

《Medical road》

Chapter 44

Guli's equipment finally got to the hospital. Lao Gao didn't have to worry about the follow-up procedures. Li Qiong fought for an aid project and reduced Guli's material cost by more than 10000, which was not exempted in vain. After Guli's operation, they had to take photos, take videos and advertise them. Moreover, Guli was a preparatory athlete with better effect. If ordinary people estimated that they could not get this reduction.

As soon as the instruments came, Zhang Fan actively prepared for the operation. Write the operation list and give it to Lao Gao. Lao Gao signs it and puts it in the nurse station. After work, the office nurse of the operation department comes to get the operation list, and then go back to the operation room according to the operation list and provide nurses and various instruments.

The development of arthroscopy in the frontier is relatively slow. The mirror is not cheap, and no doctor has taken the initiative to ask for further study. The hospital has not carried out much. Lao Li was in poor health, so he picked it up. Others didn't love him and lived lightly. That's what he needs at present. As for a small income, it doesn't matter. Little Guli is naturally nervous. She is going to go to the operating table and smiles. If other children are absolutely afraid of shivering.

Guli didn't eat in the morning. She had to be anesthetized for surgery. She couldn't eat. After eating, she was afraid that the patient would suffocate due to food inhalation into the trachea after anesthesia coma. "Brother, when can I leave the hospital. It's really boring to lie in bed every day. " After she got familiar with Zhang Fan, she called Zhang Fan's brother.

Zhang Fan pushed her bed and said, "soon, as long as you obey, you will spread flowers like a pony." Because she was a child, Zhang Fan worried that she was nervous, so he personally sent her into the operating room. But she had no fear at all, which worried Zhang Fanbai.

When anesthesia began, Zhang Fan and Lao Li washed their hands and Wang Yanan raised his legs. Zhang Fan is in charge of the knife. There are still many things to install equipment and get the lens. Lao Li is still a vice high when he is old, so Wang Yanan can only raise his legs. Fortunately, Guli is a little girl. If she is a big man, it is estimated that Wang Yanan can't lift it. There are requirements and standards for surgical leg lifting. First, disinfect the area to be operated, all the way to the toes. At the end of disinfection, hold one or two toes of the patient with one hand and lift the whole leg away from the operating bed so that the operator can disinfect. It's hard.

Punch a hole, put the lens and look for the tear point. Zhang Fan memorizes Guli's MRI in his heart and finds the tear point at once. After reconfirmation, take out Johnson & Johnson's biological screw, and Zhang Fan picks up the round head knife and starts trimming. As soon as he was about to cut, Lao Li stopped: "Zhang, what are you doing?"

Zhang Fan stopped and said to Lao Li, "this screw is too big. It's not necessary to put it all in. After all, it's a foreign body. The smaller it is, the easier it is to recover. "

"You have a good idea. This thing is a little bigger. If you cut it small and put it in, you can't bear the tension. Finally, it breaks inside and the damage will be even greater. " Lao Li said anxiously. Zhang Fan didn't talk about trimming the screw before the operation. Lao Li was most afraid of his temporary intention and didn't think it over.

"Don't worry, director Li. I've thought about it for several days before the operation. It's absolutely all right. I calculated that adding a plaster outside is enough. She may want to take the path of athletes in the future. If she can reduce the injury, she can reduce the injury. "

Lao Li was stunned and said, "OK, I agree. If something happens, I'll take it. You let it go. "

"Thank you, thank you, Miss Li."

Zhang Fan picked up the scalpel and was about to cut it. As a result, Wang Yanan said, "this thing can be 30000."

Zhang Fanbai glanced at her and began to cut. To tell you the truth, Lao Li has a great relationship with Tianda. He doesn't understand the power of this. A deputy high school student in a municipal class III hospital has spent half his life in the hospital and is very clear about the consequences of medical accidents, but he is still willing to work for Zhang Fan. It is a kind of responsibility and love. There are many medical malpractices in China. He is scolded by individuals and has been used for just a few decades, The improvement of the medical system and the improvement of medical level will never develop so fast without the responsibility of this gang and the elders who love young doctors.

The screw was originally very small. Zhang Fan cut it about the same thickness as a match. Punch holes, screw in screws, wash, plaster and fix. Lao Li was really sweating. When he put on the screw, he was afraid that two-thirds of the screw would be cut off and broken by a click. After putting on the plaster, I put my heart down“ Xiao Zhang, you must take good care of this. You should use more snacks. If this operation can be replicated, it will have great potential in sports medicine. ”

Li Hui misses Wang Sha a little recently. Just a few months ago, Li Hui enjoyed himself from the county to the city. He also called Wang Sha, but the other party had put him on the blacklist. He didn't pay special attention. He was tired of playing for several months. It's boring. I Miss Wang Sha. Wang Sha can't get through. Call someone to let Wang Sha answer the phone and hang up as soon as I hear it. No one in the back directly conveyed it to Li Hui.

Zhang Fan was just getting ready to give Li Xiao treatment after work. Li Hui called: "Zhang Fan, let's go. I'll invite you to dinner. Are you off work?"

"No, I have something else to do. Go and eat by yourself. It saves you money. "

"Why are you busy? I can't see you all day. When we're finished, let's talk. We're very upset. "

Hearing that Li Hui was a little decadent, Zhang Fan said, "well, I'll call you when I'm finished. First of all, I'm not going to the bar. " When Li Hui first came, he was in a panic. He wanted to go to the bar to find an affair, but he didn't dare to go alone, so he cheated Zhang Fan. As a result, Zhang Fan went in and went out. It's full of smoke and music.

After a week's treatment for Li Xiao, he rechecked CT and took an X-ray. The position of the bulging lumbar spine changed. Although the change was small, there were signs of retraction. Moreover, Li Xiao's symptoms have also been significantly reduced.

Li Xiao's attitude towards Zhang Fan is different from Wang Qian and Dong Hua. Wang Qian really takes Zhang Fan as her family. Dong Hua is a little reserved and maintains a posture of Zhang Fan's leadership. Li Xiao is more direct and speaks with money. She thought Zhang Fan's treatment was worth as much as she could. She thinks the simplest thing that can be solved with money is not to bother. Li Xiao, a real estate developer, there are too many houses in the city. Behind Zhang Fan hospital is the downtown area of the city, with a real estate developed by her. According to Zhang Fan's income, I didn't want to buy it. It's too expensive.

Zhang Fan estimated that there were more than 200 square meters in a super large room on the top floor. The decoration is luxurious. White cashmere carpets are paved under the table. In the house, the assistant made tea for Zhang Fan early and took out cigarettes and ashtrays“ Dr. Zhang, you doctors are really busy. If you work overtime every day, you don't even have time to eat. " After the last treatment, Li Xiao asked Zhang Fan to have dinner. As a result, the hospital called the emergency department.

Zhang Fan hung up and ran away.

After more than a week of treatment, the effect is becoming more and more obvious. Li Xiaofang's inquiries all said that massage was useless. But Zhang Fan's treatment of her is really effective. The doctor is good at it. After more than 40 minutes of treatment, Zhang Fan said to Li Xiao, "Sister Li, it's a consolidation period of recovery recently. It's best not to have more seats and don't lift heavy objects. Lie flat if you can. The lumbar vertebra was returned to its original position. You have to wear a abdominal belt to stabilize your lumbar spine. "

"Doctor Zhang, what kind of abdominal belt do you need and what requirements do you have? I'll write it down and buy it later." Li Xiao's assistant immediately took out a small book for recording.

"Just the kind of abdominal band sold in the hospital. After I buy it, I can adjust the tightness and put it on."

"Then please wait a minute, Doctor Zhang. I'll buy it now. " Then the assistant took a look at Li Xiao.

"OK, you go to the hospital and we'll have it."

"Dr. Zhang, sit down and have some tea. Xiao Chen opens the cigarette for Dr. Zhang. " Let's go. The assistant and the driver. A female driver, very capable, with obvious arm muscles, seems to be a trainer. As a doctor, Zhang Fan knows that this kind of muscle is exercised every day.

"Thank you. I'll do it myself."

"Dr. Zhang, I guess that apart from some old bone setting traditional Chinese medicine, most Western doctors don't know much about it." She did her homework, too.

"My massage is western medicine, combined with a little traditional Chinese medicine." Zhang Fan didn't answer positively. There's no need to steal or rob.

"I heard that you are a frontier supported by the West. Are you still used to life. The climate here is better than your hometown. There is no sandstorm, but Lan City is not as prosperous as you. "

"It's OK. It's all in the West. There's nothing unaccustomed to life."

Li Hui and others were impatient, and Zhang fancai appeared“ If you don't come again, I'll starve to death. "

"Then go quickly. How much do you want to spend on inviting me to dinner? I'll go back to the dormitory if it's less than 100."

"OK, let's go. Little Sichuan, fry some hard dishes. I'm in a bad mood! "
