

Modern Day 751

Chapter 751 The Princess Infuriating Someone to Death

“Hehe.” Xia Yu was overjoyed to hear others praise Xia Wanyuan.

In the VIP room, Jun Shiling looked at Xia Wanyuan’s arrogant expression, his eyes filled with love.

Other people might find other people’s arrogance to be annoying, but Xia Wanyuan was different. Hers was filled with confidence and ability, and her spirit that could rival everything. In Jun Shiling’s eyes, he felt that Xia Wanyuan was shining.

Xia Wanyuan sat in front of the chessboard and seemed to have sensed something. She looked ahead. As expected, she saw a figure standing by a window in the distance. Although his face could not be seen, Xia Wanyuan knew that it was Jun Shiling.

Xia Wanyuan retracted her gaze and looked at the referee. “I’m ready.”

“Okay, let’s begin!”

In this competition, Xia Wanyuan was more serious than before. The audience was also waiting to see Xia Wanyuan fight a real professional expert.

However, ten minutes later, the audience looked at each other.

Xia Wanyuan was indeed serious. The result of her being serious was that she treated her opponent as her master in her previous life.

However, the facts had proven that the other party’s standards were far inferior to that of the previous generation of Go saints. The opponent could forcefully resist at the beginning.

However, Xia Wanyuan’s attacks were too tricky, making it impossible to guard against. Later on, the opponent could not resist her attacks at all.

“Xia Wanyuan wins!” The host announced almost numbly. He really wanted to say that he was tired from shouting this morning.

The Chinese beside Xia Yu, who had come with their father, were extremely excited to watch the competition. Although he could not understand it, it did not stop him from following his father and cheering enthusiastically when he heard the host announce Xia Wanyuan’s victory.

“Brother, can you slap your own leg?” Xia Yu put down the binoculars speechlessly. The brother on his left slapped his leg in excitement. It was fine if he did it, but why was he so agitated that he slapped the leg of the person beside him?

“Oh, I’m sorry, I’m sorry. I was too excited. This little girl is too amazing. How many years has it been since I’ve been so excited at competitions?” The middle-aged man smiled at Xia Yu awkwardly, and Xia Yu stopped arguing with him.

“Why is she so amazing? Is she still human?” Hearing the young man’s confused murmurs on the right, Xia Yu turned around and saw that he was staring intently at the big screen and did not even spit after chewing a pile of melon seeds.

Xia Yu rolled his eyes helplessly. “This young man is quite good-looking. Why is he a fool?”

On the field, Lawrence stared at Xia Wanyuan as she eliminated the two people he viewed as the strongest opponents effortlessly. He felt as if his entire world had been reconstructed.

Wasn’t Li Yi the most talented chess player in China? Where did this Xia Wanyuan come from?

Could it be that Li Yi was just a disguise while Xia Wanyuan was the carefully nurtured champion seedling in China?

“How despicable!” Lawrence couldn’t help but curse softly. They actually used Li Yi to lower their guards, but in fact, they had nurtured an even more outstanding seedling. As expected of China, which had been corrupted for five thousand years. Shameless!

Lawrence was not the only one who thought so. The other eliminated contestants and coaches also thought so.

However, in the Chinese Arts Center, the leaders looked at the broadcast with confusion.

They did not expect China’s Go team to have any results this time. After all, the World Competition had been reduced to such a state that the leaders had even written their own criticism. In the end, they did not expect such a fierce Xia Wanyuan to appear halfway.

“Aiyah!!! What are you waiting for!!” The Bureau Chief, who had been frowning when he came in the morning, was smiling like a Buddha. “Quick, contact the television station’s media to broadcast it!! Send the news article to me too! Quickly promote it!!”

Initially, because they were afraid of embarrassing themselves, the Bureau had told the media in advance, causing no one in the country to know about this competition. However, it was different now. Seeing Xia Wanyuan’s momentum, the Bureau Leader estimated that the championship title was stable. At the very least, the runner-up position was pretty good. He was elated. The Bureau Leader immediately felt relieved, as if he could see the bonuses and promotions waving at him.

In the venue, Xia Wanyuan and Lawrence sat opposite each other.

“China is really amazing. For the championship, they’re actually willing to let Miss Xia show her face only now,” Lawrence said with a deeper meaning.

“China is indeed very amazing. Thank you for your praise, sir.” Xia Wanyuan smiled and pretended not to hear Lawrence’s sarcasm.

“Hmph, I wonder if Miss Xia can laugh until the end.” Lawrence snorted.

“You go first. After the competition, I can still make it in time for lunch.” Xia Wanyuan did not plan to give a good impression to someone who had said that Li Yi was sick. “You!” Only high-level people would give way to low-level people. Lawrence had been famous internationally for many years, and everyone competed with him with careful calculations. When had he ever been humiliated like this? He immediately flushed with anger.

Chapter 752 Princess Wins Championship and World’s Attention

“Alright, contestants, prepare to draw lots.” The referee saw that the situation was not right and hurriedly came out to smooth things over.

The results of the draw showed that Lawrence was still the first to go down. Xia Wanyuan smiled at Lawrence. “This is more legitimate.”

Lawrence clenched his fists. This was the first time he had been underestimated.

“Begin.” After the host announced, Lawrence suppressed his anger and placed a piece in the middle of the chessboard.

Xia Wanyuan followed closely behind. Wherever Lawrence went, Xia Wanyuan’s chess followed, as if she did not have her own thoughts.

At first, Lawrence was still very careful, thinking that Xia Wanyuan was setting up the chessboard. However, gradually, even though he had deliberately wasted a chess piece to the most remote location, Xia Wanyuan followed closely behind.

Lawrence looked up at Xia Wanyuan and narrowed his deep eyes. “Miss Xia, are you kidding me?”

“No.” The corners of Xia Wanyuan’s lips curled up. “I’m just looking for a state.”

“Hmph.” Lawrence now felt that Xia Wanyuan was completely evil. He did not speak further to her and continued to bury his head in his thoughts about the chessboard.

Then, he realized that Xia Wanyuan was not following him anymore. Instead, she had changed her train of thought and was completely opposite of him. Whatever he did next, Xia Wanyuan would take the opposite step.

The more he played, the more shocked he became. He had received so many chess skills and read so many books, and no one had told him that he could play as he pleased on the field.

Those who played as they pleased were either people who did not know anything about chess, or they had already reached perfection in their chess skills and did not care about the entire game at all.

As for Xia Wanyuan, she was clearly not someone who did not know chess.

In the audience, everyone gradually saw some clues.

“Hey, Brother, why do I feel that your sister is playing with the other party?” Although the young man was not an expert at chess, he had watched his brother’s competitions for a long time. He had never seen anyone play like Xia Wanyuan.

First, she followed closely and imitated him step by step. Then, she turned around and set up the layout with completely opposite steps.

The most important thing was that the entire chessboard had not collapsed yet. From the looks of the two of them, it was probably more difficult for Lawrence.

“That Lawrence is trash to begin with. He’s the only one who won the world championship and mocked our player to be sick. My sister probably doesn’t like it.” Xia Yu felt that there was nothing wrong with what Xia Wanyuan had done.

“666, I don’t think there’s anything wrong with him. Someone like him should be beaten up.” The young man was furious when he heard Xia Yu.

On the field, Lawrence naturally realized this problem. He felt as if he was a monkey that had been played by Xia Wanyuan in front of the audience. Old hatred and new grievances erupted together, and he directly changed his strategy of playing chess and adopted the fiercest and easiest way to hurt himself.

The coach below the stage sighed heavily the moment Lawrence changed his gait. Lawrence had been famous for too long and was already too arrogant. He could not even cross such a simple psychological battle and was completely angered by Xia Wanyuan.

The fiercer the method, the more holes it exposed.

Although Lawrence was very annoying, Xia Wanyuan had to admit that his standards were much higher than those in front.

As the saying goes, know yourself and your enemy, and you will win every battle.

Chess players would study their opponents’ chess styles thoroughly before going on stage. Xia Wanyuan did not have the time to study before the competition. She had just made such a huge detour to understand Lawrence’s chess method on the spot and find a place to break through.

Now, Lawrence had launched his fiercest attack on her. Instantly, all his weaknesses were exposed.

The corners of Xia Wanyuan’s lips curled up.

It was time to close the net.

Xia Wanyuan changed her roundabout tactics and her method became faster and fiercer. With the autumn breeze passing by, she completely disintegrated Lawrence’s seemingly powerful but internally inadequate attack.

Lawrence could not accept such a change in the situation at all. It was as if his heart was covered. He adopted a method of injuring the enemy a thousand times and damaging himself ten thousand times. Even the referee was frightened when he saw this.

Was Lawrence too agitated by Xia Wanyuan? Who played like this? The audience looked at each other. They did not expect Lawrence to be forced to this state.

“Xia Wanyuan wins!” In the end, the referee announced the results of the first round.

The camera switched to Lawrence. At that moment, he looked as if he had aged ten years. So much honor and confidence had been destroyed by the battle just now.

Even if he was the first to make a move, even if Xia Wanyuan had followed his train of thought from the beginning, he had always felt that Xia Wanyuan was the one controlling the entire battlefield. He did not have the slightest ability to resist.

For someone like Lawrence, who was used to being the center of attention, this sense of loss was like a huge hammer that smashed his confidence.

“The second round begins!” The referee subconsciously looked at the time. Oh my god, from the looks of it, we can really eat lunch.

Even though the development of this competition was unexpected and even the rules of the competition had changed, the organizers of the competition were about to laugh crazily.

The Go Competition was originally a relatively unpopular competition. There were not many sponsors and the viewership ratings were not high.

However, looking at the explosive viewership and sponsor requests, the organizers looked at Xia Wanyuan happily as if she was a money tree.

The second round was very simple.

If Lawrence had a chance to fight in the first round, in the second round, Xia Wanyuan had already grasped his playing style. In addition, Lawrence had been attacked and could not recover. In twenty rounds, he was defeated by Xia Wanyuan.

The referee looked at the time quietly.

At half-past eleven in the afternoon.

The competition that had been scheduled for three days ended miraculously. The audience erupted with enthusiastic applause and cheers.

The domestic Internet media suddenly began to promote the news of Xia Wanyuan participating in the World Go Master Competition. The overwhelming news surged into the social media of the netizens.

When everyone saw the news that was released at the beginning, they were still curious. This Go player seemed to have the same name as a celebrity in the entertainment industry.

Some people clicked on it out of curiosity and instantly suspected their eyes.

What unscrupulous media? They posted fake news every day. Just as they were about to scroll away,

They suddenly saw the editor of the news The National Arts Administration.

????? It was actually official news!!!

The netizens hurriedly swiped back and clicked on the live-stream link. It happened to be playing the video of Xia Wanyuan fighting Lawrence.

It was already the second round of the two of them playing. Lawrence was beaten into a listless state and played chess without any fighting spirit. Xia Wanyuan was relaxed and casual. While playing, she had time to drink a mouthful of lemon water.

Seeing Xia Wanyuan finish off her opponent in a few moves, the netizens thought.

Fortunately, we made it in time. Normally, experts would fight intensely. One could think for half an hour. For a battle situation like in the video, the competition had probably just begun. They were thinking of continuing to see what rank Xia Wanyuan could reach.

Huge cheers erupted in the venue, and then flowers and gold pieces fell from the stage.

The Chinese national song sounded in the venue, and the red flag representing China rose.

At the same time, the host stood on stage and announced to the world excitedly.

“Let us congratulate contestant # 31 from China, Xia Wanyuan, for winning the championship of this World Master Competition!!”

Netizens in the country who did not know the situation:??? What kind of competition is this? Why is it so sloppy?? It’s just that the name is nice, right? You can win the championship with just a few moves? Is this a joke?

The netizens who were watching the live broadcast were not the only ones who were puzzled. As it took a while to repost the video, the previous competition had not been seen in China.

The marketing accounts began to question the professionalism of this competition with the live-stream of Xia Wanyuan and Lawrence playing chess.

Some even wondered if the contestant opposite Xia Wanyuan was hired by her. How could he be in this state when he participated in the world competition?

Chapter 753 The Truth is Out Country Celebrates

Xia Wanyuan was now a very popular celebrity. With Xia Wanyuan’s name, the Weibo posts posted by the marketing accounts quickly obtained a lot of attention.

[ Wow, our Yuan Yuan is still so beautiful. Go competition? How many more surprises does Yuan Yuan have that I don’t know? ]

[ I saw a little of the video. Isn’t this competition a little too sloppy? How can you call it the World Go Competition? ]

[ Actually, Xia Wanyuan is already a dual professor at the Qing University. There’s no need to craft her character profile anymore. I feel that it’s a little difficult to become the world champion. ]

Most netizens did not know much about Go, so everyone was very suspicious of the value of Xia Wanyuan, the champion.

Although he had obtained the runner-up in Continent M in the end, Lawrence was not at all happy. He was here for the championship! Furthermore, Xia Wanyuan’s playstyle had really destroyed his confidence, causing him to be unable to recover for a long time after the competition.

“Miss Xia, you’re really impressive. You destroyed your opponent to this extent. How can a woman like you be so vicious?” After receiving the trophy, Xia Wanyuan got off the stage and bumped into the Chinese Go team. The others were all happy, except for Jack, who looked at Xia Wanyuan unhappily.

“Is there a problem if he has a lack of skills?” Xia Wanyuan looked at Jack. Her pair of ice-cold eyes could not help but make one’s heart turn cold. “Compared to him, you should worry about when you’ll pack your luggage.”

Xia Wanyuan’s words angered Jack greatly. The teammates besides him swarmed up and surrounded Xia Wanyuan.

“Senior Xia is really amazing!” “Senior Xia you made our country proud!” “You’re amazing!”

Looking at the Go team members chatting and laughing with Xia Wanyuan, it was as if they were one family and he was just an extra person. Jack was furious. He did not even bother with the invitation of the competition authorities and left the competition venue.

“Brother! You’re still a noob!” The punk youngster appeared out of nowhere.

The elegant young man was not angry at his younger brother’s teasing. “Fortunately, China has a talent like Miss Xia. In the end, our country won. My skills are indeed not good. I have to learn more from Miss Xia in the future.”

The young man looked at his brother and Xia Wanyuan, and his eyes revealed understanding. Tsk, what do you mean by sacrificing yourself for the country and not dating? What nonsense.

Xia Yu followed and stood in front of Xia Wanyuan, blocking everyone’s gazes. “Sister, let’s go back and eat.”

“Okay.” Xia Wanyuan nodded and left the venue with Xia Yu.

Jun Shiling was sitting in the car outside, holding a large bouquet of flowers that he had bought from somewhere.

Xia Wanyuan took the flowers and opened a jewelry box in the middle of the flowers. Lying inside was a pure jade ornament. A smile appeared on Xia Wanyuan’s face. “Jun Shiling, you’re quite good.”

Xia Yu glanced at him and praised him in his heart. As expected of my brother-in-law. His skills in coaxing his wife were top-notch.

“Mm, I learned it from reading.” Jun Shiling did not know how to coax girls, but he would take care of Xia Wanyuan according to the love books. “Congratulations to our champion.”

“Thank you.” Xia Wanyuan smiled until her dimples appeared, causing Jun Shiling to be stunned. If not for Xia Yu being present, Jun Shiling would have wanted to...

Xia Yu tried his best to reduce his presence. ‘I should be under the car.’

After Xia Wanyuan finished lunch in the hotel, she received many congratulations on WeChat.

At that moment, the country had already exploded.

The replay for the competition was completed, and everyone finally saw the entire competition.

Furthermore, after a large number of marketing accounts initially hinted at the low end of the competition that Xia Wanyuan was participating in, not long after, a group of professional accounts and industry insiders stood up.

@ Jieke: "You might not know much about Go competitions. To put it simply, if the Academy Award is a hallowed award in the film industry, then the Go Master Competition is equivalent to an Academy Award in the Go world. Those who can win bronze on this will be qualified to teach the Chinese Go team after retirement."

Everyone might not be familiar with the Go Competition, but people like Jie Ke, even those who did not play Go, were more familiar. As a former "nationalist" of China, most netizens were very familiar with him.

A heavyweight competition personally determined by Jie Ke would really have great weight.

In addition, in succession, everyone began to criticize Xia Wanyuan's opponent.

"Even her first round opponents are top Go masters in Han Country. I'll casually post a copy of their victory history. I won't introduce all kinds of people like the national player of Cherry Blossom and the rookie superstar.

Just based on the opponent you think Xia Wanyuan hired, that's Lawrence, who has been in the limelight the most in recent years. He just won the world championship and is thought to be the most likely candidate to win this time."

Only then did the netizens understand.

So it was not because the opponent was too lousy, but because Xia Wanyuan was too strong?!

Chapter 754 Legendary Princess

As the video of the winning streak in the finals was released, the semi-finals, where the mysterious account had won consecutively from outside the rankings within a day, was also dug out.. The industry legend of reaching the top of the rankings was spread far and wide.

Detailed scenes of Xia Wanyuan and every opponent's competition were edited.

Only then did everyone know what terrifying things had happened before the last video released by the marketing account.

The netizens asked themselves. If it were them, they would probably not even have the heart to go on stage after being tortured by Xia Wanyuan. Lawrence's reaction was still considered normal.

[ Oh my god, to be honest, before I saw the topic, I felt that this competition was trash. After watching the topic, I'm sorry, I'm trash. ]

[ So Xia Wanyuan first swept through the semi-finals with 200 consecutive wins, then swept through all the Go masters in the world with her own strength, directly turning the three days of competition into half a day. Furthermore, she finally reached the throne of the champion?! ]

[ The person in front, just listening to it makes my blood boil. F*ck, even novels don't dare to write like this. It's too fierce! What did Xia Wanyuan eat growing up? Why does she know everything? ]

Not only were the netizens heatedly discussing, but because of Xia Wanyuan's controversial identity, all the major news media knew her ability to attract attention and reported this competition without restraint. Even those who did not go online knew that a legendary figure had appeared in the Chinese Go world in the past two days.

The leaders of the China Go team spent the night researching all sorts of plans to recruit Xia Wanyuan. This was the champion of the World Master Competition. After so many years, China had finally returned to the throne. The Go team did not want to let go of such an honor.

Xia Wanyuan quickly replied. The request to let her join the Go team was very simple. Change Jack out.

Hearing Xia Wanyuan's request, the leaders had no objections. They had also heard of Jack's actions in the Go team.

However, the competition was imminent, and changing mentor was equivalent to shaking the morale of the troops. They did not dare to act rashly. Now that the competition was over, they naturally did not have to worry about anything

The city that held the Go competition was always rainy. The plan to return on that day was put on hold because of the thunderstorm that day.

Xia Wanyuan and Jun Shiling sat on the ground, with the chessboard between them.

In the master competition venue, Xia Wanyuan played chess casually and effortlessly. However, facing Jun Shiling's attack, Xia Wanyuan felt very troubled.

After thinking for a full ten minutes, Xia Wanyuan placed a stone.

"You win." Jun Shiling placed the remaining chess pieces in the chess box and smiled at Xia Wanyuan.

"I didn't win. You played too fiercely. This step of mine is at the end of the line." Xia Wanyuan shook her head. If it was compared to chess skills, in this era, Jun Shiling was the one who could really be considered her opponent.

The two of them were no longer competing in chess power. Instead, they were competing in terms of their chests and hearts. A single mistake would result in eternal damnation. "You won. Whether it's chess or life, if we fight one day and see that you're at the end of the road, I won't be able to take another step forward. You're my chess heart." Jun Shiling put away the chessboard and pulled Xia Wanyuan into his arms.

Xia Wanyuan smiled. "Jun Shiling."

"Mm?"

"I want to eat ice cream."

"Okay." For the first time, Jun Shiling did not reject Xia Wanyuan. He kissed her dotingly. "Our champion can eat whatever she wants."

The interior of the house was warm. Outside the house, there was a thunderstorm and a strong wind.

However, on the other side of Continent M, there was a blue sky and white clouds. It was peaceful. The Blue family's private plane was gradually rising into the sky and flying into the clouds.

was

"Remember? Mommy told you. Just insist that that painting was your inspiration." The white clouds outside the window danced, but the noblewoman's heart was focused on Li Na and Master Danny's meeting.

"Don't worry, Mom. I've been learning Xia Wanyuan's painting style from Teacher for the past few days. Even Teacher said that I'm very perceptive. I'm from the Blue family. As long as I follow Master Danny through the apprenticeship banquet, it'll be too late for him to regret it." Li Na comforted the noble woman in front of her.

Chapter 755 The Queen's Return

The next day, the weather improved a lot. Xia Wanyuan left the city with the trophy and honor. Just as the plane landed, Chen Yun came.

"Wanyuan, you still have to go out yourself. CEO Jun, walk behind. I heard that there are reporters and fans waiting for you at the airport." After two days of ferment, everyone had an understanding of Xia Wanyuan's legendary deeds. In order to increase their influence, the Art Bureau took advantage of the situation to increase the popularity. Now, the fanatical fans had already filled the airport.

"Okay." "No." Before Xia Wanyuan could speak, Jun Shiling objected first.

"There are too many people. What if they squeeze you?" Jun Shiling disagreed.

"Don't worry." Xia Wanyuan patted Jun Shiling's hand to comfort him, then looked at Chen Yun. "The Go team's plane is about to land. Let's wait for them."

"Okay, I'll go and prepare."

After Chen Yun left, Jun Shiling hugged Xia Wanyuan from behind. "There are too many people. No one is protecting you."

"What are you saying? Is Chen Yun not human? Or is the Go team not human? I'm not made of glass." Besides, what was this small number of people? In her previous life, when she went on patrol, there were times when she did not have guards. She was still fine, and no one dared to approach her.

"Hmph." Jun Shiling suddenly snorted coldly for no reason.

Xia Wanyuan already knew Jun Shiling's thoughts very well. She leaned into Jun Shiling's ear. "Don't you just want to stand with me publicly?"

"Hmph." Jun Shiling rested his chin on Xia Wanyuan's shoulder and continued snorting.

"Give me a little more time." With that, Xia Wanyuan placed her hand in Jun Shiling's palm. "It won't be long, okay?"

“You said it.” Jun Shiling became excited and looked at Xia Wanyuan happily.

Xia Wanyuan nodded, then pushed Jun Shiling away when he leaned over. “I’m going down. You can go out later.”

“Okay.” Jun Shiling had obtained Xia Wanyuan’s promise and did not stop her now.

Xia Wanyuan got off the plane. Not long after, the Go team’s flight landed.

“Miss Xia.” Everyone greeted Xia Wanyuan.

“Hey! Brother!!” Xia Yu stood aside when someone patted his shoulder. A blue-haired youth in a skeleton T-shirt blinked at him.

“Didn’t you say that you were studying abroad last time? Why are you back in China?” Xia Yu looked at the young man and felt that he had seen how arrogant he himself used to be. He immediately sighed.

“Sigh, didn’t I come back to China with my brother? My mother asked if I had forgotten the way home. From my calculations, she must have missed me, so I came back.”

The young man flipped his blue hair. Fortunately, his facial features could bear such a bright color. If his facial configurations were slightly worse, he would probably look like the scene of a non-mainstream celebrity.

Surrounded by everyone, Xia Wanyuan had already walked far away. Xia Yu hurriedly followed and the youth leaned over. “Brother, does your sister have a boyfriend?”

“What?” Xia Yu looked at the young man suspiciously.

“Look at the one standing beside your sister. My brother looks okay, right? He’s quite tall too. He has a house and a car. He doesn’t smoke or drink. Can you let your sister consider him?”

Although the young man said that his brother was lousy and despised him every day, he was still worried about his brother’s marriage.

Chapter 756 A Heart for You

“...” Xia Yu glanced at the young man and looked back inexplicably.

The young man followed his gaze and glanced back. He saw a private plane parked not far away and nothing else. “How is it?”

“Give up. My sister doesn’t like your brother’s type.” Xia Yu could already hear the commotion at the airport. He quickened his pace and walked to Xia Wanyuan.

“Then does your sister like my type?!” He had shouted it casually, but the youth looked at Xia Wanyuan’s cold side profile. Forget it, I can’t control such a fairy daughter from the sky.

“Coming, coming, coming!!” The fans who had waited for a long time finally saw the person walk out. The passion in the hall was ignited.

Everyone lined up in two rows, holding flowers and banners as they screamed.

The Go team appeared first. Initially, the Go team did not have much results this time, but the domestic Go team had already announced that they would recruit Xia Wanyuan into the team. The moment they appeared, the fans surged forward to send flowers.

The Go team surrounded Xia Wanyuan. The moment she appeared, the entire scene could not be controlled. The fans squeezed one by one, and the reporters leaned forward desperately to interview Xia Wanyuan.

Li Yi and the other team members were already squeezed. Xia Wanyuan was surrounded in the small space. She was not squeezed, but the way forward was stopped.

It was useless no matter how the security guards shouted. Hundreds and thousands of people surged towards Xia Wanyuan one after another.

The noisy voices made Xia Wanyuan feel a little uncomfortable. She took the horn from the security guard and turned the volume to the maximum.

“Everyone, listen.”

For some reason, when the crazy reporters and fans heard Xia Wanyuan’s voice, they inexplicably felt a sense of submission. They could not help but lower their voices, and the entire scene gradually fell silent.

“With this line as the separation, take five steps back.” Xia Wanyuan stood quietly with a serious expression. Light shone from behind her, making her look extremely solemn.

The security guards at the airport were shocked. They had shouted until their throats were hoarse just now, but now, so many people were retreating at the same time.

“This is a public place after all. Keep quiet. Thank you for picking me up.” After Xia Wanyuan said this, she returned the loudspeaker to the security guard and strode forward, leaving the protective circle of the Go team.

The fans had already made way for her. Xia Wanyuan kept walking forward, and the crowd kept retreating. Only when she walked out of the hall did the crowd seem to wake up from their daze.

“Oh my god, this aura...” “Hiss, I’m not the only one who has the urge to kneel before her, right?”

Before Xia Wanyuan arrived at the manor, the topic “The Queen Returns” was already trending

After leaving for nearly a week, although the weather and scenery abroad were quite beautiful, Xia Wanyuan still felt happy when she saw the familiar manor.

“Mommy!!!” Xia Wanyuan had just gotten out of the car when a small figure ran towards her. “Mommy, I missed you so much!!!”

Carrying Xiao Bao in her arms, Xia Wanyuan kissed his fair face. “How much did you miss me?”

“I missed you more than Daddy.” Xiao Bao said seriously.

Xia Wanyuan smiled. “How do you know how much your father missed me?”

"I know. Daddy loves you very much. I miss you more than he does. A heart for you!!" As Xiao Bao spoke, he gestured to Xia Wanyuan with both hands. He had learned this from An Rao recently.

Chapter 757 Glass Princess

"I accept your love." Xia Wanyuan pinched Xiao Bao's face.

"Sister, you're too amazing!!" An Rao heard the commotion and walked out of the house.

Since the old master was sick and Jun Shiling wanted to accompany Xia Wanyuan, so he got someone to bring An Rao to the manor and got her to help take care of Xiao Bao. Over the past few days, An Rao had been staying in the manor.

"You've worked hard." Xia Wanyuan nodded at An Rao. Although Xiao Bao was sensible, he was still active at this age. Taking care of him was quite time consuming.

"No, Xiao Bao is so cute. It's not hard at all to take care of him." An Rao had never come into contact with children since she was young. Xiao Bao had red lips, white teeth, and a sweet mouth. She liked him very much.

"This is for you." Xia Wanyuan took out a jewelry box from her bag and handed it to An Rao.

An Rao opened it and saw an extremely beautiful pair of diamond earrings shining under the light.

"Wow, sister, I love you to death!" An Rao opened her arms and hugged Xia Wanyuan.

Jun Shiling walked to the door and saw Xiao Bao and An Rao hugging Xia Wanyuan. Jun Shiling coughed before An Rao let go of Xia Wanyuan.

Jun Shiling walked over and picked Xiao Bao up, looking at him unhappily. "Do you know how heavy you are? What did I tell you?"

"I was wrong, Daddy. I won't let Mommy hug me next time." Xiao Bao pouted pitifully.

"I can hug you, but don't pester your mother to hug you." Seeing Xiao Bao's aggrieved expression, Jun Shiling's heart softened a little.

"Mm." Xiao Bao nodded and hugged Jun Shiling's neck, leaning carefully on his shoulder.

Xia Wanyuan looked at Jun Shiling in amusement. This person really treats me like I'm a glass person.

Since Xia Wanyuan and Jun Shiling were already back and An Rao had not been home for a long time, she greeted Xia Wanyuan and went back.

After returning to the apartment, she felt empty for some reason.

An Rao took out her phone. Bo Xiao's last message was from three days ago. He had chatted with An Rao for a while and said that he had a mission. Then, he did not reply.

"Dog man, you have to be safe." An Rao sat on the sofa and picked up the ball of thread beside her. Autumn was here. She had been learning to knit from the online video account recently. When Bo Xiao returned, he could wear it.

Although Bo Xiao had never expressed his preferences directly, An Rao knew that Bo Xiao quite liked what she had made for him herself.

Continent F, the years of war had already worn down the hopes of people here.

Countless walking corpses were the most ideal labor in the underground organization in the world. A bowl of rice could exhaust a strong labor force, and there were countless underground factories hidden in the darkness.

“We’ve already located the enemy’s location. It’s in a small mountain in the southwest. There’s a factory there.”

“The first team is on standby. The second team will follow me.” Bo Xiao stood quietly and looked at the distant mountaintop.

“Yes!” His subordinates received the order and hurriedly adjusted the team according to Bo Xiao’s instructions.

After his subordinate left, Bo Xiao raised his wrist. The prayer beads shone quietly in the sunlight.

Bo Xiao looked at it for a while, then lowered his head and kissed the prayer beads gently. Then, he pulled down his sleeves and adjusted the brim of his hat before turning around.

“Let’s go!!”

Chapter 758 Master Danny Taking in a Disciple

In China, the news of Xia Wanyuan returning to China had already flooded the Internet, especially a moving picture of Xia Wanyuan walking forward and the crowd retreating. It was widely spread among the netizens.

[ Queen, accept my bow. ]

[ Oh my god, this aura makes me afraid. I feel that if I were at the scene, I would kneel down to her. ]

( Xia Wanyuan is simply outstanding among so many people. Is this the difference between a celebrity and an ordinary person? Her face and temperament are amazing. ]

Currently, under the news about Xia Wanyuan, there were not many mocking and scolding comments left. Chen Yun watched the netizens change the direction of the wind and sighed in his heart.

“Wanyuan is really hardworking. It hasn’t been long since she became popular on the Internet.”

As he scrolled through all sorts of reports on Xia Wanyuan’s Go competition on the Internet, Chen Yun was extremely happy. It was as if he was being praised.

The major online incidents in the past few days were basically news about Xia Wanyuan. In between these news, there were also reports of major international events.

Among these major events, there was one that Chen Yun was familiar with.

The day Xia Wanyuan returned to China, a major event happened in the international painting industry.

The internationally famous painting master, Danny, had announced to the world his last disciple, Li Na of the Blue family.

Master Danny was a peak figure in the international painting world, and most of the Chinese people were familiar with his name. After all, he had once been on China's official news broadcast.

Other than professionals, no one would pay much attention to such international news, especially in the direction of art.

However, after this news was reposted and commented on by a few domestic artists, it became a very popular news. Xia Wanyuan had been in the limelight too much in the past two days. The competition schedule for the Go Competition was too hot-blooded. In addition, Xia Wanyuan herself was a dual professor at the Qing University. Even the price of her painting had soared.

Seeing Xia Wanyuan receiving such enthusiastic support, some people could not sit still, especially after knowing that Xia Wanyuan had lost the art competition. It was as if they had found a breakthrough.

Originally, many people had seen Xia Wanyuan become a professor at such a young age and it was an eyesore. Many people had to work hard their entire lives to become a professor in a school in a remote area.

A professor at Qing University was a position that many people dreamed of.

Hence, amidst the joy, a few artists who were certified as "members of the XX Art Association" on Weibo reposted the news that Master Danny had accepted a disciple.

"The current art industry is really laughable. She can enter the Qing University just by hyping herself up. The overwhelming news of Xia Wanyuan winning the Go Competition is to cover up her failure to enter the top ten of the art competition?"

"That's right. What master of Chinese arts? She can't even enter the top ten of the competition. She occupies the spot of a professor at Qing University but doesn't have the ability to match it. She can only rely on hype, right? That so-called competition with Grey is just imitating someone else's painting. What's so amazing about it?"

The fans quickly gathered under these people's Weibo. Because they were cultural people of the art world, the fans were very polite at first.

However, these few people went even further and directly tagged Xia Wanyuan, asking her to explain why she could not even enter the top ten of the Arts Competition despite being a professor of the Arts department and a master of Chinese arts.

When Xia Wanyuan learned of this, she contacted the school immediately.

The teachers in the school were all very supportive of Xia Wanyuan. After all, art was something that everyone took notice of. In their eyes, Xia Wanyuan was a very qualified professor. Principal Yang also comforted Xia Wanyuan to not care about those people's doubts. The school firmly stood behind Xia Wanyuan.

Hence, very quickly, Qing University released a statement supporting Xia Wanyuan.

With the support of the school and fans, the few of them gradually could not endure the pressure.

However, at that moment, a message was sent from abroad.

Master Danny was about to visit China with his latest disciple, Li Na. The designated reception place was Qing University.

Now, the media had found the breaking news. Those few people who had fought alone to question Xia Wanyuan immediately became alert.

ame

Xia Wanyuan represented Qing University in the competition, but she did not enter Master Danny's eyes at all.

Now that Master Danny had arrived at Qing University, Qing University happened to be where Xia Wanyuan taught.

The media had already prepared all sorts of interview manuscripts. They were all about how Master Danny viewed Xia Wanyuan's painting

As for the comparison between the winner of the competition, Li Na, and the loser, Xia Wanyuan, just thinking of this scene, the media felt that the popularity of the explosion was waving at them.

Chapter 759 Battle for the Almighty Goddess

With the help of people with motives, the media added fuel to the fire and deliberately compared Li Na and Xia Wanyuan.

Everyone was more familiar with Master Danny, so all kinds of marketing accounts began to unite and teach everyone about Li Na.

@ Industry cat: "Li Na of the Blue family is really a goddess with a family background, looks, and talent. Look at her life resume.

The beloved daughter of the Blue family. She obtained a master's double degree from the world's top university at a young age. She won many medals for piano, violin, horsemanship, shooting and fencing. Now, she has even become Master Danny's last disciple. This is a proper all-rounded goddess. In comparison, Xia Wanyuan is really not that interesting."

[ I'm really floating. I actually think that Xia Wanyuan is just like that. With Li Na's background, she received so many medals. Nuwa is too unfair. ]

[ That's why Xia Wanyuan's fans shouldn't brag too much. There's always someone better. Look at her resume. She's simply invincible. The key is that she's so beautiful. ]

[ Are you crazy?? If Xia Wanyuan isn't amazing, are you amazing? In reality, you're nothing, but on the Internet, you look down on everywhere. Can you just use a keyboard to guide the mountains? ]

What the fans could not stand the most was their idol being compared to someone else and being used as a foil.

Xia Wanyuan now had a considerable number of fans who were arguing with the marketing account.

Chen Yun got the company to find some public relations robots to try to ease this intense argument.

“What the heck? How is our Wanyuan related to Li Na? These media are really afraid of the world not being chaotic for the sake of popularity and report blindly.” Chen Yun flipped through Weibo and was extremely angry. “This painting is only so-so. I think Wanyuan’s painting is much better than hers.”

As Chen Yun spoke, he gave Xia Wanyuan a screenshot of Li Na’s painting hanging at Master Danny’s disciple recruitment banquet.

“Wanyuan, look at this painting. I don’t think it’s as good as yours. Isn’t this judge a little blind? Don’t be sad. I don’t think they have much appreciation level.”

Xia Wanyuan had just finished classes and returned to the office. She clicked on her phone and was stunned for a moment. Then, she zoomed in on the screenshot that Chen Yun had sent and frowned slightly.

The painting on it was clearly the last painting she had drawn. However, the media reports said that Master Danny had seen Li Na’s talent from this painting, so he had directly taken her in as a disciple.

“Professor Xia, the Internet is so noisy. When Master Danny and the rest come, why don’t you take a few days off? In case those media cause trouble again.” The other teachers in the office were still very concerned about Xia Wanyuan. Everyone had heard about the news on the Internet.

“It’s nothing. I’ll talk to the principal.” Xia Wanyuan smiled at her colleague and went to the principal’s office.

“Are you sure, Professor Xia?! You mean that Miss Li Na stole your painting results and obtained the disciple position of Master Danny?” Principal Yang was a little surprised when he heard Xia Wanyuan’s explanation.

“Yes.” Xia Wanyuan nodded.

“Then you’ll receive them when the time comes.” Principal Yang trusted Xia Wanyuan very much. Although this matter was incredible, he stood firm on Xia Wanyuan’s side.

“Although they’re powerful and have a high status, they can’t bully our teacher in China. Do whatever you want. Qing University is standing behind you.”

Principal Yang knew that with Xia Wanyuan’s character, she would definitely not let the matter rest if the painting was stolen. However, he also believed that Xia Wanyuan knew her limits.

“Thank you, Principal.” Xia Wanyuan was very grateful for Principal Yang’s trust.

Coincidentally, Principal Yang’s phone rang. Xia Wanyuan was about to leave after greeting him.

“Dad, I brought you food.” The office door was pushed open and a young man walked in with a lunch box.

Principal Yang glanced at the lunch box in his son's hand and sighed in his heart. He looked at Xia Wanyuan. "Wanyuan, this is my son. He quite likes you. He learned from others and chases celebrities every day."

Look, my rebellious son had already given me food for half a month. I knew very well who he was here for.

The young man was a little embarrassed by Principal Yang's words. He touched the back of his head and looked at Xia Wanyuan. "You're my idol." "Thank you." Xia Wanyuan smiled. "You have to study hard and try to attend my class when the time comes."

"Okay!" The young man nodded obediently.

Until Xia Wanyuan left, Principal Yang patted his son's shoulder. "Are you satisfied? Look at how outstanding your idol is, then look at you. Hey, where are you going?" Before Principal Yang could finish speaking, the youth raised his foot and prepared to leave.

"Go and study! Didn't you hear what my idol said? Bye, you can settle your lunch in the canteen tomorrow."

"Rascal." Principal Yang smiled helplessly, but he was extremely relieved. A while ago, this child was in his rebellious phase and caused chaos in the house. With just a sentence from Xia Wanyuan, he realized he had to study seriously. The power of an idol was quite useful sometimes.

Chapter 760 Try the Cake and See if it's Sweet

Xia Wanyuan left the office and looked at the painting on her phone.

She was not interested in Master Danny's disciple position, but this did not mean that she would let others take away her painting results.

Just as she was thinking about this, the phone suddenly rang. "Baby, I'll pick you up at the door."

"I still have to go to the production team in the afternoon. Why are you picking me up now?" Xia Wanyuan's thoughts were disrupted as she asked Jun Shiling in amusement.

"Come out, I'll wait for you."

Xia Wanyuan quickly walked out and got into the car. Jun Shiling handed her a small osmanthus cake. "Try it."

Xia Wanyuan scooped a spoonful and placed it in her mouth. It was sweet but not greasy with a faint fragrance. Xia Wanyuan smiled at Jun Shiling. "It's very delicious."

"It's good that it's delicious. I'll take you to lunch. After eating, I'll send you to the production team." Jun Shiling was happy to see Xia Wanyuan eating in satisfaction.

"You came over in the afternoon just to send me this?" Xia Wanyuan could not tell that Jun Shiling had other matters on.

“That’s right.” Jun Shiling hugged Xia Wanyuan’s waist. “It’s autumn, and the osmanthus flowers are blooming. I heard from the dessert chef that a new cake has been developed, so I wanted to send it over for you to try.”

Hearing Jun Shiling’s explanation, Xia Wanyuan was a little touched.

It was not because the cake was delicious, but because Jun Shiling thought of her for everything he encountered.

“Thank you.” Xia Wanyuan leaned on Jun Shiling’s shoulder and rubbed it like a coquettish cat, tickling Jun Shiling’s heart.

“Thank you for what? Do you like the smell of osmanthus?” Jun Shiling took the spoon from Xia Wanyuan and fed her himself.

“It’s too thick. I like it light.” Xia Wanyuan felt that the osmanthus flower still smelled very good, but it would be uncomfortable if it was too strong. “Okay, I’ll get someone to plant some in the backyard of the manor.”

The manor was large enough, and Jun Shiling wanted to plant some in the backyard. When the smell floated to the main building, it would coincidentally be the faint fragrance of flowers. Xia Wanyuan should like it.

“Does the greenery in the house have to be changed once a quarter?” Spring, peach blossoms, summer lotus flowers, and autumn osmanthus flowers. “Are you preparing to grow plum blossoms in the winter? CEO Jun, you’re so rich,” Xia Wanyuan teased Jun Shiling

“Don’t you like flowers? When winter comes, I’ll plant plum blossoms in the entire manor.” Jun Shiling kissed Xia Wanyuan’s forehead. “Don’t I earn money to make you happy? Don’t worry, I have money.”

Xia Wanyuan’s eyes curved up as she looked up at Jun Shiling

“What’s wrong?” Jun Shiling was thinking about what kind of flowers Xia Wanyuan would like in the autumn manor.

“Try the cake too. It seems a little too sweet.”

“Really? I specially instructed Master not to make it too sweet.” Jun Shiling said that he wanted to taste the cake with a spoon, but Xia Wanyuan pulled his sleeve. Jun Shiling lowered his head and met Xia Wanyuan’s bright eyes.

Xia Wanyuan tapped her red lips. “Try this.”

“...” Jun Shiling admitted that he could not control himself when Xia Wanyuan was so proactive.

The apartment was closest to the production team where Xia Wanyuan was filming, so the chauffeur drove to the apartment.

“Baby, what do you want to eat for lunch?” Jun Shiling, who had eaten his fill, had spring in his eyes.

“Don’t talk to me.” Xia Wanyuan glared at Jun Shiling. This person was really pushing his luck.

“Then I’ll talk to you when you want to talk to me.” Jun Shiling was not angry. Instead, the corners of his lips curled up. He held Xia Wanyuan’s hand and walked upstairs.

After leaving the elevator, Xia Wanyuan saw that the door to An Rao’s house was actually open. From time to time, argument could be heard from inside.
