

Chapter 71

While Robert breathed a sigh of relief, he also felt a little cold in his heart. Since Henry said that what was shown in the photo was just taken from a special angle, which meant that his grandson deliberately deceived him. What was his purpose? Robert only thought about it for a little while and saw it clearly!

"Ah." Robert sighed. "Henry, I'm old, and my mind has become dull. Sometimes I do something stupid, which makes you laugh at me."

"Grandpa, what are you talking about?" Henry waved his hand and said indifferently.

Robert smiled and said, "Henry, did you come here today because of these photos?"

"No." Henry shook his head. "I came here for your illness."

"My illness!" Robert's heart started beating fast.

Just now, although he knew that legendary The Conqueror was his grandson-in-law, but Robert did not have confidence in Henry's willingness to help him. But now, after hearing Henry's words, he could not help but be excited.

"Yes." Henry stood up from his seat. "Grandpa, I came in a hurry this time. Do you have silver needles?"

"Yes, in the inner room." Robert nodded. After so many years of illness, the family had invited a lot of doctors. They also had a set of silver needles. It was placed in the inner room.

After Robert said that, he pushed the wheelchair and went to the inner room.

"Grandpa, only the two of us are here. You don't have to sit in a wheelchair. Get up and walk around. Anyway, after today, you can announce to everyone that you have recovered." Henry smiled.

Robert stopped pushing the wheelchair. After a few seconds, he stood up carefully from the wheelchair. For so many years, he had been pretending. He had forgotten that he could walk.

Back then, Robert had found out that his heart had been damaged. Not long after, he wanted to hand over the Lin family to the younger generation. But he was afraid that after he announced that his life will end soon, the Lin family would be coveted by others, so he came up with a way to announce to the public that his legs were paralyzed. In this way, not only could he hand over the Lin family, but his reputation would also be able to suppress the young men and rascals.

Year after year, Robert was relieved to see that Lin's family was getting better and better under the leadership of Sylvia. At the same time, his heart started getting weaker in recent years. He obviously felt that he was running out of time, so he announced the inheritance distribution.

In Robert's eyes, there was no distinction between a man and a woman, no distinction between a grandson and a granddaughter. He divided all his assets equally, but he didn't expect that his juniors would try their best for the sake of Lin's family. If today, the son-in-law of Lin's family was not Henry, but someone else, Robert could imagine what he would do. He would have dismissed Sylvia from the position of president and sent to the board of directors to re-tray the election. In the end, Lin's family would be ruined by him.

Thinking of this, Robert could not help but look at Henry. The fate that The Conqueror had mentioned did exist. Not only did he save himself, but he also saved the whole Lins Group!

A fiery red Mercedes-Benz couple drove into the mansion of the Lin family. Sylvia took hurried steps from the parking lot to the main house.

Standing in front of the main house, Richard, who was full of joy, smiled more happily when he saw Sylvia. "Hey, isn't this President Lin of our Lin's Group?"

Sylvia glanced at Richard and the people around him. When she saw those board members, she did not say a word.

Those board members slightly avoided Sylvia's eyes.

Sylvia took a look at the watch on her wrist and said, "Richard, you shouldn't be here at this point because of the company's work plan, right?"

"Tsk!" Richard glanced at her disdainfully. "I say, President Lin, since you have time to interrogate me here, you'd better go in and see what your good husband has done!"

What had Henry done?

Sylvia's heart tightened. She didn't have the mood to talk to Richard, so she quickly walked to the door of the main house.

"Oh, by the way, President Lin!" Richard shouted behind Sylvia, "If you can't sit in your position as president, you should give up your position quickly, hahahaha!"

Sylvia walked to the door of the main house and knocked on the door.

"Sir, Sylvia is here." The housekeeper stood in front of the door and reported to the inside.

Sylvia stood at the door with a nervous face. She was really worried that Henry would do something outrageous.

In the main room, no one answered for a long time.

Sylvia's heart was in her throat.

"Sir?" The housekeeper knocked on the door again.

"Let Sylvia in." Robert's weak voice came out of the room.

Sylvia thought to herself, "Oh no." Then she pushed the door open and walked in.

Outside the room, Richard smiled particularly happily.

"Master Wong, it seems that the result of this matter has been decided." A member of the board of directors said with a sinister smile.

"Yes, Uncle Zhao, don't worry. When I take the position of president, I will give you a lot of benefits. This big Lins Group, let us split it!" Richard smiled and said.

"It's all up to you, Master Wong." Uncle Zhao's eyes lit up.

Richard sneered and said to himself, "Sylvia, do you think you can beat me with your husband and you? You're far from that!"

"Master Wong, when will the meeting be arranged?" The middle-aged man, who looked like a lawyer, asked Richard.

Richard for a moment and replied, "Let's do it today. Today, we impeach Sylvia's position as president and sell all your shares at the same time. We'll use this Lins Group to make the last fortune. This is enough for us all to not worry about eating and drinking for the rest of our lives!"

A fierce look flashed in Richard's eyes. He didn't care about the future of Lins Group. He didn't care about the existence of Lins Group. He didn't care about whether the employees of Lins Group were alive or dead. From the beginning, he didn't want to keep Lins Group. What he needed to do was to make money.

Richard's plan was very simple. After he successfully impeach Sylvia, he would have votes from the group of board members and successfully become the president of Lins Group. At this time, he would make several decisions and draw so many board members and other company bosses to cooperate with him. He would sign an unfair contract with them.

For example, Lins development of real estate, all the income would be given to the other party. In this way, he would take out all the foundation of the Lins Group, and then he would divide the profits with the other party. After signing these contracts, Richard and the board members would abandon all the shares in their hands. By that time, the bankruptcy of the Lins Group and the loan of money would have nothing to do with him.

At present, the market value of Lins Group was about two billion yuan. Richard could make use of the high market value of Lins Group to gain a lot of personal gain for himself. After that, he would leave with a lot of money to enjoy the rest of his life.

The middle-aged man, who looked like a lawyer, nodded and began to make a phone call. He called the board of directors one by one to prepare for today's meeting.

Chapter 72

Sylvia pushed the door and walked into the house. There was no one in the hall of the main house, only a wheelchair, which was left alone in the hall.

"Grandpa?" Sylvia tentatively called him.

"Come in." Robert's weak voice sounded in the inner room.

Sylvia had a bad feeling in her heart, so she quickened her pace and walked toward the inner room.

When Sylvia walked to the door of the inner room, she could clearly see that Robert was lying on the bed without moving and his tone was very weak.

As for Henry, he was sitting by the bed as well.

"Sylvia, you're here. Come here." Robert's voice was very low.

Sylvia was not in the mood to scold Henry, so she walked to the bed with concern.

"Grandpa, I told you not to talk!" Henry said.

"I can't help it." Robert smiled slightly.

"Don't smile!" Henry reminded him again.

"Henry, why are you yelling? How could you..." Sylvia couldn't help but open her mouth, but she stopped talking. She saw that Robert was lying on the bed, wearing a mask.

"I told you that when you were applying the mask, you laughed too hard and your face was moving, so the mask was useless. Why don't you listen to me?" Henry said with a look of exasperation.

Sylvia couldn't believe what was happening in front of her.

"Grandpa, you are..."

Robert pointed to his face and said, "Ah, this, Henry said my skin was poor and asked me to apply a facial mask every day."

Henry looked at his mobile phone and said, "Okay, 15 minutes have passed. It's time to take it off."

"Oh, don't say that. This mask is really cool and comfortable." Robert took off the mask, twisted his body, got out of bed, and ran to the bathroom to wash his face.

Sylvia looked at Henry with a strange face. "You came here to teach my grandfather how apply a facial mask?"

"Yes." Henry nodded and said, "When you are old, you have to enjoy it. Who said that only women can apply a facial mask?"

"I said you were too boring... No!" Sylvia suddenly opened her eyes wide and looked at the bathroom with incredible eyes. At the same time, her body was also trembling slightly. "My grandpa... he can walk?"

"Yes." Henry nodded. "Grandpa just had blocked the nerves in his legs, which was not a real paralysis. He could feel his legs, but he couldn't stand up. With just a little massage, he can stand up now."

Henry's words were a lie. Robert had heart issues. It was just that Robert asked Henry not to tell anybody about it.

"You, you really cured grandpa?" Looking at the man in front of her, Sylvia was shocked.

She had looked for many doctors for her grandfather's illness, but none of them had the ability to cure him. She had never thought that her husband, who had been working at home for a month, could be the one to cure him.

"Pah, bah, bah, what a husband!"

Sylvia's face was slightly red.

"In fact, it's not difficult. Grandpa's body is still strong. By the way, why are you here?"

"I'm not..." Sylvia stopped talking. She had been worried about what Henry would do, but now she found that it was not a mess. It was a great favor.

Robert quickly washed up and returned to the inner room. He looked at the man and the woman in the inner room, and his eyes were full of satisfaction. They were really a perfect match. His granddaughter had found The Conqueror and made him his grandson-in-law. Amazing, really amazing!

"Grandpa, are you really all right?" As soon as Sylvia saw Robert coming out, she couldn't wait to run to him and looked him up and down.

"It's all right, it's all thanks to Henry. Look at me, I can jump and jump now. It's not a problem to live another ten years, haha." Robert clapped his chest and laughed.

Looking at her grandfather's simple and energetic appearance, Sylvia's face was full of a happiness, and the two of them were chatting happily.

After chatting for a while, Robert put on a serious look and said, "Sylvia, I have something to tell you now. Listen carefully."

"I'll go out to get some fresh air," Henry said. Without waiting for Robert to speak, he walked out of the main house.

Richard and others had been waiting at the door of the main house, looking forward to seeing Henry.

When they saw Henry's gloomy face coming out of the main room, these people all showed a satisfied look. It seemed that Master Lin had already punished him.

"Hey, isn't this the son-in-law of our Lin family? Why are you so unhappy?" Richard curled his lips and came up to ridicule him.

Henry didn't say a word. He lowered his head and walked past Richard.

Seeing Henry's reaction, Richard felt prouder in his heart.

Milan had been waiting in the parking lot for a long time. When she saw Henry, she rushed up and asked him whether Robert is cured.

"He's cured. I have to go now." Henry said goodbye to Milan. After that, he walked out of the Lin's mansion.

Milan heaved a sigh of relief, while at the same time, she was happy for his good friend.

About half an hour after Henry left, the door of the main house opened again. Sylvia came out of the house with a cold face. Her face was so ugly that Robert must have told her what had happened before.

Although Sylvia knew that Richard coveted Lins Group, she didn't expect that he would use such a despicable method to frame Henry on purpose, letting Lins Group produce negative news, suppressing the stock price, and using the original agreement to impeach the position of president.

As soon as Sylvia walked out of the door, she saw the smiles on the faces of Richard and others. The faces of these people made her sick. She just glanced at them, and Sylvia turned her head and walked to the parking lot without saying hello.

Seeing Henry and Sylvia leave, Richard rushed to the front of the main house and said, "Grandpa, the members of the board of directors propose to hold a meeting today. Do you have any opinions?"

"Hold a meeting today. Our Lin family can't have so many scums. It's time to get rid of them." Robert sat in a wheelchair and slowly appeared outside the main room.

Robert's words made Richard happier. He didn't know who Robert was referring to.

Sylvia went to the parking lot and drove Milan out of the Lin's mansion.

Sylvia didn't say a word all the way.

"Hold on, hold on! If you're happy, laugh!" Milan curled her lips as she sat in the passenger seat.

Sylvia couldn't help but burst into laughter.

"Milan, how did you know Henry could save my grandfather?" Sylvia asked in confusion.

"I wanted to ask you a question as well. Didn't you know that your husband knows how to massage? Why didn't you let your husband come and treat your grandfather?"

Sylvia answered with some embarrassment, "I didn't know that he had ability to do that. I thought he only knew how to massage."

"My God," Mulan said, covering her forehead. "Your mind really is full of business!"

Chapter 73

The car was on the way.

Milan put on a lazy posture and leaned against the passenger seat comfortably.

"Sylvia, I don't know how to scold you. Your husband has such a strong medical skill, and you have been thinking it's an ordinary massage all this time!"

Sylvia's beautiful eyes were full of grievances. "I didn't know how powerful he is."

"The physical treatment of traditional Chinese medicine is the best treatment in the field of traditional Chinese medicine. In particular, Henry's massage can greatly stimulate the effect of the acupuncture points. Ordinary people can't do that. But you just thought it was ordinary massage and let him massage your feet. If those old doctors of Chinese medicine knew it, they would be very angry at you!"

Sylvia blushed and murmured in her heart, "Henry, it's all your fault! You made me embarrassed here!"

Eventhough she was blaming him, but Sylvia was still wondering how he could have done this. No, she had to ask him. If he was as powerful as what Milan had said, he could be a doctor in any hospital.

Sylvia was driving when she received a phone call from her secretary, Cathy Lee. Cathy told Sylvia that the directors of the company jointly proposed to hold a board meeting.

When Sylvia arrived to the conference hall of Lins Group, the conference hall was already full of people.

Sylvia's two cousins, Richard Wong and Channing Lin were sitting in the top seats. The major shareholders of the Lins Group had all arrived. The chief lawyer of the Lins Group stood in the conference hall with a piece of paper in his hand.

Sylvia looked at the scene in front of her and chuckled. "All of you are here? Let's get started."

She went to the president's seat and sat down.

The board members looked back and forth, and one of them took the lead to speak.

"According to statistics, Lins Group profit this month..."

Not far from the highway of Yinzhou, there was a large industrial park. In the past two years, business had been in a bad state. Many factories had been closed down, and only some abandoned machines were left in the factory. From time to time, there were some scavengers, and almost all the things that could be demolished were almost torn down.

In a dilapidated factory, screams came from time to time.

Ben Song's upper body was bare and his legs were tied to a chain and hung in the air.

A handsome young man with sunglasses was lying leisurely on a wooden rocking chair. Looking at Ben, whose face was purple and hair was messy, he made a phone call and said, "Boss, what to do with him? Do you want me to hang him alive?"

Henry was in the mall. While trying his suit, he picked up the phone. "He was trying to ruin my relationship with Sylvia. By the way, did you catch the photographer?"

"We've already sent someone to get him. We'll bring him here soon."

"Okay, hang them both." Henry hung up the phone, his tone was pretty relaxed.

For Henry, he was not afraid of causing trouble, nor would he take the initiative to provoke others. However, anyone who dared to do something harmful to Sylvia would have to face his thunderous means.

Henry kept trying his suit in front of the mall counter. His strong figure matched his handsome appearance, and the salesgirls' faces were all red.

"Okay, I'll have this one."

Henry looked at the suit on his body and smiled with satisfaction. Although it was not as good as the suit he wore when he went to the Cheng family, and was not as delicate in details, Henry thought that it was impossible for him to wear clothes tailored by the top designer of the world when he went to work in the Lin family.

Yes, Henry was going to work in Lins Group. This was the result of the discussion between him and Robert.

Henry felt a little happy when he thought that he would not only see Sylvia at home every day, but also at work.

In the conference room of Lins Group.

"According to the contract, if Mrs. Lin loses more than 10% of the company while she is in the position of president, the board of directors will have the right to impeach her. According to statistics, the loss of Lins Group has reached five percent now. Because of Sylvia's personal reasons, the loss of the group will continue to increase. The board of directors has decided to jointly discuss the position of president Lin in today's meeting."

"According to the contract, if more than half of the shareholders agree replace Sylvia Lin, she will automatically resign from the president position and the vote will start."

The chief lawyer of Lins group, Lawyer Hu, read the contract in his hand.

Richard sat in his seat, not trying to hide the smile on his face.

"I agree to remove Sylvia from president's position." A board member sitting next to Richard was the first to stand up. "When Sylvia Lin was in the position of president, she caused a great loss in the company. The loss will directly affect the interests of employees. We can't delay it."

"Me too."

"I agree."

"Agree."

There were a total of 13 members in the board of directors of Lins Group. In a twinkling of an eye, four of them agreed to dismiss Sylvia. If adding Richard, there were five of them.

Sylvia kept a smile on her face and did not show any anger. She turned her eyes to other board members.

The rest of them looked back and forth at each other and smiled apologetically at Sylvia.

"Agree."

"Agree."

In a twinkling of an eye, together with Richard, there were seven board members who agreed to remove Sylvia.

The remaining few people, although they did not express their opinions, were no longer important. No matter what kind of decision they made, Sylvia would not be able to keep her president's position.

Lawyer Hu nodded and said, "According to the contract, more than half of the board members have agreed to dismiss Miss Sylvia, and the contract will take effect immediately. Next, the board members will vote for the new president. With more than half of the votes, you can choose right away."

Richard tidied up the collar of his shirt, cleared his throat, stood up, and said, "Hey, Sylvia. Now, you can get up from that position."

Sylvia smiled and got up. She gave Richard the seat with the president's name on it and said, "Please."

With a snort, Richard swaggered to the position of president and sat down.

At the moment when Richard was seated, all the members who had just agreed to remove Sylvia, all voted and elected Richard to be the president of Lins Group.

At the same time, lawyer Hu also announced that Richard Wong is appointed as president of Lins Group!

Sylvia didn't stay. She strode out of the meeting room, leaving others in the hall.

At four o'clock in the afternoon, Richard sat in the large president's office, looking down at the crowd below through the huge window.

It had been two hours since he became the president.

In two hours, Richard almost completed half of his plan and signed uneven contracts with several companies.

For example, during the development of a real estate project, Lins Group would have to pay for all the land purchase and building expenses, and all the sales rights would be handed over to the G&A Engineering Company. Such a contract was signed openly and used this method to empty the Lins Group.

And Richard, on the other hand, could get 30% of the profit of the pure engineering project this time.

Chapter 74

Richard stood in front of the huge floor-to-ceiling windows with a glass of red wine in his hand and his face full of enjoyment.

"Sylvia, do you know how long it has been since I wanted to sit in this position? From today on, everything will be lost. This Lins Group will slowly become cash and fall into my pocket, hahahaha!"

Richard turned around and glanced at the contract on the desk. Once these things begin, the whole Lin family would collapse completely!

Richard enjoyed everything that he had right now, thinking about his future life.

At 5:30 p.m., the secretary, Marry Lee, knocked on the door of the president's office and walked in.

"What's going on?" Richard frowned and looked at Marry, who appeared in front of the door. "You don't know the rules at all. Who thought you such a bad habit?"

"Mr. Wong, these contracts are sent from the finance department. There are a lot of problems." Marry held a stack of contract copies in her hand. The content was exactly the same as those on Richard's desk. "These contracts are like gifting company's money away. If this goes on, the company will lose more than a billion yuan. Once it is completed, it will face the crisis of bankruptcy."

"Is this what you should care about?" Richard crossed his legs and lay on the boss chair. "You're just a secretary. The company won't suffer losses. As a president, I know about it. You don't need to worry about it. You've been fired. Get out of here!"

Richard waved at Marry impatiently.

Marry took a deep breath and left the president's office without saying anything.

Richard looked at the door of the office with a sneer and lit a cigarette for himself.

Before he took a few puffs of his cigarette, the office door was pushed open again.

Richard frowned and looked at Marry, who was standing in front of the office door. "What? Didn't you understand me? Didn't you hear me when I said you are fired?"

With a cold look on her face, Marry Lee said, "Mr. Wong, I haven't been officially dismissed yet, so I am still working for you. I'm here to inform you that the chairman is going to hold an emergency meeting of directors, and you need to attend."

After saying that, Marry turned around and left without waiting for Richard's reply.

Richard was confused. An emergency meeting of directors? The chairman? He straightened his clothes and walked to the conference hall.

By the time Richard arrived, all the board members had arrived.

Couple of hours ago, the president's name plate was placed in the main seat of the conference hall, but now, the president's name plate was placed on the side seat. In front of the main seat, there was the word "Chairman".

"Mr. Wong, what's the matter? Why did the chairman come?"

Someone asked in a low voice as soon as Richard arrived.

"I don't know." Richard shook his head and sat down in the president's seat.

In the conference hall, a group of directors were whispering.

"The chairman hasn't been to the company for many years. Why did he suddenly come today?"

"It's because of the president's replacement, isn't it?"

"Hey, he's here. How come there is no trace of Sylvia?"
A man searched around with his eyes.

"If you have just been dismissed from the position of president, will you still participate in the board meeting?" One of the directors rolled his eyes. "In my opinion, she is too ashamed to come here."

A group of people were bustling and talking.

With a bang, the door of the conference room was opened from the outside.

This sound attracted the attention of almost everyone in the conference room.

Sylvia, dressed in a decent black uniform, walked in from the door of the meeting room.

"Is she really here?"

"That's so brave. If I were her, I would have gone home and cried."

Several board members who stood in the united front with Richard said. Their voices were undisguised. One of them even pulled aside the empty chairs next to him. In this way, Sylvia had no place to sit. The board members wanted to embarrass her.

Richard leaned against the seat and looked at Sylvia as if he were watching a show. He was ready to wait for her to make a fool of herself.

The reality had disappointed them.

Sylvia didn't even look at the chair and walked toward the president's seat.

When Henry saw Sylvia walking towards him, he sneered and said, "Hey, Sylvia, have you forgotten that this position is not yours now?"

Sylvia stopped in front of Richard and said, "Who told you that I'm going to sit in the position of president?"

The moment Sylvia finished speaking, she pulled the chair meant for chairman and sat down under the surprised gaze of everyone in the conference room!

At this moment, Richard jumped up like a cat whose tail had been stepped on. He shouted, "Sylvia, what are you doing? Is this where you are sitting?"

"Ha, ha." Sylvia chuckled. She took out a document and threw it on the table. "Richard, it's unfortunate for you, but this is my position."

In the conference room, almost everyone could see clearly the words on the documents.

Equity Transfer Agreement

The three words were deeply imprinted in front of their eyes.

At the same time, the door of the conference room was open again, and Robert Lin, who was wearing a formal suit, came in.

"Chairman!" At the moment when a board member saw Robert, he stood straight and greeted him.

"Chairman, you can... walk..." Someone's hands were trembling, and his voice was full of incredulity.

"Grandpa, you!" Richard widened his eyes and looked at Robert. At this moment, he felt a little nervous.

Robert was at the door of the conference room. He glanced around and laughed brightly. "Everyone, I'm no longer the chairman. All the shares under my name have been transferred to my granddaughter Sylvia. From now on, she will be the chairman of the Lin family!"

Everyone's eyes shifted from Robert to Sylvia. This woman had just been removed from the position of president. Everyone thought that she was going to change from a proud phoenix to a broken crow. Unexpectedly, this phoenix reborn in the fire and became more powerful!

"No... impossible..." Richard murmured, "Grandpa, didn't you say that your inheritance..."

"Shut up!" Robert shouted.

Robert's shout made these board members in the conference room subconsciously shrink their necks. It could be seen that his prestige was very high.

"Everyone!" Sylvia's crisp voice rang in the conference room. "I think we'd better attend the meeting first. This time, I called you to hold an emergency meeting of directors. There are two things to inform you. The first thing is to announce the replacement of the chairman.

From today on, I, Sylvia Lin, will be the chairman of the Lins Group and will not accept any retort. The second thing is to remove a cancer from this company!"

The tone of Sylvia's first sentence was calm. When she finally said the word "cancer", her tone suddenly became louder, and her eyes fell on Richard.

Chapter 75

At the moment when he was targeted by Sylvia, Richard started to panic.

Sylvia opened her mouth and said in a crisp voice, "Richard Wong, an employee of the company, the former deputy director of the logistics department of the company, pretended to be a board member, took part in the important decision of the board of directors, and changed the final intention of the board of directors. The case has been handed to the police, and soon the police will take over the investigation."

"Sylvia, don't talk nonsense!" Before Sylvia finished her words, Richard shouted, "I am a member of the board of directors. What do you mean by pretending to be a director?"

"Are you a board member?" Sylvia looked puzzled. She looked at Lawyer Hu and asked, "Lawyer Hu, please tell us the necessary conditions for becoming a board member."

Lawyer Hu laughed dryly and said, "The essential condition to become a board member is to have at least 1% of the shares of the Lins Group."

Sylvia nodded and looked at Richard. "Did you hear that? One percent of the shares. Mr. Richard Wong, under your name, do you have one percent of the Lins shares? Or, do you have any shareholders who authorize you to take part in the board meeting on their behalf?"

Richard clenched his teeth and did not speak, because he knew that Sylvia was right. He didn't own any shares.

Originally, Robert Lin had given four juniors, each five percent of Lins shares. But last time, in order to please Mr. Cheng, Richard had given out all the shares in his hand. Now he was indeed not a shareholder of Lins Group!

But how did Sylvia know about it?

Seeing that Richard didn't speak, Sylvia smiled and continued, "Richard Wong, the employee of the company, pretended to be a board member. When impeaching my position as president, the board of directors didn't have the majority. Therefore, I, Sylvia Lin, am still the president of the Lins Group. Richard Wong, the employee the company, pretended to be the president of the Lins Group and signed an unfair contract with several companies and deliberately caused economic losses. After the investigation of criminal investigation and economic department, he will be punished. This is the second thing of the emergency board of directors."

As soon as Sylvia finished speaking, more than a dozen uniformed policemen swarmed in the conference room and directly pressed Richard on the seat. He couldn't move at all.

"Let me go! Let me go!" Richard broke free from the arms of the two police officers as if he had gone mad. "Sylvia, you are really cruel, but I didn't pretend to be president Lin. The agreement has stipulated that when the votes reach the equal point, the board members can choose the acting president."

"Richard, didn't you listen to me? I said, there were not more than half of the people who impeached the position of president. I am still the president. I don't have any acting president!" Sylvia's tone suddenly became cold. She glanced around and said, "Just now, except for the people who have voted, support me to continue to be the president of the Lins Group. Please vote!"

As soon as Sylvia finished speaking, those board members who didn't come to express their opinions just now all raised their right hands without hesitation. Even fools could see the current situation clearly.

Robert gave all the shares in his hand to Sylvia, and now he specially showed up to build up the momentum for her. How could they not choose her?

There were a total of five board members, all of whom raised their hands. With Sylvia, there were six of them.

Seeing this scene, Richard showed a hint of joy on his face. "Sylvia you have six votes too!"

"Really?" Sylvia raised her eyebrows.

"I also agree with Ms. Sylvia to continue to be the president of Lin's Group!" A male voice sounded outside the meeting room.

At the moment when Richard heard the voice, his face changed. He stared at his partner at the door of the conference room. Paul Cheng came in with a document of shares in his hand.

"I have a 5% share of the Lins Group. As a member of the board of directors, I agree with Ms.Sylvia to continue to be the chairman of the Lins Group!"

Sylvia drew a sexy curve at the corner of her mouth and said, "Now, it's enough to give you seven votes."

When he saw Paul, Richard had noticed that something was wrong. Now, his face was as pale as death. He stared at Sylvia and said, "Lin, you're cheating! You've been prepared this from the beginning, haven't you?"

"Yes." Sylvia did not deny it. "From the moment I knew that you went to grandpa to frame Henry, these things were prepared for you. Do you like it, my cousin?"

"You! You! You!" Richard pointed at Sylvia angrily and shouted, "You b*tch, you'll die a terrible death! Sylvia, sooner or later, I'll kill you!"

"Take him away!" police officer frowned and ordered to escort Richard out.

In the process of being escorted, Richard still roared and cried.

At this moment, the people in the conference room looked at Sylvia with strange eyes. They only saw that this woman had the ability to do business. They always treated her as a little girl who can be bullied.

But now, no one dared to think this way. She dealt with her coousin like this. Such a person was not to be trifled with.

Robert Lin, standing in front of the conference room door, sighed and said nothing. He didn't think Sylvia had gone too far, because what Richard did had already crossed the line. He wanted to overthrow the whole Lins Group, but no matter what, Richard was still his grandson. Looking at his grandson, who was the enemy of a family, made him sad. At the end they shared the same blood.

Looking at the lonely figure of her grandfather, Sylvia showed an apologetic expression.

Robert shook his head slightly at her.

Henry could probably guess what was going on in Lins Group, but he wasn't worried. He believed that with Sylvia's ability, Richard couldn't make any trouble. He was carrying the new clothes and walking happily out of the mall. He had already thought of seeing Sylvia in the company every day.

Every time he thought of her, his heart seemed to return to the time when he was sixteen or seventeen years old. When he thought of the person he liked, his heart would beat faster. When he thought that he would soon meet her, he unconsciously smiled.

When Henry was about to go out of the mall, he suddenly heard the announcement.

"Urgent! Urgent! Do we have any doctor here? Please hurry to west entrance because there is one patient who needs help there!"

"Urgent! Urgent! Do we have any doctor here? Please hurry to west entrance because there is one patient who needs help there!"

The radio rang constantly, and it could be heard that the tone of the broadcaster was anxious.

Henry took a look and found that the place he was standing in was in the western zone. Looking toward the west gate, he saw a large group of people.

Chapter 76

In the crowd, a gray-haired old man was lying on the ground, unconscious.

"I'm a doctor. Please give way." An old man, squeezed into the crowd.

When the crowd heard this, they quickly made way for him.

The old man, who claimed to be a doctor, looked to be in his seventies, but his physique still looked very strong. He seemed to have exercised for a long time.

The old man squatted on the ground and grabbed the old man's wrist. He put two fingers on the old man's pulse. After observing for a few seconds, he reached out and opened the old man's eyelids.

After seeing the pupils of the old man, he made a worried face, and he waved to the crowd.

"Everyone, don't surround him. If the air doesn't flow, it will affect the patient! Please make a way!"

The crowd gradually dispersed and formed a larger circle. They kept watching from the side.

The old man was wearing a tunic suit. He put his hand into his pocket, took out a roll of cotton cloth, and spread it on the ground. In the cotton cloth, there were shining silver needles.

The old man skillfully picked up a silver needle and inserted it into the old man's body without hesitation.

This movement aroused a burst of exclamation from the onlookers.

Many people knew about acupuncture, but they had never seen it with their own eyes. Anyone who saw a more than ten-centimeter long silver needle in the first time would subconsciously frown when they saw a doctor completely inserted it into the head.

The old man inserted a silver needle, but he did not stop. He continued to take out the silver needles and inserted them into the old man's head respectively.

Four silver needles were all stuck in the old man's body, but the old man still had no reaction.

The old man frowned even more. He had been practicing medicine for decades and had seen a lot of symptoms of dizziness, but could not find what is wrong with this man.

At this moment, a voice came from the crowd and reached the old man's ears.

"You placed the needles in wrong position. Your intention was to stimulate his brain nerves and wake him up from his fainting. However, this person is clearly in a state of suspended animation. He won't have any reaction even if you use a twirling needle to stimulate him."

The old man looked back and saw a young man in a white tank top and beach pants standing next to him and talking slowly with a bag in his hand.

"How do you know that he is a state of suspended animation?" The old man asked in confusion. He did not say anything like "don't talk nonsense if you don't understand. You can't even name the four acupuncture points I've just inserted in the needles."

"You can see it clearly. You only checked his pulse and pupils, but you forgot that there is a connection between Chinese medicine and body. His pupils gather together and he is on the verge of death. This is the characteristic of coma, and your thoughts are limited. This is the reason why he is in a coma. But you didn't carefully look at his fingers. They are also white and the bloodline is not smooth. In this case, it is more likely that his brain lacks oxygen and his nerves are in a state of suspended animation."

When the old man heard Henry's words, his face was obviously not pretty.

He was not educated in such a tone by a junior. But if it was true, it meant that the patient lying on the ground was in a very bad situation!

"Call 911 and send him to the hospital for treatment as soon as possible!" The old man took out his mobile phone on the spot and was about to dial.

Henry shook his head and said, "It's too late. It takes at least 20 minutes for the ambulance to arrive here. 20 minutes is too long for him. His blood and qi are not smooth, and they are reversed. There is 80 percent of possibility that he will die of brain bleeding before the ambulance arrives."

"So what? Do you want to see him die?" The old man looked anxious.

"Who said that he would die?" Henry asked back. He went to the old man, took out two silver needles from the old man's needle bag, and put down one hand like lightning. The old man only saw a cold light flashing in front of his eyes, and he found that the young man in front of him had inserted the silver needle into the patient's body.

Fast, accurate!

This was the first thought that came to the old man's mind. He couldn't help but look at Henry twice. At such an age, he had such an acupuncture technique, and the level of identification of the acupuncture points had reached a very deep level!

Henry said as he moved, "When in this state of suspended animation, the four acupoints of Hegu, Renzhong, Baihui and Shashang should be opened to open the air as much as possible. The needles should be used to close the valley and the two acupoints in Hegu and Renzhong. The needles should be twisted and then inserted to strengthen the stimulation and leave no needles. Then, the Baihui and Shaoshang should be stabbed. The needles should be slightly twirled. After getting the Qi, the needles should be left. Only in this way can they be awake."

Henry took two more needles and stabbed them into the patient's body. "Now, according to the situation, we need to do the Baihui, Neiguan, Shenguan and Zuerli. The upper acupuncture point should all be changed with a Sacred Needle, so as to let the patient lie flat. He can guard the Dantian and breathe naturally. After the needle enters the acupuncture point, according to the patient's heartbeat frequency, you can choose to put the needle according to the patient's heartbeat frequency."

As soon as Henry finished talking, the unconscious old man gave out a long cry.

"He is awake!" A happy voice came from the crowd. They saw the patient open his eyes.

Henry got up and smiled slightly. "You are a doctor of traditional Chinese medicine. Your needle technique is good, but your thinking is too rigid. It is difficult to become a great doctor. The needle technique, which is developed by human beings, has to be changed by human beings."

After saying this sentence, Hery turned his head and left without any hesitation.

The old man looked at Henry's back and muttered what Henry had just said, "The needle technique is developed by human beings, and it has to be changed by human beings..."

"Master, Master."

At this moment, two young people, a man and a woman, ran quickly into the crowd.

The old man looked at the two young people discontentedly and reprimanded them, "You're so impatient. It's impolite to shout."

The man and the woman bowed their heads and said, "Master, the president of the Ning Province Medical Association just called me again. He wants me to ask if you have time."

"I've rejected him several times, haven't I?" The old man said impatiently.

As one of the top Chinese medicine scholars in China, he had learned a lot. He wanted to invite him to attend a forum lecture, but he never promised anyone, nor gave anyone a promise.

"Yes, but the other side said that this time, there were many new talents in the medical field, and they all hoped to see you."

"New talents?" The old man suddenly remembered the young man.

"Okay, then I will go." The old man nodded, with some expectation in his heart. He met the young man again. After listening to the young man's words, the old man suddenly felt a sense of enlightenment. In the Tao of medicine, the bottleneck that had bound him for more than ten years seemed to have suddenly loosened!

Henry walked out of the shopping mall and shook his head. "Ah, there are fewer and fewer young people who love to learn traditional Chinese medicine, and the thoughts of the older generation are deep-rooted. It seems that it's time to do a reform..."

Chapter 77

Henry returned home with two big bags and saw Sylvia sitting on the sofa.

"Everything okay?" Henry asked casually.

"Mmm." Sylvia nodded.

During the conversation, neither of them realized that the relationship had become much more harmonious. Just like before, Sylvia didn't even bother to look at Henry, let alone answer his question.

"Come here. I have something to ask you." Sylvia waved to Henry.

"What's the matter?" Henry walked over and saw Sylvia, dressed in her pajamas, leaning lazily on the sofa. Her beautiful hair was casually loose, exuding an indescribable charm.

"Why didn't you tell me?" Sylvia's beautiful eyes showed a hint of blame.

"Tell you what?" Henry looked puzzled.

"About your knowledge of Chinese Medicine and physical treatment."

"That." Henry seemed to be enlightened. "You didn't ask, and when I gave you a massage, I always used this method."

"You..." Sylvia was at a loss for words. She knew that she really didn't ask Henry about this matter. He told her that he had done everything, so she naturally associated it with that kind of regular massage and didn't think about Chinese Medicine.

"Well, that's my mistake. Tell me about it today. What else can you do?" Sylvia asked.

When she asked Henry, Sylvia had some expectations on her face. She found that this man in front of her always did something unexpected. He talked about the French meals in details, played a song at the concert of Master Pajiv, and now he also learned traditional Chinese medicine. It seemed that he was not so useless.

"Uh, let me think." Henry pretended to think about it. He knew a lot of things, so he had to figure it out.

Sylvia suddenly saw Milan came out from Henry's back and repeatedly winked at him. She was afraid that Henry would tell her that he can't do anything else.

However, Henry did not notice that Sylvia was trying hard to blink at him. He tilted his head and said, "I'm good at arts, music, painting, delicious food, ancient martial arts, investigation, explosion, language, finance, and so on. I'm good at all kinds of fields."

Sylvia breathed a sigh of relief. She was very impressed that Henry was quite clever.

"All right, don't brag." Sylvia rolled her eyes at Henry and touched her hair with her slender arms. She was really fascinating.

Henry reached out his hand and scratched his head. With a smile, he took his small bag and went back to his room.

It was a silent night. The next morning, Henry got up early to clean up the house. After Sylvia went out, Henry also changed into the suit he bought yesterday and went to Lins Group happily.

Robert had already informed the HR yesterday. For this person who could be called by the brother of Yinzhou's business circle, the HR attached great importance to Henry, and even let Henry choose his own position.

Not only did Robert have a high position in the business circle of Yinzhou, but he was also the master of the Lins Group. The HR naturally had great power and did his best to make Henry comfortable. If he said a few nice words to him in the future, his life would probably be greatly changed.

As for the position, Henry thought about it for a long time last night and finally chose a position as the co-captain of the security guards in the building.

Being a security guard in the hall meant that he could definitely see Sylvia every day. Being the co-captain, so he didn't need to do anything trivial, and he didn't have to go on a business trip like the captain. After all, Henry's purpose for coming here was very simple.

The HR also did not expect Henry to choose such a position. After all, there were much better positions than that of the co-captain of the security department. However, he did not say anything about Henry's choice. He immediately wrote an official notice and told Henry that he could come to work at any time.

Henry excitedly went to receive the equipment for the security guards, electric baton and uniforms.

By the time everything was settled, it was already half past ten in the morning.

Henry stood in the hall of the Lins Building with excitement. He glanced around at the people passing by, and heard a burst of abuse coming from the door.

"Keep your eyes wide open and see who I am! In this Lins Mansion, I can go everywhere. You watchdogs, get out of my way! The damn security guard, you will be like this all your life!"

"Hmm?" Henry raised his eyebrows.

"A damn security guard? A watchdog?"

Henry looked in the direction of the voice and saw seven or eight security guards blocking the gate of the building. The words were spoken by a well-dressed woman.

Several security guards looked embarrassed. They looked at each other and didn't know what to do.

"Madam, our President Lin has set a rule. If you want to see her, you must make an appointment." A security guard, who looked like a captain, said.

"An appointment? I'm going to make an appointment when I see her? You watchdogs, get out of my way!" The middle-aged woman shouted and pushed away the security guard in front of her.

Henry frowned. "Isn't this Richard's mother? Is he making trouble here?"

Some people had reported what happened in Lins Group to Henry yesterday. Richard had been arrested for business, finance, and other issues. The Lins Group even reported Richard to the court and waited for the trial. If there was no surprise, Richard would be sentenced to eight or ten years at least, which meant that his life was almost ruined.

"Get out! I don't want to talk nonsense with you!" Richard's mother scolded again and rushed to the company hall.

"Madam, you can't go in." A security guard reached out to stop Richard's mother.

"Your servant, who let you touch me?" Richard's mother waved her hand and slapped the security guard on his face.

The security guard who was beaten looked pale, but he didn't dare to say anything. They knew a little about the identity of this middle-aged woman in front of them. She was the aunt of the president.

"You really have guts. A few dogs wearing human skin dare to stop me? What do you think you are? Huh?" Richard's mother's eyes wesee which dog's legs will touch me and you will see..."

Richard's mother was scolding, and her body was shaking. Her eyes couldn't help but start to move up. She felt as if she had a seizure, and her saliva was running wild. Ten seconds later, she closed her eyes and fell to the ground.

After Richard's mother fell, Henry, who was standing behind her, appeared.

Holding the electric baton that he had just brought, Henry pressed it from time to time, and the head of the baton made a crackling sound.

Henry curled his lips and said with a little regret, "No, the amount of electricity is too small. It took ten seconds for a woman to faint. I have to change it to a stronger one."

Chapter 78

A group of security guards stared at Henry with wide eyes.

"Brother, you are..."

"Oh, I'm a new security guard." Henry took out his work card, which was written with the position of co-captain. "Next time you meet such a person, don't talk nonsense, just use electroshocks."

"This..." A security guard looked at Henry, then looked at Richard's mother, who had fainted on the ground and spit out white foam. "Brother, you may be in trouble."

"Brother, how can we be afraid as security guards? If we are all afraid, who should we give the security of this building to?" Henry stretched out his hand to pat the security guard on the shoulder and said in a teaching tone.

"But buddy, she is President Lin's aunt!"

"Aunt?" Henry raised his eyebrows. "No matter who she is, anyone who dares to make trouble here will be served by an electric baton! Go and handcuff her in the security room, and then let the police deal with her."

Henry put the electric baton on the belt, put his hands behind his back, and walked to the side to patrol.

The rest of the security guards looked at each other.

"Let's go. The new co-captain has said. Let's do it."

"But this is Lin..."

"It doesn't matter who she is or what kind of person she is. It's none of our business. Someone is watching."

Several security guards grabbed Richard's mother and carried her to the security room.

Sylvia sat in the office on the top floor, looking down at the documents on the table and dealing with the business in her hand. After she took over as the chairman of the board, what she had to do every day was much busier than before.

Her secretary, Cathy Lee, knocked on the door of the office.

"Come in." Sylvia said without looking up.

Cathy opened the door and walked in. "President Lin," she said. "There's something I need to report to you."

"What's wrong?" Sylvia raised her head and stroked the hair in front of her forehead. She saw that Cathy didn't bring any folders, so she guessed that it should be a private issue.

"Just now, Ms. Debby Lin came to see you, but she was stopped downstairs by the security guards. A conflict broke out between her and the security guards, and she was fainted by the new co-captain of the security guards."

At the same time Cathy was reporting, she was also admiring the co-captain of the security guards. Debby was President Lin's aunt. Did she get electroshocked?

Sylvia frowned and put down the document in her hand. "Let's go to the security room and let the new security guard come here by the way."

Henry happily strolled in the hall.

A girl at the front desk secretly looked at Henry up and down. Henry was wearing a security uniform, but his perfect figure made him look like a model. In addition, Henry's handsome appearance easily attracted the attention of those girls who had just come out of university.

"Beauty, although I know that I am very handsome, you should not look at me with such infatuated eyes." Henry leaned over the front desk and looked up and down at the beauty at the front desk.

She was definitely a graduate who had just graduated from school. Maybe she didn't even have a graduation. She just came to do an internship, and her whole body was full of a pure and pleasant temperament.

This beauty at the front desk was embarrassed by Henry's stare. She lowered her head and jumped with her ponytail behind her head.

Henry's eyes swept across her name tag. "Amity Qiu, the name is so nice. How does your boyfriend call you?"

"I... I... I don't have a boyfriend yet." Amity's face was red, and her words were somewhat stammering.

"Impossible!" Henry's face was full of shock. "How could a girl as beautiful as you, with such a nice name, not have a boyfriend?"

Amity lower her head even more, and she could not wait to bury it in her arms.

Another receptionist standing next to Amity covered her mouth and said with a chuckle, "Hey handsome guy, don't tease our Amity. She's shy. Why don't you two chat on WeChat and have dinner together tonight?"

"Haha." Henry laughed and said, "Just kidding. I don't need to use WeChat anymore. I am married. You don't know that my wife loves me to death. She also knows that I am very charming and afraid that I will cheat. So she has to check my mobile phone every day. If I add such a beautiful girl, my wife will definitely kill me!"

Hearing this, Amity burst out laughing. She covered her mouth with her hands and looked very cute.

Henry leaned over the front desk and was just about to brag about his status at home to the two little beauties when he heard someone calling him.

"Captain Zhang, could you please come to the security room?" A security guard ran over.

"Okay." Henry nodded and said goodbye to the two beautiful girls at the front desk. Then he went to the security room.

"Captain Zhang, what about that?" The security guard pulled Henry's sleeve.

"What's wrong?" Henry was confused.

"Well... President Lin is also here. The one you fainted, is her aunt. You should be careful when you talk to her later." The security guard looked worried.

"I'm fine." Henry waved his hand indifferently.

There were a lot of people gathered at the door of the security room, all wearing security uniforms.

As soon as Henry came over, these people all focused their eyes on him and whispered.

"Is that him?"

"Yes, the co-captain who just came today."

"He is so young. At first glance, he is a reckless young man who dares to beat President Lin's relatives. You say, these bigwigs, even if their personal relationship is not in harmony with each other, we can't participate in it."

"That's right. He acted on impulse on the spur of the moment. As a result, I guess the job he just found will be ruined."

"Co-captain, the salary is 6,000 yuan per month, and there are a lot of benefits. What a pity."

"You can't say that. At that time, we were all humiliated by that woman, and the co-captain also helped us." A security guard who had just stopped Debby in front of the company's door said.

"Hey, the co-captain is called up so soon. Are you a his b*tch? Just wait and see. Even if President Lin doesn't punish him today, just wait for Captain Sun when he comes back from a business trip!" Another security guard glanced at him disdainfully.

They were whispering here. With Henry's hearing, he could naturally hear them clearly. Henry ignored them and walked into the security room.

In the security room, Sylvia looked at the unconscious woman in front of her, and the expression on her face was somewhat unnatural.

Sylvia had heard about what had happened just now. This woman called them watchdogs and a servants. Anyone who heard her would be angry. But anyway, she was her aunt. It was unreasonable for her to be electroshocked in her own company.

Sylvia sighed. She waited for the security guard to come. How should she deal with it?

"Today, it's my aunt's fault. The security guard is just responsible for his duties. He didn't do anything wrong. On the contrary, if it's someone else who has fainted today, I should praise him."

Chapter 79

Standing in the security room, Sylvia didn't know what to do.

The member of the Lin family was in her own company, and she was electroshocked by a security guard. No matter what the reason was, she had to deal with this matter carefully. Otherwise, she would definitely become a laughing stock of others.

The personnel manager, Manager Chen, was standing next to Sylvia. He hired the security guard today, so Sylvia called him over.

Sylvia looked at Manager Chen and asked, "Where did you recruit him from?"

"That... he was specially introduced to me by Master Lin." Manager Chen gave a fawning smile. Now, he was in a panic.

Anyway, this person was recruited by him, and the position was also chosen by him. Now that this thing had happened, if she really wanted to investigate it, he would have to take the responsibility.

"My grandpa introduced him?" Sylvia frowned.

Since Robert couldn't get out of the house, it had been a long time since he had been in charge of the company's affairs. Now he introduced a person into the company. Who could it be?

While guessing the identity of the other party, Sylvia also felt a wave of disgust in her heart. The most annoying thing for her was this kind of person.

At this moment, Henry came in. As soon as he saw Sylvia's figure, Henry couldn't help but grin.

"President Lin, he's here," Cathy reported.

"Tell me, what happened here?" Sylvia looked at her aunt, who was unconscious, and said without looking back.

"It was like this. She insulted us at that time and even..."

As soon as Henry spoke, Sylvia recognized his voice almost immediately. She turned her head and looked at Henry with wide eyes. "You?"

"Hey hey." Henry stretched out his hand and scratched his head. "Hello, President Lin. It's my first day at work. If I meet someone who came to make trouble, I'll solve it directly."

At the sight of Henry, Sylvia immediately understood. She reached out and covered her forehead with her hand, her face full of helplessness.

Just now, Sylvia was still guessing that in this society, even if her aunt made a mistake, no one would be able to go against her. But Henry was definitely not among them.

At home, the scene of Henry making Richard look for his teeth all over the floor vaguely appeared in front of her.

When Manager Chen saw that Sylvia and Henry knew each other, he breathed a sigh of relief in his heart. In this way, he could not be blamed.

"Secretary Lee, tell everyone not to circle around here. Tell them to go and do their work." Sylvia waved her hand.

Cathy nodded.

The people outside the security room dispersed under Cathy's order. Manager Chen, who was in charge of personnel affairs, returned to his position.

After all the people left, Sylvia looked at Henry again and asked, "How did you think of looking for my grandfather and asking him to arrange for you to come to the company?"

"Because I want to see you every day." Henry said bluntly, gritting his white teeth.

Sylvia's face froze for a moment, and then a smile appeared on her face. "You're funny. Forget it. Come on. But don't be the captain of the security guards. In the end, you can't learn anything. I'll tell Manager Chen and you go to the business department first. Recently, I'm free. I'll take you to get in touch with these things."

"Okay!" Henry replied with a happy face.

Sylvia didn't say much to Henry. She turned around and walked out of the security room. When she stepped out of the security room, she stopped and opened her mouth. Finally, she didn't say anything and left.

Henry didn't know that what he said had made Sylvia's silent heart beat slightly.

After Sylvia left, Henry went to change his position. He didn't care at all how they would handle Debby.

Today was Henry's first day at work, and it was also the first time he had gone to work in the real sense for more than 20 years. Henry was extremely excited on this day. But when he was about to finish work, he sadly found that he did not see Sylvia this day.

Henry ran to the front desk to ask about it. Amity rain told Henry that Sylvia was busy every day, and they didn't have many chances to see her.

Hearing this, Henry was a little disappointed.

After work, Henry changed his clothes. When he was about to go out of the company's gate, he saw a familiar car parked in front of him. It was Anna Jiang, Sylvia's bodyguard, who was driving. Sylvia was sitting in the back seat of the car, holding a piece of paper in her hand. She was reading it carefully.

"Get in the car and let's go together." Anna rolled down the window and waved to Henry.

He glanced at Sylvia, who was sitting in the back seat. She didn't say anything, still looking at the document in her hand.

This scene made Henry happy in his heart. It seemed that his wife's relationship with him had become more and more gentle. Otherwise, she could not let Anna call him, or she would not have been able to drive the Mercedes-Benz.

Henry shamelessly opened the door of the back seat. Before Sylvia could object, he sat down on the seat.

Sylvia looked at Henry and frowned without speaking.

The car was on the way to Luxury Village.

In recent years, the rapid development of Yinzhou had taken place. It had built a lot of high-rise buildings and widened roads. But in many places, people could still see the figures that were left behind before, such as some alleys.

From Lins Group to Luxury Village, they had to pass through an alley. It was not the alley with bungalows on both sides in their childhood memory. Instead, it was a road with two lanes back and forth, and both sides were the paths of the old-fashioned residential area.

Anna drove slowly on the road. Suddenly, a van rushed out from ten meters ahead and did not slow down at all. Fortunately, Anna's driving skill was good, so she was not in a hurry. At the critical moment, she quickly turned the steering wheel, or she would really hit it.

"F*ck, don't you know how to drive?" A loud curse came from the van.

Anna subconsciously turned to look at the van.

At this moment, a slim old man appeared in front of the car and deliberately ran into it car.

Anna, who had just turned her head away, did not see the old man at all.

"Watch out!" Henry shouted.

Anna, who was very sensitive, did not even look at it. She stepped on the brake, but it was still too late. With a "bang", the old man fell under the car.

The car that was driving also stopped in a hurry, and the inertia made the people in the car unconsciously move forward.

Anna's eyes were filled with panic as she looked at this side.

"What that intentional?" Lin Yayan frowned. She saw clearly how the old man deliberately hit the front of the car.

"President Lin, I'm sorry. I didn't see him just now," Anna said apologetically.

"It's all right. Even if you see this kind of thing, you can't avoid it." Sylvia shook her head. "I'll get out of the car and take a look. You should report to the traffic police first."

As she said that, Sylvia was ready to open the door.

"Don't worry." Henry stopped Sylvia and said, "Anna, you turn back first. Don't pay attention to him."

Chapter 80

"How can we leave him alone!" Sylvia pushed Henry's hand away and said, "Even if it's a blackmail, we have to see for ourselves!"

"You can't go." Henry reached out his hand and pressed the door. "There's something wrong with this old man."

"What's wrong with that? Henry, when something happens, you should think about how to solve it instead of how to escape! Take your hand away!"

"No." Henry shook his head.

"I asked you to take it away!" Sylvia gave Henry a hard push, but she couldn't move at all.

Henry glanced around the car and saw that someone had seen what was going on here. He came around and said, "Anna, hurry up and drive away."

"Mr. Zhang, we... we can't go." Anna shook her head. "I also think that we should go down and have a look. Anyway, we hit someone."

Just as the three of them were debating about whether to leave or not, they heard the sound of someone beating outside the car.

A young man, who looked to be in his 20s, reached out his hand and slapped the window angrily while cursing, "Hey, hey, hey, you hit someone. Didn't you see that? Get off the car!"

"That's right. Who is this? Why don't you send him to the hospital as soon as you hit him? Such a pretty girl. How can she have such a vicious heart?" A middle-aged woman, who was standing by and watching the drama, also said.

The safety control of the car was not very good. The voice of the person outside the car could clearly be heard by Sylvia, which made her face particularly ugly.

"Sylvia, ignore them. Anna, drive away first. We'll deal with the matter here when the police come." Henry pressed the door lock.

"Henry, get out of my way!" Sylvia pushed Henry and opened the car door. Just as she was about to open the door, it was pulled from the outside.

The young man who knocked on the glass stared at Sylvia with an unfriendly look and scolded, "Fu*k, are you still sitting in my car? Can't you see you hit a man? Get down!"

"Sorry." Sylvia gave the young man an apologetic look. "We..." When she was about to say something, the young man took out a dagger from behind and tried to stab her.

The dagger was magnified in Sylvia's eyes, and the sharpness flickered with cold light. At this critical moment, Sylvia felt a huge force behind her, and then she could not help falling backward. A strong arm appeared in front of her and faced the sharp dagger.

When dagger touched the arm, it splashed hot blood on Sylvia's face.

Sylvia screamed subconsciously.

"Get out!" Henry hugged Sylvia and kicked the young man outside the door. At the same time, he closed the door with his bleeding arm and pressed the door lock heavily.

As a professional bodyguard, Anna immediately realized that something was wrong. She picked up the baton in the case, opened the car door and rushed out.

The hunchbacked old man, who had collapsed in front of the car, suddenly jumped up and stabbed towards Anna with a dagger in his hand.

Sylvia's eyes widened when she saw what had happened.

"Henry... you... how are you?" Sylvia grabbed Henry's arm and looked at the ten-centimeter wound on it. Her eyes were full of concern.

Henry grinned and waved his hand indifferently. "It's all right. Sit down in the car and don't move. I'll help Anna."

Henry opened the car door, rushed straight down, and walked toward the young man.

The young man stared at Henry with his dagger. He shouted, "Die!"

A trace of disdain flashed in Henry's eyes. The moment the young man approached him, Henry subdued him with a backhand and pressed him to the trunk of the car. At the same time, Henry also lowered his head. In the eyes of others, it was as if two people were fighting with each other in a clumsy way.

The real situation was something that only the two of them knew in their hearts.

The dagger-wielding young man was shocked. He felt as if he was stuck by a giant clamp and could not move.

"Tell me, who snet you!" Henry squeezed the young man's neck so hard that he couldn't even breathe.

"In your dreams!" The young man clenched his teeth and squeezed out these two words.

Henry's eyes flashed a trace of fierceness. Without nonsense, he directly broke the young man's neck. He dared to hurt Sylvia. The ending of the young man was doomed.

Anna was indeed a professional bodyguard. When Henry had dealt with the young man, she had also dealt with several other killers.

A total of four killers with daggers were all knocked down by Anna within a minute. After dealing with these, Anna immediately ran to the back seat to check on Sylvia's injury.

Sylvia was scared a lot. Fortunately, she was not injured.

"Don't worry about me. Go and check Henry."

"I'm fine." Henry made a bow indifferently. "Anna, take Sylvia back first. I'll wait for police here."

"No, we have to go together." Sylvia shook her head with a firm look, disapproving to let Henry stay here alone. She looked at Henry's right arm, which had a wound 10 centimeters long, and it was shocking.

Her eyes were full of self-blame. If she had not insisted on getting off the car, such a thing would not have happened at all, and Henry would not have been injured like this in order to protect her.

"You should leave now. Someone must stay here. Otherwise, the police won't be able to explain it." Henry persuaded them.

"Then let's stay here together." Sylvia's eyes were firm.

Henry saw that he couldn't dissuade Sylvia, so he had to agree. "Well, let's go to the car and stay. It's safer."

The three of them got into the car, and Sylvia carefully locked the door.

Anna sat in the driver's seat with an apologetic look on his face. "President Lin, Mr. Zhang, it's all my fault, but if not..."

"Well, don't say that." Sylvia stopped Anna from speaking. "These people are coming for me. Even if we didn't meet today, they would appear one day."

Soon, the siren rang in their ears, and five police cars drove into the alley. The police officers who got out of the cars blocked the whole area.

As soon as Henry saw the person who led the team, he felt a headache.

"Captain Han, the victims are all in the car." A police officer reported to Helen.

"Tell them to come out and make a record."

The door opened, and the figures of Henry and the other two appeared in Helen's sight.

At the moment when Helen saw Sylvia, her eyes were slightly evasive.

When Henry saw Helen, the expression on his face was somewhat unnatural. No matter what, he had slept with her for the first time. If he wanted to pretend that nothing had happened, he would definitely not be able to do it.

It was said that women's sixth sense was very accurate. Sylvia immediately felt that the atmosphere between Henry and the leading policewoman was a little weird.

"Do you know each other?" Sylvia asked curiously.

"Yes... we do." Henry seemed a little nervous when his wife asked him this question.

"All right, don't try to get close to me. Hurry up and make a record." Helen waved her hand impatiently.
