Chapter 241: Both of You, Get Out!

The person at the edge of the circle suddenly hit the film lamp in the studio.

The professional film lamp in the film studio was tall, big and extremely heavy.

Once it got hit, the stand of the lamp was unable to support the heavy weight of the lamp. It started wobbling, almost about to fall.

The head of the lamp was extremely big and as it was about to fall down and hit the people standing below it, scared and stunned, the people below could only cover the heads, squatting and screaming loudly.

“Bam!” Following it there was a pin drop silence in the studio.

At the moment, the girl who was squatting exactly below the light realized that the lamp hadn’t crashed and hit her even after a long time. She blinked and finally turned back cautiously.

She realized that the lamp that was going to fall on her had landed on an empty spot instead.

“Are you alright?” Lu Man stretched out her hand towards her. She felt that the other person looked rather familiar like she was a colleague from another department in the company.

“What... what happened?” Hu Zhonghui was still lingering in the shock and fear of the moment and was rather disoriented.

Right now, Hu Zhonghui was the girl standing at the edge and the people around her were all ordinary employees from Han Corporation.

All of them started explaining all of once, talking animatedly, “She saved you. You should quickly thank her!”

“That was too amazing. She moved so fast! Just now, right as the lamp was about to hit you, she suddenly threw a flying kick and the lamp crashed towards the opposite side,” one female employee gestured excitedly, “Her moves were so cool! She lifted her leg so high and straight, it looked even better than in movies!”

Finally, Hu Zhonghui came to her senses. She hurriedly tried to stand up, only to realize that her legs were all jelly from her shock.

She could only hold on to Lu Man’s hand and was pulled up by Lu Man.

“You must be Lu Man!” Hu Zhonghui held onto Lu Man’s hand, and said gratefully, “Thank you, thank you so much. If not I would have been smashed to pieces.”

“You’re welcome. I just tried to help when I could, it was nothing,” Lu Man did not mind it, but seeing how grateful Hu Zhonghui was, she indeed became a little happy.

“Oh right, I’m a celebrity manager’s assistant from the Artiste department. My name is Hu Zhonghui,” Hu Zhonghui introduced herself. Her goal was to become an actual manager, but since she didn’t really have any aspiring talents with her, how could she become a manager? So she could only start as an assistant and slowly work her way up.

“In the future, if there’s anything you need my help with, feel free to tell me!” Hu Zhonghui said gratefully.

“It was really nothing, you don’t have to take it to heart,” Lu Man replied, smiling.

“I can’t just forget about it, you saved my life!” Hu Zhonghui said, “If I was hit by it, I would have needed to be hospitalized and take leave from work. Right now, the competition and stress are both so great that if I don’t work for even one day, I will be replaced by someone else. If I were to lose my job, I wouldn’t have the money for my medical treatment, and without money, I would have been disabled forever. So you really saved my life!”

Lu Man: “...”

She was almost all confused by her words!

From afar, in the center of the studio, Mi Qiansong was looking in their direction. At that moment, she turned away and headed off to say something to the Wushu director and Director Sun Yiwu.

The Wushu director Chang Xianjin and Sun Yiwu both looked over. Sun Yiwu stared for quite a while, and then nodded his head, saying something to Mi Qiansong.

While Hu Zhonghui was thanking Lu Man, the security officers were also trying to maintain the order.

After the security officers separated Xia Mengxuan and that female artiste. Manager Hao from the Artiste Department personally came over. “Both of you, get out!”

Seeing what had happened just now, Xia Mengxuan was still a little frightened from the after-shock.

But now that everything was fine, she started feeling brave again. Upon realizing that Lu Man was the one who solved the problem, she started hating Lu Man even more.

It was Lu Man messing her plans, causing trouble for her. If Lu Man wasn’t here, there wouldn’t be so much trouble!

Chapter 242: Director Sun Wants You to Try, Is That Alright?

That jinx Lu Man!

Now as she heard Manager Hao chasing her out, Xia Mengxuan paled.

She had not let the director notice her yet, how could she leave!

The other female artiste was so regretful that she immediately started crying, “Manager Hao, don’t chase me away, it’s all because of this woman cutting the queue and disregarding the order! Manager Hao, after so long I’ve finally have this chance to audition, please don’t chase me out!”

Even she knew that the competition was very fierce and she might not be chosen, but it was still a chance after all, right?

Now, she could not even have a chance at all.

“Manager Hao, please let Nana stay. It was really that woman’s fault. She isn’t even an artiste, and who knows which department she’s from, she’s dreaming of becoming famous and came here to shove us away, pushing her way to the front to cut the queue, thinking that it would make the director notice her. When we didn’t let her cut the queue, she even mocked us for being small celebrities and disregarded us.”

“She’s right, Manager hao. We don’t mind that the company’s employees are here to take a look as long as they don’t disrupt the auditions, but she can’t be such a bully!”

Other people started to chime in. Before competing with each other, they first had a common enemy — Xia Mengxuan.

“You, get out!” Manager impolitely ordered Xia Mengxuan, “You are from the Public Relations department, right? It’s working hours right now, who allowed you to come over!”

“And you guys too!” Manager Hao looked towards the other employees, “Who allowed you guys to leave your work posts on your own accord? If you don’t want to work anymore, submit your resignation! Did the company hire you just guys to look at celebrities?”

Having been implicated by Xia Mengxuan, they all stared harshly at Xia Mengxuan, hatred glaring in their eyes.

“Manager Hao, I’m so sorry!” Sister Li saw the situation and hurriedly came over. She grabbed onto Xia Mengxuan, “She’s from our Public Relations department, I’m sincerely very apologetic. This matter is indeed her fault, I will take her away now. It was difficult for this girl to get this chance for an audition, please let her stay.”

Towards the artistes under him, Manager Hao had always tried to help them as much as he could. Now that he heard that Sister Li had given him a reason to do so, he nodded. “Take her away quickly then.”

“I’m not leaving!” Seeing that Sun Yiwu and Chang Xianjin were looking in their direction, Xia Mengxuan was even more unwilling to leave now.

Seeing that, Sister Li’s face instantly darkened. This Xia Mengxuan, she really doesn’t know what’s better for her!

Right then, Mi Qiansong walked over and stopped in front of Lu Man, “Excuse me Miss, are you an employee here?”

“I am,” Lu Man replied calmly.

Sister Li asked nervously, “What’s the matter? This... she... she didn’t cause any trouble! All she did just now was to save someone. I’m really sorry that we’ve interrupted your auditions!”

Under stress, Sister Li had forgotten about the relationship between Han Zhuoli and Lu Man too.

Hu Zhonghui was also anxious. "That's right, Lu Man did that just to save me!"

"You've both misunderstood," Mi Qiansong said, smiling. She turned to Lu Man and asked, "You're called Lu Man?"

"Yes," Lu Man nodded.

"You seem to be quite skilled. Director Sun wants you to try, is that alright?" Mi Qiansong asked Lu Man.

Lu Man was a little dumbfounded. "You mean... audition?"

"Yes," Surprisingly, Sun Yiwu had walked over personally. "Xiao Mi and Director Chang could both tell that you have some background in Wushu. Our original third female lead was a Wushu champion, so we had designed many rather difficult moves for the shoot. Those without any background can't do them. I'm a rather stubborn person too. Since I've seen all the action moves and they are satisfactory to me already, now if there are a lot of changes in the moves, I won't be satisfied, so I'm always trying to find someone with some background."

"It's just that, it's very difficult to find someone who is pretty and also has a Wushu background, and look pretty on such short notice." If not, he wouldn't have directly come to Han Corporation to cast his net, it was only because he thought that there might be a small chance he could catch a treasure.

Chapter 243: Holding Hands in Front of Everyone

It didn't matter how popular they artiste are. What mattered the most was whether they fit his criteria and demands.

In the end, even after looking at so many of them, there still wasn't one that matched his expectations.

Just as he was about to give up and decide to change the action moves, he discovered Lu Man!

It indeed made Sun Yiwu overjoyed, it was way beyond his expectations!

Now, all that was left was Lu Man's natural talent in performance.

He could just add more fight scenes for the third female lead. Moreover, the original actress herself was also not trained as an actor either.

As long as she wasn't too horrible, it was alright.

He could teach her while she acted.

"Director Sun," Zheng Tianming hurriedly came over.

"Assistant Zheng?" Sun Yiwu had always been rather polite to Zheng Tianming, "Does CEO Han have any orders?"

"You think that Lu Man can do it?" Zheng Tianming asked.

"From what I can tell right now, yes. But I'll still have to see her acting performance," Sun Yiwu said, but he was already inclined towards choosing Lu Man.

“There are too many people here, so it’s not very convenient to talk. Please follow me, we can discuss in private,” Zheng Tianming gestured “please” and let Sun Yiwu and the rest walk in front of him.

Lu Man tagged along too.

When she saw Zheng Tianming, Sister Lu knew that nothing would happen to Lu Man. Hence, she hurriedly called You Lili, dragged Xia Mengxuan along and left.

“You’re still dreaming of becoming a celebrity? Just now, the director himself was standing right here, but he didn’t even spare you a glance, why are you still dreaming!” Sister Li dragged Xia Mengxuan along. “Hurry back to the office. Manager Wu must have heard about this huge ruckus you’ve caused today too. It’s already our fault for leaving work on our own accord. Since it’s not a very busy day today, Manager Wu had already turned a blind eye to let us come over to take a look. But not only have we left our work, but you have also caused such a mess, now you might have to suffer the consequences if they seriously choose to pursue the matter!”

Moreover, it was not only Xia Mengxuan. All of them who had come over will be questioned too!

Honestly, Sister Li was extremely annoyed with Xia Mengxuan right now. How could she be so good at making trouble out of nothing!

Besides, Xia Mengxuan had not only implicated her own colleagues in the Public Relations department but also the colleagues from other departments.

So many people had gone there this time. This time, when they head back, they will all be reprimanded.

Therefore, glares filled with anger and hatred were coming from everywhere, Sister Li and the other two were about to be drowned by their death glares.

Xia Mengxuan’s expression was terrible. Why do they always notice Lu Man first!

Every single time!

Every time, as long as Lu Man was around, anything good would only happen to Lu Man. Everything was always wrecked by Lu Man!

Exactly what did they like about Lu Man!

Meanwhile, the people currently being questioned by Xia Mengxuan in her mind — Sun Yiwu and the others — were led by Zheng Tianming to Han Zhuoli’s office.

Sun Yiwu could not help but steal a glance at Lu Man. Exactly who was this young lady? Han Zhuoli actually cared this much about her and even called them over personally to his office to discuss. Nothing like this had ever happened before.

Zheng Tianming knocked on the door of the office and heard Han Zhuoli giving them permission to enter.

“After you, Director Sun.” Zheng Tianming opened the door.

Lu Man stepped aside to let Sun Yiwu and the others enter first and followed after them. Zheng Tianming was the last one to enter.

“Director Sun,” Han Zhuoli stood up politely to greet him.

“President Han, you’re too polite.” Sun Yiwu smiled.

Han Zhuoli smiled back. While Sun Yiwu and the others sat down, he turned and walked to Lu Man’s side. He held her hand and brought her over to sit opposite Sun Yiwu and the others.

Lu Man froze slightly, Han Zhuoli was not shy at all. Doing this in front of Sun Yiwu and the others was equivalent to telling them about their relationship.

After a short moment of shock, Lu Man calmed down. Since Han Zhuoli did this, she will follow along.

As it was the first time they were openly declaring their relationship to others, a sweet, warm feeling welled up in Lu Man’s heart.

Chapter 244: Lu Man Is My Girlfriend

They did not tell the other colleagues because firstly it was not necessary and secondly because it would cause a lot of trouble.

However, Sun Yiwu and the others did not work in the company. Regardless of whether they knew it, it would not have too much of an impact.

Anyway, most importantly, she believed in Han Zhuoli’s decision.

Sun Yiwu and the others watched in shock as Han Zhuoli intimately pulled Lu Man over to sit down. His doting, love, and care were all so obvious in every single one of his actions, it was completely unhidden.

To display such feelings so naturally was only because he was used to behaving like that all the time. It had long since become a habit of his that was deep in his bones.

Only then, Sun Yiwu finally understood why Han Zhuoli’s reaction was so fast. He had just found Lu Man and before he could even explain in detail to Lu Man, Zheng Tianming had quickly arrived.

No matter how big a shot the celebrity was, they all had to audition on the spot. Yet, Zheng Tianming had led them to the CEO’s office to speak privately, not letting the others have an opportunity to take a look.

“Lu Man is my girlfriend,” Han Zhuoli took the initiative to explain. She was not just any other female companion he was having a casual fling with because of a moment of interest.

After all, Sun Yiwu and the others did indeed have such speculation. After hearing Han Zhuoli introduce her so seriously and formally, Sun Yiwu and the others looked at how Lu Man behaved, and it only increased the gravity of the situation.

“No wonder you had specially called us over,” Sun Yiwu teased smilingly. “Turns out that it was because you were protecting your girlfriend.”

“She currently works in our Public Relations department. She has just won the Golden Finger Best Newcomer Award.” Pride was written all over Han Zhuoli’s face. It was as if “humility” didn’t exist in his dictionary.

Although he was a director, he was ultimately still part of the entertainment industry. The Public Relations industry and the entertainment industry were very tightly coupled and could not be separated, so Sun Yiwu was not a stranger to this professional award in the public relations industry.

“That’s impressive! Congratulations, congratulations.” Sun Yiwu smiled, “Who knew that Lu Man would be so outstanding at such a young age.”

All this while, Han Zhuoli was just waiting for their praise and compliments. “Man Man is just like this. No matter what she does, or which industry she’s in, she will definitely be the most outstanding person!”

Sun Yiwu and the others, “...”

Han Zhuoli had already praised her to the heavens, what more could they praise?

Sun Yiwu could only nod dryly. “Yes, yes.”

Lu Man: “...”

She did not expect that Han Zhuoli would praise her so blatantly.

Yet, Han Zhuoli was behaving as if this was all completely reasonable. His Lu Man was indeed so outstanding!

Wouldn’t it be unreasonable to not praise her?

“I’ve heard that Director Sun intends to let Man Man be the third female lead?” Just as Han Zhuoli finished asking, Ye Xuanxuan entered, carrying a tray with cups of coffee.

She saw that Sun Yiwu and the others were sitting in a row, while Lu Man and Han Zhuoli were seated together.

Her expression changed in a flash. Could it be that Sun Yiwu really intended to pick Lu Man?

Were they here to discuss the contract?

Where did Lu Man get all this good luck from!

She quickly placed the tray down. Afraid of dilly dallying, she left reluctantly.

“Yes, I intend to do so, but I will still have to look at Lu Man’s acting skills. She need not be very outstanding, it’s fine as long as she can pass the minimum.” Sun Yiwu smiled bitterly, resigned.

“Honestly, time is really running short right now, I don’t have enough time to slowly pick the actress. I’ve contacted some people, but they had either despised that the third female lead had insufficient screen time or their schedule would clash with ours.”

“Director Sun, you don’t have to worry about Lu Man’s acting just yet, as she hasn’t even agreed.” Han Zhuoli smiled faintly. “I can’t make the decision regarding this, Lu Man will have to decide on her own. Take your time to discuss. Regardless of whether she agrees or not, it’s all Lu Man’s decision.”

However, he would be watching from the side, looking out for Lu Man.

Seeing that he was stoically sitting by the side like a deity, even Sun Yiwu broke into a sweat.

“Lu Man, I’ve told you the reason just now. We have to start the reshoot latest by the day after tomorrow, it would be best if someone could join the crew before tomorrow night to familiarise themselves. Therefore, I only have these two days to find somebody. After so much effort, I’ve finally found someone like you who’s so suitable. You already have some Wushu background, you are also pretty and you will look good on camera too.” As such an expert director, Sun Yiwu only needed one glance to know how she would appear in front of the camera; he was that experienced.

Chapter 245: I Want To Try

With just one look at Lu Man, Sun Yiwu knew that she would be very beautiful on camera.

Some people’s looks were naturally suitable to be a celebrity.

Many currently popular celebrities although not that good looking in real life, it was not the same on camera.

As for Lu Man, she was very pretty with a delicate small face that was only as big as a palm, small and beautiful.

Her sharp jawline was unlike that of those who had undergone plastic surgery, it was natural and lovely.

Furthermore, her skin was white and clean, she was already a natural beauty, even without makeup, she would still look good on camera.

Lu Man definitely would be able to take on the challenge of the crystal clear camera!

He also felt that this time, being able to find Lu Man, it was really God given gift!

“I’m very grateful that you chose me after consideration. It is just that I have no experience with acting and I’m actually scared I won’t act well, leaving flaws in your work,” Lu Man smiled. “Furthermore, I still have my full-time job.”

“Your full-time job is alright!” Sun Yiwu looked towards Han Zhuoli, laughing, “If you want to enter the acting circle, there is nothing more suitable than my movie. A lot of professional actors do not even have such a high starting point. If you don’t want to, you want to go back and continue with your job, CEO Han can’t not keep his girlfriend’s job for her, right?”

Sun Yiwu smiled brightly and looked at Han Zhuoli, “CEO Han, don’t you agree?”

Han Zhuoli slowly took a sip of coffee. “If Lu Man wants to, I’ll definitely keep the job for her, everything will be based on what she wants.”

“Don’t worry, just take your time to consider it,” Han Zhuoli told Lu Man gently.

Lu Man nodded her head and then lowering her head, considering it for a very long time.

After that, she raised her head, solemnly saying, “I want to try.”

“That’s good, I was just waiting for that sentence!” Sun Yiwu happily patted his leg.

Lu Man turned her head, silently asking for Han Zhuoli’s opinion.

Han Zhuoli smiled warmly at her. “Just do whatever you want to do.”

“Then should we first try?” Sun Yiwu said, “Although I have a good opinion of Lu Man, she must still try to act once, because if she can’t make it, I still need to continue to find someone else.”

“Alright,” Lu Man nodded, “Should we try the dialogue part first or the fighting actions?”

“Let’s first try the fighting actions, you already have a background in martial arts, so we can first design the actions for those parts.” Sun Yiwu told Chang Xianjin, “Xiao Mi, first teach a simplified version to Lu Man, as long she can master the simplified version, the full version will definitely not be a problem, later on, she can train for the full version once she joins the crew.”

“Alright,” Mi Qiansong stood up, “Should we just do it here?”

Han Zhuoli’s office was big enough with a space wide enough for her to extend her arms in a fist and widen her feet.

Han Zhuoli nodded his head in agreement. “Just do it here.”

Thus, Mi Qiansong went to the middle space and fluently went through some actions.

The martial scenes were designed to look good in the movie, so the actions although looking great were not very useful in real life. The punches and kicks were all very smooth, very pleasant to see.

Returning to her final stance, Mi Qiansong ended her series of actions. “How is it? Do I need to show you again?”

“Let me try,” Lu Man stood up and walked over.

Mi Qiansong gave her enough space, Lu Man did not instantly stop her actions.

At that moment, she let herself ignore the existence of Sun Yiwu and the rest of the people, closing her eyes she quietly recalled Mi Qiansong’s actions just now, then she started performing them.

Lu Man punched, then raised her leg, did a horizontal sweep and ended with a flying kick.

As each of her actions was smoothly executed, Sun Yiwu’s gaze became brighter and brighter!

He had not seen wrong!

A person with a martial arts background did not need to learn step by step like an ordinary person.

After seeing it one time, she knew the actions by heart, one action after another, knowing how to make the actions link up nicely.

Chapter 246: Praise

Even if there was a slight difference, her efficiency was a lot higher than that of an ordinary person.

As a professional actor, their performances were professional, but most of the actors only had a background in dance, so the most they could do was kick a bit higher, yet they were not like Lu Man, all her punches were on point and every move of hers was impressive.

Not only were her actions perfect, but they were also full of vigor such that even through a screen, one could feel the strength behind them.

“Good!” Sun Yiwu clapped his hands in satisfaction.

He then told the assistant next to him, “Give Lu Man the script to take a look.”

The assistant hurriedly took out the script and passed it to Sun Yiwu.

After turning a few pages, Sun Yiwu found the lines belonging to the third female lead as they were already circled out.

Usually, the third female lead did not have a lot of lines. After all, the movie was only less than two hours, after taking out the male lead’s and the second male lead’s parts, there was not much left, so being able to have a line was already considered quite good.

No wonder Sun Yiwu dared to find her.

Despite the focus being on the male leads in his movie, the third female lead was also very outstanding.

After Lu Man taking a look at it and figuring out the context before and after the scene, she asked, “Director Sun, what personality does this third female lead have?”

At that moment, Sun Yiwu had a face full of praise and admiration.

Lu Man was not even a performing arts student and had never done any sort of performance before, yet she thought of this aspect first; she was already very diligent.

“The third female lead had been training from young in a closed-off environment, and is considered the kind with quite little human feelings and looks a bit cold, she’s a bit introverted in terms of feelings. You see that both the male lead and the second male lead said that she’s as cold as a robot and they do not know whether emotions even exist in her heart. The second male lead even said that he did not know if there would be a day where she would be more like a human. Actually, she is quite pitiful, she did not lead a normal life since young, and hence she doesn’t have many human emotions. When she started to interact with these people, she started learning new things slowly through their interactions and as for the different kinds of emotions that emerge in the process, she would be hesitant, sometimes panic, at first she will be at a loss, and later on, she will learn to accept, to master them, such is her character development,” Sun Yiwu explained to Lu Man.

“Hence, the part where the second male lead dies tests the acting skills of the third female lead the most. You need to act out the sudden outburst of emotions that she had pent up inside her for more than ten years,” Sun Yiwu pointed at one of the paragraphs. “Now, try to act out this scene. The ending is a bit difficult, so let’s not be too anxious first, while shooting, we can slowly train you and I’ll tell you about it slowly, this paragraph is when the third female lead first appears, so she is not very familiar with a lot of emotions. Come Xiao Mi, act opposite Lu Man.”

Lu Man took time to familiarize herself with the lines. In her past life, this movie had actually been aired in the prison and under the organization of the prison, they had watched the show together.

Since it was an anti-terrorism police and bandits film, it was very patriotic.

Furthermore, seeing the patriotism in the movie many people who came to the cinema ended up crying as the left.

In her previous life, Lu Man didn’t get to be the third female lead although the was original actress had been injured and had to be replaced by someone else.

That was because in her past life, while they have been scouting for a replacement actress, she was in prison.

In this lifetime, if she had not appeared then probably Sun Yiwu would have still found that actress.

It is just that the actress did not gain much fame even after the film was aired because the male characters were just too outstanding, overshadowing the third female lead completely.

But since it was a rare chance to watch a movie in her eight years in prison, it left a deep impression.

She still remembered the third female lead’s performance, now that Lu Man recalled it, she felt that the actress’ acting was a bit stiff.

Thus, she followed her own thoughts and tried acting opposite Mi Qiansong.

Chapter 247: Entering The Cast

“Not bad!” Sun Yiwu was extremely satisfied, “To speak the truth, Lu Man, you are very suitable to be an actress, you have the spirit, Although you aren’t someone who studied performing arts, it is because of that, you have a more natural feeling, it is just excellent!”

“Does that mean I passed?” Lu Man put down the script.

“Correct!” Sun Yiwu smiled.

Sun Yiwu’s assistant brought the contract right away.

Lu Man did not even look and directly passed it to Han Zhuoli, asking him to help her check.

Han Zhuoli flipped through it roughly and asked, “Is the same pay as the one previously?”

Since Lu Man did not have any acting experience and was a total newcomer, they had the right to lower the pay.

But with Han Zhuoli watching over it at the side, who would dare to?

Han Zhuoli understood the industry rules and nodded to agree, “Alright.”

“I want to add another condition,” Lu Man suddenly spoke up.

“What request do you have? As long as it is not too much, I’ll do my best to satisfy it,” Sun Yiwu felt that the pay and the treatment in the agreement was already very good, Lu Man was a total newcomer, but the treatment she got was one of someone who had been in the industry for a long time.

If it were the other celebrities that were trying for the role just now, they might even be willing to film without getting paid.

“The producers, distributors and the crew cannot use my relationship with Han... Big Brother Han as publicity to make the movie more popular,” Lu Man retrieved the contact, “This clause must be put down in black and white in the contract.”

Just now she was about to call Han Zhuoli by his full name but felt that calling him like that in front of outsiders would not seem good and thus she could only change her way of calling him at the last moment.

Yet Lu Man still felt a little uncomfortable calling him ‘Big Brother Han’.

Lu Man’s condition not only surprised Sun Yiwu and everyone present there but it also surprised Han Zhuoli as he did not think that the condition Lu Man wanted was that.

After a short moment of shock, Han Zhuoli was very pleasantly surprised.

Honestly, Lu Man really did not wish for their relationship to be made use of by others for personal interests. She really valued their relationship a lot and was working hard to secure it.

What was shocked Han Zhouli was that Lu Man was so careful and had even thought of that point, wanting to add it to the contract.

This was his girl!

It was not just him protecting her, at the same time, he was also being protected by her.

Lu Man was always careful, using her intelligence to protect their relationship.

The happiness in Han Zhuoli’s heart could not be hidden and could be clearly seen on his face, his heart brimming with joy, the corners of his mouth were lifted up, and his gaze full adoration.

Look at Lu Man, his little girl, why was she so adorable!

She was so fabulous that it was just impossible for him not to love her!

Seeing the way Han Zhouli was looking at Lu Man, Su Yiwu felt his eyes sting and could only turn to face Lu Man. “The new contract can add that condition.”

“Then I’ll let the lawyers come up with another draft of the contract,” Han Zhuoli had Zheng Tianming contact the company’s Lawyer Wu immediately.

After a while, Lawyer Wu came over and according to Lu Man's requests, added a condition to the contract right away.

Since Lu Man worked in public relations, she knew very well the rules of the industry.

Today, as Sun Yiwu got to know the relationship between her and Han Zhuoli, it could not be promised that the producers and the distributors would not know.

Furthermore, her relationship with Han Zhuoli would undoubtedly become a large selling point of the movie and Lu Man definitely did not want to let anyone use their relationship for benefits.

After Lawyer Wu drafted the complete contract, Lu Man checked for any discrepancy and only after that did she finally sign the contract.

Sun Yiwu let out a breath of relief, he had finally solved a large problem. "Lu Man, when can you start filming?"

"Most probably tomorrow. After I end work tomorrow, I'll go over."

It just happened that now that she was done with Du Lin's proposal, she had no other important work at hand now.

Chapter 248: I Won't Let You Regret Your Initial Choice

These few days, it had been less busy in the Public Relations department, so her being away right now did not have much of an impact.

Sun Yiwu stood up and shook Lu Man's hand, "We'll wait for you on set tomorrow then."

After Sun Yiwu and the others left, Han Zhuoli pulled Lu Man over, "Even I couldn't think of that, how did you think of that?"

Lu Man sat down on Han Zhuoli's lap obediently. Who knew when this man developed such a habit, he always liked having her sit on his lap.

Every single time, Lu Man would always worry that she would make his leg numb, it would be like... like she was very heavy.

"Because I care, so it naturally came to my mind." Under Han Zhuoli's focused and heated gaze, Lu Man was blushing and was embarrassed to look at him in the eyes. "I don't wish for any form of benefit or profit to be derived from our relationship. Even if I'm forced to, I don't want to either. I don't want you to be milked because of me."

Sitting still for a while, Lu Man looked seriously at Han Zhuoli's handsome and striking face.

This man was so outstanding. As long as she was close to him, she would always feel calm and peaceful.

She had never felt like he was much older than her. She only felt that he was mature and reliable, he had a mature charm to him that those younger men did not have.

Yet sometimes, he would still behave like a little child.

Surprisingly, he had both maturity and childishness, yet it didn't make others feel that it was strange either.

More than once, Lu Man had secretly thought to herself that perhaps it was because her past was honestly too pitiful that the heavens could not take it and even felt that she was too miserable.

Hence in life left they let her meet Han Zhuoli.

Otherwise, there was almost an entire world in between the two of them. How could she deserve to walk to his side, or even into his heart?

She treasured him more and more. Unknowingly, she raised her hand and her soft, warm palm gently cradled his cheek. "All along, it seems like I've never been able to help you. While I can't really help you, I can't drag you down either."

Han Zhuoli smiled as he held onto the hand on his cheek. He turned his head and kissed her palm gently. "You won't drag me down at all."

She was so intelligent, how would she allow herself to drag him down?

Besides, she loved him so much, so the more she would not allow herself to be a hindrance to him.

That's right, she loved him that much!

Confirming this made him happier than anything else!

"Old Mrs. Han said that she didn't like women in the entertainment industry. Doing this is actually too bold of me, I'm afraid that Old Mrs. Han would not like me even more now." Lu Man apologized, "Because of my own interests, I've made things difficult for you."

"Not at all." Han Zhuoli shook his head decisively, "If I can't even let you do what you like, not let you have the freedom and authority to choose what you want, how can I deserve to be with you? Wouldn't it better for you to be alone then, wouldn't you have more freedom? Getting you to be with me is so that you can have a life better than the one you would have alone. I won't let you regret your initial choice."

Lu Man was surprised, she did not expect that Han Zhuoli would have such thoughts.

In fact, she had never thought that way before. Choosing Han Zhuoli, falling for him, giving in because of him, compromising, and even sacrificing — she never felt that she was suffering.

Wouldn't two people in love dedicate and devote to each other?

In the past, she had only chosen herself because she honestly did not know the bliss of being in love.

After getting together with Han Zhuoli, she finally learned that when you care about another person's feelings, you are able to give everything for their sake.

As for every single matter that she had minded in the past, every task that was difficult for her to do, she couldn't care less upon having met the right man.

Yet, Han Zhuoli was giving much more than that, he was extremely meticulous and thoughtful!

Chapter 249: Tenderly Calling Him Big Brother Han

Moreover, if she had not asked, did this man never plan to tell her his thoughts?

He did not intend to ever let her know that he had given so much for her!

“I’ve never regretted it!” Lu Man stared deeply into his eyes, “Every second that I spend with you, I fall for you even more. Choosing to be with you back then was the best decision I’ve made this life. I’m very thankful that I took that step forward and did not miss out on you. Otherwise, I would have regretted it for my entire life.”

“Me too. I’m extremely happy that you are putting in so much effort to protect our relationship and to protect me.” Han Zhuoli smiled gently. He was a man, so it was alright for him to protect his woman.

However, to be able to be protected by his own woman, it was surprising and exceptionally touching.

Han Zhuoli warm, thin lips trailed kisses from her palm to the inner side of her wrist.

After not long, those lips met the collar of her blouse.

Sadly, Han Zhuoli could only give up. Raising his head, he saw Lu Man’s pink cheeks, that looked like snow white flower having a tinge of pink on its petals. It was extremely beautiful and endearing.

He swallowed hard. This girl was looking more and more delicious.

Han Zhuoli’s lips clearly felt the heat emanating from her cheeks as it seared his own lips too, making him shiver involuntarily.

But waves of flowery scent bloomed from her cheek, cooling Han Zhuoli’s lips.

Her cheek was extremely delicate and as he pressed his soft lips against her skin it felt like he was pressing his lips on silk or milk and not even a slight flaw could be found. The feel of her skin under his lips was just amazing.

Lu Man’s cheek was ablaze as if on fire. In Han Zhuoli’s embrace, Lu Man trembled slightly.

But Han Zhuoli tightened his arms and embraced her even harder.

Then he sucked hard on her cheek and delicately trailed a path to the corner of lips. Slowly, he followed the curve of her lips, his lips drawing the shape of her lips.

Lu Man was born with lips that would naturally curl into a smile. Even when she wasn’t smiling, there would be a trace of a smile. It looked remarkably sweet and alluring.

Feeling that her cheeks would explode soon, Lu Man’s hands gripped tightly his shirt collar, “Han Zhuoli...”

Seizing this opportunity, Han Zhuoli immediately slipped his tongue into her mouth. As he spoke in between his intense kisses, his voice sounded muffled. “You didn’t call me that just now.”

As Lu Man's was completely wrapped up in his arms, making her look extremely delicate and dainty.

His arms were as strong as steel. Currently, Lu Man was in a daze, her mind blank. Even upon hearing Han Zhuoli's question, she was still in a daze and her thoughts muddled, unable to think clearly.

At that moment, Han Zhuoli kissed her fiercely, "Just now, when you were talking to Sun Yiwu, what did you call me?"

What did she call him?

Lu Man thought for a long time, her mind foggy. Her brain was working more than a hundred times slower than usual.

"Han... Big Brother Han?" Lu Man slurred slowly.

"Good." Han Zhuoli was finally satisfied. "Call me that one more time."

He liked hearing Lu Man call him that. It was better than calling him Zhuoli.

After all, this girl was young and there was an eight-year age gap between them so there was nothing wrong calling him that.

It was just that she was just too independent and could solve and deal with any matter on her own.

From being framed by scheming people to getting harmed, she could solve them all perfectly, and bite back even harder.

A girl like her who had such tricks and amazing talent always made it easy for others to somehow forget her age.

Yet, precisely so, Han Zhuoli liked her tenderly calling him "Big Brother" Han even more.

A girl who was so crafty towards others, making all her enemies itch with hatred was so demure like a little sheep in front of him, tenderly and softly calling him "Big Brother Han".

Chapter 250: Should I Make a Stamp Here?

This feeling really made him feel extremely satisfied.

But then Han Zhuoli felt that he was even enjoying this guilty pleasure a bit too much.

"Big Brother Han," Lu called again gently.

Although it was a guilty pleasure, Han Zhuoli completely could not be bothered. "Call me that again."

Lu Man: "..."

Han Zhuoli held the back of her head with one hand, the other looped tightly around her waist and he kissed her fiercely.

Lu Man tilted backwards because of the pressure around her waist, so he used his arm to support her back.

Both of them had closed their eyes, feeling like they were floating in the strong, rolling waves of passion.

Finally, when he felt that Lu Man could hardly catch her breath, Han Zhuoli let go her of lips but still continued to peck on them lightly over and over again.

When Lu Man parted her lips to catch her breath, her breath was all over the place.

Once again seizing the opportunity, Han Zhuoli left gently kisses on her lower lip.

Her confused and dazed look made Han Zhuoli love her to bits.

Taking a deep breath, Han Zhuoli felt that he should loosen his grip on her a little.

If he did not loosen his grip, he was surely going to embarrass himself.

Finally, he reeled in his desire and gave Lu Man a lazy look.

Lu Man hurriedly looked elsewhere and played dumb, then instantly choked out a dry smile, "I'll have to head back to the office. I still have to submit an application to take leave."

Han Zhuoli took in a deep breath and controlled himself.

His long, delicate, slender fingers tugged his tie down a little, releasing its grip around his neck, and then loosened the two buttons on his shirt collar.

Already his collar was hanging right below his throat. Now that he had loosened some of his buttons, it revealed his collarbone.

Lu Man swallowed hard. This man was breaking too many rules!

It was one thing to have such beautiful fingers, but he had to unbutton his buttons, revealing himself... He looked even more handsome and tantalizing.

He was clearly seducing her!

Hence, although Lu Man had already headed towards the door, she rushed back suddenly.

She clutched onto Han Zhuoli's shirt collar and buttoned him up again. "Don't let other women see you like this!"

When she recalled about those things happening between men, Lu Man coughed a little and added, "No men either!"

Han Zhuoli softly broke into a deep laugh. His thick and low laughter, sounding like pearls and jade, flooding the room with his laughter. "Sure, I'll listen to you."

Han Zhouli, the tall, dashing handsome CEO was cold and aloof in front of others. Yet right now, he was like an obedient baby, listening to everything she said, making Lu Man's heart race.

If she were to stay for one moment longer, she would fall in love with this man ten times over.

Looking at his face which could ruin and wreck an entire nation, Lu Man lowered her head and kissed his lips.

In the past, Han Zhuoli had always taken the initiative. This time, Lu Man took the initiative and invaded his mouth and the taste of dominance and assertiveness was strong in this kiss.

It was as if she was announcing her ownership, her possessiveness extremely strong.

Han Zhuoli raised his eyebrows slightly in surprise, yet he really liked how Lu Man had become so dominant and assertive because of him.

He cradled her face with both hands and suddenly pressed Lu Man onto the sofa.

Lu Man: "..."

Oh no, seemed like she had offered herself up.

Han Zhuoli tugged her shirt collar down and pointed at the base of her throat. "Should I make a stamp here?"

Lu Man: "..."

How?

Han Zhuoli had already tugged Lu Man's collar down and was sucking hard on her collarbone.

After a while, a little pink fruit could be seen on Lu Man's collar bone.

Satisfied, Han Zhuoli curled the corner of his lips. "Just like this."

Han Zhuoli stretched his neck towards her. "Here."

A cunning look flashed across Lu Man's eyes and she pressed forward.

Han Zhuoli was nervous and excited, swallowing hard.

Lu Man could see his Adam's apple slide clearly.

"Hurry, hurry, hurry!" Han Zhuoli chased.
