

《Medical road》

Chapter 37

There are many patients in the hospital. Tea vegetable city is too far from the capital. If you are sick, you can only see a doctor here. After Zhang Fan joined the post, Lao Gao asked Li Hongtu and Zhang Fan to form a group. Zhang Fan actually wants to transfer, but Lao Gao's posture makes it impossible to transfer. Li Hongtu is a good man. He doesn't have a strong desire for control. He and Zhang fan are in a group, which can give full play to Zhang Fan's advantages. Wu Jinxi's group has stopped accepting patients recently. The morning meeting in the morning department is the battlefield between him and Lao Gao.

Li Hongtu received an old lady with a broken femoral head, in her seventies. His physical condition was OK. He was busy at home. He fell down while mopping the floor and broke his femoral head. This needs a half hip“ How about hip replacement? Have you done it? ” In the director's office, Lao Gao asks Zhang Fan“ It's not a big problem. When Qingniao studies, he often does it. ”

"Well, you're the main knife today." Artificial hip arthroplasty refers to a prosthesis made of metal materials similar to human bone and joint, which uses surgical methods to replace the joint surface damaged by disease or injury. Artificial joint replacement has the advantages of good joint movement, early underground movement and reducing the complications of long-term bedridden elderly patients.

"OK, I'll be ready."

"Well, for the time being, you'll use Li Qiong's equipment. You're not familiar with the others. Lao Li is easy to talk." This surgeon has to go to four, which is a major operation in orthopedic joints. Xue Fei and Zhou Chengfu are the second and third assistants, and Li Hongtu is the first. Although I have great confidence in Zhang Fan, after all, this operation is not small, and it is Zhang Fan's first operation in the municipal hospital. Lao Gao also went to the operating room early.

Xue Fei and Zhou Chengfu have a look at each other. It's not good. A resident doctor, Lao Gao specially set up a stage for him to sing. Are you a relative? Xue Fei squeezed his eyes. Zhou Chengfu understood what he meant and didn't help or pull back. Although they are both apprentices of Lao Gao, the resources of a department are limited. When a doctor younger and more valued than them appears, they are embarrassed.

At the beginning of the operation, the skin and fascia were cut layer by layer to blunt separate the muscles. Bone setting and mortar grinding. The equipment manufacturer is a little girl under Li Qiong's hand. She prepared the equipment early. In turn, Zhang Fan did it in an orderly manner. Although Xue Fei and Zhou Chengfu will not take the initiative to help, they dare not make trouble. As an assistant, Li Hongtu always pays attention to Zhang Fan's surgical steps.

"Very skilled, precise, no more than. That's awesome. " Li Hongtu was secretly surprised. Where did Lao Gao find the master? He is not old and his skills are really good. Say a bad thing, in the Department, except Lao Gao and Lao Wu, the operation of others is absolutely not as powerful as Zhang Fan.

"It has been improved a lot, and the details are more and more accurate." Lao Gao looked at Zhang Fan's operation with emotion and only separated for half a year. Zhang Fan's surgical level has been improved by several grades. In the past, it was amazing at most, but now it is amazing directly. Xue Fei and Zhou Chengfu are holding their legs in different positions. They look depressed. It's very difficult for them to help with this kind of hip replacement surgery, not to mention the main knife, but how old this guy is now and has begun to take the main knife. What else will they do in the future.

"Doctor Zhang, the operation is really powerful. When the certificate comes down, you can take the group directly." Xue Fei raised his legs as if he were praising Zhang Fan. In fact, he pointed out one thing. Zhang Fan has no certificate, and to lead the group, at least it must be a vice high school. He just wants others to be vigilant against Zhang Fan. Everyone is not stupid. Everyone knows Xue Fei's purpose. The work of the Department can not be completed by one person. Today, Lao Gao set up a platform for Zhang Fan. Next, he had to appease his two disciples.

"The future work can't be the same as before. The eyebrows and beard are grasped and the score is clear. Joint and spine grouping. The three-level diagnosis and treatment system of vice high school, attending and inpatient doctors must be strictly observed. Those who have ideas can come down and talk to me. " One group to reduce internal friction in the Department. It is also conducive to his management.

Skin suture, drainage, end of operation. Zhang Fan has no intention of competing with them at all. The main purpose of his coming to the city hospital is to upgrade the system as soon as possible. As for the income, it's ok if he can afford his sister to go to college. It's really tired to look around for equipment rebates and drug rebates every day“ Dr. Xue praised me. I'm just a small resident. You are all my superior doctors. I still understand the rules. " Zhang Fan still has to have a good relationship with them. There is no way to upgrade the system.

"Doctor Zhang, you're welcome." Xue Fei saw that Zhang Fan was very modest. His Master Lao Gao had to face him. Li Hongtu is not in good health. He usually has few patients and his income is relatively reduced. Lao Gao gave Zhang Fan to him, which is also a kind of compensation in disguise. After all, when Lao Gao just became a director, Li Hongtu still gave face and recognized his status early.

Back to the Department, Zhang Fan had to write his own cases and let Lao Chen and Li Liang contract the medical records in the county. There are also several doctors who have been transferred. Zhang Fan's group is a female doctor. She has just graduated this year and can enter the third class hospital after graduation. She is not an ordinary person. Zhang Fan himself is still a resident doctor, and he is embarrassed to ask others to work.

In the doctor's duty room, Xue Fei lay on the duty bed and said to Zhou Chengfu, "Zhou, what do you think? Lao Gao wants to group. Which group do you want to go to?" The income of spine and joints is similar, and the work intensity is also similar. The relative spine is slightly stronger.

"I want to do spine, and you."

"I'll do the spine, too. Look at the new one. Just change the hip. Is there a way out for me to go to the joint. Tell me why this guy is so good. " Although a little jealous of Lao Gao's platform for Zhang Fan, he still admires Zhang Fan's level.

"Who says not? It's estimated that just graduated students are too strong. Lao Gao completely blocked Lao Wu's retreat. Later, he engaged in spine, and Zhang Fan could take down his joints. Lao Wu has no place to come back. "

"Alas! Generation by generation is stronger. I heard that the hospital will not recruit undergraduates in the future. If there are more graduate students in the Department, our life will be really difficult. " Xue Fei is a little melancholy.

"So, don't aim at Zhang Fan. It's meaningless not to say it and offend others. Zhang Fan is also an undergraduate. Like us, as long as we have a good relationship, what can new doctors do in the future."

"You have a lot of thoughts. I guess when you see someone else's operation today, you think of it. Alas, I'm stupid. I have to stay away from you smart people in the future. I don't know when it will be sold. "

"Don't talk. If you have time in the evening, we are also Lao Gao's lineage. Please have a meal with Zhang Fan. I don't think Zhang Fan is a domineering person. He should be easy to deal with. "
