

Chapter 940

Future sat on the sofa and told them everything about Henry's first research with the Spiritual Stone on the island, up until the time when he absorbed the energy of Fire Crystal on his own.

"Are you saying that there is a cyclone of energy in Boss' body? And it is divided into two colours?" After listening to Future's story, Wade felt that it sounded quite incredible.

Future nodded her head.

Regarding the cyclone of energy that resided in Henry's abdomen, the fact of it had always been buried at the very bottom of Future's heart and had never been told to anyone about it, not even Henry knew about it.

Future smiled self-deprecatingly and said, "How ironic. I've mastered technology that has received the recognition of surpassing the technology of the present by 50 years. However, regarding the changes within Boss' body, I can only regard it as some sort of inner force, just exactly as written in those martial arts novels, including the Qi we have mastered, may just be one form of inner force."

"What do you mean?" A confused Wade asked. He knew that Future was a very careful person, she would never have given such a groundless guess if she did not have a certain extent of certainty.

Future pulled out her mobile phone and tapped on the screen a few times. A beam of light shot out from the camera on the back of her mobile phone, creating a projection on the wall, on it were numerous data analysis diagrams.

She pointed at the projection on the wall and said, "I have recently conducted a comprehensive analysis of the energy system that lies within the Spiritual Stone and the Fire Crystal. I have also extracted more than a hundred types of DNA, and ordered for samples from ancient civilisation locations to be sent to me. According to the comparisons in data, the DNA of most creatures are compatible with the energy within the Spiritual Stone. In other words, these creatures originally possess some Qi. Among these are DNA from creatures like cheetahs, elephants, rhinoceros, ants and so on, which possess much more primitive strength than humans. The DNA of humans today lacks the similar sort of energy."

After saying that, Future swiped the screen of her mobile phone, and the projection on the wall changed.

She continued, "These samples were collected from the ancient site where human beings lived. From them, some DNA of ancient humans could be found. After some observation, I found that there was a similar energy pattern to the Spiritual Stone in the DNA of ancient humans. My calculations showed this kind of energy pattern still existed in the DNA of human beings at the beginning of the 18th century, but at the end of the 18th century, these energy patterns disappeared from their DNA."

"Do you mean to say that we are degenerating?" Wade frowned.

"Looking at DNA alone, it does seem like it." Future nodded, then shook her head. "Of course, we can't generalise that, so in my opinion, this so-called Qi is actually a kind of inner force written in martial arts novels. A long time ago, it was basically a human's ability, just like how we can see with our eyes, but bats cannot. It's just that these abilities gradually degenerate, but there are still some who retained them. This group of people exist in the clans and the blood of the clan members runs the same. As long as their bloodline is maintained as pure as possible, this DNA can continue to exist. What Boss is faced with now, I suspect that it was the work of Qi."

Wade opened his mouth to say something, but was interrupted by Future's outstretched hand.

"I know just what you're about to ask. You want to know why Boss had practiced Qi, as we all have, so why is it that we are all alright?"

Wade nodded.

"The methods of practicing Qi between Boss and ours are not the same." Future shook her head. "We practice through slowly sensing the existence of Qi and then absorb the energy residing in the Spiritual Stone. This process is similar to training our muscles. What we do is train bit by bit and slowly transform our flesh into muscles. The muscles are originally a part of ourselves, what we go through is a process of which our muscles gradually increase with the decrease of excess flab, just as I have said before, we once possessed DNA that was compatible with the energy within the Spiritual Stone, it's just that that part of our DNA had been hidden from us, all we had to do was dig it up. As for Boss, it's not the same as us."

As she spoke of it, Future took a deep breath and took a glance at Henry, sympathy and pain flashing in her eyes.

"Boss was the first among us to come into contact with Qi. Unlike us, who had people to lead us along the way, he relied solely on himself to explore Qi. If we use the same metaphor to say that we practiced Qi the same way as training our muscles bit by bit, then Boss' way of practice would be the same as beating the flesh on his body into muscles with iron. Perhaps this metaphor isn't the most fitting, but that is the idea of it. We use Qi to guide and exploit our potential to its fullest, but Boss on the other hand, forcibly absorbed all that Qi into his body for his own use, and the energy of that Qi isn't pure, especially Qi from the Fire Crystal!"

After pausing for a moment, she continued, "The energy in the Fire Crystal is more violent and aggressive than that within the Spiritual Stone. It's like an infectious poison. Once it enters Boss' body, it will spread rapidly, but this spreading would not affect Boss' bodily functions, it would only dominate the energy from the Spiritual Stone. This energy acts like a virus and completely takes over the energy from the Spiritual Stone within Boss' body, when this happens, Boss will begin to get agitated uncontrollably. In this state of agitation and violence, one would lose the ability to reason. For example, when a person fights for the first time, he would not be able to remember when he threw a punch or swung a kick, his mind would be completely blank, and that is the same for Boss. In other words, this is a very abnormal state of dream-walking. Under these circumstances, Boss' consciousness will enter a sleeping state, and all his movements would be led by his subconscious."

"So, do you mean that Boss has gone mad while practicing martial arts?" Alex asked with a strange look on his face. He liked the culture of Yan Xia and had gone through many TV series and novels about Yan Xia martial arts. He often saw people go mad while practicing martial arts to the point that they were unable to recognise their loved ones, but those were just TV series.

"You can put it that way." Future nodded. "Some time ago, Wade also entered this kind of state. It's just that it wasn't as serious as Boss'. I believe that the reason behind all this was the immense mental pressure he had to bear, indirectly causing a total breakdown. Bannock had also said earlier that Boss completely broke down when he mentioned the word "clan". It is apparent that Boss has never let go of this. His life now appears to be calm, but in fact, he has to bear an even greater pressure than before. After all, we knew our enemies very well back then, but now the clan is still a mystery to us. We fear the things we don't understand most."

After hearing this, Wade was slightly stunned, shortly after he let out a sigh.

The others also showed remorse on their faces. Henry was suffering so much pressure, but as the elites of Radiant Island, they were unable to help him at all, which made them feel very helpless.

Chapter 941

Everyone sat in the room and looked at Henry, who was still unconscious. No one said anything.

The relationship between these people had long surpassed that of blood brothers. Now that Henry's body was in such state, they all felt uncomfortable.

"Enough. Stop being so depressed." Peze was indeed the oldest. He knew that the first thing they had to do was to control their emotions. "You kids aren't that old, yet the things hidden in your hearts are more complicated than the next, adding to the fact that none of you are willing to trouble each other."

Future said, "I've always been looking for a solution regarding Boss' issue. I've got some ideas, I'll tell him about it when I'm completely certain, but I'm afraid he won't remember anything that had happened today when he wakes up. After all, when he went into the agitated state, his consciousness has already gone to sleep. We have to unify our words. The worst that could happen is Boss finding out about his condition."

"We understand," Wade replied. "Let's keep this matter a secret from Boss for now, we'll just tell him tomorrow that he drank too much alcohol. We should all be cautious. After this matter is over, we've got to train really hard, we can't let Boss shoulder all of those burdens alone."

"This fella." Moon Goddess stared at Henry and sighed. "He always seems so calm, but in truth, he takes his responsibilities very seriously. It's just that there's so much insecurity within him, that's why he's always so cold when around outsiders. If someone treats him a little better, he might remember that person for life."

"Sigh." Alex also shook his head. "Our Boss is loyal, but after what had happened to Cesia, and the incident with Boid has left a quite a scar on Boss. Haven't you noticed that since Boid's death, Boss rarely made new friends? His behaviour and actions have also become more cruel. Only after he had gotten married did he restrain his behaviour quite a bit."

Red Hair nodded. "Let's first settle the matter at hand. Felix, have you arranged everything for tomorrow?"

Felix replied, "All arrangements have been made. We just have to go there together tomorrow. Oh right, there are a few private investigators watching us. Shall we kill them?"

"There's no need." Valentin replied, "Those nobodies were invited by sister-in-law's business competitors. Don't worry about them, just let them watch. If we kill them now, it'll be inevitable that people will notice us. What's more, Boss has a deal with Section Nine, so we'd better not act on our own. Our business with Boid is more important."

Peze said, "Then let's all get some rest first. Felix, please arrange for us to meet with our old friends tomorrow."

"Got it."

The next morning.

Henry opened his eyes and found that he was lying on a large bed. His head felt dizzy, he rubbed it and exhaled deeply. He did not know when he had fallen asleep in the hotel. Was he really that bad at drinking? Did he get so drunk that he did not know what had happened? That was not possible!

After getting up and washing up in the bathroom, Henry saw that a bottle of iced plum juice had been prepared on the table of the room.

After finishing the cool iced plum juice, Henry felt much more comfortable.

After practicing Qi, although it helped to strengthen Henry's body and increase his metabolism rate, it was only able to aid in dissipating the alcohol in his body. If he was able to recover from drunkenness by just focusing Qi, it would be no different from being immune to all sorts of toxins.

Qi was only a type of special energy, but it was not able to make one immune to all sorts of poisons.

Henry walked to the window and pulled the curtains open. He was standing at the height of more than twenty floors. All he could see was clouds of mist.

"Alas." Henry sighed. "It's a pity that this hotel well known for its scenery is all covered in fog, so much so that nothing can be seen at all."

Henry stretched a little and left the room, then headed to the hotel lobby. He found Wade and others waiting in the lobby with a single glance.

Henry noticed that Wade was wearing a suit today. He walked back and forth, then ran to the mirror of the lobby to check himself out, while Future and the others talked and laughed by the side.

"What's up? Why are you all dressed up today?" Henry walked forward and said with a smile.

"My God, Boss, you've almost slept past the time." Said Future exaggeratedly when she noticed Henry, "It's almost 10 o'clock."

"Alas." Moon Goddess shook her head and said, "With such a capacity for liquor, I suggest you don't bring yourself to the wine table anymore. I haven't even had enough of it, but you'd already been knocked out."

Alex said angrily, "Boss, when I carried you back to the hotel yesterday, you kept spitting at me. Really, if you weren't my boss, my machete would have gone through you!"

Henry scratched his head in embarrassment. He was terribly drunk and unconscious last night, and he even did something this shameful.

Henry quickly changed the subject. "Wade, what is he up to? Is he going on a blind date today?"

"You're right Boss. I really am going on a blind date." Wade walked over from the side with a bitter face. "My father suddenly contacted me this morning and told me that there would be a blind date this evening. He told me to be prepared for it. He is just deliberately pushing me into my own grave!"

"Haha, you idiot. Boss wouldn't understand what you're talking about. Boss has a beautiful woman in his arms every day, he's living the best time of his life!" Future laughed out loud.

"Boss, your bar is set so high that I can't reach it!" Wade looked at Henry with a pleading face. "Boss, can you please tell my father that you have a mission for me? And that I would be unable to pursue a love life within the next twenty or thirty years. What do you think?"

Henry rolled his eyes and said, "You go and tell your father on your own. The Bai family is counting on you to carry on the family tree. However, you still like playing around all over the world."

Wade's face looked bitter. "Boss, I wish to do that too, but the problem is that it's too difficult to find someone I like."

"Is it that difficult? I think it's just difficult for you to fall in love with someone." Henry pursed his lips. "Otherwise, I'll go beg Ailsa to forgive you and come back from abroad?"

"I think this sounds good." Future came over excitedly when she heard the name "Ailsa", "Boss, only Ailsa can control this idiot. Hurry up and call her back!"

"Don't!" Upon hearing the name "Ailsa", Wade was like a mouse that had seen a cat. "Boss, I suddenly feel that it's time for me to get married. Tonight, I'll go on that blind date! I'll find a girl and stay with her for the rest of my life!"

"Sigh, poor Ailsa. She's gone to a foreign land just for some douchebag." Future shook her head and walked away.

Felix came over from the side. "Okay, let's talk about the blind date later. Boss, all the arrangements have been made. Our men have found Boid. Shall we go now?"

"Let's go!" Moon Goddess answered before Henry could open his mouth, "Back then, I saved his life on the snow mountain. Today, I'll kill him with my own hands!"

Chapter 942

Henry's expression changed and said, "Let's go. It's been so long. It's about time we settled this matter for good."

The playfulness on the rest of their faces quickly disappeared.

The whole team stepped out of the hotel and headed toward their destination.

This time, Felix had specially prepared a banquet and invited Boid to attend it, with the reason behind it being the discovery of new energy resources.

When the banquet had just begun, Henry and others did not show up. They knew what kind of a person Boid was and were afraid that Boid would put on his guard.

Boid was a man aged about 30 years old. He was tiny and calm. No one would ever have thought that three years ago, he used to be a killer who lived in the shadows.

"Haha, Boss Lyu, I've heard so much about you. It's nice to finally meet you today." An entrepreneur walked to Boid and took the initiative to greet him.

Roseland Industry, the company under Boid's administration, was backed by a huge capital flow, and it had a pretty good run within the recent six months in the capital.

Boid laughed and said, "I just got a little lucky. My Seniors, you are the ones I have to catch up with."

"Boss Lyu, please don't say that." Another entrepreneur came over and said, "Looking at how the Roseland Industry is developing, it will soon be at the very top of the business world within the capital."

Upon hearing those words, a hint of disdain flashed in Boid's eyes, then disappeared just as quickly. He smiled and said, "Simon Cheng, you all think too highly of me."

"Those are just the facts, Boss Lyu. Please, have a seat." Simon invited Boid to the banquet table at the very front.

The purpose of this conference was just to lure Boid out, not to release much news. Therefore, there were not many cumbersome procedures to go through. When everyone was seated, the banquet went straight to the point.

When one of the attendees gave the report regarding the energy contained in the Fire Crystal to the host, the host was shocked.

Boid sat on the table, his eyes fixed on the Fire Crystal on the platform. He muttered, "Devil's fragment!"

At the same time, Boid waved to a middle-aged man who looked like a secretary behind him. "Go and find out who is keeping an eye on this thing."

The middle-aged man nodded and turned to leave.

Soon after, the banquet was over and someone took the Fire Crystal away.

Boid also stood up at the same time.

"My lord." The middle-aged man who looked like a secretary came back. "I just found out that this piece of Devil's fragment seemed to have been guarded by people from Radiant Island."

"Radiant Island!" Boid's eyes suddenly became sharp when he heard these three words, "It's them!"

The middle-aged man asked, "Sir, are we going to do it?"

"Of course!" Boid said without hesitation, "We are going to steal the things from Radiant Island! Now send someone to follow up and notify the people over there. If it's really the people from the Radiant Island who are guarding it, I'm afraid that it will be a bit difficult to deal with it by ourselves!"

"I understand."

After the banquet, many people took this opportunity to exchange their business cards with each other. When many entrepreneurs were looking for Boss Lyu of Roseland Industry, Boid had already left the banquet with his men and sat in an ordinary van, and they followed a Buick all the way.

This Buick drove around the capital for about an hour. At one o'clock in the afternoon, they arrived at the door of a private club. The car stopped and the door opened. Several people walked into the club guarding a small box. Boid's unlicensed van stopped in a corner not far away.

Boid, who was sitting in the passenger seat, stared at the private club in front of him and said, "This place belongs to Radiant Island."

"My lord, are you going to take action?" The middle-aged man asked.

Boid pondered for two seconds and then said, "Let's do it. If you see the people of the Radiant Island inside, kill all of them!"

"I understand."

The van door was opened, and a total of six people got out of the car, including Boid. They took out a white mask and put it on their faces, and then walked to the club with a murderous look.

In front of the club, there was no one guarding it, and the door was closed.

Boid waved his hand, and a man trotted up. He took out an iron wire from his pocket and moved the doorknob twice. Then the closed door of the clubhouse opened automatically.

Boid and the others crept into the club, carefully closed the door, and left a piece of white silk at the door. Then they looked at the interior of the club.

The interior decoration of the club was luxurious. Obviously, it was used for organizing parties. At this time, there was no one in the hall of the club. There was only a weak voice coming from the second floor of the club.

Boid signaled, and the six of them went to the second floor together.

As soon as Boid stepped on the stairs leading to the second floor, he heard a shout.

"Who's there?"

Boid suddenly looked up and saw a young man dressed as a waiter standing on the second floor.

Boid did not even think before he shouted, "It's a Reaper, kill him!"

Being discovered, Boid and the other five people no longer tried to conceal their movements. They directly rushed to the second floor at an increasing speed.

"How dare you attack Radiant Island?!" The waiter was not afraid at all. He pulled out a short a sharp knife from the vase next to him and went to greet Boid and the other five people.

At the same time, the door of a room on the second floor opened, and seven or eight people rushed out to fight against Boid and his fellows.

Seeing this, Boid's pupils shrank, but he didn't have time to think, because the person in front of him had already arrived.

The great battle was on the verge of erupting. Boid and the others weren't weak, or else they wouldn't have known that their target this time was Radiant Island. They came here knowing who they would face.

Meanwhile, these Reapers were carefully selected. Each of them was a qualified killer. The two sides were very balanced in terms of individual strength. However, in the end, this was the territory of Radiant Island. In every place of the club, there could be a weapon hidden for Reapers to use at any time. Moreover, the number of Reapers was higher than that of Boid and his people. After dozens of moves, Boid and the others gradually lost.

A sharp knife cut through Boid's cuffs, and Boid roared, "Where are they? Why haven't they arrived yet?"

"Haha, I was afraid that I would take your credit, so I waited at the door for a while." As soon as Boid's voice fell, the door of the club was pushed open from the outside. A total of seven figures appeared at the entrance of the club, and each of them had a smile on his face.

"Stop watching the show. Let's get started. Kill them and take the piece of Devil's fragment!" Boid avoided the knife in front of him and shouted in a hurry.

"No problem, but you need to agree with me first. I'll take half of the credit for returning that piece of crystal," the leader of the seven people spoke up.

"The thing was discovered by me, I will give you at most thirty percent!" At this time, Boid was still talking to the other party about the conditions. From this point, it could be seen how important the contribution they were talking about was.

"Haha, not generous at all." The leader chuckled and said, "However, 30 percent is enough. Fight!"

Chapter 943

In the hall of the club, all the people were fighting.

Due to the addition of the new seven people, the situation instantly changed. The Reapers, who originally had the upper hand, were immediately defeated.

Boid saw that the situation had changed dramatically, and his face hidden under the white mask showed happiness. He roared, "Kill them, the crystal is upstairs!"

As soon as they heard this, the seven people who just came in showed a feverish look in their eyes.

The Reaper, who was dressed as a waiter, was the first to come out. When he saw that they were no match for their opponent, he shouted, "Retreat!"

The Reapers, who were still in battle, suddenly stopped their attacks, retreating towards the second floor at the same time.

"Kill them!" Boid roared and caught up with them on the second floor.

The group of Reapers charged into a room, closing the door.

Boid chased to the front of the room and kicked the door open. He seemed to be a little crazy a second ago, but at this moment, he was stunned.

In front of Boid, a woman's long hair was fluttering in the wind. The Holy Ring shone on her finger.

Looking at the woman in front of him, there was fear in Boid's eyes under the mask.

This kind of fear was different from that of other underground forces when they saw Henry. It was more like the fear of children from their elders.

Clap! Clap!

A crisp slap sounded on Boid's face.

The white mask Boid wore on his face was directly sent flying.

Even though Boid was wearing a mask, and even though they had not seen each other for three years, Moon Goddess still recognized the person in front of her at a glance. He was the orphan she had picked up from the Snow Mountain.

Boid reached out and touched his burning side face. Looking at the woman in front of him, he opened his mouth and said softly, "Sister..."

Pa!

Moon Goddess gave another slap on Boid's face.

"Don't call me sister! I don't have a brother like you."

One could see that the body of Moon Goddess was trembling slightly at this moment. It could be seen how angry she was. She had been treating the person in front of her as her younger brother. But just now, Moon Goddess stayed in this room and clearly heard that this person, whom she had taken as her younger brother, was going to kill all the Reapers!

"Moon Goddess, don't be excited." Felix walked up from the side, grabbed Moon Goddess's arm, and tried to persuade her. He casually looked at Boid and nodded. "Boid Lyu, you're brave, really brave."

Boid's eyes swept over the room. He saw the kings of Radiant Island, and every time he saw one of them, the fear in his eyes increased. When Boid saw the person sitting on the main seat in the room, the fear in his eyes turned into horror, and he subconsciously stepped back, "Impossible! Impossible! You can't appear so casually!"

Henry smiled and stood up from the main seat. He shook his head and said, "There is no place I can't go. There is only a place I don't want to go. Boid Lyu, it's been three years. I think you should know how we ran away at that time, right?"

"Of course he remembers!" Alex said, "How can he, Boid Lyu, not know that we drilled a dog hole? Wade almost died in that alley. How can he not know?"

Behind Boid, a dissatisfied voice sounded, "Boid, what are you staring at! Go and kill them! Get the thing!"

The seven people who had just arrived walked over and glanced at the room. This time, they were stunned.

Henry also saw the other party, and this glance made Henry laugh directly, "Oh, it seems that the power behind you is bigger than I thought. Long time no see, Liam Su!"

Liam Su, when Henry first entered Krerton City, had a conflict with the Su Family. He even directly crippled Liam. Anyone who provoked Henry lost his life.

"It's you!" Liam's pupils shrank, and hatred suddenly appeared in his eyes.

Henry stretched out his right thumb and scratched his ears. "According to your tone, you, Liam Su, must not have just joined an organization. Looks like even the ancient kungfu family in Krerton City has been infiltrated. It seems that this game is not small."

Henry took out a metal box from his pocket, opened it, showing the Fire Crystal, and said curiously, "I just heard you say that this thing is called a Devil's fragment? I'll give you a chance to tell me why you call this thing like this. If you don't tell me..."

Speaking of this, Henry grinned. "If you don't tell me, I will break all your bones bit by bit and grind you to death."

Liam could not help but shudder when he heard Henry's words. He had seen the means of the man in front of him. Back then, his whole family had almost been killed by him!

The people brought by Liam, as well as the people brought by Boid, also came to the door of the room at this time and happened to hear Henry's words. They didn't know Henry's identity, so one of them said disdainfully, "What a boast, you are still stubborn when facing death."

"Ha." Henry gave a chuckle and then stepped forward.

"So fast!" Boid and Liam's faces changed at almost the same time, and their pupils shrank.

Henry was standing in front of the man who had just made a disdainful sound. No one could see him clearly during this process.

Henry stretched out his right hand and directly pinched the throat of the person who just spoke. The person wanted to resist, but he couldn't do anything at all. Facing Henry's strength, he, who had been strictly trained, was as weak as a newborn baby.

In other people's eyes, Henry just reached out his hand and grabbed the man's throat, but the man did not resist at all.

After pinching the man's throat, Henry showed his neat white teeth and grabbed the man's shoulder with his left hand at the same time, giving him a hard pinch.

"Crack!"

This was the sound of bone fracture. Under Henry's pinch, the man's shoulder was completely crushed. This kind of pain could make people make a painful sound. However, his throat was pinched very tightly by Henry, and he couldn't make a sound. They could only see that his face was red and ferocious.

After Henry pinched this man's shoulder bone, he did not stop but continued to pinch the rest of his body. The cracking sounds were constantly heard, and the sound of bones rubbing against each other made people's hair stand up. Just like what Henry had just said, he crushed the bones of this man inch by inch. This kind of pain had completely exceeded the limits of what human could bear.

The person whose throat was pinched by Henry quietly endured the pain in his body, and could not make a sound. His eyes began to unconsciously bulge and revealed a strong sense of despair.

During the process, whether it was Boid or Liam, they only dared to watch from the side and did not dare to make a sound.

Chapter 944

Liam and Boid just stood there and watched Henry crush the bones of the man they brought here bit by bit.

During this process, the speed was not too fast, but not too slow either.

When Henry only finished half of his movement, the person in his hand had already died from pain. His eyeballs were protruding and his face was ferocious, just like a hungry ghost in the City of Hell. The "crack" sound kept sounding, which made people's hair stand on end. Those people who followed Boid, wearing white masks, all had fear in their eyes.

Henry was obviously doing such a cruel thing, but he always had a smile on his face. When he crushed the last big bone, he threw the man aside casually as if he threw garbage, and then he didn't look at him anymore.

Henry clapped his hands, glanced at the others, and then asked softly, "Is there anyone who has any objection to what I just said?"

Liam swallowed hard and looked at Boid.

Boid's eyes were also filled with fear, but the fear was suppressed by him. He plucked up his courage and said, "There are rules in the underground world. You can't enter the city at will, and you can't take action in the capital. Do you really want to break them?"

"Oh?" Henry showed a meaningful smile at the corner of his mouth. "Who sets these rules? Is it you, Boid or some other big shot?"

Boid couldn't say anything. This rule had always been a silent tacit understanding of the underground world. No one had ever really mentioned it. Who would dare to set this rule at will to limit Henry's freedom? Only Chinese authority could do it!

But would the government of China do this? Obviously not! Everyone in the underground world knew that the underground king was Chinese. For China, this was definitely a big upgrade in reputation. If the government publicly stated that the underground king was not allowed to enter the capital, then it would be regarded as refusing to admit that the Emperor of Hell was from China. How could the government do such a stupid thing?

The government could only approve of him. It was a tacit agreement that the Emperor of Hell wouldn't enter the capital. This was why when the Emperor of Hell did something in other places, Chinese officials also adjusted their attitude.

"I'll say it again." Henry picked up the Fire Crystal again and said, "Tell me what this Devil's fragment is, or I'll crush your bones one by one."

"Ha, ha, ha, the Emperor of Hell, how arrogant you are! Oh, no, no, now you have given up your position and you are no longer the Emperor of Hell. Now you should be called a prison guard of the Recluse Association!" A loud laugh sounded from the first floor of the club. Then, a figure suddenly jumped up from below and appeared in front of Henry.

It was a Chinese man of about 30 years old, with long messy shoulder-length hair and a smell of alcohol all over his body.

At the moment they saw this man, both Boid and Liam quickly lowered their heads and greeted him respectfully.

Henry looked at the middle-aged man. From the words he just said, it could be seen that he had been following Henry's actions, including the matter that he had resigned from the position of the owner of Radiant Island.

"My lord, let me introduce myself. My name is Roslin Mo. My father is a drunkard, so my mother gave me such a name. But obviously, this name is useless."

When Roslin was talking, he also took out a white wine bottle from the back of his waist. There was some wine remaining in the bottle. From his way of joking with Henry, it could be seen that he was quite confident.

Henry stared at the bottle in Roslin's hand. After a few seconds of silence, he suddenly said with a smile, "It looks like the foundation of the Noble Berserkers is even deeper than I imagined. There's really a never-ending number of experts."

"No, no, no," Roslin shook his head and said, "I can't be called a master in front of the prison guard. It's just that in China, Section Nine clearly ordered that no one is allowed to use his or her Qi while the sun is up. In the absence of Qi, I, Roslin Mo, dare to say that I'm not afraid of you. Of course, this is under the condition that you abide by the rules of Section Nine and don't go against them. If a prison guard like you is ready to turn against Section Nine at any time and break the rules, then forget what I just said."

"Are you threatening me?" Henry stared at Roslin.

"Of course I don't dare." Roslin had a smile on his face, but there was a provocative look in his eyes.

Henry looked at Roslin in front of him and suddenly noticed that Roslin's hand holding the bottle was rubbing against the mouth of the bottle with one finger.

This glance made Henry laugh. "Tell the person behind you that he doesn't have to provoke me. Why do you people from the Noble Berserkers want to see the situation in this world become chaotic?"

Henry's words made Roslin's eyes flash with a trace of panic. Although this panic disappeared in an instant, it was still clearly captured by Henry.

When Henry saw Roslin's finger rubbing the bottle, he realized that this Roslin was sent by someone to provoke him.

Since the first time Henry saw Roslin, Roslin had been very arrogant. Henry knew that there were fools in this world, but at the same time, he also knew that there were not many big fools in this world. If Roslin was so strong that he didn't take him seriously, then the Noble Berserkers wouldn't do those small actions against him repeatedly.

The finger that kept rubbing the bottle mouth told Henry that although Roslin's face looked calm, his heart was not calm at all. He was afraid that the smell of alcohol in his whole body was to enhance his courage.

Roslin mentioned the rules set by Section Nine on purpose. With such a posture, he wanted to force Henry to take action. Once he took action, he would still be in the capital. If he broke the rules set by Section Nine, this matter would not be so simple.

Once there was a conflict between Section Nine and Radiant Island, the world's underground forces would pay attention to this side.

Roslin calmed down and was about to say something, but was interrupted by Henry.

"Alright, what does your Noble Berserkers want to do? I'm not in the mood today. Today, I'm here to take revenge." Henry stretched out his hand and pointed at Boid. "I want this person. The rest of you can leave. Otherwise, even if I don't use my Qi today, it wouldn't be difficult for me to defeat all of you."

Boid panicked and looked at Roslin for help.

Without even thinking, Roslin opened his mouth and said, "It's reasonable to exchange a person's life for so many lives. You can have this person. My lord, we shall meet again in the future!"

After finishing his words, Roslin directly jumped to the first floor. He shouted, "Let's go!"

Chapter 945

Liam and the others looked back and forth at each other, and finally fixed their eyes on Henry. When they saw that Henry was just staring at Boid without even looking at them, Liam slowly stepped back and walked toward the stairs.

The moment Liam stepped on the stairs, he turned around and ran without any hesitation. He had long been scared out of his wits by Henry.

Seeing that Henry really let Liam run away, the rest of them didn't dare to stay. Almost at the same time, they turned around and ran away.

Boid brought people to steal the crystal, and he was sure he would be successful. In the end, he was the only one left here. He had to say that this was a kind of irony. He sold Henry and others in the past, and now the people from the same force as him did not hesitate to sacrifice him.

At this moment, Boid did not have the courage to face Henry at all. He looked around and still turned his eyes to the place where Moon Goddess was.

"Why?" Wade's voice sounded, "Boid, the time we have known each other is not short. There were so many difficulties at that time, but everyone stayed together. Why? I have been holding this question for three years!"

At this moment, everyone was staring at Boid, including Henry, waiting for his answer.

It could be seen that Boid's eye sockets were gradually turning red. Suddenly, Boid knelt down on his knees, tears flowing from his eyes. "I'm sorry, I... I found my parents."

"Parents!" Moon Goddess was startled, and her eyes actually revealed a hint of joy. "Did you really find your parents?"

Back then, Boid was an orphan that Moon Goddess had picked up from the mountain. Boid told Moon Goddess that he had lost his parents by accident. For a few years, Moon Goddess had been continuously looking for Boid's parents, but she could not find them.

Boid nodded. "Sis, I didn't want to harm you, but they kidnapped my parents. I... I really had no choice!"

"This..." Wade's expression froze.

Although Boid had not seen his parents for many years, blood was thicker than water. He was threatened by people with his biological parents. That was a difficult choice to make.

The eyes of Moon Goddess gradually softened. She stepped forward and reached out to grab Boid's shoulder. "Get up first and then we can talk."

"Sister, you can kill me!" Boid knelt there and let Moon Goddess help him. He did not get up, and his face was full of remorse and hatred. "Since three years ago, I have lost my will to live. But my parents' lives were in their hands. I really couldn't do anything about it! In the past three years, I have been living like a dog. If they would tell me to go east, I wouldn't dare to go west. I have lived long enough of such life!"

"That's enough. Moon Goddess wants you to get up. You should get up," Wade said.

Boid still didn't dare to get up and looked at Henry.

The rest of the people also looked at Henry.

Henry stood aside, staring in the direction of the first floor of the club. He did not say a word, and no one knew what he was thinking.

"Come on, get up." Moon Goddess once again lifted Boid's arm. "We're all family. There's nothing that you can't say. Get up."

Valentin stood at the back of the crowd, shook his head, and whispered, "Moon Goddess's heart has always been soft."

"It's normal. Moon Goddess is also a human, and Boid is equivalent to a child brought up by her. How can she have no feelings?" Red Hair said.

Boid looked at Henry and then looked at Moon Goddess. He nodded slightly and then slowly got up.

The moment Boid stood firmly, a cold light flashed through his eyes, and he suddenly attacked toward the neck of Moon Goddess with his hands.

Although the strength of Moon Goddess was greater than that of Boid, she was not alert to Boid at all. Under Boid's sudden attack, she couldn't react at all and just watched Boid reveal a cold light from his sleeves.

Seeing that the cold light was about to reach the neck of Moon Goddess, Boid froze. He suddenly opened his eyes wide with unwillingness in them. He slowly turned around, but when he turned halfway, his whole body fell straight to the ground, and a red dot appeared on his temples.

In the direction that Boid wanted to look, silver-haired Cesia was sitting on the railing of the stairs to the second floor on the first floor of the club. Her slender legs were swinging back and forth in the air. She covered her mouth and smiled. "I say, Moon Goddess, you have been in the underworld for so many years. You still fell for Boid's lame excuse. You are too emotional."

Moon Goddess looked at Boid, who had fallen to the ground and had lost all his vitality, and was stunned and lost in thought.

"Felix, have someone come over to deal with this." Henry waved his hand.

Felix nodded his head and made a phone call.

Cesia's voice rang out again, "Brother Henry, looks like you love scheming. If you want to know who I am working for, just ask me directly. I didn't say that I wouldn't tell you. Is there a need to test me all the time? You purposely said that Boid belongs to the Noble Berserkers just because you wanted to see if I care about this matter, right?"

Henry did not speak.

"Their organization is called the Alvin League. It should now be one of the four major organizations in the world. It's not considered an enemy of our Noble Berserkers, nor is it considered a friend." Cesia jumped down from the railing of the stairs and walked towards the second floor.

"The four great organisations of the world?" Wade and the others frowned. They looked at Cesia in confusion.

As she walked, she said, "Apart from the Alvin League and our Noble Berserkers, the remaining two big organizations are the Recluse Association and Chinese clans. The Recluse Association will think too highly of themselves and view themselves as the saviour of the world. For the time being, they won't make any big moves. Chinese clans have too many restrictions and won't show up in a short period of time. Right now, only the Alvin League and our Noble Berserkers are searching for Fire Crystal in the entire world."

"What about our Radiant Island? What level of power does it belong to?" Wade couldn't help but ask.

"Don't blame me for being so straightforward." Cesia laughed. "If it wasn't for Brother Henry coming out from the Hell Prison, the current Radiant Island would be nothing more than an ant in the eyes of the four major powers. Of course, even if Brother Henry were to appear now, he would only be defined as a small threat. In general, nothing serious."

"Why did they call the Fire Crystal a Devil's fragment?" Valentin asked.

"Isn't the term Fire Crystal also made by us?" asked Cesia. "The energy contained in this thing is very complicated and rich. The members of the Alvin League have found the DNA of ancient humans in it. They always thought that this thing was left by a powerful being and called this powerful being Heretic God. They believe that as long as they can collecte enough Devil's fragments, the DNA of this powerful being could be awakened. Well... they call this plan, Resurrection plan!"

Chapter 946

The Resurrection Plan!

The words of Cesia continuously echoed in the minds of Henry and the others.

The Alvin League wanted to collect enough Fire Crystal to obtain the DNA of ancient humans, and then remould them! This kind of behaviour was shocking!

Why did living creatures constantly evolve? It was just because the genes in their bodies had to gradually adapt to the present ecological world. If the genes of ancestors were to be inserted in present humans, this was the way of going against the natural order!

For everyone in the world, things from ancient times had always been a mystery.

In the past few days, Henry did not do anything special. He read a lot of ancient books, and finally, he found one similar point among these ancient books!

This similarity was so shocking that most people would notice it when they saw it. However, so many things happened during this period of time, which made Henry realize the abnormality of this similar feature at once.

From ancient times until now, the first thing the members of new dynasties did was to erase the history of the previous dynasty!

This type of thing wasn't done by one person alone, but by everyone. What exactly was hidden in history?

Henry thought again. Five thousand years of Chinese history had been recorded, but there were many dynasties before that were rarely recorded. Even in the Shang Dynasty, there was only one record of it. Why was that?

The reason why China was called Yan Xia before, was not only because it was a descendant of Yan Huang, but also because it integrated the Xia people. But now, there was no record of the Xia people, and all the records come from the Yan Dynasty.

Henry browsed through the unofficial history, but in the unofficial history, there was no record about the Xia people.

"Xia, what on earth is it?"

The Grand Xia Dynasty was the number one dynasty in the world, but what it left behind was only a legend. There weren't any real records.

Or could it be that those legends which were known as legends of the Grand Xia were the true records?

Henry was already sceptical about some things. Together with the news brought by Cesia, they merged and brought a great shock to Henry's heart.

"Well, I've told you everything I should tell you. The people who should be killed have already been killed. Brother Henry, if you want to know more things, don't forget about our deal. Calculating the time, your trouble should appear soon. See you when you have time." Cesia suddenly stopped. She waved her hand, then jumped down the stairs and came to the first floor with a graceful posture. She flashed a few times and disappeared from the club hall.

As soon as she left, the door of the club was pushed open from the outside.

"The Emperor is here, but we didn't welcome him. It's our dereliction of duty!" A man walked into the hall with vigorous steps, stood on the first floor, looked up at the second floor, and said, "I'm Titan from Section Nine."

Henry looked at the man who claimed himself to be Titan. He was 1.8 metres tall and looked like a gentleman. When he walked, the distance between each step was exactly the same. When he stood there, he would unconsciously keep a posture to welcome the battle. Looking at Titan's palm, there were calluses around his thumbs. From this point, it could be seen that half of the strength of the other side was in the weapon.

With just one glance, Henry was sure that Titan was definitely a master who was no less powerful than Silver Visitor.

Of course, according to Section Nine, they would not send a chicken to see him.

Titan laughed. "The Emperor entered the capital late last night. He made such a huge ruckus today. I don't know which organization has angered you, My Lord? Our Section Nine and Radiant Island, no matter how you put it, we still have a cooperation agreement. We can help you."

"We just need to deal with the family affairs." Henry shrugged his shoulders and said, "If members of Section Nine have free time, I have a lot of family affairs that need your help. It depends on whether you have the time or not."

"Haha." Titan laughed, glanced at Boid, who was still lying in front of Henry's feet and said, "Since it's the family business of Radiant Island, we won't intervene. But if you have disputes with other forces, My Lord, you must be polite and ask us to solve it. After all, this capital is an official place."

When Titan spoke, it deliberately emphasized the word "official".

"Of course, we are partners, aren't we?" Henry said.

"Fine. Since your majesty still acknowledges our Section Nine as his partner, I won't say any more words of courtesy. I entrust it to you, to enjoy your journey in the capital." Titan waved his hand, and without even going up to the second floor, he turned and left.

This time, Titan didn't just say hello to Henry. In fact, when they were talking, they had already gone through some secret comparing, but others couldn't see this kind of comparing.

If Titan had the upper hand, it would not end this easily.

But Titan was apparently suppressed by Henry, so the matter was easily solved. This was also the reason why Henry had not entered capital over the last three years. The capital's secret was very deep, and there were too many strange people. When Henry had become the owner of Radiant Island, he was not sure whether he could hold that position for too long. If something bad happened, it would definitely cause big troubles. But now Henry did not have such concerns.

It was no exaggeration to say that if Henry let go of all his concerns, he would be alone. He would have nowhere to go in this big world!

Not long after Titan left, Felix said in a low voice, "Boss, they've already arrived. Do you want them to come in and deal with it now?"

After saying that, Felix turned his head and looked at Boid's corpse.

In front of Boid's corpse, Moon Goddess was still standing, not saying a word. Even though Boid swung his sword at her just now, in her heart, this was still her younger brother.

The Ten Kings of Radiant Island, including Henry, seemed to be glorious. However, they were pitiful. They did not have any family. The people they trusted the most were their brothers who had fought alongside them. They seemed cruel and brutal, but in reality, they valued relationships the most. This was because they knew that the friendship between them was not easy to gain. Boid was definitely one of the people that Moon Goddess was unwilling to give up on. It was just like how Cesia betrayed Radiant Island. However, no one could ever hate her.

"Let someone handle it. By the way, arrange a plane to take Moon Goddess back to the snow mountain." Henry made a decision directly.

"What about Boid?" Felix asked.

"I'll take him back." Moon Goddess, who remained silent for a long time, finally opened her mouth and said, "I picked him up from the snow mountain, and now I will bury him there. It can be said that there is a beginning and an end."

Henry nodded and said to Moon Goddess, "I'll give you seven days.

After seven days, there will be a task for you."

"Understood." Moon Goddess nodded.

Felix took out his phone and dialled a number. "Come in, all of you."

A few people walked in from outside the club. After entering, they all lowered their heads, said nothing, carefully walked up to the second floor, and took away Boid's body.

The grudge they had with each other three years ago was now resolved. However, they had also encountered a greater hidden danger.

The Alvin League...
