

Mr Han 2431

Chapter 2431: Alert

“When she comes to and sees how tired you all look, it wouldn’t be good.”

Xia Qingwei sighed and said, “You say that about us, but isn’t it the same for you? Did you not look in the mirror these last few days so you don’t know how haggard you look as well?”

“When she wakes up, I’ll tidy up my appearance,” Han Zhuoli said despondently.

Xia Qingwei also did not understand. She clearly only had a light injury, so why was she not able to wake up?

But seeing how Han Zhuoli looked, it seemed as if he wanted to be alone with Lu Man for a while.

Xia Qingwei also wanted to stay and keep her company, but she also knew that Lu Man did not belong only to her now.

“Okay, then, we will come again tomorrow,” Xia Qingwei said.

Xia Qingwei and Wang Juhuai left and returned to the hotel. The Han Family then went to visit them.

So much had happened within these two days, which really made them feel so incredulous.

Why did everything happen all at once?

When Wang Juhuai and Xia Qingwei went with Bian Daoren and the others to rescue little Yijun, the Han Family members had stayed together with Han Zhuoli in the hospital.

To watch over Lu Man, and to wait for news of little Yijun together.

When little Yijun was rescued, they then returned to the hotel to see how little Yijun was.

Wang Qianyun still did not know that Lin Jinshu already got caught.

She did not really know about the situation on Lin Jinshu’s side but had wanted to learn more about the latest developments.

So she gave Lin Jinshu a call.

But now that Lin Jinshu got caught, her phone was already in the hands of the police.

The phone was not turned off, because as Bian Daoren had mentioned before, Lin Jinshu very likely had an accomplice.

Bian Daoren did not immediately mention Wang Qianyun.

Because they only suspected her now but did not have concrete evidence to prove it.

The intelligence department was still investigating it.

But they mentioned it briefly to the police so that they could keep an eye out as well.

The moment Wang Qianyun contacted Lin Jinshu, the police would then not miss it.

Indeed, when Lin Jinshu's phone rang, the police instantly took it out.

When an officer answered the call, he heard a string of Mandarin words being spoken, "Auntie, how's the situation over at your side?"

The police officer naturally did not understand Mandarin and frowned.

Whether it was Wang Juhuai, Xia Qingwei, or Bian Daoren, none of them were here.

No one could understand what Wang Qianyun had said.

The police thought about it and said, "Who are you?"

When Wang Qianyun heard that it was a male voice, she became a little more cautious. "And who are you?"

The police glanced at Lin Jinshu and said, "Madam Lin cannot answer the call right now. You can tell me if there's anything, I will let her know."

"No need. Since she can't take the call right now, I will call back later," Wang Qianyun said hurriedly and quickly ended the call.

She clutched her phone, her eyelid twitching non-stop. She had a feeling that something might have gone wrong on Lin Jinshu's side.

After all, when they were planning such a big thing, Lin Jinshu did not leave this matter to someone else.

And that phone was Lin Jinshu's private phone. All the more she would not give it to someone for no reason, or ask someone else to pass on a message to her.

She and Lin Jinshu had long planned it out. They would make Lu Man get into an accident first. When the Han Family was panicking and scrambling about, with no time to care about other things, they would then settle Wang Juhuai and Xia Qingwei's matter.

Once Wang Juhuai and Xia Qingwei had divorced, even if nothing happened to Lu Man, there would be nothing she could do to salvage the situation.

Wang Juhuai and Xia Qingwei would have been divorced long ago.

The two of them were not able to get together in the past, so they had still pined for each other and held regrets in their hearts.

But the divorce this time would certainly drive a wedge between their hearts, so they could forget about getting back together so easily.

She and Lin Jinshu had wanted to seize the moment while they were in a chaotic situation and unable to react immediately to break them up step by step.

Chapter 2432: Intelligence Reached an All-time High

Hence, for such an important plan, although she and Lin Jinshu had found some gangsters to execute the plan itself, the contact between the two of them would surely not have any third party involved.

The more Wang Qianyun thought about the tone of the man on the phone just then, the more suspicious she felt.

She thought about it, put on her sunglasses, and then went to the hotel Wang Juhuai and Xia Qingwei were staying in.

She went to the front desk to ask, "May I ask if Mr. Wang Juhuai and Madam Xia Qingwei are in? I heard that their son fell sick, so I came over to visit them."

"Please give me a moment." The front desk staff searched for Wang Juhuai and Xia Qingwei's room as she asked Wang Qianyun, "May I know what your name is?"

Wang Qianyun lowered her eyelids slightly before saying nonchalantly, "My last name is Guo."

Wang Qianyun randomly picked a last name from one of the people who had worked with Wang Juhuai before. She would definitely not mention her own name here and make Wang Juhuai suspicious.

The front desk dialed Wang Juhuai's room's number and said, "Hello Mr. Wang, you have a visitor who wants to see you. She said her last name is Guo."

Wang Juhuai thought about it and felt that there was such a person. He thought that it might be related to work, so he did not suspect anything.

After the front desk staff ended the call, the staff smiled and said to Wang Qianyun, "Mr. Wang invited you to go up. He's staying in Room 1708."

Wang Qianyun did not expect that Wang Juhuai would actually really be in the mood to see visitors.

If something had really happened to Wang Yijun, how would Wang Juhuai be in the mood to see anyone?

Then there was only one possibility. Wang Yijun had been rescued!

So Wang Qianyun asked about that.

Indeed, she heard the front desk staff say, "That little baby is fine. I just saw them bringing their child out to play. They're doing quite well, don't worry."

Wang Qianyun's heart skipped. She smiled at the front desk staff and acted as if she was going to look for Wang Juhuai by walking towards the lift.

Yet she seized the chance when the front desk staff was attending to other customers to quickly leave the hotel.

Wang Yijun was fine. They had rescued Wang Yijun!

She did not know how Wang Juhuai had done it. He actually managed to find Wang Yijun and even rescue him within such a short period of time.

But she knew that the people Lin Jinshu had found were people from the underworld.

And they all had guns.

They usually trafficked drugs, robbed people, and fought brutal street fights. They would do anything.

These were all cruel people.

Wang Juhuai actually managed to rescue Wang Yijun under such circumstances.

Wang Qianyun hurriedly got on the car.

If Wang Yijun was fine, that meant that the person in trouble now was Lin Jinshu.

At this moment, Wang Qianyun's intelligence could be said to have reached an all-time high.

She then guessed that the man who had answered the call previously might very well be the police.

Since Wang Juhuai was able to rescue Wang Yijun, he would definitely know that the mastermind behind Wang Yijun's kidnapping was Lin Jinshu.

It was illogical for him to just let things slide so easily when he clearly knew that it was Lin Jinshu who had kidnapped his son.

So, that man who answered the call just then had to be the police.

Lin Jinshu had already been brought under control, so she was not able to answer her call.

Wang Qianyun shuddered in shock and fear.

Lin Jinshu was already caught. Could her turn be far off?

She did not dare to hope that Lin Jinshu would be able to shoulder everything and not rat her out.

Anyway, if she was the one who got caught, she would not protect Lin Jinshu either.

Since she had already been so unlucky as to get caught, they should both perish together if she was going to die anyway.

There was no reason that after she had been caught, she'd still let Lin Jinshu live freely outside.

Judging others by her own standards, she knew Lin Jinshu was not a good person either, and she would not protect her in such a situation.

And what if the police offered some terms in exchange?

What if, as long as Lin Jinshu cooperated, she would be able to reduce her sentence?

Chapter 2433: Arrest

The more she thought about it, the more fearful Wang Qianyun felt.

She almost sped all the way back to her residence.

She took out her suitcase and stuffed some clothes messily and randomly into it, as well as her daily necessities.

She did not even bother looking at what exactly she had stuffed inside. She just frantically and randomly threw some things into her luggage.

She then hailed a ride and headed to the airport.

On the way there, still in the car, she then checked for the earliest flights that still had tickets available.

Luckily, two and a half hours from now, there was a flight bound for her home country, and there were still two tickets left for first-class seats.

Wang Qianyun did not dare hesitate at all and quickly bought a ticket.

When she reached the airport, she went to check in her luggage after she did her own check-in.

She passed the ticket and her passport to the airline counter staff. While the other party was preparing her administrative details, she stared at her passport and looked back and forth to compare the picture with her actual face.

Wang Qianyun's heart started racing faster and faster. She asked nervously, "Is there a problem?"

"It's nothing, it's just a routine check," the other party said and stood up, turning back to make a call.

Wang Qianyun felt more and more uneasy as she looked on, but her passport was still in the other party's hands, so she could not leave immediately even if she wanted to.

When the other party was done with the call, Wang Qianyun said, "I left something at home. Return my passport to me first. I want to go home and take it."

"Sure." Although the other party agreed verbally, the staff dragged things out and refused to hand the passport over.

How could Wang Qianyun not tell there was a problem? She urged in a cold voice, "Quickly, return my passport to me!"

"Please wait a moment," the other party said. "There's some problem with your passport."

"If there's a problem, I'll go and change my passport myself!" Wang Qianyun said. "I won't do the check-in anymore!"

"Please wait first," the other party said, refusing to hand her passport over.

Wang Qianyun was panicking for real. She stepped on the conveyor belt and wanted to go over and snatch it back. "Return my passport to me!"

Right at this moment, the police in the airport arrived and just dragged Wang Qianyun down from the conveyor belt and stopped her.

"What are you doing!" Wang Qianyun had already broken out in a cold sweat all over as she questioned them fiercely while being utterly scared out of her wits.

"You are disrupting public safety and order right now. We need to arrest you," the police said.

“Do you need to arrest me and make a big fuss over such a minor issue?” Wang Qianyun said. “I just want to get my passport back. She’s the one who’s holding on to my passport and refusing to return it to me.”

“Please come with us first,” the police officer said.

“No!” Wang Qianyun said. “Your reasoning isn’t sound at all. I won’t leave with you all.”

“You are resisting arrest like this,” the police officer said in a cold voice. “We can only use force against you.”

As he said that, the police officer just twisted Wang Qianyun’s wrist, subduing her.

Wang Qianyun kept screaming in pain, “Ouch! Ouch! What are you all doing! I want to make a complaint against all of you! You all are just abusing your law enforcement power, you all are being racists!”

Wang Qianyun screamed out loud, “White policemen are bullying people! They’re racists and maligning me!”

Some tourists in the airport slowly gathered around, the crowd becoming bigger and bigger.

Many people took out their phones and started recording the scene.

If there was really a racist issue here, they were very willing to upload their recorded videos as evidence.

The police officers’ faces fell. They were about to say something right then when...

Han Zhuoling and Bian Daoren hurriedly arrived together with the police officers in charge of Lu Man’s case.

The police officers who had been restraining Wang Qianyun the entire time finally heaved a sigh of relief.

Han Zhuoling, Bian Daoren, and the leading police officer walked up to Wang Qianyun.

“Ms. Wang Qianyun, you are being suspected of instigating others for murder and intentionally causing hurt to others. Please follow us back to assist in the investigation,” the police officer said.

Chapter 2434: Ended Up Together Because of Selfishness

The passersby who thought that this was another racist scandal at first were all stunned when they heard these things.

They did not expect that the person whom they thought was the victim at first was actually a criminal suspect!

So their phones continued taking photos and videos non-stop, not letting this incident off.

“You are all mistaken,” Wang Qianyun said. “What instigating others to murder or hurting others? These are very serious things, I won’t dare to do them.”

“If we are mistaken, we will let you go. Before that, you have to assist with investigations,” the police officer said.

Without waiting for her to say anything, he handcuffed Wang Qianyun.

They were able to find Wang Qianyun so quickly because, for one, Lin Jinshu had been caught.

During the interrogation of Lin Jinshu, the police officer in charge of the interrogation had lied to her.

The police officer made Lin Jinshu think that they already know that Wang Qianyun was the one who conspired with Lin Jinshu and that they already had enough clues and evidence in their hands.

So Lin Jinshu exposed Wang Qianyun.

Just like what Wang Qianyun had thought previously, Lin Jinshu also suspected that the police officers were actually lying to her.

After all, Lin Jinshu was not so dumb as to believe the police officer after just a few words.

But it was indeed like what Wang Qianyun had guessed. Lin Jinshu felt that there was no need for her to cover up for Wang Qianyun.

Why should she be the only one arrested while Wang Qianyun would be living well with no worry at all?

The two of them each had had a part to play in this together. Either they both retreated together or they both went down together. Neither one was to think of running away!

Anyway, Lin Jinshu and Wang Qianyun were just using each other. There was not any deep friendship to speak of between them.

And the two of them were selfish people. Even their own family could be betrayed by them with just a word, without any hesitation at all, much less someone who had no relation to themselves.

One had to say that these two selfish people were really a pair.

Wang Qianyun judged others by her own standards and really judged Lin Jinshu correctly.

The other thing was that Bian Daoren and Han Zhuoling had already found the men who came the night before the closing ceremony of the exchange competition to tamper with the lights.

They also confessed that it was Wang Qianyun.

So, matching the two points together, the police had enough evidence to arrest Wang Qianyun.

And right now, Wang Qianyun still did not know all these. She only guessed that the police came because this was related to Lin Jinshu, but she did not guess that, in fact, the people on Han Zhuoling's side had already obtained eyewitnesses.

She could only be taken away by the police now.

In the hospital, Lu Man had not woken up yet.

Only Han Zhuoli and Lu Man were left in the hospital ward.

Everyone was worried about Lu Man, but they understood the pain Han Zhuoli felt even more now.

So, as much as they were worried, they still left some space for Han Zhuoli and Lu Man to spend time alone together.

Han Zhuoling was following up on Wang Qianyun and Lin Jinshu's matter.

Shen Nuo told Han Xijin about how Lu Man was still in a coma.

Han Xijin immediately bought plane tickets to rush over but had not yet arrived.

However, he was already contacting all the neurosurgeons in the US.

Chu Zhaoyang had also sent renowned neurosurgeons from Chu Tian over.

Chu Tian itself already had the world's top doctors gathered in one place.

If the specialists that Chu Tian had sent over, as well as the people Han Xijin had found, did not know what to do, then there was really no other solution.

But it was still too early to conclude anything right now. The doctors were still rushing over and had not arrived yet.

After Principal Liu and the others came to visit Lu Man, he could only bring the students to return to the country first.

Han Zhuoli held Lu Man's hand. Her hand was still warm and, with it held tightly in his palm, he could truly feel and sense her presence.

But Han Zhuoli still felt insecure. He felt that he was holding the shell of Lu Man's body, but he was not able to hold on to her soul.

Chapter 2435: It Will Definitely Be You, and It Will Only Be You

She was clearly lying quietly before him, but he just could not feel her presence.

"Man Man, are you still here?" Han Zhuoli asked in a low voice.

His voice trembled as he asked fearfully, "You... you didn't go back, right?"

"You said you came back because you revived, so I keep feeling scared, scared that at some point in time, you will need to go back and won't be here anymore." Han Zhuoli held Lu Man's hand tightly, as if afraid that she would disappear right in front of his eyes.

"I have been worrying every day, wondering if someday, you will just disappear. Just like how you suddenly appeared in front of me back then, you might suddenly disappear from in front of me again.

"You got knocked unconscious this time, so my heart has been on tenterhooks all this while, afraid that something would happen to you. But I keep telling myself not to scare myself. You were clearly fine and well before this. You were still standing on stage giving a speech just moments before." Han Zhuoli's eyes were thoroughly reddened.

He seemed to have even more capillaries on his eyes. They were about to cover the whites of his eyes fully now.

“The doctor said you were fine, that your injury is actually not very serious, so I heaved a small sigh of relief.” Han Zhuoli lifted the back of Lu Man’s hand and placed it against his forehead. “But you haven’t woken up for three days straight. You clearly only suffered a light injury, but why haven’t you woken up for so long?”

“Even if I tell myself now not to scare myself, I can’t help it. Man Man, tell me, are you still here? Tell me please! Please wake up, quickly wake up, alright? Don’t scare me like this.”

He could not help but think, if Lu Man could come back, did it mean she could leave too?

Did she go back now?

“Man Man, don’t abandon me here,” Han Zhuoli said, his voice shaking.

His voice was very soft, but it was trembling really hard.

Tears fell out from his reddened eyes that were filled with capillaries.

“We haven’t held a wedding yet and haven’t had children. I want to be with you until we’re old. I want to see you grow white hair and complain that you want to dye your hair. I want to see you grow old, with your hair all white. I want to hold your hand when we’re old and stroll around the park leisurely with you.

“Man Man, quickly, wake up. If you’re not around, what am I supposed to do?” Han Zhuoli took in a deep breath, his voice trembling as he said, “If you’re not around, I will spend the rest of my life alone. My life from now on won’t be like that of a human. It will be as if I have no soul left, as if I am a walking dead man.

“Man Man, can you bear to see me like this? Can you bear to?”

“That time, when you told me about how you revived, I still remember how you asked whether I was married in my previous life and whom I married to.” Han Zhuoli sniffled a bit and continued, “I remember I said back then that I don’t remember what happened in my past life, so I also don’t know whether I got married or not, and if I did, whom I married.”

Han Zhuoli rubbed Lu Man’s hand. He did not know if it was an illusion, but he felt that Lu Man’s hand felt a little cold.

“But I can tell you very surely now, I definitely never married before. I didn’t marry anyone else before,” Han Zhuoli said. “Because those people are not you. If it’s not you, I won’t marry. Be it in my previous life or in this life, or in my next life, the person I marry will definitely be you, and it will only be you.

“Man Man, you always say I can always solve any problem for you, and you don’t need to fear anything with me around.” Han Zhuoli smiled bitterly as tears streamed down his face. “But now, you’re unconscious. I can’t solve that.

“Looking at you lying here in a coma but unable to do anything about it... For the rest of my life, I will be nothing without you by my side.”

Chapter 2436: Leaving Her Body

“Man Man, can you bear to watch me be lonely from here on?” Han Zhuoli clutched her hand tightly. “If the Heavens insist that you go back, then given your stubborn temper, you surely won’t listen to them obediently, right? Man Man, no matter what happens, you must definitely stay. Try your best to stay, okay?”

Han Zhuoli felt that he was on the verge of a mental breakdown.

He heaved a long, drawn-out sigh. “If... If you’re really not coming back, then take me away too, okay?”

Lu Man’s hand twitched. She wanted to tell him that she would not leave.

She would not leave no matter what.

She also wanted to stay together with him, in this life, and in the next. They would always be together, forever and ever.

She slowly opened her eyes and saw Han Zhuoli’s haggard appearance.

His eyes seemed to be all bloodshot, his eyebags were greenish-blue. Who knew how many hours he had slept in total across these few days?

There was also a stubble growing out on his chin and the area around his lips.

His stubble was like a shadow, making his originally defined features look even more sunken.

He did not been having a good rest these last few days. Did he not eat as well?

He had lost so much weight. His facial features looked very sharp and made him look even more haggard.

She just felt curious. She was clearly awake, and her fingers also moved.

Why did Han Zhuoli not feel anything?

He cared so much about her. As long as there was any little bit that was different about her, he would always feel it in the first instance.

But why did he have no reaction at all this time?

Han Zhuoli held on to her hand still, as if he could not see that she was already awake.

Lu Man moved her finger. “Zhuoli.”

But Han Zhuoli did not react still, as if he could not hear what she said either.

Right after that, Lu Man watched as she saw her own hand actually passing through his, unable to touch him.

Meanwhile, Han Zhuoli’s hand still held on to hers.

Lu Man got such a shock that she sat right up in an instant. Yet her body suddenly felt light and her whole body floated right up.

She could only watch as she seemed to float higher and higher, farther and farther away from Han Zhuoli.

As if there was something else that was amiss.

In the next second, she finally knew what it was.

She saw herself!

She was clearly there, but she saw that she still lay on the hospital bed, with Han Zhuoli holding on to her hand.

“Zhuoli!” The moment Lu Man thought of that in her mind, she landed on the ground.

She walked up to Han Zhuoli and wanted to grab his elbow.

But her hand passed through Han Zhuoli’s elbow once again.

Lu Man got a shock and stared at her own hand in shock.

To her, her hand still looked like its real form.

But why, why was she not able to grab hold of Han Zhuoli?

“Zhuoli!” Lu Man called him.

But Han Zhuoli still could not hear her.

“Zhuoli!” Lu Man raised her voice, but Han Zhuoli still could not hear her.

Lu Man thought to herself, “Could it be that my soul has left my body?”

But since she could already revive...

She did not feel so incredulous or surprised at things like her soul leaving her body.

Lu Man could only panic while pacing around Han Zhuoli.

She could not touch him. If she spoke, Han Zhuoli could not hear her either.

Lu Man stared at herself lying on the hospital bed. Looking at it from a third-party perspective, it was as if she was looking at a stranger.

Lu Man thought about it. She sat back on the bed and lay down, wanting to integrate back into her body.

But even after she’d been lying for quite a while, there was no reaction.

Lu Man got up once again and left her body easily just like that.

At this moment, Han Zhuoli suddenly took out his phone and hurriedly dialed a number, as if he’d thought of a solution.

Not long after, Lu Man heard Han Zhuoli say, “Wen Ren, about the person you helped to look for previously, how is that going?”

Chapter 2437: Raging Flames

“I was going to contact you even if you did not contact me,” Wen Ren said. “I found the guy. I heard what happened to Lu Man. My men are bringing him and the doctors from Chu Tian Hospital to come and meet you.”

Who was the guy?

Lu Man thought it was weird. She could see that Han Zhuoli was about to say something.

But the voices were muffled. She then felt her body being pulled in different directions.

She felt her body stretching, morphing, and being compressed by air. She felt herself spinning around and being pulled away.

And then, her eyes were filled with darkness.

However, the darkness existed for just one second as light filled her eyes again.

However, it was unexpected this time. It wasn't just bright. It was flames shooting to the sky.

The flames raged and spread before Lu Man's eyes.

The furniture in the house toppled and fell.

Some old-fashioned pieces of wooden furniture were devoured by the flames and were burning fiercely.

The whole house reeked of the smell of smoke.

However, Lu Man was not affected by the smell at all.

She could feel the high temperature of the fire, but the burning heat could not wound her.

When her eyes became accustomed to the scorchingly bright flames, she finally had a clear view and saw that she was not the only one in the house.

He Zhengbai and Lu Qi were also in the house.

She was also buried deep within the blazing flames!

This was her previous life! The time when she died!

This meant that this burning house was the home she had with Xia Qingwei.

The small home.

In this life, she had sold this old house.

Why? Why did she return here?

Moreover, she came back in this form. Only her soul had returned. Once again, she saw how she had died.

Why did this happen?

Why did she... Why did she come back here!

Must she watch her previous self die in agony?

Would her soul be then trapped here forever?

Lu Man thought such things worriedly.

Even though He Zhengbai and Lu Qi from her previous life were before her eyes, she was in no mood to look at them.

Even though her previous self was burning in the flames, she was not worried at all.

She already knew that her self from the previous life would die.

If she had not died, she would not have transmigrated and would never have met Han Zhuoli.

Currently, Lu Man was not worried about her self from her previous life. She was worried that she would be stuck here.

Han Zhuoli was still waiting for her. She mustn't be trapped here.

"B*tch!"

The hateful cry pulled Lu Man's mind from her thoughts.

It was the voice of her previous self sounding amid the flames.

"Sister, you have already been sent to prison, and even once you are released, you will not have a good future ahead. Your mother is dead as well, and there is no one in the world who cares for you now, so what is the use of staying alive?"

"The two of you schemed to send me to jail and even caused my mother's death. Now you even want my life!" Lu Man could see her previous self say in deep resentment.

"These were all what you deserve," He Zhengbai said. "If you are left alive, you will definitely tell people about what happened. I will not let you destroy what we have now."

"Rest in peace, older sister. Dad knows about this whole thing and he has already prepared an auspicious burial site. He remembers what you have done for the Lu family and won't mistreat you even after you die," Lu Qi said gently.

Lu Man felt an odd sensation.

In her previous life, Lu Qi and He Zhengbai were so in love. However, in her newly transmigrated life, the two had turned against each other and were almost enemies.

This was strange yet amazing.

Lu Man could see her previous self glaring with bloodshot eyes and hear her laughing loudly.

Lu Qi and He Zhengbai were both proud of what they had done.. And so, they did not see nor hear anything.

Chapter 2438: Karma

However, Lu Man knew what her previous self would do next. Therefore, she was not surprised when she saw her previous self press her palm into the shards of broken glass.

Her previous self was trying to stay awake.

Soon after, Lu Man saw her previous self jump towards Lu Qi with great force.

Lu Qi screamed, having been pushed down by Lu Man.

“Lu Man, let go of her!” He Zhengbai yelled loudly, heading towards them to try to save Lu Qi.

Lu Man used all her strength to pull Lu Qi into the flames, opening her mouth to bite Lu Qi’s ear.

Lu Qi gave a shrill scream.

Lu Man could see blood oozing out of her previous self’s mouth.

“Since you want me to die, then you might as well die with me!” her previous self said as she continued biting Lu Qi’s ear, refusing to let go even when she was speaking.

“No! Let go of me! Brother He, save me!” Lu Qi screamed in fear. However, the flames were already burning both Lu Man and Lu Qi.

He Zhengbai hurried over, trying to avoid the flames while coming up with different ways to save Lu Qi.

He looked around and picked up a chair, planning to hit Lu Man with it.

Lu Man did not remember this happening in her previous life.

It might be because her previous self had been on the verge of death. Her previous self was experiencing delirium and was losing consciousness. Her previous self just wanted to kill Lu Qi, which was why she did not notice what He Zhengbai was doing.

And now, she was watching the story of her death from a third-person perspective. Thus, she obviously wouldn’t miss any detail.

Lu Man saw her previous self amid the flames emanating such hatred. She saw her previous self vowing to take Lu Qi down as well.

If she were to die, she would take them both down with her.

If He Zhengbai successfully saved Lu Qi, her death in the previous life would have been meaningless.

Her previous self was pitiful. She could not bear to watch her meaningless death and unsuccessful revenge.

That would be too sad.

He Zhengbai used to be Lu Man's boyfriend. Yet he showed no mercy towards Lu Man.

His fierce expression seemed to imply that he wanted to beat Lu Man to death.

Lu Man saw everything from the side.

She refused to let He Zhengbai win!

The ending should remain the same!

He Zhengbai and Lu Qi must die together!

She could not allow herself to die for nothing!

Amid the fire, Lu Man's previous self was still biting Lu Qi's ear like her life depended on it.

Blood oozed out from the wound on Lu Qi's ear and flowed down from the edge of Lu Man's mouth.

Her previous self, being enveloped by the fire, did not see what He Zhengbai was about to do.

He Zhengbai lifted the chair and smashed Lu Man's back with it.

The Lu Man from the previous life was in such pain that she started trembling. Even so, she clamped down on Lu Qi's ear with her teeth.

"Let her go! Let her go!" He Zhengbai shouted as he repeatedly hit Lu Man with the chair.

The reddish glow from the flames reflected in his eyes. His expression was malicious.

As Lu Man watched He Zhengbai beat her previous self, her heart was filled with hatred.

This must not continue!

Her previous self showed strong willpower. Lu Man could see her previous self forcefully enduring the pain.

At this moment, Lu Man saw the wardrobe behind He Zhengbai.

She then forcefully threw herself against the wardrobe.

The wardrobe actually moved slightly.

Lu Man touched her arms and wondered to herself, "Perhaps I can't touch human bodies... But am I able to touch such objects?"

Lu Man was uncertain. She then lifted both of her hands and held on to the edge of the wardrobe.

Lu Man was shocked as she actually felt the sensation of holding something.

Lu Man no longer hesitated as she pushed the wardrobe towards He Zhengbai with all her strength.

Immediately, Lu Man from the previous life saw a burning wardrobe flying towards He Zhengbai.

Chapter 2439: I Want to Go Home

He Zhengbai did not expect that a wardrobe that was standing perfectly on its own would suddenly crash towards him.

But it was too late.

The wardrobe crashed onto He Zhengbai's back and pushed him into the flames.

"Ahh!" He Zhengbai was the most unfortunate one. He had his whole face buried in the flames.

A wardrobe was pressing on his back, making it impossible for him to crawl out.

The ferocious flames burned his face. He was in such agonizing pain that his face was twisted.

His whole body was twitching nonstop.

The skin on his face was rapidly being burned to crisp.

The firelight reflected on Lu Man's face. She saw herself from her past life screaming fiercely, "Both of you will not die an easy death!"

Finally, all three of them died in the sea of flames.

Even the ferocious flames could not harm a single hair on Lu Man.

She stood among the flames, watching He Zhengbai, Lu Qi, and herself turning into ashes.

Lu Man looked around blankly. As she hovered in this burning house, a sense of discomfort filled her heart.

This was the place where she and Xia Qingwei had depended on each other in their past life. It was the place where Xia Qingwei walked the final steps of her life.

This ending was different in this life.

In this life, Xia Qingwei lived a good and fulfilled life.

Therefore, even when they sold the house in this life, they were not sad.

But now, Xia Qingwei was no longer here.

This old house became the only place where one could reminisce.

But now, everything was burned down.

Nothing was left.

She had no family here. She had nothing.

"I want to go back." Lu Man walked through the flames to the balcony.

The ferocious flames had already reached the balcony.

Lu Man stood amid the flames and looked up at the sky as she shouted, "I want to go home! I want to go home!"

She missed home. She missed Xia Qingwei and Han Zhuoli.

“They are still waiting for me. Send me back!” Lu Man shouted to the sky.

The firetruck arrived below the balcony, extinguishing the flames.

Lu Man flew out and hovered in mid-air. She watched as the water put out the flames, leaving the house in ashes. There was nothing left.

She wanted to go back to the world where she had a happy family.

“I want to go back! Why did I come here? Let me go back! Let me go back!” screamed Lu Man.

But there was no response.

Tears flowed down her cheeks. She sat down on the floor, at a loss for what to do.

This was still a familiar place and era.

She was familiar with everything here.

The traffic, shops, and the stores on both sides of the road did not change at all.

But to her, it all seemed so unfamiliar.

Because the people here were different.

In this place, Xia Qingwei was no longer around and Han Zhuoli did not know her at all.

The family and friends she originally had were non-existent here.

She was at a loss, not knowing where to go.

Furthermore, nobody could see her.

Lu Man stood at the same place for a long time before she headed off to the Han Corporation.

She did not visit the grave of Xia Qingwei. Her mother was well and alive in the other world, after.

So she did not visit Xia Qingwei’s grave.

Lu Man arrived at the Han Corporation. Nobody could see her, so nobody stopped her.

With no difficulty at all, she trod into Han Zhuoli’s office.

She saw Han Zhuoli looking at some files.

Lu Man walked towards Han Zhuoli. His left ring finger was empty, without a ring.

He still had not gotten married.

Lu Man slowly reached out. Even though she knew that her hand could not actually touch Han Zhuoli, she still carefully placed her hand on his face.

Han Zhuoli was looking at the files. However, when Lu Man reached out to him, he lifted his head and looked straight at her.

Chapter 2440: That Guy

Lu Man's heart shook as she locked eyes with Han Zhuoli.

Was Han Zhuoli able to see her or sense her presence?

"Zhuoli..." Lu Man called out softly.

At this moment, someone knocked on the office door.

"Come in," Han Zhuoli said as he lowered his head and continued with his work.

It was almost as though what happened earlier had been a coincidence.

Soon after, Zheng Tianming came in.

Even though Lu Man knew that Zheng Tianming could not see her, she still moved to the side, letting him pass by.

Zheng Tianming stood in front of Han Zhuoli and reported, "President, for tonight's Nan Yin Charity Gala, these are the donations made under your name."

Lu Man felt weird.

These were all people she knew.

However, during her previous life, all these people treated her like a stranger.

"Alright." Han Zhuoli nodded.

When evening arrived, Lu Man saw Han Zhuoli change into his suit.

Lu Man did the math and calculated that, currently, Han Zhuoli should be 38 years old.

He did look more mature than the Han Zhuoli she was familiar with.

There were also more wrinkles at the corner of his eyes.

So this was what he looked like at 38 years old.

Lu Man could not stop looking at him. Due to the fact that Han Zhuoli could not see her, she observed every minute detail; it was almost unscrupulous.

Han Zhuoli sat in the car. The chauffeur was still Xiao Chen, the driver she was familiar with.

Zheng Tianming sat in the front passenger seat.

Lu Man slipped in while the door was opened and sat next to Han Zhuoli.

The night lights flashed by outside the car window, but it was dark inside the car. There were no lights.

However, the darkness did not stop Lu Man from looking up at Han Zhuoli's side profile.

His side profile looked even better in the dusky lighting.

“Why are you still not married?” asked Lu Man, talking to herself.

Han Zhuoli could not hear her anyway.

However, something strange then happened.

Right after Lu Man asked, Han Zhuoli turned his head and looked at her once again.

Lu Man held her breath in nervousness.

Han Zhuoli looked at the space beside him for a few seconds and turned his head back.

It felt odd to Lu Man. It was as though he could sense her presence, yet it also seemed like he couldn't.

But if he really could not feel her, how could he capture her position correctly every time?

It happened when she was touching his face and when she asked him that question.

Even when Han Zhuoli arrived at the location of the Gala, he did not walk on the red carpet.

He did not like to put on a show on the red carpet.

He walked into the hall humbly and sat at the main table right in front.

After a short while, Chu Zhaoyang, Nan Jingheng, Qi Chengzhi, and the others also arrived.

All three of them came with their wives.

Only Han Zhuoli was single at this table.

“I think it's weird,” said Nan Jingheng. “Brother Zhuo, it has been so many years. You are not into bachelorism, and it's not like you are not seeking a relationship with someone. How are you still single? You said that you haven't met the destined one, but it has been so many years. Didn't you meet even one? Have you perhaps already given your heart to a certain someone?”

Han Zhuoli smiled as he responded, “Perhaps and perhaps not.”

“What do you mean?” Nan Jingheng asked curiously. “You said you have been waiting, but what kind of person have you been waiting for? Is there a specific person in your mind?”

“No,” Han Zhuoli answered. “I say perhaps because I know that there must exist a person who is waiting to meet me.”

“I can't say why but I am certain that this person exists.”
