had already understood that her words had also brought him in trouble.

Thinking of this, Helen didn't know what to do. She couldn't even protect herself now, so she could only give Henry an apologetic look. Then she said to Eli, "Hey, he's from the Lin family who has nothing to do with this matter. Let him go."

The corners of Eli's mouth turned up. "What if I say no?"

Looking at Henry, Leopard took a deep breath and said, "Little brother, don't you want to know who asked us to deal with you? Today you take care of my big brother, and I'll bring that man to you with my own hands!"

"No, Brother!" Thunder Monster was about to say something, but stopped by Leopard. Leopard looked at Henry with a hint of sympathy in his eyes, "What do you think, brother?"

"He? Help Green Leaf?" Helen looked at Henry doubtfully.

Henry tilted his head and thought for a moment, then shook his head.

Seeing Henry shaking his head, Leopard sighed as if he was appointed.

A dirty smile suddenly appeared on Eli's face. "You're a member of the Lin family? I heard that Sylvia Lin, president of the Lins Group, is a beautiful woman. Why don't you call her and let us brothers to have fun and we will let you go? What do you think?"

Henry's calm eyes flashed a cold light as Eli spoke. He twisted his neck and said to the younger member of the Green Leaf Society standing at the entrance of the Roman Holiday Inn, "Please do me a favor and close the door. Don't let these people escape."

The Green Leaf Society's younger brother did not dare to hesitate to quickly close the door. On that day in Rosy Night Bar, he was also present and saw the horror of this man with his own eyes.

Seeing the door closed, Henry grinned, revealing a row of white teeth.

"Let me give you a warm hint. The later scenes may make you feel a little uncomfortable. You just have to endure for a while." Henry lifted his foot and walked towards Eli.

"Haha." Eli sneered, "Boy, I feel like you're threatening me?"

"I'm not threatening you." Henry shook his head. "The means of threatening are too low. Your mouth is very dirty, so I decided to make you stop talking forever."

"What a joke!" Eli looked at Henry fiercely, "I'd like to see how you will make me keep quiet!"

"That's it." When Henry was still five meters away from Eli, he suddenly accelerated. His explosive force was so strong that no one present could react. When they saw Henry again, he was already standing in front of Eli. He pinched the lower jaw of Eli with one hand, and Eli unconsciously opened his mouth.

There was an excited smile in Henry's eyes. He quickly stuffed another hand into Eli's mouth, grabbed his tongue and pulled it hard.

Chapter 65

A large amount of blood spurted out. Henry stepped back slightly, and there was no blood on his body.

Such a scene made people who were unable to bear it retch on the spot. Eli's eyes were completely protruding, which was especially scary.

When Henry loosened his grip, Eli collapsed to the ground.

Helen held back the disgust in her heart and looked at Henry in disbelief. For a long time, she had felt that Henry was a hooligan who had no boundaries. She even often threatened him with martial strength. But now, she knew that she had never really understood this man before.

Henry was decisive and did not hesitate at all. While talking and laughing, he directly killed Eli. Such ruthlessness, even those members of the club who often fought with each other, were scared by him and dared not to move. So did the member of Black Thunder who just fought with Helen.

"None of them can get away." Henry narrowed his eyes and smiled at the people from the Big Circle Society and Black Thunder.

Being stared at by Henry, one of them couldn't bear the pressure of fear anymore. He roared as if he was going to vent his anger and rushed to Henry with a machete in his hand.

Facing this man, Henry kicked him in the chest. The man was kicked out without any hindrance, and when he flew out, the machete in his hand was taken away by Henry.

Henry waved his hand and threw the machete. With a sound of "puff", he stabbed the man in the chest.

Another life!

This set of actions were fast, accurate, and ruthless!

"Devil! Devil!" Someone in the crowd of the Big Circle Society muttered to himself. His eyes were full of fear when looking at Henry.

"Go to hell!" The Double-flowered Red Stick from Black Thunder roared and attacked Henry from behind.

Henry didn't even turn his head. His right hand grabbed the man behind him like lightning. He didn't even look at his opponent, and accurately pinched his throat. In the eyes of others, it was just like Henry took the initiative and pinched his throat.

There was horror in the eyes of Henry's opponent. He didn't face the man like this before. He could only feel his murderous look and contempt for life. But now, as soon as he started, he saw the enormous difference between him and Henry.

Henry squeezed his opponent's fingers and broke the throat of the strongest thug of Black Thunder. Then he threw him to the ground like throwing garbage, and continued to walk towards the crowd of the Big Circle Society.

There were so many members of the clubs present, but they were scared by Henry and did not dare to move.

Today, the negotiations between the two gangs, the tricks of the Big Circle Society, and the sneak attack of Black Thunder all became a minor show of Henry.

"Run! Run! He's a devil! A devil!" In the crowd, someone first gave a cry like a reservoir gate.

The younger members of the association, who were closest to the entrance of the restaurant, frantically pushed the people in front of them and opened the door.

Green Leaf's men tried to stop them, but they couldn't stop these crazy people at all. The door was opened with a sound of "swoosh".

It was 7:30 p.m. now, and the light from outside the restaurant shone in, giving the younger members of the Big Circle Society a glimmer of hope.

Standing in the hall and looking at the open door, Henry smiled, "I said that no one could escape. Let's get started!"

The moment Henry finished his words, the minions who were the first to rush out of the Roman Holiday Inn laid down together.

Outside the restaurant, ten figures wearing devil masks appeared from all around. Each of them was holding a sharp knife, shining with cold light.

The mask had a pair of fangs and it looked extremely ferocious.

They waved the sharp knives in their hands and cut the members of the club who had escaped like cutting grass.

What happened outside was seen by everyone. The ten people who came from all directions were like soulbringers from hell. They took lives one after another, as if they were doing a very ordinary job.

"Who the hell are you?" Helen turned to look at Henry. She couldn't bear to look at the scene anymore.

"A stingy person." Henry stretched, "Who dares to mention my wife, I'll kill all of his family."

"You are despising the law!"

"Law?" Henry chuckled, "For her, I can be the enemy of the whole world."

The scene outside the restaurant was like the Shuraba in the world. If the restaurant had not been located in a remote place, it would have caused chaos and panic now.

The three leaders of the Green Leaf Society looked out of the door. The ten people who suddenly appeared were the Gods of Death. They were ruthless, merciless, powerful, and irresistible.

Now Thunder Monster and others found it ridiculous that they had intended to deal with such a person at the beginning. They could not understand his power and influence at all.

Those people from the Big Circle Society and Black Thunder were scared out of their wits. They had just run out of the restaurant, but now all rushed back together. None of them still had any dignity. They all knelt on the ground, kept kowtowing, and shouted for forgiveness.

Ten Gods of Death with masks stood in front of the door. They did not step into the building.

Henry looked at the members of the club kneeling on the ground and waved at the door.

These Gods of Death, who despised life, bowed to Henry in unison. Then, without saying a word, they silently disappeared.

This scene made Thunder Monster and others even more horrified. They had just guessed that these ten people might have been invited by Henry, but now it seemed that this was not the case.

The walkie-talkie at Helen's waist made a sound at this time.

"Captain Han, Captain Han, we've received a report that a large-scale brawl has taken place near the Roman Holiday Inn."

"Captain Han, Captain Han..."

Such a voice repeated three times in the walkie-talkie, and the other party began to sound anxious.

"Captain Han, please reply! Please reply!"

Helen held the walkie-talkie, and her eyes wandered between Henry and her father trying to understand what was going on.

"Captain Han..."

"The society is fighting with weapons. Bring your men here."

The siren rang in everyone's ears in 30 seconds. Four police cars drove to the Roman Holiday Inn. When they saw the blood on the ground outside the building and more than 30 bodies, these policemen were all shocked. This was definitely a big case that could shock the whole country.

"Get out of the way! All of you, get out of the way!" Ten policemen with anti-explosive shields pushed aside the members of the club at the entrance and rushed in.

"Captain Han, what's going on?" A police officer asked.

Helen was silent for a while and said, "Black Thunder and the Big Circle Society had a conflict, resulting in a large-scale brawl. The main suspects died in the fight. Take these people back. Let's file a case..."

"What about them?" The police officer pointed at the direction of the Green Leaf Society.

Helen spat out softly, "They were just spectators."

Chapter 66

A long cordon was pulled in front of the gate of the Roman Holiday Inn. The police ordered no one to get close to this place. Such a large-scale weapon fight would attract much attention from the government as more than 30 people died.

All the people of the Green Leaf Society dispersed, and some important members were taken away to make confessions.

In the police station of Yinzhou City.

Dozens of the club members were brought back, ready to be interrogated. However, the police chief suddenly called to inform everyone that there would be a special person to deal with this case, and no one else was allowed to interrogate it without authorization.

In the Security Bureau of Beijing City, a helicopter took off and headed for Yinzhou.

Following Leopard, Henry came to the Rosy Night Bar. Leopard fulfilled his promise and told Henry who wanted to kill him.

The Rosy Night Bar lobby was empty. Only one person was sitting on a card seat, his hands tightly placed between his legs.

"It's him?" When Henry saw the person, he was also quite surprised.

"Hey, brother, brother-in-law..." Chaning Lin looked at Henry with a flattering smile and then turned to Leopard, "Dad..."

At this moment, Henry understood why Chaning would change his attitude towards him so quickly.

Leopard Kurata, the second-in-command of the Green Leaf Society, was Chaning's father! It seemed that Chaning knew what Henry had done in the Rosy Night Bar last time through his father.

"Kneel!" Leopard shouted.

Chaning kneeled in front of Henry with a bump. "Brother-in-law, I... I was blind before. I just wanted to teach you a lesson. There was no other meaning."

"Well, get up." Henry waved his hand indifferently and sat down in the card. "We are a family. It's normal to have a misunderstanding. Just make it clear."

"Thank... thank you, brother-in-law." Chaning's face was full of joy, and he quickly nodded.

There were some doubts and surprises on Leopard's face. According to his understanding of Henry's behavior, he did not think that this person was a magnanimous character.

Henry smiled slightly. If Sylvia was in charge of the Lin family now, he would definitely destroy Chaning without hesitation. But now, the Lin family was in a mess, and it was difficult for Sylvia to take control of the Lin family on her own. Therefore, Henry would not argue with Chaning, who could provide a lot of help to Sylvia on the affairs of the Lin family in the future.

There was an artificial river in Yinzhou. In the evening, many people would be walking along the river and enjoying the cool breeze in summer.

Thunder Monster and Helen walked side by side at a slow pace along the river.

"I didn't expect that you would tell a lie for me today."

Thunder Monster lit a cigarette for himself and sighed.

"I didn't expect that you would be willing to give up your gang for me. I also didn't expect that you wouldn't let Eli sell drugs and gamble."

Thunder Monster took a deep drag on his cigarette and exhaled slowly. "How many years have we not had a good talk for?"

"Five years, seven months and thirteen days." Helen didn't think about it and spoke out an accurate number. "Starting from the day my mother died."

"Yes." Thunder Monster sighed. "Do you know why I stopped you when you applied for the police academy?"

"You are a criminal, and I wanted to become a policewoman." There was a hint of hatred between Helen's eyebrows.

In the world, the closest person was also the one she hated the most. Such a kind of emotion could easily drive people crazy.

Thunder Monster stopped and gave a wry smile. He put his hand into his pocket, took out the money clip, and took out a yellowed, old photo from the interlayer.

"I haven't told you before that this is your mother's photo. I met your mother when we were interviewed in the same unit."

In the photo, there was a valiant policewoman.

At the sight of this photo, Helen's pupils dilated, "My mother was ... a policewoman?"

"Yes." Thunder Monster nodded, "At that time, your mother was a top student who graduated from the police school, and I went to apply for a job as an auxiliary police. In the end, your mother successfully became a policeman, but I failed."

"Why?" Helen was puzzled.

"I was asked what I would do if I met the members of the club."

"What did you say?"

"Beat them into submission. Beat them up and make them afraid whenever they see me. Keep beating them up until they all start listening to me!" Thunder Monster handed the yellowed photo in his hand to Helen. "The interviewer told me that I am not suitable to be a policeman, but I am more suitable to be the boss of the association."

Henry came out of the Rosy Night Bar and saw Helen standing outside the bar.

Now Helen had taken off her police uniform. She was wearing a tight black T-shirt with exposed navel, a pair of blue denim shorts, and a pair of red sneakers. Matched with this dress, her short hair was full of vitality. With her beautiful face, she attracted a lot of people's attention.

"Drink with me." Helen leaned against a motorcycle and crooked her finger at Henry.

"Where are we going to drink?"

"Don't talk nonsense. Just come with me."

The black motorcycle was running fast on the road, as if it was venting something.

Helen parked her motorcycle in front of a nightclub named Lamborghini. This nightclub was located in the most prosperous area of Yinzhou. It was said to be full of people every night. There usually was a boss who spent a lot of money in it and opened a bottle of good wine worth tens of thousands of dollars. Of course, there were also many men and women who came here to hunt for partners.

The nightclub was filled with deafening music. Helen twisted her waist to the music, came to the bar and asked for a bottle of wine.

She didn't talk to Henry, picked up the glass and raised her head to drink. In a blink of an eye, she had already drunk three glasses of wine. Her face was slightly red and she was a little drunk.

"Henry, will you laugh at me for what happened today?" Helen heavily put the wine glass on the bar counter and filled it for herself again.

"Why laughing at you?" Henry asked in doubt.

"I am a policewoman, and my father is a criminal, haha." Helen raised her head again and drank another glass of wine.

"Oh," Henry responded with a calm expression and shook his head. "No, I will not."

"Do you know that I have always been at odds with him over the years?" Helen had drunk too much wine and it was easy for her to get tipsy. After drinking a few glasses in a row, she was shaking slightly. Suddenly, Helen leaned her body and fell into Henry's arms. She smiled at Henry, "But from today, I'm no longer gonna fight with him. Do you know, my dad has already given me the head position of Green Leaf? He told me that there were many ways to make Green leaf do good things. Green Leaf prohibited selling drugs and gambling in Yinzhou. The police would never be able to do anything like that!"

Henry nodded and poured himself a glass of wine. He looked at Helen in his arms, "I know what you mean, but what do you want to accomplish by lying in my arms?"

Chapter 67

"Let's indulge, haha." Helen squeezed into Henry's arms again. Her head was leaning on his chest. Her flat belly was less than ten centimeters away from Henry's hand. As long as Henry was willing, he could hug her slender waist at any time.

The music was playing in the nighthouse, with lights flashing.

"People in the police team all say that I, Helen Han, abhorred evil. Today, I became the leader of Yinzhou's underground society. You say, the first thing I should indulge in is to find a man, shouldn't I?" Helen twisted her waist, and the jade hands wrapped around Henry's neck, looking at him with blurred eyes.

"I have married." Henry picked up the glass and took a sip. "If you want to find a man, you shouldn't look for me. There are a lot of men in the world."

"I don't like others," Helen said, closed her eyes slightly, and kissed Henry.

Henry turned his head and avoided her red lips. At the same time, he pushed Helen away from his arms. "Captain Han, you have drunk too much."

Disappointment flashed across Helen's eyes. She shook her head and said, "Henry, how much do you love your wife?"

Henry answered without thinking, "She is everything to me."

"Because of money?"

"Do you think I'm short of money?" Henry grinned.

Helen snorted, "I don't care. No matter how much you love your wife, you have to drink with me today before you can leave! Waiter, two more bottles of wine!"

As the lights in the nightclub were flashing, neither Henry nor Helen noticed that someone was holding a camera and taking photos of them in a hidden corner.

The music was deafening, and they drank more and more glasses of wine.

The eyes of the people drinking the wine were getting more and more blurred.

.....

The next morning, the sun was shining.

Henry opened his eyes in a daze and felt that his arm was a little numb. He turned his head and looked at the exquisite face on his arm, which made him dazed.

Last night, he seemed to have f*cking drunk too much wine!

Henry slowly pulled back the quilt covering him, looked down at it, and sighed.

It seemed that he couldn't get away with this.

He closed his eyes and his mind was in a mess. How could he sleep with this female Tyrannosaurus?

As time passed slowly, Henry felt a chuckle in his ear. He looked sideways and found that Helen's eyes were wide open and she was looking at him.

"Well..." Henry smiled obsequiously. Just as he was about to say something, Helen opened her mouth.

"Don't talk nonsense. I will be responsible for you. Get up and put on clothes. I still have to go to work." Helen rolled her eyes.

"Oh." Henry stretched out his hand and scratched his head. He subconsciously looked at the quilt, where the spring light was endless.

"What are you looking at? Turn around. I'm going to put on my clothes! If you dare to provoke me, I'll tell your wife and compete with her!" Helen said fiercely.

Henry's face became bitter, and he turned his head honestly.

Looking at the obedient man beside her, a soft look flashed through Helen's eyes. At the same time, there was a trace of disappointment.

It was not until Helen put on her clothes that Henry had the opportunity to look around the whole house. He was not in a hotel, but in Helen's house.

It was a house with two bedrooms and one living room, totally 90 square meters. One bedroom was full of Helen's honor certificates. Henry took a look and found that all of them were obtained by Helen when she was in the police school.

"Don't look at it." Helen appeared behind Henry and tore off the honor certificates.

"You don't want them anymore?"

"The gang boss doesn't need these." Helen crumpled these certificates into a group and threw them away. "Well, I'll go to work first. You can have breakfast on your own."

Helen waved to Henry, opened the door and went out. Although she had tried her best to hide her discomfort, he could still see that there was something wrong with this woman's walking posture today.

He was shocked.

"Damn, this was the first time for this woman, wasn't it?"

Henry walked quickly to the bedroom and lifted the quilt. On the sheet, a few red dots were particularly eye-catching.

Seeing this scene, Henry sighed. This gave him a headache.

When Henry came out of Helen's house, it was ten o'clock in the morning. When he returned to the Luxury Village, it was almost noon.

When Henry saw the door of the house, he felt like he was on tenterhooks, as if a child had done something bad and was afraid of being discovered by adults.

After opening the door, he saw a woman sitting on the sofa.

"Hey, why didn't you come home at night?" Milan, who was wearing a sky blue pajamas, stretched herself. After glancing at Henry, she turned her gaze to the TV.

"Haha, it was a little late yesterday." Henry laughed dryly. On his way back, he gradually recalled what had happened last night.

Yesterday in the bar, Helen and he drank a total of seven bottles of foreign wine. Even for his capacity for wine, it was a lot. Facing a beauty like Helen, any man would do it. He was a normal man. After a few flirtations with Helen, they crossed the friendship border.

"Ha." Milan chuckled and didn't answer him. Milan knew Henry very well. He was a complete love liar who had even fooled the princess of the French royal family.

Henry also had a guilty conscience today. Seeing Milan's expression, he couldn't help but feel bored and slipped into his room in disgrace.

In the president's office of Lins Group.

Secretary Cathy Lee placed a stack of documents on Sylvia's desk. "President Lin, President Fong has agreed to our cooperation plan. We can sign today, but..."

"Say it." Sylvia kept tapping on the keyboard with her hands.

"It's still the same thing that happened last time. Many companies refused to cooperate with us. It's said that the top management of the group will change a lot in the near future, and the company's profit this month has dropped by four percent. The board's staff called several times and asked you for an explanation."

"No explanation." Sylvia continued typing on the keyboard. "It's still the same words as before. If you want to cooperate with me, I welcome you. If you don't want to, I, Sylvia Lin, won't beg anybody. As for the company's top management, it has nothing to do with them!"

"Mm. I got it, President Lin," Cathy said with a nod. "Then, President Lin, I'm going back to work."

Cathy bowed and left the office.

After Cathy left, Sylvia's fingers, which had been typing on the keyboard, stopped. She looked embarrassed. Although she pretended to be calm before Cathy, she knew very well how dangerous the situation was.

It was very obvious now that someone was making trouble for her. The chairman of the Lin family was not the one who controlled everything. In this position, she could be kicked off at any time.

Chapter 68

In the early stage, Robert Lin gave four juniors 5% of the shares each, and Sylvia took the position of chairman of Lins Group.

When Sylvia became the chairman of the board of directors, more than half of the board disagreed with her. They thought that she was just a little girl who hadn't grown up yet. She couldn't bring benefits to the Lins Group at all.

Robert made a proposal to give her three months. If she couldn't adapt to the position of chairman in three months, the new chairman would be elected by voting.

In terms of business, Sylvia had her own opinions and way of doing things. In the second month after she became the chairman, the company's benefits had reached a stable level. In the third month, there was an obvious improvement. So the members of the board approved Sylvia as the chairman.

After all, the chairman didn't have any influence on the members of the board. What they valued was whether the stock in their hands would be appreciated or not, whether the profit this year would be higher than last year.

However, all this had begun to change a few days ago.

A few days ago, the younger generation of the Lin family gathered in the Lins mansion. Master Lin even announced his inheritance distribution. He did not favor anyone too much. He distributed his Lins' shares equally to each younger generation. The chairman of the Lins was still Lin Yayan. After all, Robert Lin had seen the company's benefits in these years. It was the best choice to hand the Lins Group to Sylvia.

However, such a distribution made some people unhappy. Some rumors began to spread, which had a great impact on Lins Group. The cooperation between several enterprises ended, and Lins Group's benefits this month had been greatly reduced. If Henry had not helped Sylvia to get the cooperation rights of Mr. Fong, Lins Group's profit would have dropped more this month. If so, the board of directors would have the right to impeach the chairman.

At that time, even Robert could not protect Sylvia from leaving this position.

In the Lin family's mansion in Yinzhou City.

Many cars drove into the courtyard one after another. In the parking lot of the courtyard, Richard Wong had been waiting there for a long time.

Those luxury cars were parked in front of him. The driver got out and opened the door of the back seat. One person walked down from each car. They were dressed in formal clothes. If the staff of Lins Group were here, they would recognize that these people who got out of the luxury cars were the board members of Lins Group.

Richard Wong looked at these people in front of him with a smile and said, "Uncles, for the future of Lins Group, please talk with the old master openly today."

"Master Wong, you are too polite. This is for our interests. Let's talk to the old master," a middle-aged man said, and the rest of the people also nodded.

Under Richard Wong's leadership, the group of people walked towards the main house of the Lin family's courtyard.

In Luxury Village, Yinzhou

Henry took a rag and wiped the floor, but he felt panic in his heart.

Milan glanced at Henry from time to time. She opened her mouth several times but didn't say anything. When looking at Henry again, she finally couldn't help but say, "Henry, how well do you know the physical treatment of traditional Chinese medicine?"

Henry thought for a moment and said, "I've mastered everything I need to know."

"Point acupuncture?" Milan did not think Henry was bragging. After the massage last time, she saw Henry's technique.

"I can do that," Henry answered with no doubt. "Point acupuncture is the most basic part."

"That's strange." Milan let out a puzzled voice.

"What's so strange?" Henry asked.

"By logic, you know about the physical treatment of traditional Chinese medicine, so I think it's not necessary for Sylvia to look for doctors outside."

"A doctor?" Henry's face suddenly became nervous. "What's wrong with my wife?"

"It's not your wife. It's her grandfather. Don't you know?" Milan looked at Henry in surprise.

"I don't know." Henry shook his head with a suspicious look. "What's wrong?"

"Hey." Milan sighed. "Sylvia's grandfather had been seriously ill for years and couldn't be cured. In the past few years, she had been looking for doctors everywhere. In fact, I think you should go to see it. If you can cure Sylvia's grandfather, she won't be so tired now."

"What happened?" Henry put away the rag and got up from the ground.

As for the Lin family and Lins Group, Henry hadn't inquired much. He could only see that Richard had been fighting openly and secretly. But he didn't know anything about the specific situation. As for Sylvia's grandfather, Henry hadn't heard about him from her.

Milan picked up the remote control and turned off the TV. The room became much quieter.

"Henry, you should know that the Lin family has only one successor in the generation of Sylvia's father. Since Sylvia is a daughter, someone has been coveted Mr. Lin's property."

"Yes," Henry nodded. He could tell that.

"Now, Master Lin is seriously ill, and he has already announced his will to give his property to them. The president of Lins Group is still Sylvia. However, she is likely to be kicked out of the president position at any time." Speaking of this, Milan's eyes were full of loss.

"Why?"

"Because of an agreement," Milan took a sip of water, organized her words and continued. "When Sylvia was the president, Master Lin made an agreement with the board of directors that if the loss was more than 10% during Sylvia's service, Lins Group would remove her from president's position and jointly elected a new president at the same time. Now, someone deliberately hurt her. Many companies that had cooperation relations with her before had unilaterally terminated their cooperation. The loss of Lins Group has reached four percent. If there is no miracle, the loss will be more than 10% in a few days. At that time, the president of Lins Group should be changed."

"What does this have to do with the grandfather?" Henry asked.

"I'm afraid you still don't know the position of the old master in the business circle in Yinzhou. Now those people dare to covet the Lins Group because they think that the old master doesn't have much time left. Once the old master recovers, who dares to be a little disrespectful to the Lins Group? The difficulties that Sylvia is facing will be solved easily."

"Okay, tell me the address. I'll go now." Henry put down the rag on the spot without any hesitation. He would do anything unconditionally that could benefit Sylvia.

"The Lin Family's mansion, even the taxi drivers know about it. Just go in and tell them your identity."

"Okay." Henry nodded, wearing his beach pants with a white tank top, went out of the door, and took a taxi to the mansion of the Lin family.

Looking at Henry leaving, Milan took a deep breath and said, "Sylvia, I don't know if it was good or bad that you met this person."

Chapter 69

In the main house of the Lin Family's mansion.

Master Lin, dressed in a purplish red Tang suit, was sitting in a wheelchair, listening quietly to the report of the person in front of him. He looked a little dispirited, his eyebrows knitted together.

"Grandpa, you have to take care of it. If I hadn't intercepted this time, and it fell into the hands of the media, the stocks of the Lins Group would have shrunk greatly!"

Richard Wong angrily took out a stack of photos and put it in front of Robert Lin. These photos of Henry were secretly taken. Shots were taken from a special angle, which made people feel that the actions of Henry and those women were very ambiguous from the photo.

However, these photos did not capture Henry's face, only his back.

"Grandpa, this is the son-in-law of my third uncle. He spent the money of the Lin family for nothing and indulged himself in the outside world. If these photos are taken by the media, the Lin family will lose respect."

One of the shareholders said, "Chairman, thanks to Master Wong this time, otherwise, the stocks of the Lins Group would be greatly affected. Now the Lins Group is on the top of the storm and there are so many companies eyeing it. If there is really a scandal, it will not be a small problem."

In Lins Group, the chairman was still Robert Lin, while Sylvia was only the president, so there was a fundamental difference between them.

A lawyer-like middle-aged man with a pair of gold-rimmed glasses took out a document and said, "Chairman, if Master Wong hadn't intercepted these photos, the current president of the Lins Group would have lost more than 10 percent because of him. According to the original agreement, we should choose a new president in the members of the group."

"Yes, Chairman, there are many companies that have been working with us before, and now they have unilaterally terminated their cooperation with us. You have not paid attention to the enterprise during this period. The profit of Lins Group in this month has reduced by several percentage points. According to the estimation, it will continue to expand in the next month. Now, Mrs. Lin's husband has made such trouble. If you let it go, the leading position of Lins Group in Yinzhou will be replaced by Chow's Group sooner or later!"

Robert looked at these photos with a gloomy face. The things in the photos made him so angry that he trembled all over.

Robert had not learned much about his granddaughter's husband before. As a result, what he heard today was exactly this news!

"What a playboy! How dare he act so absurdly! He doesn't even care about Lins!"

"Go and call Sylvia. I also want to see the husband she found. I want to know what role he plays to ignore our Lin family!" Robert slapped heavily on the wheelchair. His majestic face made the board members not dare to look straight at him.

Seeing Robert's anger rising, Richard was delighted.

"Henry, you'll suffer this time! Aren't you arrogant? I'll see if you could be arrogant again."

A group of people stood in the main house. When they felt Robert's anger, they didn't even dare to breathe.

Although Robert had already withdrawn from the business circle for several years, his dignity was still there. After all, it was Robert Lin who took the lead to make a name for himself in the business circle of Yinzhou. As long as he was alive, he was the big brother of the business circle of Yinzhou.

At this moment, Robert's housekeeper walked into the main house.

"Master, there is a young man outside who wants to see you."

"Young man?" Robert asked doubtfully.

"Yes, he said that he was the husband of Sylvia."

"Hmm?" Anger suddenly rose from Robert's eyebrows. "He came to see me? Okay, let him come! Richard, you and others go to another room and rest first."

"Okay." Richard nodded repeatedly and felt very happy. "Henry, Henry, you're really looking for death!"

Although Richard didn't know why Henry came to Robert, he knew that no matter what it was, he would be doomed today.

Lins Group.

Sylvia sat in the office and looked through the documents that Cathy brought her one by one. The data about losses gave her a headache.

The landline phone in the office suddenly rang, and a trace of suspicion flashed across Sylvia's face. Only people from the Lin Family's mansion could get through this landline.

"Could it be that Grandpa is in trouble?"

Sylvia panicked. She couldn't care about her work and quickly picked up the phone.

"Miss, the master asked you to come to the mansion."

"Okay." Sylvia did not hesitate. She immediately got up and walked out of the company.

As soon as she arrived at the first floor, Sylvia saw Milan standing here.

"Sylvia, I was about to go upstairs to look for you." Milan was wearing a sky blue sportswear and her face was full of joy.

"What's wrong, Milan?" Sylvia asked.

"Let's go to the mansion to visit your grandpa. Haha." Milan laughed loudly. "There's really something good going on today!"

"What's the good thing?" Sylvia felt strange. Was this about the phone call from the mansion just now?

Milan grabbed Sylvia's wrist and said, "Go. Let's talk on the way."

With a puzzled look, Sylvia was pulled into the car by Milan.

The fiery red Mercedes-Benz ran on the streets of Yinzhou.

"Milan, don't pretend to be mysterious. Tell me, what's going on?"

"Your grandfather's illness will be cured!" Milan proudly raised her head. "How about that? This is good news, isn't it? Let me tell you something. I'm the one who found the doctor!"

"Really?" Sylvia's beautiful face showed a look of joy, and her heart began to beat faster. "Milan, you really helped our family a lot! Where did you find the doctor?"

"I found it in your house." Milan reached out and pointed at Sylvia.

"My house?"

"Yeah, Sylvia. Henry gave you a massage last time. It is a kind of physical therapy of traditional Chinese medicine. This method can also cure old master's illness. Hey hey, he didn't know the old master's condition before. I told him today, and he went to the mansion."

"What?" Sylvia's voice suddenly raised by eight degrees, and the Mercedes-Benz, which was running at full speed, made a harsh friction sound. It stopped abruptly on the road. Fortunately, there were few cars on the road, otherwise, it would probably cause traffic accidents.

This sudden situation gave her a fright. She clutched the right-hand armrest on her head and asked, "Sylvia, why are you so excited?"

Sylvia turned her head and stared at Milan, "You said Henry went to treat grandpa?"

"That's right." Milan nodded.

"This!" Sylvia suddenly looked anxious. She knew that Henry didn't understand the physical treatment of traditional Chinese medicine, but what he can do was just the ordinary massage of acupuncture points. How could he treat grandpa? The call from the mansion just now meant that Henry did get into trouble, didn't he?

"Sylvia, what's wrong with you?" Milan looked at Sylvia strangely.

"I... I don't know how to explain it to you. Let's go to the mansion first!" Sylvia stepped on the gas pedal. The car roared and rushed towards the mansion of the Lin family.

Chapter 70

Looking at the large mansion with hills and rivers in front of him, Henry roughly understood Sylvia's grandfather's position in Yinzhou.

It was impossible to own such a mansion in Yinzhou with only money. If he showed off in such a way, he must have a high status.

Henry followed the butler, walking on the main road. On both sides of the road, green willows formed shade and flowers bloomed.

Outside the main house of the courtyard, Henry saw a familiar face.

With a sneer, Richard looked at Henry, "Mr. Zhang, is this mansion of the Lin family a place where people like you can come at will?"

Henry clenched his fist, "If you don't want to be beaten, stop talking."

Richard was stunned and then snorted, "Continue to be arrogant. I'd like to see how arrogant you can be after coming out of the main house."

Henry wondered why Richard said such words. Would he be kicked out of the house after seeing Master Lin? He ignored Richard and followed the housekeeper to the main house.

In the main house, Robert was sitting in a wheelchair, with his back to the door. He held a cup of tea in his hand and gently blew into the bowl.

"Master, he's here." The butler's voice sounded at the door.

"Let him in," Robert said without looking back.

At the door, the housekeeper made a gesture of invitation to Henry.

Henry nodded and walked into the house, "Grandpa, I'm Henry, Sylvia's husband."

Henry's tone was very polite.

"Humph! Henry?" Robert was unpleasant. He still did not turn around and said with his back to Henry, "You have married into my Lin family for a long time, but you just came to visit today. You don't care about me, Robert Lin, right?"

"I don't dare to." Henry shook his head repeatedly. It was because Robert was Sylvia's grandfather, otherwise Henry would not have put on such an attitude.

"You don't dare to? What else do you dare not to do?" Robert's voice was full of sarcasm. "In your eyes, is there any of our Lin family?"

Henry frowned. He looked at Robert's back and said, "I don't understand what you mean."

"Well, I don't have time to play games with you. Just take a look by yourself!" Robert raised his hand. Immediately, countless photos scattered like the petals, and then fell at Henry's feet.

With Henry's eyesight, he could see the picture without picking them up. There were two women close to him on the photo. One was the red-haired beauty he met in the private club that day, and the other was Helen at the nightclub last night.

The moment Henry saw these photos, he knew that someone was making trouble for him.

Henry frowned more tightly, "Where did you get these photos?"

Robert did not answer Henry's question. "Young man, although our Lin family is not prominent in Yinzhou, we cannot be bullied by others. As the son-in-law of the Lin family, you cannot be a playboy outside. What do you treat our Lin family as?"

As Robert finished his words, he heavily threw the teacup in his hand to the ground.

With a crack, the teacup broke into pieces. The tea was spilled all over the floor with steam.

Richard, who was not far from the main house, couldn't hide the smile on his face when hearing the sound. He said proudly in his heart, "Henry, I'll see how you end up. You're too young to fight with me!"

Inside the room.

Robert put his hands on the wheelchair. With a little force, the wheelchair was turned around. He finally saw the son-in-law who had not met him for a long time but made him very angry.

It was just this glance that made Robert a little stunned.

Since the last farewell in the park, Robert had kept Henry's appearance in mind. He was a peerless figure who had the title of The Conqueror in the global medical field. He was also one of the few people in the world who could save his life.

Robert had heard from his old friend that The Conqueror saved people not for money, but for destiny. He had been looking forward to meeting him again. After all, no one was willing to die if they could live.

But Robert was getting disappointed. During this period, he went to the park in the suburbs every day, but he had never seen the legendary character again.

Gradually he lost hope. He thought, "That's right. If The Conqueror is so easy to meet, then the title will not be so valuable and there will not be so many people who will do everything just to meet him."

But Robert did not expect that he would meet the The Conqueror again, and that he would meet him as his grandson-in-law.

The Conqueror, who was famous all over the world, was his grandson-in-law! He even married into his family! Robert could not believe this was real.

This...

Looking at Henry, Robert opened his mouth but couldn't say a word.

Robert was stunned when he saw Henry; and Henry was also a little stunned when he saw Robert, "Isn't he the person I saw in the suburb park that day? We chatted happily. I didn't expect that he is Sylvia's grandfather. Isn't he my grandfather?"

This...

The old man and the young man looked at each other, but neither of them spoke first, which made the atmosphere a little awkward.

"Well..." Robert coughed dryly twice, "Henry, you're Sylvia's husband, so let's talk as a family. Sit down. Sit down first."

Robert made a gesture of invitation.

Henry smiled and didn't dare to disrespect him. He sat down on the chair next to him and said, "Grandpa, I didn't expect that the fate is like this."

It was the first time for The Conqueror to take the initiative to speak of fate. If those who were willing to pay more than one billion to ask Henry for help heard it, they would probably vomit blood out of anger.

"Haha," Robert laughed straightforward. "I really didn't expect that The Conqueror is my grandson-in-law."

"Grandpa, it's okay to just call me Henry. The Conqueror is called by others." Henry looked a little embarrassed. His words brought him and Robert closer together.

Robert nodded, "Okay, I'll just call you Henry."

"Okay, Okay." Henry nodded repeatedly.

"Henry, you..." Robert looked at the photos on the ground awkwardly. "Tell me, is the person in this photo you?"

"Yes," Henry nodded without hesitation. "But the photos are taken from a special angle. The fact is not what you see."

Hearing Henry's words, Robert breathed a sigh of relief. He did not think that Henry was lying to him because there was no need. Why would he lie to him? For money? What a joke! Would The Conqueror be short of money? Would he be greedy for the Lin family's small assets? For his granddaughter? That was even more impossible. His granddaughter was extremely beautiful, but there were so many beauties in the world. With the identity of The Conqueror, he could have any woman he wanted.
