

Medical road

Chapter 127

In the urology department, Zhang Fan has more patients, and the level has been shown. Others have no reason to rob Zhang Fan's patients. LV Shuyan helped a lot, otherwise Zhang Fan would really have to work overtime alone.

Zhang Jingshu has nothing to do during the day and is bored at home. Zhang Fan applied for a driving class for her to learn a driving license. It seems that there are more private cars in the urban area overnight this year. In the future, driving is also a life skill. Take advantage of being free now and go to school early.

In the evening, as long as Zhang Fan has time, she will take Shaohua and Jingshu to find delicious food in the urban area. Jingshu is really a food commodity. Nang pit meat and roast lamb chops are full of oil. Zhang Fan and Shaohua can't eat much. She doesn't think it's hot in Jingshu and doesn't eat enough.

For kidney stones, the Department received a special kidney stone. Haimudura and his superior doctor made an intrarenal lithotripsy. The operation was very successful and the patients were about to be discharged from the hospital. But there was an accident the night before leaving the hospital.

Zhang Fan is on duty and LV Shuyan is there. Now there are many patients. She has to write medical records on the night shift. It was too late to finish writing the medical record and lived directly in the nurse's lounge.

At three o'clock in the morning, ordinary people have already fallen asleep. Zhang Fan and LV Shuyan just lay down. There are too many patients. They paste test sheets, write the course of disease and change dressing. There are a lot of work. There are two operations tomorrow. It won't be long after the conversation and signature.

Just as I was about to fall asleep, I heard the nurse knocking at the door, "Dr. Zhang, go and have a look at bed 15. I urinated blood. The blood volume is not small." Zhang Fan got up, grabbed his white coat and went out of the duty room.

Fifteen men in their thirties are stone patients in haimudura. Zhang Fan quickly walked into the ward and saw that there was about 300ml of bleeding in the basin for washing hands. Because it's not Zhang Fan's patient, I don't know the specific situation. Zhang Fan quickly did a simple physical examination, and then looked through the medical records. He secretly shouted, "there is bleeding in the kidney. It is estimated that the blood vessel is broken."

"Go and call haimudura and say that fifteen beds have urinated blood." After explaining to LV Shuyan, Zhang Fan said to his family: "don't worry, it's estimated that a small blood vessel has ruptured and needs emergency surgery. I'll prepare the signature form. I'll have my family sign it later. "

Accompanying the patient in bed 15 was the patient's wife. Seeing this amount of urine blood, her face turned white. She stood there at a loss and her lips trembled badly. Zhang Fan went out of the ward and said to the nurse, "rehydration! Give hemostatic drugs and make up after the doctor's order. "

Then, I called the imaging department. Although the amount of bleeding was small, there was no way to solve the renal bleeding with drugs. I had to rely on interventional embolization.

The director of the imaging department also lives in the family hospital of the hospital. Zhang Fan felt wrong after calling, and hurriedly called Wang zonghang. When the patient had an accident, he had to report to the superior doctor first. Zhang Fan called the imaging department directly, which was a little nonstandard.

Hearing this, Wang Zong Kui hurriedly said, "call the director of the imaging department to prepare for interventional embolization. I'll be there in a minute. You should prepare for the operation first. " Although Hai pulled away, he still entered the Department with Wang Zong's feet. Zhang Fan and LV Shuyan are ready for preoperative preparation.

Haila and Wang zongkui knew that Zhang Fan was right when they saw the patient. It was estimated that there was a rupture of a small blood vessel in the kidney.

"The director of the imaging department called and said they were ready! Let's send the patient. " The nurse on duty informed several doctors.

"OK, send the patient. All the signatures are finished. Xiao Lu is on duty in the Department. Let's go and have a look. " Lao Wang then set out first. The patient was escorted by lower level doctors and nurses. He didn't have to worry.

When she intervened in the room, Haila thanked Zhang Fan very much and admired him very much. He encountered this situation when he first entered the Department. At that time, he thought it was a simple bleeding and didn't care. As a result, the patient was in shock. Fortunately, the rescue was timely, otherwise it would be a human life.

"Brother, thank you very much."

Although this is what Zhang Fan should do, Zhang Fan handled it in time, called the superior doctor, contacted the relevant departments, talked and signed, did everything well and did quite well.

"You're welcome. It should be. But you're fast enough. "

"Ah! I have to learn to buy a car. It's really troublesome at the critical moment of the evening. I waited for a long time to wait for a taxi. The driver made me angry! "

The patient is not a big problem, because the discovery is timely and the operation is very successful. A few days later, Zhang Fan also slowly integrated into the environment of the urology department. They are all old men. They just came here and don't like the director's attitude towards Zhang Fan. Second, Zhang Fan is too young. After a few days of contact, Zhang fan can make everyone accept him whether in business or in life.

"Brother, this is a hemostatic drug (Commission). You used two yesterday, and you put away eight yuan." Haila wanted to give Zhang Fan money. Zhang Fan smiled bitterly and said, "brother, I really despise people. Just take the money and give it to Zhang Fan specially. It's boring!"

"Ah! I don't know you yet~ OK, I see. I'll invite you to eat mutton when you have a rest in a few days. "

Although the director of urology department went to the clinic after the morning meeting in the morning, he didn't seem to care about the work of the Department at all. In fact, he has long subdivided the management of the Department to many people.

He manages drug rebates, collects equipment shares, and has three vice highs. Several attending doctors are active. In this way, he is not only idle, but also can't find him in the Department because of money, and the doctors below can supervise each other!

Although this feels good, he can hardly bear much responsibility, but because of his character, he can only stop at the Department Director. Really, this society is very contradictory.

On Friday, Haila received the patient. The director admitted him to a patient with severe left hydronephrosis, which has lost the possibility of conservative treatment. The best treatment is to remove the left kidney.

Originally, this kind of patient can only be done on Tuesday and Wednesday, because many examinations can't be done on weekends. But the patient's family has a distant relative who works in the municipal Party committee. They are typically not in a hurry before seeing a doctor, but not after seeing a doctor. They think it is good to have an operation early. Their relatives are a small official in the municipal Party committee.

Through various relationships, finally, a section chief of the Health Bureau called the director of Urology, which meant that it was best to have the operation done at the weekend.

Generally, Li Jianguo will never have an operation in advance. If the examination is not perfect, he will have an operation. I'm kidding! This is to take great risks. According to his cautious character, he will never do it. But the section chief has a little real power and may be promoted, so Lao Li urged the following doctors to finish the examination quickly.

The director hurried. Haila accompanied the patient for examination. A chief doctor was sweating like a nurse and ran around to dredge various medical technology departments. In this way, we finished the routine inspection, but there are still some special inspections that need time. Even if we urge them, we can't do it!

Li Jianguo looked at the returned examination results. The patient's vital signs were normal, there were no chronic diseases, and his age was not big. He said, "that's it. Arrange an operation tomorrow morning. Dr. Haila and Dr. Zhang will work overtime tomorrow morning and do the operation with me."

"OK, director." Zhang Fan replied.