

Chapter 841

Just when Penn sent people to grab Henry and let him get on the car, Henry made a gesture of taking out his mobile phone and sending a text message.

The content of the text message was very simple, with only a few words.

"Henry, one of the ten."

Then, in just a few minutes, the planes and tanks were all here.

Henry put his hands in his pockets, walked to the Maybach with a relaxed look, opened the front door, and got in.

Behind sat Sylvia and Robert.

"Mr. Zhang." Captain Richard, who was standing outside the back door of Maybach, greeted Henry as soon as he saw him.

"Captain Richard, thank you for today's matter. There are still some things to deal with when we return to Yinzhou." Henry said to Richard.

"Yes!" Captain Richard nodded quickly. "All the policemen in Yinzhou will be at your disposal!"

"No need to listen to my command." Henry shook his head and corrected him. "As the man who reported the case, we still have to listen to your command. Captain Richard, don't let us down."

"Definitely!" Captain Richard immediately stood straight.

"Okay, let's go." Henry said to the driver next to him.

The driver turned back and glanced at Robert. He didn't start the car until he saw Robert nod his head.

As for Henry's identity, Sylvia had already known it, and she was not surprised to see the tanks and planes.

On the other hand, Robert was startled. He knew Henry's identity as The Conqueror, and he also knew that The Conqueror had a high status in the world. But he didn't expect that his status was so high.

Looking at Henry, who was sitting in the front seat, Robert couldn't help but nod his head. If he entrusted his granddaughter to this kind of person, he would be at ease even if he had to die. Family Lin was lucky to be blessed by The Conqueror.

Henry, who was sitting in the front seat, said, "Dear, get ready. From today on, your business should spread out of Yinzhou. You should also personally run your business in other cities in Western China. It's not good to let people take advantage of the loopholes."

Hearing this, Sylvia was stunned for a moment, then immediately understood Henry's meaning, "Husband, do you mean..."

"In the future, there will be no branches of the Lins Group in Western China," Henry affirmed.

Robert leaned back in his seat and closed his eyes. There was a trace of sadness in his heart, but he also knew that it would happen sooner or later. The business world was such a ruthless place. It would be fine if Penn and others enjoyed their later years. But if they had some bad intentions, they could either destroy them or give the Lins Group to them. There was no third possibility.

The Maybach gradually returned to Yinzhou.

At twelve o'clock at noon, they arrived in Yinzhou.

The Scenery Tour Company, which covered an area of thousands of square metres and owned the best resources in the whole of Western China, had long been cursed.

Except for a few foreign tourists who were deceived by the interior of this tourist company, the locals knew how shady this tourist company was. However, no one could do anything about it because everyone knew that it was the Lins Group that was standing behind this company!

Inside the Scenery Tour Company, several waiters were having a quarrel with the two tourists.

The two tourists had obvious southern characteristics and could be seen at a glance that they were not locals from Yinzhou.

"This tourist company is too much! I request a refund! The tickets we bought online clearly stated that we will have free lunch and free drinks. Why do we need to pay now?"

The two tourists, a man and a woman, were both in their thirties.

Three waiters from the Scenery Tour Company sat aside. One of the young men looked at the two and said with a sneer, "Yes, it's free, but you didn't eat it. You were drinking, and that is not included. Of course, you have to pay for it. Do you want to drink for free? OK, you can go out and walk around the corner. When you see the word toilet, you can go in. The drinks there are free."

"You!" The tourist's face turned red, but he couldn't say anything as he looked at the three waiters who looked like they were ruffians and gangsters.

"Well, I won't argue with you. A rubbish tourism company like you will fall sooner or later!" The female tourists said, "We are waiting for a bus now. It is written on the schedule that the bus should come to pick us up at 11:40. It's already 12:20, and we haven't seen the trace of the bus yet!"

"Damn, what do you think?" The waiter continued. "Even the planes are always a little late. What's wrong with the traffic jam? Why don't you take a taxi yourself?"

Hearing this, the male tourist's anger that was suppressed in his heart rushed up again. "Where's the manager?! I want to talk to your manager!"

"Coincidentally, I'm the manager." The waiter who had been speaking spoke again, "It's useless for you to file a complaint."

"Give us our money back! We won't stay here anymore!" The female tourist waved her hand.

"Refund the money? The tickets have already been issued. You want us to refund the money?" sneered the waiter. "You can't get the money. If you don't want to stay here, then just leave."

"Just wait and see, I will go to the officials to sue you!" The male tourist took the female tourist's hand and went out directly. He was so angry that he lost any interest in travelling.

The faces of the waiters did not change even a little when they heard that the two of them were going to report them. It was obvious that they had been used to such a scene for a long time.

The staff of the whole tourism company just laughed after seeing the aggressive appearance of the two people.

Just as the two tourists were about to walk out of the company, a voice stopped them.

"Hey, let me remind you that our company belongs to the Lins Group. Don't complain about us, or you'll be in trouble. Haha!"

A burst of laughter sounded in the company.

The staff of this company were engaged in the service industry. However, not only did they not feel ashamed at all when they saw the tourists leaving with dissatisfaction, but they even laughed at them.

"Honey, I've told you a long time ago. You think highly of everyone. The salary is too high for them. As a result, they live happily and don't want to improve. They always want to find an easy way. As time goes by, they will make a big mess. Of course, this is connected to the management. It's time to clean up the management of Lins Group."

"That's true."

The entrance of the Scenery Tour company was pushed open from the outside, and Henry and Sylvia walked in side by side. They clearly heard the jeers in the company just now.

Sylvia glanced at the crowd and said, "You're using the name of the Lins Group. Do you think the Lins will really protect you? As far as I know, what you are doing now has violated your contract with the Lins Group. If the Lins Group is willing, they can sue all of you!"

"Who the hell are you? What does our business have to do with you?" The waiter said to Sylvia with a look of displeasure on his face.

Chapter 842

Henry and Sylvia stood in front of the entrance of the company, looking at the waiter who was talking to them with an unhappy face.

The waiter happened to be the one who poured two cups of boiled water yesterday and asked the two of them to pay ten yuan.

Sylvia slightly raised her head, "Who I am has nothing to do with you, but what you said has a lot to do with me. The Lins Group is not like what you said."

"F*ck, what does it have to do with you?" The waiter looked at Sylvia unhappily. "My brother-in-law is the boss of this company. If you are not happy, go and complain about me!"

"There's no need to complain about you." Sylvia lightly smiled.

"I'm telling you, you can complain if you want to. If you don't want, get out of here. Don't stand there looking for trouble. If you stay here you won't be able to leave even if you want to!" The waiter looked fierce. When he said these words, he was full of confidence. Obviously, he had done many threatening things.

Henry's phone in his pocket suddenly rang. He took it out and took a look at it, then said to Sylvia, "Dear, they are already here."

"Let them come in directly." Sylvia said to Henry, then looked at the waiter and said, "I think it won't be me who won't be able to leave."

Just as Sylvia's voice reverberated, the main entrance of the company was kicked open by someone from the outside.

Dozens of fully armed policemen swarmed in and went straight to all the staff of the Scenery Tour Company present.

Seeing the policemen who suddenly rushed in, the staff looked surprised.

"What are you doing here? Who allowed you to barge in?" The waiter roared.

"Is there a problem with letting them come?" Sylvia asked in a soft voice.

"Who do you think you are?" The waiter shouted at Sylvia. "This is our private place. What right do you have to let the policemen in?"

"Haha." Sylvia sneered, "A private place? Why don't I know that my, Sylvia Lin's, own property has become someone else's private place?!"

"Your property? Sylvia Lin?" A puzzled look appeared on the waiter's face when he heard Sylvia's words.

Before the waiter could think more, a middle-aged man in his forties ran in, rolling and crawling.

"Brother-in-law!" The waiter hurriedly called out when he saw the middle-aged man. The middle-aged man who had just come in was the boss of this company.

Upon hearing the waiter's voice, the middle-aged man ran to Sylvia with sweat all over his face without even looking at the waiter. He said in an ingratiating manner, "President Lin, what brings you here?"

"What brings me here?" Sylvia snorted, "Of course it is a kind of evil intentions. If I didn't come, would the Lins Group change into a group of robbers under your leadership, Fraizer Guo?"

"President Lin, you..." The middle-aged man was just about to speak when he saw Sylvia's secretary, Cathy Lee, come in hurriedly from the outside of the company's door. In Cathy's hand, she was holding a file.

"President Lin, all the materials have been collected. This is the report that Frazier Guo wrote during this period. I have asked someone to investigate. It's totally inconsistent with the actual financial expenses. All the forty-eight employees of this company are involved in this matter. All their names are on the list, including the random charges to travellers. The three senior executives of the Lins Group have covered up his behaviour and have been arrested by the police."

Cathy handed the file in her hand to Sylvia.

Sylvia opened the file and glanced through the list. She sneered and handed the list over to Henry.

Henry waved his hand to the outside of the tourism company. Captain Richard, who was waiting at the door, immediately rushed in and said, "Mr. Zhang, what's the order?"

"Captain Richard, please arrest all the people on this list. The Legal Affairs Department of Lins Group will deal with them soon." Henry put the list in Richard's hand.

Captain Richard nodded his head with a serious look. Then he shouted out the names on the list and let the policemen arrest them.

In addition to the boss of the company, Frazier Guo, the waiter was the second one to be arrested.

Frazier listened to what Cathy just said, and also listened to the name on the list. His face was as pale as ash.

At the moment when the waiter was detained by the policemen, he was no longer arrogant as before. He finally realized who Sylvia was! The woman in front of him, Sylvia, was the president of the Lins Group. No wonder her name sounded so familiar!

Sylvia took a special look at the waiter and asked her secretary, Cathy, "Secretary Lee, please tell me how many years this person will be sentenced for."

"Hector Li is Fraizer's accomplice and also the HR of the company. He falsely registered seven chiefs in the company. Every chief had a salary of 6000 yuan per month, which sums up to a total of 790,000 yuan over the past period. He had also received a total of 96,000 yuan through other channels. According to the regulations, he will be sentenced to 15 years of imprisonment and have his entire property confiscated."

After Cathy finished speaking, the waiter's face instantly turned deathly pale.

What did 15 years mean to a person?

The best period of his life would be spent in prison.

Beads of sweat rolled down the waiter's forehead, and his eyes became empty.

"Nice, that should be enough." Sylvia nodded her head as if she was satisfied.

"Take all of them away!" ordered Captain Richard. With a wave of his hand, the policemen took all the people that had been involved in this matter.

After all the people were taken away, there were only a few people left, and the enormous company looked quite empty.

Looking at the empty company, Sylvia sighed.

"Sweetheart, this kind of thing is normal. Don't take it to heart. The Lins Group is getting bigger and bigger, and there are more and more interests in it. So..."

"Dear, I understand. You don't need to comfort me." Sylvia looked at Henry and smiled. "I have only been in contact with the Lin Group for a short time. Some people were willing to select me as the president of the Lin Group even though I am in my twenties, but most people only regard me as a little girl."

"Honey." Henry put his hand on Sylvia's shoulder. "I think you know better than me what to do in the future. What I want to say is that such things will happen when there are interests. If you want to take full control of the Lins Group, not only do you need to convince others, but also you need to make them afraid of you. If you don't want to do something, I can help you solve all the hidden problems."

"Honey, it's unnecessary." Sylvia shook her head. "I'm not a child. I'll learn to solve the problems in the future."

"That's good." Henry looked at Sylvia's eyes gradually showing a relieved look, and he was relieved.

Chapter 843

In the following days, Sylvia did not personally take care of the companies under her. She just asked Cathy to arrange some people to secretly visit the companies mentioned in the complained letters. As long as they found out who the people involved were, no matter how big or small, they would be severely punished.

"Dear, are you still going to the company today?"

Asked Henry after they went out of the company.

Sylvia nodded. "Yes, I need to go. We've caught so many people today. The people in the company must be nervous, including the reporters. They are probably extremely anxious to hear about this matter. I will just take this opportunity to hold a press conference to clarify what happened before."

"Do you want me to help you build up the momentum?" Henry asked.

"No need, honey. I will handle it by myself. Do you really regard me as a little girl?" Sylvia puffed out her cute cheeks and raised her fist. "Don't forget, I was called the business queen of Yinzhou."

Looking at the cute appearance of the woman in front of him, Henry couldn't help kissing her on her forehead.

This kiss made the woman blush. "What are you doing? There are so many people watching!"

Henry glanced around. Around him, the policemen were pushing those criminals in their vehicles. The members of the Legal Affairs Department of the Lins Group were also coming. There were quite a lot of people who knew them.

Henry raised his eyebrows and said, "Let them watch. You are my wife. What else can they say? They envy that I have such a beautiful wife."

"Shame on you!" Sylvia glared at Henry and strode aside.

"Haha." Henry laughed shamelessly and ran up quickly, taking the initiative to hold Sylvia's jade-like hand.

Sylvia only pretended to struggle for a moment before allowing Henry to hold her hand.

They were just like a couple in love, hand in hand. The woman blushed and buried her face in the chest. The man was walking wearing a smirk on his face.

Suddenly, the mobile phone rang.

At this moment, the ringing of the phone was particularly harsh, breaking the moment of sweetness between the two of them.

Henry picked up the phone, looked at the caller, and picked up the phone with a surprised look. "Alvin?"

This was the first time Alvin had taken the initiative to call Henry after Henry had shown up.

"Mr. Zhang, there's a big business offer. But I don't know if we can take it. It's very difficult." Alvin's voice sounded a little excited and hesitant.

"Just take it," Henry replied very easily. No matter what kind of big business or difficulty it was, it could be easily completed by Henry. Outside the Qi-refining practitioners, the Reapers were definitely the best of the best in the world.

"But Mr. Zhang..." Alvin wanted to say something but said nothing.

"Just tell me what you have in mind."

"Here's the thing, Mr. Zhang. This task is a group mission. The other party has invited a lot of security companies. We're not the only one. I'm just afraid that the reward will be..."

Henry smiled and said, "We can ask as much as you want. Alvin, remember one thing."

"What is it?"

"We are the strongest, stronger than any security company. Don't have any pressure, understand?"

Alvin took a deep breath and replied, "Okay, Mr. Zhang, I see. I'll give him a reply now."

"Okay, do what you want. You are still young. Be bold and don't be overcautious." Henry encouraged him and hung up the phone.

Henry still had a good impression of Alvin. If possible, he would like to train him.

According to Henry's observation right now, Alvin was an excellent man in all aspects.

"Honey, are you busy?" Sylvia looked at Henry with her big eyes blinking.

"It's no big deal." Henry lifted Sylvia's soft hands and patted her gently.

The two returned to the Lins Group and had a casual lunch. When Henry was about to go upstairs with Sylvia, Alvin called him again.

"Mr. Zhang, the other party has agreed!" Alvin's voice was full of excitement. "I asked them for seven million yuan. They have agreed! Mr. Zhang, seven million yuan!"

Henry sighed. Alvin had not seen enough of this world.

If others were to find out that the Reapers had gone out to carry out missions for seven million, they would probably laugh to death.

In fact, at the beginning, someone offered a price of several oil fields and wanted to ask several Reapers to protect them, but Henry did not agree.

Compared with a few oil fields, these seven million dollars were nothing.

However, Henry did not want to discourage Alvin's enthusiasm. "How do you want to arrange it? As the only person in charge of the company, you'll negotiate with the other party. You should go with us this time."

"Go together? Can I?" Alvin's words carried a bit of pleasant surprise.

"Why not? You set the price of seven million. It's good for you to go with us and see our strength. It will be more convenient for you to work in the future," Henry said with a smile.

"Great!" Alvin screamed on the other side of the phone. Soon, he suppressed his excitement and said in a serious tone, "Mr. Zhang, I have another question."

"Go ahead."

"In the beginning, when we signed the contract, we said that if I take the task, I will get 10% commission. I want to ask, this time I..."

Henry's mouth curved into a smile. Alvin's character was his favourite part. Henry had been in the underground world in his early years. When it came to commission, he never spoke nonsense. "Don't worry. As usual. Ten per cent. Seven hundred thousand. Once the mission is completed, it will be on your card."

"Mr. Zhang, thank you. I'll get everything ready right now!" Alvin said excitedly.

Henry hung up the phone. Looking at the call record on the phone screen, he shook his head with a smile. Alvin was just like Henry when he received the first big task and knew that he was going to get a large commission. The excitement and joy at that time could no longer be experienced.

"What are you thinking about? Why are you smiling so happily?" Sylvia, who walked in front of Henry, turned her head. Seeing the heartfelt smile on Henry's face, she couldn't help but laugh.

"Some about my past. Honey, shall we have a romantic dinner tonight?" Henry rubbed his hands. When he got the first commission, the first thing he did was to go to a high-end restaurant where he only enjoyed an expensive dinner.

"Okay." Sylvia smiled.

At seven o'clock in the evening.

In Yinzhou's Golden Restaurant.

Henry and Sylvia were sitting in front of a long table. A candle was lit on the table and it kept swaying.

Henry snapped his fingers and ordered a bottle of fine wine. He personally performed the art of wine tasting for Sylvia.

He took the bottle of the expensive wine and poured it into the expensive goblet. He only filled one-third of the goblet.

"Honey, good wine needs to be tasted properly. Only in this way can you experience the real taste of the wine." Henry gently shook the glass in his hand and then put it in front of his mouth. "Cheers!"

Chapter 844

Henry's actions made Sylvia burst into laughter.

This was the first time Sylvia had seen such a unique way to taste the wine. She looked at the carefree look of the man sitting opposite her. When did she get attracted by him?

Sylvia recalled everything that had happened since she got together with Henry. Sylvia was sure that the prince charming in her mind in the past was definitely not like Henry. That prince was a gentleman with a graceful demeanour. He was polite to others and had an attitude of a gentleman.

But what about Henry? Gentleman? He still looked like a rascal. Polite? He was also called the most bloody executioner in the underground world. Did he have a gentleman's demeanour? Sylvia admitted that Henry did act gentlemanly at certain times, but he was deliberately acting like that.

Regarding Henry's character, he was just an ordinary person. Every day, he only wanted to be an ordinary man.

However, a person who had such a personality had entered into Sylvia's heart. He would stay in her heart and would never leave.

The candlelight flickered, and the elegant melody of the violin sounded. Sylvia gradually fell into a trance because of the man in front of her.

Sylvia felt that she might really be favoured by the heavens. She could meet such a person who would stay with her. The way he appeared in her family was also so special, a son-in-law.

Thinking of this, Sylvia covered her mouth and smiled.

The room that Henry booked was a private room exclusive for the two of them. It was free from the influence of outsiders, so the two of them could enjoy such a lonely time.

Sylvia found that she had never sat so quietly with Henry and enjoyed dinner. This kind of quiet time made people relaxed.

Just as the two of them were enjoying this moment quietly, there was a quarrel outside the door, breaking the silence.

The sound of glass shattering rang out.

"Alvin Tsu! Is what I said not clear enough? We can't together! Yes, you have excellent grades. So what? When you were in school, you were a favourite one in the eyes of the teachers, but now you have graduated! I am already 25 years old, and you are also 26 years old! What are you doing at the age of 26? Working at the front desk of a small company for a monthly salary of 3,500 yuan. How can I marry you? Can you even afford to buy a house and a car?!"

The sound outside the door was clearly passed into Henry's ears.

Henry frowned, got up from his seat, opened the door of the room, and looked outside.

They saw Alvin sitting on a seat by the window in the hall. His face was wet, and the white shirt he had just changed today was red. It was obvious that he had been splashed with red wine.

Opposite him stood a long-haired beautiful woman with a wonderful figure. Her appearance could also be regarded as above the average, which was very popular among men.

Henry could understand the relationship between this woman and Alvin. He thought that Alvin would be irritated if he was splashed with red wine in front of so many people. However, Alvin was much calmer than he had expected.

"Sonal, listen to me. I'm not an ordinary receptionist. I'm getting commissions from this job. Soon I'll get a large bonus. If you want a house, I can pay the down payment easily. If you like some car, I can also buy it. Wait for me for a while. It won't take too long. One month, one month at most, okay?"

Alvin sat there, speaking these words, not in a pleading tone, but rather as if he was stating a fact.

"Wait for you? Alvin, I've been waiting for you for a long time!" The woman named Sonal was very emotional. "You took the graduate entrance examination, then you took the postgraduate entrance examination. I've been waiting for you for so many years. I've waited enough. Alvin, we've been in society for so long, and we all know what we need. It's a pity that you can't give me what I need! But he can!"

Sonal looked towards the door of the dining room.

At a table in front, a man in his forties, dressed in a suit, stood up and walked over.

Alvin took a look at the man, and then fixed his eyes on Sonal. "Is this your choice? If I'm not wrong, there is a deep mark on his ring finger on his left hand, which proves that he has carried a wedding ring for a long time. Is this a man who has been married?"

"Let me introduce myself. I'm Markaine Harcum, and I own Markaine Logistics." The man in a suit handed Alvin a business card, then sorted out his collar, walked to Sonal, and said, "I was married, but now I am divorced. Sonal told me about you two. I think that she wasted her best time with you. I was once your age. I will give you a piece of advice, you can't force her. You should let her go when it's time."

Alvin didn't even look at the business card that Markaine handed him. His eyes were fixed on Sonal the whole time. "Sonal, are you willing to be with him? You've been waiting for me for so many years, and now you want to leave?"

"Ha." Sonal laughed at herself. "I just can't wait any longer. That's all."

After finishing his words, Sonal took the initiative to take Markaine's arm to announce her decision to Alvin.

"Well... Although it has nothing to do with me, let me say something." Henry, who was standing in the room, pulled the door open and came out, coughing. "Beauty, Alvin has great potential. Since you two have been together for such a long time, you'd better believe in him. And, what about the man beside you? The ring mark on his ring finger is very deep. Based on my experience, I think, it should be less than 15 days since he removed the wedding ring. Has he ever told you when he got divorced? If he told you that a long time ago, he was lying to you."

Standing there, Markaine's face changed slightly but soon returned to normal. He looked at Henry unhappily and said, "Boy, who are you? What does this have to do with you?"

"I'm Alvin's boss. I just said a few words, and you don't have to take it seriously, haha." Henry said with a dry laugh.

Sonal listened to Henry's words, looked at Markaine suspiciously, and immediately felt relieved. "Thank you for saying that, but since I have decided to be with him, I don't care too much, as long as he loves me."

"Alas." Henry sighed and shook his head. "Beauty, you really missed a good man. Alvin's character is really good. You should have some confidence in him."

"Boy, it's none of your business. Get out of our way." Markaine glared at Henry and said, "You're running a small security company. What right do you have to stand in front of me and talk?"
