

Chapter 614

In Zhao's county, there was a house located in the yard. Henry kept washing his face with cold water. On his arms and shoulders, there were several shocking bloody holes, which made Henry feel a sharp pain from time to time.

Now Henry only felt a sharp pain in his head, as if his head was going to explode. The scenes that happened last night flashed in his mind. It was not very clear, but Henry could approximately remember what had happened.

"How did I defeat Leo in the end? Was it I who showed great power?" Henry only remembered some fragments, but the details were just like a dream. He couldn't remember them.

Henry remembered that in the end, he threw Leo down from the pagoda, and he also had a conflict with a member of the Recluse Association.

Henry took a piece of clothes from the inside of the house and put it on. Then he pushed the door open. There was no one in this yard.

Henry also forgot how he came to this place. Anyway, he was already in the house when he opened his eyes. This broken memory made Henry feel very uncomfortable.

There was no one in this courtyard. When Henry walked to the outside of the courtyard, he saw the plaque on the gate of the courtyard.

"The Zhao clan..."

Henry left and went around the place where the battle happened last night. When he found that the whole area had been blocked, Henry did not hurry to leave. Instead, he stayed in Zhao's county for two days to see what was going on.

Henry found a hotel that could directly look at the site of the battle yesterday.

In the past two days, Henry had been staying in the hotel. He noticed that there were many more figures in the Zhao's county these two days. They would come close to the Zhao family's house. Two days had passed since the end of the battle.

However, inside the house, the bloody red ground could still be seen. Even though the authorities had removed the floor tiles, the blood had penetrated the soil.

After two days of observation, Henry also understood that the news of the Zhao clan's destruction had been spread out immediately, and many forces knew about it. Those who would pay attention to it had more or less some connection to the clan.

Henry called Wade and asked him to arrange the plane. He didn't intend to stay here anymore.

"Boss, are you still there?" Wade's voice was full of surprise when he received Henry's call, "Azra brought back a message that there are at least ten forces outside who are investigating the affairs of the Zhao clan. Boss, you know our position in the underground forces. Now many people are looking at us. I am afraid that this time, there is no way for us to arrange a plane for you to come back, otherwise, you will be targeted."

Henry nodded. "Okay, then I'll find a way myself. How are you guys doing?"

"According to your arrangements, everyone has returned to the island. Boss, that girl, Future, has already been able to control her Qi..."

"So fast!" Henry was shocked. The battle that had just ended two days ago, it would take them a day to return to the island. Future had entered the Qi-controlling Realm. Did it mean that it only took her a day?!

"The Great Patriarch said that he had never seen such a talent. Well, Boss, that girl hasn't realized that yet. When she realizes that I can't defeat her, she will bully me. I will go to teach her a lesson first." Wade said in a hurry and hung up the phone.

Henry's face lit up. In this way, there was another Qi-controlling Realm expert on Radiant Island! Each Qi-controlling Realm expert was equal to the top fighting force!

Future and others were able to compete with the Qi-controlling masters based their own strong battle experience before they reached the Qi-controlling Realm. Now that they had achieved the Qi-controlling Realm, they were much stronger than the ordinary Qi-controlling Realm masters.

Henry left the hotel and planned to return to Yinzhou by bus. Now, so many forces knew that something had happened to the Zhao clan and they also focused on Radiant Island. These people were definitely the members of the clans.

Henry suddenly destroyed the Zhao clan this time without being exposed. Except for the man from the Recluse Association, no one else knew.

Henry moved his shoulders and arms. He still felt a little tired and numb, so he couldn't use any strength.

Once the Qi entered the body, it couldn't be discharged for many days. When Leo's fangs pierced Henry's skin, the raging Qi in Leo's body also entered into Henry's body. In the past two days, Henry had discharged a lot. He found that he couldn't use Qi at will. Unless Leo's remaining Qi was completely removed, the remaining Qi would run wild in his body if he tried to use it.

Henry felt it and it would only take another day for him to discharge Leo's Qi.

That night, Leo wounded Henry, but Henry also benefited a lot. At least, he saw how strong a person could be. At the same time, the new word "Transformation Realm" also appeared in Henry's world. He now understood that it was not that those people in the Qi-controlling Realm were too weak. It was he who had already surpassed the scope of Qi-controlling Realm and reached another realm. At the same time, he also wanted to know what it was after he reached the Transformation Realm.

Henry took a taxi and came to the national highway. Then he stopped a bus halfway. This kind of ticket purchase did not require an ID card registration. It could make Henry quietly avoid everyone's sight and return to Yinzhou.

Now, all the major forces were paying attention to the matter concerning the Zhao clan. Henry didn't want to bring unnecessary trouble to Radiant Island. Now, Radiant Island was slowly accumulating its strength.

Henry was taking a bus for four days in a row. Now, he was less than 300 kilometres away from Yinzhou. After one more day on the bus, he would reach the destination.

Sitting on the bus and looking at the scenery outside the window, Henry was wondering if he should stay outside for a few days and deliberately show up so that others could find him. Otherwise, he would be suspected if he kept being so silent.

Just as Henry was thinking about these things, the bus, which was running smoothly, suddenly braked. The more than a dozen passengers on the bus lost their balance and fell forward.

"What are you doing?" A disgruntled voice was heard on the bus.

When the bus door opened, a group of men and women in black suits got on the bus. These people were from 20 to more than 40 years old. There were 16 of them.

Henry sat in the back row of the bus and squinted. It turned out that the reason for the sudden stop was five cars parked in the middle of the road in order to force the bus to stop.

As soon as the 16 people got on the bus, they glanced at all the passengers. One of the middle-aged leaders took out an A4 paper with a seal and shouted, "Everyone, we are Collier Security Company. We cooperate with the police. There is an illegal criminal on this bus. I will ask you a few questions to find out this person. I believe that you don't want to sit on a bus with a dangerous person. I hope you can cooperate with us."

Chapter 615

The crowd on the bus burst into an uproar. Everyone subconsciously looked at the other passengers.

Henry looked at the sixteen security guards, the member's Collier Security Company Security. Henry had heard of this security company and knew their boss. But wasn't this a female security company?

Sixteen security members went up to each passenger and asked them some questions.

"Where are you coming from?" A security member walked up to Henry and asked.

"Zhao's county." Henry replied without hesitation.

"Zhao's county?" The security guard looked at Henry suspiciously. Zhao's county was nearly 1,000 kilometres away from here, and from Henry's accent, he didn't sound like a man from Meng Province.

"This person! This person is very suspicious!" A middle-aged woman in her forties pointed at Henry and shouted, "He got on the bus halfway. He didn't use his ID when he was buying the ticket!"

Along the way, the way Henry chose to take the bus was always on the halfway.

When the security guards heard this, they all looked at Henry.

Henry looked at these people and shrugged. "Is there a problem with getting on halfway?"

"Please come with us!" The leader of the group came to Henry and said, "We work together with the government, and I hope you'll cooperate."

Henry leaned back in his seat and said with a smile, "Don't you think your cognition is too one-sided?"

"It's our own business whether it's one-sided or not. Please come with us." A young man, who looked like he was in his 20s, came up and reached for Henry's shoulder.

Henry sat there and let the young man grab his shoulder.

The young man put forth his strength in his arms and wanted to lift Henry, but he found that it was difficult even to make Henry move.

"Well, if I don't cooperate, will you still mess with me?" Henry smiled.

The middle-aged leader's face changed. Seeing that Henry was a martial arts practitioner, he said, "Sir, I really hope that you can cooperate. After all, we are working together with the government this time. If you don't cooperate with the government, it will be more difficult for you."

The middle-aged man emphasized the word "government". He wanted to put pressure on Henry with this. After all, no matter how powerful a person was, he had to be afraid of the authorities.

Henry shook his head and said, "It can cooperate with you, but I think your main task is to find the suspect, not to see if I'm willing to cooperate with your or not."

"Ha, ha." The young man who just stretched out his hand to grab Henry sneered. "If we take you back, our task will be accomplished."

In front of so many people, he couldn't even make Henry move. This made this young man feel very embarrassed.

Henry pouted his lips at the person sitting in front of him on his left and said, "I think the person you want is that man."

The person Henry was talking about was a middle-aged man in his thirties. He was dressed in ordinary clothes and looked very honest.

"Boy, don't play tricks on me!" The young man shouted at Henry, "Among all of these people, you are the main suspect."

"Really?" Henry asked, pointing at the middle-aged man in front of his left side. "You just asked him where he came from. He answered Lake-Passing scenic area."

"So, is there a problem?" The young man said unhappily. He was the one who asked the middle-aged man. "It's only two hours' journey from here. But you, you said that you came from Zhao's county, which is nearly a thousand kilometres away from here! And you still got on half-way."

Henry shook his head and said, "So? I can immediately reply to your questions and help you with the investigation. What we are talking about now is another problem. As a professional security guard, you must have the most basic thinking logic, you should know what you are supposed to do and when you are supposed to do it. Obviously, you are not qualified."

"You!" The young man's eyes widened.

"That's enough." The leading middle-aged man stopped the young man and then said to Henry, "Sir, why would you say that this man should be a suspect?"

The middle-aged man was talking pointed at the man in his 30s, which Henry said was suspicious.

Henry put his hands behind his head and said, "It's very simple. When you asked him the question, he subconsciously looked to the right side of his body. The left side of our brain is responsible for memory and the right side is responsible for logical thinking. His eyes just showed that he was not recalling, but conceiving. Do you think he has no problem conceiving even what he intended to do yesterday? I believe that if you ask him how much the ticket to Lake-Passing scenic area is, he won't be able to answer it."

When the middle-aged man heard Henry's words, he looked at Henry suspiciously.

On the other side, the young man's face was full of disdain.

"Forget it. If you don't want to ask, I can ask for you." Henry looked at the passenger on his left and said, "Brother, how much is the ticket to Lake-Passing scenic area?"

Although these security guards didn't believe what Henry just said, at this moment, when Henry asked the question, they still looked at the male passenger together, waiting for his answer. This was human nature.

The male passenger scratched his head and said, "Haha, my friend took me there yesterday. He bought the tickets. I don't know how much it is."

As soon as the male passengers finished speaking, the faces of the sixteen security guards in the car changed. The middle-aged captain, who was closest to the male passengers, directly reached out his hand to grab the male passenger.

The middle-aged captain grabbed the middle-aged passenger's clothes. The man looked at the middle-aged captain with a puzzled face and asked, "Brother, what do you mean?"

Before the middle-aged captain spoke, Henry's voice sounded first, "You don't need a ticket to enter Lake-Passing scenic area."

As soon as Henry finished speaking, the male passenger's face changed dramatically. He suddenly waved his hand and pushed the middle-aged captain's hand away, then he jumped hard and hit the window of the bus.

The window shattered with the sound, and the middle-aged passenger landed outside the bus. He rolled over skillfully, turned over the fence on both sides of the road, and ran away.

The security guards all rushed out of the bus and ran after the male passenger who was running away.

"Well, do you still want to take me back and interrogate me?" Henry looked at the middle-aged captain.

"Sir, people who hide their identity need to assist in the investigation. I hope you can cooperate. If it proves that you are innocent, the government will compensate you accordingly." The middle-aged captain said to Henry. He could not eliminate all the suspicion about Henry just because of what Henry had done. Maybe this was a fog bomb.

Henry shrugged his shoulders and said, "Alright, I'll assist you in your investigation."

There was a reason why Henry did this. First of all, he helped these security members because he knew the boss of this security company. Secondly, this time he would show up in the company so that he could avoid some trouble in the future.

Chapter 616

Henry followed the middle-aged captain out of the bus. They took a black Volkswagen to Zuo City.

Meng Province gave people a sense of vastness. When driving on the national highway, people could clearly see the grasslands on both sides of the road. The road was endless and connected to the sky. Cows and sheep were all over grasslands.

Zuo City was different from the other big cities with skyscrapers where the distance between the two buildings was tight. The streets here were wide, and the distance between the two buildings was wide.

The middle-aged captain drove to the front of a building. The building had seven floors in total. At the top of the building, there was a shield symbol with the words "Collier Security" on it.

"Is the whole building yours?" Henry asked.

"Yes, our Collier Security Company is also one of the most powerful security companies in Meng Province." The middle-aged captain nodded.

Henry said in his heart, "I didn't realize that Anna was a rich girl."

The boss of Collier Security Company Security was Anna Jiang, who was Sylvia's bodyguard at that time. Henry just helped these security guards on the bus because of Anna.

The middle-aged captain took Henry into the company building. In the reception area on the first floor, Henry saw many departments, such as security teams, private personal protection, and so on. The scope of business was very comprehensive.

Henry looked at this scene with great interest. He felt that it was similar to taking a killer mission, depending on whether it was a team assassination or private assassination. He followed the middle-aged captain all the way to the second floor.

The second floor was a huge practice court, with all kinds of training equipment and the octagonal cage that could only be seen on TV. Henry saw two people with protective gear fighting in the octagonal cage. Their fighting method was not like most of the training methods, but like punching to the flesh.

Next to the training ground on the second floor, there was a reception room. At this time, Henry was arranged here by the middle-aged captain. The captain poured a cup of tea for Henry and said, "Sir, there will an official coming to talk with you later."

"Okay." Henry nodded and leaned on the seat.

The middle-aged team leader chatted with Henry for a while and then went out.

On the first floor of Collier Security Company, a young woman with short hair in camouflage clothes strode in.

All the people in the security company addressed her President Jiang as soon as they had seen her.

This person was Anna.

She was different from other company bosses. Although Anna was the boss of this security company, she did the same job every day as all the employees. She also took on tasks.

Anna glanced around the hall and asked, "Where is the person you just said you've taken here?"

"He's on the second floor," a staff member said to Anna.

Anna strode upstairs without hesitation.

Outside the reception room on the second floor, the middle-aged team leader kept pacing back and forth. When the middle-aged team leader saw Anna, he quickly strode over and said, "President Jiang, you are here."

"Where is he?" Anna asked.

The middle-aged captain pointed to the reception room and said, "The person is temporarily inside. President Jiang, this person is a bit weird."

"Weird?" Anna was puzzled. "How?"

The middle-aged captain shook his head and said, "I can't tell. Anyway, I can't figure him out."

"Did you catch the other one?" Anna asked.

"Yes, he's still under interrogation." The middle-aged team leader nodded. The other person mentioned by Anna was the male passenger who had run away at that time.

Anna nodded. "Okay, I'll take care of the things here. You go and look over there."

After Anna finished speaking, the middle-aged man responded and left. Anna pushed open the door and walked into the reception room. She had already thought about how to speak. The interrogation was nothing more playing a game of good cop-bad cop.

As soon as she pushed the door open and before she could see the appearance of the people in the room, Anna said, "I don't know what your deal is, but... Mr. Zhang?"

Anna was halfway through her sentence when she suddenly saw the person sitting in the room and revealed a look of shock on her face.

"Hi." Henry said hello.

Looking at Henry who was sitting in the room, Anna was a little confused. The person they brought this time was Mr. Zhang? If so, there must be a mistake! Anna was very clear about Henry's identity. It was impossible for Henry to be the target of this mission.

Anna smiled bitterly at Henry with an apologetic look in her eyes. "Mr. Zhang, I really didn't expect it to be you."

"Ha, ha." Henry laughed and waved his hand casually. "I haven't seen you for a long time. I came here especially to see. Your company is doing a good job."

"Mr. Zhang, you're flattering me. We are just a small company." Anna said modestly. Her humility was sincere. Anna had seen Henry's strength before. In all aspects, Henry's strength was far beyond hers. Her company looked big, but the total value of all the employees was not as high as Henry's.

As a senior security guard, Anna knew very well that people like Henry in the security industry would be at an extremely high position. Even the Lins Group worth ten billion yuan was nothing compared to his value.

"You cooperate with the government, and still say you are a small company?" Henry said with a smile, "As far as I know, it's not easy for a security company to cooperate with the government."

Hearing Henry's words, Anna laughed at herself and said, "Mr. Zhang, we are not cooperating with the government. We are volunteering for the government."

"Oh?" Henry asked curiously. "With the scale of your company, you shouldn't have to do such thankless tasks, right?"

Henry knew a little about the security company's relationship with the government. Because of the uniqueness of the security company, the government would give a lot of policies. This kind of policy would also make many people dissatisfied with the security company. Some security companies, in order to build a good relationship with the government, would take the initiative to help the local government to solve some problems. If the problem was solved, there would be some benefits. But if it was not solved properly, it would make the government dissatisfied. Therefore, only those companies that could not make a profit would volunteer to work for the government, and there was not a lot of companies like that.

Of course, if they had a strategic cooperation with the government, it would be another thing.

Anna shook her head and walked to a chair next to Henry. She sat down and said, "Mr. Zhang, there are things you don't know. In the next two days, the security companies will have a new round of ranking. And the government is the one who will do the ranking. If we can't reach the standard grading, the company will be forced to fire employees. We must try our best to please the government now."

"I see." Henry nodded thoughtfully. "It seems that there is a lot of competition within the industry."

"Yes." Anna nodded. "Currently, there are two companies competing with us. They all have an official background, and there is only one position for the five-star security company in the entire Zuo City. I really don't have many options."
