

Chapter 539

Henry looked at this scene. A long time ago, he and his brothers would also sit in such a barbecue restaurant, drinking beer, bragging, and discussing which table was full of beautiful girls. It had been a long time since they did that.

The foreman Henry asked people to find was on this bar street, and also in the most prominent bar.

Henry looked at the door of the bar. The big sign "Mango" was particularly conspicuous in the night sky. This was the largest bar on the whole street. The consumption inside was absolutely high. The price of a small bottle of beer was more than 25, and the basic price of a fruit plate was more than 300 yuan. If people wanted to have a nice time, then they would spend 3000 at least.

In front of the bar, there were two rows of beautiful women in front of the door. They all wore red cheongsam, which allowed them to show their thighs, catching people's attention.

When Henry came to the door of the bar, the girls all bowed in unison.

"Hello, boss."

The door of the bar was pushed open, and a beautiful figure rushed out of it and hit straight into Henry's arms.

"I'm sorry, I'm sorry!" This beautiful figure did not even have the time to lift her head. After hurriedly apologizing, she quickly ran out of the door.

Henry pulled her back.

"Let me go!" The beautiful figure pilled her arm violently, but she couldn't get rid of Henry's hand at all. Then she raised her head and stared at Henry. "Brother-in-law?"

"What's wrong? Why are you in such a mess?" Henry looked at the woman in front of him. The person who rushed out of the bar in a hurry was Daisy's good friend, the long-legged beauty, Lam Sun.

"Brother-in-law, I..." Lam stroked her messy hair on her forehead and avoided his eyes.

A burst of abuse came from the bar.

"You b*tch, how dare you run away? Have you forgotten who got your father out of jail?" It was a middle-aged woman's voice.

Henry turned his head and saw a woman in a relatively luxurious dress running out with her hands on her hips.

As soon as Lam saw the woman, she lowered her head immediately.

The woman pushed open the bar's door and looked at Henry up and down. When she saw Henry's ordinary clothes, she suddenly showed disdain in her eyes. She said to Lam, "Come on, come in with me and propose a toast to Boss Chen!"

"Auntie, I really can't drink anymore." Lam waved to the woman.

"You can't drink? You're a model. You can't drink? Then what else can you do? Come with me!" The woman said and grabbed at Lam's arm.

Henry clearly saw that Lam was very resistant in her heart, but she did not dare to dodge and let the woman grab her arm.

The woman pulled Lam hard and wanted to pull her into the bar, but she found out she couldn't. When she looked again, she found that the young man in front of her was grabbing Lam.

"Who the h*ll are you? Let go of her hand!" The woman yelled at Henry.

"Who are you?" Henry frowned.

"Who am I?" The woman sneered. "I'm her mother. What's wrong? I have to teach my daughter a lesson. Does it have anything to do with you?"

Henry looked at Lam doubtfully. Just now, he heard with his own ears that Lam called the woman aunt.

"Brother-in-law, this is my stepmother," Lam explained in a low voice.

Lam's voice was very low, but the woman heard it clearly. She said unhappily on the spot, "What's wrong? The stepmother is still your mom. If it weren't for me, your father would have died long ago! And, you call him brother-in-law? Why don't I remember you have a sister?"

"What did she call me has nothing to do with you." Henry glared at Lam's stepmother. "Are you forcing her to drink with others?"

"What does it have to do with you? Who are you? It's not your business to take care of our family's affairs." Lam's stepmother spat at Henry's feet and then said to Lam, "I'm telling you, your father can stay out of prison because of me. If I'm unhappy, I'll destroy him, then let's see who can save him? Think it over!"

"I..." Lam opened her mouth, and there was a struggle in her eyes. She looked at Henry and said, "Brother-in-law, I have to go with my mother."

After Lam finished speaking, she shook off Henry's hand and took small steps toward the bar.

Lam's stepmother glared at Henry and walked into the bar.

Looking at Lam's back, Henry didn't know what to say. Everyone had their own life track. He couldn't care about anyone. If he didn't show up here today, what would happen to Lam? Everything was not so coincidental. If Lam just asked Henry to help her, Henry wouldn't refuse. After all, they knew each other, but Lam didn't ask. This was also what Lam chose.

In this world, there were only a few people who lived unrestrainedly, and everyone was paying for it.

Lam's stepmother took Lam and walked to the elevator. At the same time, she said, "Boss Chen's status is very high. Boss Chen has done many major projects in our province. Some time ago, the Family Lin and the Zhao family in Yinzhou had already looked for Boss Chen. If you don't make Boss Chen happy this time, just wait for the consequence!"

"I understand." Lam nodded, her eyes dimmed.

"You'd cheer up and smile happily. Don't forget who gave you money to learn how to model at that time. You just to leave a good impression on Boss Chen. Then we will have the opportunity to contact the big enterprise like Lins Group. Do you know what it means? I wouldn't need to wear these fake clothes anymore! I wouldn't need to rent an Audi and fear of scratching it. Your father wouldn't have to be afraid of being hurt every day!"

"But, if you really want to get in touch with Lins Group, brother-in-law, he..."

Before Lam finished her words, she was interrupted by her stepmother.

"All right, that kind of poor guy, don't mention him in front of me. My time is limited, and I don't have the mood to pay attention to this kind of guy!"

"Ding!" The elevator reached the first floor, and the door opened. Lam's stepmother took Lam into the elevator and pressed the number for the fifth floor.

There were only three private rooms on the fifth floor in this Mango bar. The lowest consumption of this private room was 50,000 yuan. Those who afford it were quite prominent people in Luohe city.

When the elevator door was about to close, Henry squeezed in. Lam's stepmother looked at Henry with a disgusted look. She took two steps back as if it was a shame for her to be close to Henry.

When Lam saw Henry entering the elevator, she quickly lowered her head and did not dare to look at Henry.

Henry looked at Lam and did not speak.

The elevator went up, and soon it was on the fifth floor. As soon as the door was opened, Lam's stepmother took Lam out of the elevator. In the elevator, she stayed with Henry for more than a minute, and she felt like she was suffering.

Chapter 540

Lam's stepmother pulled Lam, left the elevator quickly and walked toward the room.

There was only one private room full of people on the fifth floor of the whole bar.

Henry remembered that what Lam's stepmother said just now was that the man he was looking for was also surnamed Chen. Could it be the same person?

Lam's stepmother took Lam back to the private room.

The size of this room was at least 50 square meters. The room was filled with loud music, and all kinds of lights glittered in the room. The table was full of wine and fruit plates, and more than a dozen beautiful girls were sitting in the room.

A fat middle-aged man was sitting in the middle of the sofa in the private room hugging two girls on his left and right.

"Boss, let's have another drink."

"Let me toast you."

Two young girls snuggled up in the arms of the middle-aged man, holding a glass of wine and kept looking at the middle-aged man with their eyes.

"Go and toast to Boss Chen!" Lam's stepmother pushed Lam.

Lam staggered two steps and came to the front of Boss Chen. She stroked her hair on the temples and picked up the wine glass. "Boss Chen, I propose a toast to you."

"Oh? I thought you didn't want to drink with me and run away." Boss Chen sneered and looked at Lam with his eyes full of possessiveness.

Although there were so many beautiful girls in the room, Lam was absolutely outstanding. With the attributes of a model, her long legs were absolutely a deadly weapon that attracted men, especially middle-aged men like Boss Chen.

"Boss, what are you talking about?" Lam's stepmother immediately came up and said, "This girl just felt a little uncomfortable. She went out to get some fresh air and came back to accompany you immediately."

After Lam's stepmother finished speaking, she pushed Lam again, so that Lam could get closer to the boss.

"Haha." Boss Chen laughed loudly. "So, this beautiful lady wants to have a drink with me? Then don't stand so far away from me. Let's drink and sit closer!"

After the boss said that, he grabbed Lam's arm and pulled her into his arms.

Lam subconsciously wanted to resist, but she was not as strong as the boss. She was directly pulled into his arms.

Looking at the woman in front of him, the boss narrowed his eyes and unconsciously reached out his hands to grab Lam.

Lam trembled all over. Seeing that Boss Chen's hand was getting closer and closer to her, she wanted to resist, but she dared not.

"Bang!" The door of the room was kicked open from the outside.

Henry appeared at the door.

Henry glanced at all the people in the room, and finally fixed his eyes on Boss Chen. Henry recognized him at a glance. This was the person he was looking for, Robin Chen.

When Henry received his location, he also received his photo.

Henry's sudden appearance stunned Robin. While he was in a daze, Lam took this opportunity to stand up and stay away from Robin.

Lam's stepmother frowned and stared at Henry. "Why are you here? Is this where you came? Lam, tell him to get out!"

Lam's stepmother thought that Henry came to look for Lam.

Lam looked at Henry and said, "Brother-in-law."

Henry didn't even look at Lam's stepmother. He nodded to Lam and then strode to the front of Robin, looking down at Robin who was sitting on the sofa.

"Boy, who the f*ck are you?" Robin stared at Henry with a look of dissatisfaction. "Do you know who I am?"

Henry nodded. "I know."

"Do you know..." When Robin was about to curse, Henry grabbed his hair and smashed his head on the tea table in front of him. As Henry smashed his powerful head on the tea table, a sound of glass breaking was heard, and the tea-table was broken entirely.

The women in the room did not expect such a scene to happen. They screamed in unison.

Henry grabbed Robin's hair. Robin's face was covered with glass fragments, looking particularly horrible.

"Say it, who order you to start the construction work on that piece of land?" Henry stared at Robin.

When Robin heard this, fear suddenly appeared in his eyes. "You... you are from Lin's!"

Henry did not talk nonsense with Robin. He picked up a wine glass and smashed it on Robin's head. At the same time, the wine glass was broken, and the blood flowed down from his forehead.

Robin's head was full of blood with glass fragments, which made him look extremely scary.

"Say it!"

Lam's stepmother, who had just scolded Henry, was frightened by Henry's action. She slowly walked to Lam's side and pulled his sleeve. "How do you know such a person? A gangster? Is this your sister's brother-in-law? Do you have a sister?"

"No." Lam shook his head. "He is my roommate's brother-in-law. So we all call him brother-in-law."

"Who is your roommate's sister?" Lam's stepmother couldn't help asking.

"It's Sylvia, president of Lins Group," Lam answered.

"What!" Lam's stepmother's body shook. "Do you mean that this boy's wife is the president of Lins Group?"

"Yes." Lam nodded. "I just wanted to say that if you want to look for Lin's family, my brother-in-law is here."

Lam's stepmother swallowed hard, and her heart was filled with fear. She had just scolded the husband of the president of the Lins Group. If he really wanted to get even with her, what could she do?

Robin was caught in Henry's hands, and his legs kept shaking. He had been hiding for a long time, and he also learned about the matter that someone had smashed Lin's family. It had been almost a month since he dared to show up, but he didn't expect that Lin's family would find him as soon as he came out. This Lin's family was too horrible.

Henry saw that Robin remain silent. He picked up another glass and said, "I'll give you a choice. Either say the name or you will eat this glass. My patience is limited. Choose!"

Robin subconsciously looked at the glass in Henry's hand. According to Henry's action from entering the door until now, he did not doubt that this young man was a ruthless person. Thinking of the scene of the glass being stuffed into his mouth, Robin couldn't help but shiver. If he really ate the glass, would he still be alive? If he said who it was, he would definitely be found by others. But if he didn't say it, he had to die now. Robin made a choice on the spot.

With a bitter face, Robin said, "It's... it's the Zhao's Group who asked me to do it. They said that as long as I dig there, they will give me five million yuan. Big brother, I'm just a nobody, and I'm acting according to the order."

"Zhao's Group!" Henry snorted. He guessed at that time, but now it seemed that it was true. He asked Robin, "Where is the evidence?"

"I have, I have." With a shiver, he took out his mobile phone.

Chapter 541

On the cell phone that was taken out by Robin, there was a video that showed the scene when the Zhao family sent someone to look for him.

Seeing this video, Henry was relieved. He didn't want this evidence to cause trouble for the Zhao family, but to make sure that there was no one else to intervene in this matter.

"Big Brother, it's not my fault. If I didn't do it, there would be others who would do it. I'm just a nobody. I can't refuse the Zhao family's orders." Robin begged for mercy repeatedly.

Henry snorted and kicked twice in a row at Robin's leg.

A noticeable "crack" sound came from Robin's leg. He was still standing there, screaming like a pig being killed. He knelt down on the spot. Henry's kick broke both of his calves.

Henry would not let such a person go easily. When he left, someone would choose a place to bury him.

Henry shook his hand, turned around and walked out of the room without looking Robin again.

When he was about to leave, Henry stopped and looked at Lam. "By the way, do you want to go back to Yinzhou? You can come with me?"

"Yes, yes, she will go back." Before Lam could say anything, Lam's stepmother repeatedly said with a face of flattery. Her look changed entirely. At the same time, she kept winking at Lam.

He was the husband of the president of the Lins Group. As Lam's stepmother, for sure she only wanted to use her stepdaughter so she could make some benefits for herself, no matter how small those benefits would be.

Seeing her stepmother, Lam looked at Henry with embarrassment.

Henry didn't even look at Lam's stepmother and said, "Then let's go back together."

After Henry finished speaking, he walked out of the room.

Lam's stepmother saw that Lam was still stunned, so she quickly pushed her. "Why are you still in a daze? Hurry up and follow him. Let me tell you. This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. No matter how many people want it, they can't get it. You have to cherish it. Do you hear me? If you can catch this man, you will be rich for the rest of your life!"

"Auntie, brother-in-law is not the kind of person you think." Lam said.

"Pfft." Lam's stepmother curled her lip scornfully. "What kind of person is he? All men in the world are the same, and they all love you. I know that president of Lins Group is a beautiful woman, but so what? Men all like the new and hate the old, and they will get bored with beauties as long as they see them too much. You also want to change your attitude. As long as you take the initiative, there will be absolutely no problem. Don't forget. Your father still owes a lot of money. Now so many people are looking for him. You don't want your father to go to prison again! Then go quickly!"

After Lam's stepmother finished, she didn't want to listen to what Lam said, so she hurriedly pushed Lam out of the room.

Outside the room, Henry was no longer there. There was an arrow on the lift, and the number turned into one, which proved that Henry had just taken the elevator downstairs.

When Lam left the bar, Henry had already called a car and waited for her.

"Let's go. It's so late now. You won't be able to sleep for long. You still have classes tomorrow." Henry sat in the car and waved to Lam.

Lam nodded and sat in the car.

As soon as she got on the car, Lam remembered what her stepmother said just now and blushed.

Lam had to admit that she was a little moved. She knew her family very well. She was willing to drink with Boss Chen. Now she changed the subject to Henry, which made her feel a bit more willing to do the things. After all, in terms of appearance, ability, and feeling, Henry was much better than others. Even if she didn't know him, Henry's identity was also a trendy object for women.

"Do you know what a friend is?" Henry's voice came from the side.

"Ah?" Lam was shocked, wondering why Henry suddenly said this.

"Friend is the one who drags you out when you are falling in the hole. I don't know what happened to you. You have several friends, and they all have the ability to help you solve your problems. You have made your own choice before asking for help. It's not that you don't want to make trouble for them, but you didn't regard them as your friends. I suggest that you can talk to your friends when you encounter such things." Henry leaned on his seat and said softly, "I also have friends. I have helped them, and they have also helped me. We don't think it's a burden to help each other." 27.

After Henry finished speaking, he closed his eyes and leaned against his seat to take a nap. He didn't know if Lam could understand his words. People always needed to grow up to understand something. If she couldn't, it meant that she still needed to grow up. This was a process of transformation that she had to go through.

By the time Henry returned to Yinzhou, it was already past three o'clock in the morning.

It was so late at night that Lam couldn't go into the dormitory. Henry paid a hotel room for Lam. After sending Lam to the hotel, he left.

About the problem with Zhao's Group, Henry had to think about it carefully. After all, he was different from the past. He was no longer alone, and he had to consider some consequences when he did things. Since Zhao's Group knew the existence of the Li family of the Longxi, it would not be as simple as it seemed.

Henry didn't go home, nor did he go to the hospital. Today's battle in Li's Village helped him find a new way to use Qi. During this time, he had to get familiar with it.

There was no one in the night. Henry came to the park where he had met Robert Lin for the first time. He took a deep breath and began to practise from the most basic straight punch.

Henry's punches and kicks began from the basics. He carefully felt the change of the Qi in each of his movements. At this moment, he seemed to be a rookie who had just started to practice.

Henry's movements became faster and faster as he punched and kicked. If someone saw Henry now, he would undoubtedly open his mouth wide. There was a stream of airflow around Henry's body. As Henry's movements began, the fallen leaves on the ground were also affected and were lifted up. He seemed to be like a kungfu master in the TV series.

Gradually, Henry also sank into it and quietly felt that every new discovery made him ecstatic.

By the time Henry recovered from his obsession, it was already dawn. Some people in the park had morning exercise. Fortunately, there were not many people, so no one had found Henry. Otherwise, Henry would have been on the headlines.

Looking at the time, it was six o'clock in the morning. Henry felt that it had been only ten minutes since he started practising. He didn't expect that it had been nearly three hours.

He found a breakfast place and had breakfast. When he was about to take a taxi to the hospital, Sylvia called him.

"Honey, Jenny has woken up."

Chapter 542

The news that Jenny woke up was undoubtedly exciting.

Even if Henry had already known that Jenny was not injured, he was still worried about her when she was unconscious. Henry could wake her up, but he would rather not do that. After all, sleeping was a self-defence mechanism of the human body's.

After buying breakfast, Henry rushed to the hospital and came to the ward.

As soon as he entered the ward, Henry saw Jenny sitting on the bed. Although her face was still a little pale, she was much ruddier than before.

"Henry..." Jenny called out Henry's name as soon as she saw him enter the room.

"How do you feel?" Henry walked to the bedside, grabbed Jenny's wrist and felt her pulse.

After finding out that Jenny's pulse had completely stabilized, Henry breathed a sigh of relief.

"You've had a hard time these days."

As soon as Henry said this, he felt that someone was pulling him behind him. When he looked back, he saw Sylvia continually giving him a wink.

Henry had a puzzled look on his face.

Sylvia opened her mouth but didn't say anything. She just moved her lips without making a sound.

Henry clearly saw that what Sylvia said was, "Don't mention it."

As soon as Henry turned his head, he saw Jenny cower in the corner in horror, trembling all over.

This scene made Henry's heart skip a beat. What he was most afraid of now was that this matter left a psychological shadow on Jenny. As long as an average person was locked in a cage like this and their hands and feet were locked by iron chains, and the meals were all served in the cage, treating them like a beast, it would cause some psychological problems to them.

Sylvia patted Henry on the shoulder and motioned Henry to go away. She sat down at the bedside, gently hugged Jenny's shoulder, and said softly, "Okay, it's all right. It's all right. Henry is here. Come on, let's have breakfast first."

Sylvia gave Henry a wink, and Henry quickly handed over a bowl of porridge.

The remaining warmth on the porridge in Jenny's palm of her hand gave out a sense of security. Under Sylvia's soft voice, Jenny's trembling slowly subsided, but her breathing was still short.

Henry looked at Jenny, who was huddled up in the corner of the hospital bed. She used to be a cheerful woman, but now she became like this, she couldn't even speak.

Henry couldn't help but clench his fists. He wouldn't let the Li family off so easily. As long as he figured out how to use the Spiritual Stones, he could significantly improve the strength of the island. At that time, he would settle the matter with the Li family!

"Honey, have breakfast first. I'll go to President Ma's." Henry took a deep breath and walked out of the ward.

As soon as he walked out of the ward, Henry saw President Ma walking towards him.

"Young doctor, you are back. It's just the right time. I have to show you this." President Ma took a report from his hand and handed it to Henry.

Henry looked at what was written in the report and frowned. "Neurasthenia?"

"Yes." President Ma nodded. "During this period, Miss Qin suffered too much psychological pressure and was seriously injured. Today, when Miss Qin just woke up, we arranged for the best nerve physician to give a diagnose. No external force can cure this kind of nerve damage. We can only rely on Miss Qin herself."

"I see." Henry returned the report to President Ma. "Is there any other problems?"

"To ensure that there is no problem, we have checked her with the most precise instruments. Now, let's see when Ms. Qin can get rid of this shadow. This matter, ah, it's hard to say."

President Ma shook his head helplessly, and his eyes were full of regret.

"Thank you for your effort, President Ma." Henry patted on his shoulder. "Please find someone to complete the discharge procedure. The colour of the hospital's walls is too monotonous. It's not good for Jenny's illness. I intend to let her leave the hospital first."

"Okay, I'll leave it to someone." President Ma responded and turned to leave.

Henry stood at the door of the ward and looked at Jenny, who was sitting on the edge of the bed and drinking the porridge slowly. He felt a sharp pain in his heart.

With the help of President Ma, the discharge formalities were completed very quickly. Henry was responsible for driving the car and took Jenny home with Sylvia.

Jenny lived in an ordinary residential area. The house was not big, and the decoration was very warm. She had not come back for a long time, and there was a lot of dust around the house. Under Sylvia's command, Henry once again served as a houseman, helping Jenny clean up the house.

"President Lin, thank you for taking care of me." Jenny made tea for Henry and Sylvia.

"Don't even mention it." Sylvia waved her hand repeatedly.

Henry felt relieved when he saw Jenny gradually getting used to the situation. The two of them didn't stay here much longer. Knowing that Jenny still needed to rest now, they left.

When they got out of Jenny's house and got into the car, Sylvia asked, "Honey, what's wrong with President Qin? I feel that something is wrong with her."

"It's neurasthenia." Henry sighed. "This matter harmed her a lot. She can only count on herself now. No one can help her with mental problems."

Sylvia looked up and glanced at Jenny's window. She shook her head slightly, and her eyes were filled with pity. She had heard about Jenny's treatment. A woman was treated like this. Sylvia had thought that if this thing were to happen to her, she would probably have collapsed. Jenny's spirit was already more powerful than many people.

At the moment when people were locked in the cage, they couldn't see any hope. They didn't know when someone would come to save and didn't know what they would suffer next. These unknown things would make people go crazy.

"Honey, do you know any good psychologist who can help President Qin." Sylvia sounded a little worried.

"I've already contacted someone, and they will come over. Honey, you didn't rest well last night. Go back and rest first." Henry started the car, and the two left.

On the top floor of Zhao's Building.

"Second Master, I've received news that the kid from the Su Family went to Li's village yesterday and brought out the woman from Hengyuan. It seems that the commotion was quite big." A young man stood in front of President Zhao.

President Zhao sat on a large sofa, holding a newspaper and reading it carefully. More than ten minutes later, President Zhao put down the newspaper and said, "A successor of the Su Family. Oh, no, yesterday the Su Family held the inauguration ceremony. This guy should be the leader of the Su Family. A leader of the Su Family could bring people out of the Li family, even if it were only a small branch of the Li family. It seems that this guy has a lot of people behind him."

The young man stood aside with his head lowered. "Second Master, lot of forces went to Su family yesterday. It is said that even Radiant Island has sent a gift."

Chapter 543

"Radiant Island?" President Zhao stood up and walked to the huge French window. "The Holy Land in the eyes of the underground forces, even they have come out to present their gifts?"

"Second Master, it can't be..." The young man stood behind President Zhao and wanted to say something but stopped on second thought.

"No." President Zhao directly denied the young man's guess. "The major clans are now busy with the latest rankings, so they won't show up casually. The arrival of Radiant Island can't have anything to do with the clans behind the Su Family."

"Second Master, can we..." The young man made a gesture of holding the knife.

"No." President Zhao shook his head. "Even though comparing to the clans Radiant Island is nothing, but it's still the most powerful force of the underground world. It's not a simple matter. Those Dendrobium Officinale are essential to me. They can decide whether I can go back to my clan. Let's do it this way. You visit Radiant Island with your people."

President Zhao said as he took out an exquisite wooden box in his hands. The box exuded a fragrant smell. There was a precious sword carved on the box. The box alone was expensive.

He opened the wooden box and saw a wilted leaf lying in it. The leaf already fell apart and could be blown away by a little breeze.

After taking a look at the dried leaf, President Zhao carefully put the wooden box away and handed it to the young man.

"My father met with Mr. Peze, the major-domo of Radiant Island in the early years, and helped him a little. This leaf is the token that Mr. Peze gave my father that year. With this leaf, you should be able to see Mr. Peze and ask about the relationship between Radiant Island and the Su Family."

"Understood." The young man accepted the wooden box handed over by President Zhao as if it were a priceless treasure, and then slowly left the room.

President Zhao stood alone in the room, pacing back and forth. "I don't know what kind of luck you have to come in contract with Radiant Island, but I don't think that Radiant Island can go against the Zhao family for such a small role like you. Behind me is the Zhao clan!"

After Henry returned home with Sylvia, both of them had a good sleep. When they opened their eyes, it was already past four o'clock in the afternoon. They had slept for more than six hours. It could be seen that both of them were very tired.

On the day of the inauguration of the family head, Sylvia had to put on makeup. She got up very early, and there were a lot of trivial things to do during the inauguration ceremony. She was exhausted, and she spent the night in the hospital last night, so she didn't have a good rest at all.

Henry even didn't sleep all night. He rushed back and forth and practised for several hours. Although his energy was far better than ordinary people, he still needed to rest.

When they got up and were still discussing what to eat at night, Nelson called and asked them to have dinner at Robert's place.

When Henry and Sylvia arrived at the Lin's Manor, Daisy and her mother, as well as Channing and his mother, were also there.

Everyone was familiar with each other. They greeted each other in a friendly way and then sat down.

"By the way, where is Grandpa?" Sylvia looked around but did not see Robert.

"He is in the field." Nelson reached out and pointed at it. "Your grandfather planted his own vegetables a while ago. This time, he said he would give us a taste of the organic food he planted."

Nelson's face was full of smiles as he spoke, and he couldn't help but glance at Henry.

More than three months ago, Robert was still sitting in a wheelchair, and he had made his will. But now, Robert was not only able to get up and walk, but he was also leisurely planting vegetables. His children wanted the old man to be healthy the most. All this was because of his son-in-law.

The more Nelson looked at Henry, the more satisfied he was. He felt that his choice to make him son-in-law was the right one.

"Then I'll go and help Grandpa pick some vegetables." Sylvia rolled up her sleeves and walked to the vegetable garden on the side.

Henry looked at Sylvia's jumping figure and smiled unconsciously. If he could, he really hoped to live like this every day. The family stayed together and laughing. His favourite person was by his side, but things would not go as he wished. Troubles always had their way of finding him.

Henry had just finished lamenting when he felt someone pulling him from behind. When he looked back, he saw Daisy standing behind him and looking at him strangely. "Brother-in-law, come with me. I have something to say to you."

After Daisy finished speaking, she walked to a place where there was no one nearby.

Henry looked at Daisy doubtfully. He always felt that there were a lot of things hidden in Daisy's eyes.

Henry came to Daisy's side. Before he could speak, he heard Daisy's voice, "Brother-in-law, are you having an affair?"

"What the h*ll!" Henry stamped his feet.

"Brother-in-law, tell me, I won't tell my sister." Daisy looked at Henry with complicated eyes. "What's the relationship between you and Lam?"

Henry rolled his eyes and was speechless. "What's the relationship between us?"

"Brother-in-law, just admit it!" Daisy stamped her feet anxiously. "Today's news has spread in the school. Last night, Lam entered the hotel with a strange man, and there was a video. They were all hung on the school's website. Although it was deleted in time, I still downloaded one."

Daisy took out her mobile phone and played a video for Henry.

In the video, it was the scene when Henry sent Lam to the hotel last night. It was him who walked into the hotel with Lam.

"Brother-in-law, look, it's you, isn't it?!"

"Yes, it's me." Henry nodded his head and admitted, "But does it show that I have cheated?"

"Oh my god! Brother-in-law, both of you went to get a room. What is it if it's not an affair?" Daisy said excitedly. After that, she realized that her voice was a little loud. Her big eyes rolled around, and she was relieved when she found that no one was paying attention to her.

Henry slapped Daisy's forehead lightly. "What do you think about all day? I met Lam in Luohe City yesterday and came back with her. The dormitory didn't let her in, so I paid a room for her."

"Ah?" Daisy was stunned. "You two didn't get in the room together."

"Bullsh*t!" Henry curled his lip and said, "You students don't think about studying at all. Why would you all just gossip about this?"

"It is not me who started this gossip." Daisy looked innocent. "Lam is the goddess of many boys in our school. After this incident, it was spread everywhere. Now everyone in the school said that Lam found a sugar daddy, and there are a few people who formed a team and said that you should be careful if you don't want them to break your legs."

"Tsk." Henry didn't care about it at all.

"By the way, brother-in-law, if you didn't have an affair, you have to go to our school." Daisy said, "As soon as the video came out today, Lam was called to talk by the director. If anything happens, it will have a great impact on her study."
