

Mission To Remarry Chapter 847

A moment of silence descended upon the room. When Lucian saw Catalina's expression, he instinctively turned around. His heart skipped when he saw the state Estella was in. He swiftly reached out and caught Estella. "Be careful."

At the sight of Lucian holding Estella, Catalina heaved a sigh of relief. Although Estella was only a few steps away from the floor, she was small and fragile. It would be dangerous if she were to fall.

Estella had been in a hurry to chase Lucian that she did not watch her steps. The moment she missed her footing, she was so terrified that she couldn't make a sound at all.

Although Lucian had caught her in time, she only felt more and more aggrieved. Why didn't Daddy wait for me?

At that thought, Estella looked up at Lucian with a pout and grumbled, "I couldn't keep up with you because you were walking too fast."

Lucian furrowed his brows. He knew that Estella was blaming him for her almost accident. Meeting her eyes, he said helplessly, "Essie, I told you that I'm really busy these days."
