

Mission To Remarry Chapter 865

James was the driver, while Lucian sat at the back of the car with Estella. Suddenly, Estella scrunched up her face and muttered something under her breath.

Lucian creased his brows and leaned closer to Estella to hear what she was saying. "Mommy..." Estella mumbled. As she spoke, she even grabbed onto Lucian's clothes.

Although she was still sleeping, Lucian could see that she had grown attached to Roxanne.

His gaze darkened as he thought about the woman. James had also heard Estella, and he cast a complicated glance at the rearview mirror. Through the rearview mirror, he saw Lucian's grim expression and sighed soundlessly.

"Essie needs a mother. Until you meet a woman you like, you shouldn't prevent Essie from seeing Ms. Jarvis regardless of your opinion of her."

After a long moment, Lucian replied in a deep voice, "I'll take note of that."

to continue

Farwell residence for quite some time, as Lucian did first. I'll contact you when Mr. Farwell returns," Catalina advised her Roxanne's eyes glimmered. "I..." wanted to wait a little longer. I was already late just now. This time, what if they had become as important as Archie and Benny to her even though she had only known Estella

on her that made her want Estella left, she was sobbing and demanding to see you. Mr. Farwell might up, and she nodded gratefully at Catalina. "Thank quickly turned around and drove couch with their laptops when she got home. Archie was researching the stock market, laptops and ran to her when