

Medical road

Chapter 95

Shaohua returned home. Her parents were waiting in the living room. The two old people looked at Shaohua. Shaohua was really shy. He was so old that his parents had never seen him with such eyes.

"Huazi, come and tell your mother." Her parents were like great enemies. They worried about bumps when they were young, afraid of her injury, and worried about being cheated when they grew up. Although looking at Zhang Fanting's duty, we can see that people know the face but don't know the heart. How can parents not worry.

Her father has been smoking in silence. When his daughter is old, he can't say something, but he's no less worried than his wife.

"You smoke less and want to choke us?"

"Mom, Zhang Fan was introduced to Jia SuYue by the head nurse of their hospital, but they couldn't see each other. Moreover, Zhang Fan was so angry with Jia SuYue that he pulled me to help. As a result!" Shao Hua is a little speechless.

"Why don't you look up to it? Zhang Fan is very responsible, and Xiao Jia looks very symbolic?"

"There is no reconciliation now."

"The amount of this small Zhang device is a little small!" Shaohua's father said.

"Zhang Fan didn't come much, but Jia SuYue was a little angry, but he always hurt Zhang Fan."

"Su Yue is a little coquettish, but can you introduce her? It seems that Zhang Fan is doing well in the hospital. Isn't Xiao Wang on the fourth floor a nurse in the municipal hospital? Let me ask about it. And be more polite in the future. You see, you just kicked people out today. What do people think? "

"What can you think? If you can't stand this anger and break it early, I haven't said a few words about you two in my life. I don't want huazi to be angry in the future."

"Hehe, you dead old boss, but your father is right. You will suffer after you don't have any respect."

"Well, I see. At present, it's OK. One of my classmates is his colleague and adores him very much. "

"Men and women, you should have more eyes. Don't be silly. The better you are, the more you have to observe. We don't ask you to be rich and noble. As long as you live a peaceful life and you are happy, we will be very satisfied."

Back to the house, Zhang Fan smiled foolishly and appeared! The effect was pretty good. I went to the door for the first time, and then I had an excuse to come in often.

The Shaohua family was upset by Zhang Fan, but Zhang Fan was not happy. He began to plan how to quickly let the Shaohua family accept him. The life of a single dog is really sad. It's better to be busy at work, and it's really lonely to be free.

Shaohua's mother is very nice and has a good neighborhood relationship. The nurse upstairs happens to be an old nurse in the operating room. She can talk with Shaohua's mother at ordinary times.

"Zhang Fan, Dr. Zhang, very powerful and diligent. The new surgeon in the hospital is the most powerful. Orthopedics and general surgery are scrambling for him. He is also a nice person. He laughs at everyone all day. Many little nurses in our department like him. He fell in love with huazi? "

"The eight characters haven't been written yet. You should keep it a secret."

After asking, Shaohua's mother was both happy and worried. She looked forward to Zhang Fan's excellence, but it was really excellent. Today's young people are not like their time. Today's young people are too fickle. I'm afraid I can't stand temptation!

"Old man, what do you think of Zhang Fan?" Lying in bed at night, the old couple can't sleep.

"I can't feel it, so I met. What can I do? What did you say upstairs today?"

"He said he was excellent and liked by many nurses. Our family is an ordinary people. He doesn't even look up to Xiao Jia. Do you say ~ ~ ~ will he be ~ ~ "in a while

"That's good. We don't want to find a son-in-law. As long as Shaohua is happy. It's just plain and light. What's worse is Shaohua. He doesn't seem to have a bad eye. You tell Shao huaduo that girls can't be too frivolous. "

"Yes!"

Shaohua didn't sleep at night. Zhang Fan gave her a good feeling. She was calm and hard-working. She felt no pressure or anxiety with Zhang Fan. It was natural and peaceful. Zhang Fan and Jia SuYue gave her some confidence or confidence.

Jia SuYue has a good family background. Generally, no matter men or women, she will choose a good family background. After all, people have to eat and live. She has seen a lot of husband and wife who oppose money and father and son who become enemies for money in the bank. She also wants Zhang Fan to know that her family is a very ordinary family. If she wants to go back, she will go back early. Now she hasn't paid much emotion, and she won't be sad to let go.

Zhang Fan slept very sweet and had no dream all night. After entering the Department in the morning, several doctors looked at Zhang Fan and smiled. The director had told you what happened yesterday.

They are all from the past. This kind of smile is not the kind of joke, but the kind of nostalgia of the old people watching the new people make a fool of themselves, which can remind them of themselves in those years.

There are not many patients. Zhang Fan doesn't want to go to the clinic today. He was really hurt yesterday. I have to recover. The skill test is about to begin. The hospital organized a doctor training. Although Zhang Fan scored high marks last year, the overall clearance rate of the hospital is not very high. The third class hospital in an area is not the first in the local area. Ouyang is a little reluctant.

This year, we organized old doctors to train new doctors. Zhang Fan was also called to teach new doctors. He scored very high. Although he is also a young doctor, he can tell us the tricks of the exam.

In fact, college graduates, after more than ten years, have not passed the exam, which means that the foundation is not solid and they have not reviewed well. Ouyang asked Zhang Fan to give a lecture and also wanted to stimulate everyone. People can take the exam of more than 500, but it doesn't make sense if you can't even take the exam of more than 300.

After receiving the notice from the medical department, Zhang Fan began to prepare. Although he said he was going to talk about examination skills, the hospital is a place of cultural people. It is uncertain that someone will ask for a major on the spot. If asked, it would be too embarrassing.

Time passed quickly. It was may soon. Zhang Fan was going to ask for leave next month. He didn't go home for two years. My sister is also going to take the college entrance examination. I have to go back and cheer her up. My sister studies very well. She is a Xueba. As long as she doesn't play abnormally, she can go to any 985 school.

The house is not renovated for the time being. There are more than 50000 on the body. Leave some tuition fees for my sister and buy some school equipment. Mobile phones, clothes and computers are necessary. Moreover, when girls go to college, they can't be too poor. Zhang Fan has had enough experience in a society where clothes don't look at people.

After the transfer of dermatology department, Zhang Fan is ready to ask for leave. He can take home leave for about 20 days during the annual leave. If not, go to Li Xiao to see if he can ask for a few more days. Zhang Fan is so homesick.

I have to tell Shaohua that it would be good if I could take Shaohua home and make my parents happy. My son has been out for the past two years. He has been in good health, stable career and a girlfriend. Parents are old!
