Chapter 2751: It's Rare That I Am Here

"I have watched this movie before. It was never introduced into our country, but it was really popular online. There was someone in our class who went to the docks during that time; the movie was not banned there, so he brought a DVD back.

"We used a projector to watch it together in class. It was scary." Shi Xiaoya still felt afraid just by thinking about it.

Those eyes, which were as big as bowls, really gave her trauma.

"Because I watched that movie, I could not sleep for one month. Every time I closed my eyes at night, I felt like there was someone crawling from the foot of the bed to the top. It was horrifying," said Shi Xiaoya.

"When I went to the bathroom at midnight, I didn't dare to look at the mirror, afraid that something would appear in there..." Now that Shi Xiaoya was thinking about it, she was scaring herself.

"..." Han Zhuoling looked at her resignedly. "With only this bit of courage, you're still standing at the entrance, wondering whether to go in or not?"

Shi Xiaoya smiled in embarrassment and said, "Isn't it because you're here? I think that if you're here with me, I will not be scared of anything. At first, while standing at the entrance feeling conflicted, I was afraid. But when I remembered that you are next to me, I am no longer afraid, so I am considering whether to enter and take a look. It's a rare chance to have you here with me.

"Besides, when we were shooting Survivor, wasn't there an episode where we were in an underground palace? I was terrified, but when you got there, I was no longer afraid."

Han Zhuoling chuckled. He could not help but feel guilty after hearing that.

Because he was always busy, he could not spend a lot of time with her.

So she came to think that coming out with him to play around was very rare.

This was such a rare chance, and that was why she wanted to do everything that she wanted to do with him. Things that she could only do when he was with her.

Han Zhuoling held her hand. "From here on out, I will try my best to make time for you."

Shi Xiaoya explained immediately, "That's not what I meant. I know that you're busy. Besides, you've already reduced your working time by a lot because of me. Actually, you spend a good amount of time with me. Even ordinary salarymen do not have so much time that they're able to do the things they want to do whenever they want.

"Besides, I don't want you to get too tired. You're already tired just with this. Shortening your working time means you'd have to finish all your work quickly."

It was not as simple as it sounded. This meant that there would be less time for him to rest.

It sounded easy to have less resting time and finish his work rapidly.

However, working without resting would inevitably cause headaches.

Nobody could be a working machine; everyone had to rest in between.

But Han Zhuoling wanted to spend more time with her, so he would have to shorten his working time and increase his working efficiency.

If it was like that, in the same eight hours, he would be more tired than others.

Shi Xiaoya held his hand and said sincerely, "I think you're already doing a great job."

Han Zhuoling could not help but smile as he held her hand.

He raised their held hands and pointed at the hospital entrance. "Then are we going to enter and take a look? It's rare that I am here."

Shi Xiaoya pondered for a while.. If she missed this chance, she did not know when would be the next time he could enter a haunted house with her.

Chapter 2752: You're Right in My Arms, What Are You Walking for?

She gritted her teeth and decided. "Then let's go in and take a look."

Han Zhuoling squeezed her hand and pulled her over to queue up.

They had not bought the fast pass for this, so they had to queue up humbly.

Luckily, this haunted house was too notorious; most people stood outside watching, and there were not a lot of people who actually queued up to enter.

According to the electric sign at the entrance, which showed the estimated queue time, they needed to queue up for around 40 minutes.

However, usually, the time shown on the sign would be a little longer than the actual time to reduce the customers' expectations.

If it had reached the estimated time but they were still not done queueing up, people would feel unhappy.

On the other hand, if the estimated queuing time was 40 minutes but they were done in half an hour, people would be pleasantly surprised because they finished ten minutes earlier.

So Shi Xiaoya and Han Zhuoling queued up.

It was uncertain whether they wanted to let the customers enter the scary atmosphere earlier or if they wanted to let the customers slowly get used to this type of scary atmosphere.

Even the area for queuing up was surrounded by freaky decorations, evoking the atmosphere in a horror movie.

The wall was mottled. The original white pieces of the wall were dropping here and there, revealing the gray color inside.

The wall coverings that had not fallen off were also not very white; it was painted a dirty grey color by the employees on purpose.

There were bloodstains on them here and there.

There were bloodstains that had the shape of a palm and also those that had an irregular shape.

It was as though someone had had their hands placed on the wall and was dragged away forcefully, leaving a trail of bloodstains.

Half of it was on the wall covering and the other half was on the mud wall inside.

Shi Xiaoya looked around. The lamps on top of the wall were shaky and seemed as though they were going to fall off.

From time to time, there would be freaky screams coming from speakers that were hidden somewhere unknown.

From time to time, there would be screams of visitors coming through the wall.

But there were a lot of people queuing up and Han Zhuoling stood behind her.

Thus, when Shi Xiaoya stepped backward, she fell into Han Zhuoling's arms. The moment she smelled the cologne on him, she was no longer afraid.

There were also a few girls who came in groups.

When they heard these noises, even their voices became shaky when they talked.

The boys who came to play all looked like students and seemed bolder.

There were also boys and girls who came together to play. The boys would scare the girls intentionally.

Even while they were still queuing up, the girls were already shaking with fear.

However, there were more couples like Shi Xiaoya and Han Zhuoling.

Couples could naturally hug each other without worrying about anything.

The girls were excited and nervous. They were probably feeling the same thing as Shi Xiaoya.

They acted like spoiled children in their boyfriends' arms.

Shi Xiaoya saw how spoiled they look and thought that she must look the same to others right now.

So she felt too embarrassed to stay in Han Zhuoling's arms.

She took a step forward to separate from him.

Unexpectedly, when Shi Xiaoya had just started moving, it was as though Han Zhuoling already knew what she was thinking.

He placed his palm on her stomach and pushed her back.

Shi Xiaoya's back was stuck in his embrace, and she could only see him by looking up.

Seeing that she looked confused, Han Zhuoling lowered his head to her ear and whispered, "You're staying in my arms. Why are you walking away?"

There were a lot of people around and the noises of conversations never stopped.

So they had to speak a little louder to be heard by each other.

Chapter 2753: Actually, They Do Not Even Have a Marriage Certificate

Han Zhuoling did not want to let other people hear their conversation, so he had to whisper next to her ear.

They seemed even closer this way.

Embarrassed, Shi Xiaoya said, "There are so many kids here. It's so embarrassing to do this in front of them. It's not good to be a bad example."

Han Zhuoling took a glance around.

Perhaps because their looks were too outstanding, when they stood in a crowd of people, they attracted attention.

A normal couple displaying their affection publicly would not attract any attention.

But Han Zhuoling and Shi Xiaoya kept attracting glances from time to time.

When Shi Xiaoya saw this, she became even more embarrassed.

"What are you embarrassed for? We are husband and wife. We should be proud," said Han Zhuoling, full of confidence. "Look at those young and unmarried ones. It's they who need to be embarrassed.

"They look tidy on the outside, but actually, they do not even have a marriage certificate," said Han Zhuoling.

The arrogance in these words could not be hidden.

Who would have thought that the cold and mature Han Zhuoling would have an arrogant moment like this?

Shi Xiaoya wondered whether that could be said in that way.

But Han Zhuoling would not let her go anyway, so she just stayed in Han Zhuoling's arms, pretending not to see those glances.

As the two talked, time flew by.

It was their turn.

The people entered the haunted house in batches.

Only a maximum of ten people could enter at a time.

Han Zhuoling and Shi Xiaoya were in the middle positions.

Coincidentally, there were also three couples and four boys who looked like students.

When they were queuing up, they went uphill.

So when they entered, it was actually to the rooftop of the hospital.

Their mission was to go downstairs from the top.

It didn't matter whether they took the stairs or the elevator, as long as they could get down.

The theme was an abandoned hospital.

So when they entered, everything in the hospital was in ruins.

There was no light in the hospital, and the rooms on both sides were all empty.

Even the doors all looked the same; they were all doors like those of emergency exits.

In the dark, it could not be differentiated which door was the exit of the floor and which ones led to a ward.

Besides, there was no worker leading in front. They had to depend on their team to find the exit.

The moment Shi Xiaoya came in, she hugged Han Zhuoling's arm tightly.

She had Han Zhuoling on her right, so she was not too scared, but she was afraid that something would emerge from her left to scare her to death.

Ever since they entered, the sound effects in the hospital had never stopped.

It was as though the sound was right by their ears.

From time to time, there would be sounds of footsteps from behind.

That sound was definitely not the footsteps of their teammates.

Because everyone inside was anxious, their footsteps were messy.

There was no way that their footsteps would be in an orderly manner like this.

There was a girl who screamed out of fear.

Even the four boys started screaming.

Shi Xiaoya hugged Han Zhuoling's arm even more tightly. "If... if I had known it was this scary, I wouldn't have come to play."

Who would expect it to be this terrifying?

Han Zhuoling chuckled and wanted to hug her, but his arm was being held on too tightly by Shi Xiaoya and could not even be moved.

Han Zhuoling said resignedly, "Let go of me first.. I will hug you so you won't need to worry about any jumpscares coming from your left side."

Chapter 2754: Look at How Good of a Boyfriend He Is Shi Xiaoya was stunned. She did not think that Han Zhuoling could see through her.

She let go.

She was still feeling perturbed inside.

She only let go of Han Zhuoling a little and she had already lost all sense of security.

Luckily, she did not need to let go for very long. Han Zhuoling had already wrapped his arms around her shoulder, hugging her tightly.

Her left shoulder was also covered by Han Zhuoling and it felt warm.

To create a creepy effect, the air conditioner inside had been put on blast.

Clothes with short sleeves would give you goosebumps from the cold.

So after being covered by Han Zhuoling, Shi Xiaoya did not feel hot at all; she felt even safer.

Besides, she was no longer afraid that something would emerge from the left.

A girl behind them saw this and said to her boyfriend immediately, "Look at how good of a boyfriend he is."

Her boyfriend was terrified himself.

When the boyfriend heard this, he felt that he could not appear scared in front of other men, so he also hugged his own girlfriend.

Suddenly, the door of one of the rooms on the side burst open.

Everyone screamed.

They looked to the side subconsciously.

Then they saw a female ghost with long hair and a white dress crawling on the floor.

The ghost's long hair was spread in front, covering her whole face.

"Ahhh!" Shi Xiaoya almost cried and had climbed over Han Zhuoling's body.

She used her limbs and hung on him like a koala bear.

Han Zhuoling did not know whether to laugh or cry. This little girl's movements were very agile now. It was so fast that he was not able to react.

Han Zhuoling carried her like this in his arms.

Shi Xiaoya wrapped her arms around his neck tightly and closed her eyes. She would not look anymore no matter what she was told.

She was traumatized.

But when she closed her eyes, she felt that the wind noises by her ear sounded creepy.

Shi Xiaoya turned around and looked at Han Zhuoling's side profile.

She paid full attention to his side profile.

After a while, Shi Xiaoya was healed.

The girl behind them also wanted to hang onto her boyfriend.

Her boyfriend screamed while shouting, "You're too heavy! Time to go on a diet!"

Everyone was speechless.

After being shouted at like this, she was suddenly not afraid anymore.

His girlfriend was so angry that she hammered him.

"Why don't you say that you have to exercise!" shouted the girlfriend. "Look at him! He's carrying her without even using any strength!"

"Why don't you look at how thin his girlfriend is!" said the boyfriend.

Shi Xiaoya was speechless. "..."

She was hit without even doing anything.

Han Zhuoling was speechless. "..."

He even had time to observe how thin his wife was?

"Go quickly! Go quickly!" someone said, hurrying them.

The others came back to their senses and started running, afraid to look back.

Shi Xiaoya was being carried by Han Zhuoling, so she was not that afraid.

But because they could not find the staircase, they had to open the doors of the wards one by one.

It was horrifying.

"Let's... let's use the elevator!" suggested someone after seeing that the elevator was right in front.

The group walked to the front of the elevator.

Then, someone said, "In the elevator, will there also... also..."

"Don't jinx it!"

Someone pressed the down button of the elevator while trembling.

The doors of the elevator made a sound like those of bellows when they opened.

Then, a zombie carrying a chainsaw emerged from inside.

“Ahh!” Everyone turned around immediately and ran.

In the end, it was still Han Zhuoling carrying Shi Xiaoya at the front, finding the way.

It was only then that everyone stopped scurrying around like flies.

Chapter 2755: I'm Worried That If I Put You Down, Your Legs Will Shake

Another girl saw that and said to her own boyfriend, “Look at them! The girl is in her boyfriend’s arms the whole time and has never been scared.”

Her boyfriend said, “You’re so scared; I told you not to come in. You’re scared but you still wanted to enter.”

The boyfriend in the other pair who had complained that his girlfriend was heavy said, “Dear, can you come down and walk by yourself? I can’t carry you any longer.”

Shi Xiaoya heard these and was embarrassed, so she whispered to Han Zhuoling, “You can put me down. You’ve already carried me for so long.”

She was also worried that Han Zhuoling would not be able to carry her any longer.

However, though Han Zhuoling had been carrying Shi Xiaoya the whole time, his expression did not change; he was not even panting. His breathing was very steady.

“Not scared?” asked Han Zhuoling.

“I’m afraid that you’ll get too tired,” said Shi Xiaoya softly.

“Then let me continue carrying you. I’m worried that if I put you down, your legs will shake,” said Han Zhuoling.

Seeing that even his breathing did not change when he talked, Shi Xiaoya did not request to walk by herself.

She felt safer being carried by Han Zhuoling anyway.

As they were walking, the corridor that was originally pitch black suddenly had the lamp above it start flickering.

It was as though it was not connected properly. It even produced the sound of an electric current.

“Ahh!” someone shouted.

“What happened? Young lady, don’t scare us!” said one of the four boys.

Before being scared to death by the workers acting as ghosts, they had already been scared to death by the young ladies.

"I... I think I just saw a figure flashing by." The girl even started crying. "It's a red figure."

Another girl had completely broken down in fear; there was no use even if the boyfriend was here.

"Ahh! I don't want to stay here anymore. I want to get out! I want to get out!"

As she spoke, she started crying.

She was the one whose boyfriend had complained, saying that if she was scared, she shouldn't have still wanted to enter.

Shi Xiaoya was still fine as she was being carried by Han Zhuoling the whole time.

Although she seemed like a good-for-nothing, at least she had a sense of security!

Just as the girl was crying, a Baby Ghost Hanako appeared in front of Han Zhuoling.

It did not look like a real person.

After all, they would not ask kids to work here.

However, in this pitch-black corridor, with the flickering lights above and the sound of the electric current...

People would already be terrified and would not try to see if it was real or fake.

The light shone on the Baby Ghost's face from time to time.

Han Zhuoling let out a sigh of relief. Luckily, Shi Xiaoya's back was facing it and she could not see.

But Han Zhuoling had guessed correctly; that Baby Ghost was only a prop.

They used the effects of light and shadow to create a spooky atmosphere.

It was gone in a flash. There was nobody in the corridor.

"Do... do we still continue to go forward?" asked a girl, horrified. "It's like we're going in circles. Why can't we find the stairs?"

Seeing that they were all scared to death, Han Zhuoling explained, "The zombie in the elevator has already come out, meaning the scary part of the elevator is already over. We can just go and use the elevator to go downstairs. Or else, if we open the doors one by one, who knows what else is inside?"

Han Zhuoling thought that this scary hospital had been built with a lot of effort.

However, they could not scare their customers too much.

So they would not cross the line.

One ghost for one level would be enough.

"How are you so sure that they won't send someone else to hide in the elevator? Maybe they want to force us to find the stairs," someone asked.

Chapter 2756: Do You Have to Put So Much Effort in Making This

“Do you still see the female ghost who was crawling on the floor in the beginning?” asked Han Zhuoling.

Everyone was speechless.

She was indeed gone.

“Her area was in that ward. She won’t come out, so that zombie that just came out from the elevator to scare you had also completed his mission,” said Han Zhuoling.

“Of course, if you guys don’t believe me, you can open the doors one by one and look for the stairs,” said Han Zhuoling.

Everyone was speechless.

A girl said to her own boyfriend, “Should we follow the guy?”

Han Zhuoling said, “You can also go by yourselves. I will carry my wife and walk.”

Shi Xiaoya could see Han Zhuoling’s mouth curve up after saying this sentence.

He finally had the chance to say this.

When he heard them calling him boyfriend and saying how good of a boyfriend he was, he wanted to tell them that they were already husband and wife and was over the stage of dating.

“Wow, so you guys are already married!” someone exclaimed in surprise.

“I didn’t expect that a relationship can be so good and sweet even after marriage,” a girl said. “My boyfriend and I are just dating and he’s already starting to dislike me.”

“That’s right. Mine as well. I asked him to carry me just now and he complained that I was heavy,” said another girl. “You’re married, but your relationship is sweeter than ours. I’m so jealous.”

As they started talking, the spooky atmosphere was reduced.

The four male students also agreed. “Let’s follow this brother. Among us, only he is the calmest one.”

Han Zhuoling smiled, thinking that these boys had good taste. They called him brother, meaning that they could see that he was not old.

The others also did not disagree.

Han Zhuoling said, “Then let’s continue forward.”

He was worried that the Ghost Baby prop would suddenly appear from the side or the back.

Thus, Han Zhuoling carried Shi Xiaoya with one hand, and with the other hand, he pressed the back of her head, burying her face into his chest.

Or else, it would not be good if she saw something when she opened her eyes while her head was on his shoulder.

Everyone headed back to the elevator.

Han Zhuoling pressed the down button.

The others were all anxious, afraid that something would rush out from inside.

They were also afraid that something would follow from behind.

Luckily, the elevator had remained on this floor. It opened rapidly and there was nothing inside.

Everyone rushed inside immediately.

They pressed the first floor.

After a few seconds, the elevator stopped.

The doors snapped open, and a nostalgic light welcomed them.

The staff stood outside.

Seeing them, the staff all applauded.

“Wow! You’re amazing!”

“You’re the fastest team to exit since this event came out this year.”

“You’re amazing!”

Usually, after the visitors entered, they would be affected by the spooky atmosphere, fleeing in any path without knowing which one they chose.

The more afraid they were, the harder it was for them to find the correct path and the slower they would exit.

Besides, after being scared in the elevator, they would not dare to use it anymore.

They were all scared to death, so it was impossible to analyze it logically like how Han Zhuoling did.

The other two girls were bursting with tears of joy.

“We’re finally out. I really... really thought that I’d die inside.”

Another girl cried to the staff, “Do you have to put so much effort into making this! It’s terrifying!”

Chapter 2757: You Make the Call

The staff could only laugh.

Whenever they see their customers being scared like this, they felt sorry for them.

The whole team went out together.

“Ah, being outside is so nice. The smell of sunlight is so good.”

“You can smell the sunlight?!” the boyfriend teased her.

“Will you suffer if you don’t hate on me for one day!”

After coming out from the jumpscare, they finally recovered.

They had all felt scared to death inside.

But once they came out, they felt that being inside was not too bad!

It was actually not that scary!

Shi Xiaoya was still being carried by Han Zhuoling, so she whispered to him, “Put me down.”

Han Zhuoling put her down.

Shi Xiaoya’s legs did feel like jelly, and Han Zhuoling had to hold her.

Under the sunlight, everyone could finally see each other’s faces clearly.

When they were queuing up, it had also been really dark, so none of them noticed...

Then, a girl said, full of surprise, “You two... you two look so familiar!”

“Brother, you look like Han Zhuoling. Has anyone told you that?”

Another girl said, “Are you Shi Xiaoya? I have watched your makeup videos.”

Shi Xiaoya did not expect to be noticed by people even though they were not considered celebrities.

“Yes, it’s definitely you guys. I just used Weibo! You said in Weibo yourself that you’re here,” said a girl, full of excitement.

Shi Xiaoya did not have the burden of a celebrity, who needed to deny it when being noticed by people.

She admitted, “It’s us.”

“Oh my goodness! It’s really you guys. What a day! I could meet you guys, and we even queued up and played in the haunted house together. So lucky.”

“Your relationship is so good!” said another girl. “Oh right, you’re newlyweds. May you guys be happy in your marriage!”

“Yes, yes, yes. May you guys be happy in your marriage.”

“Congratulations.”

The others also spoke one by one.

The four boys did not pay attention to entertainment news usually, but they were also people who surfed the web, so they knew Han Zhuoling and Shi Xiaoya.

Suddenly, they felt like they had just met someone famous and were really excited.

One of the girls said shyly, “Um... can we take a group picture with you guys?”

Shi Xiaoya turned around and looked at Han Zhuoling, asking for his opinion silently.

Han Zhuoling smiled slightly. "You make the call."

Shi Xiaoya saw how excited they looked so she could not reject them.

She nodded. "Sure."

"Want to let me take one for you guys first?" asked Shi Xiaoya.

"No, no, no. We want to take a picture with the two of you," said a guy. "Let me take one for you guys first."

The boyfriend of a girl said, "When you're done, I will help you so you can be in the picture."

"Alright."

And so, everyone took a few group pictures.

The boys even exchanged WeChats and sent each other the pictures.

Unexpectedly, though they only entered the haunted house together out of coincidence, they were able to become friends.

The others did not want to continue to disturb Han Zhuoling and Shi Xiaoya.

They knew that they were newlyweds out on a date.

So they bid them farewell hurriedly.

However, a short while after separating, Shi Xiaoya found out that they had posted the pictures online.

"Saw on Weibo that Young Master Ling @Han Zhuoling and Xiaoya @Shi Xiaoya are here, but the theme park is huge so I didn't expect to meet them. Who would have thought?! Who would have thought we could really meet them?!"

Chapter 2758: A Reasonable Rating

"They entered the scary hospital event and even formed a team with us to enter the haunted house. When we were queuing up, we did not notice it was them as it was too dark inside. After entering the haunted house, we were so scared that we still couldn't notice. We only found out after coming out. Oh my goodness, the brother and sister who played in the haunted house with us were actually Young Master Ling and Xiaoya. So happy! The two of them were super nice. They easily agreed to take a group picture with us."

Below the post were the group pictures of them.

"Wow, you're so lucky. Do you want to consider buying lottery tickets? You hit such a small probability."

"Xiaoya is so sweet. Young Master Ling still doesn't smile, but he looks gentle. I must be dazzled."

The blogger replied, “Hahahaha, Young Master Ling is super nice to Xiaoya. When we asked for pictures, we thought that it won’t be possible. Young Master Ling looked serious and did not like to take pictures. But when Xiaoya asked for his opinion, he told Xiaoya straight away that she could make the call. My goodness, that scene was a public display of affection and was so sweet.”

The other couple in the team also posted the pictures on Weibo and added, “When we’re in the haunted house, we did not notice Young Master Ling at all. Young Master Ling looked very cold usually, but he was actually easy to get along with. Especially in the haunted house, he was extremely dependable. When we couldn’t find the exit and did not know where to go, it was him who walked in front, and he even explained to us why we had to go that way. Now that I think about it, it’s so kind.”

The blogger did not have many fans at first, but because of this, many netizens came.

“Have you seen Survivor? Young Master Ling was also very kind in it. Although he did not talk much, he answered all the questions and was even patient. Completely different from his personality.”

“Yes, our Young Master Ling is cold inside but warm inside. Very cute!”

When Shi Xiaoya saw this comment, she could not hold back her laughter.

Han Zhuoling looked over curiously. “What are you laughing at?”

Shi Xiaoya held the phone in front of his eyes. “There are netizens who say you’re actually very cute.”

Han Zhuoling was speechless. “...”

How could the word “cute” be used to describe him?

He was clearly cool, handsome, and classy.

Shi Xiaoya smiled and withdrew her hand. “I think it’s a reasonable comment. I think you’re very cute too.”

Han Zhuoling was speechless. “...”

He chuckled lightly. “Cute?”

It was clearly a hot summer, but Shi Xiaoya could still feel a chill down her spine.

“Tonight, I will let you know what the consequence is for describing your man as cute,” said Han Zhuoling.

Shi Xiaoya was speechless. “...”

Shi Xiaoya suddenly remembered something. “Umm... isn’t there supposed to be news of Lian Qingyin at midnight?”

Han Zhuoling was speechless. “...”

Thinking that she could make Han Zhuoling speechless just by talking, she immediately started laughing.

The four boys also posted their pictures online.

However, along with the two boyfriends, they did not say much.

It was mostly about the interactions between the two girls.

Seeing that a girl talked about Han Zhuoling and Shi Xiaoya in the haunted house, another one replied to her, "Yes, yes. When Xiaoya was feeling scared, Young Master Ling carried her the whole time and even covered her face in his embrace, worried that she would see the ghosts when she opened her eyes.. He really spoiled her. Why doesn't my boyfriend have this kind of determination?"

Chapter 2759: Best Husband Ever

That girl also replied, "You can't look at their interactions; after looking at them, you would want to break up."

"So jealous!" a netizen said after seeing this. "Are there any pictures? I want to see!"

"No. We didn't know it was them at first, and we also put away our bags and phones before going in. You can't take pictures inside, so even if we knew it was them, we couldn't have taken pictures."

"Now that I think about it, that scene was so sweet. Young Master Ling carried Xiaoya the whole way without letting go. He really carried her like he was carrying a child, the kind in which Xiaoya had both her feet off the ground. And we didn't hear Young Master Ling say he's tired. When we came out, his expression was still the same; he wasn't tired at all. Best husband ever."

Shi Xiaoya did not continue looking.

Anyway, her own husband was really good at everything.

As the sky dimmed, Han Zhuoling looked at the time; it was almost time to leave.

Or else, they would not reach the reserved restaurant in time.

So he told this to Shi Xiaoya.

Anyway, Shi Xiaoya had had her fun already, so she left with Han Zhuoling to go to the restaurant that he had reserved.

Shi Xiaoya had never been to this French restaurant that Han Zhuoling had reserved.

After all, it was most suitable to go to such a romantic place with a boyfriend.

But after getting together with Han Zhuoling, she still did not go.

It was because she did not have thoughts about such a romantic place.

Usually, they ate Chinese food or snacks, ones that were very down to earth.

In addition, the two were always busy with work. Cuisines like the French cuisine, which required a long time to eat, were not their first choice.

They had time today, and Han Zhuoling had even emptied out his schedule.

So they came to have a taste.

Shi Xiaoya did not have a great desire for it.

She just followed Han Zhuoling.

The atmosphere in the French restaurant was superb.

When the two arrived, they were led to their reserved seats by the waiter.

The seats Han Zhuoling had reserved were amazing.

The French restaurant was on the rooftop of a building. The restaurant was surrounded by five glass walls.

It was five because, other than the four walls, even the ceiling was glass.

On the rooftop, surrounding the restaurant were a garden and even a fountain.

Sitting by the glass wall, not only could one see the garden outside, but because this building was one of the famous, tall buildings in B City, the spectacular night view of B City could also be seen.

Although the whole B City could not be seen, at least half was visible.

So the seats by the glass walls were always very popular.

Especially during the summer, which was the most suitable season.

The taste was authentic. The chef was from France, and the taste was not modified to suit the taste of the locals.

No matter whether people were used to the taste or not, most did not have the chance to head to France to experience an authentic French meal.

It was a rare chance to taste an authentic French meal without putting in so much effort and leaving the country.

Their country was already a haven of food with one of the world's three major cuisines. The citizens were gourmets, trained since they were young.

Naturally, they would want to try the other two of the three major cuisines.

So they did not care if it suited their taste.

Perhaps it was because they were curious, or perhaps the atmosphere of the restaurant made it a perfect dating spot for couples.

So even if the taste did not suit them, the restaurant was always full, never lacking any customers.

Chapter 2760: Just Want to Bring You Home

A good seat by the glass wall would need a reservation at least two days beforehand.

The other seats would need a reservation one day prior.

However, the two best seats of the restaurant could not be reserved normally.

They were prepared for super VIPs like Han Zhuoling. They could reserve them any time, without the need to reserve a few days before.

Just like today, Han Zhuoling suddenly wanted to come. He made a call, and if the seats were not reserved, they could save them for Han Zhuoling.

Even seats like these were always fully booked every day.

Even if they were not reserved, the restaurant was not desperate for the profit of these two tables.

When Shi Xiaoya arrived at the rooftop, she was in awe with the scenery in front of her.

Even though they were all man-made, they were beautiful.

It was no wonder that this place was called the city in the sky.

This name was suitable.

“No wonder this is a popular spot for taking pictures,” said Shi Xiaoya to Han Zhuoling. “It’s really beautiful. No matter where you take the picture, there’s beautiful scenery.”

There was the moon in the sky above and below their feet were floor lamps hidden among the plants, creating a faint hint of light from the plants.

Shi Xiaoya and Han Zhuoling walked on the small path between the plants. Shi Xiaoya suddenly stopped.

Han Zhuoling turned around and looked at her, confused.

Shi Xiaoya said softly, “This place reminds me of the path on which you proposed to me when we were shooting the special episode of Survivor.”

“It’s such a coincidence that you proposed on that kind of secret little path, and on our first date after we got married, we also walked on the same kind of path,” said Shi Xiaoya, scratching the back of her ear shyly.

“Do you think that I am too sensitive? I can think about that just by seeing this,” said Shi Xiaoya, embarrassed.

Han Zhuoling wrapped his arm around Shi Xiaoya’s waist, lowered his head to her ear, and said, “Why would I? Reserving this restaurant tonight was unintentional, and it’s my first time here. I did not know that it’s set up like this. But this shows that it’s fated. Our proposal and marriage all happened in similar environments.”

“Besides, I am overjoyed that you still remember the day I proposed to you.” Han Zhuoling’s eyes were filled with warmth.

The light in his eyes shone brighter than the moon and the lights around them.

“Of course I remember. I remember it clearly,” said Shi Xiaoya softly. “I won’t forget it for my whole life. Even when I am old and my brain is not as good anymore and is forgetful, I will not forget this.”

Shi Xiaoya held Han Zhuoling’s hand. “It’s such a good proposal, my good husband. How can I forget?”

Han Zhuoling’s throat moved and he took a deep breath.

His breathing felt tight.

If they were not outside and there were no waiters, Han Zhuoling would really have wanted to bury her in his arms.

He let out a sigh. “I kinda don’t want to eat anymore. I just want to bring you home.”

Shi Xiaoya could not hold back her laughter. She squeezed his hand. “Can’t do that. This is our date as newlyweds, and it is also to commemorate our marriage. There must be a beginning and an ending.”

Han Zhuoling would not really skip the meal and bring her away.

He still followed her into the restaurant.

The lights from the moon and outside created a romantic atmosphere in the restaurant. There was no need for other lights.

The restaurant’s lights were slightly dim, but people could still see clearly.

There was a lit candle on every table.

There were a few tables where customers were eating and conversing softly.

The soft conversations hid among the comforting music, making the restaurant really quiet.
