

Chapter 901

"I can imagine the expression of Sylvia's stupid husband. He must be terrified."

"That idiot wanted to sell at a higher price, hahaha."

"Let's go, let's go collect the money."

Mr. Frazer and others in the room all sneered, but when they looked at it carefully, they were even more jealous.

Lins Group was not only the leading enterprise in the whole of Yinzhou but also in western China. Sylvia was known as the most beautiful woman in Yinzhou. At this moment, she was already a woman, and all men envied her husband. Now, these people were all looking down on Henry. Most of them were still jealous in their hearts.

"186 million..." On the auction stage, the auctioneer spoke once again. At the same time, he smashed the wooden hammer in his hand forward.

"190 million!"

Just as the wooden hammer in the auctioneer's hand was about to smash down, a voice came from Silver Visitor.

Seeing that the wooden hammer in his hand was about to land on the table, the instant this voice sounded, the auctioneer simply lifted his hand and threw the wooden hammer out. He prevented the wooden hammer from smashing onto the table. Smashing meant that it was a deal. However, the new price and the bid that he had just shouted were worth more than 10 million yuan. If this hammer smashed down, he would not be able to bear the consequences.

Mr. Frazer and the others, who were about to leave, heard the sudden bidding and stopped subconsciously.

Just as one of them was about to speak, they heard another bidding sound.

"200 million yuan."

"220 million yuan."

"250 million yuan."

Originally, after bidding various bids, it finally stopped at a price of 186 million. After a short four bids, it soared to 250 million in an instant. Such a price, let alone Mr. Frazer and others, even Sylvia didn't expect.

The auctioneer standing on the auction platform had a kind of unreal feeling. At the same time, his heart was filled with lingering fear. Fortunately, he just threw away the wooden hammer. Otherwise, let alone in this life, he couldn't even earn so much money in his next life.

Mr. Frazer and the others in the room looked back and forth and saw confusion in each other's eyes.

Now the price called at the auction was much higher than the price of their land. That was to say, the Lins didn't lose money at all.

"How is it possible? Who really wants to take this piece of land at this price?"

"Everyone knows that this piece of land is not worth the money. It's not possible that there is someone more stupid than Sylvia's husband, right?"

Seeing that the Lins Group didn't lose money at all, and even the price of this land increased, the people in the room were a little unhappy. First, they didn't see Henry make a fool of himself. Second, they just talked nonsense and had various speculations. As a result, the price now exceeded their speculations, which made them feel very ashamed.

"I don't believe that there are so many fools in the world. How can a fool pay hundreds of millions in one go?" A man who looked only about 30 years old said, "In my opinion, the two people who bid are specially arranged by Sylvia's husband. In order not to embarrass himself so much, they bid this price."

"That's not right. If they ask someone to offer this price, they really have to buy it at this price. Otherwise, who will we give the land to? Will we give it to the Lins Group? If we have to give it to them, won't they feel ashamed?"

"It's normal for them to find some company. Just pay some tax and get the land back. They won't feel ashamed."

"It's possible, that fool can't do anything. He can offer tens of millions of yuan, of course, he can pay the tax?"

Just as the few people in the room were talking, the bidding sound rang again.

"Three hundred million yuan."

After hearing the price of 300 million yuan, Mr. Frazer and the others who were comforting him were all shocked.

Everyone, including Sylvia, had a strange look on their faces.

As the queen of Yinzhou's business circle, Sylvia was very clear about every piece of land in Yinzhou. She knew at a glance how much each piece of land could be sold for.

In Sylvia's mind, 250 million yuan was already the highest possible bid, but now someone called three hundred million yuan.

The rest of the guests who had come to participate in the auction were also shocked by this price.

"It can't be that someone wants to make a big bet, right?"

Just as some people speculated that it was a bet, a voice came from a room. "Do you think it's interesting to bid so slowly? Or do you think hundreds of millions can scare me?"

"Oh? What do you have in mind, Mr. Andrew?"

As soon as the two voices sounded, the guests present recognized that these two persons were the two who had just started bidding.

"I think we should add 1 billion each time, or I'll fall asleep. I'll offer 1.3 billion yuan." Then he said. For him, 1.3 billion yuan was no different from 13 yuan.

As soon as this number came out, all the people present widened their eyes. Mr. Frazer and others were so surprised that they couldn't close their mouths.

"It must be that Henry who is bidding for the land. Otherwise, who would spend so much money to buy the land?" Mr. Frazer and others comforted themselves in this way. If this land could really be sold for 1.3 billion yuan, it was nearly 280,000 yuan per square metre! Not to mention a small city like Yinzhou, even some second-tier cities would not be able to sell for such a price. This was not some house or shopping centre, but just ordinary land!

Before the guests could recover from the 1.3 billion yuan in the auction, Silver Visitor's voice rang out, "Mr. Andrew, I thought you would be able to offer 1.3 billion yuan. I'll pay 3 billion yuan."

Three billion!

Someone took a deep breath and patted his chest to ease his breathing.

Mr. Frazer and others were all stunned. How could somebody offer three billion yuan? If the land was really sold at this price, they would suffer some big losses.

Was this land really so valuable?

"Five billion." Standing in the booth, Andrew said with a smile.

"How about 10 billion?" Silver Visitor replied.

These numbers came out from the mouth of the two men. It was as casual as an ordinary person asking for a price of daily products.

"15 billion."

"Twenty billion."

It was just a few simple bids, but the price soared to 20 billion. The price of the land alone was more than the total assets of the Lins Group. Such a number made the guests lose their ability to think, and even their breathing became rapid.

Mr. Frazer's and the rest's minds went blank. No one thought that this was orchestrated by the Lins. Everyone knew the Lins would not act in such a way. If the Lins had acted to the end, they would have found a company to make a deal with. If the Lins were able to offer tens of billions, how much taxes should they pay?

Chapter 902

The number of 20 billion yuan was something that Mr. Frazer and others could only dream of.

Now, they heard that the piece of land in their hands was going to be sold for 20 billion yuan. Although only a small part of it belonged to them, it was still a large sum! For many of them, the price of the land in their hands now even exceeded their total assets!

Mr. Frazer swallowed a mouthful of saliva forcefully. He could feel that his breathing was a little miserable.

"Twenty billion! Twenty billion yuan! So how much does each piece of land cost? Five hundred thousand yuan! Five hundred thousand yuan for a small piece of land of 50 square metres. This price is high even for the land surrounding the capital. What's more, they were in such a small city as Yinzhou."

Sylvia stood in the room, listening to this price for a long time before she came back to her senses, "Honey, the people who came this time are from Section Nine and that Recluse Association, right?"

Recently, Sylvia had participated in many underground activities, including the last meeting of the ancient kungfu families. She also went to the Shen area. She had heard of the names of the Section Nine and the Recluse Association, but she was not familiar with them.

Henry shrugged and said, "It's not a good thing for us to keep that land in our hands. We might as well sell it to them."

"Honey, isn't the price a little too high?" Sylvia stuck out her tongue cutely. "20 billion yuan for such a piece of land. Do you really want to sell it to them for 20 billion yuan?"

"We already did them a favour by offering to sell this piece of land to them." Henry reached out and grabbed Sylvia's soft hands. Then he pulled the woman to his side and sat down. "These two forces don't lack money at all. This land belongs to the Lins Group. We can think about this as we have won a lottery."

Sylvia smiled and narrowed her eyes. "In this case, I really have to think about how to spend this money, 20 billion yuan."

"Think more. 20 billion yuan is just the beginning for them." Henry leaned on the sofa. 20 billion yuan was not a big deal for Radiant Island, let alone Section Nine and the Recluse Association. The foundation of Section Nine and the Recluse Association was definitely much more powerful than Radiant Island.

The price of 20 billion yuan left the whole auction house in silence.

No one heard bidding again for a long time.

"Oh, my God. 20 billion yuan. It's so terrible. I really wonder if I'm dreaming. The market value of the Lins Group is that much!"

"Where does this local tyrant come from?"

"The tax that he has to pay for this land is equivalent to my total assets. The life of a rich man is too scary." A boss who drove a Benz sighed with emotion.

"There's no sound. 20 billion should be the sky-high price. It's impossible for it to be higher."

"Let alone 20 billion, I think 10 billion is too much for me. I can't even imagine how much 20 billion is."

"It should be called the highest price now. It's the local tyrant who bought this land for fun."

A few bosses in a private room were chatting with each other. All of them were sweating. Before that, they all thought that they had already walked to the front of the vast majority of people, who had already been called rich people. However, it was not until today that they knew that they did not understand the world of the rich.

The auction house was silent. Seeing that no one was bidding again for a long time, the auctioneer took a deep breath and was ready to make a sound.

However, before the auctioneer's voice could come out, he heard a hesitant voice. "I thought that you will play big. As a result, you only added 5 billion yuan? I offer 50 billion yuan."

50 billion!

A grey-haired real estate businessman was sitting on the sofa in the box. When he heard the number, his eyes rolled, and he almost lost his mind.

"50 billion! What does that mean? How many people have 50 billion in total in the whole of China? Who can pay 50 billion in cash?"

"100 billion." Silver Visitor's voice rang out.

The hundred billion yuan was enough to shock all the merchants present.

100 billion for buying a piece of land of 477,000 square metres in the old city area of Yinzhou? Wasn't he crazy?

Compared with the shock of others, Henry, the seller of this land, crossed his legs and snorted with dissatisfaction, "What are they doing? It took them this long only to offer 100 billion."

Hearing Henry's tone, Sylvia, who was on the side, glared at Henry and said, "My husband, you are not satisfied with this price. Do you know how many assets the richest people in China have? Now the price of this land alone can put me into the top ten on the rich list. It's ten times of the Lins Group's past income!"

Henry smiled slightly and said, "My dear wife, you should look further."

"Where?"

"Let secretary Lee arrange the press conference. After tonight, you will be the richest person in China. I'm afraid there will be a lot of reporters coming to the entrance of Lins Group," Henry said.

"The richest person? The richest person in China?" Even Sylvia was a little confused when she heard these two words.

Although the Lins Group was big, it was only known in the western province. Before Henry appeared, what Sylvia had been doing was to managing the Lins Group so that the Lins Group would not decline. But now, Henry told her that the Lins Group was going to be the leading enterprise in Yinzhou and become the leading company of the whole of China. After 12 o'clock tonight, would she become the richest person in China?

"Alright, Silver Visitor, I won't be fooling around with you anymore. We don't have that much time." In a somewhat impatient tone, Andrew said, "Two hundred billion."

As soon as Andrew finished speaking, Silver Visitor said, "300 billion."

Hearing Silver Visitor's bid, Andrew took in a deep breath and asked, "Silver Visitor, do you want to fight me to the end?"

It was acceptable for Andrew to accept the price of 300 billion yuan. Besides, as long as he wanted it, he could continue to bid for it. However, the two sides were not competing for money at all. Otherwise, if they really wanted to compete in terms of money, it would be absolutely impossible for them to solve this with the money.

Behind Section Nine was the Chinese government. How rich was the government?

As for the Recluse Association, tens and hundreds of billions of yuan could be taken out at will. The organization, which had been passed down for thousands of years, had powerful forces in each country. Its financial resources were unimaginable.

Upon hearing Andrew's voice, Silver Visitor replied, "We must take this piece of land!"

Hearing Silver Visitor's answer, Andrew pondered for a while and said, "Okay, I can give you this honour, but there is a piece of land outside. You have to leave it."

"Deal," Silver Visitor replied.

The two of them spoke a few words that outsiders could not understand, but they were actually weighing the pros and cons.

"Well, this land is yours. I'll raise the price for the last time. 400 billion. If you pay 100 billion more than me, this land will be yours," said Andrew with a smile.

"Five hundred billion." Silver Visitor added another 100 billion, telling Andrew that he was not afraid of competing with Recluse Association.

Silver Visitor shouted out the price of 500 billion yuan, and he didn't make a sound again.

After waiting for a long time, the auctioneer picked up the wooden hammer shakily and knocked it down.

500 billion. Deal!

Chapter 903

500 billion!

For those merchants present, this price was something that they had never even dreamt of possessing.

Now, the Lins sold a piece of land in the old city area of Yinzhou, which was less than 50,000 square metres, for a price of 500 billion dollars! What did this mean?

One square metre was sold for more than 10 million! This was definitely the most expensive piece of land in history! Even if it was the most expensive building in the world, it could not be compared to this place.

Henry, who was sitting on the sofa, heard the final price. He smiled and said, "Well, this price is OK, I can accept it."

Henry knew that five hundred billion yuan was nothing for the two forces. If they were willing to compete for it, one trillion yuan was normal. But obviously, this was not a matter that had been fought for all the time. What Henry did was just providing a platform for the two forces to fight for themselves. As for money or not, it was just an excuse. After calculation, the two forces owed Henry a favour.

Sylvia only snapped out of her daze after a long while. Her beautiful face was filled with excitement, "Husband, 500 billion, I'm not dreaming, am I?"

"Honey, I don't think so." Henry looked at Sylvia with a strange expression. "If you want, I'll ask Felix to transfer another 500 billion yuan to you to make a lot of money."

"No, it's not the same." Sylvia shook her head and said, "Honey, the thing you gave me is totally different from the one I earned from others."

"What do you mean?" Henry was confused. In his opinion, money was not enough to be spent.

"You don't understand." Sylvia narrowed her eyes and laughed. "I've been interested in a few projects for a long time. This time, I can invest all of them, including the last one..."

Henry looked at Sylvia sitting there and muttering, with a smile on his face from time to time. He felt warm in his heart. As long as he could make her happy, it didn't matter.

Mr. Frazer and others sat in the room, and everyone looked dull. To be exact, most of the sky-high price auctioned today belonged to them. However, everyone's file contained a contract, which was signed this afternoon. The contract clearly stated that no matter how much money the auction price was, the Lins Group would buy it according to the price they sold to them.

One price was 5,300 yuan per square meter, while the current price was more than 10 million per square metre. The difference between them could even be described as the difference between heaven and earth!

They just laughed at Henry and called him a fool. They claimed that the highest price on this land was only more than 4,000 yuan per square metre. But the result was just like slapping them in the face one after another, which made them extremely ashamed.

However, for Mr. Frazer and others, the most important thing now was not about losing face, but the land in their hands. More importantly, before this, Henry also asked them if they want to sell the land according to the auction price. As a result, they chose their current price.

Mr. Frazer only felt uncomfortable with chest tightness. He could not breathe. A few hundred million yuan was thrown away by him! It was hundreds of millions of yuan, which was hundreds of times more than Mr. Frazer's current total wealth! Such an opportunity was wasted by Mr. Frazer himself.

There was a moment of silence in this room where Mr. Frazer and others were. If they looked around, they would find that these people, who were laughing just now, had an ugly constipated expression at the moment, and their pupils were red.

Dang-dang-dang.

A knock on the door came from the door of the box where Mr. Frazer and others stayed. The door of the room opened. Cathy, the secretary, stood at the door with more than a dozen Lin's employees and said to Mr. Frazer, "Sirs, now the auction is over. This is the land transfer agreement. As long as you sign it, the money will be transferred to your accounts within 24 hours."

After Cathy finished, more than a dozen Lins employees behind her each took an agreement and put it in front of Mr. Frazer and others.

Mr. Frazer looked at the price on the land transfer agreement, which was 5,300 per square metre. If it had been ten minutes ago, he would have laughed and signed the agreement without hesitation. But now Mr. Frazer was very unwilling to accept the agreement. He even had the impulse to pick up the agreement in front of him and tear it up on the spot.

There were many people who had the same thoughts as Mr. Frazer. The agreement was in front of them, and the pen was in front of them, but no one reached out to get the pen.

"Everyone, the agreement can be signed now. According to your requirements today, you sell it to Lins Group at the price of 5,300 per square meter." Cathy saw that Mr. Frazer and others were hesitating, so she spoke out. She deliberately emphasized the price of 5,300 per square metre, hoping to see Mr. Frazer's and others' faces.

Sure enough, when Cathy once again mentioned the price of 5,300 per square metre, Mr. Frazer and others looked even worse, which made Cathy feel happy in her heart. Today, Mr. Frazer and others came to Lin's company to make trouble and return the land. Cathy saw clearly that they had no choice but to give in. At that time, Cathy still couldn't understand why Henry agreed to take the land back. Now, Cathy finally understood that there must be something that she couldn't understand, but Mr. Henry had seen it early, which made Cathy sincerely admire Henry.

Mr. Frazer took a deep breath. Now he wanted to slap himself a few times. He was so regretful, but what could he do? Trembling, he reached out his right hand and picked up the pen next to the agreement. Mr. Frazer's hand was shaking violently.

Just as Mr. Frazer was about to sign his name on the agreement, a voice rang out from the side.

"No, I didn't bring anything with me today. How about this, Andrew Lee, you come to our company tomorrow, and I will go through these formalities with you? Tomorrow morning, okay, I have something urgent to do now, so I have to go now."

As soon as the voice fell, the 30-year-old man put down the pen in his hand and hurried to the outside of the room.

Seeing this scene, many people who were about to pick up their pens and sign, just like Mr. Frazer, also spoke out.

"I just remembered that I left in a hurry today and didn't bring anything with me."

"Me too. The stuff is in my car. Wait for me. I'll go down and get it now."

"Oh, I forgot to bring it."

They spoke one after another.

After Mr. Frazer saw this, he put down the pen in his hand and said to Cathy, "Secretary Lee, look at me. I'm old and I easily forget things. I forgot about the contract this afternoon. Well, I'll bring the contract to Lins Group tomorrow."

After that, Mr. Frazer didn't wait for Secretary Lee's answer and left.

In a twinkling of an eye, all the bosses left. The agreements handed over by the secretary were not signed by anyone.
