

Medical road

Chapter 81

The second Department of orthopedics is not divided into joint and spine groups. Patients are received in one group for one day. They will see what disease they receive and what surgery they do. There is no choice. The expert clinic is attended by the director and deputy director, and the general clinic is attended once every three months.

Zhang Fan and Wang Yanan have no patients yet. Today, they can't receive patients. They sit and read in the Department. Other transferred doctors were busy changing dressing and filling out forms, and neither of them was called. It's not the envy of several other transferred doctors.

Towards the end of the afternoon, the medical office called: "Dr. Zhang, you come to the medical office." Zhang Fan didn't ask anything. He told Wang Yanan, and then went to the infirmary.

"Dr. Zhang sat down." The director of the medical office warmly greeted Zhang Fan. Zhang Fan went in and had a look. Li Hui and several young doctors who entered the hospital a year earlier were there.

"Thank you, director." After Zhang Fan was polite, he sat next to Li Hui.

"Well, everyone is here. You are the youngest excellent doctors in our hospital. Today, the licensed doctor's certificate was issued to the hospital. I'm here to congratulate you. From today on, you have become a real doctor with the right to prescribe. This is not only your power, but also your responsibility and obligation. I won't say much, that is, please cherish this power and earnestly fulfill this responsibility and obligation in your future medical practice. Please be cautious, cautious and cautious in the process of medical practice. "

The director of the medical office looked serious, and the young doctors were also solemn. After the director finished speaking, the staff of the medical department came with a doctor's signature book and asked the young doctors to sign one by one and leave a copy. In the future practice, this is the original prescription. Check the handwriting and review the prescription.

Li Hui registered in internal medicine, and Zhang Fan did not hesitate to fill in surgery. Out of the door, several doctors who have just obtained a practicing certificate are very happy. They have five years of undergraduate course and two years of internship. Seven years of hard work is to have this certificate.

Although the career of doctors has just begun, they have entered the threshold of doctors“ If it were in ancient times, we would be in the same year. Let's have dinner tonight. Although we usually meet, we are not familiar with each other. Today, even if it is a graduation banquet, we can get familiar with each other and take care of each other in the future. " Wang Hong, who is currently transferred to gynecology department, is a party member and a newly appointed senior official of the hospital regiment.

The others agreed. Zhang Fan didn't speak because Li Hui had given him to the representative“ We both came a year later than you, but we graduated in the same year. We had long wanted to find an organization, but we just didn't have a chance. Secretary Wang's suggestion is really great! How considerate of us! " Although Wang Hong is ordinary, she already has the temperament of working women. Li Hui can't see any better women. He began to open the screen.

With the certificate, although the results have long come down, Zhang Fan also sighed when he really got the certificate. If you had a certificate, you might not be able to come to the frontier. Of course, you might not get the system. After two years of living away from home, leaving school and entering society, Zhang Fan has quickly matured, with gains and losses.

In the second bone section, Wang Yanan looked at Zhang Fan's practice certificate with envy“ You've come out of it. Come and find me a picture. I'll put it in the space to show my classmates. " Wang Yanan took the certificate and asked Zhang Fan to take a picture.

After work in the evening, Li Hui didn't know where to get the perfume and sprayed it. Standing downstairs, the smell spread to the second floor“ Is this toilet water? Even toilet water is not so pungent. " Zhang Fan said, smelling the smell of him.

"Know what, this is a special perfume for men, Gulong! Do you understand? "

"All right." Holding his nose, Zhang Fan took a step away from Li Huiyuan. Li Hui must have been deceived. If not, he would have poured half a bottle. His perfume is too strong.

Wang Hong booked a good restaurant early, little fat sheep, a very popular and famous instant boiled mutton restaurant. After work, they met at the gate of the hospital and set out to the restaurant together.

Wang Hong came forward to contact the dinner party. She was not only familiar with each other, but also more mature than others. She was the president of the student union in college. They are school activists. Although they don't adapt for half a year after entering the hospital, the hospital is not a school. It's useless for you to be active and recruit people to gossip. You have to rely on technology.

After two small losses, she began to work hard, was recognized by doctors in the Department, actively participated in various activities of the hospital, and showed her talents in front of the leaders. The Secretary of the Communist Youth League also fell on her because of Lao Huang's retirement.

Although it is a connecting organization, it is really difficult to work in technical units. Doctors and nurses are already very busy. If it's no good for the regiment to organize activities, she can hardly hire doctors, and she doesn't have the right to make administrative orders. In spring, she wanted to organize a young doctor's tree planting activity, but no one signed up. In the end.

In hospitals, this kind of thing is not paid attention to, but there are so many intellectuals, but the number of Party members is not very large. Most doctors don't have the idea of entering the official career, so they are indifferent to this kind of thing. The activists who join the party every year are semi designated, and they don't take the initiative to tell the truth.

Wang Hong wants to start with these new doctors and drive them to organize activities. At least she is better than when she is a bare pole commander alone. Her work is done step by step. The League Secretary has worked for several years and has a little capital. He has not been able to enter the leadership of the hospital, and this is also a shortcut.

Wang Hong is generous. No one will be left out in the cold. Everyone who eats instant boiled mutton hot pot is in high spirits. Young male doctors who have just entered the society are most likely to be attracted by girls of the same age but more mature. During a meal, several male doctors have been attracted by Wang Hong, and Li Hui is one of them.

Zhang Fan vaguely saw Kang Hua's shadow from her. Although Wang Hong was a little green, who can say ten years later "I must take her." After dinner, on the way back, other people are tea market, leaving only Zhang Fan and Li Hui, Li Hui waved his fist and said.

Zhang Fan knows who she is in Li Hui's mouth. It's not that Zhang Fan despises Li Hui. Li Hui's childlike character and temper can make Wang Hong call him like a fool.

In the end, he will only get a good man card. Women like her are born to follow the strong. Ordinary people can only see her, as solemn as a Buddha.

Zhang Fan didn't persuade Li Hui. He should have suffered a little. Relying on his sweet mouth and cleverness, he can only cheat the little girl. Wang Hong is the nemesis of Li Hui and his kind.

"Why don't you talk? You said last time that your favorite sister wouldn't be Wang Hong. First, fair competition and no Yin moves."

"For example." Zhang Fan is curious. Li Hui wants to mention something about him.

"It's needless to say, such as Wang Sha!" I'm a little embarrassed, but he still said it. According to the situation, Wang Hong was really fascinated.

"I just found out today that you are really not a thing. You're the one who wants to change. But Wang Hong is not for you. Silly white sweet is still your favorite. " Zhang Fan took the opportunity to scold him. If you don't listen, look at himself.

"Know a fart, from tomorrow on, you will be optimistic. As long as you don't do bad things, one month, one month. If you can't take her, I'll treat you to dinner for one month."

"No, just don't harm me."
