

Mr Han 1071

Chapter 1071: Plot

He did not expect her to fall into the trap so soon.

Lu Qiyuan had it coming for choosing such a wife.

“Mom, what were you going to say?” Lu Qi was dragged by Xia Qingyang to the end of the corridor. She turned her head, only to see He Zhengbai standing far away from the entrance of the operating theater.

It was as though he was aware that she was watching. He turned his head and smiled at Lu Qi.

It was then that Lu Qi said to Xia Qingyang, “What is it that you can’t talk to me about later when we are alone? Why must you pull me away in front of Big Brother He as though he is an outsider and we are hiding things from him?”

“Since your father is in the operating theater, it is inconvenient to talk there. Later, when your father’s operation finishes, it will be even more inconvenient. Is there anyone beside him to accompany him? It is uncertain when he will wake up. If he wakes up and doesn’t see us beside him, given his narrow-minded temperament, he will definitely feel that we are not sincere,” Xia Qingyang explained quietly. This was also why she could talk to Lu Qi only at that moment.

Lu Qi listened and said, “What exactly is it about?”

Xia Qingyang held Lu Qi’s hand. “When I tried to sound out your father previously, guess what? Your father actually has plans to distribute one part of his estate to Lu Man. He even wants to divide it equally between you two, with no bias whatsoever!”

Lu Qi was so shocked that she forgot He Zhengbai’s existence. “Is my father crazy?”

“Lower your voice!” Xia Qingyang covered Lu Qi’s mouth.

Lu Qi took a deep breath, removed Xia Qingyang’s hand, and turned to look at He Zhengbai.

He’d heard her and looked over. However, he continued to smile at Lu Qi reassuringly.

Lu Qi let out a sigh of relief and said, “Is my father crazy? Hasn’t he always disliked Lu Man and looked down on her? From as far back as I can remember, I don’t recall him treating Lu Man as his daughter. Why does he suddenly want to fulfill his responsibility as a father and leave his estate to her?”

“I don’t know whether he has written a will, but this is what I learned from our previous conversation,” Xia Qingyang whispered. “I had originally planned to get him to change his mind. The things that belong to both of us, why should Lu Man get it?”

Lu Qi pouted. She thought that even if Lu Qiyuan were to leave behind anything, it would be to her. It had nothing to do with Xia Qingyang.

Xia Qingyang sure was presumptuous and even said “both of us” directly.

Who would want to be “both of us” with her?!

At most, when it was time for the inheritance to be received, she would support Xia Qingyang, but Xia Qingyang should forget about getting a cut of it!

Lu Qi nodded. "That's right! We cannot let Lu Man obtain any benefit. She currently has so much, why does she still want to compete with me? She is too greedy!"

"At first, I was still worried! Now that your father has had a sudden brain hemorrhage, it gives us an opportunity. Regardless of whether your father would recover or not after the operation, he would need to be hospitalized for some time, right?" Xia Qingyang said. "Let's take his hospitalization as an opportunity to take over the management of the Lu Corporation as much as possible. Let's quickly transfer as much of Lu Qi's assets as possible to our names. Of course, this is only one of my plans. This is based on the condition that your father can fully recover."

"However, if the brain hemorrhage becomes severe, it is possible that he will become paralyzed! Even if he is not paralyzed, he may have difficulty walking. With crooked eyes and slanted mouth, an inability to speak clearly, and slower mental capabilities, how is he going to manage the company? If this is the case, then let's take the opportunity to get him to transfer the company to us. By then, everything from the Lu Family would belong to us. Even if your father were to pass away then, Lu Man can forget about getting anything!" Even though Xia Qingyang's voice was soft, her words were unexpectedly firm, cold, and calculating.

Chapter 1072: After All, I Am a Celebrity

Even after plotting against her own husband, the person who'd been lying beside her, she showed no trace of guilt.

Lu Qi went over Xia Qingyang's words in her head. She nodded and said, "Mom, I will listen to you."

Xia Qingyang patted Lu Qi's hand happily. "With your father around, we can still live a good life. But nothing is more reassuring than having all of it in our hands. Your father holds the company and his wealth and is now unwilling to give it to you to invest. Let's wait until we've transferred assets to us, then the money will be in our hands. By then, would there still be a need to let you attend those shows? We could produce our own film and TV drama and let you be the main actress. We would spare no efforts for publicity, so would you still need to worry about your popularity? Anyway, the money would already be in our hands. As for how to use it, wouldn't that be up to us?"

Lu Qi's heart was moved by Xia Qingyang's description of the beautiful future.

She nodded vigorously. "Yes, Mom, I will listen to you."

The two of them discussed briefly. Because He Zhengbai was around, both of them were unable to say much, so they quickly returned.

He Zhengbai appeared as if nothing had happened. He did not ask any questions.

"It is uncertain as to how much longer we will have to wait here. Zhengbai, you shouldn't be waiting here," Xia Qingyang said.

“It’s fine, I will stay here to accompany you both. Otherwise, with only the two of you here, if anything were to happen, there’d be no one for you two to rely on. If I am here, I could at least be of some help,” He Zhengbai said

Lu Qi was touched and held He Zhengbai’s arm. “Big Brother He, you are so nice. We are lucky to have you around.”

He Zhengbai smiled as he patted the back of Lu Qi’s hand. “There is no need to be so polite with me.”

Finally, Lu Qiyuan’s surgery ended.

Xia Qingwei asked hurriedly, “Doctor, how did the operation go?”

Until now, she did not know whether she wanted the operation to be successful or not.

Ultimately, Lu Qiyuan was her husband and the man upon whom she relied for her entire life.

She was definitely used to Lu Qiyuan’s companionship.

Without her husband, she felt that life would not be complete.

On the other hand, because of greed, she wanted Lu Qiyuan to never be able to move about freely.

At that moment, it was all up to fate.

The doctor responded, “The operation was very successful. It was not very severe this time around, and the patient was sent to the hospital in a timely manner. Hence, there shouldn’t be any big problem when he comes to. For the details of his condition, we will have to wait for him to wake up.”

Xia Qingyang was tongue-tied. She could not say whether she was relieved or disappointed. “This means... this means that after he wakes up, he will be able to recover fully?”

The doctor thought that it was strange how the family of the patient did not appear happy.

“Yes.” The doctor nodded.

Xia Qingyang’s lips twitched. “That is good, that is good.”

Lu Qiyuan was pushed out and brought into the ward where they would wait for him to regain consciousness.

Xia Qingyang had a lot to discuss with Lu Qi, so she said to He Zhengbai, “Zhengbai, your uncle is fine. You should get going, I will be here with Qi Qi.”

“Alright.” He Zhengbai did not insist further.

Lu Qi was not very happy. “Mom, isn’t it inappropriate for me to be here? After all, I am a celebrity. There are many people in the hospital, so I will be recognized easily.”

The moment Xia Qingyang heard that, she knew Lu Qi just wanted to accompany He Zhengbai. “You will not be leaving the ward. Who would be able to see you?”

Xia Qingyang gave her a look.

Fortunately, Lu Qi understood what it meant. Although she was not very happy, she still agreed, "Alright, then, I will send Big Brother He off."

Chapter 1073: Mother-and-Daughter Plot

"Well, remember to come back," Xia Qingyang worriedly instructed.

Lu Qi sent He Zhengbai to the hospital carpark. "If not for my father's illness, I would not want to be separated from you."

He Zhengbai comforted her, "You should go back soon and accompany him. Uncle may wake up at any moment. Auntie and you are the most important to him. If he does not see you when he wakes up, he will definitely take issue with you."

"What is the point of staying by his side? Lu Man is strongly against him and yet he still decided to leave one half of his estate to her," Lu Qi murmured.

He Zhengbai understood what he heard. His eyebrows moved slightly. "Then you would just leave Uncle to do as he pleases? The ones who have always stayed by Uncle's side are you two! How does Lu Man have a part in this? She has also angered Uncle until he suffered a brain hemorrhage. Is there a need to give her a part of his estate? This is too good a bargain for her."

Lu Qi held He Zhengbai's hand. "Big Brother He, don't worry, everything in the Lu Family belongs to me!"

He Zhengbai smiled and said, "I just feel that it is unfair for you. All these should have belonged to you."

He paused and said, "I just heard from the doctor. Uncle's surgery was very successful. It is likely that after he wakes up and recovers, he will be the same as before. You two need not worry. However, it was still a serious illness. Even if he were to recover, that would take time. During his recovery process, he would definitely be unable to handle the company's affairs. If you or Auntie needs any help, let me know."

Lu Qi's eyes lit up. That's right, wasn't He Zhengbai here as well?

When she had accidentally injured the director Lu Hanli, it was He Zhengbai who helped her settle it.

Even for incidents like that, He Zhengbai could always help her. What more now?

If He Zhengbai knew for certain that half of the Lu Corporation was in her hands, he would definitely be even more loyal to her.

Lu Qi smiled and nodded. "My mom and I don't know anything. We may need to depend on Big Brother He."

He Zhengbai had a gentle expression. "Rest assured, your matters are my matters."

After sending He Zhengbai off, Lu Qi walked briskly to the ward.

She met quite a number of people along the way, but no one recognized her.

However, this minor episode could not affect her good mood.

After entering the ward and seeing Lu Qiyuan still unconscious, Lu Qi asked Xia Qingyang, "Mom, the doctor said that dad will recover well, so we can carry out only the first plan. As to how to transfer the assets without raising any alarm, do you have any solution? After all, after Dad recovers, he will look over the company's accounts. We can't turn against him so quickly, right? It is better to do it quietly so he does not notice."

Xia Qingyang was suddenly stuck. She thought that the plan was quite good, but she did not know anything. When it came to the actual implementation, she was at a loss.

Lu Qi took the opportunity to suggest, "Why don't we let Big Brother He help?"

Xia Qingyang subconsciously felt that it was not feasible. "He's an outsider. How can we let him manage?"

"It is not like the assets are going to be transferred to Big Brother He's name. We will just let him help to transfer the assets quietly and not let Dad realize that the transfer was to our names. How is it not feasible?" Lu Qi said. "Mom, don't forget, when I accidentally injured Director Lu Hanli, it was Big Brother He who helped me keep it under wraps."

Lu Qi was anxious to let He Zhengbai help because she had another motive, which was to let He Zhengbai transfer all the assets to her name and exclude Xia Qingyang.

Anyway, in this respect, Xia Qingyang did not know anything, so Lu Qi would just need to come up with a hoax to mislead Xia Qingyang into thinking that she also had assets under her name.

Chapter 1074: Debt Collector

Xia Qingyang frowned. "You told our plan to He Zhengbai?"

"Of course not," Lu Qi said rudely. "How could I tell him this sort of thing? It's just that even if Dad wakes up, he will need a long recovery period. Even if we don't say anything, Big Brother He will know, and he knows that the two of us have no experience in managing a company. We are totally the kind who will not be able to understand anything. So he said to tell him if we need any help."

Lu Qi pursed her lips. "The two of us don't know anything, and we definitely need to find a professional to help. You will feel even less at ease with someone you don't know. Mom, if we are speaking seriously about this, if we are caught, we will be put in prison. Finding someone we don't know much about, what if they betray us?"

"Big Brother He is different. We both know each other well. He's my fiance and is standing on the same side as me. During the situation with Lu Hanli, if he really wanted to sell us out, the fact that he helped me hide the evidence before was also a crime. He can't escape either."

Her meaning was that she had blackmail material against He Zhengbai.

As soon as He Zhengbai did something wrong, she would not be able to run if things really were at that point, but He Zhengbai would not be able to escape either.

Xia Qingyang hesitated. "Don't say any more for now. Let me consider."

Lu Qi then said, "Mom, think faster. Dad is about to wake up. When he wakes up, we can discuss it again. If we can't come up with a result even after discussing it, when he is discharged from the hospital, everything will be too late."

Lu Qi paused, then continued to convince her, "Anyway, the inheritance will be transferred under our names. It has nothing to do with Big Brother He. We will be watching him, so if he manages to get any benefits from this, how would we not know?"

Xia Qingyang was already a bit moved by what Lu Qi said, and Lu Qi continued, "Furthermore, as long as he wants to help us, he is an accomplice. He won't expose us. Otherwise, it would be over for him too. With Dad's attitude now, in the future, if I marry Big Brother He, how much dowry could he give me? Why don't we grab at this now? I would also have an advantage. If I marry Big Brother He sooner, we'll be a family. What else will there be to worry about?"

Xia Qingyang turned her head back to look at the unconscious Lu Qiyuan. Lu Qi's words were right; Lu Qiyuan was going to wake up very soon.

If they did not make the decision earlier, when Lu Qiyuan woke up, it would not be as easy to make a move.

It was better to hold the Lu Corporation in their hands while Lu Qiyuan had yet to wake up.

Xia Qingyang gritted her teeth and finally nodded. "Alright, then. When you tell He Zhengbai, be careful to watch your words."

"Mom, he's helping us transfer the assets, we definitely need to tell him the whole truth. Otherwise, how can we ask him for help? Should we have him guess?" Lu Qi said.

Xia Qingyang pressed her lips together. "Then you can first test him, confirm that he is really reliable, and in the future, the three of us will be in the same boat."

"Alright, I know," Lu Qi agreed with a nod.

After this whole thing was settled, Xia Qingyang frowned again, then complained, "Really, we have yet to get any money from the Lu Corporation and we already need to fork out a sum to pay for your dad's treatment. He's unconscious now, and I can't touch the assets under his name at all. I can only spend my own money."

Xia Qingwei felt that from the time she met him until now, Lu Qiyuan was practically like a debt collector. "This sort of small thing, it actually made him so angry that he had a brain hemorrhage. Really so useless!"

Chapter 1075: Let Her Take the Money

"Mom, don't talk anymore, Dad might wake up at any time," Lu Qi warned.

"Mom, do you think we can take some money for Dad's treatment from Lu Man?" Lu Qi suddenly asked.

“Don’t joke. Look at Lu Man. She hopes for your dad to die faster. Can we still hope that she would take money out for your dad’s treatment?” Xia Qingyang rolled her eyes.

“But she’s also Dad’s daughter!” Lu Qi was very unsatisfied. “Although this small bit of money for the treatment is nothing much to us, I can’t stand her gaining benefits from us. Oh, half of Dad’s inheritance in the future will be given to her, so there is her bit of money. Now that Dad’s sick, shouldn’t she take out money? Is she just waiting to benefit without doing anything? How can such a good deal exist!”

Lu Qi gritted her teeth and said, “We are using our own money for treatment. That is equivalent to Lu Man taking our money!”

Xia Qingyang felt her heart ache when hearing that, but when she thought of Lu Man’s schemes, she felt defeated in her heart instantly.

She waved her hand. “Leave it, don’t make trouble for Lu Man anymore. We can pay for this few ten thousand yuan ourselves. It’s not a very big sum anyway.”

But the mother and daughter were both cut from the same cloth. To them, this amount was really not a lot and it could not even compare to the price of Xia Qingyang’s bag in her hand.

However, they still kept feeling like Lu Man had benefitted from them, and they felt very stifled in their hearts.

“Don’t make trouble anymore. Later on, you might not even get the money, and you might even stand to lose out at her hands again.” Xia Qingyang was really a bit scared of Lu Man’s schemes now. “We have more important things to do right now. Don’t alert her over such a small thing. It will affect us doing our actual work instead.”

Seeing that Lu Qi was still feeling reluctant to leave it at that, Xia Qingyang could only say, “After we get the money, there will be no need to consider anything anymore. We can properly fight against Lu Man. While Lu Man looks to be very great and hard to defeat right now, it is actually because she has sufficient funding. Those famous entertainment social media accounts she finds to help her post about things, all of them are expensive. Furthermore, she found so many people, and there are even fake accounts. How could she pay for it without a few hundred thousand yuan?”

“But what about you and me? Other than the allowance your dad gives us every month, where would we find a big sum of money to go against her? She’s different. She’s filming and going on shows, and she even has the money from doing public relations. Those are all things she does by herself. What about you? Your career in the entertainment industry has already ended, and from last year, you already don’t have many acting activities. You don’t have an allowance, so we have no money to seek out those fake accounts. Without using such things as public social media accounts, how can we fight against Lu Man?”

Xia Qingyang thought about the future, and her two eyes shone with a greedy light. She licked her lips and said, “So, the main thing right now is not to deal with Lu Man. Let’s first get a hold on as much of Lu Man’s inheritance as we can. After that, we can freely adjust the large amounts of money we have to invest for you to film shows, and it would not even be a problem to create a character especially for you. Then we can do things like Lu Man does, using big accounts on social media with a lot of fans, finding fake accounts, and properly go against her. At that time, we will have a large amount of money, and we can spend it to deal with Lu Man! I don't believe that a C-lister like her with that bit of money she earns can compete with us."

Lu Qi finally listened and felt that what Xia Qingyang said had a lot of logic.

Because of Xia Qingyang's words, she could not help but start to imagine things. There seemed to be a very faraway and great future ahead of her.

In front of her was a large and open path. She would have a popular career as a celebrity and have the Lu Corporation in her hands. She would have a strong union with He Zhengbai. She'd be marrying for love and yet also reaching the goal of a political marriage. They would become the kind of well-suited couple with matching looks and abilities. They'd be extremely suited for each other, causing everyone to be envious.

Chapter 1076: So Good?

When that time came, whatever Lu Man had, she'd have too, and she would not lose out compared to Lu Man.

Wasn't Lu Man doing very well in the entertainment industry?

At that time, she would invest in herself, and she would definitely do better than Lu Man.

After all, Lu Man did not have as big of a funding as she did.

Wasn't Lu Man supposed to have rich in-laws?

She did not believe that they would be better than the He Family.

She would marry He Zhengbai, and even her in-laws and her marriage would be much better than Lu Man's!

The bit of endurance she had to exercise right now was really not much.

Compared to this holding back for the moment, Lu Man had held back for more than ten years.

Being an invisible person in the Lu Family, pretending to be full of fealty and duty with no anger, she'd put on a helpless act.

After holding back for so long, she showed her true colors in one shot, using waves and waves of schemes to hit them until they had no ability to fight back.

Lu Man could hold back for over ten years. Holding back for this short while was nothing much.

"Alright." Lu Qi finally nodded.

Xia Qingyang let out a breath of relief and turned her head back to look at Lu Qiyuan.

She had love in her eyes for Lu Qiyuan, but they also had strong greed.

In the end, this greed won over her love for Lu Qiyuan.

When Han Zhuoli was still in the company, he received Chu Zhaoyang's phone call and found out that Lu Qiyuan had a brain hemorrhage and was sent to the hospital.

Although Lu Qiyuan did not get sent to Chu Tian Hospital, the Chu family did not have only that one company as their personal fief. They had long spread out throughout the whole medical field.

Because of that, even if Lu Qiyuan did not check in to Chu Tian, it could not be hidden from Chu Zhaoyang.

After Han Zhuoli found out, he just kept it to himself, not planning on telling Xia Qingwei.

Xia Qingwei was doing well with Wang Juhuai now. Suddenly telling her about her ex-husband, even if Xia Qingwei did not care about him, Wang Juhuai would probably feel uncomfortable.

As for Lu Man, she probably would not even attend Lu Qiyuan's funeral.

Because he had promised to not hide anything from her, Han Zhuoli was planning on telling Lu Man about this situation.

After returning home from the company, he had just opened the door when Lu Man heard the sounds and waited at the doorway.

Because she was considering that Xia Qingwei and Wang Juhuai were currently in their honeymoon period, even if Lu Man was bored in the daytime, she would not go and find Xia Qingwei, scared to disturb the two of them.

Because of that, recently, she had always been properly staying at home.

It was rare for Han Zhuoli to see Lu Man as soon as he returned home, standing near the doorway, and even preparing the indoor slippers for him.

"So good?" Han Zhuoli smiled lightly, not caring to change his shoes. He first pinched her lower jaw and then leaned over to kiss her lips.

Lu Man felt very wrongly accused and defended herself. "I'm good every day!"

It was just that she was a bit bored.

Not being able to go and visit Xia Qingwei, she would go and visit Zheng Yuan and the rest to go out and sit or to watch a movie or something.

However, Zheng Yuan and the other two also made use of the holiday to take up some small activities, to either go to the mall and be a guiding lady there, to model in the online shop, to take some pictures, or something else.

The company did not allow students to privately accept shows before Year Three, but for them to make use of the holiday to earn an extra buck, they were not against.

Zheng Yuan and the other two were all not from B City and had returned home to spend the New Year there before returning to B City to find job opportunities.

By accepting more modeling jobs, they could increase their possible career paths in the future.

Because the three of them were busier than she was right now, she became the one with the most free time, and even if she was bored, she could not keep looking for them.

She accepted the public relations job from Classic X Files, but she did not need to do anything. It was fine as long as she did not help other companies do public relations.

Based on what Han Leilei said, right now, she was properly sleeping until she woke up naturally, counting money until her hands cramped, and yet still not needing to do anything.

Chapter 1077: Behaving Dumbly Because of Her Husband's Handsomeness

Han Leilei even exclaimed because of this, "Look, this is the importance of being the top talent in an industry! Look at Lu Man! For a future where we can stay at home without doing anything yet still have money falling into our pockets, we need to work hard too, comrades!"

Being influenced by Han Leilei, Pan Xue, that dummy, also held her hand up in a fist, then yelled out loudly, "Alright!"

Because she was too bored, Lu Man really wished to start school earlier.

Han Zhuoli changed his shoes and entered. He first went to the bedroom to change into clothes that are comfortable to wear at home, and Lu Man followed in as well.

Upon entering the bedroom, Han Zhuoli took off his suit and loosened his tie.

His long fingers were pressed on the knot of the tie, and he pulled on and then loosened it.

At the same time, he also unbuttoned two from his button-up shirt and exposed the bit of collarbone underneath his collar.

Lu Man seemed to only realize now, it was not only men's Adam's apple that was sexy, even their collarbones were sexy.

Seeing his long slender fingers unbuttoning his shirt, Lu Man could not help but swallow.

Even if she did not look at his face, just those two hands made it impossible for people to look away.

Han Zhuoli fully satisfied the requirements of those who liked good-looking people, good-looking hands, and nice voices.

Unknowingly, Han Zhuoli suddenly stopped his movements. The buttons of his button-up shirt were all removed, and his front was open, showing his chest and his nicely defined abs.

It was just a small gap, but Lu Man could still see the lines of his abs, which were very clear.

Originally, when his tie was still on and the buttons of his shirt were properly buttoned, his whole person looked very proper. He looked like a young master, causing people to remember him.

But now, his shirt was a mess. One corner of his shirt was loosely tucked into the waistband of his pants and the other corner had already been pulled out by him. His whole person looked casual and lazy.

This look was really breaking the rules too much. It was too seductive.

Lu Man herself did not know, but she was looking at Han Zhuoli very intensely.

To speak honestly, she was directly behaving dumbly because of her husband's handsomeness.

Of course, even if Lu Man realized it, she would find that it was alright anyway.

It was her own husband. So what if she took a few more glances?

Those were nothing. She had done many things with him at night, touching and kissing everywhere.

Han Zhuoli had stopped moving for a while already and was looking at her.

Being looked at like that by his own wife, Han Zhuoli had a very proud feeling in his heart.

He did not snap her out of it at all. He just looked, smiling yet not smiling.

Lu Man kept staring at Han Zhuoli's hands and only returned to her senses after realizing that he had not moved for a very long time. She raised her head and directly met Han Zhuoli's gloating gaze.

Lu Man: "..."

"So good-looking that you are totally enamored?" Han Zhuoli asked, smiling lightly and raising an eyebrow.

Lu Man paused, her gaze flitting left and right before she thickened her skin to look directly at Han Zhuoli. "Anyway, you are my husband. Taking a few more looks is not wrong. That's my personal friendly service."

Han Zhuoli smiled, went up, and stopped in front of her.

He was so tall, he enveloped her in his embrace instantly.

Lu Man was so nervous that she was breathing randomly. She took a step back, but her back was pressed on by him, causing her to nestle in his embrace even more.

Her soft hands were grabbed by him, and he opened up his collar and pressed her hand onto his chest. "Anyway, I'm your man, you can do anything. Not only can you look, but you can also touch."

Lu Man's palm was extremely hot, yet she had already said those words and she was too embarrassed to take them back now. Still, her face was already so red.

At that moment, Han Zhuoli suddenly lowered his head next to her ear. "You can also ride."

Chapter 1078: This Time, He Definitely Would Not Let Her Off

Whoosh!

Lu Man's brain was about to explode.

This old hooligan!

Telling his wife these sort of X-rated lines, he was really something!

Lu Man decided to escape from his beauty and poked his chest. "Quickly change your clothes. Auntie He has already prepared your dinner. If you don't eat it soon, it'll become cold."

Han Zhuoli: "..."

This little girl, why did she change her mood so fast!

He had thought that he could press her onto the bed and have a before-meal exercise.

Han Zhuoli could only obediently go and change his clothes.

After he'd changed into comfortable home clothes, Lu Man suddenly waved him over.

Han Zhuoli bent his waist and lowered his head, not understanding her as he got closer to her.

Lu Man suddenly pulled down his collar and then bit at his collarbone for a very long time.

But she was scared that she would really cause him to bleed, and so she did not dare to use too much strength. In the end, she only left two red-colored marks on it.

It was not painful, but it caused him to feel a bit itchy and numb. His stomach was clenched tightly, and his Adam's apple was moving.

Han Zhuoli's breathing was careful, and just as Lu Man was about to leave, he grabbed her wrist. "Continue being like this! I'll let you go for now, but at night, you'll suffer."

Lu Man: "..."

If she'd known earlier, she would not have provoked him.

Han Zhuoli smiled at her coldly and then reached out to touch where she had bit just now. There were still some wet marks on it.

He roughly measured where the bite marks were on his collarbone and lightly pulled aside Lu Man's collar to rub at the same place on her collarbone. "You wait."

Lu Man: "..."

She suddenly wanted to disturb Xia Qingwei and Wang Juhuai tonight.

Han Zhuoli saw how Lu Man had admitted defeat and instantly smiled coldly.

Even if it was like that, he would not let her get away tonight.

He first helped Lu Man adjust her clothes properly, then adjusted his own clothes and held her hand as they left the bedroom together.

After they finished eating, Han Zhuoli and Lu Man sat on the sofa in the living room and casually watched some television.

The sofa was very wide, and Lu Man slightly bent her knees so she could totally lie on the sofa.

Lying in Han Zhuoli's embrace, she was very comfortable.

Han Zhuoli's fingertip lightly played with her hair, then he thought for a bit and said, "Today, Lu Qiyuan had a brain hemorrhage and was sent to the hospital."

When Lu Man heard that, she lightly stiffened.

Han Zhuoli said, "It's nothing serious. The surgery was very successful. When he recovers, he would be like before."

"It can't be because The Performer's main sponsorship was a mess, right?" Lu Man really understood him.

"It really is." Han Zhuoli smiled.

"Then he was angered by me." Lu Man shook her head and did not say anything else.

This situation had just been mentioned, but she was already treating it as a thing of the past. Lu Man did not plan to see how Lu Qiyuan was doing.

It just so happened that there was a variety show that Lu Man quite liked today. Han Zhuoli did not have any show that he particularly liked, so he just accompanied Lu Man to watch it.

Lu Man was very happily watching it and did not notice that Han Zhuoli kept looking at his watch.

When it was about 10, the show finally ended.

When the next episode's advertisement was playing, Han Zhuoli suddenly lifted Lu Man up and ran towards the bedroom. His speed was so fast that Lu Man was tightly hugging Han Zhuoli's neck, extremely shocked.

She was then thrown onto the bed by him. She had yet to manage to react when she was pressed down by him.

"I've been checking the time all along." Han Zhuoli looked at her, smiling lightly and gloatingly. "Did you forget me?"

Lu Man: "..."

At this time, if she asked him to be more gentle, she did not know if he would agree or not.

The ending was that it would definitely not happen.

Han Zhuoli had kept thinking of how she kept making trouble just now and totally tortured her.

Lu Man lay in his embrace, full of sweat and was panting, wishing she could merge with the bed and sleep all the way to eternity.

Chapter 1079: Honeymoon

Yet Han Zhuoli recently seemed to have acquired a habit of keeping her in his embrace, and Lu Man could do nothing but stare at the soft sheets just below her.

His embrace made her feel at ease, but his chest was too hard.

Especially when she was trying to sleep.

Just as Lu Man was on the edge of sleep, she felt a stirring below from Han Zhuoli.

Lu Man immediately begged weakly, "I can't anymore!"

Han Zhuoli grabbed her waist and nibbled on her earlobe, saying, "I said you could ride earlier, didn't I?"

"When did you say that?" Lu Man was stunned.

Why did she not remember this?

Lu Man huffed, biting his shoulder in exasperation.

This man, couldn't he only go once?!

Right at this moment, Han Zhuoli's voice traveled into her ears. "Didn't I tell you before dinner? Not only can you look, you can even touch and ride me. This is a privilege that only Mrs. Han can enjoy."

Lu Man almost cried. She had enjoyed this privilege, and it was too much for her to handle!

By the end, Lu Man would not be exaggerating if she said that she was trembling from her thighs to her toes.

Her waist hurt as if she just did 200 crunches, and she bit Han Zhuoli's shoulder in annoyance. Her arms and legs were too weak, so she could only use her teeth.

"No more." Lu Man seethed. Even her voice was gone.

Han Zhuoli secretly felt his waist. To go again... even he could not go another round.

No, not "cannot." A man should not say that he "cannot"!

It was just that... age had caught up with him...

Determined not to show Lu Man that he was tired as well, Han Zhuoli pretended that he was unaffected and could continue until dawn broke. He asked Lu Man nonchalantly, "Have you thought about where to go for our honeymoon?"

"Honeymoon?" Lu Man was surprised. She had not considered it.

That was because they were already cohabiting before registering their marriage. Registering their marriage merely meant getting two small red booklets and extra rings on their ring fingers; nothing else changed in their daily lives.

As such, the honeymoon issue had slipped her mind.

Seeing this, Han Zhuoli sighed. This girl had indeed not thought about it once.

He pinched her nose for a few moments. "Why are you so muddle-headed when it comes to things like this? You're usually such a clever person. You can rebuff anyone who makes things difficult in your job all the way to the Pacific Ocean. And yet, when it comes to your own private affairs, why do you become so befuddled? From our engagement to our marriage, if it wasn't for Old Mrs. Han mentioning it to me, would you have forgotten to marry me? If we did not bring it up, would you have forgotten to give yourself a proper status as my wife? Even now, you have forgotten about our honeymoon?"

"It didn't cross my mind at all." Lu Man stuck her tongue out at him. "It's probably because we're living so happily right now that every day feels like a honeymoon. Formalities are something that are at the back of my mind."

All this was because she believed in him.

“Also, I’m starting university soon while you still have work. We only went to get our marriage certificates and didn’t have a wedding banquet. Likely, this is why I didn’t remember about the honeymoon issue. Other people go on honeymoons only after their wedding banquets.”

Han Zhuoli did not know whether to laugh or cry. “If we do as we previously discussed and hold our wedding in your junior or senior year when you no longer need to attend university, don’t you think it’ll be too late to have our honeymoon?”

Han Zhuoli had discussed it with Lu Man before. With Lu Man still attending university, going public with their relationship would surely cause many inconveniences for her in school.

Chapter 1080: Quality Time for the Couple

Lu Man would not be simply a student then. She would be swamped by ambitious students who wished to become popular.

Hence, both of them decided to wait until Lu Man did not have to attend school—which was at least her junior year—before holding their wedding to let everyone know that she was his wife.

“Let’s have a honeymoon first. After our wedding, we’ll have a second honeymoon,” Han Zhuoli said.

“When?” Lu Man asked.

Han Zhuoli had thought about it. “Before university starts.”

“But school starts in a week.” Lu Man counted the days. “And don’t you have work too?”

She knew how busy he was.

Getting him to rest for three or four days was impossible, let alone going for a honeymoon, which required a longer period of time.

“Ever since the Chinese New Year break, I’ve been finishing up all possible work to free up at least seven days. I’ll help you apply for leave for a few days from school. You just have to start a few days later.” Even without Han Zhuoli’s intervention, the university would have agreed to Lu Man’s request.

“Okay, then. I’ll consider our honeymoon destinations tomorrow,” Lu Man said sleepily.

“Think now,” Han Zhuoli said eagerly, unable to sleep and not willing for Lu Man to sleep.

Especially when he was satisfied and full of energy.

Lu Man even suspected that this man had mastered some “harnessing yin to strengthen yang” technique; or else, how could he be increasingly energetic?

“Any places you wish to go to?” Lu Man asked as she yawned.

She had no suggestions at all.

In both lifetimes, she had never traveled overseas once.

Lu Man only experienced domestic traveling due to work related to Lu Qi, but she was always so busy working she never had the chance to properly enjoy the sceneries.

“Visiting local cities won’t be convenient for you,” Han Zhuoli said, twirling a lock of her hair with his finger. Many people would recognize Lu Man. “So we should travel overseas, to places where no one will recognize us.”

Han Zhuoli’s finger slid down along her back as he suggested slyly, “How ’bout an island?”

At that time, Lu Man would definitely wear a bikini.

Utterly exhausted, Lu Man did not hear Han Zhuoli’s words. She merely agreed with whatever Han Zhuoli said.

“Then tomorrow, you’ll stay at home and pack our stuff. We’ll go the day after tomorrow.” Han Zhuoli had it all planned out. There were plenty of islands to visit where they could just sign their visas upon landing and depart with only their passports.

Almost asleep, Lu Man was not even sure of what she was agreeing to.

Come morning, Lu Man was still sleeping while Han Zhuoli was about to leave.

He woke Lu Man, who grabbed his arms. “Are you leaving already?”

“Remember to pack our luggage today,” Han Zhuoli ordered.

Finally fully awake, Lu Man recalled that she had agreed to the honeymoon details in a daze.

Two days later, they left.

Even up until they’d boarded the plane, Lu Man still had not recovered.

Just because it was Lu Man’s first marriage, it would be a poor move to assume that she would not know anything.

Other couples went for their honeymoon trips only after lengthy discussions to decide the destination.

That was unlike the two of them, who suddenly wanted to go on a honeymoon trip, all packed and ready to go in just two short days.

Moreover, they were boarding Han Zhuoli’s private jet with no one else.

From the moment they left for their trip onwards, the two of them had perfect quality time—it was the start of their honeymoon.

Although visas were signed upon landing, the place Han Zhuoli chose was quite far. Hence, airfares were more expensive and not many people were there.
