

Chapter 51 The Page Boys

- Meredith had requested her exclusive stylist to design the outlooks for Megan on her wedding day. The stylist took a look at the wedding dress and discussed with Megan about her demands before coming up with a design style.
- “Merry, what do you think?”
- Megan had dressed up according to the stylist’s suggestion, and she had taken a liking to her outfit. However, Meredith’s mind seemed to be somewhere else. For the past two days, she had been trying to find out who that woman was.
- “Merry!” Megan shouted, which caused Meredith to come to her senses.
- “Oh, yes. Surely, my sister is the most beautiful bride.”
- “Why have you been absent-minded recently?” Megan pouted, but her heart was filled with happiness. “Thanks for your compliment. Anyway, you’re also a soon-to-be Mrs, so I’m sure the Fowlers will hold a wedding for you that’s ten times grander than mine. By then, don’t forget who helped you achieve this.”
- In fact, Megan was rather jealous of her sister. Since Meredith brought the twins to the Fowler Residence, the Fowlers thought that she was the kids’ mother. Megan had teased her about it from time to time.
- However, Meredith’s expression was dark at the moment. She didn’t tell the truth to Megan and her mother. No matter what happened, she wouldn’t tell anyone about it.
- “Of course. It’s all thanks to you.”
- “I’m glad you remembered. Well, since I’ve helped you before, now I need you to help me back. I need two page boys for my wedding, but none of the kids in the Lake Family are suitable for the job. Why don’t you tell Jamie and Jojo to come?”
- Meredith fell into a dilemma upon hearing that. “I’m afraid...”
- Even though they were her sons, she couldn’t make the decision on behalf of the Fowlers.
- “You just said you’re thankful of me, but now you’re rejecting my request. Anyway, what is wrong with the Fowlers? I’m the kids’ aunt. They’re four years old now, but I haven’t seen them before. Come to think of it. It’s rather unbelievable.”
- In fact, Megan, Roland, and Jezebel never met Jameson and Joaquin before. Firstly, they were not really Meredith’s sons. Secondly, the Fowlers were protective of the kids because they were afraid that the kids would be harmed. Meredith was powerless to offend the Fowlers, so she had never requested to meet the kids.
- “Okay. I’ll try. But, Jojo is pretty quiet and doesn’t talk to me much. I’m afraid he won’t agree to it. On the other hand, Jamie is more lively, so he might come to your wedding. I’ll try my best.”

- Since this was her sister's wedding, she had to try to help her even though the task was difficult.
- "Okay. Then I'll look for a flower girl. It's a perfect combination. But who can do the job? Who has a daughter that's about three to four years old?"
- Resting her face on her palms, Megan looked at herself through the mirror and fell into her own thoughts.
- "My page boy and flower girl have to be good-looking to be present at my wedding. Oh yes. Are the Fowler twins handsome? I won't want them if they're ugly!"
- Megan suddenly realized that it was a serious issue. Given the Fowlers' social status, her ego would be boosted if the Fowler twins were to be her page boys. However, she had forgotten to take their looks into consideration.
- "Of course they're handsome! It's because Pierre is such a fine man." Certainly, Meredith was confident that the kids were adorable. Although she was reluctant to admit that the kids of Selena and Pierre were good-looking, it was the truth. Sometimes, she would be worried that her own kids in the future might not be as attractive as the twins.
- However, Megan didn't believe her. "Beauty is in the eye of the beholder. I don't know whether Pierre is handsome because I have never seen him before."

Chapter 52 I'm Not Mad

- "Anyway, he's handsome! You'll believe me when you see him!"
- Despite what had happened, Meredith was still protective of Pierre.
- "Then tell him to come to my wedding. After all, he's my future brother-in-law, so it'd be inappropriate if he doesn't show up." Megan smiled flatteringly at her.
- If Pierre could come, it'd be a huge honor to my wedding!
- Naturally, Meredith couldn't make that decision on Pierre's behalf. Nevertheless, Megan's words had enlightened her that whatever the case, to other people, she was the mother of the twins, and it was an irrefutable fact.
- As long as the lie wasn't exposed, she would never lose the fight to that woman.
- "Okay." Meredith agreed to it. No matter what happened, she had to ask Pierre to attend Megan's wedding. When they appeared together in public, she would officially be seen as his partner.
- "That's wonderful. We'll need a flower girl now." All of a sudden, Megan snapped her fingers. "Selena's daughter!"
- "Her daughter? Are you out of your mind?" Meredith stared at her sister in disbelief.
- "I'm not mad. I have my own consideration for making such a decision. There'll be a good show during my wedding. Just you wait."

- Megan decided to embarrass Selena right in front of her daughter at her wedding.
- A few days had passed, and it was already the day before Megan's wedding. To prepare for her sister's wedding, Meredith had taken days off and postponed all her work until after the wedding. On this day, she had dressed up before arriving at the Fowler Residence.
- It wasn't easy to ask Jameson to be the page boy at the wedding.
- After Meredith entered the living room, she took a seat and enjoyed a cup of tea with Helen.
- "You didn't have to come. You could just ask someone else to send these fruits to us. Your sister is getting married tomorrow, so I'm sure you have to be busy now." There was a fruit basket on the table which Meredith had prepared for Helen.
- "It's a mess now, so I'm not able to help much. That's why I've decided to come over here to have a chat with you and visit Jamie and Jojo." Meredith flashed a gentle smile at her.
- "Your sister is getting married tomorrow. I think it's time to think about your own wedding with Pierre as well."
- Meredith was slightly embarrassed. I think Pierre hasn't told his family members the truth, so they still believe that Jamie has proposed to me in Pierre's stead. Since he's never exposed it, why would I say it myself? This misunderstanding would be an advantage for me.
- "It's really up to him. Mrs. Fowler, I haven't been able to contact Pierre for the past few days. Tomorrow will be my sister's wedding day, so I want to bring Jamie and Jojo to the wedding because she needs a page boy. Can I?"
- "Well..."
- Helen didn't agree to it immediately because she also couldn't make that decision.
- However, she did understand her husband very well. Although it wasn't embarrassing to let one of the twins be a page boy for Megan, by doing so, they were basically announcing to the public that the Yards and the Fowlers were related.
- There might be a conflict of interests, and John hated it when other people tried to take advantage of the Fowler Family.
- While they were having a chat, John, Jameson, and Joaquin came downstairs.
- The reason Meredith chose to visit the Fowlers on this day was that John would be at home on the weekend.
- Jameson ran toward Meredith and said, "Mommy, I heard what you just said. What is a page boy?"
- "Tomorrow will be your aunt's wedding day. A page boy has to present some flowers to her. Are you willing to attend her wedding?"
- "Will there be delicious food? Is it fun?" Jameson appeared to be curious.

Chapter 53 The Day Before the Wedding

- “Of course there will be delicious food, and the wedding will be fun as well.”
- “I’m going then! Grandpa, I wanna be a page boy at the wedding!”
- John’s expression remained indifferent.
- Meredith hurriedly rose from the couch and nodded at John. “Mr. Fowler, if you don’t agree to it, I will just tell my sister to look for someone else.”
- She was humble, and there was no displeasure in her tone. She even appeared to be a little subservient.
- In fact, John was fine with this future daughter-in-law of his.
- Helen tried to put in a word for her. “The wedding will be tomorrow, so it’s too late to look for another page boy. Furthermore, Jamie and Jojo have never seen their aunt and grandparents. Why don’t...”
- “Okay,” John finally said. “It’s time to let them see more of the outside world. Bring more bodyguards to protect them at the wedding.”
- Indeed, John wasn’t willing to let anyone take advantage of the Fowler Family. However, since Pierre had proposed to Meredith, they were going to marry one day, and the Yards would also be their relatives. So, it wasn’t a bad thing to let the kids attend Megan’s wedding.
- “Thanks, Mr. Fowler. Don’t worry. I’ll look after them.”
- Meredith was elated as she never expected that things would go so well.
- “Where’s that brat? Tell him to go to the wedding as well!” All of a sudden, John was pissed. “How could he just leave the company to me and go away? He’s become gutsier now!”
- John was in a somewhat hostile relationship with his son. Some time ago, Pierre didn’t even inform his father about it when he went on a business trip. John was enraged when he asked Pierre’s subordinates where his son had gone and no one knew the answer.
- Meredith was surprised upon hearing that. She was still thinking about how to make Pierre attend the wedding. Now that John had given the order, Pierre certainly had to go to the wedding.
- Pierre was holding a meeting in his base when he received a call from his family. Niall told him that John was infuriated and insisted that he had to attend Megan’s wedding.
- In an instant, Pierre fell into a dilemma.
- The big day had finally come. The weather was lovely, with no clouds in the sky.
- Naturally, the wedding of Finneas and Megan would attract the attention of many. Although the Lakes were not as powerful as the Fowlers, their influence was second only to the Fowlers. Furthermore, the Yards were a wealthy family as well, so the wedding was an important event.

- For Selena, this was a good day too.
- She was surprised when Megan asked Juniper to be the flower girl at her wedding. Previously, Juniper was still traumatized after the kidnap, so Selena thought that her daughter would reject the idea. To her surprise, Juniper agreed to it directly.
- Since she has agreed to it, we'll have to attend the wedding. In the past, Selena was always protective of her daughter, but she then came to the realization that she couldn't protect her forever. Juniper would have to learn to face all the difficulties on her own. As her mother, she had to let her daughter grow up.
- The wedding was held in Regalia Hotel, which was the most luxurious hotel in Digton.
- Since many influential people would attend the wedding, the roads around the hotel had been cordoned off. Hence, most car owners would have to use other roads. Only the attendees of the wedding were allowed to enter.
- The wedding was going on as planned. After arriving at

Chapter 54 The Good Show at the Wedding

- Meredith was the bridesmaid of her sister. She didn't want to be one in the first place, but she went with it because she hoped to appear at the wedding together with Pierre. Prior to the wedding day, Megan insisted that Meredith had to be her bridesmaid and even threw a tantrum. Left with no choice, Meredith agreed to it.
- She had chosen a white mermaid dress for herself. In order to protect the Fowlers' reputation, she didn't dare to wear anything sy. Still, the modest dress perfectly outlined her curvy figure.
- Since many people had surrounded Megan, there was nothing much Meredith could help.
- "Merry, didn't you say that Pierre would come? Where is he?" Megan still remembered it.
- She had never seen her future brother-in-law before. Meredith always said that Pierre was a charming man, but Megan never believed her and thought that it was because her sister was madly in love with him. So, she was looking forward to seeing him finally.
- Meredith took a look at her wristwatch. She knew that Pierre was on a business trip. If John never gave the order, Pierre probably wouldn't want to come back.
- "He's boarded the plane this morning, so he should have arrived by now. I'm sure he'll attend your wedding on time," Meredith replied, but she appeared to be a little dejected.
- It would be perfect if she could appear at the wedding with Pierre together. However, she had decided that after completing her duty as the bridesmaid, she would stick with him.
- Megan was overjoyed about her own wedding, so she didn't notice Meredith's expression. "Where are my page boys? Why didn't you bring them with you?"
- "The bodyguards will bring them here later."

- The process of the groom fetching the bride was rather chaotic, so Meredith didn't dare to bring Joaquin and Jameson with her to ensure their safety. Therefore, the twins had to be escorted to the hotel directly.
- "Oh yes, Selena has agreed to let her daughter be my flower girl. Help me make sure they're here already. If she's backed down, there won't be a good show today."
- Megan sported a smug smile.
- "What show are you talking about? I couldn't believe that she'd let her daughter be your flower girl." Meredith was surprised.
- "Why would that stupid woman reject me? Help me look for them later."
- "Megan, many influential people will attend your wedding today, so make sure you don't go overboard," Meredith reminded.

Chapter 56 You're Also One of the Yards

- At the moment, Selena was rather agitated.
- However, Pierre just stared at her with his dark eyes, which caused her smile to fade.
- "They're all your family members, so why would you want to make it unpleasant for them? Why don't you just forget it? After all, if anything happens during the wedding, it will affect the Yards' reputation as well."
- Despite his indifferent tone, his attitude was overbearing, which greatly displeased Selena.
- It was the first time he spoke to her in such a serious manner, but he was apparently not on her side.
- "The Yards' reputation? Are you saying that their reputation matters, but mine doesn't?"
- "You're also one of the Yards."
- "I'm not! If I could remove this surname of mine, I would've done it a long time ago! Do you think I'm one of the Yards? Do you know how they treat me? If you know what they've done to me, you wouldn't have said so!"
- Selena glowered at him, for he had infuriated her by saying something she hated to hear.
- She had an aversion to anyone who told her to give up getting her revenge just because she was also one of the Yards.
- Pierre was lost for words. In fact, it wasn't his intention to dissuade her from getting her revenge, but he had to attend the wedding on this day, so he wouldn't want to clash with her and let her find out his identity.
- "I don't care what you will do today, but I will carry out my plan as expected. Bye!"
- After shooting him a look, Selena lifted the hem of her dress and walked up the stairs.

- On the other hand, Finneas and his father were receiving guests in the hotel. He was anxious because he was expecting to see the president of JNS Corporation and Selena.
- He knew that Pierre would come today, but the person he was more excited to meet was the president of JNS Corporation, as this company could bring him better benefits. Pierre and Meredith hadn't married, so no one knew what would happen in the future.
- Meanwhile, Roland was seated by a table. As the father of the bride, he was supposed to receive guests at the entrance as well. However, he was a rather lazy man, and he thought that it would degrade himself by receiving guests, so he decided to just sit there.
- Also, he was bragging about his achievements incessantly.
- "I don't have a son, but God has treated me well because all my three daughters have found their perfect partners in life!" Roland said to other guests as he drank his tea.
- The guests around the same table were all influential people invited by the Lakes.
- "Mr. Yard, you're fortunate to have three brilliant daughters. But I only heard that you had two daughters, so why do you have three now?"
- The others just laughed without uttering a word as they listened to their conversation.
- Roland had three daughters, one of which was given birth by his deceased wife. The daughter was just six months older than his twin daughters. Everyone knew what happened, but they just never made fun of Roland in front of him with this matter.
- He was never seen together with his eldest daughter, so everyone wasn't familiar with her. In recent years, some people had even forgotten about the existence of his eldest daughter.
- "My second daughter is getting married, and I still have a third daughter. You all know who she is, right? She's the best actress who has won numerous awards. Also, she's the future wife of Pierre Fowler. In other words, Pierre is my future son-in-law!"
- Roland thumped his own chest with a smug smile.
- "Oh, Mr. Yard, so you will be Pierre's father-in-law soon. Hahaha..."
- No one knew the relationship between Meredith and Pierre, but since Roland kept talking about this, they just thought that he was bluffing and never took his words seriously. After all, countless men with daughters would love to be Pierre's father-in-law.

Chapter 57 The President of JNS Corporation, Miss Selena Yard

- "Of course it's true! My daughter has given birth to twin sons for Pierre! He had proposed to my daughter a few days ago. So, you'll soon have to attend my other daughter's wedding." Roland guffawed.
- Everyone was shocked upon hearing that.
- In the past, Roland wouldn't dare to expose this news. However, he was less worried now because Pierre had proposed to his daughter, so they would soon marry.

- “Let’s not forget about my eldest daughter. You know JNS Corporation? She’s now the wife of JNS Corporation’s President, and we’ll cooperate with them to launch a new fashion brand. Just you wait!” Roland declared with a smug smile.
- It was such a piece of shocking news.
- However, the President of Zeke Group, Zeke Lawrence, who was involved in international business, stared at Roland in puzzlement. “You mean JNS Corporation of Springvale?”
- “Is there another JNS Corporation?” Roland snorted.
- That answer made Zeke even more perplexed.
- Just as they were speaking, the door of the hall was opened once again, and a woman, who was as bright as a star, stepped into the venue.
- She was clad in a tight-fitting black dress, which made her look like a proud and elegant black swan.
- “Let’s welcome the President of JNS Corporation, Miss Selena Yard!”
- When everyone in the hall heard that, they turned to look at the entrance.
- At that moment, Finneas was having a chat with his father, Ernest Lake.
- “Didn’t you say that the President of JNS Corporation would come? Where is he?”
- “I-I don’t know...” Finneas hung his head low in embarrassment.
- Just then, they heard that ‘JNS Corporation’ and ‘Selena Yard’ were mentioned together.
- Following that, a woman in a black dress approached them with a smile.
- When Finneas, who was near the entrance, saw Selena, his jaw almost dropped.
- Selena? President of JNS Corporation? How is that possible?
- Upon hearing that, Roland was puzzled as well and thought that he had heard it wrong.
- In the meantime, the guests in the hall were chatting among themselves. “So, the President of JNS Corporation is a woman?”
- “Yeah, what a brilliant woman.”
- “Why is her name Yard as well? Could she be...”
- “S-Selena? You...” Finneas came to his senses and stammered as he pointed at Selena.
- Certainly, Ernest knew who Selena was. After all, she was engaged to his son before. At that instant, he didn’t understand what was going on.
- “It’s been a long time, President Lake.” Selena flashed a smile at Finneas. “Congratulations on your wedding.” She sneered.
- Then, Zeke Lawrence rose from the chair and called out, “President Yard!”

- Selena turned to smile at him and said, “Hi, President Lawrence.”
- Zeke was the only business partner of Selena in this place. Selena loved doing business with him because he was an upright man.
- Also, he had never revealed to anyone that Selena was the President of JNS Corporation.
- “It’s been a long time. You have no idea how hard it’s been for me to help you hide your identity because countless people have asked me what the President of JNS Corporation is like in the past two years. Now that you’ve revealed it yourself, I’m finally relieved,” Zeke teased.
- “Thanks for your help for the past two years, President Lawrence.”
- Roland batted his eyes as he still couldn’t understand what was going on. Why would his eldest daughter, who had been chased out of his family, turn out to be the President of JNS Corporation?

Chapter 59 Help!

- “You have to bring her to the basement and make sure that no one will find her. Got it? After that, you’ll be rewarded duly,” Meredith said.
- The waiter nodded and turned to leave.
- Meanwhile, Juniper had lost her way and couldn’t return to the wedding hall because the place was huge. She was too happy to play with the twins just now, so she didn’t remember the route back to the hall.
- Just then, a waiter came over and inquired, “Kiddo, are you lost?”
- “Yeah, Mister. I’m lost. I’m looking for Mommy.”
- “Is your mommy here to attend the wedding?”
- “Yeah!”
- “I’ll bring you to look for her now.”
- “Thanks, Mister!”
- Unsuspectingly, Juniper followed the waiter and left the place.
- A while later, however, her suspicion was aroused because they had reached a really dark place. “Mister, are we heading in the wrong way?”
- “No. You’ll see your mommy soon.”
- Juniper took a look at the waiter and turned to run away, but the waiter caught her immediately.
- “Help! Help!”

- Meanwhile, Pierre had stepped into the wedding hall. The person at the entrance had wanted to make an announcement, but Pierre placed a finger on his lips to motion for the person to keep quiet.
- Finneas and Ernest were still stunned by the fact that Selena was the President of JNS Corporation, so they weren't aware of Pierre's arrival.
- Seeing that Selena was surrounded by many people, Pierre took a seat in the corner.
- However, no matter where a charming man was seated, he would always attract the attention of others, so many people turned to look at him out of curiosity.
- Nevertheless, few people actually knew who Pierre was. Furthermore, Selena was under the spotlight at the moment, so no one tried to figure out who this regal-looking man was.
- Finally, Roland came to his senses and walked up to Selena. "Selena, you're the President of JNS Corporation?"
- Even when Selena saw her father, she kept a polite smile on her face, even though the smile appeared to be distant.
- "Yeah. What's the matter?"
- "You should have told me earlier. Why did you tell me that you're the president's wife? What the heck!" Roland was annoyed that Selena had lied to him, but the fact that Selena was the President of JNS Corporation was more advantageous to him because he could just tell her daughter to do anything. If the president were his son-in-law, he probably had to be more polite.
- "Oh well, you're my father, so why wouldn't you even know who I am?" Selena sneered.
- Upon hearing that, everyone felt secondhand embarrassment. Yeah. Just now, Roland boasted that her daughter was the wife of the President of JNS Corporation. It's apparent that he knows nothing about his daughter at all.
- Roland was discomfited as well. "It's because you didn't tell me about it! Come on. I'll introduce you to them now. She's my eldest daughter, Selena Yard!"
- In an instant, his expression turned from embarrassed to proud.
- It was as though he was telling everyone to butter him up, since his daughter was the President of JNS Corporation.
- "I think this is a rather inappropriate introduction. Didn't you chase me out of the family four years ago? I still remember what you told me at that time. You said, 'From now on, you're no longer my daughter. I don't care where you'll go. It has nothing to do with me anymore! When you pass away, your corpse will not be buried in our ancestral cemetery! Even if you become wealthy one day, I won't tell anyone you're my daughter. I'll just see it as I've wasted my time and money to provide for you!'"
- Selena retold what Roland said to her when he chased her out of the family.