

Chapter 1300

Henry opened the door and went in. The huge villa gave Henry a feeling of emptiness.

The dust in the house indicated that no one had been here for a long time.

"You all go back." Henry seemed to talk to himself. "From today on, I'll give you a long vacation so that you can enjoy your life."

After Henry finished, he sat on the sofa and looked at the empty room. On the wall of the living room, the wedding photo was still hung there.

Henry had been doing it for a long time. Suddenly, he breathed a sigh of relief and said, "Hey, I haven't cleaned the room for a long time."

Henry stretched himself and went to the room to find his white vest. After changing, he carried a bucket, got on the ground, and carefully cleaned the floor.

Henry still remembered that at this time of last year, he also stayed at home every day to do some cleaning. The happiest thing every day was to see Sylvia coming home. At that time, Wade would come to bother him from time to time.

The battle of the Sosasmo desert had become very famous, Henry's status in the Qi-refining Realm had suddenly reached its peak, even higher than the superpower remanded from the Recluse Association. But still, only Henry himself knew the bitterness in his heart.

Henry had no idea where Wade and the others went. Radiant Island, which was once known as an underground shrine, was not in the centre of the storm because of all kinds of pressure. Henry chose to dismiss it. He did not know how the woman, whom he used to wait at home every day, looked like now. Everything was different, not as pure as before.

As the saying goes, things change as time passed and people change. This was probably the case. Over the past year, a lot of things have happened and changed a lot.

"Beep beep!"

A burst of car siren came from outside the house.

Henry, who was scrubbing the floor in front of a large French window, looked around and saw a pink Ferrari 488 parked outside the courtyard.

Gardiner, wearing flip-flops and a pair of pink beach pants, appeared in the sight of Henry as the Ferrari door opened.

Gardiner leaned against the front of the Ferrari gracefully and took out a cigarette for himself. After lighting it up, he took a deep breath and blew out the cigarette slowly. Then he waved at Henry.

Through the glass, Henry looked at Gardiner with a strange look. He opened the door and walked out.

"Badass!" This was the first sentence Gardiner said after seeing Henry. "I heard that you released the old monsters from the prison and cut of Recluse Association's president's arm. Come on, tell me the details."

"I don't know." Henry shook his head. When Silas did something big, Henry was still lying in the prison. He had no idea.

"You don't know about this?" Gardiner's heart of gossip was extinguished. "What do you know?"

"I know you can't afford this kind of car with your salary, can you?" Henry glanced at the Ferrari behind Gardiner.

"Sh*t!" Gardiner gave a middle finger. "Can't we rent it if we can't afford it? Can't we just pretend to be rich occasionally? Can ordinary people like me drive luxury cars and date girls?"

"Sure." Henry nodded repeatedly. "Calm down, whatever you say is right, okay?"

"That's more like it." Gardiner crossed his arms, as if he had won a victory. "By the way, don't be so anxious to go to Su Family's ancestral land."

"You know?" Henry frowned.

"Nonsense." Gardiner rolled his eyes and said, "Why do you think I came to you? There is something wrong with the Su Family's ancestral land. No, to be exact, the ancestral land of all the major clans has problems, including the three ancient kungfu families in the capital. Their ancestral land also changed."

"Changed?" Henry's heart tightened. Wasn't Sylvia also in ancestral land? "What happened?"

"Let's go. Get in the car." Gardiner shook his head handsomely and then got into the car.

Henry got in the car with Gardiner.

"This is for you. Look at it yourself." Gardiner threw a file bag to Henry.

Henry opened the folder and glanced at it. "Antiquity Country?"

"Yes." Gardiner nodded and said, "Previously, an old monster of more than 200 years old came out of the Antiquity Country. Have you heard of it?"

"Yeah." Henry replied. He had heard this news from Cesia before.

Gardiner started the car, stepped on the gas pedal, and then said, "That old monster is very strange. He claims to be some kind of god emissary. You know, the people over there only believe in this. That old monster is at least able to bestow god. After showing a few moves, many people treat him as a god emissary and worship him. Some people even want to sacrifice their little girls to the old monster. Alas, a woman who is known as the most beautiful woman in the world wants to marry an old monster. What the hell."

Gardiner curled his lips.

"No matter what, you are the first leader of the Section Nine. Is this the key thing you should pay attention to?" Henry reminded him.

"Damn, I am also a normal man. I should be angry when I hear this." Gardiner looked serious. "Tell me, people decent and in harmony with appearance like me, why can't we meet this good thing?"

Henry had long been used to Gardiner's shamelessness, so he said, "Get to the point."

"The old monster climbed up the Ancient Gods Mountain of the Antiquity Country. No one knew what he did in the temple. As a result, the sky above the Ancient Gods Mountain was covered with dark clouds. Many organizations in the world sent people to see it. As a result, all of them disappeared in the Ancient Gods Mountain bizarrely. Then, such a thing also happened in the major clans of Yan Xia. Although there were no strange signs of dark clouds, those who lived in ancestral land all disappeared mysteriously and could not be contacted. Among them, your wife, Sylvia, also disappeared."

"This..." Henry frowned more tightly. "Disappeared?"

"Yes, they are all missing!" Gardiner looked serious. "That's why I came to see you this time. I want you to go with me to the Antiquity Country. Since the event began in the Antiquity Country, the source of this change must be there. Now if you go directly to the Su Family's ancestral land, you would have no idea what to do. Why don't you come with me to the Antiquity Country to see for yourself?"

"Are you sure there is a connection between the two places?" Henry continued to read the documents in his hand.

Gardiner shook his head and said, "I'm not sure, so I have to figure it out. If you can figure out what happened in the Antiquity Country, you can take the initiative to go to Su Family ancestral land. Otherwise, I'm afraid that even if you go there, you will be passive. Since someone has asked you to go to the Su Family ancestral land, they must have their reasons."

"I'm curious." Henry looked at Gardiner doubtfully. "How do you know that I'm going to the Su Family's ancestral land?"

"It's simple." Gardiner whistled. "I read the letter sent to you."

Henry was speechless. He didn't expect that the way Gardiner got the news was so simple.

Chapter 1301

Gardiner opened the window and drove all the way to the airport.

"You don't have to worry about the Lins Group." Gardiner said to Henry on the way, "When you are not here, we would adjust some of the policies that are beneficial to the Lins Group. As long as the person in charge of the Lins Group is not a fool, the Lins Group can only get better and better."

Henry shrugged his shoulders and didn't say anything more.

The Section Nine had specially arranged the route for this trip to the Antiquity Country, so there was no need for Henry to worry about it.

A private jet was parked at the airport. After Gardiner and Henry boarded the plane, two private attendants poured champagne for them.

"This time, our identities are Asian rich businessmen. I'll give you the information. Our people have already gone there. Well, you just came back from running away. Relax. There's not much time." Gardiner took a comfortable posture on the private plane, picked up champagne, and enjoyed it.

"Your meaning is, take a break and get ready to go on fighting, isn't it?" Henry gave Gardiner an angry look.

"Yes, that's what I meant." Gardiner nodded.

Henry thought for a moment and gave Gardiner the middle finger. Then he lay down in a comfortable position, as Gardiner said, he didn't have much time to enjoy. He closed his eyes and began to welcome this rare leisure time.

This kind of private jet was very comfortable. It was specially prepared for rich people. The equipment was also very complete. When Henry woke up, he found that the originally full wine cabinet had become empty.

On the other hand, Gardiner, who was drunk with a red face, sat next to him and burped.

"Nice, that's six hours of sleep." Gardiner was still holding a bottle of wine in his hand.

"You really make the best use of the things you have. Does the public funds feel so good?" Henry was speechless.

"No, no, no." Gardiner waved his hand and said, "It's not a public expense. Hey, this plane is borrowed from your Lins Group. Boss Zhang, thank you for your hospitality. Later on, I will ask your Lins Group to pay 15,000 yuan. Hiccup."

"You're so cheap!"

Henry turned over and looked out of the window. It was dark outside. It took at least 12 hours to arrive at their destination from Yinzhou City.

Henry closed his eyes and fell asleep again.

When Henry opened his eyes again, the scenery outside the window had changed.

"It seems that you have been seriously injured." Gardiner changed into an elegant suit. He glanced at his left wrist elegantly and then sorted out his tie. "You have slept for 13 hours, and the plane landed an hour ago. I originally called two beautiful attendants to make dinner for us, but now, it's all because of you."

Gardiner's face was full of pity.

Henry rubbed his sleepy eyes and turned his head. As expected, he saw the ground outside the plane window, and the airport was completely different from that of Yan Xia.

Antiquity Country's architectural style was full of unique characteristics, so people could recognize it at a glance.

However, Henry's eyes were mostly focused on Gardiner. "Did you take the wrong medicine when you chose this suit?"

"I am dressed like a successful man, okay?" Gardiner's face was full of disgust.

"No." Henry shook his head and said very formally, "The way you dressed up before is more like a successful person."

"Don't talk nonsense. Get up quickly. Remember, I am your boss, and I have six hundred billion yuan. You are my interpreter." Gardiner arranged his identity on the spot and threw a file bag to Henry. "Our identities are inside. Don't make a mistake."

Henry opened the file and asked, "Speaking of business, I should be better than you. I think it's better for me to play the role of the boss."

"I don't know how to speak their language." Gardiner said angrily, "I know you know many languages. Don't talk nonsense. Let's go."

Gardiner and Henry got off the plane.

Before getting off the plane, Gardiner deliberately tidied up his tie again, then went out with his head held high and chest out.

To Henry's surprise, outside the plane, there had already been an envoy mission from the royal family of the Antiquity Country waiting to receive them. As soon as he and Gardiner got off the plane, the envoy mission's representative immediately came up to greet them.

Henry was puzzled. A six hundred billion-yuan consortium, how could it be welcomed by an Antiquity Country's diplomatic department?

The representative of Antiquity Country strode over and reached out his hand to Henry, which made Gardiner, who was ready to reach out, stunned and embarrassed.

"I said earlier that you don't look like the boss," Henry whispered in Gardiner's ear.

Gardiner muttered, and no one knew what he was saying.

Henry communicated with the representative of the envoy mission and understood why Antiquity Country's envoy mission had come to welcome a six hundred billion yuan consortium. It turned out that the background of Gardiner's consortium was a family built by digging up tombs. It seemed to be an antique, but in fact, it was a deep pit.

The people of the Antiquity Country, as well as their beliefs in those things, believed that the deities truly existed. It wasn't that there was no reason for them to specially come here to welcome them.

After a conversation, the ambassador of the Antiquity Country invited them into the car and went to the Imperial Palace of the Antiquity Country. Now it was also a place for a ruler of a country to stay.

The Antiquity Country was a beautiful place. This former imperial palace was also particularly attractive. If it was in Yan Xia, it could be said that every place would be full of online celebrities.

After Henry's negotiation, he and Gardiner were settled down.

"Let's go." Gardiner packed up his things and said, "Let's have a look at the humanities here first."

Gardiner shook his wrist, revealing his valuable watch.

The ancient civilization of the Antiquity Country was comparable to that of Yan Xia. This place even became the origin of western mythology. The degree of openness of the Antiquity Country was far beyond that of Yan Xia, and this place was also called a paradise for men.

When Gardiner went out, he had a feeling of releasing himself.

Henry looked into the distance. In the distance, the sky above a mountain was filled with dark clouds. The dark clouds only covered the entire mountain range, leaving the entire mountain range with a layer of shadow.

"Is that the mountain?" Henry muttered.

"Yes." Gardiner showed a cynical look and said, "The old monster said that the gods were angry and wanted to punish the people who violated the gods. During this period, the Antiquity Country held a large-scale sacrificial ceremony and organized a team to enter the mountain. Their team was very strange. Most of them were boys and girls who were personally chosen by the old monster. I suspect there is something wrong with it. I've contacted our people and arranged a meeting."

After Gardiner finished speaking, he continued to look at the beautiful women on the roadside.

It had to be said that the appearance of Gardiner, a mature man, was really popular. Along the way, many open-minded beauties took the initiative to throw themselves at Gardiner. Some bold women would take the initiative to say hello to Gardiner.

However, Gardiner didn't pay attention to others who were talking to him. He just pretended to be cool.

Looking at Gardiner's anxious eyes, Henry knew very well that Gardiner didn't deliberately pretend to be cool. He just couldn't understand their language.

Chapter 1302

They came to a bar decorated in the Antiquity Country style.

At the door of the bar, Henry saw a sacrificial ceremony. It was probably a group of people who were paying their respects to a god and painting a huge image of Apollo across the street.

The Sun God, Apollo, was the legendary God of Light, the God of Prediction in the Antiquity Country myths. At the same time, he was also the god that could prevent disasters and solve problems and the protector of human civilization.

Among the gods in the myths, Apollo was without a doubt the one with the most believers.

There was a hubbub of voices in the bar, and a foreign beauty was twisting her waist on the stage.

Several of Yan Xia's faces were especially eye-catching in the bar.

"Oh, boss, you're finally here."

Seeing Gardiner enter the door, several people from Yan Xia immediately came over.

"It seems that you all are having a good time here. Is there anything fun? Tell me about it." Gardiner put his arm around their shoulders.

The group of people laughed and headed for the depths of the bar.

Henry followed Gardiner.

They came to a small private room in the bar. After the music was turned to the maximum, they began to talk in a low voice.

In total, together with Henry, there were nine people, both men and women.

"How is the situation now?" After entering the room, Gardiner took off his suit jacket and casually sat on the sofa with his legs crossed.

"There are two things." An old member of Section Nine spoke up. "Our two teams entered the God Mountain and haven't been contacted yet. The latest one went in last night. We lost contact this morning, and now no one knows what's going on there."

Gardiner frowned slightly. "What's the other thing?"

"That old monster asked the person in charge to find him two hundred boys and two hundred girls. He's planning to go to the God Mountain tonight and do something to appease the anger of the deities. I don't think he's up to something good. The princess of the Antiquity Country, Anna, doesn't want to marry that old monster. She ran away this morning, and now everyone is looking for Anna."

"Smart girl." Gardiner nodded. "It makes me uncomfortable thinking of that old monster marrying such a beautiful woman."

"It's not normal." Henry shook his head.

When Henry spoke, most people looked at him, and a few others looked at Gardiner. They were curious who Henry was.

"A friend of mine. Listen to him. He knows a lot about Antiquity Country and is willing to be our guide." Gardiner did not reveal Henry's identity.

Henry said, "I know Anna. She invited me to dinner several times and I went to see her room. She is very superstitious about the gods. If the old monster is regarded as a messenger of the gods, although Anna will be unwilling, it's absolutely impossible for her to escape from marriage. She must have found something."

After Henry finished speaking, everyone in the Section Nine looked at Henry blankly. Their eyes made Henry confused.

"Boss, are you sure that this person is smart?" A man came to Gardiner's ear.

"Yes, he said that he had been to Princess Anna's residence, the princess' bedroom. Is anyone allowed to enter it as they wished?"

"Yes, only two kinds of people can enter Princess Anna's palace. One is a woman, and the other is the future husband of Princess Anna. Did he say he had been to Princess Anna's room?"

"I've never heard of a man who can enter Princess Anna's room."

The people in Section Nine did not believe in Henry, but Gardiner was full of envy. He knew Henry's identity. Henry was known as the King of Hell and was as famous as God. Princess Anna was his fan! It turned out that the woman who was known as the most beautiful woman in the world had been controlled by this beast! Gardiner felt sad again.

The voices of the participants in the Section Nine were also heard by Henry.

Henry did not explain and continued, "I think that since Anna has run away, we can start with her. Anna has definitely found out that there is something wrong with the old monster. We just need to find her and ask her, and then it will be all right."

"It's easy to say," a member of the Section Nine said, "not to mention whether what you said is true or false. No one knows where Princess Anna fled her wedding and went to this time. What makes you think you can find Princess Anna? And what makes you sure that Princess Anna will say anything and believe you if you ask?"

Henry smiled and said, "You don't have to worry about whether she will believe me or not. But how to find Princess Anna? If you don't have any clue, I'm afraid that you are here on vacation and not on a business trip."

Henry's words immediately aroused a group of anger.

"What did you say?" All the Section Nine members looked at Henry, and one of them shouted at him.

Henry shrugged his shoulders, leaned back to his seat, and looked at Gardiner.

How could Gardiner not understand Henry's meaning? He frowned and asked in a stern voice, "Do you know where she is?"

"This..." Several members of the Section Nine looked back and forth at each other.

"Boss, we don't know when Princess Anna ran away. As for her whereabouts, we don't know where to start either." One of them said with a sad face.

"Trash." Gardiner slapped on the table, which made all the people in the Section Nine shocked. They all stood up and lowered their heads.

Although Gardiner was like a playboy when he was with Henry at ordinary times, he was still very dignified in the eyes of the members of the Section Nine, especially when he was angry. Those people didn't even dare to breathe.

Henry sighed. The members of the Section Nine were not risking their lives. The advantage of this system was that they followed the rules very much. But the bad point was that they were too good at following the rules and didn't know how to adapt. If a Reaper was asked to inquire about the news, Henry was sure that they would be able to clearly report to him the colour of Princess Anna's underwear, let alone such a small matter as whereabouts.

"Forget it, come with me. I should know where Anna is." Henry got up and said to Gardiner. Then he opened the door of the room and went out.

Gardiner didn't say anything. He got up and followed Henry.

The remaining members of Section Nine looked at Henry with displeasure. If this person hadn't mentioned this matter, their boss wouldn't have gone to ask about Princess Anna's whereabouts. As for Henry finding Princess Anna? They didn't believe that he, a person who had just arrived there, could find Princess Anna. The people sent by the authorities to find her were all fools, weren't they?

However, even if they didn't believe it, they still followed Henry without saying a word because Gardiner was there. But they were all waiting to see Henry make a fool of himself.

Out of the bar, Henry led the way and walked in a very specific direction.

Gardiner got close to Henry and whispered, "Be honest with me. What did you do in Princess Anna's bedroom? You're too shameless!"

"She dragged me there. What could I do?" Henry rolled his eyes.

Chapter 1303

"Dragged you?"

Gardiner shook his body and said with grief and indignation, "It's true that heaven has no eyes! As expected, the more outstanding a person is, the less luck he will have."

Henry ignored Gardiner and strode forward.

They passed through more than half of the capital of Antiquity Country and came to a place that looked like a slum.

The slum here was built in the mountain. Looking from the foot of the mountain to the hillside, many shelter houses were built everywhere. A gust of wind blew over, bringing a foul smell. The people who lived here had to find a place to settle it. All kinds of clothes were hung all over the mountain. The children who were running back and forth on the hillside were muddy. They didn't care at all.

Henry had been used to this kind of scene for a long time.

The poor and rich could be divided into two extremely serious groups. This was something that could happen everywhere.

It was dusk, and the sun fell on the mountainside.

"Are you sure that Princess Anna is here?" Gardiner looked at the slums. In this place, there was no law at all. Not to mention the noble status of Princess Anna, even a young and beautiful woman would be coveted by others at the first sight when she came here.

"If she didn't have an accident, she will be here." Henry lifted his leg and walked into the slum.

The people of the Section Nine, who followed behind, all curled their lips. Even Gardiner, who knew Henry's identity, could not believe that Princess Anna lived here, let alone them.

A small house made of brick, tile, and cloth was located in the slum.

The roof of the small house was directly covered with rags, and the entrance was also blocked by a layer of cloth. The room was only a dozen square metres big, and only a bed was placed there.

It was pitch-dark in the room. At the corner, a pair of big bright eyes were blinking in the darkness.

All of a sudden, the rags in front of the small house were torn off.

Three shirtless men, in their forties, appeared at the door of the house with a dirty look on their faces. Three people were drunk and had obviously drunk a lot.

The light of dusk came from outside the room and shone in the room. The owner of that pair of bright, big eyes also appeared in the sight of the three men.

The owner of this pair of large bright eyes had long golden hair. It was as soft as a waterfall as it descended.

Her fair skin was so tender that one could feel it just by looking at it.

She had a face without any flaws, perfect facial features, a high nose, and a small mouth. Anyone who took a picture of her from any angle would put her on the cover of a magazine. She was like an elf who had fallen into the human world. No, she did not fall, but just descended to the human world.

This was a girl who seemed to be in her early twenties. She wore a long golden dress and curled up on the old hard bed. Her beautiful eyes revealed a look of fear, which directly hit people's hearts. People couldn't help but have a desire to protect her, but most of the time, men wanted to be with her.

The three middle-aged men seemed to have had a purpose long ago. When they saw the girl on the bed, they all smiled, revealing their mouths full of yellow teeth and emitting the smell of alcohol.

"Little beauty, so you're hiding here. It was really hard for us to find you." A person swayed his body and entered the house. He sized up the woman on the bed carefully from top to bottom.

"After looking for so many homes, we finally found you." Another man licked his lips. "Girl, I'll make you feel so comfortable tonight."

"Come on, I can't wait any longer." The third person squeezed his way into the room.

The three of them surrounded the woman on the bed, looking at her up and down unscrupulously.

This kind of crude house could not stop the three of them. The sound spread out, but no one would care about it. In the slum where there was not enough food to eat, who had the time to care about other people's business?

A man stretched out his dirty big hand and grabbed the woman's skirt hem.

"Let go!" The girl suddenly shouted, "Open your eyes wide and see who I am! Do you want your heads to be cut off?"

The woman's voice was really shocking to the three drunk people.

The man who grabbed the skirt hem of the woman subconsciously let go, and the three drunkards looked at the woman carefully.

One of them suddenly trembled and pointed at the woman. "You... you... you're Princess Anna!"

"Princess Anna? She's Princess Anna?" The other person suddenly became much soberer. "Why is Princess Anna here?"

"It's good that you know it. Get out of here!" Anna shouted again.

The three drunkards shivered and subconsciously walked towards the door. However, they had only taken two steps when they stopped in unison.

Anna, who was just relieved in her heart, looked nervous again when she saw the three people who stopped.

The drunkard leading the way turned his head and looked at Anna. "I suddenly remembered. Princess Anna, you ran out of the palace on your own, didn't you? Majesty has sent people to look for you everywhere. You're going to marry that old guy."

"Tut, tut, you are going to marry that old guy. Why don't we help you to enjoy the beauty of being a woman first?"

"That old fellow is definitely not as good as the three of us, haha."

The three people were dazzled by her beauty. They looked as if they did not care about Anna's status. Once again, they gave her a wretched smile.

"Aren't you afraid of death?" Anna wanted to step back, but there was nowhere for her to retreat since she had shrunk in the corner.

"Death? We do not have enough to eat," said a drunkard, "so why would we care if we die? But before we die, we should enjoy a royal princess."

"Hahaha, Your Highness, let's have some fun today."

With these words, the three drunkards lunged at Anna.

Anna put her small hand on her abdomen, where she hid a short blade.

When Anna was about to pull out her dagger to stab the nearest person, she saw that the eyes of the three people suddenly became dull, and the three people seemed to be frozen, and their movements of pouncing suddenly stopped.

"Princess Anna, I'm Gardiner. I'm honoured to serve you." A voice rang out, and three drunkards fell to the ground, revealing Gardiner, who was dressed in suits and tie. Gardiner made an elegant gentleman's salute and said, "Miss Anna, will you be willing to accept my kiss?"

"Princess Anna, are you alright?" Two of the female members of the Section Nine immediately charged forward. "Miss Anna, we are from the Section Nine of Yan Xia."

"Yan Xia?" Anna seemed to be a little excited when she heard these two words. "You..."

"Alright, enough chitchat. Don't you know what kind of situation you're in?" Henry walked in and glared at Anna. "Let's move to another place to talk."

The moment Anna heard Henry's voice, she froze in shock.

Gardiner couldn't stop rolling his eyes. "Is this his attitude toward the goddess? This kid is really wild!" 