Chapter 324 Jingyan Ye Woke Up(1)

Only when the sound of the car disappeared into the rain, did Xuan Zhao ask the maid, “Did Miss Ye say where she will go?”

“No.”

Xuan thought: What happened on earth? Everyone in the family went out, and Jingyan Ye even has not come to work today, could it be that something happened to him?

The thought of this made Xuan feel nervous, she thought: He can't really be in trouble, right?

Should I call Venus Mu and ask her?

After thinking about it for a long time, she still thought that she should ask Venus. After all, the host was not at home, so it was polite to ask her the reason as a guest. Then Xuan dialed Venus's phone number

“Hello? Auntie, it's Xuan.”

“I know, is something wrong?”

Xuan deliberately asked worriedly, “I saw that Ruyi went out in a hurry just now, and I didn't have time to ask her the reason. Did something happen? Can I help you with anything?”

Venus hesitated for a moment and said, “It's not a big deal, it's just that Jingyan had a car accident and we have to take care of him in the hospital for the next few days.”

Xuan asked nervously, “A car accident? Is it serious? Can I go and see him?”

“It doesn't matter, you don't have to come. You're pregnant and it is not convenient for you to come here. You take care of yourself at home these days.”

Then she hung up and Xuan was completely froze, there was only one thing in her mind: Jingyan has a car accident. No wonder he hadn't show up since yesterday afternoon and Kerry Ye also looked so bad.

But she knew nothing about how the car accident happened and which hospital he was in. From the attitude of Chuxue Ye and Venus, it seemed that they did not want to tell her about it and did not want her to see him. After all, it was because Jingyan didn't like her.

Even if she pretended to be kind and peaceable, and even if she was pregnant with his child, he still did not like her.

Then Xuan thought: He likes that soldier that much?

Xuan was so anxious and full of anger that her stomach began to ache, so she sat down and breathed deeply for a while to calm herself down.

No, she must find out which hospital Jingyan was in, only when she knew it, could she decide what to do next.

In the hospital.

Venus hung up the phone in guilt and Henry smiled and said: "Ms. Ye, you're not getting any better at lying."

She said helplessly, "I have no other way. It is not a good time for Xuan to come, because her coming to the hospital will only make things become more complicated."

"You'd better eat first, the food will get cold later."

Venus pointed to the chair opposite and said, "You sit down and eat too, you haven't rested from yesterday until now as well."

"I'm fine, I'll wait for Mr. Ye to come back and eat with him."

"Then I'll wait for him too. I have no appetite if I eat alone now."

Everyone was hoping that Jingyan would wake up at night. However, not only did he not wake up, but he also had a fever, and it took the attending doctor and the entire medical staff of ICU more than two hours to get his temperature under control.

Another day had passed, Jingyan still did not wake up. However, Yiyao Duan was much better, who could speak much more clearly, and all the tubes on her body were removed.

"Nurse, does Jingyan downstairs wake up?" This was the eighth time in a day that Yiyao asked the same question.

The nurse who was changing her medicine bottle said, "Not yet."

Yiyao was disappointed at once. She wanted to see him, but now she couldn't even stand up.

At this moment, someone knocked on the door of the ward, and after the nurse said "Come in", a beauty appeared at the door. When Yiyao saw her, she smiled at once.

"Miss Duan, I've come to see you." Chuxue walked in with a smile on her face.

"How's your brother?" Yiyao asked her at once.

Chuxue sat on the chair beside her bed and sighed, "He hasn't woken up yet."

Yiyao was about to cry after hearing her words: "Is hebadly hurt?"

"You can rest assured, he will be fine." Chuxue smiled and comforted her. She always believed in her brother and knew that his willpower was stronger than anyone else's, so he would definitely wake up.

Besides, if something really happened, she would feel it.

Yiyao was a little suspicious, "Are you all lying to me? Now that I've already woken up for two days, why hasn't he woken up yet?"

"I'm not lying to you. It's true. If something really happened to my brother, how can I still run up here to chat and make joke with you?"

Yiyao looked at her without saying anything. She was making judgement.

"How about I go down and take a picture for you to see him?"

Yiyao shook her head, saying: "No, I'm afraid I'll be sad if I look at his photo."

Chuxue was slightly surprised at her words, thinking: So she will feel bad for my brother, judging from her words? She even wanted them to be completely isolated from each other all their lives several days ago, but now she seems to change her attitude! If my brother knows about it, he might be happy enough to jump up from the bed!

After the nurse finished changing the medicine and went out, Chuxue held her chin with both her hands and asked in a small and curious tone, "Miss Duan, what happened to you and my brother the day before yesterday? I have asked my mom and dad this question several times, but they refused to answer. Can you tell me about it?" This question had been lingering in Chuxue's mind for the past two days, making her so curious that she kept wondered: Why don't they tell me the reason for his injury on earth?

Yiyao smiled slightly, "Your name is Chuxue Ye, right?"

"Yes, you can just call me Ruyi, which is my nickname." Chuxue said with a smile.

"Your parents named you after an idiom: In accord with one's wishes, so they must love you very much, right?" Yiyao looked into her eyes and thought: Of course all the family will love this kind of daughter, who is so beautiful, lively, kind and lovely.

Chapter 324 Jingyan Ye Woke Up (2)

Chuxue Ye touched her face with some embarrassment, "Yeah, but they don't treat me and my brother differently. By the way, my brother's nickname is Pingan. I heard my mother say that my brother had encountered a lot of ups and downs after he was born, so he was given the nickname in the hope that he can live a peaceful life in the future."
"Pingan..." Yiyao Duan muttered. What a common but warm name. She was a soldier and knew best the meaning of Pingan, or peace.
Chuxue Ye felt curious and said in a soft voice, "Please do not digress and tell me what had happened. Even a strong man like my brother has been hurt."
Yiyao Duan turned her head to look at her and laughed, "Ruyi, there are some things you don't need to know. The more you know, the more fearful you will feel in this world."
"Is it that serious?" Chuxue Ye's eyes widened in surprise. She then patted her chest, "It's okay. I'm tough. There's nothing that I can't accept."
"But I still can't tell you. It's our principle."

"Ah..." Chuxue Ye wailed, "I don't like it when you all know what happened except me."
Yiyao Duan pressed her hand, "Well, when your brother wakes up, you can pester your brother. Maybe he will tell you."
Chuxue Ye became confident again and seemed to emit a dazzling light, "Oh, right. He can't stand me pestering him at all."
Just then a person came in and Chuxue Ye immediately stood up from the stool and politely greeted him.
Jun Duan greeted her right back. He was wearing plain clothes, and looked more energetic, perhaps because he had rested for a few hours.
"Dad." Yiyao Duan called him.
Jun Duan looked at his haggard daughter and felt bad, "How do you feel?"
"Much better, and the wound doesn't hurt anymore." Yiyao Duan comforted her dad.

"I have something to tell you." Jun Duan glanced at Chuxue Ye who was standing next to her. Chuxue Ye quickly understood and said to them, "I'll go see if my brother is awake. Excuse me for leaving for a while."
Jun Duan nodded. After Chuxue Ye left the ward, he smiled and said, "That little girl is quite interesting."
"Yes, she's cute. Dad, what do you want to tell me?"

Jun Duan turned serious, "The investigation results of the attack came out."

"Which force did it?" Yiyao Duan asked with sharp eyes.

"They belong to the same organization as those carrying biochemical weapons on the border. The Ministry of Public Security also captured three of his accomplices in Sky City. They got the news from somewhere that the chief was coming to Sky City for inspection, so they snuck into the city two months ago."

Yiyao Duan clenched her fists, "What do those bastards want?"

"They want to provoke conflicts between our country and other countries, thus plunging us into war,"

Jun Duan added after a pause, "Tomorrow I'm going to the capital for a meeting. We can't let them do whatever they want anymore. We're going to eradicate this organization. They're too much of a threat to us. "

Yiyao Duan was fevered, "Dad, let me go. I want to blow up their base by myself."

"You rest here to get well first. Our country is full of people who excel at fighting and you don't have to participate." Jun Duan refused her request.

Yiyao Duan said anxiously, "My wound will heal in a week. It won't be a problem."

Jun Duan said firmly, "We can't wait that long. The foreign minister of the country where this organization is located has been invited to come here today. We will act as soon as we work out the battle plan tomorrow."

Yiyao Duan instantly became dejected. They would take actions so fast, and she indeed couldn't make it.

Jun Duan understood his daughter's character and softened his tone to soothe her, "I've already told the dean and he will arrange for someone to take care of you while I'm away."

"Okay."

Jun Duan said gently, "Yiyao, you are an excellent soldier. You have turned from a junior soldier into a colonel with your own efforts. I'm proud of you, but in private, I hope you can be safe. Our country has raised so many excellent men and it's time for them to fight for the country."

"Dad, I'll obey the order." Yiyao Duan looked stern.

Jun Duan was relieved and ruffled her forehead hair. Yiyao Duan's character was similar to her mother's, both of whom were stubborn, otherwise he would have persuaded her to retire from the army.

In Yehuang company, when it was time to knock off, Xuan Zhao left carrying a bag after informing Secretary Wang. She was now in a special position, so Secretary Wang couldn't do anything to her.

She had already told the driver of Ye Family not to pick her up in the afternoon, so she bought some things and took a ride home by herself. She hired a car when she arrived at the place where all cars driven from the company had to pass by.

At six o'clock, Kerry's car passed by Xuan Zhao's black car, and she said to the driver,

"Follow the car in front."

The driver started the engine to follow Kerry's car. When he saw Xuan Zhao's nervous look in the rearview mirror, he asked with a smile, "Madam, you're not going to catch your husband's mistress, are you?"

Xuan Zhao was stunned for a moment, but she didn't correct the driver but affirmed his guess, "Yes, to catch the mistress."

The driver thought that he had guessed correctly, so he continued talking to her, "You should be pregnant, right? Your husband is too unethical. How can he cheat on you when you are pregnant?"

"Maybe... Men are just not trustworthy"

The driver hastened to defend, "You should not tar men with the same brush. There are good men and there are also bad women."

Xuan Zhao did not bother to talk to him. She pointed to the luxury car in front and said,

"Please help me follow it closely. Don't lose track of it."

The driver was smug, "Don't worry. We won't lose track of it. This kind of thing happens to me three or four times a month. I get experience. Your family should be very rich. Your husband's car costs at least several million."

"Kind of." But the money wasn't hers.

The driver sensed that she was not interested in chatting, so he also shut up.

After driving for three or four streets, Kerry's driver said, "Boss, there is a car following us behind."

Kerry smiled coldly, "Never mind. When arriving at the hospital, you go and find out who is following us."

"Yes, sir."

Having gotten where he was today, Kerry no longer needed to watch out for anyone in Sky City, but he should still be cautious. After all, Yiyao Duan was in the hospital and her identity is too special.

The limousine had been driven into the military hospital and the car behind it stopped as well. Xuan Zhao was a little surprised. Jingyan Ye was actually hospitalized here? Was he seriously injured?

Now that she found out where Jingyan Ye was, she could take her time. She didn’t have to follow Kerry into the hospital at once, otherwise she would be easily discovered.

Jingyan Ye was now in a stable condition, but strangely enough, he hadn’t woke up, which inevitably

Chapter 324 Jingyan Ye Woke Up (3)

On her fourth day in hospital, Yiyao Duan couldn’t stand lying on the bed anymore. She was tired of hearing “He hasn’t woken up yet”. She wanted to see Jingyan Ye for herself.

“Colonel, why don’t you go in a wheelchair?” The kind nurse suggested.

“No, I’m OK.” Yiyao Duan said in spite of her pain, “I want to move around. Didn’t the doctor suggest me

Yiyao Duan’s limbs were not injured, so walking was not an obstacle. But because she was too weak, she sweated a lot after taking a few steps.

When she went down to the fifth floor in the elevator, Chuxue Ye who was taking the medicine at the nurses’ station came up to her in surprise upon seeing her, “Yiyao, you can get out of bed now?”

Yiyao Duan smiled broadly, “I came to see your brother.”

Chuxue Ye held her another hand and said with concern, “You are still too weak. You should lie on the bed.”

“I’m worried about him.”

The nurse and Chuxue Ye slowly helped Yiyao Duan walk to the ICU. When Venus looked up and saw Yiyao Duan, she was stunned for a moment, but she hurriedly walk to her, “Why did you come down?

You haven’t recovered yet.”

“I’m fine.” Yiyao Duan said with a faint smile.

Venus saw that she was tired and sweaty, so she asked the nurse and Chuxue Ye to help her onto the bench, "Ruyi, go inside and get a coat for Yiyao. She is sweaty and it's easy to catch a cold."

"Okay." Chuxue Ye left jumping up and down. She knew her mother was deeply conscious of righteousness, and wouldn't blame Yiyao Duan.

Yiyao Duan looked up at Venus who had clear and smooth skin. There were few wrinkles around her eyes, but probably because she was too tired these days, her eyes were bloodshot. Yiyao Duan thought, if her mother was still alive, she should be as kind as Venus.

"Thank you." Yiyao Duan felt sore in her nose.

Venus looked at Yiyao's tearful eyes and felt pain in her heart, "Silly girl, thank me for what?"

"Don't you blame me?" Yiyao Duan asked.

"I don't blame you. This is Pingan's own choice. He likes you and wants to do something for you. I will not oppose, let alone blame you for this matter. Besides, you've done a good thing. I'm proud of you."

Yiyao Duan turned to look at the person on the hospital bed, and the tears in her eyes finally rolled down.

On the bed, Jingyan Ye looked so haggard, completely devoid of his old vigor and energy. His cheeks were much thinner, and the lines of his face looked even more rigid.

Venus gave her some tissue to wipe her tears, "Good girl, don't cry."

"Thank you." Yiyao Duan choked up.

Chuxue Ye brought a light blue coat, and said while helping Yiyao Duan put it on, "This is my coat. I've only worn it once, but they're clean. Hope you don't mind."

Yiyao Duan was feeling sad, but hearing Chuxue Ye's words, her tears stopped rolling down, "Of course not. Ruyi, those who doesn't like you may mind but I'm sure there are few people in this world who dislike you."

"Really?" Chuxue Ye tilted her head with eyes glowing. She smugly said, "I think so, too. But there will always be someone who dislikes me. After all, I am not money. But I do not need everyone to like me, as long as those I like like me back." She didn't like Xuan Zhao, so it didn't matter if Xuan Zhao liked her or not. She even wanted that woman to hate her.

Yiyao Duan didn't expect such a young girl would have deep insights, "I always thought that if I had a younger sister, she would be very lively and cute. Unfortunately, my mother died when I was very young, and my father raised me as a boy, so I grew up with a bunch of boys. And the army in the military school are also males. suddenly a cute girl like you appeared, and it feels so novel." Chuxue Ye snuggled up to her, "Then you can treat me as your sister. I only have three brothers, and I also want an older sister." "Sure." Yiyao Duan readily agreed. Venus didn't expect Yiyao Duan's life to be so pitiful, so she couldn't help but have more pity for her, "That's good, Yiyao. You can teach her to behave properly in the future. I think she is obedient to you." "Mom, I've always been obedient." "Is that so?" Venus raised her eyebrows. Chuxue Ye felt discouraged, "All right, I can be disobedient sometimes."

Venus poked her head, "Let's go. Let Yiyao talk to your brother." "Right, he will definitely blame us if he knows we're yakking over here, preventing Yiyao from spending time with him alone." Yiyao Duan's face flushed red and she lowered her head. She rarely flushed. When the men in the army told dirty jokes, she was a little embarrassed at first, but after some time, she would occasionally tell a dirtier one. However, she was still very shy in front of Venus and Chuxue Ye. There were only two people left in the ward. Yiyao Duan sat quietly for several minutes before she gently held Jingyan Ye's hand. His hand was large with well-defined bones and long fingers. There was not a single scar on it and he was perfect enough to be a hand model. On the contrary, her palms are slightly rough, because she had held guns for years and the part of the hand between the thumb and the index finger had thick calluses. So compared with his hands, hers were more like a man's hands. Yiyao Duan sighed and said, "You fool, why can't you just give up? You are deliberately trying to make me owe you... In fact, it's not that I don't like you. It's just like we are not suitable for each other. Every time we meet, there's always something going on. I feel very tired. But I am not an unreasonable person. I originally intended to never see you again, which is good for both you and me, but fate has allowed me to see you again and you've taken a bullet for me... Since you can sacrifice your life, I cannot be so hardhearted. So when you wake up, I will give you another chance."

"Really?" A hoarse voice rang over her head. She jerked her head up and saw Jingyan Ye opened his eyes and was gazing at her with deep affection.
"You've woken up? When did you wake up?" Yiyao Duan was exceptionally surprised. Jingyan Ye didn't answer her question but asked again, "What you just said... is it true?"

"I've said so many words. Which sentence are you referring to?" Yiyao Duan pretended she didn't understand.

"When I wake up, you will give me another chance. You said it yourself." Jingyan Ye didn't dare to blink his eyes. He was afraid that once his eyes were closed, she would run away again. Yiyao Duan was a little shy and said slightly blushing, "It's true. Are you relieved now?" Jingyan Ye was on the verge of tears, and he immediately felt that the bullet was well worth taking.

"Yiyao, I love you." Jingyan Ye said in a hoarse voice. His gaze was so intent and warm that it seemed to be able to melt a thousand years' cold ice.

Yiyao Duan was too embarrassed to look at him, her eyes wondering, only to feel her face hot and burning. She cleared her throat, "Uh, I'll call the doctor to give you an examination."

After saying that, she wanted to struggle from his grip, but it was too tight.

"Don't go. I'm fine. You can call the doctor later," Jingyan Ye gazed at her and asked with concern, "How is your injury? Does it still hurt?"

Considering he was a patient, Yiyao Duan continued to let him hold her, "My injury is less serious than yours. I woke up a few days ago and it doesn't hurt anymore."

"That's good. That's good." This was what concerned him most in his coma. Occasionally he could hear his mother and sister talking, but for some reason, he just couldn't wake up. Until she held his hand just now, it was as if a powerful force had been injected into his body to help him wake up.

This might be the power of love.

Yiyao Duan worried that he just woke up and too much concern was not good for his recovery, so she said, "I'll ask the doctor to examine you so that you can recover sooner." Jingyan Ye smiled sweetly, nodding his head.

"Ruyi, Ruyi..." Yiyao Duan turned her head to shout to the people outside the ward. Very soon, Chuxue Ye rushed in, "What's wrong, what's wrong... Ah! Pingan, you're awake."

Chuxue Ye jumped up with excitement, "My goodness, you're finally awake. Mom was so worried..."

"Ruyi, go get the doctor to come over and give your brother a check." Yiyao Duan interrupted her and instructed.

Chapter 325 I will Take Care of Her for the Rest of My Life (1)

"Sure, I'll go now," Chuxue Ye ran out for a few steps and then turned back to tease Yiyao Duan, "Yiyao, you are my brother's panacea. Look, he woke up as soon as you came here." After saying that, she ran out immediately.

Yiyao didn't know whether to laugh or cry. She just got the point. And she was no match at all fighting against her.

"Don't be angry. Chuxue has been like this since she was young. She only shows the real her when she's with someone intimate." Jingyan worried that Yiyao was angry and explained for her sister.

"I know. She has a good character, and I like her very much." Yiyao said with a smile. Jingyan looked straight at her and said heartily, "You are much thinner."

"One must lose weight after a major surgery. Just like me, you've also lost a lot of weight."

As soon as she said that, the door was opened and Venus Mu entered with concerns.

Jingyan looked at his mother and said with guilt, "Mom, sorry for worrying you."

Venus wiped the tears and said in smile, "It's good to hear that you're awake."

"Mom, I will get better."

"Mom knows that. Mom is so happy that you wake up," Venus took out her cell phone to call her husband, "I informed your father. He is in charge of the company for you these days, and looked forward for your waking up every day."

Jingyan laughed, "Of course, when I wake up, he can be relieved."

Soon the doctor came in in a hurry. He greeted Yiyao and began to check Jingyan's health condition.

"I'm staying upstairs with you. Check your body first, and I'll come down to see you when I'm free." Yiyao whispered, signaling him to let go of her hand.

Jingyan did not want to let her go, but had to let her go, "Move slowly and be careful of the wound."

"I know," Yiyao got up holding Chuxue's arm and slowly went out of the ward under Jingyan's gaze.

I got to get better hurriedly, Jingyan said secretly in his heart, so he could go and take care of her. Seeing her expression of sorrow, he was heartbroken.

After the check, the doctor was surprised. In the morning he was still quite weak, and how would all indicators become close to normal values now?

Several doctors discussed and said, "We can transfer him to the general ward, since he is fine now."

Venus did not raise any objection to this decision because she knew too well this ability of quick recovery inherited in the Ye family.

"Mom, Jingyan is fine, so you and dad don't need to stay here tonight. Go home and take a good rest."

Chuxue saw that her mother had lost much weight, and showed her concerns.

"It is not convenient for you to stay here. I will ask your father stay"

"No. Later the little divine mascot will come here."

Jingyan also did not want his parents to be tired, so he followed by his sister's words,

"Mom, later when dad comes, you guys go back. You can't sleep well here. Come back tomorrow."

Venus couldn't fight against to them, so she had to agree.

After going upstairs, Yiyao was in a much better mood, and when she reminded of Jingyan's confession, she couldn't help but lay down under the covers and smile. Since she said she would start relationship with him, she naturally wouldn't bother him with the bad things that had happened to him before.

Just go forward.

Hope they will have a happy ending.

In the Ye family's villa.

Xuan Zhao was eating listlessly when she suddenly heard the sound of the car engine. She stretched her neck to take a look, and found it was the car that Kerry Ye drove these days. She was happy, and hurriedly put down her chopsticks and walked out.

Sure enough, Venus and Kerry came out from the car, looking extremely tired.

"Uncle and Auntie, finally you're back. How is it Jingyan's going?" Xuan asked worriedly.

Venus said as she walked towards the house, "Much better. He just needs some time to recuperate."

"That's good. I am so worried." Xuan patted her chest.

Seeing that her baby had grown a bit bigger, Venus didn't know whether to rejoice or feel bad

"Are you feeling well these days?"

Xuan smiled and said, "The baby is fine. Don't worry. You and uncle haven't eaten yet, right? The rice is just served now. Just take some."

Venus waved her hand, "Sorry, I'm exhausted from the past few days, I'm going up to rest first."

Kerry of course followed his wife, "You can eat by yourself, and we don't want to eat."

Xuan nodded and said "good night, auntie and uncle.

This night, everyone slept tight after such a time of chaos.

The next day, a large number of doctors and nurses came to check Jingyan's health. When seeing Jingyan in the ward holding the wall to move, everyone was shocked.

"Didn't you just wake up yesterday? How can you get out of bed and move around so quickly?" The doctor stuttered.

Jingyan stood and explained with a faint smile, "My recovery ability has been very good since I was a child."

"That's too fast. Come on. Sit on the bed first, and I'll check your health condition."

When the check was finished, the doctor looked at him with amazement, "I've been a doctor for so many years, but I've never seen a patient with such a good self-healing ability. If everyone was like you, hospitals would have to close down."

Jingyan laughed and didn't say anything. He couldn't wait to be able to walk as fast as he could today so he could go to take care of Yiyao.

Around eight o'clock, Venus and Kerry came, with two boxes of food. Seeing that his son looked much better, Kerry said with great relief, "Not bad. You recover so quickly."

"When the doctors came to check my health condition just now, they seemed like they were looking at an alien," Jingyan shook his head helplessly, and despising such a group of ignorant humans.

Venus opened a box of food, and the aroma instantly wafted throughout the ward, "This is the soup I had the cook to cook for three or four hours. Drink it while it's warm, since it nourishes the qi and blood."

Jingyan took a sip with a spoon, but he looked at another box of food and asked with a smile, "Mom, what's the other one?"

"This one is for Yi Yao,"

"Mom, you are so kind." Jingyan looked like a child now.

Venus teased him, "I am afraid that my silly son will give away his soup, so it's better to cook more. Don't you think so?"

"Mother knows her children well!" Jingyan gave her a thumbs up and put down the spoon and immediately said, "I'll send it up to her."

"Drink the soup, and I'll send it to her." Venus said seriously, "You just woke up yesterday. Don't move around."

"Mom, the doctor encouraged me to move around more, I'll go, and come down for soup later."

Venus also wanted to stop him, but was stopped by her husband, "Let him go. Or how would that matter pass?"

That matter, of course, refers to Xuan's pregnancy.

When she thought about it, Venus thought it was right and urged her son, "Walk slowly." "I know."

At this moment, Yiyao was eating breakfast on her hospital bed, including porridge, an egg, and two buns.

Chapter 325 I Will Take Care of Her for the Rest of My Life (2)

When she heard a knock on the door, she said "Come in", and when she saw the person who appeared in front of her, she dropped the bun on the dining table.

Jingyan Ye looked at the breakfast on her table and said with a frown, "You eat such a light diet? They are not so nutrient."

"Wait, how can you get out of bed?" Yiyao Duan couldn't believe her eyes.

Jingyan looked at her tenderly, "In order to be able to take care of you."

"Speak the truth." Yiyao was a little uncomfortable with him speaking erotic words anytime and anywhere.

Jingyan sat by the hospital bed, opened the box of food, and said softly, "It is because of the genes in our family. We get healed by ourselves quickly."

Yiyao suddenly remembered his secrets. He is not only able to fly through the wall and keep floating, he also possesses such amazing ability. This is simply the dream constituent that every soldier dream to have.

“Let it go. Come on, and drink the soup. My parents brought it from home.” Jingyan fed her with a spoon.

Yiyao came back to her mind and awkwardly tried to take the spoon and drink it herself, but he refused,

“Don’t refuse me. Drink quickly.”

Yiyao had to open her mouth and drank it. It was so fragrant and delicious.

“Did you drink it?” Yiyao took another sip with his hand.

Jingyan’s expression was serious, like he was doing a very important job, “No, I’ll go back and drink it later.”

“Then don’t feed me, and I can drink it myself,” Yiyao took the spoon from his hand forcefully and muttered in a small voice, “It’s not like I can’t move my hands.”

Jingyan didn’t say anything, just looked at her and smiled. The girl he likes is beautiful and lovely anyway, especially when she just woke up, with fluffy hair, like a kitten.

Under his deep gaze, Yiyao’s heartbeat accelerated. She even couldn’t hold the spoon.

She reached out her hands and pushed his shoulder, “What are you laughing at? Go and eat your breakfast.”

“Then take your time to drink. I’ll come up later to get the box.”

Yiyao bowed her head and said yes, burying her red face in the bowl.

Only when she heard the sound of closing the door, Yiyao raised her head and let out a sigh of relief. His gaze was so affectionate.

For the next whole day, Jingyan almost showed in front of Yiyao. The two of them held each other to exercise. Henry sent the lunch for Jingyan to eat with Yiyao.

Venus sat in the car and lamented, “Others say that we raise a daughter for other families, but why do I think we raise our son for other families?”

“That’s fine. We can save a lot of work.” Kerry clasped her hand and said.

“How can we not worry? What about the one at home?” Venus asked annoyedly.

Kerry shook her hand and said, “Jingyan has grown up, and this is something he causes. Just let him to solve it himself. Do not stop anything he does later.”

Venus frowned, “What? What if he still forces Xuan Zhao to have an abortion?”

“I don’t think so. I’ll ask him what he’s going to do some day when he’s getting better.”

At this time, Xuan was thinking about how to go to the hospital to find Jingyan. she was really worried about Jingyan. Without seeing him, she would keep being worried. In addition to this, if she can let him change his attitude towards her by taking care of him, that would be even better. Jingyan helped Yiyao walk along the brick path for a while, and seeing that she was a bit tired, he proposed to sit on the bench next to them for a rest. "Are you tired?" Jingyan used his sleeve to wipe the sweat on her forehead, Yiyao subconsciously avoided it.

Jingyan was helpless, "Why do you keep avoiding me?" Yiyao was embarrassed, "I'm not used to it." Jingyan came close to her ear and whispered, "Then you should get used to it as soon as possible, otherwise you would blush when I say affectionate words in the future." Yiyao moved away a little bit and blushed, "Then you should talk properly."

"I'll try my best," Jingyan lowered his eyes to admire her shy expression. If not for the fact that both of them were now injured, he would have taken her into his arms. Yiyao lost her imposing manner of a captain, but completely became a little girl immersed in love. She would also blush, and will be at a loss.

At the hospital entrance, a pregnant woman who is slim came down from a cab. She is Xuan.

She went to the guidance area first and asked which department was responsible for admitting patients after accidents. The nurse told her that it might be the orthopedic department, and after searching for a long time to find the orthopedic department, she asked the nurse if there was a patient named Jingyan.

And the nurse shook her head.

Xuan was not satisfied and went to every ward in the inpatient department to look for him. After all the laborious work, she was out of breath, but she still found nothing.

Had he been transferred to another hospital?

Impossible. This is the best hospital in Sky City. Since he was here before, it is impossible to transfer him to another hospital.

Xuan stood in front of the window pondering, and suddenly saw a familiar figure on the wide exercise field downstairs. He wore a hospital gown and supported another sick woman for a walk.

Is he Jingyan? Xuan was surprised, and after careful identification, she affirmed her guess. She went downstairs quickly with enormous joy. This travel is fruitful.

Although there are many people in the exercise field, with all patients and their families. Some are also jogging. However, Xuan could find him within so many people. After several days, he loses much weight with the gown loosely put on his body and can not walk well. But, who is the woman next to him? Is it a hospital acquaintance? He held her arm intimately, waited for her and turned his head to talk to her occasionally. This is the warmth that she wants for a long time. No! She framed a woman officer before and she could not stand him being grabbed by others. Xuan knew that Jingyan wouldn't want her here, but she couldn't stand it. She needed to tell the woman that she has his baby.

The woman's skin is a little pale, her face is angular, and she has a handful of short hair stuck to her face, which was gently lifted behind to her ears by Jingyan. However, she was glaring at him, while Jingyan had a dotting smile on his face. Xuan was shocked. How could it be her? Why would it be her? She had left a long time ago, hadn't she? Why was she hospitalized with Jingyan? Suddenly she reminded of the attitude of Venus. She proposed several times to visit Jingyan in the hospital, but was refused by her for various reasons. It turned out that this female officer was the real reason. The Ye family didn't want her to appear in front of the female officer. so they still felt that the female officer was more important than her who was already pregnant. Yiyao was keenly aware of a pair of eyes staring at her, so she turned around, but found nothing. Xuan turned around the moment she looked over She bit her mouth, with both hands clenching the bag, and with cynicism and anger showing in her eyes. Jingyan, why not me? I have your baby. Why would you not look at me? And Yiyao, I would not let you to take away my things. Just wait.

"What are you looking at?" Jingyan looked at her with a serious face. Yiyao turned her head, "It feels like someone was looking at me just now. Maybe I'm too sensitive." "You're too nervous." Jingyan also looked back and didn't find anything unusual, "Don't be afraid, I'm here."

Yiyao was deeply suspicious of his latter statement. He couldn't even protect himself now.

After another round of walking, the two sat on a bench to rest and sunbathe. Time elapsed. Jingyan and her held each other's hands. They just wanted that time would stop here.

Chapter 325 I Will Take Care of Her for the Rest of My Life (3)

Azure Dragon came over from afar, holding Yiyao Duan's cell phone in his hand.

"Boss, the chief called just now." Azure Dragon whispered next to her ear, and took the time to glance at Jingyan. How dare him grab his boss again?

Yiyao called her father back and got through after only a while, "Dad, anything wrong?"

"How's your body?" Jun Duan's voice was deep.

"Quite well. I'm moving around down there."

"I heard that Jingyan has also woken up?"

Yiyao looked at the person next to her and her tone was much softer, "Yes, he's awake."

"That's good, we've already had a battle plan on our side. I'm going to there. Take care of yourself at the hospital."

Yiyao straightened her back when she heard that, "Dad, when are you guys leaving?"

"We're leaving this evening."

Yiyao was clear about the rules, so she didn't ask again, but said with concerns, "Dad, you have to be careful."

"I know. I still have to see you to get married and have children with my own eyes, so I won't die so easily."

When Yiyao heard her father's tone, she knew that it was not easy to fight for this time.

The more relaxed he seemed the, more dangerous the situation was known to be.

"Give the phone to Jingyan, and I'll have a few words for him."

Yiyao froze and gave the phone to the person next to her, "My father told you to listen to the phone."

Jingyan's heart was so nervous. This was his future father-in-law, so he had to go along well with him.

Taking the phone, he respectfully and politely said, "Hello uncle, I'm Jingyan."

"Hello, although you have not met me, but I saw you when I left. This time I need to say thank you to you."

Jingyan replied with respect: "This is all what I need to do."

Jun's voice was warm, "My daughter grew up in the military troop, so she is like a boy, with bad temper.

If you get married in the future, you have to be more tolerant of her."

Jingyan looked at Yiyao with a smile and said, "Uncle, Yiyao is fine. Don't worry. I will take care of her."

"I have no objection to your marriage, but there is one thing you must do." Jun's last sentence was serious.

Jingyan also got serious, "Please."

"Since you decided to be with her, you absolutely can't abandon her, or do anything messy. If you make my daughter sad, I will not let you go."

Jingyan suddenly remembered the matter of Xuan, and became concerned, but still made a promise,

"Uncle, as long as I am still alive, I will definitely not let Yiyao be sad."

"Remember what you said." Jun ended the call after this sentence.

Xuan took the phone from his hands and said with a slightly red face, "Why is it like that you guys are selling me out."

"Uncle told me to take care of you." Jingyan said with a smile, but deep in his heart, he was hesitating.

How to tell her about Xuan's pregnancy? The two of them had just eased their tension a little. In case she knew about it, would she turn away again after being mad? The news which might hurt her heart, would do no good for her recovery.

But he couldn't help but say

"What are you thinking about?" Yiyao looked at him looking dumb and asked curiously.

Jingyan came back to his mind. Before confessing this matter, he still had one more thing to figure out,

"Yiyao, I remembered one thing that I never had the chance to ask you."

"What is it?"

Jingyan looked up at Azure Dragon who was standing aside, Azure Dragon bristled and went to run in disdain.

When Yiyao saw that he had sent away Azure Dragon, she knew that this matter was not simple and her expression became serious.

"Don't get angry when I ask." Jingyan gave her a warning.

Yiyao depised him, "If I was really that mean, how would I still sit and bathe in the sun with you?"

Jingyan smiled and said, "That morning, you came to the hotel to look for me. How did you know that I was in that hotel room?"

Yiyao tilted her head and thought for a moment, "Didn't you send me a text message to tell me?"

"It couldn't have been me," Jingyan explained, "I slept until you came and woke up. I didn't touch my phone at all, and with that kind of thing happening, how could I have texted you to come over and observe?"

"What?" Yiyao twisted her head to glare at him. What does he mean?

Jingyan quickly held her shoulders to explain, "Don't be angry. What I want to express is that this incident did not happen when I was sober. I was also a victim."

There were only two people in the room at that time. Since the text was not sent by him, it could only be sent by Xuan. Her purpose was simple, that was, to break up the relationship between him and Yiyao.

She did it and got pregnant successfully.

Jingyan instantly felt that he had been framed by this woman.

In fact, he had known that this woman had some affections for him long before, but he had already subtly rebuffed her, but he didn't expect her to insist. It seems that he should have refused in person, so that he wouldn't have gotten into this situation today.

"What you just meant was that the girl deliberately made me go to the hotel?" Yiyao understood.

"Right."

Yiyao nodded, "I see. She likes you, right?"

"I saved her before. However, I didn't expect her to repay me like this." Jingyan said coldly.

Yiyao patted his shoulder and flirted, "It is always the story in TV? You saved the girl and the girl gave you her body. Very appropriate, right?"

"Yiyao"

"Okay, take your time to think about it, and I'll turn around again." Yiyao propped up his shoulders to get up. Although she said that she didn't care anymore, in fact, it was hard for her to accept that.

Jingyan saw her upset expression, he would not let her go alone, but grabbed her hand and didn't let her go.

Chapter 326 Follow Your Heart to Love Someone (1)

He was nervous. He just mentioned a question and then she got angry. How dare he tell her that explosive news? He would definitely be kicked out by her.

During the evening meal, Jingyan saw that she was still a bit sullen. In order to make her happy, he said,

“Let me tell you a joke from my school days.”

Yiyao Duan drank her soup listlessly and said yes.

“When I was a sophomore, I started a game company. Because I was often outside the school, I didn’t take some elective courses. Once I went to the exam for ideological and moral cultivation, I went early to take a seat, and saw a guy sitting next to me. I said, “Hey bro, can you give me a copy for the exam later?”

He turned around and looked at me, but did not speak. I took this as a yes. A few minutes later the bell rang, this guy went straight to the podium”

At this point, Jingyan stopped. Yiyao was interested and asked: “What for?”

Jingyan smiled bitterly, “handing out papers. He is our teacher.”

“Lol.” Yiyao laughed aloud, with her gloomy mood swept away, “And then what?”

“I didn’t pass the exam,” Jingyan was helpless, “that was the only time I didn’t passed the exam for all the study. And that day, he was sitting next to me. Even though I wanted to use the phone to check, I couldn’t. That experience is really memorable.”

“I didn’t expect you to have such moments.”

“I also did not expect him to be a teacher, since he looked quite young.” Seeing her to be happy, he also cheered up, and gave her a bowl of soup and said, “Drink some more. I specially asked my families to cook for you. It is good for girls to nourish the blood and qi.”

“Well, drink some more. It will be better for your injury.”

Yiyao blushed, so she buried her head and continued to drink.

Jingyan finally smiled.

Under Jingyan’s attentive care, Yiyao recovered rapidly, and her pale face also became ruddy. And Jingyan was already walking like a normal person.

This afternoon, Jingyan came up with two bags and knocked on the door, but there was no sound inside.

"The boss is taking a nap. Do you want something?" Azure Dragon appeared from nowhere.

Jingyan shook the bags, "I brought her a few clothes, since she can't always wear a hospital gown."

"Oh, go in, but keep your voice down." After saying that, Azure Dragon turned around and went into another ward.

The curtains were lit, so the ward was gloomy. The girl was lying on her side under the covers sleeping flat. She used to lie low, but with injuries on her back, she could only keep such a posture which she had only recently become accustomed to.

Jingyan put his clothes on the sofa, went to the bed and sat down, quietly looking at her. Her face was much rounder than the other day, and she frowned for something she was dreaming of.

Jingyan leaned down and kissed her on the forehead, and when he got up, he found that she had opened her eyes and had the gun in her hand against his heart.

"Why you made no sound when you came in." Yiyao threw the gun casually into the quilt and asked in a soft tone.

"Azure Dragon said you were sleeping, so I didn't want to disturb you," Jingyan's expression didn't change a bit, but instead he was heartbroken that she was sleeping restlessly.

Yiyao rubbed her eyes and smiled, "I didn't scare you, right?"

Jingyan gently ruffled the thin bangs in front of her forehead and said in a soft voice, "What I fear most in this world is that you would leave me. Apart from that, I'm not afraid of anything else." Yiyao's eyes were tinged with warmth, and she shrank back inside the quilt, murmuring, "I still want to sleep."

"Just sleep, and I'll stay here with you."

Yiyao hesitated for a moment, patted the other half of the bed and said, "Are you sleepy? Sleep with me for a while."

Jingyan was surprised for two seconds, then took off his jacket and took off his shoes, nimbly got into the quilt, lay down face to face with her. Looking at the girl's blushing face, he said in a voice that two people could hear, "It just happens that I'm also sleepy."

Yiyao closed her eyes, with her long eyelashes moving, and smile that could not be pressed.

Perhaps the distance was too close, so close that they could hear each other's wild heartbeats. Jingyan was attracted by the scent of her body, looking straight at her lips, and asked with his voice full of temptation, "Yiyao, I want to kiss you."

Yiyao fiercely opened her eye with protest. Before she just wanted to say "no", she was kissed by Jingyan.

The kiss was like a feather crossing the heart and turned out to be very comfortable. Yiyao looked at the pair of strange eyes, which reflected her own shadow, then she obediently closed her eyes.

Seeing that she didn't refuse, Jingyan went further. He missed her so much that he wanted more. His tongue slipped into her mouth and open her mouth, and tangled with her tongue. He was so eager to taste the taste that belongs to her

Two of them are adults, and love each other. When touching each other, the fire immediately turned on. Jingyan was both gentle and fierce.

Jingyan clasped her waist, seemingly wanting to integrate hers in his own body. His hands could not help but reach into her clothes, feeling her delicacy and temperature

It wasn't until Yiyao felt something against the root of her thighs that she snapped out of her confusion and pinched someone's hot ears, panting lightly, "Stop."

Jingyan was kissing her collarbone. When hearing her voice, he also stopped, raised his head with hot eyes looking at the girl with her watery eyes, and kissed the lips again. After those, he took her into his arms.

"Yiyao, Yiyao" he whispered beside her ear, as if to shout into her soul. At that moment, Yiyao almost gave up.

"Are you having a hard time?" Yiyao asked in a muffled voice.

Jingyan didn't know what she was going to do, so he pretended to be pitiful and said, "Well, it's hard, but I won't force you if you don't want to."

Yiyao was silent for a while and said in a murmur, "I think we're moving too fast."

"I know. I can wait." Jingyan tide her short hair and used his willpower to bring down the fire in his body,

"Well, sleep."

Yiyao fell asleep for the first time in this way, but inexplicably she fell asleep quickly, probably at ease with him by her side.

Jingyan laughed silently when he heard her steady breathing.

He originally just wanted to come up and give her clothes, but he didn't expect to get such a benefit, so he was very satisfied with it.

In the quiet afternoon, the two lied in a bed and took the most wonderful nap.

The next day, after the doctor had checked Jingyan's health condition, he said calmly, "Mr.

Ye, you can be discharged from the hospital."

"What? So soon?" Jingyan showed his surprise.

"You have completely recovered and are completely ready to be discharged." After days of blows, the doctor was used to his ability to heal so quickly.

He knew his body well, so of course Jingyan could feel that he was well, but Yiyao was not well, so he said: "Doctor, can I stay for two more days?"

The doctor didn't know whether to laugh or cry, "Mr. Ye, I haven't seen anyone who doesn't want to be discharged. Sorry, the amount of our hospital beds is limited, so you'd better give it to someone who needs it."

"When will Yiyao be discharged?"

"Captain Duan may need a few more days."

Jingyan thought for a moment and said, "Then can she go out to convalesce?"

Chapter 326 Follow Your Heart to Love Someone (2)

"No, the commander Duan has given instructions before leaving that she is not allowed to step out of the hospital without a complete recovery. And it's not convenient to conduct the treatment or

Jingyan Ye gave up this idea and asked again, "I really can't stay for two more days?"

"No, you should know by asking at the nurse's guidance area that how many patients are waiting for a

Jingyan said with frustration, "Okay, I'll go and do the discharging procedures later."

"You don't have to pay, because all the expenses are covered by our hospital."

To this, Jingyan didn't say anything. It should be the chief who gave the order, "Get it."

After the doctor left, Jingyan called his sister and asked her to come pick him up and discharge him. And by the way, he went upstairs to talk to Yiyao Duan.

"Go. Remember to bring me something delicious." Yiyao was lying on the bed playing a game in the clothes he brought yesterday. She had no feeling anything about his discharge, because he would come often anyway after he was discharged.

"Call me when you have something you want to eat."

"Got it."

"Then I'm leaving." Jingyan was reluctant to give up, but Yiyao was playing game and she couldn't put her attention on him. Jingyan had an impulse to go up and raise her chin and kiss her hard on the lips before letting go.

Yiyao was confused for two seconds, heard the "KO" sound from the phone and screamed, "Oh, it's all your fault."

"You ignore me first" Jingyan was indignant.

Yiyao has no awareness of the role as a girlfriend, and said in puzzlement, "You will come again, so you still let me see you leaving?"

Jingyan was depressed, "Okay. Play your game. I'm leaving."

"Wait," Yiyao saw that he was a bit grumpy, hooked her finger and said, "Come here." Jingyan obeyed and leaned down. Yiyao wrapped her arms around his neck, kissed him back on the lips for a moment and let go, "Tomorrow I want to drink chicken soup."

Jingyan came over and nibbled on her moist lips and said in a low voice, "Yes, Sir."

On the way home, Jingyan kept reminiscing about the kiss. The girl he liked was sometimes very gentle, and sometimes very fierce. No matter what she is like, he likes them all.

When the car was almost at the villa, Jingyan realized that this was not the way to the apartment, so he turned his head to gaze at Chuxue Ye and asked, "Why are you driving home?"

"By the order of the mother. She ordered that I must get you home. How dare I to disobey her order?"

Chuxue said playfully.

"I'm not going home. Park the car here, and I'll go back to the apartment by myself."

Chuxue refused and said: "Jingyan, we are almost here. Just go in and turn around. You wouldn't lose anything. And, I can send you out again. You get to let me finish the task, right?"

Jingyan glared at her and did not speak.

Chuxue smiled, "You can't blame me, but you should blame yourself. All the way home, you are thinking about Yiyao, and didn't know I took another road."

Reminding Yiyao, Jingyan's anger was mostly gone, "Why are you uniting with mom?

Aren't you supporting me?"

"Of course I support you, but the mother is the boss of the family. She gave the order and I dare not disobey," said Chuxue when glancing at his brother, and continued, "In addition, Xuan is pregnant now.

Not seeing her doesn't mean that this thing did not happen? Jingyan, this is a cover-up."

Jingyan leaned back in his chair and said sullenly, "Then what can I do? No matter what she did she had to give birth to this child, and mom was protecting her, so I could only do nothing about it."

"Have you told Yiyao about this?"

"Not yet. I don't know how to ask." This is the biggest problem during this period of time. Chuxue, like an older sister, advised him, "Jingyan, you should do it quickly. The sooner Yiyao knows, the less harm she will suffer."

"What if she refuses to forgive me?"

"But this matter can't be covered up. Even though you do not say, she will finally know. The more you say, the more odds you will have."

Jingyan fell into silence. He understood all these reasons, but he just did not dare.

He was very decisive about everything, except for those related to Yiyao.

Wait until she is getting a little bit better again, and wait for a good time.

However, if he knew that something like that would happen behind him, he would definitely tell her himself tomorrow.

At the entrance of the villa, Venus Mu was waiting, and next to her stood an equally excited Xuan Zhao.

When Chuxue's car stopped, Venus saw the person on the passenger side before a smile appeared on her face, "You're out of the hospital."

"Mom." Jingyan got out of the car and called out, without looking at Xuan.

"Henry He, have someone to take out the luggage from the car." Venus said happily. She was just worried that Chuxue wouldn't be able to take him back.

Jingyan looked calm and stopped Henry, "Uncle Zhang, there is no need to fetch it, since I will leave later."

"Leave? Where are you going?" The smile on Venus's face disappeared abruptly.

"I'm going to stay at the apartment."

Venus was irritated, "There's nothing in your apartment. I didn't stop you when you went to live some time ago, but now you get injured, then who will cook for you?"

Jingyan's tone was always very calm, "I can do it myself."

"Wow! You can cook by yourself? What about making soup? You don't work anymore? Did you forget that there are some other person?" Venus referred to someone else. The woman was calm, but her heart was clenched by a hand.

He really hates her so much that he refuses to even look at her?

Jingyan was silent for a long time and said to Henry, "Uncle Zhang, bring down the luggage." For the sake of Yiyao's diet, he might as well hold back for a while.

Chapter 326 Follow Your Heart to Love Someone (3)

In the evening, Jingyan Ye sat in the living room reading files, Xuan Zhao slowly walked over and sat down next to him, Jingyan got up without a word and sat down on the opposite.

When you hate someone to such an extent, you wouldn't even want to smell his scent.

Xuan clenched her hands, suppressed her anger and said softly: "Jingyan, I have got pregnant for over two months. And the doctor said everything is fine."

Jingyan kept looking at the files in his hands, as if he had not heard her words.

"Don't you want to touch him?" Xuan got up and came to him, bent her legs and squatted down, tilted her head and looked at him pitifully, trying to impress him with the child.

Bringing up this matter, Jingyan happened to have something to ask her.

"Let me ask you. Last time at the hotel, was it you who sent a text message to tell Yiyao the hotel address and room number?"

Xuan's face turned pale and she kept shaking her head, "It wasn't me."

"You should stop acting. If it wasn't you, was it me?" Jingyan sneered, "I slept so deeply that I didn't even know if I had touched you so how could I tell Yiyao clearly where I was?"

Xuan naturally didn't dare to admit all this and argued, "Jingyan, even though you don't like me and don't want this child, you can't slander me. How would I know your phone password?"

"Couldn't you have tried it one by one with my fingers?"

Jingyan just knew her. Xuan was extremely nervous, "I I can't even think of this, and, and Yiyao is a female officer. Isn't it easy for her to check any information? How can you blame this matter on me?"

Jingyan looked at her with disgust, "Well! You think she's that boring, right? I have already asked her. In that morning, someone did send her a text message with the detailed address. And at that time, there were only you and me in the room. It is obvious."

Xuan refused to admit it, "Why don't you believe me? I really did not do anything."

"Believe you? Xuan, now I really regret that I saved you more than twenty years ago, and even saved you some time ago." After saying that, Jingyan threw the files on the coffee table and got up angrily and left the living room.

Xuan looked at his back, feeling like her heart had been stabbed. The moment she got out of the car until now, he didn't even look at herself.

The reason for this is because of that woman and he is willing to stay in the villa because he has to send all kinds of soup to that woman in the hospital every day, right?

“Xuan, why are you squatting on the ground? Get up quickly.” The voice of Venus came from behind.

Xuan was upset and shed tears.

“Auntie.” Xuan’s voice was gloomy as she stood up holding the sofa.

Seeing that she was crying, Venus quickly asked, “What’s wrong? Why are you crying?”

Xuan wiped her tears and shook her head, “Nothing.”

Venus looked at the files on the coffee table and knew that her son had said something harsh again, and sighed in her heart to comfort her, “You are pregnant now, and you can’t cry all the time, since it’s not good for the baby.”

“Well, I know.” Xuan never mentioned Jingyan, but she knew that with Venus’s intelligence, she would be able to guess who had caused her to cry.

“Well, don’t cry. Sit and rest for a while, I’ll go talk to Jingyan. It’s not the real him.”

Xuan pulled her arm, “Auntie, don’t blame Jingyan. He didn’t like this child in the first place, so it makes sense that he treats me badly.”

Venus patted the back of her hand and said, “No matter what, the child is innocent. Just sit here.”

“Auntie, don’t make it hard for Jingyan, or he’ll hate me even more.” Xuan said, with more tears again.

“Don’t worry, I won’t give him a hard time.” Venus let go of her hand and walked towards the door.

During the time she had spent with Xuan, she felt that this girl was both considerate and gentle, polite, and spoke at every turn to defend Jingyan. Why did Jingyan hate such a nice girl so much?

When she found his son at the lake, Venus sat next to him and didn’t mention what had just happened, but instead asked him, “What soup do you want to bring to Yiyao tomorrow morning? I’ll have the cook to prepare the ingredients in the evening.”

Jingyan looked at his mother in surprise. He thought his mother had come to blame him.

“Mom knows you’re having a hard time and doesn’t want to add to your worries,” Venus raised her hand and touched the back of his head, “Time really flies. You’re already an adult. You’ve been a smart and kind child since you were little. Mom believes you’ll handle it well this time too.”

“Mom, it’s really hard.” Jingyan told the truth and buried his face in his hands, “I know it’s not right for me to treat Xuan like this, but I really can’t let go of Yiyao, I’ve loved her for over twenty years, she’s half of my life. Without her, what does the world mean for me?"

Venus had the same experience so she understood her son's feelings. She had also thought about this when Kerry fell into the sea and disappeared. Caressing her son's back, she said, "Follow your heart.

Follow it if you like, but don't hurt the innocent. If you are destined to love each other, even if you are separated by thousands of mountains and rivers, you will come together in the end."

In the distance, Xuan looked at the mother and son by the lake with a winning smile.

She still can control Venus.

In the evening, Kerry Ye came back and the first thing he said when he saw his son was, "Go to work tomorrow. I need to rest, as I'm exhausted."

"Dad, you don't give me a little more time to slow down either." Jingyan deliberately flirted with him.

"How long have you been slowing down? Don't play soft for me. I'm still conscious about your healing ability."

"Oh, I know." Jingyan's plan to show weakness failed.

Early the next morning, Jingyan brought a breakfast of boiled chicken soup, millet congee and shrimp dumplings and sped all the way to the hospital, when Yiyao was washing up in her room.

"You have to drink the chicken soup. The millet congee is good for your stomach, so you should drink more." Jingyan put the food on the table. Without wearing a formal dress, he was very much like a man doing housework.

Yiyao finished washing her face and brushing her teeth, and went next door to call Azure Dragon to come over for breakfast.

"Enjoy yourself. I have someone to send food here at noon. Since the company is too far away from here, and it will take me two hours to get back and forth, I will come over after work this afternoon."

Jingyan gazed at her as he reported his schedule.

Yiyao nodded and said, "You don't need to run all the time. It's too troublesome. Just come over every morning."

"No, it's the car running and not me running. I know the importance clearly. Eat, and I'm going to work

"Go. Keep safe."

Jingyan gave her a kiss on the cheek, just as Azure Dragon came in and turned around with an "ouch" and yelled, "I didn't see anything. You guys can continue."

Yiyao blushed slightly, but still had to maintain the authority of a boss, smiling and scolding, "Continue what? Sit down and eat."

Chapter 327 I Don't Mean to Hide This from You (1)

Jingyan Ye patted Azure Dragon's shoulder and said, "I'm leaving."

He went downstairs and left, not seeing in his haste that a woman walked out from the end of the hallway.

Yiyao Duan enjoyed the chicken soup, while Azure Dragon feasted on the dumplings. After Jingyan left for a moment, they heard someone coming this way, and then that person stood at the door of the ward.

Azure Dragon put down the dumplings, pulled out the pistol on his waist, and nimbly walked behind the door. He waited patiently and the person outside did not knock the door.

Eventually the knocking sounded.

Azure Dragon stood behind the door and opened it. As soon as the person took a step into the room, he aimed his gun right at the person's temple.

Xuan Zhao screamed in fear and almost fell to the floor.

"Who are you?" Azure Dragon questioned in a cold voice.

Xuan leaned against the wall and trembled, covering her belly and saying warily, "I I'm Jingyan Ye's secretary."

Then Azure Dragon put away his gun.

"He just left." Azure Dragon said coldly.

Xuan was in shock. It was the first time she had ever been pointed at a gun.

"I'm not here to find him." said Xuan.

"Then who are you looking for?"

Xuan pointed inside the ward, "I'm looking for Miss Duan."

Azure Dragon frowned.

"There is a woman. She said she was here to see you." Azure Dragon said to Yiyao who was inside.

"Let her in." Yiyao's voice came over.

"You can go to see her now." Azure Dragon said coldly. He felt that this woman was here to cause trouble.

Xuan took a deep breath, and then walked inside. Yiyao was currently eating breakfast.

Yiyao was not the least bit surprised to see her.

"You go out first, and take all these dumplings away." She said to Azure Dragon.

Then Azure Drago reluctantly went out.

Yiyao glanced at the woman. She had seen her before. She noticed that she was quite good-looking, but she was much fatter than before.

"Please take a seat." Yiyao said as she pointed to the opposite chair.

Xuan didn't expect her to be so calm when she saw her.

"Why do you want to see me?" Yiyao asked coldly.

"Miss Duan, can you break up with Jingyan?" Xuan said in a soft voice.

Yiyao sneered. This woman was straight to the point.

"Don't you think it's boring to say this?" said Yiyao.

"I've been pregnant for more than two months. The baby's father is Jingyan." said Xuan.

Then she pretended to wipe the tears from her eyes.

Yiyao froze and her mind went blank.

"She's pregnant? Why didn't Jingyan mention anything about it?" Yiyao thought.

Xuan looked at her expression and knew she didn't know the news yet, and then continued, "My parents divorced when I was very young, so I grew up with my mother. I didn't want my child to be born without a father. You are beautiful and capable. You will surely find a man who is right for you. Please don't compete with me for Jingyan, okay? I really can't live without him." After hearing her words, Yiyao felt she could barely breathe, yet she couldn't act too weak in front of the woman, so she tried to stay calm. She was now so angry that she wanted to kill Jingyan. She put her hands around her chest and didn't say a word. "Jingyan likes this baby very much, and he wants me to have it, but he feels sorry for you. I don't want him suffer that pain, so I can only come and talk to you." She continued. "If if you don't want to leave Jingyan, I just hope" her tears kept falling as she said, "I just hope after you marry Jingyan, you can be good to my child."

With anger suppressed in her heart, Yiyao said, "I'll think about it." Knowing that the purpose had been achieved, Xuan got up and said, "I'm sorry to disturb your breakfast. Goodbye." When Xuan left, Yiyao could no longer suppress the anger in her heart. She looked at the food on the table, and directly overturned the table. Chopsticks and lunch boxes fell to the floor. Azure Dragon heard the noise and ran in, seeing the mess. Yiyao was even more furious, gasping for breath. "What's wrong?" asked he. Yiyao's heart ached. She felt her legs go weak and took two steps backwards. Azure Dragon hurriedly held her up, "What happened?"

Yiyao Duan took a deep breath, then said, "I'm fine, I" Before she could finish her sentence, then she fainted.

"Yiyao," Azure Dragon exclaimed. He ran to the hallway and yelled, "Doctor, doctor" Several people ran out of the doctor's office and rushed over to push open the ICU door. The attending doctor asked, "What happened to her?" "She suddenly fainted." Azure Dragon said uneasily. The doctor rushed to examine her body. At Yehuang Group, Jingyan's arrival motivated the workers. The employees of the company seemed to like the new president Jingyan more than Kerry.

As soon as he arrived at the company, Jingyan told Secretary Wang to inform all the senior management of the meeting.

Before going to the meeting room, Jingyan sent a text message to Yiyao, but didn't receive any reply.

Then Jingyan turned his phone to silent mode, looked for some documents in his office and went downstairs for the meeting.

When he passed by, he ran into Xuan Zhao who came in in a hurry.

"Mr. Ye, I....." Xuan said, looking at him expectantly. Before she finished her sentence, Jingyan walked straight to the elevator.

Secretary Wang felt a little surprised to see the president directly ignoring ZXuan, "Did they have a fight?"

Xuan returned to the office with some embarrassment. She had gone to see Yiyao in the morning, so she was a little worried that Jingyan would know that. However, after she thought about the child in her belly, she was less worried.

The meeting didn't end until lunch time.

Jingyan looked at the phone on the table, but still had not received a reply message. He was slightly disappointed. After a moment of hesitation, he dialed Yiyao's cell phone.

However, the phone was never answered. Jingyan frowned. "What is she doing? Why isn't she answering my calls?"

At this moment, Secretary Wang walked in. "Mr. Ye, should I have the hotel deliver the noon meal, or will you eat at the company's cafeteria?"

"I'll just eat at the company." said he. He wanted to finish his meal quickly and then go to the hospital as soon as possible after finishing the day's business.

Although this was the staff canteen, the food here was as good as the high-end restaurants outside.

Jingyan took his lunch and headed for the window seat.

Xuan was sitting with a few of her colleagues. She didn't dare to take the initiative to sit with Jingyan for lunch. She was afraid that her identity as Mr. Ye's girlfriend would be revealed and she would become the laughing stock of everyone.

"Why don't you sit with Mr. Ye?" Her colleague asked.

Xuan smiled, and then said, "I want to sit and eat with you guys now. You don't want me to sit here?"

"You are my boss's future wife. Of course we want to eat with you." said her colleague.

Xuan laughed, stopped talking, and lowered her head to eat.

Jingyan felt a lot of people were looking at him while he was eating. He thought they were looking at him because they hadn't seen him for a long time, but he didn't know that they were just curious about why he wasn't sitting with Xuan at lunch.

The rooftop of Yehuang Group is where many employees go for a walk after dinner.

Jingyan came to the rooftop alone after lunch and called Yiyao, but there was no answer.

He was about to call Henry and ask him if he had brought Yiyao lunch when he overheard some female colleagues talking.

"This is too strange. I can't see that Mr. Ye likes Xuan."

"Is it true that she's pregnant? If she's really pregnant with Mr. Ye's child, she should be at Ye's house, but why is she going to work every day like us?"

"I thought so too. But the car she takes to and from work every day is indeed the Ye family's."

"I'm so jealous that Xuan can be Mr. Ye's girlfriend." The female colleagues' tone was filled with envy.

Jingyan was on fire as he knew that his employees knew Xuan's pregnancy. He knew that this news must have been told to them by Xuan. If she hadn't said it herself, no one in the company would have known she was pregnant.

"Xuan Zhao, you are trying to let the whole world know that you are pregnant with my child, right?"

Jingyan snorted coldly.

A female colleague noticed Jingyan. "Mr. Ye, why are you" she said nervously.

Jingyan didn't say anything and walked towards the door.

"We didn't say anything bad about Mr. Ye just now, did we?" one female colleague asked nervously.

"No, what we said was about Xuan."

Then Jingyan went to find Xuan in a rage.

"You come to my office now." said Jingyan loudly.

When she heard that Jingyan wanted to see her alone, Xuan was happy for a moment, but when she saw his cold look, she became uneasy again.

Jingyan kicked over the chair in front of his desk, scaring Xuan who had just entered the door.

“What do you want? Why did you tell the whole company about your pregnancy? Did you think I would marry you just because you did that?” Jingyan shouted angrily at her.

Xuan closed the door. She looked at him calmly, “I just want to keep this child.”

“Isn’t the baby in your belly?”

Xuan’s eyes instantly turned red, “I can’t protect him at all. I know you hate this child. I am so afraid that one day you will force me to abort this child. I simply don’t have the other ways to protect him, so I can only use this method.”

“If you want money, I’ll give you as much as you want, but why do you want to use the child as a bargaining chip? Do you really love this child?” Jingyan shouted.

“I really love him. I will give him all my love.” Xuan retorted.

Jingyan stared at her, his eyes full of anger, “But I won’t love him, and I won’t marry you.”

Xuan was dumbfounded, tears flowing down, “He is also your child. How can you be so cruel to him?”

“A child should be the fruit of love, not an accident. I want you to think clearly about this and then abort the child.” Jingyan said.

Xuan took a step backward, “No. I won’t abort the child.” After saying that, Xuan pulled open the door and left his office. In the afternoon she took a taxi directly back to the Ye family.

In the hospital, Yiyao finally woke up from her coma

Chapter 327 I Don’t Mean to Hide This from You (3)

“Thank God, you finally wake up.” Azure Dragon stood by the bed.

“What the hell happened? What did that woman say to you?” Azure Dragon kept asking questions.

Yiyao stared straight up at the ceiling, her head filled with Xuan Zhao’s words before she fainted. She suddenly felt that she was the other woman that was affecting other people’s happiness.

She didn’t say anything. Azure Dragon was worried about her.

“I’ll go find her.” said he.

“Don’t go to find that woman.” Yiyao called out. Azure Dragon, who had already reached the door, stopped in his tracks.

“I want to be alone for a while. You go out first.” Yiyao said softly.

Azure Dragon angrily walked out of the ward.

She was angry with Jingyan that he didn't tell her that he had a child with someone else. She understood his intentions, but couldn't forgive him for doing so. She could care less about Xuan, but she couldn't stop thinking about the baby. She can't ruin a woman's happiness just for the sake of her own happiness. All she had to guard in this life was the happiness of ordinary people. She couldn't let leave a child without a family. She sighed. She was sure that she loved Jingyan, but the price of this love was too great for her to bear.

At the thought of leaving him, Yiyao's tears rolled down the corners of her eyes. "Damn, why does it change every time I think I can have happiness?" At noon, Henry Zhang brought lunch to Yiyao, but he didn't see her. Then he gave the lunch straight to Azure Dragon and left, so he didn't know what happened. In the evening, Jingyan arrived at the hospital with food from a fancy restaurant and a few delicate dishes. As soon as he pushed open the door of the hospital room, he froze. The hospital bed had been cleaned up and Yiyao was not there. "Yiyao?" Jingyan called out, but no one answered him. That was when Jingyan felt something was wrong. There was nothing on the table that was usually filled with fruits, and he could smell disinfectant water in the room. A bad thought came to his mind. He put the food on the table and ran into the bathroom to find that all her toiletries were gone. "Where did she go?" Jingyan thought nervously. "She went away?" He flew out the door to Azure Dragon's ward, but he did not see Azure Dragon.

Jingyan's heart was in his mouth, and he came to find the nurse in a panic, "Where did Yiyao go? Why is she not in the ward?" The nurse was writing the medical record and said flatly, "She's in the ICU." Jingyan rejoiced for a few seconds, and then was nervous. "Why is she in ICU? Has her condition worsened?" Then he ran all the way to the ICU and just pushed open the door, but he bumped into Azure Dragon. And then he was pushed straight out by Azure Dragon. "What's wrong with Yiyao? Why is she in the ICU?" Jingyan grabbed Azure Dragon's arm and asked.

Azure Dragon had been holding back his anger all day. Now he finally found someone to vent his anger.

He pushed Jingyan right up against the wall and pressed his neck with his arm, "That's what I want to ask you."

"Me?" Jingyan was confused, not knowing what he meant.

"Your secretary came to see Yiyao early in the morning. Then Yiyao fainted." Azure Dragon said angrily.

"Yiyao fainted? How is she now?" Jingyan asked with concern.

"This has nothing to do with you. Don't appear in front of her." After saying that, Azure Dragon let go of him and roared, "Get out of here."

Jingyan took a deep breath and then said, "I will explain this to Yiyao. Please let me go in and see her, okay?"

"Get out! She doesn't want to see you right now." Azure Dragon wouldn't let him in and shouted.

"Please, I have to see Yiyao today."

"With me here, you won't set foot in the room today."

Jingyan was in a hurry. Suddenly he disappeared in the blink of an eye.

"What just happened? Why did he suddenly disappear?" said Azure Dragon, puzzled.

He came to the ward and saw Yiyao lying on his side with her eyes tightly closed. He was sad in his heart.

"Yiyao, are you okay?" Jingyan asked softly.

Yiyao's eyelashes moved. she rolled over and turned her back to him.

Jingyan walked around the bed and came to her. He got down on one knee and tried to touch her hand.

But just as he touched her hand, she put it under the covers.

"Yiyao, I'm sorry. I shouldn't have hidden the matter from you about Xuan Zhao," Jingyan said with remorse. He regretted that he should have told Yiyao about Xuan's pregnancy earlier.

"Our relationship has just become better. I was afraid that after I told you about Xuan's pregnancy, you would break up with me. I am so afraid that you will leave me."

Yiyao opened her eyes. "Do you think that by avoiding this matter, it won't exist? How long do you want to cheat me?" she said.

"I I originally wanted to wait until you were better before telling you about this."

Jingyan said. "I don't mean to hide this from you.."

"Now I know it. What are you going to do?" asked Yiyao.

Chapter 328 Jingyan, Let's Break Up (1)

"Don't worry. I will take care of this matter, I" said Jingyan.

"Enough, stop talking." Yiyao interrupted him. "Xuan is pregnant. How do you plan to deal with her? The child in her belly is yours. Do you want to be so heartless to her?"

Jingyan was speechless. It was heartless for him to kick out the Xuan out of his family.

And such behavior must also be despised by Yiyao.

"Jingyan, let's break up. You should be with Xuan." Yiyao said wearily.

"No!" Jingyan shouted, "I like you. I want to live with you for the rest of my life. I won't give up on you."

Yiyao smiled bitterly, tears overflowing in her eyes, "So what? What about the child?

Even if I can accept the child, what about Xuan? It's not fair to her. She is the mother of the child."

“Should we just give up our happiness for them?” Jingyan said sadly.

“This is the responsibility you should take.”

“But now it’s a fact.” Yiyao said after a pause. “I might meet a man in the future who is more suitable for me.”

“No! You belong to me.” Jingyan stretched out his arms and took her into his arms. He would never allow other man to kiss her soft lips.

Yiyao’s tears slid down her cheeks. She didn’t know what to do. She could only follow her heart and make the choice that would hurt the three of them the least.

The more she thought about it, the angrier she became. She slammed her hand on his shoulder. She hated him for why he went drinking that day. Otherwise he wouldn’t have slept with Xuan after he got drunk. If all this hadn’t happened, she would be living happily with him now.

Jingyan clenched her teeth.

Jingyan dropped to his knees and hugged her tightly, letting her vent her anger. He knew she was sad and angry. His only hope was that she would not leave him.

Azure Dragon froze at the door for a while before he ran into the room. When he found Jingyan in the hospital room, he was shocked.

“He can transfer instantly? What is he?” Azure Dragon said to himself.

After they embraced for a long time, Yiyao pushed Jingyan away. She wiped the tears from the corners of her eyes. “Jingyan, fate doesn’t even want us to be together. Let’s just break up, okay?”

“No, I don’t agree. I will never break up with you. Wait for me. I will take care of everything.” Jingyan looked at her sadly.

“You don’t have to ...I...”

“Everything is going to be fine. You don’t have to worry.” Jingyan interrupted.

“I put the dinner in the ward where you stayed before.” After saying that, Jingyan disappeared in the ward.

Azure Dragon was shocked again when he saw him disappearing directly in front of him once again. He ran over and looked at the place where Jingyan was kneeling just now.

“He he disappeared” Azure Dragon stammered. Her eyes are full of doubts.

“You are not surprised?”

"I know. He is different from us." Yiyao said simply.

Azure Dragon was even more surprised, "Then what is he?"

"He is also human, just have some super power." Yiyao explained.

"Super power? Is he like the superman in American movies?"

"Yeah." Yiyao replied casually.

"Oh my God, there really is such a person. It's really incredible." Azure Dragon kept saying.

"Don't tell anyone about this, got it?"

Azure Dragon nodded heavily, "I know. I definitely won't tell anyone about this."

Yiyao looked out at the darkening sky and said with a long sigh, "Go bring the food. I'm hungry."

This was Yiyao's habit. No matter what happened, she also had to eat first. Then she would have the energy to carry on and make her body recover.

On one of the roads in Sky City, Jingyan sped down the road in a black Ferrari. Soon he returned to the Ye family villa.

Xuan put the lily into the vase and said gently, "Do the flowers look good in the bottle like this?"

"It's quite nice, but this flower is a bit redundant here." said Venus.

As they were talking, Jingyan rushed in. Xuan hurriedly hid behind Venus.

"Come out!" Jingyan said angrily.

Xuan pulled Venus's arm and said with trepidation, "I don't know why he is so angry. Please help me."

"Don't be afraid," Venus patted her hand and looked up at his son angrily, "What are you shouting?"

"Ask her what she has done." Jingyan was shaking with anger. The thought of Yiyao passing out from anger because of her made him hate her.

"I didn't do anything bad. I ... I just went to the military hospital." Xuan said nervously. Venus was surprised and turned her head to look at her, "What did you go to the military hospital for?"

"I have a friend hospitalized there, so I went to visit her when I happened to run into Miss Duan."

"You're lying!" Jingyan said directly, "I just left in the morning, and then you arrived. You follow me there?"

"I really went to see my friend, " said Xuan. She was pale.

Venus then understood everything. She knew who was lying.

Chapter 328 Jingyan, Let's Break Up (2)

"You went to find Yiyao Duan?" Venus looked at Xuan Zhao with a serious expression and said in a cold

Xuan didn't dare to lie anymore and said, "I just wanted to know what she looked like." Venus saw right through her mind. She knew Xuan was there to get Yiyao to leave Jingyan.

"Xuan, I know you're jealous of Yiyao, but you know Jingyan doesn't like you." Venus said. "Our family is good to you. You should not ask for so much."

Xuan's tears fell down. "Mrs. Ye, I was wrong. I shouldn't have gone to see her. I'll never go there again."

"Yiyao is in ICU because you told her about your pregnancy," Jingyan said coldly

"Her condition has worsened?" Kerry asked after he walked into the living room and heard his son's words.

Jingyan frowned and nodded, "She fainted this morning."

"How is she now?"

"She's awake, but she doesn't look very well."

Kerry patted his son's shoulder and said seriously to Xuan, "I advise you not to think about what to do with Yiyao. She's not someone you can afford to mess with. It's good that she wakes up. If something really happened to her, our family would be ruined by her family."

Xuan was confused, "Yiyao Duan has such a powerful background?" she thought.

"I'm back." Chuxue Ye's voice came. Not long after, she entered the living room. Seeing her brother's angry look, she curiously asked, "What good show did I miss again?"

"What are you talking about?" Venus said seriously to her daughter

When Chuxue saw Xuan hiding behind her mother and her brother was angry, she knew that Xuan must have done something bad again.

"Xuan Zhao, you must do something to upset my brother again, otherwise you wouldn't be hiding behind my mom." said she sarcastically.

Xuan really didn't like Chuxue, but she pretended to be meek and innocent, "Chuxue, I didn't mean to do something to upset Jingyan."

Chuxue snorted disdainfully and said to her mother, "Mom, don't protect her all the time. She's not our family."

Venus glared at his daughter. "Well, this matter is indeed Xuan's fault. But it's already happened, and there's no use pursuing it further."

"Aren't you hungry? Dinner is ready." Venus said. "Let's have it."

Jingyan was in no mood to eat and turned toward the stairs.

“Mom, what’s going on?” Chuxue asked in confusion.

“Nothing.” Venus didn’t want to mention it again. She knew that her daughter and Yiyao were close. If she knew that Xuan had made her faint, she would definitely hate Xuan even more.

Chuxue was so angry that she stomped her foot. “I’ll go ask my brother.” Then she ran towards the stairs.

Venus turned back to comfort Xuan, but said with a stern tone. “Don’t go see Yiyao again. She has a special background. It’s good for you and the child if you stay away from her.”

Xuan nodded, but she was very puzzled.

In Jingyan’s bedroom, after listening to her brother’s account, Chuxue was very angry.

“Shit! How can Xuan do such a thing? I must do something for Yiyao.” Chuxue rolled up her sleeves and was about to go to settle the score with Xuan, but Jingyan called her back.

“Mom will protect her. You can’t do anything to her.” said Jingyan.

“But I’m angry. I want to do something for Yiyao.” Chuxue said angrily.

Jingyan said while packing his luggage, “Then what will you do? You go beat up Xuan or kick her out?”

“I can’t do such a thing,” said Chuxue. Then she paced anxiously. “Why did Xuan suddenly get pregnant?

This is too much of a coincidence.”

Jingyan quickly put his clothes into the suitcase, and then lifted the suitcase to leave.]

“Where are you going?” Chuxue quickly stopped him.

Chuxue opened her arms in front of him. “You can’t leave now.”

“What am I staying here for?”

“If you leave home, mom must be complaining about Yiyao and Xuan can also easily gain mom’s trust, so you have to stay here.” Chuxue said.

Jingyan felt that she had a few points, and then he lay on his back on the bed.

In the evening, Jingyan sat by the lake alone and drank, throwing beer cans all over the place.

Kerry also came out of the villa and went to the lake. He also opened a bottle of beer.

“We never seem to have had a drink together before.” Kerry said with a smile.

“You used to be so busy.” Jingyan said in a light voice.

Jingyan took another sip. He was silent for a long time, then said, “Dad, there’s something I’m confused about.”

“What is it?” Kerry asked.

"I always feel that the child in Xuan's belly is not mine. I really can't remember that I had sex with her."

Jingyan said.

Kerry glanced at him, "That's easy. You don't have to worry about that."

"What do you mean?" asked Jingyan.

"Just wait for the baby to be born and get a paternity test." Kerry said. "If the baby is your child, we'll raise him well. If he's not your child, then the person who cheated you will have to pay."

Xuan shivered after hiding in the dark and eavesdropping on their conversation, and then she quietly walked towards the villa.

"But Yiyao wants to break up with me." Jingyan said heartbreakingly.

Kerry sighed lightly. "No matter which woman encounters this kind of thing will be very angry. You let her calm down for a few days. You are a man. You have to be brave enough to take the mistakes you made. If you really love each other, you two will be together eventually."

"You're saying the same thing as what mom said." Jingyan smiled bitterly.

Kerry raised an eyebrow, "I've been through this with your mother."

"Remember to drink less." Kerry said. "Don't get drunk again."

At this moment, Xuan leaned against the door and gasped nervously. She was truly shocked by what Kerry had just said.

Since she got pregnant, she had thought about using this child to marry into the Ye family and become Jingyan's wife, but it never occurred to her what if the child was born and didn't look like Jingyan.

"If once it is checked that the child is not Jingyan's, what will the Ye family do to me?"

Xuan said to herself nervously. "What should I do? What should I do?"

She paced anxiously in the room. "Sooner or later, they will know that the child is not Jingyan's. I can't keep this child anymore."

She had to find an appropriate time to trade this child for the biggest payoff, so that Jingyan would feel guilty about her forever.

This night, Xuan was planning a conspiracy.

The next day, Jingyan came to the kitchen to get the finished breakfast, and saw Xuan in the kitchen

"Jingyan, I apologize for what I did yesterday. This is glutinous rice porridge I cooked. I want to give it to Miss Duan." Xuan said apologetically.

Chapter 328 Jingyan, Let's Break Up (3)

Jingyan Ye gave her a cold look and sneered. "Xuan Zhao, my mother is not here, so you don't continue to tell lies."

"I didn't. I really wanted to say sorry to Miss Duan. I shouldn't have come to the hospital yesterday. I'm sorry." Xuan hurriedly retorted.

"It's better to keep the porridge for yourself. I'm afraid her condition will get worse if she eats your porridge." said he. Then he took the prepared breakfast and left. Xuan stared at his back and secretly gritted her teeth.

On the road, Jingyan drove with a heavy heart. He was thinking about what his father said yesterday.

Maybe he should let her calm down for a few days. If she insisted on leaving him, then he would let her go for the time being. He was going to look for her later anyway.

When Jingyan arrived at the sixth floor of the hospital, he saw Yiyao walking slowly holding the wall, with Azure Dragon standing next to her.

"Mr. Ye is here." Azure Dragon reminded Yiyao when he saw him. He was now looking at Jingyan in a weird way.

Jingyan walked over and smiled gently, "I bring breakfast."

"Thanks, but I've already eaten." Yiyao didn't look at him and said indifferently.

"This is fish soup. You better drink some. I will put it in the ward." Jingyan still smiled.

"I don't want to drink it." Yiyao said. Since she had said she wanted to break up with Jingyan, she didn't want to have anything more to do with him Jingyan watched her deeply for a few seconds and said, "Even if you are angry, you better eat something.

Don't you want to recover as soon as possible?"

Yiyao was silent.

Then Jingyan handed the food to Azure Dragon.

"I'm leaving. I'll see you tomorrow. Call me if you need anything." said Jingyan. Then he looked at her, and then turned to leave.

Only when he was far away did Yiyao look up at the direction he had left.

After returning home from work, Jingyan went into his study. He had a video conference with the other side at seven.

After two hours, his video conference ended. He took a cup and went downstairs to pour a cup of coffee.

He had just walked to the second floor when he ran into Xuan who was coming upstairs. She had a cup of hot coffee in her hand.

“Jingyan, I’ve prepared the coffee for you.” Xuan said in a cheerful tone.

“No need.” Jingyan said coldly. He tried to go around her to go downstairs, but she blocked him. “Aren’t you going downstairs to pour coffee? Just have this cup.”

“I said no.” Jingyan yelled at her.

But Xuan also handed him the coffee and said, “I know you don’t like sweetened coffee, so I didn’t put anything in it. The coffee beans are freshly ground.”

Jingyan was extremely impatient with her and pushed her lightly. “I said I didn’t need it.”

Just as he finished speaking, Xuan’s foot slipped violently. The coffee in her hand fell on the floor, and she rolled down the stairs. Her scream resounded throughout the villa.

Jingyan was shocked for a few seconds. Hearing Xuan’s miserable screams, he panicked and ran downstairs.

“My child, please save my child.” Xuan was lying out of the corner of the stairs with fear in her eyes.

Jingyan ran to her. He instinctively picked her up, not knowing what to do.

“Jingyan, save our baby, please.” Xuan clung to his arm and begged, “Even if you hate me, the child is innocent, please save him.”

Kerry took a look at the situation and shouted downstairs, “Henry, prepare the car.”

Venus ran out in her pajamas and saw Xuan lying pale in Jingyan’s arms with blood seeping out from her body.

“Carry Xuan to the car and take her to the hospital immediately.” Venus said anxiously.

Jingyan immediately picked up Xuan and ran for the door.

Then Kerry and Venus got in the car together and drove to the hospital.

Xuan was lying in Jingyan’s arms, and she was both sad and happy. She was sad that she might have had a miscarriage and glad that she had let Jingyan think that he had caused her miscarriage. In that case, Jingyan would feel guilty about her for the rest of his life.

“Jingyan, I’m so cold. Could you hold me tight?” Xuan shivered. She clearly felt the blood continuously flowing out from underneath her, and her body gradually became colder.

Chapter 329 I Want You to Marry Me (1)

Jingyan hugged her, regardless of what people would think of him. He looked a bit shocked.

“Are we losing our child?” Xuan Zhao asked and a drop of tear came down from he face.

She was in deep agony, because she truly loved this baby.

Jingyan’s voice sounded dry. He tried to comforted her, “Don’t think too much. We’ll get to the hospital

His brain seemed to have stopped working. He couldn’t believe he pushed Xuan Zhao down with his own hands.

Xuan was crying harder and harder, “I really like our baby. I really do...”

Jingyan felt someone had stabbed him in the heart. All he felt was a heartache.

He didn’t like Xuan, nor did he like the baby. But it was his baby after all. How felt upset that it happened.

When they got to the hospital. The doctor and nurses were already waiting for them. As soon as they arrived, Xuan was taken inside by the nurses. "What happened?" the doctor asked Jingyan. "She's two months pregnant and just fell from the stairs." "Why is she so careless?" the doctor complained then went inside the patient room too. Jingyan was waiting by the door of the emergency room. He suddenly felt something wet on his hands, then he looked down and saw his hands full of blood... I am really sorry. I didn't mean to hurt you. Jingyan said in his heart but he was not sure who he was talking to. Kerry Ye and Venus Mu heard the news and came. Seeing her son standing there stupidly, Venus came up and asked, "Where's Xuan Zhao?"

Jingyan moved his lips but couldn't make a sound. After quite a while he said, "I didn't mean to hurt her. I just didn't want to drink the coffee she made, and I pushed her, then she...I didn't mean to kill the baby..." Venus stared at her son angrily. She was both angry and upset. She scolded him directly, "You have always disliked the child. Now you are happy! It's gone!" "He didn't do it on purpose. Don't be too hard on him," Kerry was trying to defend his son, "You see, he's quite sad too." "Is being sad useful? Will that bring back my grandson?" Venus was really furious. She really wanted to beat her son. Kerry hugged her and kept comforting her, "Alright, alright, don't get angry. Let's kick his ass when we get back. It's in the hospital." "He would do anything for Yiyao Duan! Ask him! Are you happy now? Now you can go to find her huh? You even don't care about your own baby's life! You knew..." Venus was getting more and more emotional. Afraid that she might say something hurtful, he hurriedly took her out of the emergency hall. "Why are you stopping me! I've been wanting to teach him a lesson for so long! He's old enough, but why he's so immature!" Venus was yelling at her husband. "Yes, yes. It's indeed his mistake this time. Don't get mad."

Venus was so mad that she even started to blame her husband, "It's all your fault! You spoiled him! You never disciplined him!”

“Okay, okay, it’s all my fault, alright? Come on, cheer up,” Kerry waited until his wife calmed down, then he added, “Look at Pingan, obviously he’s frightened. Your words will make Pingan blame himself for the rest of his life. Do you want Pingan to live with guilt?”

“I...” Venus’s eyes got red and she almost cried, “But he’s too much this time! Instead of facing the consequences caused by his own mistakes, he treated Xuan so rudely! I feel pity for Xuan!”

“Venus, you are just too kind-hearted. You don’t know about her,” Kerry sounded like he’s hinting something.

“What do you mean?” Venus looked at her husband cautiously and stopped crying.

Kerry held her on the shoulder and said, “She’s not that innocent as you think. It was her plan that she went to the military hospital. When I went to the hospital to see our son last time, I saw her following Pingan. I didn’t pay much attention because she didn’t do anything harmful to Pingan. It turned out that she was there for Yiyao.”

“So? What does it mean?” Venus said, “Even if she’s there for Pingan, it’s understandable!”

Seeing that his wife was still angry, Kerry realized she didn’t take in any word he said. So he compromised, “Okay, let’s not talk about this any more. Let’s go inside and see Pingan. We need to comfort him, too.”

Of course Venus cared about her son more, even if he made such a terrible mistake. She was still worried about Pingan’s mental status.

Jingyan remained where he had been. He hadn’t moved at all. He look dull and no one knew what he was thinking about. Kerry went up and patted him on the shoulder, “Go wash your hands first.”

Jingyan turned around and saw his father. His eyes were still dull. He said, “Dad.”

“I know you are in pain. But it has already happened. Try your best to make up for it.”

Jingyan was a bit surprised. Then he turned around and walked to the bathroom.

More than an hour later, the door of the emergency room opened.

The doctor came out and said, “We lost the child. We have done the curettage operation on the patient.

She might be emotional when she wakes up. You need to be with her all the time and try to make her feel better.”

“Thank you doctor.”

“Will she stay in hospital or go home? She’ll only need anti-inflammatory injection and injections of nutrients everyday,” the doctor said.

Venus looked at her husband and her son, then she said, “She’ll go home.”

“Then wait for the patient to wake up. She can go home in twenty minutes.”

“Thank you doctor.”

When Xuan woke up and saw Jingyan who was standing by the bed, she asked, “Where’s our child?”

Jingyan felt a pain in his heart. Looking at those eyes full of hope, he said, “I am sorry.”

Tears fell down from Xuan’s eyes then dropped into her hair, “My baby is gone.”

Seeing her so sad, Venus felt sad too and her eyes turned red again. She held her cold tiny hands and said, “Xuan, we Ye Family have failed you. We’ll be responsible for you.”

Chapter 329 I Want You to Marry Me (2)

“But I only want my child back! It’s almost three months! I talked to him and told him stories...” Xuan Zhao was crying, and the scene made everyone sad.

“Don’t cry any more, my good girl. Too much crying is bad for the eyes, especially after abortion,” Venus

Mu wiped the tears on her face with the tissue, “You are still young. You will have many more kids in the future.”

Xuan’s sound of sob touched Jingyan Ye. For the first time he felt guilty for avoiding and ignoring her this whole time.

If he had held more love for this baby, maybe the tragedy could have been avoided.

Jingyan held her up in his arms and took her out of the emergency room, then he put her into the ambulance.

It was a dark night and there was no wind. The moon was hiding behind the dark clouds.

On such a dark night, of course, no one had noticed the camera hidden nearby that was blinking.

Xuan felt extremely exhausted so she went to bed as soon as she arrived the Ye’s House, with tears on her face.

Chuxue Ye arrived home around ten in the evening. She had been waiting anxiously since she heard the news from Henry Zhang.

“Now let’s talk about it. What’s next?” Venus asked first.

The rest of the three did not say a word, because they knew it all would depend on Jingyan’s attitude.

“Come, why not say something?” Venus looked around and finally her eyes were fixed upon her son, “Pingan, what’s your plan?”

Not wanting to hear his son say something he would regret later on, Kerry Ye hurriedly interrupted them, “What about this, everyone, we are all tired tonight, so why don’t we just have a good night’s sleep and talk about it tomorrow? We have to take Xuan’s opinion into consideration, right?”

Chuxue is a great supporter of her dad. She raised her hand immediately, “I agree! Never make decisions at night. People are emotionally vulnerable at night. Let’s wait for tomorrow.”

Venus eyeballed her husband, “You are really good at making things worse.”

Kerry laughed, “Ruyi’s got the point. It’s indeed a bad time for decision making. It’s almost twelve o’clock now. Time for bed!”

“Fine, tomorrow it is,” Venus compromised.

“Goodnight mom and dad,” Chuxue greeted her parents politely. Kerry gave her a tricky look and Chuxue nodded and made an Okay gesture with her fingers.

As soon as her parents left the living room, Chuxue came to her brother and said seriously, “Brother, don’t be too hard on yourself. You can say yes to whatever conditions she may ask for, but there’s just one thing-you can’t marry her!”

Jingyan sat on the sofa and stared at the giant crystal lights on the ceiling with no expression on his face.

“Brother, I am talking to you! Do you hear me?” Chuxue shook Jingyan’s shoulder, “Do not risk your whole life in this. It’s not worth it. Do you know that?”

After quite a while, Jingyan finally started to talk, “Ruyi, would you please get me a glass of water? I’m

“Oh, okay,” Chuxue went to get a glass of water for him.

Jingyan drank the water up and felt he could think more clearly. He wiped his mouth and said, “I know.

They are two different things.”

Chuxue took a deep breath with relief. She patted her chest and said, “It’s best you know. Dad just hinted me, asking me to persuade you, so that you won’t say anything stupid.”

"I am not that silly. Alright, go to sleep," Jingyan patted her on the head, like when they were young.

"Don't stay up too late, and it's midnight now."

"I know."

Chuxue jumped off the sofa and watched her brother disappearing in the air.

Jingyan felt so exhausted that he even didn't have much strength to move his fingers. He closed his eyes and all he could see was the previous scene on the stairs and his hands that were full of blood.

It all happened too fast for him to react.

If only he could freeze time! Then he would have been able to save the baby. But that was only a beautiful wish...

It started to get windy at midnight and by dawn it began to rain dogs and cats outside. Henry woke up and saw Jingyan curling up on the sofa. He was concerned about him and put a blanket on him.

Jingyan is a light sleeper. He was awoken by the small noise and opened his eyes dreamily. When he saw

Henry, he said with a hoarse voice, "Uncle Henry."

Henry said lightly, "It's still early. Sleep."

"Is it raining outside?" Jingyan heard the sound outside and asked. The scene reminded him of the time when he was young – it was uncle Henry who accompanied him on such rainy nights while his parents were away.

"Yes, it's raining."

"Uncle Henry, please have someone send breakfast for two to the hospital when the sun rises," it's really not proper for him to meet Yiyao Duan today.

Henry nodded and tucked him in, "Okay, don't worry."

Jingyan closed his eyes again. He felt all his energy had been drained out.

An hour later, Venus came downstairs to see her son, by which time her angry had already gone.

He must feel so bad too. His face was strained and gaunt.

"What are you..."

"Shoo..." Venus hinted her husband to be quiet. She pointed her son who was curling up on the sofa and said, "Be quiet. Pingan is still asleep."

"He must have stayed up all night. It's raining so heavily outside. Hope he doesn't catch a cold," Kerry frowned and said.

Venus started to blame herself, "I was pushing too hard last night."

"It's okay. Stop blaming yourself. After all, it's his fault. Let's go. Let him sleep. We can have breakfast first."

Jingyan didn't wake up until it's nine in the morning and by now, the doctor had already put on a drip for Xuan.

Jingxuan went to his bedroom to clean himself up first, then he decided to talk with Xuan. He stood by her door for quite a while before he knocked at the door and went in.

Xuan turned around and when she saw him, her eyes were glittering – he's finally here. Venus was also in the room talking to her.

"I'll leave you two alone."

"No need, mom. You can stay and hear," Jingyan stopped his mom from leaving.

He chose a place that was the furthest to Xuan and sat down. With an emotionless face and a cold voice, he said, "it was my fault last night. You can ask for anything you want and I won't say no."

Xuan seemed to be in a daze and just looked at him. It's exactly what she wanted to hear. Then she thought about it and said, "Anything?"

"No, except one thing," Jingyan looked her straight in the eyes, feeling fearless for the blame that's coming soon.

"What is it?" Xuan tried to hide his guilty conscience and asked.

"To marry you." Jingyan said lightly, "Anything is okay but this one."

Xuan showed a bitter smile and said sarcastically, "Well, that's all I am asking for, to marry you."

"Name another one," Jingyan said directly.

"I lost my baby because of you! What's so hard about marrying me? You can even divorce me after two years of marriage!"

Jingyan looked serious and firm like it was a negotiation, "No way. Marriage is a sacred thing to me and I will not treat it with disrespect and dishonesty. I don't want to lie to you. Please forgive me."

Xuan showed a cold smile, "Fine. Since you turned down my only request, I will think it over what I really should ask for. I shall let you know tomorrow."

"Thanks," Jingyan said coldly and got up and left.

Venus had been silent this whole time. She's not surprised at all that Xuan asked Jingyan to marry her, nor was she surprised that Jingyan said no. She had expected it all.

Chapter 330 Please Stop Being Angry (1)

“Xuan Zhao.....”

“Please stop talking.” Xuan interrupted. She looked away from Venus and said: “I think I need to be alone for a while.”

Venus heaved a sigh and answered: “Fine. The servants are right outside your room. If you need anything, just tell them.”

“Thank you.”

Venus then left Xuan alone in the room. Xuan could finally stop pretending to be a nice lady and just be who she truly is. She grabbed her phone and sent a message to a person.

“Jingyan, don’t blame me for doing this! This is what you deserve! And Yiyao, I am not letting you get away with it this time!”

Yiyao was at that time in the military hospital. She looked at the pouring rain outside the window, and her expression was grim. She wasn’t worried about Jingyan. Instead, she was thinking about her father who had gone abroad for many days. She hadn’t got a single message from him since he left. And she wondered how did everything go with their mission. Have they wiped out the terrorist groups?

At that time, someone called her and her train of thoughts was interrupted. She looked at her phone, and found it was Madam. She picked it up and said: “Hello, Madam.”

“Yiyao, are you feeling better?” the madam said in a gentle voice.

“I’m much better. Thank you for asking.”

“I’m so glad to hear that. What about that young man? I heard he is also severely injured.”

“He is out of danger.” Yiyao said.

“That’s good.” The madam said. Her voice was cheerful. “I know someone who is very suitable for you, and I wanted to introduce him to you. But then your father told me that you are dating someone and your boyfriend is an amazing person. Anyway, don’t forget to tell me when will you get married. I can’t attend your wedding ceremony but I have to send my gifts to you.”

Yiyao bit her lips and said in a soft voice: “Thank you, Madam. It’s my honor.” Although she wasn’t even sure whether she would actually get married.

“Okay, take care of yourself. Goodbye.”

“Goodbye.” Yiyao hung up the phone. She looked outside the window again with a heavy heart.

The rain kept on pouring down and Sky City was almost flooded. There was no customer the whole day, so Chuxue closed her sweet shop and wanted to drive home.

On the way back, Yulin Xiao called her and they shared their thoughts with each other about what had been going on between Jingyan and Xuan.

“Will Jingyan really marry that woman? I don’t like her. She is a total bitch!” Chuxue complained.

Yulin laughed and said: “He is not that stupid. He likes that woman in the military.”

“I know. But Xuan is in the middle of their relationship. Now the baby is gone, and the matter is even more complicated. I'm really worried about them...Damn....Oh...no."

Yulin heard something was wrong and asked nervously: "What happened? Are you alright?"

Chuxue's car bumped against something and stopped suddenly. Chuxue looked ahead and said angrily:

"I'm okay. I think a wheel just got stuck in a drain."

"Where are you? I'll pick you up."

"No, you don't need to come. The rain is too heavy. Besides, you are too far away from me. I'll get a taxi."

"Okay. Be careful."

"I know." Chuxue then hung up the phone and threw her Bluetooth headphones on the passenger seat.

The moment she opened the door and got off, a car zoomed past her at full speed and she was splashed with water and mud. The rain was still pouring, so within a few seconds, she was totally drenched.

She wiped her face and shouted at that car: "Damn you! Are you trying to kill yourself?"

She then walked to the front of the car and checked. A wheel was indeed stuck in a drain because the grate was missing. The water on the ground was ankle-deep, and it was flowing to the drain.

"Damn! Why is there no one to find the grate back? It is so dangerous!" Chuxue complained. She looked up, and found there was no one around and she couldn't find one taxi. She wished she had asked Yulin to come and pick her up.

She was about to get back into the car, but suddenly, she noticed another car was running towards her at a very fast speed. She didn't want to get splashed again so she took a step backward. However, she accidentally stepped into a hole on the ground and her foot got stuck. Chuxue felt so hopeless. It was must one of her worst days. She thought. "Did I do anything wrong? Am I punished by the lord? I knew I shouldn't go to work this morning!"

The rain was too heavy. Chuxue's foot was stuck in the hole that was full of mud so she couldn't see how was her foot stuck. She tried to pull her leg out by force but she failed. She stood in the pouring rain helplessly and she felt she was abandoned by the whole world. If one man could appear at that moment and save her, she would be willing to marry him. She thought to herself. As long as that man is not way too ugly.

Ten minutes passed. Chuxue felt her legs were getting weak and she was in despair.

Suddenly, she felt the rain stopped. She looked up, and found there was an umbrella above her head.

“What are you doing here?” A man said from behind.

Chuxue froze when she heard this voice. Because it couldn't be more familiar. It was Zhao Nangong.

“Is your foot stuck?” Zhao asked.

Chuxue looked back at him, and she felt disappointed. “Why does it have to be this guy!”

She thought to herself.

“You look pale. How long have you been standing here?” Zhao quickly took off his coat and put it on Chuxue. He touched her hand and frowned. He said: “Your hand is so cold.”

Chuxue didn't know what to say. After standing in the rain for so long, her mind was no longer working properly.

Zhao took her hands into his and rubbed them. When Chuxue's hands were warm enough, he passed the umbrella to her and said: “Take it. I will get your foot out.”

Chuxue took the umbrella. Zhao crouched down. His back was soon drenched by the rain and Chuxue moved the umbrella to his side. But he only said: “Don't worry about me. Put the umbrella above your head.”

Chuxue did what he said.

She could feel his hands on her foot, which would soon lose feeling. He then grabbed her foot and tried to pull it out, but Chuxue gasped with pain. Zhao stopped immediately and said: “You sprained your foot.

It's gonna hurt. Hold it.”

Chapter 330 Please Stop Being Angry (2)

Chuxue nodded. Zhao's shirt was totally drenched and it plastered against his back.

Chuxue could see his muscular body through his shirt. And at that moment, she felt he was not that annoying.

The rain beat out a rhythm on the umbrella. Chuxue felt they were the only two people in the world.

Zhao tried very hard, and Chuxue's foot was finally freed, although it was swollen.

“I'll take you to the hospital. We also need to get some medicine.” Zhao frowned as he looked at her swollen foot.

Chuxue agreed. She said: "I'll get my key and phone."

"Stand still. I'll get it for you."

Zhao rushed into the rain, took the stuff and locked her car. He then walked back to her, held her up in his arms and walked back to his car.

"Are you cold? I'll turn on the heater." Zhao started the car.

Chuxue wanted to say that she wasn't feeling cold, but before she said anything, she sneezed. And she put her arms around herself and shuddered.

Zhao looked very worried. He turned on the heater and drove to a hospital nearby.

Chuxue noticed his hands were scrapped, and blood was oozing out.

"Your hands....." Chuxue said. She was feeling very guilty about it.

"Don't worry. I'll use a band-aid." Zhao said casually.

Chuxue was feeling rather sulky. It is like every time they meet, something bad is bound to happen.

They arrived at the hospital. Zhao helped her to register. He then took her to get an X-ray, and then he paid the bill for her. Chuxue felt rather awkward. He really doesn't need to do so much.

Chuxue thought.

"Can you drive me home?" Chuxue asked when they were back in the car. After a moment's silence, she said: "Thank you."

Zhao was surprised to hear her saying thank you. He froze for a few seconds, then he smiled and said:

"Don't worry. It's my pleasure."

Chuxue looked outside the window to avoid his kind eyes. She felt very tired, and the temperature in the car made her feel even more dizzy, so she fell asleep in no time.

Zhao looked at her face when she was sleeping, and he felt a surge of adoration for her.

The rain finally ceased. Zhao drove back to his apartment and carried her out of the car.

Her face was crimson. He touched her forehead and found she was having a fever. He then carried her back to his apartment.

Chuxue was still sleeping. She felt she was put into a nice and hot tub. She thought she was home, and she said: "Mom, I'm so thirsty."

Soon, she felt a spoon was in front of her mouth. She licked it and frowned. "It's so bitter."

"This is medicine. You are having a fever."

Chuxue then opened her mouth and swallowed the liquid. She then fell back into a heavy sleep.

When she woke up again, she found the rain stopped. She looked outside the window and found it was already dark. How long did I sleep? She thought. She rubbed her eyes and looked around, and finally found she was not in her room. She felt frightened. What is this place? She shouted. She then threw the quilt away, and found she was dressed in a big white t-shirt. Her bra and pantie were missing. "Damn!" Chuxue patted her forehead. "What the hell is going on?" She remembered she was in the car, and she asked Zhao to send her back home. Obviously, Zhao didn't do what she asked him to do.

"Did he do something to me when I was sleeping?" She thought. Anger surged through her, and all her good feelings about Zhao disappeared in an instant. She heard someone was in the kitchen, and she shouted: "Zhao Nangong!" Then, she heard hurried footsteps. Zhao appeared in the room quickly and asked: "What happened?" He was wearing an apron, and he was holding a big spoon in one hand and a lid in the other. Chuxue never knew Zhao could cook, so she was very surprised to see him like this. She looked into his eyes and asked: "Didn't I ask you to send me back home?" Her heart was beating violently from anger. Zhao smiled and said: "I'm afraid your parents would be angry with you if I sent you back." "Then, how could you...Where are my clothes?" Chuxue blushed with embarrassment. Zhao said: "You had a fever. Your clothes are all wet." Chuxue covered herself under the quilt and glared at him. "Did you ask a woman to change my clothes?"

"This is my apartment. Where do you think I can find a woman?" "But...but..." Chuxue's eyes brimmed with tears. Zhao walked to her and said: "Don't cry. I didn't do anything. I only bathed you and changed your clothes." "What? You bathed me?" Chuxue's eyes widened in disbelief. She blushed scarlet at the thought. "I just put you in a tub. That's all." Chuxue was so angry. She punched on his chest randomly and shouted: "You jerk! How could you do this to me!" Zhao didn't move away. She isn't strong enough to hurt him. When she stopped, he said: "Do you feel better?"

Chuxue snorted and looked away.

“Please stop being angry. I have asked someone to bring you some new clothes. Put them on. And it’s time for dinner.” Zhao stared at her fleshy lips, and he found her charm impossible to resist. “I am willing to do anything to please her.” He thought to himself.

“Are you still angry? I’ll kiss you if you keep being angry.” Zhao said.

Chuxue glared at him and asked: “Where are my clothes?”

Zhao pointed at the sofa in the living room and said: “It’s over there. I’ll get them for you.”

“That’s not necessary.” Chuxue said. She then crooked her finger at the clothes, and the clothes flew directly towards her.

Zhao was numb with shock. He recovered himself a few seconds later and asked: “Are you a fairy?”

Chuxue burst into laughter. The atmosphere between the two of them was now relaxed.

She said: “I am not a fairy. I am a ghost.” She looked at him, and her purple eyes were sparkling.

Zhao stared at her unblinkingly and said: “Even though you are a ghost, you are the most beautiful ghost

I have ever seen.”

“Aren’t you afraid of me?”

“Not at all.” Zhao said. He then lifted up her chin and kissed on her lips hungrily.

Suddenly, a strong burning smell wafted through the room. Chuxue pushed him away and said:

“Something is burnt!”

Zhao stood up and said in an annoyed tone: “Damn it! Why now!?”

Chapter 331 What an Affair (1)

When he left, Chuxue Ye quickly put on her clothes. Zhao Nangong was very thoughtful and he had prepared everything she needed.

This is a dangerous place and if she kept staying here, she would definitely suffer a lot. It was better for her to slip away. However, where were her phone and car keys?

After searching the bedroom and the living room, she didn't find them. Zhao asked deliberately, "Where are you looking for? Your phone?"

"Give it to me." Chuxue said to him while putting her hand out.

With hot rice porridge in hand, Zhao said, "I'll give it to you after you eat this. There is no taxi outside my apartment. You can't sneak away."

Chuxue stamped and sat at the table, ready to eat.

"I save your life, don't you remember? Eat with me, OK? I don't think it's a hard thing for you." Zhao added two dishes to the dining table, one was mashed potatoes and the other was mushroom with vegetables. "I don't cook very often, so there are very few vegetables in the refrigerator. That's it."

She didn't feel hungry just now, but when she smelled the aroma of the food, her stomach growled, so she said awkwardly, "You know how to cook? You surprise me!"

"Is it strange if I know how to cook?" Zhao gave her a spoon.

Chuxue took a sip, which tasted good. "Anyway, you don't make me feel that you can cook."

"Can you?" Zhao suddenly asked.

Chuxue shrugged, "No, my father doesn't allow me to learn it."

Zhao raised his eyebrows and took a glance at her, "He is right. You don't have to know I, cause I will do it for you."

"Hey! Zhao, I literally don't need you to do it for me, OK?" Chuxue stopped eating.

Zhao didn't want to piss her off and he laughed, "It's just a joke. Don't be so serious."

Strangely, Chuxue still got mad. She then said ironically, "Well, you are the most famous paly boy in Sky

City. Of course you love joking, don't you?"

Zhao froze and blamed himself inside. Why did he say that?

"I mean cooking for you was not a joke," Zhao tried to make up for it.

Chuxue sneered, "It doesn't matter. It's none of my business, anyway."

Zhao was sad to hear this. He gazed at her, "Chuxue, I am serious."

"Zhao, how many girls have you said this to? I believe you don't remember, right?"

Chuxue said with

"admiration". "Take them home, cook for them, and then tell them that you like her. Are the girls greatly moved?"

"I have never taken any woman back, nor have I cooked for them. You are the first one."

Zhao explained seriously.

Chuxue didn't expect this and muttered, "Hum, who knows?"

After all, everyone in Sky City knew he was a playboy.

From the look on her face, Zhao knew she did not believe him, so he said, "Since I met you, I have had no contact with other women. I can swear."

It's okay if he didn't mention this. When he talked about this, Chuxue got mad again. She spread out her hand and asked, putting the porridge aside, "Where are my phone and keys?"

Zhao knew that he had pissed her off again. Why did he mention other women? He was really an idiot.

How could he regard himself as a master of love? How did he become an idiot in front of Chuxue? He really didn't know what he should say or not.

"The last time, my phone and keys, where are they?" Chuxue's face was cold, and she did not know why she got so angry.

Finding she was really angry, Zhao had to take out two things from his pocket and said,

"Let me take you home."

"No need." Chuxue grabbed her things and walked to the door.

Zhao hurriedly took off his apron and followed her. When he got into the elevator, he found that both of them were wearing slippers.

The atmosphere in the elevator was very embarrassing. Chuxue turned her head away all the time and did not take a look at him. Until they got to the first floor, Zhao grabbed her wrist, "There is really no taxi here. Let me take you home."

Chuxue did not shake off his hand while glaring at him, "Zhao, why are you so annoying?"

Zhao suddenly was not that worried. Because he thought when girls said this, this meant they already forgave him.

"Yes, yes, I'm annoying. It's late, so let me send you back, OK?" Zhao gave her all his patience and gentleness in his life and he even did not know where his bottom line was.

Chuxue raised her eyebrows. "Are you not afraid that my father might break your leg?"

"I don't care. I don't want you to go back so late alone. It's not safe." Nangong gently shook her wrist.

"Let's go. My car is outside."

Hesitating for a moment, she agreed.

It was indeed not safe to go back alone. She gave herself an excuse.

On the way back, Chuxue kept silence all the time. Zhao was afraid that he may say something wrong again, so he also chose to say nothing. Therefore, inside the car was very quiet.

Arriving at the gate of Ye's villa, Chuxue got off the car without hesitation. But Zhao stopped her by pressing down her hand.

"What?" Chuxue looked at him with caution.

Zhao felt a little awkward because of her such reaction and he said with concern, "Your foot hasn't recovered yet. Remember to use ointment when you go home. You have a family doctor, don't you?"

"Yes."

"OK. The doctor should have everything you need. Walk slowly and be careful."

"OK." Chuxue grumbled after getting off his car, "It's none of your business."

But Zhao heard this, making him a little sad. He had never thought that he would be so into Chuxue that he even changed into another person.

Seeing Chuxue going into the villa in the mist, Zhao was ready to leave when Chuxue was out of his sight.

What he didn't see was that as soon as the car turned around, Chuxue turned back to look at him.

Walking into the villa, Chuxue thought that whether she was too harsh on him? At least Zhao saved her.

The more she thought about it, the sorrier she felt. She stopped to take out her phone and sent him a message with only one simple word.

When she heard the beep, Chuxue regretted it immediately! Why should she thank him? How did she forget that this guy had seen her naked body?

“Ah!” Chuxue cried out and received a reply from him when she was blaming herself. She then read the message with squinted eyes, only to see—For you, I would do anything.

“Psycho!” Chuxue then put her phone into her pocket, but didn’t find that she was actually smiling.

As soon as she stepped into the villa, Chuxue felt it was strange. His parents and brother were sitting on the sofa without saying a word and the looks on their faces were very serious. What was going on again?

Chuxue limped to the living room and carefully asked Jingyan Ye, “Brother, what’s going on?”

Venus Mu gave her a stare, “Why do you come back so late?”

Chuxue got nervous. Had they already known that Zhao and herself...

No, no, no. She would never admit anything.

Chapter 331 What an Affair (2)

After she said that, Kerry Ye suddenly asked, “You didn’t wear this when you were out in the morning, right?”

Chuxue Ye was frightened but she smartly replied, “Dad, it’s like this. It’s raining hard today and the front wheel stuck into the sewer without a manhole cover. My foot also accidentally stuck in it. See, it’s swollen...”

Kerry and Venus Mu changed the look on their faces all of a sudden and Venus asked, “What? Stuck?”

Does it still hurt?”

“It hurts!” Chuxue wanted to take this opportunity to let her parents just ignore what was exactly going on, hoping that they wouldn’t blame her.

Venus held her hand and said, “You need to be careful, OK? Come here and sit down. I will bring some ointment for you later.”

Chuxue found that the situation didn’t seem to be what she had thought. Was she wrong?

Slowly sitting down on the sofa, Chuxue tentatively asked, “Mom, what happened?”

Chuxue shook her head, “No, I’ve been busy. What’s going on?”

“Just look at the tabloid stories and you’ll know.” Venus said with worry.
Chuxue then took out her phone. As soon as she opened an app and saw the news title on the top, she suddenly jumped up.

The headline was “Yehuang’ s new president caused his girlfriend to miscarry. Was he cheating on a soldier?”

“Fuck! It’s total nonsense!” Chuxue cursed, completely forgetting her parents sitting next to her.

“Ruyi, watch your mouth.” Kerry reminded her, although he had already cursed.
Chuxue angrily browsed the news, which reported that according to Yehuang Group insiders, Xuan Zhao is Jingyan’ s girlfriend, pregnant for more than two months, but Jingyan now falls in love with a soldier during his girlfriend’s pregnancy. For some reason, Xuan Zhao had an unexpected miscarriage...

At the bottom of the page, there were pictures of her entering Ye’ s villa, going to the hospital to have a pregnancy test and Jingyan’ s showing up at the military hospital. The last one was a GIF of Jingyan carrying her out of the emergency room last night. Fortunately, there were no photos of Yiyao Duan, otherwise Jingyan would have already rushed to the news headquarter.

“The one who wrote this was standing by her side. Obviously, she did this.” Chuxue was arbitrary.

Venus frowned, “This is impossible.”

“I am not. Think about this, if she did this, how would she know that she would have an accident yesterday and that she was so coincidentally photographed by reporters?”

Chuxue thought her mom was not wrong. No matter how well Xuan Zhao had planned, she would not risk her baby’ s life. Chuxue knows how much she values this child.”

“Then...that is who wants to muddy my brother up?” Chuxue asked nervously.

Kerry said with seriousness, “Over the years, Yehuang has grown so fast that we have made a hard time for many people. Now Pingan has just come to power but someone wants to take advantage of this to bring him down. It seems that the one was determined to do so.”

Chuxue was filled with indignation, "They are so disgusting. They can't defeat us in the business world, so they want to use dirty tricks."

Kerry snorted, "Since it's about money, what can't they do?"

"So, what can we do now? Someone who did this should make an apology to my brother and Yiyao."

"I've already asked someone to look into it." Jingyan's voice sounded as usual but Chuxue could sense his rage.

"Well, think about how to deal with the media tomorrow. Tomorrow will definitely be a tough day."

"Good night and I'm going to the hospital," said Jingyan, who got up and walked out.

Kerry shouted, "Stop! If you go there now, you will be caught by those reporters. It's suicide, OK?"

"So what? Will things get worse than they are now?" Jingyan didn't stop, "Do they think they can use such shitty trick to force me to give in? They don't know me." Looking at her brother's back, Chuxue suddenly felt that he was great.

"Dad, my brother is right. To be honest, this is just a playboy's affair. Though it does harm to my brother's reputation, as well as to the stock price, it can do nothing to our family."

Hearing this, Kerry and Venus looked at each other in silence. It seemed that they were overreacted.

Indeed, Ye family's position today couldn't be influenced by the scandal.

In that case, why did they need to worry so much? The worst was to lose few tens of millions.

"Let's go. Go to sleep. Let Pingan do this on his own." Kerry finally relaxed after worrying all night.

Venus nodded, "That's right. We are fifties. And why do we care about this so much? Let's go to bed and sleep."

"Good night, mom and dad." Chuxue said with a smile.

Venus turned around, "Ah, I forgot to bring you the ointment."

"Mom, I can do it myself. Go to sleep before Dad blames me again." It was not easy to divert their attention away from her, so she must seize this opportunity.

"Okay then, it's in the medicine kit. Go get it."

"Thank you, mom!"

When they went upstairs, Chuxue was completely relieved. Fortunately, they didn't ask what had happened afterwards. Otherwise, she didn't know how to answer.

On the way to the hospital, Jingyan drove fast. Soon, he lost the doggies following him. These guys were like the fucking sticky gum. It had rained all day and the air was unusually humid, just like his heart. After arriving at the hospital, Jingyan went straight to the sixth floor, where Yiyao had already returned to her former ward, with the light on. Pushing open the door, Yiyao was surprised by his arrival, "Why are you here?" "I missed you, so I come to see you." Jingyan came to her bedside.

Yiyao was reading a book related to war. Seeing he was not looking good, she closed her book, "What has happened?" Jingyan didn't intend to hide it from her, so he told her everything after sitting down on the chair next to her, "Something did happen. I'm sorry I get you involved." "Me? What does it have to do with me?" Yiyao didn't understand. After she entered the hospital, she didn't even go out of the courtyard door. Looking deeply into her eyes, he said calmly, "Don't get so excited, OK?" Yiyao laughed, "Heh, it's quite serious this time, right? Go ahead, I'm not afraid at all."

Chapter 332: My Mysterious Husband

Chapter 332 She Was Not The Other Woman (1)

After pondering for a while, Jingyan said, "Xuan had a miscarriage last night."

"What?" Yiyao was surprised, she didn't expect to hear this, "What happened?"

Jingyan briefly told her about this. The more Yiyao listened, the more sullen she got, after Jingyan finished his words, she glared at him, "How could you do that?"

"I didn't mean to do it." Jingyan explained with a pale face, then he sighed and said,

"Well, it was indeed my fault, I can give her whatever she wants, except for the marriage."

Seeing his frown and red eyes, Yiyao knew he was telling the truth, so she didn't blame him and asked,

"Is there anything to do with me?"

"Here's the problem," Jingyan flipped out the gossip news on his phone, "Just have a look."

Yiyao would know this sooner or later, so he'd probably tell her now.

After seeing the news, Yiyao felt speechless, then she threw the phone and said, "Shit!

How could they say that?"

Hearing this, Jingyan said firmly, "You are my only lover, someone wants to frame me, so they choose you as the target, I'm sorry."

Then Yiyao finally understood, "No wonder several nurses looked at me weirdly tonight, it turned out this is the reason, I thought my face was dirty."

"I'm sorry, I didn't know someone would do such dirty things. Actually, I don't care about those comments, what I worried most is you." Jingyan felt very depressed, he loved Yiyao very much, how could those people say that?

It was the first time for Yiyao to meet such things, she actually didn't know her feelings, so she said,

"Well, I've always been a popular people of our army's internal publications, I didn't expect that I could be a character in the gossip news."

"Aren't you angry?" Jingyan was a little surprised.

“Of course I’m angry.” Yiyao pointed to the headline and said, “It is a smear for soldiers. Our relationship with the public would be affected as well.”
Hearing this, Jingyan was stunned, he didn’t expect her to think like that.

Yiyao frowned, “Then why are you coming here tonight? You can just tell me on the phone.”

“I” Jingyan was speechless and then he said slowly, “I want explain it to you myself, I’m worried that you may think too much.”

However, Jingyan still sat there with no sign of leaving at all.

“Yiyao, I haven’t slept for two days.” Jingyan said pitifully.

Hearing this, Yiyao felt nervous, “So what? What does it have to do with me?”

“Can I sleep here for just one night?” Seeing that she was about to object, Jingyan quickly pointed to the sofa and said, “I’ll just sleep on the sofa.”

“Aren’t you afraid of those reporters? If they know this, nobody would listen to my explanation.” Yiyao was still a bit angry and sneered.

Yiyao glared at him and picked up the book to read, it seemed that he wouldn’t leave tonight.

Jingyan acted normally, he directly walked into the bathroom to wash his face, then he lied on the sofa in a comfortable position. However, he was tall and the sofa was not long enough, so he could only curl up his legs.

Perhaps because he was relieved, Jingyan quickly fell asleep.

Hearing the soft breathing, Yiyao turned to look at Jingyan, he seemed to be more haggard with scruff on his face. The T-shirt he worn was also creased. She felt sorrow for him, now a small matter was totally out of control.

She could forgive him, but just felt unpleasant. When thinking of that child, Yiyao felt that she was the indirect killer.

If she hadn't returned to the hotel and didn't contact Jingyan, he might still be with Xuan, then the child would still be alive.

She knew Jingyan well, he wouldn't push Xuan downstairs.

The cool breeze blew inside, even though it was summer, Yiyao still felt a sense of coldness. So she sent a message to Azure Dragon and asked him to bring a thin blanket and a pillow here.

"Are you cold?" Azure Dragon came in with a thin blanket in his hands.

"Keep your voice down," Yiyao said, "Cover him with the blanket."

After seeing Jingyan, Azure Dragon was shocked and said, "When did he come here?"

"Only a few minutes before, I failed to drive him away." Yiyao was speechless.

Hearing this, Azure Dragon felt strange, he threw the blanket and the pillow on the bed, and said, "Just do it yourself, it's weird for me to do that."

"Stop right there." Yiyao was a bit angry, "All your partners are male."

"Well, I haven't done that in the army. Just do it yourself, I have to play the game." After saying that, he quickly ran away before Yiyao could finish her words. Although he didn't know what happened between them, he knew that Jingyan really liked her and so did Yiyao. They must have some misunderstandings.

Yiyao was speechless, then she covered the blanket on Jingyan and had him sleep on the pillow, it was then she felt better. After doing this, she continued reading and didn't see the smile on Jingyan's face.

Although, the sofa was a bit short for Jingyan, he slept very well this night.

"Be careful about those reporters." Jingyan reminded her as he left.

Yiyao picked up a bun and said, "Well, they can just try. Those safeguards are very powerful, besides, Azure Dragon is just living beside."

"Well, that's fine, then I have to go the company, call me if something happens. I'll come back soon."

"Well, I can figure that." Yiyao said in an arrogant manner, that was her style, she wouldn't bother others if she could handle it. However, Jingyan misunderstood her, he thought that she didn't need any protection.

After hesitating for a while, he said, "Then I'm leaving."

Yiyao kept eating the porridge and remained quiet.

Seeing this, Jingyan sighed helplessly and then left.

When Azure Dragon came over for breakfast, Yiyao said indifferently, "I'll go out for a while."

"What's wrong?" Azure Dragon was confused.

“The security of the hospital is too bad, it’s time to strengthen it.” Hearing this, Azure Dragon said,

“Well.”

On the way to the company, Jingyan received a message, “Boss, the news has been withdrawn, but we haven’t found the tipster.”

“Keep searching.” Jingyan said lightly.

“Fuck!” Jingyan cursed, and then said angrily, “I know, find the tipster as quickly as possible.”

Jingyan threw the headset fiercely on the passenger seat. He looked very angry with gloom eyes. He would definitely give that man a lesson.

Chapter 332 She Was Not The Other Woman (2)

Before arriving at the company, Jingyan saw several reporters waiting at the entrance, some even stopped the employee to ask about the matter.

However, this was the boss’s private business, if they dared to say something, they would be fired.

The car drove directly to the underground park, then Jingyan took the private elevator to the president’s office, and immediately called Secretary Wang and the Manager of the Publicity Department to his office.

When they came, Jingyan said, “Invite all those reporters, provide them with food and tea, I’ll hold a press conference at ten o’clock.”

The Manager of Publicity Department was a bit confused and asked, “President Ye, we can just ignore this, they will forget this quickly, there is no need to “What?” Jingyan raised his eyebrows, “They say Yiyao is a mistress, do you think I can still keep quiet?”

Hearing this, they quickly answered, “Copy that, we’ll do as you said.”

“You are right, I didn’t expect him to be so angry.” The Manager suddenly admired President Ye, “He is as spoony as his father.”

Twenty to thirty reporters downstairs were quickly invited into the company’s conference room, the Manager asked someone to serve them tea and bread, then he said, “Thank you for concerning about

President Ye, since you’ve waited for such a long time, eat some food first, he is dealing with an urgent document, we’ll hold a press conference at ten o’clock.”

“May I ask if the things reported on the Internet are true? Did Xuan really has a miscarriage?” A reporter asked hurriedly.

Hearing this, the Manager smiled and said, “Please wait, President Ye will answer your questions later.”

Those reporters were discussing about this, they felt a bit weird for Yehuang Group acted polite this time. A reporter who had some connections with the Manager asked, “Mr. He, the news had just broken out yesterday, and now you hold a press conference, do you do it on purpose?”

Even though the Manager wanted to curse, he still forced a smile and said, “Well, we really don’t know how to deal this, if we keep silent, you blame us for acted negatively, now we want to explain this, you say that we have other intentions. What about you teaching us how to deal this?”

Then, the reporter kept quiet.

The atmosphere was a bit awkward, so the Manager smiled and said, “Well, our intention is simple. First, we want to thank you for your concerns. Second, we also want to stop those rumors.”

“You are right.” Someone echoed.

Today, all the members of Yehuang Group had no thought of working, they found different online streaming platforms to see the press conference.

At ten o’clock. The door of the meeting room was pushed open by Secretary Wang, Then Jingyan walked in, he was wearing a light blue casual suit with a white shirt inside. After shaving the beard, he looked quite energetic.

Jingyan sat in the middle. He looked calm and intelligent, like a king.

“President Ye, could you please tell us whether the news is true or not? Did you really have an external affair? Is this the reason for your girlfriend’s miscarriage?”

Hearing their questions, Jingyan answered calmly, “First, Xuan is not my girlfriend, we had a one-night-stand, the baby was an accident. I’m sorry for that. Second, there’s no mistress, the mistress you reported is actually the girl I love. I love her for more than twenty years, nobody can compare to her in my heart. This is why I hold the press conference, I don’t want her to be slandered. Third, Xuan did have a miscarriage, this is a fact.”

Jingyan’s words were like a bomb that shocked them all, then someone asked, “President Ye, since you like that officer, why do have an one-night-stand with Xuan?”

Hearing this, Jingyan stretched his hands and answered, “Well, I was drunk and knew nothing at all. So I didn’t know how it happened. You may probably think I’m a bad guy, that’s also my thought.”

“President Ye, someone said that you dislike Xuan and the baby, and this is just your plan. Is it true?”

Then the whole room became quiet, only the sound of those cameras could be heard. Jingyan looked at that man and then said, “Frankly speaking, I think that the child is the result of love, although, he came to this world by accident, I have my principles, so I wouldn’t do such things. I’m really sorry for Xuan, but it is just an accident. “

Then the room was quite again, people all thought that the man was reckless to ask such a question.

However, those who watched the live streaming felt satisfied, they liked such frank questions. It was better than excuses.

Chapter 333: My Mysterious Husband

Chapter 333 Affectionate and Domineering Man

"Mr. Ye, may I ask how you are going to compensate Xuan Zhao?"

"How to compensate her depends on Xuan's own intention. I will fully respect her opinions. As long as it was acceptable to me, I will satisfy her. After all, it is my fault from the beginning."

Jingyan Ye was being frank. Although his behavior was a bit of scum, his attitude of admitting mistakes instead made people feel that he was a man who dared to do and dare to bear.

"What kind of conditions is that you could not accept? Money or something else?" The previous reporter

"In terms of the amount of money, we will talk and she will be satisfied, but I will definitely not agree to one of the conditions," Jingyan looked direct into the camera opposite him and said solemnly, "That is, marriage. There's only one woman I love, and there's only one woman I'll marry in my life. It's the third party in the rumor, and I won't consider anyone else."

The females on the scene inhaled heavily. Which woman didn't like such an affectionate and domineering man?

Xuan, who was lying in the bed and watching the live broadcast, was so angry that she almost threw her mobile phone out. This time, it was a miscalculation. Originally, she wanted to force Jingyan to marry her under the pressure of public opinion, and destroy Yiyao Duan's reputation by the way.

Unexpectedly,

Jingyan did not care for his own reputation at all, even if he was criticized by media and public.

On the contrary, Yiyao in the hospital was inexplicably moved somewhat. She couldn't believe that Jingyan clarified her name in front of the public. How many people would scold him for being cruel when he confessed to drunken promiscuity and admitted that Xuan had miscarriage after drinking. For a woman who had miscarried for him, how could he have the heart to say that he would not marry her.

"Mr. Ye, I just find out that the news about you has been deleted. Did you do it?"

"Yes," Jingyan said bluntly, "Shouldn't this kind of inaccurate news be deleted? What's more, don't you find that some online forums have started to post about this matter again? It is obvious that someone is operating in the back. Here, I also warn the person behind, stop your behavior, otherwise, the lawyer letter from our legal department will be sent to you as soon as possible."

With absolute confidence and charm, Jingyan completely suppressed the arrogance of all the reporters present. Facing all the cameras, he asked, neither humbly nor arrogantly, "Is there anything else to?"

A female reporter asked weakly, "Mr. Ye, I heard that your girlfriend is a military soldier? Could you disclose more information?"

Referring to Yiyao, his expression obviously softened a lot, with a light smile appearing in the corner of his eyes, "She is a soldier, and she is an upright and noble person, and cannot be stigmatized by anyone.

But I'm sorry, I can't give you more details, and please don't bother her. It will make her feel very uncomfortable and cause her a lot of trouble."

The reporter still didn't give up and kept asking, "You said you've liked her since you were a child, so are you childhood sweethearts?"

The smile on Jingyan's face was obvious, "We met in kindergarten, but later we used letters to communicate with each other. Is this counted as childhood sweethearts?"

Completely conquered by Jingyan's traditional view of love, the female reporter immediately nodded and said, "Yes, of course."

"Thank you, then she is my childhood sweetheart."

Yiyao, on the other end, made complaints, "I'm not your childhood sweetheart, I'm your boss."

At the press conference, all necessary questions were asked and a lot of unnecessary questions were also asked. Finally, Jingyan said, "My personal affairs attracted so many attentions and became the talk material for people after dinner. This shows that we Ye Group still has importance in your hearts. I hope everyone can pay more attention to Ye's latest products. Of course, there should be a lot of people reproaching me in front of TV screen now. I will bear all the accusations and reproaches, and I will also be responsible for all the consequences. However, please don't disturb others. That's my bottom line. Thank you."

Jingyan's concluding speech was unanimously applauded by Ye Group. He was indeed the boss. When clarifying the scandal, he did not forget to publicize for the company. Because it was a live broadcast, half an hour after the press conference, all the posts on the Internet disappeared in a moment. People began to believe what Jingyan said, it was a man-made slander.

After sitting at home and watching the whole press conference, Kerry and Venus looked at each other and laughed, "Well, we don't have to worry about our son any more. He is totally capable of taking care of himself."

"That's right. After this, I think we can rest assured to hand over Ye Group to him. We'd better consider which country to travel to."

"I want to go to Iceland to see the aurora," Venus said immediately. "Ask my brother if he and his wife want to go too, if they do, we'll go together."

"Darling, I listened to you." Kerry put his arm around her shoulder. If he was younger, he only wanted to go with his wife only. Now that he was older, it was better to enjoy life with family and friends.

In the hospital.

Yiyao, with her head resting on her arms, looked straight at the ceiling. She vaguely felt that she wanted to forgive Jingyan, but what he did was totally inconsistent with her values.

"Boss, something happened." Azure Dragon pushed the door in, face looking very serious. Yiyao straightened up, "What's the matter?"

"Our men were caught while on duty."

"What?" Yiyao was stunned, "Who were caught? Where are they?"

"On the border with Myanmar, Zhuque and Xuanwu got caught. We didn't predict the situation clearly. A large number of mercenaries came from the other side..."

Yiyao said as she put on her shoes, "I'll ask the management to send a helicopter to pick them.

Gather the team at once."

"What's so much nonsense? My injury is nothing."

Azure Dragon was still worried, "But there is no arrangement from above for us to go."

Yiyao yelled at him angrily, "I will immediately report to above. Zhuque and Xuanwu are our men. We need to rescue them right away."

Solemnly, Azure Dragon said with an upright military salute, "Yes Madam!"

"You clean up first, I'll go to the dean." Yiyao went out with her mobile phone and contacted the helicopter while hurrying to the dean's office.

Of course, the dean didn't want to let her go, but Yiyao's personality was notoriously stubborn. It was hard for her to change the decision she already made. The dean could only ask the doctor to prescribe sufficient medicines for her in case of any accident.

An hour later, the helicopter arrived at the military hospital. Yiyao changed into her camouflage suit and stood in front of the window. After pondering for a long time, she called Jingyan, because after this farewell, she didn't know whether she could see him again.

The bell rang only once, and then it was connected. Jingyan's soft and deep voice came from the other end, "Yiyao."

Yiyao said after a long while, "I'm leaving and I'm telling you now."

From the phone came the sound of broken cup, followed by the sound of rapid footsteps, "When? Your injury is not recovered yet."

"In an hour. You don't have to come. This mission is urgent..."

"One hour is enough. Wait for me. I'll be there in a minute." Jingyan then hung up. He was afraid that she would refuse his request.

Yiyao sighed heavily and began to regret making this call. In fact, it was better to cut off the relationship clean and neat. Why couldn't she just put it down?

It was rush hour at noon, and the road was in a mess. Jingyan was so anxious that he wanted to fly over with wings. After honking countless times, he could not see the car in front of him moving an inch.

As time went by, Jingyan could not wait any longer. He got out of the car and ran in the direction of the hospital.

Twenty minutes, forty minutes...Seeing that it was too late, Jingyan took a turn and hid in a deserted alley. The next second, he disappeared.

Where his superpowers were stronger than Kerry was that he could control the location of his next appearance. As a result, few people could find his presence or absence. Even if someone saw him, the other person would feel that eyes were dizzy.

After three passes, Jingyan finally arrived at the gate of the military hospital. At this time, the roar of military helicopters came from the distance.

Was this to pick up Yiyao?

Jingyan was worried and ran into the hospital building.

Yiyao heard the sound of the helicopter and came to the rooftop with Azure Dragon.

When the helicopter landed, she looked in the direction of Sky City and stepped up the ladder.

"Yiyao -" came Jingyan's voice in the huge wind. Yiyao looked back, Jingyan running to her way.

Yiyao gestured to the people inside and returned to the platform. Jingyan held onto her tightly as soon as she came up, with a strong reluctance to let her go.

"Is your wound better now? Have you brought enough medicine?" Jingyan closed to her ear.

Yiyao's body was a little stiff, nodding and saying, "Yes."

"Be safe, I'll wait for you here." Jingyan held her face and engraved her in his heart with his eyes.

"You..." Before Yiyao could finish her words, her lips were blocked by Jingyan's lips. He didn't want to hear what she said "you don't need to wait for me" etc.

The kiss was full of bitterness and deep affection, which was telling his endless reluctance and love in his heart.

"Don't say anything," Jingyan released her and stroked her face with his fingers, "When you forgive me, come back to me. No matter how long, as long as you look back, I'll be here waiting for you."

Yiyao's heart trembled in the wind. An impulse came up and she nodded, "I'm going." Maybe she would break through the tangle in her heart and forgive him when she came back this time.

"Take care of yourself." Jingyan helped with fixing her short hair, which was disturbed by the wind, but just after it was fixed, it was disturbed by the wind again.

"I'm going." Yiyao turned around and walked to the helicopter without looking back. Her companion soldiers were still waiting for her. Staying for more moments would mean that their lives were put into more danger.

Jingyan watched her leaving. The propeller blew up the wind and made waves, but he stood still in the wind.

She left, taking away his last tenderness.

However, he did not know whether she would come back or not. At this time, he only hoped that she could be safe.

Returning to Ye's villa in the evening, Jingyan was tired and threw himself on the sofa. His mind was full of Yiyao. He wondered where she was now and whether she had been dedicating to a fierce battle.

Chuxue Ye came over as gnawing an apple. Seeing his listlessness with no trace of vitality, she squatted in front of him and asked concerned, "What's the matter with you?"

Jingyan turned his head to look at her smiling face and said in a low voice, "Why do some people live a simple and warm life, while some people have to fight hard in a barrage of bullets?"

Chuxue didn't know what to say. She sat on the carpet and stretched her chin, "Yiyao is gone?"

It was a long time before Jingyan said "yes".

"No wonder you seem losing your soul. Yiyao is a soldier. She has her own pursuit and belief, which is not something that people like us can understand. That's why I like her so much. I think she is different from all women. She is like a female general who goes to battle to kill enemies in ancient times, while we are just ordinary people." There was admiration in her tone.

Looking at the crystal ceiling over his head, Jingyan sighed, "If she had not been a soldier, she should have grown up healthy and happy like you. Then, she wouldn't have to bear so many responsibilities?"

Jingyan didn't understand why she wanted to be a soldier. If he knew why, he might feel more painful.

"Well, don't think about it. You still have one important thing unfinished now." Chuxue reminded him.

"What?" Jingyan's brain was dull. All he thought about was Yiyao, no time for him to think about anything else.

Chuxue pointed to the third floor, "You forget that? There's another one for you to deal with, come on, you can't drag on the issue any longer."

Oh right, Xuan Zhao was upstairs.

“You are being very decisive in the press conference today. All the female employees in our store become your fans.” Chuxue said with a smile.

Jingyan smiled bitterly. That was not the result he wanted.

Taking a breath, he went upstairs to negotiate with Xuan, which was a matter that should be done a long time ago. When he reached the door of the guest room, he heard a voice coming from inside, as if she was talking on the phone.

Out of a gentleman’s courtesy, he stopped knocking at the door.

“You had been ignoring me for a while. It turns out that you are focusing on the president of Ye Group.

Xuan Zhao, you are good.” A familiar voice came from the phone.

“We used to be a couple, how can you talk so sarcastically to me?” Xuan said plaintively.

“I’m not being sarcastic. I just want to congratulate you on jumping to the high branch. Although the child is gone, the Ye family must pay you a large amount of compensation. In this case, it is much better than being with me, a little white-collar worker.” Her ex-boyfriend’s tone was full of sarcasm.

Xuan clenched a corner of the quilt. “If you are calling to make fun of me, you have achieved your goal.

Goodbye.”

Xuan’s heart startled, “What’s the matter?”

Her ex-boyfriend jokingly said, “I don’t understand. Since you had been with Ye long ago, why were you always calling for me? Just to sleep with me? Can’t Ye satisfy you?”

Xuan’s heart beat more and more disorderly. She was afraid that he might suspect something. She said in a hurry, “I was just playing with you. Don’t call me again. We’ve already broken up.

Goodbye.”

With that, Xuan immediately hung up.

Chapter 334 I'm not Serious

Xuan Zhao understands the character of her ex-boyfriend more or less, although he earns little money, but he's a good man. If he knew that she's pregnant with his child, and she had lost the baby, he would certainly come to question her. At that time, the cat would be out of the bag.

At the doorway, Jingyan heard what she had said, he doubted, who was she talking to?

What did she mean by just for fun?

Usually, having fun means get laid

But he asked someone to investigate Xuan Zhao's background, she didn't have other mates other than an ex-boyfriend.

Could it be that he thought too much?

As he was wondering, the door was suddenly pulled open from the inside, Xuan Zhao was so shock to see him standing here that even her face went pale.

"You why are you standing here?" Xuan Zhao stammered and asked.

Jingyan observed her expression and said in an indifferent voice, "I came to talk about what I said yesterday."

Xuan Zhao tried to calm down and recalled what she had just said quickly, and she thought that she didn't say critical information, so she let out a sigh of relief secretly, "Where?"

Xuan Zhao changed her attitude, “Right, tomorrow, call your lawyer, you don’t want to delay this matter any longer, right? After the talk, we can hand over formalities directly.”

The suspicion in Jingyan’s heart grew, “Why are you in such a hurry?”

Xuan Zhao smiled coldly, “Now I have lost my baby, can I continue to stay at Ye family so brazenly? You all dislike me long ago, why should I still live under your roof.”

Jingyan turned around and went downstairs. Xuan Zhao leaned against the wall and took a deep breath.

She must win the largest compensation since she didn’t have the baby to force him, and the sooner the better, because the truth would finally see the light of the day. Once she signed the contract and grabbed the share and money, Jingyan couldn’t do anything to her, and she felt she had done enough for her baby.

At dinner, Kerry and Venus came back, both in low spirits.

“Mom, what’s wrong?” Chuxue Ye asked worriedly.

Venus sighed and said, “The old man of Xiao family, he’s not in a good condition again, you can visit him tomorrow when you’re free, maybe it’s the last time.”

Venus was sad and helpless, “When you’re old and the time comes, you are just hanging on to life with medicine.”

Kerry patted the back of her hand and said, “You’ve been depressed for so long, everyone has to experience this day, you can see that since how many emperors and generals at ancient times, how many celebrities and aspirants returned to the dust.”

Kerry shuffled away and asked his son who was also depressed, “What’s wrong with you, you’re sullen.”

“Oh, nothing.” Jingyan poked at his bowl and spoke feebly.

“Not well, but she had an urgent mission and left.”

Kerry said after a moment of silence, "Compared to this girl, we are all considered to be living a happy life."

When Jingyan heard this, he felt even more uncomfortable, he put down his chopsticks and said, "I don't have an appetite, I don't want to eat."

"I don't have an appetite either," said Venus, who also put down her chopsticks.

"I see that everyone is not much in the mood to eat tonight, so why not" At this moment, his cell phone rang, it was Tianye Mu who's calling, Kerry has a bad feeling in his heart, he picked up the phone.

"Hey, brother okay, we'll come over right now."

Hang up the phone, Kerry said anxiously, "Hurry up, the old man... maybe it's tonight."

After he finished speaking, strength left Venus that she even couldn't stand up, Kerry held her up quickly,

"Be strong, you have to comfort sister-in-law later."

Venus was on the verge of tears, "I know, I know"

Henry drove a slightly larger SUV for the family, Jingyan sat on the passenger's seat, Kerry hugged his wife who was weeping silently, next to Chuxue who was also red-eyed.

Kerry and Venus have no elder relatives, so they treat the old man and lady of Xiao family as their biological parents, the two elders also love their children, especially Chuxue as the only girl in their family.

Jingyan looked at the dim road, his heart was in turmoil, he was worried about the old man, worried about Yiyao, and also planned to have someone investigate Xuan Zhao's ex-boyfriend again.

When he came to the manor of the Mu family, the lights were all on, the old man was still holding his breath, and when he saw them coming, his eyes showed a little glow, Chuxue went up and held his withered hand, tears rolling down her face.

"Grandpa." Chuxue cried out.

The old man murmured several times, but they couldn't hear clearly what he said. Then his hand fell off from Chuxue's hands, he's gone.

Xiran Xiao cried out loud in a second, kneeling in front of the bed, she felt her heart had broken, other people all knelt down, they couldn't help but cry.

The old lady was calm, she murmured while holding the old man's hand, "It's good that you're gone, you don't have to suffer anymore, old man, remember to wait for me over there, don't forget me

All of them were crying into tears due to sadness, even Kerry, who seldom cried, also shed his tears.

Because the old man has told them not to make a big deal of his funeral, just sent him away simply, so the next few days, the Mu and Ye families were busy for the old man's funeral.

It took three days after the condolences, funeral, burial, and so on. Xiran Xiao has been downed for these days, Venus accompanied her every step of the way, she handed Xiran tissues when she was crying, let Xiran have a rest against her when she was tired due to crying. It was not until she saw the blackened tombstone with her father's name engraved on it that she finally realized her father had really left her and her mother.

At first Xuan Zhao didn't know what had happened, she was wondering why the Ye family didn't come home for several days, only when she saw the news did she know Xiran's father had died. It seemed that they would have to delay to sign contract of money and shares for a few more days again.

This afternoon, the SUV carried the family back, Xuan Zhao was acute enough to serve them tea and water, she also comforted Venus, "Auntie, don't be too sad."

Venus leaned on the sofa depressingly, then it suddenly occurred to her that Xuan Zhao had been living at their home for these days, she forced a smile and said, "I've been too busy these days, are you doing well?"

"I'm fine," Xuan Zhao said in a good manner, "Tomorrow, I only have the last course of treatment to go."

She really didn't need to give Venus the impression of reverse without warning, every dog has its day, it is possible that one day, she would come to the Ye family again. It couldn't be wrong to impress Venus.

Venus thanked her wearily, "That's good, you can stay in our family for a few more days after the transfusion, and then recuperate, the consequence of a confinement can be very damaging."

"No need," Xuan Zhao refused her kindness, "I have disturbed you for too long, it's time to go back."

"Then you choose for yourself." Venus wasn't in a mood to settle her down, she rubbed her forehead and said, "I'm going to take a nap."

“I’ll go with you.” Kerry accompanied his wife, he was so tired these days. Chuxue was like a couch potato now, her purple eyes lost the luster, she looked at the chandelier and wondered what was going on. Jingyan got up and said, “I have important things to do tomorrow, I’ll call my lawyer the day after tomorrow.” “Okay.” Although she couldn’t wait to do it today, it was obviously not the right time. Jingyan nodded and kicked Chuxue’s leg as he passed by, “Go sleep in your room, it’s easy to catch a cold here.”

Chuxue casted a glance at him, she saw Xuan Zhao just as she wanted to use her superpowers to transfer to her bedroom, so she dismissed the idea instantly and reached out to her brother and said, “Give me a hand.” Jingyan dragged her up, and the two were like rotten beggars holding each other as they walked toward the stairs.

Everyone was exhausted during these days, they could only sleep until two or three o’clock in the morning, so they were extremely lack of sleep that as soon as they fell into bed, they passed out.

However, just as Jingyan was sleeping, Yiyao Duan led her comrades go through the tropical rainforest at the border of China and Myanmar.

“Captain, the Mekong River is ahead, we need to find a shoal to cross.” Azure Dragon said as he crept next to her.

Yiyao tightened the bandage on her arm and said, “It’s too late, Zhuque and Xuanwu are seriously injured and they can’t walk far, those guys behind us are chasing closely, if there is no other way, we can only fight them here.”

“Good.” A murderous desire flashed in Azure Dragon’s eyes.

“Have you made contact with the troops?” Yiyao asked him.

“Two signal flares were released, but the forest is so deep and woods are dense, I don’t know if they can see it or not.”

Yiyao spit blood in her mouth, “Shit, I want to let them a way out, yet they have to seek for death, do they think we are cowards? Brothers, prepare for the battle.”

“Yes, captain.”

“Zhuque, Xuanwu, don’t be reckless, hide yourself and don’t to be discovered by the enemy, then your task is completed.” Yiyao said while loading bullets into the gun. Zhuque and Xuanwu were full of injuries, although they were reluctant, they knew that they couldn’t trouble their captain at this time, so they gritted their teeth and said, “We understand.” “Everyone, spread out. Listen to my order, wait for our enemies to get closer before making a move, and don’t show any mercy.” “Roger that.”

Originally, Yiyao planned to save her comrades and then retreat quickly, she didn’t want to cross into fire, but the enemy chased after them as if they had taken several tons of gold from them. Since this was the case, they shouldn’t be blamed for being ruthless.

Soon, more than a dozen people disappeared in the dense woods quietly, even the sound of the wind has stopped.

A few minutes later, they heard the leaves were shaking gently. Yiyao hidden in a large tree, keeping her eyes and ears open, finally, dozens of people appeared in her sight, all carried heavy machine guns in their hands. At the front of the group was the guide who followed Yiyao and her squad closely with his accumulated experience in the tropical rainforest.

Yiyao was fully concentrated on their moves and waited for them to walk into their ambush little by little, and then she made a sound like birds.

Immediately afterwards, incessant screams were heard in the woods, and when they looked back, their companions were either having their throats slit or their hearts pierced, but the killers were nowhere to be seen, so they were lost and panicked.

Getting the hardest part done first, Yiyao aimed at one of the leaders and pulled the trigger without hesitation, and with a bang, the leader fell to the ground with a gunshot in his forehead. Although they were mercenaries, they were ranked in different level, but Yiyao had brought all the elite soldiers, with her order, more than thirty people fell down on the ground in a second. When the battle was over, Yiyao jumped down from the tree, and all hidden comrades also showed up.

Azure Dragon said disdainfully, “I thought they were so strong, they’ve been chasing us for two days, if I knew they were such a trash I should have solved them yesterday.”

“We’re not prophet, we can’t do the math.” Yiyao said to him, “Alright, let’s go, find a wide area and send another flare, Zhuque and Xuanwu are too badly injured, we couldn’t delay any longer.”

“Okay.”

When Yiyao just turned around, she saw at the corner of her eyes that a black metal light was flashing, when she fixed her eyes, the man’s fingers have hooked on the ring “Get down!” Yiyao shouted, then without thinking, she rushed to press Azure Dragon who was the closest to the grenade under her body

“Boom!” A huge explosion blew their ears, and it felt like the entire rainforest was trembling.

Two minutes later, everyone woke up from a brief coma, Azure Dragon rolled over to see that Yiyao closed her eyes tightly, and her ears were bleeding.

“Captain, Captain.” Azure Dragon shouted anxiously, several awakened comrades all gathered around,

“Captain!”

Yiyao was awake by Azure Dragon’s shaking, she opened her eyes dazedly to see several mud-covered faces opened and closed their mouths one after another, however, she could only hear booming sound.

It should be her eardrums were broken, Yiyao thought to herself, then opened her mouth to say, “I’m fine”, and passed out again.

She didn’t know how long she had slept, but when Yiyao woke up again, she was in a hospital and she couldn’t hear anything.

Azure Dragon came closer to her excitedly and said something, but Yiyao just couldn’t hear it.

Shit, am I a deaf from now on? She thought to herself.

As soon as Azure Dragon spoke, a bunch of men swarmed in from outside, all of them were her comrades, including Zhuque and Xuanwu, all of them were talking and chattering. Yiyao was in a daze, she suddenly felt that it’s better if she’s deaf. Noisy.

Azure Dragon took out his cell phone and typed a few words, then held his phone in front of her eyes.

Yiyao glanced at it and it said, “The doctor said you just can’t hear for a while, you will be fine in a few

Azure Dragon wrote a few more words for her to read, “Captain, are you feeling well?”

Yiyao nodded her head.

When Azure Dragon saw her tiring face, he waved at brothers and said, “Okay, okay, go out, Captain wants to rest.”

The ward was empty again, only leaving Azure Dragon alone.

Yiyao turned her head and looked out the window, there was a cherry tree outside, the cherry blossoms were in full bloom at this time, it was very beautiful.
