

《Medical road》

Chapter 12

Early the next day, Zhang Fan was awakened by urine, and there was a "headache" of drunk syndrome. Breakfast was buttered milk tea with mutton in hand. Zhang Fan had no appetite at all. After drinking a few mouthfuls of milk tea, he packed up with Shi Lei and prepared to go back to the county early. As a result, he was shocked as soon as he came out of the restaurant. The yard of the township hospital is full of people. Old people, children, horsemen, motorcyclists.

"I heard that the doctors from the county came to the village. Herdsmen came to see doctors, and some came from dozens of kilometers away. I didn't dare promise, so I let them wait in the yard. " Buyindala, President of the township health center, pointed to the crowd and said. He didn't promise, but he let people block the door and made it clear that he wouldn't let them leave.

"What should I do?" Chen Qifa asked.

"What else can I do? The villagers are here. Let's work. They're here anyway." Shi Lei said.

"Old man, it's obvious that calcium loss leads to leg pain and cramps. I'll prescribe some calcium supplements for you."

"The blood fat is too high. In the future, we should eat less fat and more vegetables. We should eat lipid-lowering drugs on time." Too many people came, and Ma Lihua also acted as a physician. The Dean arranged several ethnic nurses to act as interpreters. Many old herdsmen can't speak Chinese.

"Your bones are not connected properly, and the ulnar and radial joints are misaligned, resulting in abnormal hand function. Only open reduction can be performed again. " Zhang Fan looked at a middle-aged man and said.

"Can you work in the future?"

"After the operation, you can recover. In this way, I'll write you a case. When the snow melts, you come to the county hospital and I'll operate on you"

After reading one after another, the more you see Zhang Fan, the heavier his heart is.

Many of them are not treated in time or improper treatment, resulting in serious consequences. Zhang Fan, who could recover, tried his best to recover. At the end of the day, he made two appendages, one of which was perforated. Shi Lei used to be a major surgeon, and there was no big problem with this kind of minor surgery. There is no time to eat at noon. Many patients come all the way. It's early in winter when it's dark. Finish reading it early so that people can hurry back as soon as possible. The next day, there were no patients at last. After contacting 120 of the county hospital and asking them to pick them up on the road, they set off.

As soon as I got out of the hospital, I found that many herdsmen came to send Zhang Fan and them, riding horses with slaughtered beef and mutton, yogurt and butter. Let them go back and don't go back. They followed Zhang Fan towards the county. Finally, after seeing the 120 of the county hospital, the herdsmen stopped.

"They are all your own things. You must take them. Come whenever you have time, especially in summer. The scenery on our grassland is very beautiful. Dr. Zhang needs to exercise. Ha ha" Holding the gifts from the herdsmen in his arms and looking at the roaring herdsmen, Zhang Fan felt a little like crying. For the first time, he felt that learning medicine was sacred. For the first time, he was not glad to learn medicine for money or anything.

"Yes, we will come often" I wonder if this promise can be realized. Without the support of the government, how much can ordinary doctors do. On the way back, several people had no desire to speak. Looking at the scenery outside the window, Zhang Fan thought a lot and thought of the oath when he entered the school:

Health depends on life.

When I enter the sacred medical school, I solemnly swear:

I volunteer to devote myself to medicine, love the motherland, be loyal to the people, abide by medical ethics, respect teachers and discipline, study hard, work tirelessly, strive for perfection and develop in an all-round way.

I am determined to do my best to eliminate human suffering, help the perfection of health, maintain the sanctity and honor of medical technology, save the dead and heal the wounded, spare no pains, pursue persistently, and strive for the development of China's medical and health undertakings and human physical and mental health all my life.

When he read this oath, he thought it was a child's play and a fake big space. But this trip to the grassland made Zhang Fan deeply understand the sanctity of the doctor industry. The ten mile send off of herdsmen had a great impact on his future practice. I feel shallow on paper. I absolutely know that I have to practice it.

Back to the hospital, Shi Lei went to report to the president. The others went home, and Zhang Fan went back to the dormitory. "What's the situation? Why did you move? Director Wang of the office helped you move. You won't move to her house. She's in her thirties and almost forty. You can think about it"

"My God, you can't die. You don't know what you want one day. The hospital will come to some college students who have been admitted to the college. You can't live here. You rented a house in the county Party committee and let me live there by the way. If you have an idea, go to the Dean quickly while others don't know"

"Good brother, the dormitory is convenient, but bathing is a big problem. I'll forget it. Just let Wang Sha live in. I'll go to the Dean first. After dinner"

"All right, let's go"

Zhang Fan is going to ask director Wang where the house is. He hasn't gone out yet. The dean's call came. "How, tired or not, can you still fight"

"No problem, I'll go to the Department now" Zhang Fan thought there was an emergency again.

"Ha ha, it's good to fight. You don't have to go to the Department. Come to the outpatient building"

Zhang Fan, who didn't know why, went downstairs and found the Dean standing next to Elantra on the phone. After hanging up, Batu said to Zhang Fan, "yes, I did a good job in the village this time. The leaders of the county Party committee specially called to praise the county hospital. Now I get on the bus to eat and release. The newcomers have reported. I'll pick them up today to celebrate for you"

"If you want to drink, I won't go, Dean. You know I get drunk as soon as I drink. Let director Shi go"

"Shi Lei has gone. Are you afraid of surgery and drinking? No, no, get in the car. Today, the county leaders will attend, mainly to praise you and pick them up"

Five people were admitted to the hospital this time, two of whom studied clinical, one in public health, one in pharmacy and one in laboratory. There are two boys and the other three are girls. The county leaders attending the banquet were Kang Hua, deputy county head in charge of culture, education and health, and a female county head.

"The county Party committee and the county government are very pleased that the doctors of the county hospital, despite difficulties and difficulties, rode into the pastoral area and rescued life-threatening children with superb medical level and superb technology. Our doctors are the model of the times and Bethune in the new century. On behalf of the county Party committee and government, I congratulate you. Let's pick up the wine glass and wish you a new success“

Batu's mouth was crooked. This was the first time he was affirmed by the superior leaders. He had a headache when he went to the county government meeting before. In addition to the health pacesetter, the county hospital has not been praised by the government. He is under great pressure. This time, he finally showed his face. Not only the county government but also the county Party committee praised him. Can he not be happy.

Chen Qifa is also very excited. Such praise means that the bonus this month will be greatly improved. His children go to high school in the city. It's time to spend money.

A few new faces.

”Didn't you agree to pick us up? How did it become a celebration“