

Mr Han 1341

Chapter 1341: Wait Right Here

The domestic film industry did not have a good impression of Wang Qianyun.

Furthermore, given Wang Qianyun's reputation, whoever hired her would definitely be asking for a terrible scolding from netizens.

There were so many talents out there. No one would be willing to trouble themselves by hiring someone like her.

On top of that, with Han Zhuoli's personal warning, Wang Qianyun still wanted to find a job in the country?

Impossible.

Wang Qianyun's face sank. She poured herself a glass of water and said, "It didn't work."

She gulped down a few mouthfuls of water and said, "These people are really short-sighted. I did have unpleasant rumors about me previously, but it has already been so long since those rumors went around. Furthermore, given my experience, I am considered a professional top talent.

"Look at those producers from Maxus Company. Which one of them was not fervently scouted by other companies after they left? It's rare that I actually went for the interview, yet no one dared to hire me! They are not even willing to bear such a small risk. It serves them right for not being able to scale up their business!" Wang Qianyun raged.

At first, she thought that as long as she submitted her resume, many companies would fight to get an interview with her.

However, the difference between expectation and reality was just so huge. No one actually wanted her.

Wang Qianyun could not take this blow.

Lin Jinshu said coldly, "It's all because of Han Zhuoli. Han Zhuoli is standing up for Lu Man now."

It was fine if she did not mention it. The moment she mentioned it, Wang Qianyun felt as if she was about to go crazy from anger.

Wang Qianyun put down her glass and suddenly turned to ask, "Auntie, do you think they know that we were one of the people who spread hate about Lu Man online?"

"That's impossible. We were so secretive about it—" Lin Jinshu's voice faltered, and suddenly, she was not so sure anymore.

If Han Zhuoli did not know about it, why did nothing happen to them earlier? Why was it only today that all her partnerships were canceled?

"I've been thinking about it, but there's nothing much that could have provoked Han Zhuoli recently," Wang Qianyun said. Seeing Lin Jinshu's expression, she knew that she herself was not sure either.

Lin Jinshu stood up, took her bag, and started to walk outside.

Wang Qianyun immediately rushed up to her and asked, "Auntie, where are you going?"

"I'm going to find Wang Juhuai," Lin Jinshu said.

Wang Qianyun thought to herself, What's the point of finding Wang Juhuai now?

She immediately realized the answer to her own question. Lin Jinshu did not care about whether it would be effective or not. She just wanted to use this as an excuse to go and seek out Wang Juhuai.

***

Without the owner's consent, outsiders could not enter Yi Garden.

Hence, Lin Jinshu did not go to Yi Garden. Even if she went there, Wang Juhuai would not let her in.

She found out the address of Wang Juhuai's studio and went straight there.

Wang Juhuai's studio was already built and furnished, so he had now officially started working at his studio.

A few days ago, he got a job request for an accompaniment to go with a Hollywood film, so he was about to start composing it.

The office building in which his studio was located could not block people outside like Yi Garden could.

Hence, Lin Jinshu came in without any difficulty.

However, she was stopped at the front desk when she entered the studio.

"Madam, may I know who you are looking for?" the front desk officer asked.

Lin Jinshu stopped and said, "I'm here to find Wang Juhuai. Just tell him Lin Jinshu is here to look for him."

The front desk officer had an expression that said, "Oh, so you are Lin Jinshu." It was obvious that she was familiar with Lin Jinshu.

She called Wang Juhuai's assistant, Shao Wenhui, and informed him that Lin Jinshu was here.

Shao Wenhui replied, "Tell Lin Jinshu, Mr. Wang is composing music in the recording studio right now. No one is to disturb him."

The front desk officer relayed the exact message to Lin Jinshu.

Lin Jinshu scoffed. She then went to sit at the sofa at the side and crossed her arms over her chest as she said, "I don't care if he's really working now and won't see anyone or if he's just finding an excuse not to see me. I will wait right here."

Chapter 1342: If You Have Anything to Say, Say It with the Door Open

Lin Jinshu was very loud. Shao Wenhui could clearly hear what she said on the other end of the call as well.

“He has to come out, right? He has to go home, right? I don’t believe he can stay here for good, can he?”
Lin Jinshu said loudly.

The front desk officer thought that this ex-wife of Wang Juhuai was really shrill and unreasonable.
“Brother Shao...”

“I heard it,” Shao Wenhui said. “Let me ask Mr. Wang again.”

After ending the call, Shao Wenhui went to the recording studio intending to ask Wang Juhuai about it.
Wang Juhuai’s face sank unhappily. “I got it. Let her come to my office.”

“Yes.” Shao Wenhui went out to find Lin Jinshu.

“Madam Lin,” Shao Wenhui said upon coming out. “Please come with me.”

Lin Jinshu curved up her lips smugly and stood up proudly to follow Shao Wenhui in.

When she reached the door to Wang Juhuai’s office, Lin Jinshu was about to push the door to go in but was stopped by Shao Wenhui. “Madam Lin, Mr. Wang has not arrived. Please wait here for a while.”

Lin Jinshu pursed her lips. “Can’t I wait in the office?”

“Mr. Wang is not here. You cannot enter his office just like that,” Shao Wenhui said plainly. “Just wait here for a moment.”

Lin Jinshu sat down at the side unhappily. However, Wang Juhuai did not appear even after an hour.

“Where is Wang Juhuai? How long do you intend to make me wait?” Lin Jinshu asked unhappily.

“Mr. Wang probably forgot the time while in the recording studio,” Shao Wenhui said plainly. “Please wait for a while more.”

Lin Jinshu suddenly stood up and said coldly, “Don’t tell me he took the chance to run away!”

“Why would I run away?” At that moment, Wang Juhuai walked over with a cold expression on his face.
“If I run away today, you will still come and bother me tomorrow and the day after, so what’s the point of running away?”

Wang Juhuai glanced coldly at Lin Jinshu and could not help but scoff at her. “You think a person like you can make me hide?”

Wang Juhuai opened the door to his office and Lin Jinshu followed him in with a sullen face.

She was about to close the door when Wang Juhuai said, “Leave it open.”

“What do you mean by this?” Lin Jinshu felt a surge of anger coursing through her brain.

He left the door open. Was he trying to avoid gossip or what?

“Of course it’s because I don’t trust you. If I close the door, I’d have no way to prove whatever you’ll do,” Wang Juhuai said sarcastically. “I have been harmed by you once. If I don’t learn a lesson from it, then I will be the stupid one.”

Lin Jinshu knew that Shao Wenhui was just by the door and there were other staff outside as well.

Wang Juhuai did not lower his voice, so there were surely quite a few people outside who heard what he said.

Lin Jinshu said angrily, "I'm here to discuss formal matters. Don't tell me you want your staff to hear about your private matters as well?"

"I have nothing to fear, and I have done nothing shameful before. The one who is scared is you." Wang Juhuai scoffed. "You insisted on seeing me and refused to leave if you didn't, so I'll give you this chance. If you have anything to say, say it with the door open. Or else leave."

As for embarrassment, only Lin Jinshu would be embarrassed.

He was not afraid of leaving the door open to talk at all.

"My staff can be the witnesses as well, lest you pull any tricks on me again," Wang Juhuai said coldly.

Everyone loves gossip. Even if they were Wang Juhuai's staff, they would inevitably be a little curious about their own boss as well.

At that moment, there were already some workers pacing back and forth in the vicinity furtively as they stretched their ears to listen.

The moment they heard this, they were able to tell that Lin Jinshu was no joke.

It was obvious that when Wang Juhuai married Lin Jinshu, it was because he had been tricked by her.

According to what Lu Man and Wang Juhuai said previously, Wang Juhuai was with Xia Qingwei at first.

Chapter 1343: I Loathe You, and I Am Disgusted by You

Hearing it now, it was probably Lin Jinshu's schemes that had separated the couple back then.

No wonder Wang Juhuai was so wary of Lin Jinshu. He even left the door open while saying a few words to Lin Jinshu, not caring if his staff heard about his personal life or not.

He would rather they heard it and make sure he kept a distance from Lin Jinshu.

There were already some workers who secretly went to gossip among their friends about this.

"Hear this. Lin Jinshu came to find my boss, Wang Juhuai, today. I don't know what it's for. But my boss purposely left the door open just to guard against her lest she schemes against him. My boss personally said that back then, he married Lin Jinshu precisely because he fell into Lin Jinshu's trap."

Similar news was secretly being spread by other people.

Lin Jinshu got so angry that her face turned pale. "Do you hate me so much?"

"I don't hate you," Wang Juhuai said.

Lin Jinshu was stunned for a moment before her eyebrows softened.

Yet Wang Juhuai continued, "I just loathe you, and I am disgusted by you. You better not underestimate how disgusted I am by you."

Lin Jinshu was shocked and angry. She felt that she had suffered a huge humiliation. Her face turned red before turning pale again as her breathing hastened, making her chest heave up and down.

Wang Juhuai actually... actually said such harsh words to her!

"What exactly are you here for? Say it now!" Wang Juhuai said in annoyance.

Lin Jinshu took a deep breath as her whole body was visibly shaking from being aggravated by Wang Juhuai.

She finally calmed herself down before throwing a glance behind her and seeing Shao Wenhui waiting at the door expressionlessly.

However, Wang Juhuai simply refused to give the two of them the privacy to talk, so Lin Jinshu could only say, "My work in B City has all been put to a halt recently. All the partnerships that had been agreed on previously have been canceled. This makes it almost impossible for me to develop my career in B City."

Lin Jinshu paused for a moment before she looked at Wang Juhuai and said, "I heard it's because Han Zhuoli gave word not to work with me."

"So?" Wang Juhuai raised his eyebrow.

He admitted it.

Lin Jinshu said, "I want to know why. Why is he making things difficult for me like this?"

"Then why are you making things difficult for Lu Man?" Wang Juhuai asked her in return. "You found people to talk bad about Lu Man online, so Han Zhuoli made it impossible for you to stay on in B City. It's as simple as that."

Lin Jinshu suppressed the shock in her eyes. Han Zhuoli indeed knew.

"What does he want before he can let me off?" Lin Jinshu asked. "I really need to develop my career in the country."

Lin Jinshu paused before she said, "I can stop disturbing you and Xia Qingwei from now on."

Lin Jinshu's promise was nothing in Wang Juhuai's eyes.

It would be weird if Wang Juhuai actually believed her.

He laughed sarcastically. "Don't you want to know what you can do for Zhuoli to let you off?"

Lin Jinshu nodded sullenly.

She knew that in front of absolute power in the form of Han Zhuoli, no amount of schemes would work.

So she knew very well that she should adapt to her circumstances.

She did not think about other things right now. She was even willing to go and apologize to Xia Qingwei and Lu Man.

“Then go back to America, and don’t ever come back to disrupt our lives. Once you’ve gone back, Han Zhuoli will naturally not make things difficult for you,” Wang Juhuai said coldly.

Lin Jinshu laughed out of anger. “Then what’s the difference between now and the start? I am asking about developing my career in B City and what I can do for him to let me off and stop ruining matters on my end. Of course I know I can just go back to America. He, Han Zhuoli, can’t do anything to me in America.”

Han Zhuoli’s hands would not be able to reach that far!

Chapter 1344: You Are the Shameless One

“You’re right, Zhuoli’s influence in America is not as big compared to within the country. However, as long as you’re in the country, he can make sure you won’t be able to survive here as long as he wants to. Your staying in B City will just be a waste of your time. If you want Han Zhuoli to let you off, then go back to America. Or else, you can continue staying here to waste your time. There is no other choice,” Wang Juhuai said coldly.

Lin Jinshu said angrily, “I’ve already promised not to disturb you all anymore!”

“I don’t believe you,” Wang Juhuai said coldly. “So no matter what you say now, it will be of no use. Either you leave, or stay here and waste your time. There are only two choices.”

Wang Juhuai glanced sideways at her and said, “Also, let Wang Qianyun know that she has only these two choices as well. Has she been looking for work recently?”

Lin Jinshu pursed her lips. She did not look too shocked or lose her composure.

Wang Juhuai continued coldly, “You can go back and tell her that she will no longer be able to find a job in the country. She should go back with you as soon as she can.”

Lin Jinshu was about to say something again, but Wang Juhuai cut her off coldly. “I have already made myself very clear, there’s no use even if you say anything more.”

Wang Juhuai looked over Lin Jinshu and raised his voice to say to Shao Wenhui, “See the guest out!”

Lin Jinshu suddenly lunged forward to grab Wang Juhuai’s elbow. Luckily, Wang Juhuai had always been alert and keeping a distance from her.

Seeing Lin Jinshu move, Wang Juhuai also stepped back in alertness and avoided Lin Jinshu’s lunge to touch him.

“Juhuai!” Lin Jinshu appeared to be in agony as she said, “No matter what, we were husband and wife once! Yes, I lied to you, I schemed against you. You loathe me and are disgusted by me. But have you ever thought that this is all because I love you?! Do you know how it feels like to love someone and not be able to have them? I lied to you, yes, but this does not mean that my love for you is fake! For good or bad, we have once been husband and wife. How can you be so heartless and insist that I fall out of luck? Won’t your heart soften even a little?”

“My heart won’t soften even a little. I hate that you won’t just get even more unlucky than this.” Wang Juhuai, who’d always had an elegant and graceful image, did not give face to Lin Jinshu at all. “You asked me if I knew what it feels like to love someone but not be able to have them? Haha, of course I know!

“Did you forget how loving Qingwei and I were back then? We were childhood sweethearts. Ever since we started dating, I already knew that she was going to be my wife. I even did not imagine that I will marry someone else. It’s because of you that I and Qingwei missed each other for more than twenty years. Both of us could not be with each other in our best years, and it even caused her to be hurt by a scumbag.”

Wang Juhuai glanced coldly at Lin Jinshu and said, “To love someone but not be able to be with that person, I know how that’s like too well. I know it much better than you do. What do you know about loving someone but not being able to be with them? You are nothing but selfish.”

Since Wang Juhuai had given him the signal, Shao Wenhui came in to drag Lin Jinshu out of the office.

However, he did not dare to go overboard. After all, there was a difference between men and women. He did not want to be sued by Lin Jinshu for harassment.

Hence, when Lin Jinshu threw his arm off, Shao Wenhui did not hold on to her either.

Wang Juhuai said coldly, “If you refuse to leave and insist on staying here, that’s fine too. It’s all up to you. Anyway, you’re the one being shameless. It doesn’t affect me.”

Lin Jinshu turned around and saw that the staff in the office had all looked over without her noticing.

They did not dare to come over and gather around her blatantly, but they were all staring at her from afar, cautiously.

Even so, Lin Jinshu still felt like those people saw her as a joke.

How could Lin Jinshu continue staying there like this? She just left with a sullen face.

Chapter 1345: Lu Man’s Idea

Wang Juhuai thought about it. He was in no mood to stay here anymore and decided to go to Xia Qingwei’s studio instead.

He would wait for her to end class and fetch her home.

Xia Qingwei’s studio had already been established. One week earlier, classes had already started.

There were many parents who’d come forward to register for classes, so there were many children here.

Some parents had even decided not to stay at the previous school despite not finishing the lessons that were already paid for. They had transferred their children to her school.

Xia Qingwei did not reject them either.

Although she did not agree with what the parents did, the children were innocent, so Xia Qingwei would not reject the children who wanted to come and learn and thus agreed.

Xia Qingwei was also very easygoing when it came to working. Her original reason for teaching the violin was out of interest.

Part of it was because she did not want to give up on playing the violin, and the other part was because she wanted more children to be introduced to it.

She treated this as her interest, not entirely as a job.

She was mostly enjoying her time with family now rather than that spent on her career.

She did not have the intention of being a career woman in the first place.

Hence, she taught only one class a day, for around two hours.

In this way, she would need to control the number of people who came to sign up for classes. She did not want to use this to earn money, but rather, give herself something to do and teach some children at the same time. She did not think of expanding her studio, so she was more carefree on this matter.

Wang Juhuai did not need her to earn much money either. He let her work in this studio because he knew Xia Qingwei did not want to have nothing to do at all.

Xia Qingwei indeed wanted to make her life more fulfilling and earn enough money to spend herself.

She found herself something to do so that she would not coop herself up at home all the time and be disconnected from the outside world.

When Wang Juhuai came to Xia Qingwei's studio, Xia Qingwei was teaching halfway through class.

Wang Juhuai did not need to wait for long before Xia Qingwei ended class.

She watched every children being fetched by their parents before she left with Wang Juhuai.

Wang Juhuai told her about how Lin Jinshu came to find him on their way back home. "I did what Man Man said and left the door open. The whole studio probably knows about the schemes she plotted now."

It turned out that when Han Zhuoli decided to deal with Lin Jinshu, Lu Man had already discussed it with Wang Juhuai.

She knew that Lin Jinshu would definitely go and find Wang Juhuai.

One reason was because Lin Jinshu could not get close to Han Zhuoli at all.

The other was because Lin Jinshu could use this chance to see Wang Juhuai.

Lu Man then asked if he minded his staff hearing about his matters.

Wang Juhuai knew that the moment Lu Man asked this, she was already thinking of an idea to set up Lin Jinshu.

Wang Juhuai immediately said, "I don't mind. How many people don't know about my affairs by now? If I can say it in public previously, I won't be afraid of people pointing fingers. Furthermore, Lin Jinshu is the shameless one, all the more I wouldn't be bothered by it."

When Lu Man heard Wang Juhuai say that, she told him about her idea. “Actually, it’s very simple. If Lin Jinshu goes to find you, just leave the door open. One, you can guard against any of her schemes. With your staff around and the door open, she can’t do anything. If something really happens, there will be witnesses.

“Another reason is to spread the word out. There are many staff in the studio and people will say all kinds of things. After seeing such a scene, won’t they rush to talk about it?” Lu Man lowered her voice and said, “You have already talked about Lin Jinshu’s matter once before. If you say it again, it won’t be any fun and won’t be interesting anymore. Other people would be sick of it so there won’t be much effect. However, if a third party were to talk about it, Lin Jinshu’s reputation would surely go down the drain. It won’t be that easy for her to continue making a living here. On top of her work being put to a halt, she would also be pressured by people talking about her. How resilient must Lin Jinshu’s mind be for her to continue staying in the country?”

Chapter 1346: Boycott Lin Jinshu

She could not bring herself to bother with Wang Qianyun for now.

At the very least, she should make Lin Jinshu go away and stop bothering Wang Juhuai and Xia Qingwei.

As for Wang Qianyun, it would be good if she left with Lin Jinshu. If not, Wang Qianyun alone was easy to deal with.

Hence, Wang Juhuai acted according to Lu Man’s words today.

Xia Qingwei looked at Wang Juhuai helplessly. This man is really...

He gave it his all just to make Lin Jinshu scam.

The two of them reached home, and Lu Man arrived too after her lessons.

Wang Juhuai then gave Lu Man the once-through again.

Indeed, Lin Jinshu had surfaced on the Internet as a topic once more.

All posted by the netizens themselves.

“Definitely a first-hand account. My friend heard it himself but I can’t say who, I can’t cost him his job.”

Then, a mosaicked screenshot of the chat was uploaded.

In it was a detailed account of the conversation between Wang Juhuai and Lin Jinshu.

“Lin Jinshu’s actually so shameless!”

“Wang Juhuai and Xia Qingwei are childhood sweethearts yet forced apart by Lin Jinshu. As a bystander, I’m already seething. How come this woman hasn’t received her karma yet?! Just a divorce? That’s too easy for her!”

“Singlehandedly ruining Wang Juhuai’s and Xia Qingwei’s happiness. Though both of them are together now, they’d still missed the best times and ages. I feel like crying just by watching. How can Lin Jinshu be so evil?”

“She’s obviously in the wrong. And now she dares to approach Wang Juhuai for help and to use their past relationship as an excuse? Who’d have a past relationship with her? How brazen!”

“Young Master Han did well! Should make this woman get out of the country! Scram back to the States, don’t dirty our motherland!”

“Better not let me see her on the streets or I’ll scold her every time I see her! And I’ll d*mn well scold her in the face. Not gonna lie, this woman deserves all the scoldings!”

“Upvote! Let’s start a ‘Lin Jinshu Get Out Of China’ campaign. If we see her in the future, we’ll scold her away! Let her have no ‘face’ to go on the streets!”

“Upvote! I’ll join!”

“Count me in!”

“Add me!”

Hence, a topic suddenly trended on Weibo’s Most Searched:

Lin Jinshu Get Out Of China.

“What business is Lin Jinshu doing? I’m going to boycott her.”

“She owns a fast fashion apparel shop, called Lynshop. It’s about to enter the country’s market. The website seems done, and they’re doing publicity now. They’re also discussing opening a physical store.”

“The website’s done? I’m checking it out.”

The netizen searched and saw that it had started business, but because the publicity was still underway, the sales were not high.

“Let’s help her publicize and let everyone know this brand is hers, then boycott Lynshop.”

Thus, immediately after the topic “Lin Jinshu Get Out Of China” became one of the most searched ones, the topic “Boycott Lynshop” followed.

Lin Jinshu alone occupied two of the most searched topics. That was rather impressive.

Because the website was still in its initial stages and it had had limited publicity so far, not many people knew about it. So even though it had started selling, sales were low.

The website could run as usual.

But due to this incident, many netizens went to the site, causing the server to crash.

It might be a coincidence, or maybe Lin Jinshu was down on her luck.

She came out from Wang Juhuai’s office and was about to head to the parking lot.

The parking lot accompanying this block was on the ground floor and open-aired.

Chapter 1347: Difficult to Move

Lin Jinshu walked on her high heels just as the Internet buzzed with discussions about her.

A couple walked past her. The girl was holding on to her boyfriend's arm while talking about it and scolding Lin Jinshu when they saw Lin Jinshu in front of them.

At first, they couldn't be sure and just felt that she looked familiar. They did not recognize her.

As if having a stroke of inspiration, though, the girl called out, "Lin Jinshu?"

Lin Jinshu stopped on reflex, turning back to look.

The girl saw and thought, Ohhh, it's really her!

She rushed forward a few steps, pulling her boyfriend with her. Pointing at Lin Jinshu's nose, she told off Lin Jinshu. "Shameless! You love breaking up a pair of lovebirds, is that it?! Still have the guts to plead with the hurt party? Scram out of our country!"

"What are you doing? How can you just come and reprimand someone? I don't even know you." Lin Jinshu fumed.

"It's enough for me to know that you're Lin Jinshu! Breaking up Wang Juhuai and Xia Qingwei, pooh! Shameless!"

People around them heard the commotion and gathered around, pointing at Lin Jinshu. "So she's Lin Jinshu? Even worse than a mistress!"

"Luckily, Wang Juhuai and Xia Qingwei never forgot one another and reunited. Or else, that innocent couple would have been separated by her permanently. How awful!"

"Move away!" Lin Jinshu said in a fluster.

More and more people surrounded them, all pointing at her, disdain and hatred on their furious faces.

Lin Jinshu looked around her, face paling. "What are you all doing? Do you all want to hit me?" she asked in anger

"We won't hit you. That'll break the law and dirty our hands!" someone shouted.

"We'll just scold you! No morals!"

"We'll scold you every time we see you! Shameless!"

"Go away, let me pass!" Lin Jinshu shrieked. "What class do you have, surrounding me and scolding me?!"

"That's still tons better than you! We are low-class for scolding you, but your heart is dirty!"

Lin Jinshu was physically stuck surrounded by these people and their scoldings for an hour, and the crowd got increasingly bigger.

The police eventually caught wind of it and came to disperse the crowd.

Someone had posted the pictures and videos online.

“Well done! We have plenty of good samaritans!”

“Let’s just do this in the future. We’re civilized people, we don’t use our fists. We’ll get thrown into jail for beating up Lin Jinshu, it’s not worth it! We’ll just surround her and scold her! Scold her until she’s too embarrassed to be a human!”

By the time Lin Jinshu was escorted out of the crowd by the police, her hair was mussed.

She thanked the police stiffly, and when she returned to her car, she received a call from her assistant manager saying that the website had crashed.

Lin Jinshu felt so gloomy that her chest hurt.

Plans for the brick-and-mortar store fell through, and the website crashed at the same time.

All her previous investments were spent, and she gained nothing still.

She finally knew the feeling of having no space to maneuver.

***

That night, Han Zhuoli arrived at Yi Garden after getting off work.

After hearing about Lin Jinshu’s matter, he said coolly, “Lin Jinshu wants to expand locally, and that’ll involve many areas, including promotions of all sorts, logistics, hardware sales. I’ve blocked all these routes. She can’t use any one of them, so how is she going to expand?”

“Would it cost the Han Corporation any loss?” Wang Juhuai asked.

Previously, the Han Family had used a mammoth size of their power to fight the Xia Family.

But it had cost the Han Family quite significantly too.

Yet the Han Family was standing up for one of their own, so there was no problem.

But now, it was for Wang Juhuai, and he feared that some in the Han Family would hence have some problem with Lu Man.

Chapter 1348: Got Splashed with Red Paint

“They won’t.” Han Zhuoli did not mind. “How can Lin Jinshu be compared to the Xia Family? She has no connections within the country. She’d just arrived here and hadn’t had the chance to expand. We won’t need too much resources to fight her.”

Hearing this, Wang Juhuai relaxed.

“Oh, right, the villa’s done being renovated and the paint’s been left dry for a few months already. There shouldn’t be any lingering smells. I think we should find a time to move,” Wang Juhuai said. The topic of Lin Jinshu was closed.

Lu Man used her phone to look up the lunar calendar. She had started paying more attention to this area, probably influenced by Old Mrs. Han.

Usually, she wouldn’t consult the Chinese calendar, but moving was an important event.

“This Friday and Saturday are good for moving,” Lu Man said.

Han Zhuoli laughed, scooting over to look at Lu Man’s phone. “You’ve really been influenced by Old Mrs. Han. Bet she’ll be happy to hear it when I tell her.”

Lu Man laughed shyly. “Sheesh, I have no idea how, but I’ve just developed a habit of looking at the lunar calendar.”

Wang Juhuai chortled. “Then let’s move on Friday. You all would be done with school and work, and we can celebrate properly on a Friday night.”

Wang Juhuai’s move was not troublesome at all; he just had to carry his luggage.

And it was still within the neighborhood, so it was also a short walk from here to there.

When Lu Man followed Han Zhuoli to the family home, Han Zhuoli told Old Mrs. Han about Lu Man’s habit of consulting the Chinese calendar like her.

Old Mrs. Han slapped her thighs in laughter. “When Ah Nuo just started dating your dad, she too never used the lunar calendar. She then got influenced by me, and now, whenever there are renovations to be done or whatnot, she’d consult the lunar calendar. How great, it’s become a tradition for the wives of the Han Family.”

“If he moves on a Friday, when should we go for the housewarming?” Shen Nuo asked with a smile. “I’m afraid if we head over on a Saturday, the in-laws would not be done packing. Would they have the time to entertain us then?”

“There’s no problem,” Lu Man said. “Everything’s actually done over at the new house, we just have to move our luggage of daily necessities over. There’s really nothing much to pack.”

“Then let’s go on Saturday, shall we?” Old Mrs. Han asked.

“Alright, I’ll tell Mom and Dad.”

The couple went home after having lunch at the family home.

Lu Man then went on the Internet to check on the Lin Jinshu case.

Who would have expected that the netizens were still continuing enthusiastically after a few days?

Every day, the netizens were reporting their battle results, as if the whole of B City’s netizens were all bumping into Lin Jinshu on the streets then scolding her.

And to prove that they weren’t lying, they even posted videos.

Of course, not all netizens who confronted Lin Jinshu were citizens of good morals.

Some just wanted to scold others for the sake of it, and this was the perfect opportunity.

Since everyone else was already scolding Lin Jinshu.

One just had to scold Lin Jinshu to her face and upload the process onto the Net and no one would criticize you. Instead, they would applaud you and praise you for your actions.

Hence, many tried to profit from these troubled situations and went along with scolding Lin Jinshu.

Since no one would care if you're really about upholding justice.

As such, there were plenty of people admonishing her.

Those who scolded for fun and to release their stress had reprimands that were even worse than those from the ones who truly disliked Lin Jinshu.

Lu Man was scrolling when she saw a Weibo post saying, "D*mn, Lin Jinshu got splashed with red paint when she's outside!"

A video accompanied the post.

Chapter 1349: What Do You Think?

In the video, Lin Jinshu was walking when someone suddenly rushed over with a pail.

The perpetrator wore a cap and a mask, hiding his face.

When he got to Lin Jinshu, he then splashed the pail of paint on her and left immediately after.

The whole thing happened so fast, no one could react.

The image showed that only Lin Jinshu was left there, screeching non-stop.

People around her were pointing at her, but none were stepping forward to help.

Some even made sarcastic remarks. "Already like this and she still dares to walk on the streets?"

"Better get back to the States fast. There's no place for you here."

"Serves you right!"

"What are you looking at?" Han Zhuoli got out of the showers and saw that Lu Man had already washed herself clean, her skin pink and fresh.

She was leaning against the headboard and scrolling on her mobile when Han Zhuoli came over.

As he drew near, he could smell the scent of Lu Man's moisturizer.

Lu Man turned and saw that Han Zhuoli came out without drying his hair, the perfume of his shampoo still thick in the air.

She put down her phone and went to get the hair-dryer from the bathroom. "Sit."

Han Zhuoli sat on the bed.

He sat with his legs crossed, but because he was too tall, Lu Man had to kneel behind him to reach his head.

She spoke as she dried his hair. "I thought that the netizens' enthusiasm would blow over pretty quickly about Lin Jinshu's affair. Who knew they'd persist for so long?"

“Her website crashed, and after it was fixed, the netizens went to overload the server again. And since none of them were purchasing, she could only close the website. Otherwise, every minute the server runs would cost money, and she’s not profiting from anywhere. Moreover, she’s still at the investment stage. It seems that she can’t recoup her losses any time soon. So she can only stop for the moment.” Han Zhuoli closed his eyes, utterly comfortable with Lu Man’s ministrations.

Lu Man’s fingers threaded through his hair, massaging his scalp as she blew on it. Han Zhuoli was so relaxed he almost fell asleep

He then leaned back against Lu Man’s soft and warm body, and he was almost in heaven.

“She has no chance of restarting as long as she doesn’t stop,” Han Zhuoli said with closed eyes. “She’d probably give up by next week.”

When Lu Man’s done, she smacked his forehead lightly. “Did you not dry your hair before you sleep when you’re working overseas?”

“No, no, I did blow-dry it.” It’s just that it was a perfunctory move; his hair was still wet after that.

“You’ll get a headache if you keep doing that.” Lu Man put the hairdryer down and massaged his head. “Don’t do that in the future.”

“Okay.” Han Zhuoli leaned comfortably in Lu Man’s embrace.

“Oh, right, didn’t they say that the champion for the Chinese Arts Championships would get a direct chance to be an exchange student at New York University?” Lu Man said. “Though the school hasn’t approach me, I think they will soon. Because we have to go for an exchange there in my junior year.”

Han Zhuoli froze momentarily. He had forgotten about it.

He held Lu Man’s wrist, his thumb drawing circles on the inner side. “What do you think?”

If it were up to him, he wouldn’t be able to bear for Lu Man to go to New York to learn about performing.

He couldn’t bear not seeing her for a whole year.

However, he wouldn’t be so selfish as to stop Lu Man from going.

Lu Man had her own career. She was a capable lass, and he was not willing to dim her shine and bury her talents by forcing her to stay at home and be a housewife.

Chapter 1350: Why Are You So Foolish?

It would be unfair to her.

He had no right to stop Lu Man from improving herself.

Since Lu Man had the ability and her own career, not only he did not wish to bury her talents, but he also wanted to support her actively.

If she wanted to achieve bigger successes, he would always be behind her.

If she wanted to retreat into anonymity, he was capable enough to protect her as well.

He would support her no matter what she chose.

And since Lu Man had brought up the matter, she must have made up her mind.

Lu Man hugged his neck from behind, pecking his lips in the process. "Can you bear my going away for so long?"

"Of course not." Han Zhuoli grabbed her as she was retreating and gave her a solid kiss. "But if that's really what you want, I'll support your decision. You have the ability, the talent; I can't be the one to stop you and bury your talents. I'll support anything that you wish."

Han Zhuoli already started thinking. "Let me see, if you want to go on an exchange program to New York, I'll shift the heart of my work to the States and let Big Brother oversee the operations here."

Lu Man never thought that Han Zhuoli would've considered this far when she had yet to say anything.

She was so touched by this man's consideration that she could cry.

Lu Man felt her throat tighten as tears starting welling up.

"I haven't even said anything, why are you so foolish?" Lu Man's voice was shaky.

Han Zhuoli put on a face that shouted "I'm smart!" while looking all so innocent.

Lu Man burst into laughter, her heart swelling with love.

Grabbing both sides of his face, she said, "I wanted to tell you that I want to reject it. I don't want to go to New York."

Han Zhuoli covered her hands with his. "Not going? You don't have to give up this opportunity because of me."

"You're the reason indeed, and honestly, going to New York to learn acting doesn't hold much appeal for me." Lu Man smiled and said, "I'm actually not a career-minded person. I just wanted to do something well when I'm doing it. But I'm not overly ambitious beyond that."

Han Zhuoli thought for a while and realized that that was really the case.

It wasn't that Lu Man's results were especially eye-catching.

It was just that the circumstances had forced her to produce those results. If it were otherwise, one wouldn't know what results she would have yielded.

Not much else needed to be said for Red Tiger and Greedy Wolf Operation. It was because the other party started it first; they'd offended Lu Man thoroughly and made her retaliate.

Even the exam results prior to that were due to the student offending her and she went to make a bet with them.

Going further back, when she started working at the Public Relations Department at the Han Corporation, it was Dai Yiran's provocation that had angered Lu Man.

Thinking back now, he found that this lass had a really hot temper.

Never get on her bad side.

“If we were still dating and haven’t married, I might have considered going to New York to study. But now, I’ve got you and this family, and we’re even planning to have a child! I wouldn’t abandon this family just for that. You and this family will always be first.” Lu Man pinched Han Zhuoli’s cheeks. “To be plain, I just can’t stand parting from you. Even if you say you’ll follow me to New York, I still can’t bear it.”

Since he was the head of the Han Corporation, what would it look like for him to follow her to the States?

“So, I don’t wish to go,” Lu Man said. “I merely wished to discuss it with you. I didn’t want to go anyway. It wouldn’t do even if you follow me to New York!”