

Chapter 582

Of course, President Zhao would not have thought that the person he sent had been hypnotized by Cesia.

The hypnotizing method of Cesia was compelling, and she could make one person trust every word she said from the bottom of their hearts.

If a person wanted to lie to someone else, he had to first lie to himself. Deep inside, the young man in black was sure that the words Cesia said were said by Peze.

When President Zhao was sure that the words to deal with Lins were said by Peze, he smiled and said, "Well, in this case, the attack on Lins should be stronger!"

President Zhao walked to the desk, pressed a button on the table, and said, "Let those reporters go to Lins Group and make things big. By the way, also pay attention to the things at Yinzhou University. I will make that Henry Zhang lose his reputation! Threatening the reporters and having an affair with female college students. These things will cause enough headache for him!"

When Henry arrived at Yinzhou University, Daisy had been waiting at the gate of the university. Wade and Amy were with Daisy.

As soon as they saw Henry, the three of them hurried up.

"What's the situation now?" Henry didn't talk nonsense and asked directly.

"Brother-in-law, Daisy told us everything." Amy replied, "Now this matter has been exposed to the student affairs office. You know, this kind of thing has a very bad influence on the school. The director has published his statement and is going to dismiss Lam."

"So serious?" Henry frowned.

"Alas." Wade sighed. "In fact, it shouldn't be so serious. After all, there are quite a few people who have been taken care of as mistresses. And Lam also explained to the director that you were just sending her off to the hotel. This matter was gossiped about, and it was also on the campus's website. But I don't know why a lot of reporters came here yesterday afternoon and asked about it. It was a big problem. The director could only make such a choice under pressure."

"What about Lam?" Henry asked again.

"She is at the office, her mother also came, and now she is talking to the director." Daisy stretched out her hand and pointed at him. "Brother-in-law, let's go there now. You must give a statement about this matter. When the reporters report it, my sister will definitely know about it. But you don't have to worry, I will explain it to her."

"Okay." Henry nodded and followed Daisy and the other two to the student affairs office.

Along the way, Henry noticed that a lot of students were pointing at him. Henry knew what they were talking about without thinking. Since the video of that day had been spread online on the campus, the photos of him as the protagonist must have been spread everywhere.

Henry didn't care about these things at all.

Henry went all the way to the entrance of the office. Just as he was about to push the door open and enter, he heard a woman's voice coming inside.

"Director, I've told you clearly. That's my daughter's fiancé. My girl has reached the legal age of marriage. Is it wrong to spend time alone with her fiancé?"

The sound made Henry pause.

Through the window of the office, Henry saw that the person who spoke was Lam's stepmother.

"Fiancé? As far as I know, that man is the husband of the president of Lins Group, right?" The director of the student affairs office was a nearly 60-year-old bald man.

"So what?" Lam's stepmother put her hands on her hips. "Who says that people can't divorce and then get married again?"

"Auntie!" Lam stood aside and pulled her stepmother's sleeve with embarrassment. She didn't expect that her stepmother would say so.

"Well, lady, I don't want to argue with you about this issue. The other party has a wife. Now the matter is so big that it attracted the attention of the reporters. The school has to do something." The director waved his hand impatiently. "This matter must be explained."

As soon as the teaching director finished speaking, the door was pushed open.

"Explanation? What explanation do you need?" Henry strode in from the door.

When Lam's stepmother saw Henry, she was surprised. Lam actually made this person come forward, which proved that Lam was important to him.

Lam looked at Henry with an embarrassed face. "Brother-in-law, I'm sorry to bother you."

"Not at all." Henry waved his hand indifferently and stared at the teaching director. "If I took Lam to the hotel, does it violate the rules of your school? Which law says that I can't take her to the hotel?"

"Take her to the hotel?" The director looked at Henry with a disdainful smile. "It's totally different to take her to the hotel and spend the night in the hotel."

"Ha." Henry chuckled, pulled out a chair casually, sat down, crossed his legs, and said, "Tell me, how much did you get?"

The director's face changed. "What? How much did I get? Don't talk nonsense."

"What, you can talk nonsense, so why can't I?" Henry leaned against the chair and wiped his ears. "Since someone has given you some benefits, you should also know my identity. You should be able to think of the consequences of offending me. Do you really plan to offend me and play with me on this matter? Think about it clearly!"

Henry's words made the director's body tremble unconsciously.

Henry didn't need to pay attention to the expression of the director at all. He could also imagine that someone must have given him money. Otherwise, he could only think of suppressing this matter and would not take the initiative to say that Lam had done something illegal.

The director looked at Henry who was sitting there. Of course, he knew Henry's identity and the consequences of setting himself against Henry. But when he thought of the 500,000 yuan under the bed at home, he had to brace himself. "I'm just stating the facts."

"The facts?" Henry curled his lips contemptuously at these two words. "The fact should be that you have accepted other people's money and now trying to use this matter to attack me. Tell me, who gave you money, Zhao's Group, or some other company?"

Henry's first guess was Zhao's Group. In Yinzhou, except for the Zhao's Group, no group would be so active to go against the Lins Group. Moreover, because of what had happened to the Li family before, Zhao's Group had the most reason to make Henry suspicious.

The director's pupils shrank, and he couldn't help but sigh the horror of these big shots. He was far more sensitive than usual because the person who gave him money was from Zhao's Group.

"I don't understand what you are talking about. Before you question me, you should think about your own lifestyle. Your behaviour was cruel, and you behaved like a beast towards this student!" The director said with a righteous face.

"Well, since it doesn't make sense to you, then forget it." Henry got up from his seat and waved his hand indifferently. Then he said to Daisy and others, "Let's go. It's meaningless to stay here. Someone has accepted other people's bribe, and it's useless for us to say anything."

After Henry finished speaking, he walked out of the office.

Daisy and the others looked at each other and followed him out.

No next chapter.