

Chapter 583

As soon as Henry walked out of the university, he saw a large number of reporters rushing toward him.

Seeing this scene, Henry sneered. They were really well-prepared and waiting for him here.

"Mr. Zhang, how do you explain having a female university student as a mistress?"

"I heard that your relationship with Sylvia Lin was not the best. Is this true?"

"As the head of the largest enterprise in Yinzhou, do you have anything to say about having a mistress?"

Facing the reporter's numerous questions, Henry ignored them. He was very clear that these reporters were hired by others. No matter what he said, it was useless. Instead, his words would be magnified by some unclear points in the words by these reporters. It was the best not to say anything.

Moreover, Henry would not let things develop like this. Now Henry was very sure that the Zhao's Group had done it.

Originally, Henry intended to wait and see the attitude of the Zhao's Group. After all, the other party was involved with the clan.

But now, Henry was not ready to wait any longer. Last time, the Zhao's Group deliberately framed the Lins Group, and this time, they made so many troubles. Henry had seen many clans. Now, it seemed that only the Li family of the Longxi posed a threat to Henry. The other clans, like the Tang family, at this moment, were just like the ordinary underground organizations.

Wade's BMW was parked not far away. Henry got out of the campus and directly got in Wade's car. Daisy and others also got in the car and left the school.

As soon as the car left the school, Henry's cell phone rang.

Henry didn't need to look at his mobile phone at all. He knew who the caller was and directly threw the phone to Daisy in the back seat.

"Hello, sister, I'm with my brother-in-law. Well, that's it."

Daisy said two sentences, and then handed the phone back to Henry.

"How do you want to solve this problem? Now the officials have come. I'm afraid there are many people behind this matter." Sylvia's voice sounded on the phone. She was a sensible woman. She knew very well what was going on.

"Let's stall first. The other party is cautious," Henry replied.

The Zhao's Group had the support of a clan. If they wanted to attack the Zhao's Group, they couldn't do it randomly. They had to find a suitable reason.

After Henry hung up the phone, there was a hint of anger in his eyes. This kind of feeling of being overcautious made him particularly uncomfortable, and the nameless fire in his heart was rekindled.

In the president's office of Lins Group, a young man stood in front of Sylvia.

"Sylvia, that is the husband you found. Having an affair and threatening the safety of others? I'm afraid these will cause great harm to your company, right?"

"Ingram, I know clearly what my husband did." Sylvia looked at the young man impatiently.

This young man was 1.8 meters tall. He looked ordinary, but he was dressed very well. At first glance, it was evident that he was a rich man.

"Sylvia, I'm doing this for your own good. Now all the major media are staring at your Lins Group. All kinds of news are spreading. If it continues like this, the stock of Lins Group will drop in two or three days. According to the current trend, it's not an exaggeration to say that you will lose tens of millions yuan a day. This is all done by your good husband." Sitting on the sofa in Sylvia's office, Ingram crossed his legs.

Sylvia didn't look at him again and said directly, "If you are here to tell me this, please leave now."

"Ha, ha." Ingram laughed and did not care about Sylvia's impatient look at all. He said, "Sylvia, we are also old friends. I specially came from Anshi for this matter. First, I feel unworthy for you. Second, I want to make a deal with you. You know, our family has some influence in the media. Depending on our cooperation, this matter can be big or small."

Sylvia took a look at Ingram. She figured out that Ingram came to her because he was trying to blackmail her.

Sylvia pondered for a moment and said, "Tell me, how do you want to make a deal?"

Although Sylvia knew that if Ingram asked for it, it would be a big deal. But in the current situation, the Lins Group was indeed too passive. Just as Ingram said, now the Lins Group was rising up, and the stock tended to rise. If these negative news continued, it would take three days, or less, less than three days before they start losing money. It was likely that the stock of the Lins Group would be affected the day after tomorrow. At that time, the loss of every day would be close to 100 million!

After all, the business was like a battlefield. In the current situation of the Lins Group, a lot of people were keeping an eye on it. If something happened, there must be a lot of people who would kick the dog when it was down!

Ingram chuckled and said, "Sylvia, it's very simple."

Ingram stretched out three fingers and said, "For this price, I can help you to control the range of this news and limit the spreading, which is absolutely acceptable to you. What do you think?"

"Three hundred million yuan?" Sylvia sneered and said, "Ingram, I knew that you would ask too much, but your price is too high, isn't it?"

"High? I don't think so." Ingram shook his head slightly. "Sylvia, you should know that I can't only guarantee the reputation of Lins Group, but also maintain your own reputation. Think about it, now Lins Group is going to leave Ning province and face the whole northwest. If the negative news of your husband is spread all over the country, it will have a great impact on your future."

Sylvia's face was a little ugly because she knew clearly that what Ingram said was right. Lins Group was indeed going to open up the whole market in the northwest. All negative news was harmful to Lins Group.

"What do you think, Sylvia? Three hundred million yuan. I don't think I have to say more about the value of my services and what my family does. You know, I have this power!" Ingram said with a smile on his face as if he was sure he was about to win.

In Ingram's words, there was a hint of threat. He mentioned again what his family did and explained the strength of his family. It meant that if she would like to spend this money, he could help her. If she didn't want to cooperate, he could reduce the influence of this matter, or at the same time, he could double increase the impact!

Sylvia took a deep breath and said, "Okay, Three hundred million yuan, okay, then..."

"Don't hurry." The smile on Ingram's face became bigger.

"This is the first request. There is another one."
