

Mistaking a Magnate for a Male Escort chapter 2251

Chapter 2251

Unfortunately, her father was dull by nature. Instigated by Harrier, and instigated by the president's wife...

But no matter what, Danrique managed to keep her!

He also saved the Atkinson family!

The death of Gerard this time could at least allow him to settle the score and let the Atkinson family go!

Thinking of this, Hazel realized that Danrique had good intentions. He looked ruthless, but he actually had affection for everyone around him.

That's why so many people follow him to the death!

Even at critical moments, he would not ignore his subordinates, and his assistant was also within his protection.

So, Hazel suddenly thought of something, and hurriedly asked: "Does the master have other ways to protect Francesca?"

William: "What you have to do is to help Mr. Lindberg win this game."

"Okay, I'll listen to you." Hazel now completely trusted William, and she knew that at this time, William was absolutely determined to save Francesca and Danrique. Because the two of them were his talismans.

"That's good." William smiled, "Now I'm telling you, listen carefully..."

Hazel: "Yes."

Along the way, William taught Hazel how to deal with the next thing, couldn't help sighing: "Except for Mr. Lindberg, you are the most scheming person I have ever seen!"

William said lightly, "Now let's work together and help Mr. Lindberg and Francesca overcome difficulties together."

.....

Layla reported what happened tonight. She didn't go with her because she wanted to stay at home, but she told Sloan privately that she must tell her anything. Although she also felt that William now wanted to help Francesca and Danrique wholeheartedly, but she still wanted to check it out. After all, it was a matter of life and she had to guard against it.

Sloan explained what happened tonight in detail, including the conversation between William and Hazel in the car, and told Layla verbatim.

Those of them who have received special training have a pretty good memory.

After Layla heard it, she first praised: "William is really a smart man, he knew I would take precautions, so he simply turned on the speakerphone and let you listen together, it can be seen that he really wants to save Francesca and Danrique, and he has no two intentions. But at the same time, it also proves that this person's strategy is quite powerful. It can be said that if they are not under Danrique, it will be fine if they are friends all the time, but if he becomes Danrique's enemy in the future... the consequences will be unimaginable!!!"

"They shouldn't be enemies, right?" Sloan said weakly, "After all, there is no conflict of interest between them."

"That's true." Layla nodded, "The little competition in business is not for them. It's nothing, I'm just afraid..."

"What are you afraid of?" Sloan asked.

"I'm afraid that someone will be jealous that Danrique has such a powerful assistant, deliberately provoke and create conflicts." Layla murmured.

"The two of them are so powerful, so they shouldn't be provoked." Sloan always considered things simple, "And Mr.Lindberg and Ms.Felch have saved him many times, so he should be grateful."

"Okay, I can't explain this to you." Layla didn't say much anymore, "Anyway, it's important to be on guard against others. When I'm not here, you have to tell me everything, you know?"

"Yes." Sloan nodded again and again, "Although I'm stupid, I understand that you are Ms.Felch's closest relative, and if she's not here, you are the boss!"

"Hahaha..." Layla laughed, "You're not stupid either!"

Mistaking a Magnate for a Male Escort chapter 2252

Chapter 2252

The next day, everything went according to William's plan and Hazel directly held a press conference in Lindberg's.

She said that she would personally explain her father's poisoning to the media, and specially invited Kevin and Harrier to attend.

Everyone believed that she wanted to publicly accuse Francesca of her crimes.

After all, the news disseminated by the major media before was very one-sided, and no one involved has officially come forward so far. Now, Hazel, as the family member of the victim, held a press conference in person to respond to this issue head-on. Naturally, it was very sensational!

An hour before the start of the press conference, Hazel specially posted the news on social platforms, inviting everyone to watch the online live broadcast.

The president's wife also specially forwarded her news, because this press conference was hinted at by the president's wife before.

And this act of forwarding was also publicized by the media.

Now all public opinion was pointing at Francesca one-sidedly, almost everyone was waiting to see how he died.

Francesca also got the news in the detention center.

The case had not yet been concluded, so instead of putting her in prison, she was put in a detention center, with a single room for each person. Although it was simple, it was clean and convenient.

Today, the policewoman in the detention center specially brought a computer and asked her to watch the live news on time.

When Francesca learned that Hazel held a press conference, she also thought it was to accuse her of crimes, and she felt disdainful about it.

But at the same time, she was very worried. If Danrique saw the news and knew that she had been arrested, would he run back as soon as his brain got hot?

Then it counted.

At this time, in Lindberg's castle, Layla, William and others were also waiting to watch the live news.

At two o'clock in the afternoon, the live broadcast officially began.

Hazel came to the stage, first bowed to the media reporters below, thanked them for coming, and then said some words of mourning for her father, and then she began to talk about what happened that day...

At the same time, the presidential palace, the president's wife and Diana were also waiting to watch the live news.

Diana stared at the screen coldly, and asked: "Mommy, that stupid woman Hazel, wouldn't she say that you asked them out to meet?"

"No." The President's wife said confidently, "I have already told her before, never mention me, just say that Francesca herself asked the father and daughter to go out to meet."

"That's good." Diana sneered, "Hazel has no other advantages, but she is really obedient."

"Yes, these years, no matter what you do to her, she dare not resist." The president's wife sneered, "I had her father's body burned last night, and she didn't dare to ask more questions."

"Hey, that's how she is, a lowly sc*mbag like her, and she will be absolutely obedient if she has to be taught a lesson." Diana was a little proud, "But Mommy, since Francesca has already been arrested, why do you want to do so many things? Wouldn't it be enough to kill her? If she dies, Danrique will marry me?"

The eyes of the president's wife flickered a little, but she quickly found an excuse and said comfortingly: "You know Danrique is very smart, If he doesn't find a scapegoat, he must investigate the truth after he comes back, and if he finds out that I did all this, he will hate me."

"That's true." Diana nodded, "Then let Hazel be the scapegoat, She is the most suitable."

"That's right." The President's wife stroked Diana's hair, "Francesca will die soon, don't worry."

"Hmm..." Diana looked at the screen and laughed idiotically, "When she dies, Danrique will marry me, and I will marry him, and I will give him many, many babies... babies. "

Speaking of this word, Diana's eyes suddenly changed.

Mistaking a Magnate for a Male Escort chapter 2253

Chapter 2253

"Diana..." The President's wife hurriedly hugged her, and anxiously comforted her, "Don't think about it, you don't have a baby, you are still a little girl."

“No...” Diana hugged her head, said in pain, “I have a baby, she is so cute, she was killed...”

“No, no...” The President’s wife hurriedly comforted Diana, and shouted outside, “Someone come here, call the doctor, call the doctor!!!”

The maids immediately called the doctor, and the doctor gave Diana an injection, and Diana quickly fell into sleep quietly...

The President’s wife stroked her cheek and said distressedly: “Poor Diana, don’t be afraid, Mommy will avenge her grandson.”

“Ma’am, Hazel, she...”

At this moment, the assistant pointed at the screen and exclaimed loudly.

The President’s wife turned to look at the TV.

On the screen, Hazel narrated the incident in a tearful voice—

“The wife of the president invited me and my father to meet Ms.Felch. She left halfway, and my father had a conflict with Ms.Felch. The poisonous snake almost bit my father, but she recalled the snake in time.

My father didn’t feel any pain at that time, he was fine when we left, and the poisonous snake started two hours after we got home.

I will immediately send someone to notify the dedicated family doctor came, but the doctor didn’t arrive. When the doctor arrived, my father was gone.

I called the police right away, and after the forensic doctor examined the body, he said that my father had been poisoned by snake venom, so I immediately thought of Ms.Felch... But now I know that the doctor was controlled by someone at that time. He was half an hour late, and the forensic doctor was arranged by the president’s wife.

Last night I felt something was wrong and wanted to re-examine my father’s body, only to be told that my father’s body had been cremated!

There are many doubts about this matter, I don’t know who will uphold justice for me, but I hope to find out the truth, find out the real culprit, and comfort my father’s spirit in heaven!

“Miss Hazel, what do you mean, the person who really killed your father wasn’t the future Mrs. Lindberg?” Immediately a reporter asked, “Do you suspect someone else?”

"This requires the police to investigate." Hazel choked up and said, "I'm just telling the ins and outs of what happened today. I don't know who the murderer is."

"Hazel, what are you talking about?" Kevin stopped Hazel in a low voice, "You are clearly implying..."

Before he finished speaking, he was interrupted by Harrier.

Harrier took a deep look at Hazel, stood up and announced: "Everyone, because of her father's departure, Miss Hazel is overly sad and talking nonsense, please don't pay attention to what she just said." As Harrier spoke, he gestured to his subordinates, signaling them to cut off the live broadcast immediately and not let the matter spread.

But the more he did this, the more he seemed to hide it. All the reporters rushed over to take pictures of him and asked some tricky questions. ——

"Master Harrier, Miss Hazel is the one involved. She knows the truth of the matter best. Why do you say she is talking nonsense? Is it trying to cover up something for others?"

"Yes, are you covering up the truth for the President's wife?"

"Master Harrier, Miss Hazel didn't even say to terminate the press conference, why did you terminate it? Are you afraid of offending someone?"

"Young Master, I heard that you have been in close contact with the president's wife recently. Is this true?"

"Young Master, Mr. Lindberg is gone. Are you about to inherit his position? Do you really hope that he will not come back?"

"Master Harrier..."

"Shut up, everyone shut up." Harrier, who had always been calm, became annoyed after being questioned like this, and only now did he realize that the reporters who came today seemed very unfamiliar. It was deliberately arranged by someone.

Mistaking a Magnate for a Male Escort chapter 2254

Chapter 2254

Although some people were suppressing the news, because it was a live news broadcast, everything Hazel said before was spread through the camera.

The president's wife was so angry that she called Hazel, but the phone reminded her to turn off the phone.

She immediately called Harrier and questioned the situation: "What's going on? Why is Hazel crazy? He is talking nonsense in the live news?"

"Ma'am, I have already terminated the press conference, and I am also dealing with the ferment of public opinion." Harrier said in a low voice, "Don't worry, I will do a good job in dealing with the aftermath."

"This crazy woman." The President's wife was very angry, "Did she take the wrong medicine? You let her answer the phone."

"Wait a moment." Harrier came to the office next door and handed the phone to Hazel, "It's the president's wife."

Hazel answered the phone and said "Hello", and the excited roar of the president's wife came from the phone—

"Hazel, are you out of your mind? How dare you talk nonsense on the live news? Don't you know what the consequences will be?"

"Consequences?!" Hazel interrupted the president's wife coldly, "I am just stating the facts. What are the consequences?"

Hearing these words, the President's wife was stunned, and Hazel, who had always been submissive in front of her, actually spoke to her in this tone.

This attitude was a bit abnormal!

"Hazel, did someone tell you something?" The attitude of the President's wife suddenly softened, "They are trying to sow discord, you must not be fooled."

"Tricked? What? Tricked by whom?" Hazel asked back, "Why is our doctor controlled by someone? Who controlled him? Why did the forensic doctor who performed my father's autopsy suddenly disappear? There is no way to find him." To someone? Why was my father's body suddenly cremated last night? Who made the order?"

She asked so many questions in one breath, and Kevin next to her was dumbfounded.

Harrier's expression also changed drastically, he dismissed all his followers, and went to close the door of the office himself.

The president's wife on the other end of the phone was completely dumbfounded, and she didn't seem to expect that Hazel would ask these questions at this time.

Maybe the paper couldn't cover the fire, Might be the truth would always be revealed one day, but now... Wasn't it too much?

“Ma’am...” Hazel squinted her eyes and asked quietly, “Did my father really be bitten to death by Francesca’s poisonous snake? Or was he poisoned to death by you?”

Hearing these words, Kevin was so frightened that he almost fell off his chair.

“Hazel!!!” The President’s wife yelled angrily, “Are you crazy? How dare you question me? I don’t know who told you what. Let’s meet together, and I have nothing to do with anything that happens afterwards!!”

“Since it has nothing to do with you, why did you encourage me to hold a press conference? Why did you arrange forensics for my father? Why did you order my father’s cremation in advance? The remains?” Hazel asked excitedly.

“I don’t know what you’re talking about.” The President’s wife didn’t admit it at all. “What evidence do you have to prove that I did these things? I’m just an idler. I take care of my daughter every day. When I saw your father die, how much did I care?” If you say a word, you will charge me with an unwarranted crime...”

“You...”

“If you have evidence to prove that I have done something illegal, you can report me to the Ministry of Law, or you will be closed. Mouth, slandering the President’s wife, I think you are tired of working!!!”

The president’s wife put down harsh words and hung up the phone directly.

Holding the phone, Hazel was gnashing her teeth angrily. She had known for a long time that this woman would not admit it easily, but from this frantic attitude, it could be seen that the whole incident had something to do with her.

Mistaking a Magnate for a Male Escort chapter 2255

Chapter 2255

“Hazel, are you crazy?” Harrier also came to question Hazel, “This matter is clear, Clearly, it was Francesca who killed your father with a poisonous snake, so what does it have to do with the president’s wife? Who did you listen to and went crazy here?”

Hazel looked up at Harrier, “You were not there when the incident happened, and you didn’t deal with it afterwards. Do you understand the situation? Why do you decide that it has nothing to do with the president’s wife?”

“Why did she do this?” Harrier asked back.

“Yes, yes.” Kevin also echoed, “There is no reason why the President’s wife killed your father.”

“Why did she do this, I don’t need to say, you know better than me.” Hazel looked annoyed. Looking at them, she said, “Everyone is a sensible person, so don’t pretend to be confused here.”

“You...”

“You think that by forcing Mr. Lindberg to death and handing Lindbergs into the hands of the president, you can get more benefits. I see you that It’s yours just a daydream.” Hazel said angrily.

“Now that the president can use despicable means to kill Mr.Lindberg, he will be able to use the same means to kill us in the future! When the time comes, the Lindberg family will be completely included in the bag. We people, If you are used for playing, there is only one way to die!”

Hearing these words, Kevin’s face changed drastically, his eyes flustered.

“I think you have a brain problem.” Harrier ignored Hazel at all, “It’s all here Talking crazy is obviously caused by the jealousy between the two women, and the president and his wife must be involved.”

“Still pretending? Is it interesting?” Hazel didn’t want to talk to them anymore. “Of course, you think you are the biggest beneficiary. Anyway, the Lindberg family needs someone to take care of it. The Atkinson family collapsed, and Mr.Lindberg is gone, Uncle Yarrow can’t get on the stage, so you are the only one who is in charge, but can you really be in power? You’re just a puppet.”

“You...” Harrier wanted to say something, Hazel left straight away, and didn’t bother talking nonsense to them.

Harrier looked at her leaving back, his face was livid with anger, and he winked, beckoning his subordinates to follow.

His personal entourage immediately led people to follow Hazel.

Seeing this scene, Kevin’s expression was even more complicated, and he panicked.

“Uncle Yarrow!” Harrier patted Kevin’s shoulder and comforted him, “Don’t pay attention to that stinky girl’s words, she deliberately scares you. “

“No, what she said is very reasonable.” Kevin said anxiously, “Think about it, how powerful Danrique is, and the president and the others will kill us like this. If the president wants to kill us in the future, wouldn’t it be like crushing an ant to death? We have wasted so much effort to cooperate with him to take down Danrique, and when he controls Lindberg Corporation, will he cross the river and tear down the bridge and kick us away?”

“You think too much.” Harrier laughed, “The Lindberg Corporation is so big that someone needs to take care of it. We are the most familiar with the group’s business. How can we do it without us? Besides, even if the president really wants to control the Lindberg Corporation, it will be in secret to control, we need to be in charge on the surface, otherwise, what will the public say about them?”

“That’s true...” Kevin breathed a sigh of relief.

“Don’t think about it.” Harrier patted him on the shoulder, “I’m going to deal with the aftermath. If you find time, you should go to Lindberg’s house and get the seal.”

“How to get it?” Kevin was so frightened that his face turned green.

“Francesca set up a group of birds and beasts to look at the castle. My people will be eaten to the bone before they break in.”

“Think of a way!” Harrier put pressure on him directly, “I’ll leave this matter to you, I still have to deal with my wife, come on!”

After saying that, Harrier left in a hurry.

Mistaking a Magnate for a Male Escort chapter 2256

Chapter 2256

“Harrier, Harrier...” Kevin shouted a few times, but Harrier ignored him and left straight away. After going out, he said to several high-level officials, “Let’s ask Mr. Yarrow for the seal issue. He is in charge. I will handle the public opinion issue!”

It needed to be stamped before the project could start, otherwise hundreds of millions would be lost every day.

Kevin was put on fire by Harrier, so he had no choice but to bite the bullet and say that he would find a way to get the seal.

But after calming down, Kevin felt that something was wrong again. Harrier threw all the hot potato mess to him, and went to do some work to please the president and his wife. In the end, all the benefits belonged to Harrier. Not falling...

Just as he was thinking, his cell phone rang suddenly. It was Hazel calling, and he quickly answered, “Hello, Hazel...”

“Uncle Yarrow, save me.” Hazel yelled in horror.

“Ah? Hazel, what’s wrong with you? Hazel...” Before Kevin finished speaking, there was an explosion on the other end of the phone.

At the same time, the phone was cut off.

Kevin was stunned, and it took him a while to react. He immediately called Hazel, but he couldn't get through. He called Hazel's personal bodyguard, but still couldn't get through.

He immediately called Harrier, but Harrier's phone was busy all the time.

He immediately asked people to go to Atkinson's house to check the situation.

Half an hour later, the attendant called to report: "Mr. Yarrow, Miss Hazel's car just exploded on the viaduct..."

"What?" Kevin was stunned, "Where is that person?"

"The car exploded and fell into the river. The police are salvaging the body..."

"The body?" Kevin fell down on the sofa in fright.

In just seven days, the father and daughter of the Atkinson family disappeared like this.

If it is said that Emperor Lindberg's high position and power hindered the president from taking power, then what's wrong with the Atkinson family?

Gerard had always been obedient, and had no opinions. He had always been at the mercy of the president and his wife. In order to convict Francesca, they poisoned Gerard to death.

Now Hazel just discovered the truth, told the cause and effect in front of the media, and then questioned the president's wife a few times, and that's how he ended up.

In the future, if he accidentally did something that didn't follow the wishes of the couple, wouldn't he also be killed?

Now that Danrique's life and death were uncertain, Gerard was dead, and Hazel was also dead, could Kevin really be safe and sound?

The more Kevin thought about it, the more frightened he became, and the more he thought about it, the more panicked he became.

Soon, the news of Hazel's accident spread.

The major news media were spreading the news that her car exploded on the viaduct, with clear photos and videos...

The final conclusion was that her life and death were uncertain, and there were no bones left.

These two words left the public with a good room for imagination.

How could they judge life and death when they couldn't even find the body?

The Internet quickly caused an uproar, and public opinion erupted like a volcano.

After all, Hazel just told the whole incident at the press conference, which was obviously related to the president's wife... But before she finished speaking, she was interrupted by Harrier, and then the press conference was forcibly terminated. Less than an hour later, news of her accident came out.

The whole matter was closely related from the beginning to the end, and anyone would think that it has something to do with the president's wife.

After all, another suspect, Francesca, had been arrested and imprisoned, and it was impossible to do anything to Hazel, so now all The spearheads were all directed at the President's wife.

This turbulent vortex of public opinion could not be suppressed...

Kevin was so frightened that he hid at home and dared not come out or see anyone.

When Harrier heard the news of Hazel's accident, he immediately went to the presidential palace. After explaining the situation, the president's wife was shocked: "How could this happen? I haven't done anything yet."

Mistaking a Magnate for a Male Escort chapter 2257

Chapter 2257

Harrier: "An accident will happen soon, and everyone will think that it has something to do with you."

"What's going on?" The President's wife was very anxious, "Who did it? Have you found it?"

"When she left the company, I sent people to follow her, but my people quickly lost..." Harrier frowned, "It didn't take long for the news of Hazel's accident."

"The news spread quickly, and now the public opinion is very angry with me which is unfavorable." The President's wife was anxious, "Who is behind the scenes? Could it be Danrique?"

“Probably not.” Harrier’s face changed drastically, “He is now uncertain about his life and death, and he cannot protect himself. It is impossible to figure so many things out.”

“Who is that?” The President’s wife asked anxiously, “Who else.”

“Could it be him?” Harrier thought of someone.

“Who?” The President’s wife hurriedly asked.

“Prince William.” Harrier frowned and said, “Although I don’t know much about him, I always feel that he is a man with a deep family background. Now that Danrique has an accident, Francesca is in prison, and Sean and Gordon are not here. Sloan’s boys are not good enough, and at the Lindberg family, only he can plan behind the scenes...”

“How is it possible!” The president’s wife didn’t pay attention to William at all, “A man who was kicked out by the Danontand royal family...The useless person who came out is also worthy of giving advice in our Erihal? If he is really that powerful, he won’t be bullied so badly by his cousins.”

Harrier couldn’t answer for a while. Well, thought about it, William had been bullied by his cousins, and the entire upper class knew it.

Besides, today’s matter of Hazel was not only a layout, but also pulled so many media to help fan the flames, and arranges the explosion afterwards... Even if William had a plan and a scheming, he didn’t have the connections and ability to buy the media and the president’s wife contends.

“Hurry up and check it out, and report to me immediately if you have any news.” The President’s wife ordered.

“Yes.” Harrier immediately went to investigate, and as soon as he got in the car, he ordered his subordinates, “Ask the detention center, has Francesca escaped? Has she contacted the outside world?”

“I have already asked, The detention center kept her under strict supervision. Apart from the basic living facilities, the room had no communication equipment, and it was impossible to communicate with the outside world. Today’s live news was all for her to watch, but the computer was placed outside. She watched through the prison railing...” The attendant carefully described the results of the investigation.

Harrier was very puzzled, it wasn’t William or Francesca, who was that?

At this moment, in the detention center.

Francesca lay on the bed leisurely and contentedly, with her legs crossed, gnawing on an apple leisurely.

That's right, she really couldn't communicate with the outside world, but today the female prison guard specially let her watch Hazel's live news, originally to anger her, but the result was unexpected... Francesca was also stunned at that time, she clearly remembered, On the day when she was arrested, Hazel hated her so much, why did she suddenly change her attitude now?

Afterwards, Francesca thought about it carefully, and William probably thought of a way to let Hazel see the truth clearly, knowing that Francesca had nothing to do with her father's death, and that it might be poisoned by the president's wife, so she changed her mind.

as long as the wind was changing, it meant things were looking up.

Francesca was in a good mood now, and was waiting for new news to come in, or let her out directly.

At the same time.

Lindberg's clan.

Sloan led a woman in a black cloak into the study room. Layla looked back, and the woman just took off the hat of the cloak. Layla was stunned: "It's you?"

"Miss Hazel." Monica was shocked, "So..."