

Medical road

Chapter 132

LV Shuyan's words have made Zhang Fan think for a long time. Zhang Fan is not a student who has just entered the society. He has experienced the cruelty of the society when he was in college. In the past two years of hospital life, he has more realized the complexity of interpersonal relations.

The medical industry is a competitive and cooperative industry. If there is competition, we can cooperate more. Although technology is the king in this industry, once the relationship with colleagues is not handled well and isolated, it will be troublesome. It's impossible to fight alone. Then you really become a novel character!

"Take your time!" Zhang Fan sighed. He was in no mood to go to the dormitory to read. He had to go to the operating room to brush the operation, so that fatigue could drive away these annoying things.

The urology department is commonly known as the sewer department by doctors in the hospital. There are many emergency departments. Several doctors in the Department never eat animal kidneys.

"As soon as I eat the kidney, I think of the kidney I took during the operation, so I haven't eaten the kidney since I worked in the urology department! In particular, the roasted big kidney, with a little blood, feels like holding the waist removed in the operating room in your hand! Can't eat!" Haila told Zhang Fan herself.

At present, the biggest operation in urology is kidney replacement. Because of the lack of technical strength, doctors in big cities are usually invited to do it. Moreover, there are few kidney sources in frontier areas, and there is no case in several years. And later nursing can't keep up. The most important reason is that surgery is rare, and Li Jianguo doesn't want to develop, so urology is an ordinary department.

Zhang Fan will never enter the urology department in the future. The development of a hospital depends partly on the support of the state and the ability of the president. If a mediocre president only cares about making money, the medical level of the hospital will regress in a few years.

A department is also a truth. The president is in charge of the general direction, and the director is in charge of the details. If a director is not enterprising, the Department will be suppressed by him, unless there is a person who crushes him in professional skills. However, in reality, such cases are too few. According to Li Jianguo's cautious character, it is estimated that during his tenure as director, It is unlikely to develop urology.

Zhang Fan's task now is to brush the operation as much as possible. No matter what the system will be like in the future, his own skills are more important. He can't and dare not wait and rely on it. Relying on the mountain and everyone, self-improvement is the most reliable.

After nephrectomy, Lao Li specially explained to the head nurse, "Zhang Fan's bonus this month is also included, and his coefficient will go according to the attending treatment." Although the head nurse was surprised, she had no objection. After all, a department is still dominated by directors.

Li Jianguo also plans to give Zhang Fan a share of the rest. This is his reward for Zhang Fan. During the nephrectomy, Zhang Fan operated accurately, which not only saved the patient's life, but also helped Li Jianguo and saved his reputation.

Like Qigong masters, surgeons can't break their skills. Once they break their skills once, their previous achievements will be in vain. Especially in small places, people won't remember your previous achievements. They will only say: "Li Jianguo's skills are not good. Whoever is killed by him on the operating table. The scene was terrible! He Li Jianguo can't even distinguish blood vessels. As soon as he scissors down, he will kill anyone! "

There are many such things! So Li Jianguo was very grateful to Zhang Fan. Although he didn't say it, he was really grateful in his heart, so he rewarded Zhang Fan with money. Shaohua and Jingshu played for two days and took a lot of photos. Jing Shu, like Zhang Fan, has never ridden a horse. This time, she specially took a picture of riding on the grassland. The little girl smiled brightly. She was admitted to the University. There was no pressure in life. Finally, she was able to show her face in the flowering season. With her brother, she no longer had to consider whether she applied with the teacher not to buy a new school uniform and whether it was OK to wear an old school uniform.

In the last ten days, Zhang Fan was really shameless. He went to the emergency department, whether emergency or not, or surgery. Anyway, it was only ten days, and the doctors in the Department were hard to say about him. Like Haila, who was closer, directly scheduled the operation to Zhang Fan.

Haila was surprised, "is there something wrong with this boy? How does he love surgery? He participated in 80% of the operations in Cori this month, and he did 50% of the operations. Isn't he tired with such a large amount of labor?" Zhang Fan had an operation for Haila. Haila was happy and relaxed, chatting with other doctors in the Department.

"Hobby is the best teacher. You can't even sew a complex point when you transfer. People can take the group when they transfer. This is the gap." Li Jianguo, who was about to enter, heard Hella's words and stood at the door and said to Hella! He cleaned up Hella several times these days. When Hella saw Li Jianguo, it was like a mouse seeing a cat.

Out of school, Zhang Fan is leaving. Li Jianguo specially organized a department gathering. After a month of getting along, from exclusion to acceptance, and then to helplessness, Zhang Fan had a profound impact on urologists. I'm leaving. Several young attending doctors have agreed to intoxicate Zhang Fan! LV Shuyan's influence on urology is also very good. Many of Zhang Fan's crazy operations are done by LV Shuyan as an assistant. The old doctors are filled with emotion: "generation by generation is stronger than generation!"

Zhang Fan doesn't need them to drink. Three cups of persuasion! Let urologists have no sense of achievement! I went out of school and had dinner. There is a friendship with urology! Wang Qian also came back from the tour. Zhang Fan and Shao Hua went to Wang Qian's house with their sister to thank them.

When she learned about Jingshu's achievements, her surprised mouth couldn't close. "Your brothers and sisters are really excellent, one by one. I really want to see how your parents educate you. They are so powerful and excellent."

"Hehe, sister Wang doesn't need to meet. It's very simple. When I was young, disobedience was a belt and I couldn't run away, but my little sister's treatment was much better. My father didn't touch her finger. I once doubted whether I was their own son. " Zhang Fan said to Wang Qian with a smile.

"That's right. The boy should be more strict, or he'll be too jumpy. Hey, if my boy is half as good as you, I'll be satisfied! Why did I travel the other day? I was angry with him. "

"The child is still young, just grow up! In fact, I was not obedient before. I didn't fight or skip classes. When I was a little older, I knew my parents' bitter conscience! " Zhang Fan comforted.

Wang Qian didn't expect Zhang Fan to give them an idea. It's just a sigh. If Zhang Fan really gives Wang Qian an idea, he'll be a little stunned. As the saying goes, a good son is still his best. There's nothing wrong. He can say that his son is bad, but if others say bad, it's a deep friendship!