

Mr Han 2701

Chapter 2701: Show Off

When Old Mrs. Han saw them, Han Zhuoling and Shi Xiaoya were already right outside the door and had just pressed the doorbell.

Auntie Sun opened the door.

Han Zhuoling did not expect Old Mrs. Han to be at the door too. He greeted, "Grandma."

"Why are you guys back at this time?" asked Old Mrs. Han, confused.

After Han Zhuoling and Shi Xiaoya changed out of their shoes, they saw that there was nobody in the living room. Han Zhuoling asked, "Where's Grandpa?"

"Idling in the back courtyard," said Old Mrs. Han. "Just a while back, we had people redesign the garden in there. Now it's fresh. We just had a ditch dug and had them create a little man-made waterfall. The water flows from the waterfall. He saw that everything was fresh these last couple of days, so he has been sunbathing outside every day, saying that he's cooling down by the water."

Old Mrs. Han laughed at him.

What could be more cooling than the air conditioner in the house during a hot summer?

He was drenched in sweat every day because of the sun, and he still insisted on sitting by the stream of water.

He even planted beside the stream.

Recently, the old man had been busy.

"I'll call Sir," Auntie Sun said and went towards the back courtyard.

Old Mrs. Han brought Han Zhuoling and Shi Xiaoya in, smiling as she said, "When you see your grandpa, you will freak out for sure. That old man is very tanned now."

This was the result of sunbathing outside every day.

And he did not like to apply sunscreen.

But was that UV light a good thing?

He was forcefully sprayed sunscreen by Old Mrs. Han before he went out every time.

Even so, he had become darker.

Han Zhuoling and Shi Xiaoya followed Old Mrs. Han to the living room. Old Mr. Han was also back.

Shi Xiaoya took a glance. It was indeed as Old Mrs. Han had said. Old Mr. Han was very tanned.

And it was at the most awkward stage.

It was a yellowish black color.

“Huh. Why are you two here at this time?” asked Old Mr. Han, confused.

When it came to the two elders, Han Zhuoling did not feel that much pressure.

He took out the marriage certificates, as if offering a gift, and said, “Grandpa, Grandma, I went to get our marriage certificates with Xiaoya. We went today in the morning and have just gotten them.”

Old Mrs. Han did not expect that the reason the two skipped work and came today was because of such a big thing!

Since it was her grandson marrying her granddaughter-in-law, Old Mrs. Han did not mind the fact that Han Zhuoling did not inform beforehand.

Old Mrs. Han took the marriage certificates with a wide smile.

“Give me one to see,” said Old Mr. Han to Old Mrs. Han.

Old Mrs. Han finally gave one to Old Mr. Han.

The two elders sat on the sofa and started looking at them with a pleased look.

They even forgot to let Han Zhuoling and Shi Xiaoya sit down.

But the two did not mind. They just sat at the side.

Shi Xiaoya watched and suddenly felt that the dumb look Han Zhuoling had when he was looking at the marriage certificates looked like what the two elders had right now.

Old Mrs. Han took out her phone and placed the marriage certificate on the tea table. She said to Old Mr. Han, “Put the one in your hand here too.”

Old Mr. Han did not know why, but he still obeyed and placed the marriage certificate there.

With the two marriage certificates placed together, Old Mrs. Han adjusted the angle and took a picture.

Han Zhuoling knew with one look that Old Mrs. Han was planning to brag to others.

Then he reminded her, “Grandma, I haven’t told Mom and Dad yet. I told you first.”

Old Mrs. Han understood. “Then hurry up.. Call your parents and tell them.”

Chapter 2702: Grandmas Are Modern People

Han Zhuoling agreed. He first gave Lin Liye a call before proceeding to give Han Dongping another.

Lin Liye was extremely happy that her son could get a wife at all. And so, she did not mind that they had gotten their marriage certificates before telling them about it.

Usually, the bridegroom's parents experienced a totally different kind of emotion compared to the bride's parents.

As for Han Dongping, he had the lowest status in the family.

He couldn't control his son, and his wife had been ignoring him.

However, he was very satisfied with having Shi Xiaoya as a daughter-in-law.

Therefore, when he heard that Han Zhuoling and Shi Xiaoya had gotten their marriage certificates, he did not say anything.

Han Zhuoling then told his family that he had booked a dining room at Sheng Yue for both families to celebrate together.

The grandma gave an agreeable response.

Han Zhuoling then called Han Xijin and Shen Nuo.

He then notified Han Zhuoli, Lu Man, and Han Zhuofeng.

Han Zhuoli was still working in the office. Han Zhuoling did not work today and had given all his work to Han Zhuoli.

Han Zhuoli picked up the phone and was told that Han Zhuoling was not at work today because he had gone to register his marriage.

Hearing this news, Han Zhuoli thought to himself, "Fine... Since Han Zhuoling is dealing with a major event in his lifetime, I shouldn't complain about doing all this work."

After all, Han Zhuoling had escaped from work for the sake of marriage.

However, the moment the call ended, Han Zhuoli suddenly had a moment of realization.

Han Zhuoling had gotten his marriage certificate, which meant that he was a married man again.

Han Zhuoling would then be going to his honeymoon.

This meant that Han Zhuoling would be absent during his honeymoon and would be handing over all his work to Han Zhuoli.

As Han Zhuoli thought of the future days, he felt very gloomy.

Before Han Zhuoling came back, Han Zhuoli had had to do everything by himself. Back then, he did not feel what he was currently feeling.

When Han Zhuoling came back, he had worked from early in the morning to late at night.

Han Zhuoli then had a lighter workload.

The best thing was that Han Zhuoling had done it willingly.

And so, Han Zhuoli willingly gave even more work to Han Zhuoling.

He had had even more time to spend with Lu Man. It was great.

However, these happy days did not last long as Han Zhuoling had started dating as well!

Han Zhuoling's first marriage did not affect his zeal for work.

Yet since he started dating Shi Xiaoya, Han Zhuoling had started coming to work at later times.

It changed from 6 AM to 7 AM, then from 7 AM to 8 AM.

Eventually, he came to work at the normal time, which was 9 AM.

The time he would usually get off work changed as well. If he did not have to work overtime, he wouldn't work. If it wasn't necessary for him to join dinners, he wouldn't join.

In the past, one would see Han Zhuoling socializing at dinner parties.

But now, both brothers were rarely seen at such events.

Thinking about it, Han Zhuoli already felt a headache.

But what could he do?

Of course he had to work hard!

At the Han Family residence.

Old Mrs. Han had now heard that Han Zhuoling had notified almost all the family members about his marriage.

Thus, she hurriedly sent pictures of Han Zhuoling and Shi Xiaoya's marriage certificates to a group chat.

The grandmas of the big families were modern people.

The grandmas of the eight great families all had a group chat.

The grandpas of the eight great families had a group chat as well.

They also had a group chat with everyone in it.

However, both the grandmas and grandpas differed in their interests.

The grandpas complained about the things that the grandmas talked about.

The grandmas were annoyed by the things that the grandpas talked about.

And so, both the grandmas and grandpas created their own group chat, allowing both groups to chat happily.

Even though the grandmas were wearing reading glasses, they couldn't behave like those youngsters who messaged by tapping on the keyboard on that small screen.

Most of the time, the grandmas used a "handwriting input" keyboard or recorded a voice message to communicate.

With much ease, Old Mrs. Han sent the picture of the marriage certificates to her group chat.

Chapter 2703: I Promise Everything Will Be Arranged Clearly for You

Not caring about how bothersome it was, she even tagged everyone.

“Telling everyone some good news. My oldest grandson has gotten his marriage certificate today!”

The grandmas whose grandchildren were already married appeared the fastest.

They all congratulated her.

As for Old Mrs. Wei, Old Mrs. Zhao, and Old Mrs. Qin, they pretended that they were not online.

Old Mrs. Han laughed at how naive they were. Did they think that they could avoid it just like that?

Without caring about those three, she received many congratulations.

Old Mrs. Han showed off by using voice messages, saying, “Ay, my oldest grandson is so simple and direct when it comes to completing tasks. Yesterday, he told my granddaughter-in-law to get their marriage certificate, then the two went and got it this morning.”

“This was done in a simple and direct manner,” said the others one by one.

Their own grandchildren were already married anyway. They were very relaxed.

Old Mrs. Han said joyfully, “That’s right. My oldest grandson doesn’t talk much usually and looks very serious, but he’s very dependable and will make sure that everything is arranged clearly for you.”

After Old Mrs. Han had talked for a while, she realized that Old Mrs. Wei, Old Mrs. Zhao, and Old Mrs. Qin had not appeared yet.

Old Mrs. Han went through her contacts and called Old Mrs. Wei first. “What are you busy doing? Didn’t you check the group?”

Of course Old Mrs. Wei had seen it. Before she picked up, she had secretly been looking through the chats in the WeChat group.

She had heard Old Mrs. Han’s words loud and clear.

But Old Mrs. Wei still said, “I didn’t see. I just came back from the studio and didn’t have time to look at my phone. What happened?”

Knowing that it was impossible to escape, Old Mrs. Wei could only accept her fate and ask.

But fortunately, she had already known for very long that Han Zhuoling and Shi Xiaoya were together.

She also thought that it was just a matter of time before they got married, so even after Old Mrs. Han announced it, it did not carry much impact.

“Aiyo, then that’s pretty good.” Although she was worried about her own grandson, Old Mrs. Wei was still truly happy for Han Zhuoling. “Congratulations, congratulations.”

Old Mrs. Han was just bragging; she would not stab her on purpose.

She just wanted to make Old Mrs. Wei worried.

“My grandson is already married; your grandson needs to work harder!”

It was this mindset.

After hanging up, Old Mrs. Han went to find Old Mrs. Zhao.

While Old Mrs. Han was busy, Han Zhuoling did not waste his time.

He took the marriage certificates, which were in front of Old Mrs. Han, and placed them in front of himself.

He took out his phone and wanted to take a picture.

But before taking it, he could not help but admire them for a while.

Once again, a dumb smile appeared.

Shi Xiaoya took this chance to take a picture of Han Zhuoling and captured his side profile.

Han Zhuoling turned around and smiled at her. “You took a picture of me?”

Shi Xiaoya handed over her phone honestly and smiled at him. “You looked like this when you were in the car, but I was driving, so I did not manage to take a picture.”

Shi Xiaoya held her phone with both her hands like a baby. “Who knows when I will have a chance to take it again?”

Han Zhuoling laughed. He really did look a little stupid.

But more than that, he could feel the joy and happiness through the screen.

To Shi Xiaoya, even if this man showed a stupid look, he still looked very good.

That stupid look carried a hint of cuteness with it.

Just as she was thinking this, she heard the sound of a WeChat notification.

She went in and saw that Han Zhuoling had sent the picture of the marriage certificates to the 8864 group.

Chapter 2704: Someone Smiled Like an Idiot

This was not enough. While people were all sending their blessings, before Han Zhuoling could even express his gratitude, he had already posted the picture on his feed.

Wei Zhiqian said, “Zhuoling, you can post this, but did you hide it from my grandmother?”

Han Zhuoling sympathized with Wei Zhiqian and sent a picture of a lit candle.

"It's too late. Before I even posted on my feed, my grandma has already phoned your grandma," said Han Zhuoling.

"Originally, my grandma just announced it in the group, but your grandma pretended like she wasn't online, so my grandma made a call," said Han Zhuoling.

Wei Zhiqian had no words. "..."

Everyone said, "Awesome!"

Han Zhuoling looked carefully and saw that Zhao Gushen was also among the "awesome army."

Han Zhuoling said, "...Zhao Gushen, what are you saying 'awesome' for? My grandma is talking to your grandma now."

Zhao Gushen felt speechless.

Wei Zhiqian laughed. "Hahahahaha! Zhao Gushen, you gloated over my suffering. You're not doing too well either!"

Wei Zhiqian added, "You keep on saying 'awesome'! You should light a candle for yourself first."

It's over. Wei Zhiqian sent an emoji that was lighting a candle. "I should pay my respects first."

Zhao Gushen felt speechless.

Wei Zhiqian was under a lot of shock. Had he given up?

After Wei Zhiqian started this, people started queuing up behind him.

Han Zhuoli said, "Lighting a candle."

Han Zhuoling said, "Lighting a candle."

Qi Chengzhi said, "Lighting a candle."

Everyone behind formed a neat queue.

Qi Chenglin said, "Lighting a candle."

After Wei Ziqi, who was the last, finished saying it, he added, "Wifey, come out and light candles for Zhiqian and Old Zhao."

Wei Zhiqian had no words. "..."

Zhao Gushen felt speechless.

Shi Xiaoya was dying of laughter as she watched. Her stomach was even hurting from laughing too much.

Han Zhuoling reminded her, "I have already sent mine. What about your pictures?"

"Ah right, I need to post some as well." Shi Xiaoya had been too busy watching.

"I will just post the one that you took," Shi Xiaoya said as she saved the picture that Han Zhuoling just posted.

Han Zhuoling said, "Use your own picture. It's so insincere to save mine."

Shi Xiaoya thought that it made sense and moved to take a picture.

Unexpectedly, Han Zhuoling said, "Didn't you already take one just now?"

Shi Xiaoya thought about the picture in which Han Zhuoling looked a little stupid; she asked, "I can post that one?"

She was afraid that he would not allow her to post it because he cared about his self-image.

"That one looks pretty good," said Han Zhuoling.

Besides, the impression that the picture gave was really good.

With one look, everyone would know that he was happy to be married.

He wanted people to know that he was indeed happy.

Shi Xiaoya also wanted to post this picture, but she was just afraid that Han Zhuoling would mind.

Since Han Zhuoling did not mind, Shi Xiaoya posted the picture onto her feed without hesitating.

"Marriage certificates fresh out of the oven. Someone smiled like an idiot."

After this was posted, immediately, the number of notifications in her feed kept increasing.

Shi Xiaoya pressed into it. People from the workshop were the first ones to like and comment.

Guo Yujie said, "Boss, you are awesome! So the reason you didn't come to the workshop is because you went to get your marriage certificate."

Qin Zigou said, "I feel like my cabbage has been snatched by a pig."

Han Zhuoling replied to Qin Zigou, "That's not your cabbage. Don't try to act close."

Shi Xiaoya had also added a few people who were in the same line of work or were artists as her WeChat friends.

Chapter 2705: Still a Kid

As she was a popular makeup artist, celebrities would also add her as a friend so it would be easier for them to book an appointment.

If they waited for their two companies to make official appointments, it would be too late.

Ling Xiaoen and the other two were also Shi Xiaoya's WeChat friends. After seeing the post, they congratulated her immediately.

Dong Qinrong and Gao Zishan also commented, "Congratulations! Remember to send me an invitation card."

While Shi Xiaoya was still busy replying to the congratulation messages from her friends, Han Zhuoling had already posted another message on Weibo.

Shi Xiaoya thought that Han Zhuoling was very fast.

It was the same picture that Han Zhuoling took. "Today, I bid farewell to single life. Hi wifey @Xiaoya."

This time, without Han Zhuoling reminding her, Shi Xiaoya also posted the picture of him smiling stupidly at the marriage certificates. "Day one of officially being Mrs. Han. Hi hubby @Han Zhuoling."

The Weibo community was caught off guard as they received messages of the two getting their marriage certificates.

Many fans and netizens rushed over.

Sharing and commenting.

Then, Weibo crashed splendidly.

One of Weibo's programmers came out crying, "Our server is still a kid. It received pain that it should not have at this age."

Another programmer said, "@Han Zhuoling, @Shi Xiaoya, why can't you two let us know beforehand that you have a big announcement so we can expand the server for it?"

A third programmer said, "Big bosses, if you have any big announcement next time, please inform us earlier so we can prepare! Don't need to tell us the details, just let us have time to expand the server!"

Finally, Weibo returned to normal.

Netizens could finally comment again.

Under Han Zhuoling's Weibo account, everyone who was a wife-fan bid farewell to their ex-husband.

"From now on, Hubby is someone else's hubby. Sad."

"Han Zhuoling, I am the woman you never got."

"Another hubby left the single life. Let me go and count how many hubbies are left."

There were also Shi Xiaoya's fans who commented, "Please take care of our Xiaoya."

"We leave our Xiaoya in your hands!"

"Our Xiaoya is cute and naive. We leave her under your protection!"

Han Zhuoling picked one of the comments of Shi Xiaoya's fans randomly and replied, "Don't worry. I will take care of and protect her."

"My god! My lucky friend, you should go and buy lottery tickets! Out of tens of thousands of comments, yours was chosen by Han Zhuoling; your luck is over the roof today!"

The netizen who got a reply from Han Zhuoling was so moved that she sent a line of crying emojis. "So moved. This is the closest I got to my god. Everyone, I will stop here and go buy lottery tickets."

Shi Xiaoya's side had even more comments because she had posted a picture of Han Zhuoling looking at the marriage certificates.

"My god's side profile is also so perfect."

"Why do I feel like he looks a bit dumb when looking at the marriage certificates? Didn't think that my god has this side too."

"Smiling stupidly at the marriage certificates. Good. This one is very good."

"My god must love Xiaoya very much. That's why he's so happy just getting the marriage certificates."

"My god looks so cute. So jealous of Xiaoya!"

Han Zhuoling and Shi Xiaoya received many blessings from netizens.

The two were not famous online. Even though they had many fans, they had their own professions and did not have any anti-fans..

Chapter 2706: There's No More Work in His Eyes

However, not everyone looked at their marriage with blessings to give.

Like Lian Qingyin.

After Lian Qingyin returned yesterday, she contacted Black Market a few times.

Black Market promised that it would not drag her in.

Not only would the matter not be connected to her, but Black Market would even not have any connections.

But because Lian Qingyin was feeling uncertain, she kept asking, to the point where Black Market was feeling annoyed.

Today, Lian Qingyin kept track of Han Zhuoling's moves.

However, she did not notice if Han Zhuoling had made any moves.

So she knew that Han Zhuoling had not found out it was her.

Although it had only been one night, Lian Qingyin knew Han Zhuoling's power clearly.

Those two people had been taken to the police station. With Han Zhuoling's power, if he really wanted to find something out, one night's time would be enough.

But now, though it was already noon, there was still no news from Han Zhuoling.

She also did not hear any news of the two people exposing her or Black Market.

The police were not taking action at all.

Not only did the police not find her, but Lian Qingyin herself also had some connections at the police stations.

She had asked before; the two people really did not spill the beans.

So, Lian Qingyin was relieved.

If he wanted to find out, he would have done so earlier. He would not have dragged it until now.

It seemed like Black Market was right; they did have a solution.

Lian Qingyin was happy that she contacted Black Market regarding this.

At least it was assuring.

However, Lian Qingyin did not expect that although she did not notice any action against her from Han Zhuoling, she'd see the news of Han Zhuoling and Shi Xiaoya getting their marriage certificates.

The two just got their marriage certificates like this!

Lian Qingyin did not know that she was the catalyst pushing Han Zhuoling and Shi Xiaoya to get their marriage certificates.

If it was not for her making herself known, Han Zhuoling would not have been reminded to get their marriage certificates with Shi Xiaoya.

Her presence reminded Han Zhuoling to get the marriage certificate as soon as possible to avoid any complications or accidents.

True, it was just a matter of time before Han Zhuoling and Shi Xiaoya got their marriage certificates.

But if Lian Qingyin knew that not only did she not annoy them, she had also become their catalyst, what would her expression be?

As it was almost lunchtime, Han Zhuoling and Shi Xiaoya stayed at the family home and decided to eat together.

"You don't need to go to work today?" Old Mr. Han asked.

"Nope. Getting our marriage certificates with Xiaoya is such a joyful thing, so I decided to give myself a leave," said Han Zhuoling.

Old Mrs. Han smiled as she thought that Han Zhuoling became different ever since he got together with Shi Xiaoya.

In the past, if he needed to go and get the marriage certificate himself, he must book a certain time and would return to work immediately after getting it.

His mindset was that work was more important than marriage.

The time spent could not be more than one hour.

But now, he was willing to go in the morning and queue up with Shi Xiaoya. Other than queuing up to get the marriage certificates...

He did not even go back to work after getting it, as he wanted to spend time with Shi Xiaoya.

In Han Zhuoling's eyes right now, there was no work.

Nothing could compare to Shi Xiaoya.

Old Mrs. Han felt that this Han Zhuoling finally felt like a human. Not like before, when he only cared about work.

Furthermore, he knew how to rest and have a work-life balance, which set people's minds at ease.

Old Mrs.. Han was gratified by Han Zhuoling's small changes.

Chapter 2707: One by One, Their Tempers Changed?

Lunch had just been prepared. Just as they were preparing to eat, Lin Liye and Han Dongping came.

The two came through the door one after another. Old Mrs. Han smiled and asked, "Why are you two here so early?"

"After I heard that Zhuoling and Xiaoya got their marriage certificates, how could I still be able to sit still? So I came immediately," said Lin Liye, smiling.

Old Mrs. Han asked, "You two came together?"

"No, we met at the door," explained Lin Liye.

Old Mr. Han took a glance at Han Dongping and clicked his tongue.

This son used to talk big in the past.

But now?

He could not even get a wife.

Even now, Lin Liye still did not care about him.

But the two elders did not care about this.

In the past decades, Lin Liye had been hurt many times because of Han Dongping.

Now, it was just the other way around; it was no big deal for Han Dongping to suffer for a few months.

He could not receive Lin Liye's forgiveness because he had no skills and was not sincere enough.

So, the two elders did not blame Lin Liye.

They saw that Han Dongping looked shy.

Old Mrs. Han asked him, "Don't you need to work? You even came here."

Han Dongping smiled shyly. "I also heard that Zhuoling has gotten his marriage certificate. There was nothing urgent at work, so I came."

It was Han Zhuoling's major life event; Han Dongping could not hold out and only appear at night.

"You two haven't eaten yet, right? Come and sit down. Let's eat together," said Old Mrs. Han.

Han Dongping and Lin Liye really had not eaten lunch. They both received the call and came immediately.

Because they would have to spend some time on the road, they had left pretty early.

They had just made it in time for lunch; it was pretty suitable.

They all sat down.

They talked and laughed. The atmosphere was pretty nice.

After finishing lunch, they drank tea in the living room.

In Old Mrs. Han's opinion, Han Zhuoling did not go to work because it was such a joyful event, but why did Han Dongping not go to work as well?

One by one, their tempers had changed?

Work came second now?

Old Mrs. Han was deep in thoughts when she heard Han Dongping say, "Zhuoling, since you're already married, it's not very convenient to stay where you two are staying now, isn't it? That place hasn't even been renovated properly. Even though the upstairs and downstairs are connected, it doesn't look like a house of a married couple, does it?"

"Xiaoya's room has not changed as well. There's a kitchen upstairs and one downstairs. It looks like two homes, not a single, complete home," said Han Dongping.

Old Mr. Han and Old Mrs. Han nodded. They agreed with what Han Dongping had said.

Han Zhuoling wanted to stay near Shi Xiaoya, so it was convenient.

As long as the two stayed together, there were no other requirements.

So Shi Xiaoya's house did not change and stayed the same. She just moved upstairs and lived with Han Zhuoling.

As a result, this did not look like a complete house that two people lived in together.

It was like a house that had been divided into two parts. The two parts had not merged together at all.

Even Han Zhuoling expressed a hint of agreement.

Han Dongping saw this and jumped for joy in his heart. He hit the iron while it was hot and said, "When Zhuoling was preparing to come back, didn't he buy a house? The one that your mom is staying in now."

When Han Zhuoling came back, he had wanted him to be with Xia Yixin.

But Han Zhuoling had never paid much attention to these materialistic things.

He thought that a family of three living in a big villa would make it feel too empty.. Besides, he was always not home usually.

Chapter 2708: You Reminded Me

He simply bought a flat that was 300 square meters.

Who would expect that after a string of events, that place would now be where Lin Liye and Han Zhuofeng were staying?

Lin Liye was even happy, telling Han Zhuoling that, luckily, the house he had bought was not very big.

Together with Han Zhuofeng, that's where she stayed. Han Zhuofeng was always not home during the day, learning from his master.

Usually, she was alone. Even with her sister-in-law, it still felt empty.

"How about you move there with Xiaoya?" suggested Han Dongping.

Han Zhuoling heard this and guessed Han Dongping's intentions.

Lin Liye acted dumb. "It's fine. They are so comfortable in their own world. If they move back, there will be me in the middle. They won't feel comfortable just as I won't."

Han Dongping said immediately, "You can move back and stay with me. You shouldn't keep staying at Zhuoling's place. Let Zhuofeng move back too. Wouldn't that house be empty for Zhuoling then? As for Zhuoling's and Xiaoya's current place, let's completely renovate it."

Lin Liye laughed. "You reminded me."

Han Dongping froze.

Reminded her of what?

He had a feeling that the thing that Lin Liye was going to do was definitely not something that he would want to see.

Then he saw Lin Liye take out a title deed. "This is for the villa that I just bought. It's located in the new villa area beside where you are staying now. You can renovate your house however you want. It's very near where you are staying now, so it's very convenient for you to check the renovations or to move.

"It's my name on the title deed now," said Lin Liye, smiling. "I wanted to give this to you as a wedding gift, so I didn't let Zhuoling buy the house using his name."

“When you’re done with your marriage matter, then we can transfer and change the ownership to you,” said Lin Liye, smiling.

To them, a house or a villa was nothing.

They would not fight because of this.

In the future, whether Lin Liye would give it to Han Zhuoling or Han Zhuofeng, it did not matter.

Because all of them had the power to buy these.

Just like Lin Liye, they could buy it if they wanted to, as simple as buying a shirt.

But it’s the thought of Lin Liye that counted and moved Shi Xiaoya’s heart.

Shi Xiaoya waved her hand, saying, “What transfer? There’s no need to do that. Mom, you bought it for us, we’ll just stay there.”

After Shi Xiaoya finished speaking, she turned to Han Zhuoling, seeking his opinion.

Han Zhuoling nodded as he smiled. “Xiaoya is right. We’re one family. There’s no need to state what’s yours and mine.”

Lin Liye nodded and did not say more.

Han Dongping was speechless.

He had planned it nicely, but it was disrupted once again by Lin Liye.

When would Lin Liye move back in with him?

That night, everyone went to Sheng Yue.

The Shi family also arrived there.

Upon seeing Shi Guanzhong and his wife, Old Mrs. Han and Lin Liye dragged Du Yiqin away and started talking.

Old Mr. Han was talking to Han Dongping and Shi Guanzhong.

Han Dongping was a lot humbler than before.

Besides, the Shi family was pretty well off, so even if he wanted to show off, he could not.

After a while, Han Zhuoli came with Lu Man. Unexpectedly, they came with Han Zhuofeng.

“Why did you come with your second brother and sister-in-law?” asked Lin Liye after she saw Han Zhuofeng.

Chapter 2709: Are You Feeling Unwell?

"I was learning from Director Wu today. It ended just in time, so I went to find my brother," said Han Zhuofeng.

The Director Wu that Han Zhuofeng mentioned was Wu Mosen.

With the Han Corporation's investments, it was very convenient.

This was a rare opportunity, so Han Zhuoli had arranged for Han Zhuofeng to learn from Wu Mosen.

When Wu Mosen was directing, he would not have just one assistant director, so Han Zhuoli gave Han Zhuofeng the position of assistant director.

Lu Man's stomach was still flat and it did not look like she was pregnant.

Old Mrs. Han saw her and asked, "Man Man, how do you feel now? Are you feeling unwell?"

Lu Man smiled and said, "Nope. Looks like the little guy knows that he should sympathize with me. I don't have any painful symptoms. On the contrary, my appetite keeps improving, and I can eat a lot now."

"That's good. You can only get all your nutrients by eating," said Old Mrs. Han, smiling. "Just let us know whatever you want to eat."

Lu Man smiled and agreed. "People say that your taste will change after getting pregnant, but until now, I have not experienced any changes. Whatever I liked to eat before, I still like to eat them now. It's just that I get hungry late at night."

Since Lu Man was developing herself in the entertainment industry, she had to maintain a good figure.

Before getting pregnant, although she did not starve herself, she followed the rule of having three meals only. After dinner, she would not eat anymore.

Unless she had to attend any gatherings and must eat, she would eat a little, or else supper was something that had nothing to do with her.

However, that was before she was pregnant.

After getting pregnant, she no longer restrained herself. The child took priority.

If she was hungry or wanted to eat anything, she would tell Han Zhuoli immediately.

If he could get it immediately, Han Zhuoli would do it straight away.

Usually, the food that she wanted to eat was not tricky to get.

Most were in B City.

The only problem was that many restaurants did not operate for 24 hours.

When she wanted to eat at midnight, she would not be able to find any place open.

Lu Man would not be angry because of this, but she would keep thinking about it and not be able to sleep.

If she could not eat, she could not sleep. Her mind would be filled with that food.

She would keep her eyes open until the morning.

But after a few hours, she would not want to eat it anymore.

How could Han Zhuoli just watch Lu Man think about food and not be able to sleep, ending up affecting her body?

So after one time of experiencing it, Han Zhuoli bought various semi-finished products online according to Lu Man's cravings and kept them at home.

He was afraid that he was not thoughtful enough and would miss a few items, so he would ask Lu Man what else she liked to eat.

And he'd remember them.

Whatever was sold online and could be stored at home, he bought everything.

Even if the storage time was only for a few days, it was fine.

If Lu Man did not want to eat it, he would eat it.

Then, he would buy it again.

He needed to ensure that these were stored in the house.

Just like one time, Lu Man wanted to eat sesame sauce Liangpi.

However, this snack was usually sold on food trucks or stalls at the streetside.

These stalls would not be open until midnight.

Luckily, Han Zhuoli had bought it online beforehand.

The seller had vacuum-packed the fresh Liangpi to extend the shelf life. It also came with sauce packs.

It could last six or seven days in the fridge.

There were some at home, so Han Zhuoli immediately made one for her.

Even though Han Zhuoli did not know how to cook, these products did not need him to know how to cook; he just needed to take them out and mix them together..

Chapter 2710: Pitied the Chef

True, it was still different from the ones made on the streets.

But it could satisfy Lu Man's cravings for the time being.

Their house's fridge had never been so full. The contents were so diverse.

When the huge two-door fridge with a freezer was not enough, Han Zhuoli bought another fridge and placed it next to the first one, but even then, it was filled very quickly.

"Sheng Yue is Yan Beicheng's territory. It's the same as our own house," said Han Zhuoli to Lu Man. "Let the chef know whatever you want to eat. Even if it's not on the menu, tell them to make it for you."

Lu Man pulled on Han Zhuoli's shirt, embarrassed, and whispered, "Today's main characters are Big Brother and Xiaoya. It should follow Big Brother's and Xiaoya's taste."

Shi Xiaoya sat next to Lu Man. Tonight's main characters were indeed Han Zhuoling and her.

But with the elders here, the master seats belonged to the grandparents.

The Hans and the Shis sat in line on the two sides next to the grandparents.

At the end of the line were Han Zhuofeng, Han Zhuoli, Lu Man, Han Zhuoling, and Shi Xiaoya.

They who were younger sat together. When Lu Man was talking to Han Zhuoli, Shi Xiaoya heard it as she was too near.

Shi Xiaoya smiled as she pulled Lu Man's sleeve.

Lu Man felt it and turned around, looking at her with an expression full of confusion.

Shi Xiaoya smiled and said, "Whatever you want to eat, just say the word. We are eating together anyway. No matter what we eat, we achieve our goal of eating together. As for what the food is, it doesn't matter. It works perfectly; you can order and we won't need to use our brains."

Since Shi Xiaoya said that, Lu Man would not be courteous anymore.

She did not order every single thing, but she did order a few dishes that she wanted to eat.

Just as she was about to order, Sheng Yue's general manager came.

All the elders of the Han Family came, after all, so after the general manager heard about this, he came immediately to greet them.

Then, they heard Lu Man telling Han Zhuoli, "I want to eat Big Plate Chicken."

Old Mrs. Han was stunned when she heard that.

This was not on the menu of Sheng Yue.

The general manager's eyes also twitched.

She really knew how to test the chef.

But luckily, it was not hard to cook. Even though it was not on the menu, they had the ingredients for it.

The chef was also hired by Sheng Yue with a high salary. If he could not even cook such a simple dish, he should resign.

Without needing Han Zhuoli to say anything, the general manager made the waiter write it down immediately.

“What else do you want to eat?” Han Zhuoli asked Lu Man.

Lu Man said, “Barbeque lamb skewers.”

The waiter wrote it down again.

“For the main course, I want to eat Meat in a Bun,” said Lu Man softly, embarrassed.

Her voice was a bit soft, so the waiter did not hear her.

Han Zhuoli then said it to the waiter.

The waiter pitied the chef quietly.

The previous ones were easy to handle. The meat of the Roujiamo could be marinated, but the problem was the bread; it was uncertain whether the chef could make it.

Lu Man said, embarrassed, “Will it be too bothersome?”

“No, no.” The general manager promised her on behalf of the chef, “Our Sheng Yue’s chefs know how to make all of these.”

Lu Man was relieved.

“I want to eat these. I won’t order the rest,” said Lu Man.

Then, Han Zhuoling took the menu and ordered a few more dishes.

Even though the general manager had put on a tough front, hearing that Lu Man only ordered three dishes, he still let out a sigh of relief.

Luckily, these three dishes were easy to handle. If Lu Man continued to order and really ordered something that their chefs could not make, he would be lying and it would ruin their reputation..
