Chapter 2241

“Did it bite?”

“No.” Francesca was very sure, “the little green snake just flew over, and I stopped...”

“Are you sure it didn’t bite?” Layla patted her heart, “That Gerard has no response?”

“He muttered a few words to his daughter, but I couldn’t hear what he said clearly.” Francesca frowned and said, “But I’m sure the little green snake didn’t bite him, otherwise, he would have collapsed a long time ago, can he walk out alive?”

“That’s true...” Layla breathed a sigh of relief.

“I can’t tell.” William frowned, “Would the biochemical poison refined by Mr.Lindberg cause some genetic changes to the little green snake, causing its poison buffer to explode?”

Francesca thought about it too. It’s possible, before she went out, Sloan reminded her that the little green snake had been soaked in poison, and the poison was even stronger... So, if there was a buffer, it was not impossible.

Moreover, the little green snake was too, and the teeth marks were to be seen. At that time, Gerard had been covering his neck, and she couldn’t be sure that the little green really didn’t bite it.

Thinking of this, Francesca hastily ordered maid: “Go and call Sloan.”

“Yes!” The maid was about to call Sloan, when a follower hurriedly came to report, “Ms.Felch, there are many people coming outside with police. The police, they said they wanted you to come over and assist in the investigation.”

“What?” Francesca was very surprised, “What to assist in the investigation?”

“Ms.Felch...”

Just as she was talking, Sloan hurried over and said anxiously, “I just got the news that Gerard died.”

“What?”

Francesca was stunned, her eyes almost fell out.

Layla was also dumbfounded.

As for William, he was stunned for a moment, and then his face immediately became gloomy, with extremely complicated eyes...

"What happened today?" Sloan asked anxiously, "The police said that Hazel reported that you killed Gerard." The Supreme Police Department will directly intervene in the investigation."

"Me??" Francesca was completely stunned, and suddenly felt a strong sense of foreboding in her heart, as if, as if... all of this was arranged.

"Sloan, there is a question, you have to remember." At this time, William suddenly said solemnly, "Mr.Lindberg said before that the poison of the little green snake is very strong. It will happen immediately, and the other party won't live for half an hour."

"Huh?" Sloan looked at him in a daze, "Mr.Lindberg never said..."

"Listen to him." Layla hurriedly interrupted Sloan, and anxiously told him, "Whether you've said it or not, you'll assume that's what you said."

Sloan suddenly understood, and nodded belatedly: "Yes!"

"Don't worry about other things, go out and stop those people." William ordered, "Tell them that no one is allowed to enter the castle until Mr.Lindberg comes back. If there is anything to do, wait until he comes back."

"Yes." Sloan immediately complied.

"Everyone else back down." Layla ordered.

The Maids bowed their heads in salute, and hurriedly retreated.

Monica couldn't wait to ask: "Your Highness, as expected, today's meeting is a trap."

"Who is trying to harm Francesca?" Layla asked anxiously.

"If I'm not wrong, I should have asked her out to meet." William looked deeply at Francesca, "President's wife!"

"..."

Francesca was startled, her face full of astonishment, "Why? I have no grievances with her. Why did she kill me?"

"It should be related to her daughter. We are still investigating the specific reason." William frowned very calmly, "She has hurt you many times, You dodge me every time, but this time... oh..."

Mistaking a Magnate for a Male Escort chapter 2242

Chapter 2242

William sighed deeply, which showed that he was not optimistic about the current situation.

“Is the president’s wife doing this to help the three major families to the top?” Layla asked suspiciously, “If it’s for the children’s personal relationship, it won’t be so.”

Francesca once told her that the president’s daughter, Diana, likes to be cold. The matter of Danrique also mentioned the current situation of Diana.

But Layla felt that, as the president’s wife, she should not take revenge on Francesca for such a thing.

Danrique’s life and death were still uncertain, if he came back alive and learned the truth, he would definitely not let the President’s wife go.

“Maybe there are various reasons.” William looked serious, “But at present, it seems that she is the one behind the scenes. She deliberately invited Francesca out to meet the Atkinson family’s father and daughter, deliberately walked away, and created space for them. It was expected that they would clash, and that Francesca’s violent temper would definitely fight back. As long as Francesca fights back, Gerard can die, and once he dies, Francesca will become the biggest suspect...”

“This trick is too powerful.” Monica couldn’t help but sigh, “Next, are they going to arrest Ms.Felch and put her in jail? But I don’t think they have the courage, this is Lindberg’s house after all, even if Mr. Lindberg is not here, the Lindberg’s house status is also here, so they dare not be so arrogant.”

“Exactly.” Layla rarely agreed with Monica’s words, “What’s more, Danrique is not dead yet, maybe he will be back in a few days.”

“Maybe.. They don’t you want him to come back?” William said suddenly, and the atmosphere in the room froze immediately.

The three women all looked at him in astonishment.

“If Mr.Lindberg doesn’t come back, then the president can support an obedient puppet again, so Lindberg’s will be used by him.” William’s lips curled up in a mocking arc, as if he was used to these things.

“If Mr.Lindberg is already dead, then getting rid of Francesca is the top priority. If Mr.Lindberg is not dead, then getting rid of Francesca now is forcing him to show up, once he shows up, there will be countless crises waiting for him.”

“So this is their purpose.” Francesca couldn’t help but gasped, “I said, why does a majestic president’s wife use such vicious tricks to murder me again and again? “

“Does the president care if the president’s wife does these things?” Monica asked.

Layla had seen through everything, “He is calm, and the virtuous wife has already taken the power he wants into the palm of his hand. If something happens, his wife will take it. He doesn’t know anything. If it becomes, he is the biggest beneficiary.”

“Everything was premeditated.” William laughed mockingly, “From the first time the President When Mr. Lindberg and the three major families were entertained, the preparations had already been made.

If Mr. Lindberg did not bring Francesca to the stage that night, but accepted the president’s daughter and became the president’s son-in-law in the future, then they will be a family in the future. One family, naturally, it is a community of interests. However, they never imagined that Mr. Lindberg would bring Francesca to the appointment, publicly introduce her identity, and directly reject the president’s ‘kindness’...”

“What is the difference between this and Adams?” Francesca was filled with righteous indignation, “Those who follow me prosper and those who oppose me perish!”

“Well, that’s how the world of power is.” William sighed with a wry smile, “Flesh and blood relatives can kill each other, let alone Mr. Lindberg has nothing to do with them...”

“Actually, the problem in M Nation has existed for a long time, right?” Layla asked, “Why did it explode at this time? Could it be related to the president?”

“It should be waiting for an opportunity.” William was very objective, “Maybe sooner I realized that there would be a problem at this time, so I started to lay the groundwork, and took this opportunity to uproot the Lindberg family and take it as my own!”

Chapter 2243

“So...” Francesca suddenly remembered something, “Hazel is just a pawn of theirs?”

“She should be really innocent.” William said seriously, “If it’s just for love, she doesn’t need to lose her father’s life. If I’m right, she was a pawn used by others from the beginning to the end. The previous scandals may not have been her intention at all. It may be that the president’s wife instigated Gerard to do so, and then helped to fuel the flames. The purpose is to use Hazel to deceive people and make everyone think that Hazel wants to marry into the Lindberg family. So many things have happened. In fact, the real manipulator behind the scenes is the president's wife. In short, it is already obvious that the real beneficiary is the mastermind behind the scenes!!"

Everything has been explained...

Now Francesca suddenly remembered what Hazel once said to her-

"Actually, it's good to be a free doctor. There is really no need to participate in such a complicated political struggle..."

Maybe, Hazel started from the very beginning. She knew how deep the water was, and had warned her many times to stay away, but she couldn't listen to it at all.

"Hazel is a smart person, otherwise they would not reuse her." William seemed to see through Francesca's mind, "However, even if she has seen through many things, she cannot avoid her hostility towards you. After all, her father is real. Now, she will only resent you even more, even if she knows that there are people behind this, she can't let go of you."

Hearing these words, Francesca fell silent.

"It seems that we are already riding a tiger." Layla frowned, "Now I hope that Danrique can return safely before they capture Francesca."

"It's very difficult." William was not optimistic, "Since this matter The president's wife is behind the scenes, so someone will come to arrest Francesca very soon, and now the Lindberg family doesn't even have a single person sitting in town, so they won't have any fear."

"Arrest?" Layla's face changed drastically, and she was about to speak, Sloan hurried in and reported, "Ms. Felch, the incident of Gerard's poisoned death has hit the headlines of the international news, and now everyone knows it. The highest police station directly issued an ultimatum. They're about to break in..."

"That's unreasonable." Layla cursed angrily, "These ba*tards are relying on someone to back them up, right?"

"On the news?" Francesca was unusually calm, "What news?"

"All major media outlets around the world have spread the word." Sloan handed the tablet to Francesca, "You have covered up your true identity, and only named Mr. Lindberg's fiancée as the poisoner..."

Francesca opened it, Sure enough, all the news did not mention the identity of her, only said that Danrique was missing and there was no news of it, and his fiancée, Ms. Felch, poisoned Gerard, one of the three major families!

Danrique seldom showed up in public, and rarely went to the media, but he had a special status, and any news about him was always easy to spread quickly...

This time, it spread all over the world in an instant.

Now, the fiancée of Mr. Lindberg in legend, Ms. Felch, had become a mysterious vicious woman, and the global media were speculating about her true identity.

Some people analyzed that she poisoned Hazel's father because she was jealous of Hazel, while others speculated that it was related to Danrique's disappearance.

In short, the influence of public opinion on this matter was very large.

Many people emphasized that the emperor committed the same crime as the common people in breaking the law, and that the crime of murder was heinous. They demanded a thorough investigation of the truth and severe punishment for the murderer.

Some people even held a poll on the Internet, and hundreds of millions of netizens supported the severe punishment of Francesca.

Seeing these news, Layla was so angry that she wanted to curse: "This is obviously premeditated. It has only been more than six hours since we met in the afternoon. Even if the person is dead, it is impossible to go to the media so quickly. Will it cause such a big public opinion so quickly?"

Mistaking a Magnate for a Male Escort chapter 2244

Chapter 2244

"Everything is ready..." Francesca has already understood, "But why did they hide my identity?"

"It should be in consideration that you have rescued many people, including some big shots. If these people know that you are trapped in Erihal, they may take action. In order to avoid trouble, they concealed your identity."

William speculated Said, "So thoughtful, it is indeed premeditated."

"What should we do now?" Monica asked anxiously, "They won't break in to arrest people, right?"

"Ms. Felch, Sloan, people from the military department are here!"

"What?" Sloan's face changed drastically, "The military department actually came out in person, it seems that this time it's for real."

“Francesca, hurry up, take the backpack, let’s move out.” Layla hurriedly urged Francesca.

“yes, I’ll go clean up too.” Monica immediately stood up.

“It won’t work.” Francesca was very calm, “The military department has personally come to arrest people, how can they escape? Even if they escape from the castle, they cannot escape from Xendale...”

“That’s right.” William nodded, “There was no crime in the first place, but leaving now has turned into absconding in fear of crime, and Erihal can blatantly issue a warrant to hunt her down.”

“Then what should I do?” Layla asked anxiously, “Are they allowed to take her away?”

William didn’t speak, but looked at Francesca complicatedly.

“Since it has alarmed the highest police station and the military department, it’s okay not to follow.” Francesca said calmly, “I forgive them for not daring to do anything to me, the worst thing is to lock them up for a few days.”

“Yes.” William nodded, “It’s safer to have people in their hands.”

“But have you ever thought about it? Why did they make such a big fight? Isn’t it to lure Danrique out?” Layla was anxious, “Maybe he is injured now and is avoiding pursuit. He could have waited until he recovered from his injuries before coming out. Turn the situation around, if at this time, if he sees the news of your arrest, will he still be able to hold his breath?”

“But, if they arrest me, I will be convicted.” Francesca was very entangled, “When the time comes, they will be arrested.” If I spread it to the outside world, saying that I was ordered by Danrique to poison Gerard, wouldn’t that also add to his troubles?”

“That’s true...” Layla frowned, “Maybe this matter is a trigger, If they run away, they will have a hundred charges on Danrique, and he can’t even go back to Erihal.”

“It’s impossible to escape, so what should we do?” Monica was burning with anxiety.

“I can’t escape.” Francesca quickly made a decision, “Since they came according to the normal procedures, they will have to go through trial and investigation. At least in this part, they dare not do anything to me, but...”

Francesca looked out of the window, feeling a little uneasy, “I’m not here, will those ba*tards come in and steal the seal? I have to find some bodyguards...”

“Ms.Felch, just leave us alone at this time, protect yourself first Let’s go.” Sloan said distressedly, “I’ve already asked someone to contact Gordon, and we’ll find a way when he comes back.”

“He’s looking for Danrique, don’t bother him.” Francesca replied, and left in a hurry.

“Ms.Felch, where are you going? Ms.Felch...” Sloan hurriedly followed.

Layla also hurriedly chased them out.

“Your Highness.” Monica asked in a low voice, “Should we leave here first? Anyway, this matter has nothing to do with us. The military and the highest police station should not embarrass us...”

“Leaving at this time, do you want to get into trouble?” Am I wrong?” William frowned and looked at Monica, “Francesca has saved me so many times, how can I stay out of it at this critical moment?”

“But you can’t do anything now.” Monica was anxious, “You will be implicated if you stay. If something happens to you, what will happen to Robin and the people in the castle?”

Mistaking a Magnate for a Male Escort chapter 2245

Chapter 2245

William: “Stop it.”

“Okay.” Monica quickly lowered her head, not daring to say any more.

“Give me your cell phone.”

Monica quickly handed William’s cell phone to him, and he dialed Robin’s number: “Find a team of lawyers who are familiar with the laws of Erihal. Also, come over as soon as possible.”

“Yes, Your Highness “

Robin read the news and knew that Francesca had an accident, and also knew that his master would contact him, so he had already made preparations.

After hanging up the phone, William told Monica: “Find a way to arrange for me to meet Hazel.”

“Yes, Your Highness.” Although Monica didn’t want William to intervene at this time, since he had already made a decision, she would give full support.

“One more thing...” William wanted to order something, when there was a sudden hawk chirping outside.

He subconsciously turned his head to look, and saw a few eagles flying past the window, and then, a group of beasts galloped towards the front hall one after another...

Monica was dumbfounded, she had never seen such a scene before, and she panicked: “Could it be that the beasts in the beast training ground were frightened and ran out?”

Francesca stood at the entrance of the main hall, spread her arms, and summoned all the birds and beasts in the beast training ground.

The eagles soaring in mid-air and the galloping beasts all obeyed her orders.

Not far away, all the convoys that just drove in slammed on the brakes.

There were the police cars of the highest police station, the military vehicles of the military department, and the cars of the three major families...

In the car, the group of senior police officers and military officers were stunned in shock when they saw this scene!

Hazel, Harrier, and Kevin were also shocked.

“What’s going on here? Well, this girl can still do acrobatics?”

Kevin was so excited that he couldn’t speak incoherently.

“I heard that she can summon wild beasts before, and I thought it was unbelievable, but I didn’t expect it to be true.” Harrier narrowed his eyes and looked out of the window complicatedly.

“No matter how powerful she is, if she kills my father, she will pay with her life.” Hazel stared at Francesca with hatred, and clenched her hands into fists.

If she had a kind of hostility towards Francesca before, then now, she had more hatred.

“Summon the beast?” Kevin was terrified, “This is a skill I’ve seen in movies, but does it really exist in reality?”

“The world is so big, there are so many wonders.” Harrier looked very calm, “If she is not different How can Danrique have a soft spot for her?”

Kevin was even more uneasy, “This girl is so powerful, can we hold her back?”

“With the presence of the military headquarters and the highest police station, Can she still escape?” Hazel said angrily, “It’s only natural to pay debts and kill people.”

Then, she got out of the car and urged the convoy behind to move forward...

At this moment, Francesca waved her arms, Ordered to the beasts: “When I’m not around, protect the castle for me, and don’t allow any outsiders to break in!”

The beasts nodded one after another, like a special army.

Francesca waved her hand, and the beasts stepped aside immediately.

At this moment, the convoy drove over, and the group got out of the car cautiously. People from the military and police stations all took guns and looked at Francesca defensively and fearfully.

Francesca stood at the door, with a group of eagles hovering above her head, and a group of tigers, lions, leopards and other wild animals were guarding her, all of them stared at the people in front of them with cold eyes.

It seems to say: Whoever dares to touch my goddess, I will tear him to pieces immediately!

This situation made everyone tremble with fear, several policemen trembled in fright, and Kevin got into the car directly and did not dare to come out.

Mistaking a Magnate for a Male Escort chapter 2246

Chapter 2246

Harrier stood behind the crowd, watching silently without saying a word.

A group of people were more than ten meters away, not daring to approach, and all their subordinates pointed their guns at the group of beasts, fully on guard, not daring to neglect the slightest.

Even so, they were still panicked, for fear that wild beasts would rush over and tear them into pieces.

Finally, it was the people from the military who spoke up: “Ms.Felch, you are involved in a murder case, please come with us and assist in the investigation.”

“To be clear, what murder case is involved?” Francesca asked coldly.

“Gerard died of poisoning after meeting you. We have verified that you injured him with a poisonous snake, so...”

“Please be careful with your words.” Francesca interrupted the man and said coldly, “At that time, the poisonous snake in my hand did fly to his neck, but before it could bite him, I summoned it back. His death has nothing to do with me.”

Hazel shouted excitedly, “At that time, my father kept covering his neck, and said that his neck was cold and numb. Your poisonous snake must have bitten him. And nothing happened on our way back. He died of poisoning just after returning.”

“I was the one who killed him when I met him? Then is it also my responsibility that you die in the future?” Francesca replied unceremoniously.

“You...” Hazel turned pale with anger.

At this time, William made a show, and Monica immediately pushed Sloan.

Sloan reacted, and hurriedly said: “Miss Hazel, I think you made a mistake. That little green snake was raised by my Boss. It was soaked in biochemical potions and grew up. It is very poisonous. If it really bites Mr. Atkinson, Mr. Atkinson will die of poison immediately, and he will not wait to go back.”

“You all heard it.” Hazel was even more excited when she heard it, “Francesca knew that the snake was very poisonous, and let it bite my father, it can be seen that she wants to kill my father at all.”

Francesca: “No, I mean...”

“Francesca, you killed my father, I will kill you.” Hazel took the gun and wanted to kill Francesca.

Suddenly, a tiger roared at her, with an “ow”, Hazel was so frightened that she almost fell to the ground...

“I repeat, I didn’t kill your father.” Francesca gave her a cold look, and asked again. “You should have an autopsy, right? What did the forensic doctor say?”

“The forensic doctor said that Mr. Atkinson died of snake venom.” A police officer said, “Ms. Felch, all the evidence points to you now, please come back with us to assist in the investigation.”

“Snake venom?” Francesca sneered mockingly, “It seems that it is really a trap that has been arranged long ago...”

“What do you mean?” Hazel asked subconsciously.

“Just to assist in the investigation, please cooperate.” The police officer made a “please” gesture to Francesca.

“my boss hasn’t come back yet, so no one can take Ms.Felch away.” Sloan immediately led someone to stop him.

“Don’t dares to stop us, and if you stop her in every possible way, we will have to arrest her by force.” An officer said seriously, “After all, we have also received the order from Mr. President and must carry out the task.”

Hearing this sentence Sloan and the others were stunned. It turned out that the president ordered it. No wonder these people were so persistent...

Francesca curled her lips into a smile, it seemed that the speculation of Layla and William was true.

Francesca said lightly: “Assist in the investigation, right? No problem, but when I’m not around, if someone breaks into Lindberg’s house and misbehaves, then my subordinates will not agree.”

Then, Francesca waved her hand, and the gang of wild beasts issued a roaring sound together.

The sound was deafening and earth-shattering, and they were so frightened that they turned ashen ashes and backed away again and again.

Mistaking a Magnate for a Male Escort chapter 2247

Chapter 2247

Francesca walked towards them step by step, but those people did not dare to catch her, but backed away in panic, backed away, and then retreat...

Until they retreated to the side of the car and there was no way to retreat, they had no choice but to bite the bullet and look at Francesca.

Every time Francesca took a step, the beasts around her followed closely.

Therefore, the police officers dared not touch her at all.

It wasn’t until Francesca waved her hand to signal them to leave that the top police officer took a deep breath, opened the car door tremblingly, and said “please”.

“Ms.Felch...” Sloan wanted to step forward to stop her.

Francesca gestured to him, and confessed: “Take care of the house and help me take care of auntie Layla.”

“Yes, Ms.Felch.” Sloan nodded sadly.

"I'm here waiting for you to come back." Layla looked at Francesca with red eyes.

"Yeah." Francesca nodded, and looked back at William, "William, your condition is basically stable, and you can leave at any time. These things have nothing to do with you, and they won't make things difficult for you."

Francesca turned her head and looked at the people from the military and police stations, "Is that right? Ladies and gentlemen?"

"Of course." The two leaders nodded repeatedly, "Prince William has nothing to do with this matter, and no one will make things difficult for him."

Francesca: "Then Okay..."

"The castle is so big, I really don't want to leave." William said suddenly, "Francesca, I will wait here for you and Mr. Lindberg to come back!"

"Okay." Francesca didn't think too much about it. He thought that William would have nowhere to go if he left here. After all, Danontand was watching him covetously. If he went out, he might be targeted by them, which would be dangerous. It's better to stay here, at least here, with the protection of the Lindberg family, it's safe for the time being.

"Ms. Felch, please." A police man urged again.

Francesca got into the car, and those wild beasts wanted to follow, she yelled: "Stand back."

The wild beasts hurriedly backed away, not daring to come any closer.

The police officers immediately followed, closed the door, and sped off in the car.

A few eagles flew over the car, escorting Francesca away.

The driver speeded up the car, and they also speeded up, and they couldn't get rid of it no matter what.

Several policemen were so frightened that they broke out in a cold sweat.

Francesca said lightly: "Don't worry, as long as I'm not in danger, they won't hurt anyone."

"Ms. Felch is serious, we dare not hurt you." The police officer hastily explained, "It's really just Please go back and assist in the investigation, we are also following orders."

"Whose order?" Francesca raised her eyebrows and asked.

The police officer seemed a little embarrassed and didn't dare to say more.

Francesca didn't say anything more, because the promise was in her attitude.

Apparently, Layla and William guessed it right. The president was behind all of this...

If it wasn't for the president's order, who would dare to touch the members of Lindberg's family?

However, they really dared not touch Francesca at the moment, because they had to use her to lure Danrique out.

The car drove out of the castle, and Layla watched the convoy leave, and it took a long time to look away.

Ever since the day Layla knew that Francesca was with Danrique, she had already anticipated this day, but unfortunately, she couldn't prevent it even though she had every precaution.

Layla thought she could help Francesca, but now she realized that when it came to the upper class forces, she had no way of doing anything.

At this time, maybe William could help...

Layla walked towards William: "Prince William, what can you do?"

This was the first time that Layla spoke politely to William and asked him.

"I have asked Robin to come here, and I have also invited a team of professional lawyers." William said with a smile, "Don't worry, I will definitely help Francesca."

"That's good, thank you." Layla was relieved, now, She's counting on him.
