

Mission To Remarry Chapter 702

“Hello, Mr. Farwell,” Archie and Benny greeted when they came to their senses. Lucian nodded slightly. “Is your mommy not back yet?”

The kids nodded obediently and glanced at each other guiltily. They had thought that it was Roxanne who had returned and almost screamed when they opened the door.

Fortunately, Estella had greeted Lucian first, saving them from embarrassing themselves. Lucian’s frown deepened when he saw their reactions. “What did you guys have for lunch, then?”

As he asked, he scanned the house and saw the bucket of fried chicken on the dining table.

“We had drumsticks!” Estella was still reveling in the excitement of eating fast food for the first time and did not realize the look on Lucian’s face. “It was delicious!”

Lucian’s eyes darkened when he heard his daughter’s answer. He then lowered his head and looked at the three children. Not only were their faces covered in grease, but they were also all smiling in satisfaction.

extremely happy with what they had for lunch. Lucian suppressed

Madilyn, she didn’t know how to introduce her to Lucian. Seeing that Estella was keeping mum, Lucian thought the children

Benny piped up, “It was our godmother! Mommy told who their godmother is. Disdain flashed across Lucian’s eyes when he recalled that it wasn't Roxanne's idea to feed the children fast food, Lucian said in a

children weren't pleased when they heard in confusion and asked, "But why? It's really, really yummy." She looked at Lucian aggrievedly. "Unlike me, Archie and Benny had it before. Why didn't you ever let pinched the space between needed to go out

had fried chicken before. It was at Lucian's shirt sleeve to question further, but Lucian pushed her back