

Medical road

Chapter 129

The operation continued. Haila finally completed the task, liberated Li Jianguo's hands, sucked blood with an attractor, and began to look for mutated blood vessels.

"Found it!" Hella said with a little excitement.

"Can't I see? I need you to say! ~" Li Jianguo offended him. Haila blushed and didn't dare to speak again. Haila's words in front really annoyed Li Jianguo.

Li Jianguo was originally a very cautious person. This patient is very special. Li Jianguo attaches great importance to the relationship he is looking for. In Haila's words, if someone with a heart sends it out, the family members who do not know the specific situation will definitely find Li Jianguo in trouble. So he'll be angry.

If you find the bleeding blood vessel, you are not afraid. Suture, ligate and stop bleeding, and close the abdomen. After the operation, Hera was depressed. I've offended the director. I can't run away with my little shoes in the future.

"It's all right, brother Hai. He's a little anxious just after the operation. The director is in a bad mood. He'll be fine in a few days. In a word, he can't take revenge."

"Ah! Brother, thank you. Thank you today. Otherwise, I would have made a big deal today. I was confused at that time. No reaction. Recently, we should keep a low profile and avoid this period of time first. Lao Li is very small-minded and worries me to death! "

"It's all right. Lao Li won't argue with you!"

"Hope! I'll treat you to dinner later, brother. I've been busy all morning. "

"No, I have something else to do. Don't worry about me. I'll go first. "

In the ward, Haila specially explained relevant matters to her family. Shao Hua and Jing Shu have gone on a tour. Zhang Fan is going to Li Xiao's house with vacuum lily.

When Zhang Fan was young, this Lily was not valuable at all, and there were not many people who ate it. When people in Lan City drank porridge, they didn't know when it became popular to eat lilies in Southeast Asia and the harbor. The value of lilies in LAN city doubled with the wind. They didn't eat much before, but now they can't afford to eat them.

Yesterday, Li Xiao specially called Zhang Fan and asked Zhang Fan to have dinner at her house at noon. Li Xiao has called Zhang Fan every three or five times since his lumbar spine was better, or asked Zhang Fan to go to their house for dinner. Zhang Fan doesn't have much time and seldom goes.

Li Xiao now pays special attention to exercise. She gets up to do Zhang fanjiao's aerobics two hours a day. I don't know whether it's because of aerobics or good maintenance. She looks better and brighter recently.

After a trip to the bird market, her sister was surprised. In the past, she had low back pain, Li Xiao had a bad temper, and after her lumbar spine was better, she was happy as a whole.

Her sister also cares about her very much. In her early years, Li Xiao was single because of her feelings. How to persuade her not to find another lover. Li Xiao told her sister about her treatment. Her sister didn't care, but her nephew Ma Wentao paid attention. Her nephew is also an alternative.

Li Xiao's brother-in-law is the No. 2 head of the frontier, but her nephew has no interest in politics at all. Her brother-in-law also worked step by step from the grass-roots level in those years, and he was also a small cadre in his early years.

After Ma Wentao went to junior high school, his Lao Tzu began to make a serious career and kept promoting from the county to the city. His Lao Tzu was busy with his work and regarded Ma Wentao as a stocking management.

After Lao Tzu Ma Wentao became famous, with the promotion of his official position, more and more people flattered him, fighting, puppy love and forming gangs. Don't let him do what he does. In the end, his father sent him out of the country. As he grew older, Ma Wentao also changed a lot and kept a low profile.

From Britain, to the United States, and then back to Europe, and finally somehow mixed up with a master's degree from the European School of business administration. After working for several years in the world's top 500 enterprises, he was mixed into the position of regional head. As a result, he resigned.

Then there is the travel all over the world. The girlfriends around me keep changing, and the longest one has been maintained for half a year. His family background is good, and Ma Wentao also has a little evil handsome. Even if he doesn't mention his family background, he can provoke many beautiful women! No way, the handsome one suffers, doesn't he! Recently, he may be tired of playing or want to settle down. He has returned home for half a year and doesn't communicate with the people around him before. He either stayed at home or went to various places for investigation. His father wanted him to enter politics, but Ma Wentao didn't. His father can't help him.

From an ordinary civil servant to a functional leader, Ma Wentao was caught off guard by the change of his Lao Tzu's status. The sudden crowd of people made him almost a standard dandy, but he changed slowly in the past few years abroad. First, his character was not wrong, and his family education was OK. Second, his Lao Tzu was cruel in the past few years abroad, If he becomes a talent or not, he must be allowed to grow up. The cost of living is enough for a basic life. There is no way to ask for more money. Ma Wentao has also experienced a working career. After several years of experience, his father's goal is to succeed.

After working in a large enterprise for several years, I want to start my own business. His father wanted him to enter politics. He didn't do it. His father was angry and didn't give him any help. He wanted him to change his mind when he hit a wall. Ma Wentao is also stubborn!

He has some money in his hand, and her mother can start a business secretly. Even if it is not enough, there is no rich Aunt Li Xiao!

When Li Xiao said Zhang Fan's level, he was a little moved. He was very optimistic about China's medical market. Now the private medical market is still a wilderness era. People in a certain field are rampant, and a truly powerful private medical group has not yet appeared.

He is ready to bring in a group of competent and capable doctors to enter the industry.

Years of living abroad, coupled with the growth of age and experience, has made him lose his flashiness. The experience of large companies in the world has made his management and vision very sharp. He believes that the future of China must be an era when the country retreats and the people advance. A good job in business is not necessarily worse than politics.

China's private hospitals take a relatively shortcut path, and few bend down to study and forge ahead. General private hospitals do well in public hospitals, contracted departments or contracted hospitals.

A little less powerful is to engage in specialized departments, including andrology, gynecology, anorectal, hand and foot surgery, which are not prone to accidents, or departments that are not done in large hospitals, or diseases that make patients difficult to talk about and ashamed to see others.

The next level is to attract a group of retired doctors to open a physical examination center and only do all kinds of physical examinations! There is almost no risk, mainly fooling some physical examination personnel to do some expensive but meaningless examinations.

The real large-scale private hospitals don't succeed much. Do hospitals make money? To make money, according to the frontier tea vegetable City, the income of municipal hospitals can definitely rank in the top three among enterprises.

Doctors and nurses are the most important to the success of the hospital, and doctors are more important. Therefore, Ma Wentao has begun to prepare to find some capable doctors.

When Li Xiao returned to tea vegetable City, Ma Wentao also came. He was ready to start his business in tea vegetable city again. And see Zhang Fan again. Li Xiao has praised Zhang Fan to the sky. He doesn't believe it. However, according to Li Xiao's state, the doctor should be good at it.
