

Chapter 963

In the People's Hospital of the capital, several undercover police officers were patrolling in front of one of the patient rooms, looking over every move of the person staying inside.

In the room, Robert was lying on the bed with his eyes closed.

Accompanied by a couple of police officers, Holger strode over.

"This is Holger Jin. He's here to investigate the murder case." A police officer explained to the undercover officers.

Holger opened the door and entered the room. He looked at Robert, who was still unconscious. At that moment, Robert was on oxygen, and the vital sign monitor showed that Robert's state was stable, so waking up was just a matter of time.

Holger took a look at the police officers outside of the window and closed the blind.

One of the police officers noticed that the closed blind had stopped them from surveilling what was happening inside of the room. Just as he was about to sound the alarm, another officer came here with Holger stopped him.

He rushed over to the alerted police officer and shook his head. He then pointed upward, meaning Holger was from a higher level.

The undercover police officers had his mouth opened but did not speak a word.

In the patient room, Holger stared at Robert with an evil look on his face, "Old man, if you want to blame someone, blame your grandson-in-law!"

After saying that, Holger got closer to Robert and removed Robert's oxygen. His movement was too subtle to be noticed. But as soon as Robert was off the oxygen, the wave on the vital sign monitor started to fall flat, which meant that Robert's heart rate was falling.

Holger then took out a plastic bag from his pocket, and inside of the bag was a dagger. He put on gloves, took the dagger, and placed it in Robert's hand. After making sure Robert's fingerprints were on the handle of the dagger, Holger put the dagger back in the plastic bag.

Just as Holger put away the dagger, the door was busted open from the outside.

Holger was angry, looking at the doorway.

"Aren't you supposed to work on a case in Yinzhou, Silver Visitor?" Holger looked toward the doorway and said arrogantly.

It was Silver Visitor who appeared at the doorway!

In Section Nine, there was a special unit that was able to keep out of most of the internal conflicts. It was the military force, and they were responsible for the missions abroad. Those people were called the Sword Wielders of Section Nine.

Among them, the leader was called the Master Sword Wielder.

There were a total of nine Master Sword Wielders in Section Nine, and they represented the highest level of the military capability of Section Nine. Every Master Sword Wielder had the capacity of Qi- concentrating Realm, which made them extremely powerful.

For a long time, the Sword Wielders couldn't see eye to eye with the other bureaucratic units.

In Holger's view, the Sword Wielders were a bunch of brainless muscles. All they could do was field combat, which didn't solve any real problem.

Holger and Silver Visitor didn't belong to the same system. So Holger didn't carry a respectful tone when he talked to Silver Visitor.

Standing in the doorway, Silver Visitor did not answer Holger straight away. He first scanned around the room and asked, "What are you doing here? I don't think you are in charge of this murder case. Do you?"

"Haha." Holger sneered and said, "Silver Visitor, pay attention to how you speak to me. When did you get to question me? I don't think you have reported that you are back. Did you?"

"That's not your concerns," Silver Visitor said in an unfriendly tone. "You interfered with the murder investigation, and I don't believe this case is under your jurisdiction."

"It is out of my jurisdiction. But since this case is involved certain personnel, I have to step in," Holger's hand subconsciously reached his pocket, where the dagger with Robert's fingerprints was in. "Silver Visitor, I'm working, and you should leave."

"You can keep working. I'm just here to visit a friend," Silver Visitor entered the room and sat down on a chair. "Why don't you want me here? Were you doing something shady?"

Holger's face changed slightly when he realized that Silver Visitor didn't intend to leave any time sooner. He said angrily, "Sit there as long as you want. It doesn't look like this old guy has any days left for him!"

After saying that, Holger stormed out of the room and slammed the door behind him.

As soon as Holger left, Silver Visitor took out his cell phone and called Wade, "Wade, I have arrived, and I am in Mr. Lin's room."

The reason why Silver Visitor came back from Yinzhou was that Wade asked him to. Wade was worried that someone was trying to cause animosity between Section Nine and Henry. So he asked Silver Visitor to come over.

Wade answered, "Thank you, Silver Visitor. Henry and all the Lins have all been brought away by Section Nine. There will be a lot of trouble going forward. Do you have any information?"

"No," Silver Visitor shook his head, "What's the situation right now? Most people in Section Nine were confused."

Wade asked, "What's the story with that rookie? Who gave him the authority to take away Henry?"

"Are you talking about Holger Jin?"

"I don't know what's his f*cking name," Wade replied angrily, "He just took Henry away like that. The order shouldn't be from Section Nine, did it?"

"Of course not," Silver Visitor replied, "Holger is young and arrogant. He is the youngest person who holds the authority. Ever since he learned that Henry was back, Holger was keeping his eyes on the capital."

"Heh," Wade chuckled and said, "So all the chaos are coming from a reckless rookie."

"Yes," Silver Visitor said. He then added, "But he's also a reckless rookie with the powerful background. The tricky thing is we don't belong to the same system, so my words wouldn't be too helpful."

"We don't need to worry about Henry. But Sylvia's families are the ones that worry me. You know Henry well, and if that rookie does anything to hurt Sylvia, none of us can have a peaceful time."

Silver Visitor nodded, "I understand. I'll report it to the people from the upper level, and I won't leave until this thing is over."

"Great! I'll leave the things with Section Nine to you. Keep me posted."

They hung up after the conversation.

Silver Visitor took a last glance over the room before he left for Section Nine, but he didn't see the tube had been pulled off from Robert's nose.

In Section Nine, Henry had been in the level six heat room for nearly an hour.

Chapter 964

Looking at Henry, who was motionless in his cell, the operator was sweating bullets. It was not because he felt hot. He was scared there would be something wrong happened to Henry.

Since the establishment of Section Nine, level six was only used a handful of times, but no one had been under it for so long.

Once, there was a felony, who was especially strong, broken down after twenty minutes under level six heat.

The experience was more like throwing someone into a steaming pot, and the person could smell his own flesh being cooked while dying. How desperate the feeling was!

What the nervous operator didn't know was that Henry actually had fallen asleep.

The life- endangering heat was more like normal sauna temperature to Henry. It only made him feel comfortably warm, and nothing else, not even his rate of breathing.

Qi could extend the tolerance of the human body to an unbelievable extent.

"Clank!" The door of the surveillance room was pushed open.

Holger walked in with an angry face. He had wished to watch Robert die by his own eyes. But Silver Visitor walked in and ruined his plan. He just wanted to see Henry's face when he told Henry that Robert had died.

When Holger walked into the surveillance room and saw that Henry's cell was still under level six heat, his face dropped, "Why is it still on?"

As soon as the operator saw Holger, he almost burst into tears, "I..."

"Turn it off!" Holger roared. He ran quickly toward Henry's cell.

Although Holger dared to harm Robert in the hospital, he did not dare to do anything extreme in the headquarters of Section Nine. After staying under level six heat for one hour, if Henry had anything wrong happened to him, Holger would definitely be responsible for it.

When Holger opened the door of Henry's cell, the heat made Holger feel suffocating.

Holger held his breath and felt scared. If anything happened to Henry, Holger would face a huge problem. All Holger ever said was bluffing. He could only dare to make Henry suffer a little.

Holger subconsciously fanned out the air in front of him. When he saw Henry, who was sitting in the corner motionless, his heart beat faster.

Holger walked toward Henry slowly. The room's temperature was still unbearable, even after the heat turned off and the door open.

Holger stared at Henry for a few seconds, and Henry did not move.

Holger slowly put his hand under Henry's nose to check his breathing. Holger's hand was shaking out of fear.

Feeling no breath from Henry's nose, Holger's heart sank.

"Ah ha!"

Henry suddenly opened his eyes, let out a strange cry, and suddenly stood up from the stool.

Holger's legs went limp, and he almost fell to the floor.

Henry stretched himself and looked at Holger, who was stunned. Henry said jokingly, "What's up? Thought I was dead?"

Holger could tell Henry was mocking him, and it made him humiliated being mocked by a prisoner. Holger snorted and said, "Shut your mouth! Tell me, why did you kill the Qins?"

Henry showed a disdainful look and sat back down, "If someone asked you to do this, tell that person to find someone more capable for the job. If you are the one who made the decision, I'd suggest you grow up first. If I were you, I would go and fake more evidence before framing anyone. But, of course, you may have done that. But do remember that you need to make everything airtight. Otherwise, you'll be in big trouble."

Finishing his words, Henry rest his hands in the back of his head and closed his eyes.

Holger's body shook out of anger. He turned around and stormed out of the cell. He screamed, "Get the temperature up! To the maximum level."

"Bang!"

The door was slammed shut and locked.

Henry exhaled a sigh of relief and muttered, "Sauna again?"

Time slowly passed.

The Lins were locked up separately.

After walking out of the cell, Holger went to Qin's villa.

"Get me Qin's housekeeper!"

Two hours later, Holger returned to the headquarters of Section Nine with a happy face.

Henry was not staying under the heat for too long. After leaving Henry under heat for one hour, Holger became cautious this time.

When Holger got to the headquarters of Section Nine, he saw Silver Visitor had been there with a couple of other people.

"Holger, release Henry Zhang," Silver Visitor walked to Holger.

He skipped the social decorum and threw an envelope in front of Holger.

Holger glanced at it. He knew what was in the envelope without opening it.

Holger sneered, "Silver Visitor, I just realized that you are really enjoying being a puppy dog! As a Sword Wielder of Section Nine, you left your own job and came back here to help an abroad organization?"

Silver Visitor did not argue with Holger. Instead, he said, "Release him."

"Whether release him or not, I'll have to decide after seeing the paper. What if you just gave me a bogus paper?" Holger picked up the envelope from the table.

"Holger, be careful!" A man behind Silver Visitor shouted, "You don't have the right to insult Silver Visitor."

Holger's face dropped. He shouted, "Who do you think you are? How dare you talk to me like that?"

"You."

"Knock it off," Silver Visitor waved his hand to stop them from arguing. He then turned to Holger, "Release Henry after you seeing the paper."

"Don't worry, I'll need to check this paper carefully," Holger took out the paper from the envelope and sat on the couch. He took his time to find a comfortable position with his leg crossed. He then asked for a cup of tea from one of the staff. After all that, he finally started to read the paper.

"Gee, my eyesight is getting worse. I can't even read anymore. You, get me a pair of reading glasses," Holger tossed the paper on the side. He then took the cup, blew on it, and sipped the tea enjoyably.

Chapter 965

Holger asked the staff to get him a pair of glasses. In the meanwhile, he was sitting on the couch, drinking tea and playing video games on the phone.

An hour later, someone came over with a pair of glasses.

"Wrong ones. These are my Monday glasses, and I don't wear these today. Get me a new pair," Holger waved his hand and sent the person away.

That person was one of Holger's subordinates. He gave out a tacit look and walked out of the headquarters.

"Holger, I know you did it on purpose!" A Sword Welder standing behind Silver Visitor can't stand Holger's behavior anymore.

Holger glanced at him and asked for another cup of tea. He then said, "Yes, I did it on purpose. What can you do to me?"

The Sword Welder trembled in anger but could not say a word.

Holger laid down on the couch. After another hour, his subordinate brought back another pair of glasses.

Only then did Holger nod his head with satisfaction, "Yes, these are my glasses for today."

He took over the glasses and started to clean the lenses. He almost spent five minutes on each lens. After more than ten minutes, he finally picked up the paper for the second time.

There were less than fifty characters in the paper, but it took Holger twenty minutes to finish. Holger put the paper down and said, "Silver Visitor, you are such a fantastic puppy dog! You can even get the First Brother to sign this off."

Silver Visitor stood there silently, ignoring Holger's provocation.

All the Sword Welders came with Silver Visitor was furious. As a Sword Welder, Silver Visitor held a high reputation among all the fellow Sword Welders. But at this moment, Holger called him a puppy dog over and over again.

Getting no reaction, Holger couldn't get excited after humiliating Silver Visitor. In the end, Holger had to give up another round of humiliation that he had prepared.

Holger snorted. He waved his hand and said to his people, "Go and release all the Lins!"

Henry saw Sylvia and the other Lins outside the interrogation room. They did not look like they were hurt except for their tired faces.

Dasiy burst into tears the moment she saw her mom. No one could bear the mental pressure of locking up in an interpretation room like that.

Dasiy's mom held Dasiy tightly. Although she was also mentally broken down, she tried her best to comfort her daughter.

"Sylvia, are you hurt?" Henry rushed over to Sylvia.

Sylvia shook her head slightly and then glanced over to her families. Sylvia had her experience with extreme situations, but all of her families hadn't been in a horrible situation like this. Their experience in the Section Nine interrogation room would leave them with serious psychological trauma.

"Stop crying! Who allowed you to cry here. Shut your mouth!" One of Holger's men shouted.

Dasiy was scared by the shouting and stopped crying abruptly.

Henry turned to stare at the man who said that.

He also turned to stare at Henry. When their eyes meet, his eyes were full of provocation and arrogance, as if saying to

Henry, "What can you do to me?"

Henry smiled faintly, taking a step closer to the person. Henry's movement intimidated Holger's man immediately.

The provocation and arrogance in his eyes disappeared. At the moment, he felt as if he was prey being targeted by a jungle beast, and Henry could swallow him alive at any time.

"Let's go," Henry walked to the exit, pulling Sylvia with him.

Silver Visitor had been waiting at the doorway.

The members of the Lin Family followed Henry out.

Near the exit, Henry saw Holger walked over.

Holger stared at Henry, making a gesture of slicing his throat with his right hand.

Henry ignored him and left the headquarters of Section Nine with the Lins. When they stepped out of the elevator, they found themselves at a warehouse.

Silver Visitor walked out of the elevator with Henry and others. Seeing the surprised expression on Sylvia's face, he explained, "Section Nine headquarters has more than ten exits, and they are located at every corner of the town. As for the entrance, I'm not allowed to tell. Your ride is ready. Let's go."

Sylvia nodded.

The Lins got on an SUV Silver Visitor prepared for them. After getting in the car, Henry realized that Nelson and the others' faces were colorless. It was obvious that they had not recovered from what had happened.

"Alas," Henry sighed. "Everyone hungry? Let's get something to eat and rest. Today, we'll just stay in."

In the headquarters of Section Nine.

Sitting in his office, Holger looked vicious. It was hard to tell what was going on in his head.

"Knock, knock, knock."

Someone knocked on the door of Holger's office.

"Come in." Holger answered the door.

The door was open, and a woman in her thirties walked in.

"What's the matter?"

"The information just came in. The suspect of the Qins murder, Robert Lin, has died."

"What? He's dead!" Holger was shocked. He jumped up from his chair and asked, "When?"

The woman replied, "A couple of minutes ago. The hospital equipment malfunctioned. He died of asphyxiation!"

"Prep for me. I need to go there!" Holger looked anxious and stormed out of the office. But he only faked his reaction. Holger was actually overjoyed. The only regret was that he couldn't see Robert's face when he was dying.

In the People's Hospital of Du City, the Lins were all crying. They learned about the news on their way to a restaurant.

"Where did you put my Grandfather's body?" Looking at the empty patient room, Sylvia's face was pale.

Nelson had passed out. He had been weak after hours of torturing. This devastating news totally broke him.

Crying sounds filled up the hospital. Dasiy's eyes had swollen up, and Chaning was kneeling in the doorway. Sylvia's elder aunt didn't cry. She stood in the corner of the room, muttering.

Silver Visitor sighed and said, "Sylvia, my condolences. Holger is on Mr. Lin's murder case, I was afraid that he would do things to Robert's body, so I asked people to put the body in a secure location."

Henry stood on the side, not knowing how to comfort the Lins. Robert's death was so sudden that it was hard for the Lins to take in.

 Watch Ads to Get 15 Vouchers