

Medical road

Chapter 56

After the results came down, Zhang Fan's passing with high scores was vigorously publicized by the hospital among young doctors. It probably means that people can take more than 500 exams, but you can't even pass 360. Then the medical department gave Zhang Fan a bonus of 1000 yuan. More than 500 yuan is directly the highest in the tea vegetable city. In previous years, there is almost no higher than Zhang Fan in the municipal hospital.

A month's hepatobiliary surgery was performed in the last few days. After graduation, the hospital gave the transferred doctors a three-day leave. The transferred doctors were too tired. Let's talk about surgery. Make a ward round in the morning and see how many patients there were. One doctor in the municipal hospital managed about ten beds. A half-hour ward round is gone. Give the doctor's order for half an hour, sign and talk for half an hour, change the dressing according to the size of the operation, generally even for the first half an hour, record the course of the disease for two hours, issue the discharge record, and issue the checklist for the new admission for one hour each. It's already taken six hours. It's still a small job. I have time to do it. The big job is to have surgery, three operations a day, even with anesthesia, and wake up for an hour and a half. This is nearly five hours. These jobs alone have to work overtime to complete. In case of an emergency, you have to stay up late. But there are many emergencies in the hospital. It's not normal not to come to the emergency department.

When I meet a doctor with many patients in the Department, I want to go home! Dream, find an empty ward and squint for a while. If you don't want to work, don't want to stay in this department in the future. Although the hospital has given you three days off, you can't be idle. Transferred are young doctors who have just entered the hospital for one or two years, most of them are single, and some young nurses. The party organizations and League organizations in the hospital are waiting for you to have a holiday.

You're not a party member. You're always a league member. You're always a youth. You have to be managed by the Youth League Committee. The Secretary of the Youth League Committee is a young man run by the hospital, not a clinical one. He contacted the youth of many units through the Youth League Committee under the municipal Party committee and held a blind date meeting. I went to the small 200 people. Before the practice examination, Zhang Fan didn't have this idea. Now the results have come down, the certificate was obtained in March, and the state of mind is much calmer.

You still have to participate in organizing activities.

Wang Yanan, Li Hui and Wang Zipeng all attended. There are six people in one seat, three men and three women. Almost none of them belong to the same unit. Melon seeds, drinks and big white rabbits are all young people and organized by the unit. They will be familiar with it after a while. Zhang Fan, a boy at their table is from the Education Bureau, and his eloquence is quite good. The three girls with funny faces are like flowers. Zhang fan can't do it. She can't speak. She can only sit and listen honestly. It's even worse when it comes to dancing. The university is busy selling instant noodles. She has time to learn dancing.

A little nurse in the hospital invited Zhang Fan to dance, but Zhang Fan really can't, and can't help but give the little girl face. So many people watched. Zhang Fan was careful and careful. He was afraid of stepping on others. A song came down and he was covered with sweat. He was more tired than doing an operation. Zhang Fan has no advantage in this kind of blind date. He looks average, his face is black and his clothes are average. Li Xiao's car is valuable. You can't carry it in just to show off.

From beginning to end, several little nurses came to Zhang Fan, but at a glance, Zhang Fan's nervous sweat all over his face softened with laughter. Just after the conference, Zhang Fan ran away without waiting for Li Hui and them. It's really not suitable.

The first day of the three-day holiday was a blind date. The next day, boss Ouyang was just appointed. In order to reflect the spiritual civilization of the hospital and the mental state of medical staff, he was ready to organize a party before the Spring Festival. It's impossible for an old doctor to dance for you. It can only be a young man. The next day, director Li of the general affairs office took him to rehearse the program. If you can make a program, you don't arrange group projects. If you don't perform your specialties, you're sorry. Come on, chorus.

On the third day, Zhang Fan was ready to tidy up his dormitory. The light in the house is very good, and it's good to bask in the sun in winter. As a result, Miao Juan, the head nurse of the first Department of orthopedics, called, "Zhang Fan, what are you doing? Where are you. I'll go to the hospital door. Clean up and hurry. "

Miao Juan is an excellent person, and she is also straightforward. She speaks like a gun. She hung up before Zhang Fan opened her mouth. She has a good sister who works in the tax bureau and her husband is the head of the national development and Reform Commission. The conditions at home are quite good. A girl has graduated from University for two years and works in mobile. It seems that she is also a cadre with staffing. They are also worried if they don't step out of the door after work.

Miao Juan worried that Zhang Fan didn't want to come, so she hung up. Her sister told her for a long time and made her worry. If there was a suitable and excellent young doctor, she would introduce it to her girl. Zhang Fan's performance in the first Department of orthopedics and passed the exam again. His future is very bright. She decided to pull Zhang Fan on a blind date. She can also see that the situation of Zhang Fan's family is not good, but the woman doesn't care. As long as people are honest and work well, it doesn't matter whether they have money or not.

Zhang Fan hurried to the door of the hospital. Miao Juan looked up and thought Zhang Fan was OK in dress. He took his arm and said, "there's a good thing today. My sister is cheap for you. Go to dinner and meet someone. "

"Who is it?"

Miao Juan took Zhang Fan by the arm and said, "blind date, a beautiful little girl. I've already agreed, and you promised me. Go quickly, but you can't go back. " Zhang Fan doesn't remember when he promised. But Miao Juan can't help it. Let's go.

Shanghe restaurant is the only chain western restaurant in chasu city. Uyghur and Kazakh people especially like western food, and their business is very good. You should book a place in advance for dinner. When you arrive at the restaurant, you find that the person you want to see has arrived, not only the beautiful girl, but also her mother. After introducing each other, they took their seats. The girl Jia SuYue, whose family is from the south of China, carries the thoughts of her grandfather's generation in her name.

Jia SuYue's mother is quite satisfied with Zhang Fan. Zhang Fan gives her the feeling that she is calm, not impetuous, looks general, and her height is OK. After sitting with Miao Juan for a while, her mother found an excuse and left. Before leaving, the head nurse specially pinched Zhang Fan's arm and threw a fierce look, which means to behave well and don't embarrass my mother. Zhang Fan's situation has been clearly revealed by Miao Juan to her sister. The backbone of the Department works hard and doesn't go to nightclubs. The wind rating is good. Middle-aged and elderly women care about this.

When they left, Zhang Fan was embarrassed and the girl opposite ignored him. He doesn't know what to say. Jia SuYue talked about it at the University. As a result, he went abroad and didn't go back. There are many people chasing her at work, but none of them can be seen by her. Jia SuYue is a real Yan Kong. Zhang Fan is black. She doesn't like it at first. In order not to give the other party an illusion, he ignored Zhang Fan directly. She was also worried that Zhang Fan was a brown sugar that couldn't be thrown off if she gave a little color.

They were silent for a few minutes and served. Zhang Fan's tragedy of TN again. I can't eat Western food! This meal made him too uncomfortable, and it was difficult for him to leave. Anyway, he had to give the head nurse face. He had to endure it. He had to wait for the girl to go. He had to buy the order and explain it to the head nurse. The girl just eats and doesn't talk. Although Zhang is good, Zhang Fan has no expectations. Why should the things set out be annoying.

When you think about it, you are relieved. If you can't eat Western food, you simply don't eat it. Sit and wait.

"Why don't you go?" The girl opened her mouth and said that her posture had scared away n blind dates.

"I have to pay, or the head nurse can eat me back." Zhang Fan is honest. Explain clearly to others that we are not a dog skin plaster.

"What if it weren't for your head nurse?"

"Then I can't come here."

There's nothing to say again. After dinner. Zhang Fan pays the bill. It really hurts. It's more than 300“ Why don't we walk together? " Said the girl.
