

Chapter 636

When Noelle's hand was about to touch the communication device, a red light suddenly lit up and the device let out an ear-piercing laugh.

"Ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, the Sharp Knife is trash!"

There was a strong sense of irony in this harsh laughter.

Hearing this ear-piercing laughter, the faces of the seven people present turned red. Noelle's hands were placed in mid-air, neither able to reach out nor to retrieve.

Bryce walked forward, grabbed the communication device, threw it on the ground and crushed it.

"Ha-ha, I said don't touch it." Henry's face was full of irony.

"Henry Zhang, are you deliberately making trouble for us?" Noelle turned her head and stared at Henry with anger on her face.

Henry shrugged his shoulders. "What do you mean by deliberately making trouble for you? I told you clearly that you should not touch that thing!"

"Don't talk nonsense with me. Let me ask you something. What are you doing here?!" Noelle asked.

Henry's face showed a slight unnatural expression, and then he said, "Nothing. I just came here to park my car."

"Park the car?" Noelle sneered and pointed to the top of her head. "There is a shopping mall above this garage. Your wife has been taken away, and you are still in a mood to come to the shopping mall?"

"So? Can't I go shopping when my wife is kidnapped? I don't want to talk to you!" Henry turned around and opened the door of his Ferrari. He was about to get in.

"Wait! Stop him!" The leader of the team, Bryce, suddenly shouted.

The two members of the Sharp Knife immediately rushed up and grabbed Henry's shoulder from both sides, not letting Henry get in the car.

Henry struggled to break free, but he didn't break away. He shouted, "What are you doing? Do you want to arrest me? Believe it or not, I can get you all fired with a phone call!"

"I don't believe it." One of the men who caught Henry was Noelle. Noelle shook her head at Henry. "I don't think you can do anything to us."

Bryce walked up to Henry and said, "Henry Zhang, it's hard to say whether you can get us fired or not. When I ask you some questions, you must answer honestly. No lies at all!"

Bryce almost roared out the last words. Even Henry thought he was a bit scary.

Bryce stared at Henry and said, "Let me ask you, did you come here just to park your car?"

"Of... of course!" Henry answered with a little lack of confidence.

"Really?" Bryce's eyes swept around and finally locked on an old-fashioned grey Volkswagen. This car did not have any plates, as if it had been forgotten.

Bryce's eyes were fixed on this old-fashioned Volkswagen. He walked around the car and suddenly looked back at Henry.

At the moment when Bryce looked at Henry, there was a hint of panic in Henry's eyes. Although he quickly concealed it, it was still noticed by Bryce.

Bryce lay down and found a key in the exhaust at the back of the Volkswagen.

Bryce took out the key, stood up and waved it in front of Henry. "Henry, who would put a key in the exhaust?"

"How could I know? This is not my car. Let me go." Henry twisted his shoulders hard, trying to get rid of Noelle's hand.

How could Noelle let Henry succeed? She was already unhappy with Henry. Now that she had such a good opportunity, she should be able to vent her anger, and her strength would be stronger.

Feeling the increase in the strength of Noelle's hand, Henry showed a painful look.

At this moment, Henry's mobile phone in the car suddenly rang. Henry suddenly resisted harder and wanted to answer the phone.

"You'd better behave yourself!" Noelle held Henry with all her strength.

With a glance, Bryce ordered the other member to answer the phone.

"Turn on the speaker," Bryce said softly.

The team member nodded, picked up the phone and pressed the button. As soon as the call was connected, an anxious voice came from the phone. "Mr. Zhang, the kidnapper heard that you called the Sharp Knife. He decided to cancel the transaction temporarily. He will call you after an hour and a half and he hopes that all the things are ready. He said... He also said that you should not play tricks and don't let the men from the Sharp Knife follow you, otherwise, he would not mind killing your wife. He no longer trusts you. He asked you to find someone from your company to finish the transaction. Mr. Zhang, did you hear that, Mr. Zhang?"

"Got it," the member of the Sharp Knife replied.

There was a surprised voice on the phone, "You are not Mr. Zhang! Who are you? You are..."

Before the person on the phone could finish speaking, the member of the Sharp Knife hung up the phone.

Looking at Henry, Bryce asked, "He asked you to prepare something? What could it be?"

Henry gritted his teeth and shouted at Bryce, "I warn you, don't do anything stupid. This is our family's business, and it has nothing to do with you! I will save my wife myself!"

"You will save your wife? Then what about us? What about our mission?" Noelle pressed Henry's head hard.

"Mr. Zhang, I think it's important that your loved one gets home safe, but it's more important to suppress criminals and destroy their intentions. What do you think?" With a smile, Bryce took the key in his hand and went to the old-fashioned car. He inserted the key into the trunk and twisted it gently.

The car made a slight noise, and then the trunk opened. A silver suitcase was placed in the trunk.

Bryce took out the silver suitcase from the trunk. It was not big, about 80 centimetres long, and it was light.

Bryce found the lock of the suitcase and gently pressed it. Then the cover of the suitcase was opened, and several tubes with red liquid were put in the suitcase.

"What's this?" Bryce asked Henry, pointing to the things in the suitcase.

Henry turned his head away without looking at the whole situation, and he didn't speak.

"It doesn't matter if you don't tell us. We will find a way to find out." Bryce closed the suitcase and handed it to a person next to him. Then he waved his hand and said, "Take him away!"

"Let's go!" Noelle grabbed Henry with force and pushed him to the vehicle parked next to them.

Henry panicked and shouted, "Where are we going?! Where are you taking me?!"

"Don't talk nonsense, let's go!" Noelle pushed Henry with all her strength and dragged him into the vehicle.

Subsequently, the door of the car was closed, and the seven people from the Sharp Knife were all sitting in the car, staring at Henry.

Henry was stared at by seven people. Without any other movements, he shrank into the seat.

Seeing that Henry had calmed down, Bryce ordered one of them, "Go, park the car somewhere safe."

A man walked to the driver's seat and started the car. The car did not drive far. It circled around the underground garage and then stopped at the corner.

When the car was parked, the people in the car did not say a word and waited quietly.

Chapter 637

Time went by. Noelle had been staring at Henry from beginning to end.

Henry was sure that as long as he made even a slight move, this woman would definitely take the opportunity to hit him.

It had been one hour and twenty minutes since Henry was taken to the car.

A cell phone suddenly rang. It was Henry's cell phone, which had been in the pocket of the Sharp Knife's member.

When the ringtone of the mobile phone rang, everyone in the car looked at the mobile phone and it could be seen that the breathing of the few people was a little rapid.

"Captain, what should we do?" Asked the member holding the phone.

Bryce took a look at Henry and said, "Henry Zhang, be it for our mission or your loved one's safety, now you have no choice but to cooperate. I hope you won't do anything stupid."

After saying that, without giving Henry a chance to speak, Bryce directly said, "Answer it!"

The phone was picked up, and Cody's hoarse voice came from inside, "Henry, No. 17 Beaver Street, I'm waiting for that thing. Don't play tricks on me, hah hah hah!"

With a burst of low laughter, Cody hung up the phone directly.

"Let's go," said Bryce on the spot.

The vehicle headed towards Beaver Street at an extremely fast speed.

In the car, Bryce said to Noelle, "Noelle, the fugitive hasn't seen you. You can pretend to be an employee of the Lins Group and make a deal with the fugitive. We will protect you from behind."

"I understand." Noelle nodded and tied her hair up on the back of her head. At the same time, she took out a pair of black-framed glasses and put them on. It really looked like she was an ordinary employee.

Beaver Street, located at the border of Yinzhou, was a place full of warehouses and factories.

When they almost arrived at the destination, the people from the Sharp Knife all got out of the car. No one cared about Henry and went to the destination.

With a silver suitcase in her hand, Noelle strode towards the No. 17 of Beaver Street which was a warehouse.

When Noelle was about to arrive in front of the warehouse, she heard

Bryce's sound coming from the headset.

"Noelle, wait a moment!"

After saying that, Bryce looked at the team member who had a tablet in his hands and asked, "How's it going? What can you see?"

"Captain, look." This member put a tablet computer in front of Bryce. What was shown on the tablet was the underground parking lot they had just stayed in.

In the surveillance video, Bryce saw that Cody, who was tall and strong, had installed a communication device to the column next to the parking space. It was the place where they had gone before.

When Bryce saw Cody, his pupils contracted and he said, "That's him. Yes, Noelle, take action!"

Noelle nodded, carried the suitcase, and walked to the door of the warehouse. Then she took off the headset, pushed open the door of the warehouse, and strode in.

In the warehouse, it was dark. When Noelle opened the door, a ray of light shone in from behind her.

Looking at the pitch-black and soundless warehouse, Noelle felt a little afraid. She took a deep breath and strode into the warehouse. Her footsteps, with echo, were passed into her ears.

A sound of breaking wind suddenly sounded in Noelle's ear. She subconsciously took a step back. As soon as she took a step, she felt her neck tighten, and a big hand grabbed her neck.

"Who are you? Where is Mr. Zhang?!" Cody's face gradually appeared in front of Noelle and he said in a low voice.

Noelle's face was red. She opened her mouth and wanted to say something, but she couldn't say anything.

Cody threw Noelle to the side, and the tremendous force made Noelle directly fall to the ground.

Noelle gasped for breath and coughed twice, and her face finally returned to normal. She said, "Mr. Zhang asked me to deliver things here. Here they are. Where is our President Lin?"

As she spoke, Noelle was tapping on her trouser pocket with her fingers. There was a communication device in her pocket, which was sending a signal to Bryce and the others outside the warehouse.

Receiving the signal from Noelle, Bryce and the others quickly approached the warehouse.

"Give me the thing first!" Cody had some dissatisfaction in his eyes. Today, he not only wanted to complete the task, but also wanted to settle accounts with Henry. He wanted Henry to pay back for all the humiliation he had suffered before.

Noelle handed the silver suitcase to Cody.

Cody opened the suitcase. When he saw a few tubes with liquid in the suitcase, his face suddenly changed. He threw the suitcase to the ground. The liquid tubes in the suitcase were impacted and all fell to the ground. The tubes got broken and the liquid flowed all over the ground.

"B*tch, how dare you fool me!" Cody roared and directly threw a punch at Noelle's face.

Cody was extremely fast, so Noelle could not dodge at all. Seeing that the other side was getting closer and closer to her, Noelle's face turned pale.

Just as Cody's fist was about to hit Noelle's body, Bryce suddenly appeared. He pulled Noelle hard to save her from Cody's fist.

At this time, Cody saw the face of the coming person and his pupils shrank. "People from the Sharp Knife are everywhere. You're really haunting me from Su Province to here! This time, it's my personal grievance against the guy surnamed Zhang. You'd better not intervene."

"Don't put on an act!" Bryce said coldly. "The message you left in the garage was different."

"Message? What message?" Cody asked subconsciously.

Cody's puzzled look made Bryce surprised because he could see that Cody's tone and facial expressions were not fake.

But now it was not the time for Bryce to think about it. He stared at Cody and asked, "Who are you and what's your goal?"

"I just came to get something from Mr. Zhang. It has nothing to do with the Sharp Knife. I advise you to mind your own business! I only killed mobs before, and I have shown enough respect for you." Cody looked at these people with fear. He was alone, but he was not afraid. There were seven people here, and Cody had not completed the task yet, so naturally, he did not want to cause any extra troubles.

"Entire team, he's already smashed those tubes!" Noelle shouted.

"Smashed?" A confused expression appeared on Bryce's face as he subconsciously looked towards the silver suitcase beside him. As expected, he saw a few fragmented tubes of liquid.

At the door of the warehouse, there was a laugh. "Smash. Otherwise, what's the point of keeping these tubes filled with black tea?"

At the same time as the sound was heard, Cody and the people from the Sharp Knife looked at the door of the warehouse.

Henry was standing in front of the warehouse. In his arms, he was holding Sylvia, who was still unconscious.

"Henry!" Cody gritted his teeth and stared at Henry.

"Henry Zhang, what do you mean?" Noelle also stared at Henry.
