

Mission To Remarry Chapter 921

Upon sensing Lucian's anger, Roxanne blinked and avoided his gaze guiltily.

"If it isn't because of this matter, then what else are you here for, Mr. Farwell?" she asked.

Lucian glanced at her gloomily. He only visited her as per Jonathan's suggestion—to provide help during a crisis.

However, her icy attitude toward him made him unwilling to tell her the truth.

The study was filled with dreadful silence immediately.

Roxanne's heart became heavier.

After a while, she could no longer bear the deafening silence. She lowered her gaze and said, "If there's nothing else, let's head out. The kids have been waiting for a long while."

Roxanne walked around Lucian

step, however, her wrist was grabbed by the man's large choice but to stop and frown him? He won't tell me what's the matter, and he won't let me leave as well. What does he she swung her arm impatiently in herbs you took from Herbscape Group," that, Roxanne stopped struggling as the had happened if it wasn't his doing? However, since he has explained his side of the story, I can't openly her gaze to hide her thoughts and asked faintly, "So what if that's true? What does it have to do and she raised her head to glance at the man. "Are you would do that, it was done speaking, she felt heart sank to rock bottom as while various complex emotions filled his eyes. His