Chapter 651: We Are Talking About a Long-Term War, Comrades

In fifth place, it was another locally-produced animated film Little Lamb Run Quickly with 13.54 million box office.

The sixth place was even more impressive. It was Fighting Hero at 2.55 million.

On the other hand, Red Tiger was quickly catching up to Attack Force at an impressive rate.

“It increased so quickly!” Ji Cheng’s eyes widened, looking at the screenshot shared by Zhang Jian a few times in disbelief.

Apart from the one-week-long pre-sales, Attack Force’s box office had just increased by 3 million.

At that end, Bourbotte and the rest who were smug and full of themselves finally realized it.

All the other movies were having a quick growth in their box office collection whereas, Attack Force’s had a 160 million box collection an hour ago and even an hour later it only increased to 163 million.

On the other hand, an hour ago, Red Tiger’s box office was at 16 million, but now it had already crossed 60 million!

Did they take any steroids?

Putting Red Tiger aside, even the two animated films seemed to have taken steroids as they crossed the 10 million mark!

Logically speaking, under normal circumstances, the daily box office of an animated film would only be about a few million dollars!

“What is going on!” Bourbotte roared.

At that moment, Wang Qianyun recalled what the netizens said in the past and her face turned ashen.

“Could it be... could it be that it’s really like what those netizens said, that they would rather just buy the tickets even if they weren’t going to watch the movie so that the box office collection of locally-produced movies would increase?” Wang Qianyun said, stuttering.

Enraged, Bourbotte’s face darkened. “These people are killing real art!”

“Let’s just wait and take a look first, don’t get too anxious. The fight at night is the most intense. Also, it’s Friday today, everyone is still at work.” Ryan could only comfort them like this.

However, everyone knew clearly that the situation at night wouldn’t get any better either.

At 10 o’clock that night, all of them checked the new ranking for the box office collection.

First place, Red Tiger, 526 million.

Second place, Love Relationship, 198 million.

Third place, Little God of Fortune, 182 million.

Fourth place, Little Lamb Run Quickly, 179 million.

Fifth place, Attack Force, 172 million.

Sixth place, Fighting Hero, 3.56 million.

Bourbotte: "..."

Zhang Lun: "..."

They were f*king...

They were fking bullying them too much!

Those netizens must have planned this !

Red Tiger's box office was back to the same amount as the first day it was screened!

As for the other movies, they were all crushing Attack Force.

Even those two animated films were fking crushing Attack Force!

Moreover, their collection was only a little bit higher than Attack Force!

Yet they all crushed Attack Force to the ground.

Of course, the most pathetic one was still Fighting Hero, it was actually a terrible flop.

But what could they do?

Wasn't this still Zhang Lun's fault?

When Wang Qianyun refreshed her Weibo, she blew up in anger.

Those netizens were waving their flags and shouting victoriously on Weibo, uploading pictures of the box office ranking.

"Pay attention everybody, keep up the pace, don't leave such a huge gap for Attack Force to gloat, it's fine even if we get ahead by 10 yuan as long as the ranking is higher!"

"We are talking about a long-term war, comrades. Don't rush it too quickly, go at it slowly. Keep up such a pace everyday, let Bourbotte feel that he can surpass us leaving us behind until the day he suddenly falls down from his pedestal but don't let him gloat over your dead body!"

"Take note, crush Attack Force so much that all the cinemas will stop airing it, and only then will we come out victorious!"

"Take note, stay in your formation. Red Tiger team join the chat group for the Red Tiger box office collection.

"This is the group chat ID number, Groups 1-10 are all full, we are now opening up Group 11-30. Love Relationship team join in the chat group for Love Relationship box office. Anyway, everyone join the respective group chat for the movie box office you are in-charge of. Let's gradually increase up the box office collection in an orderly and organized fashion."

Chapter 652: She Is Really Going Against the Rules

Wang Qianyun: "..."

"What did they say on the internet?" Bourbotte asked, his face dark and gloomy. His anger was already giving him chest pain.

Wang Qianyun: "..."

What could she even say?

Say that she didn't know who came up with such a terrible yet terrific move and created respected group chats, splitting the work to increase the box office collection of local movies?

"What exactly is going on?" Ryan urged too.

Since they didn't understand Chinese, it was honestly a struggle for them. They couldn't even receive the news directly as they had to have someone translate it for them.

Even Berkeley and Susanna were staring hard at Wang Qianyun.

Both of them were over the moon when they got cast in Bourbotte's film. They planned to rely on this film to take a huge step forward in their career and also hoped to increase their net worth. They didn't want to become a flop in this largest market and return to America as a joke.

As for Wang Qianyun, left with no choice, she reluctantly told them how netizens had organized themselves into groups and rallied up to increasing the box office collection.

"This bunch of people... this bunch of people! They are too despicable!" Bourbotte roared angrily. "They are all just a bunch of despicable scoundrels!"

They were all using their brains in the wrong areas!

"How could they be so organized? Aren't they all strangers who don't know each other?" Ryan found it a bit strange.

Even Wang Qianyun found it strange and thus rushed to find out more.

Previously, she didn't pay keen attention but now she scrutinized it deeply and kept back tracking the reposted post.

Finally, when she found the original Weibo post, she almost fainted in rage. "It's Lu Man!"

Ryan hurriedly grabbed the phone over to take a look, but he still couldn't understand it.

Infuriated, Wang Qianyun pointed at Lu Man's name. "This is Lu Man, the one who kept challenging us. She was the one who started it."

"Oh god!" Susanna's face was in complete disbelief. Shocked, she facepalmed and asked in bewilderment accompanied with hate. "How could she go against the rules like this? Isn't she an actress? How can an actor personally rally up the netizens to do something like this?"

This was completely too incredulous!

“She is really going against the rules!” Berkeley roared in rage.

If Zhang Lun was around, he would definitely tell them that Lu Man always joined the battle herself!

Actress?

That was impossible!

Before she was an actress, she was a famous public relations officer.

If she didn't become an actor and went on to become a manager instead, perhaps the title of the top manager in the country would have been hers now.

Enraged and worried, Ryan could only look for the public relations team of Maxus Company, having them release a statement on Weibo reprimanding such immoral behavior of raising the box office.

Attack Force's official Weibo: “This tactic of increasing the box office has seriously disrupted the film market, it's very immoral! This type of box office is fake, and completely doesn't count. What's even the point of winning?”

Seeing the statement released by Attack Force, Lu Man raised her eyebrows and reposted that post. “Comrades, Attack Force is getting scared, they are like a cat on a hot tin roof!”

“Hahahahahaha! Bourbotte, kneel down and call me daddy!”

“Today, I'll teach you to improve your character, teach you the right attitude you should have in our turf!”

“Directors who want to come in the future, come and take a look. This is a very good example!”

Bracing herself for the worst, Wang Qianyun translated all of it for them which left Bourbotte seething in rage so much that he couldn't even catch his breath.

Very soon, Red Tiger's official Weibo released a poster. “Congratulations! Red Tiger has hit the 7 billion mark at the box office!”

Ryan: “...”

On the other hand, Lu Man leaned into Han Zhuoli's arms as she commanded her soldiers calmly and efficiently on the internet.

Usually the netizens always used to be in a state of disunity, and it would be too difficult to organize them. Yet suddenly, they somehow became organized and turned into soldiers, following Lu Man's orders, fighting wherever she wanted them to be.

He didn't know how this little girl did it either. It seemed like she could unite and rally up people from different background with her charm.

Chapter 653: My Male God Is Personally Stepping in and Slashing His Sword

It could only progress to this stage because Lu Man could accurately grasp the understanding of a person's psyche.

If it had been somebody else, they wouldn't be able to achieve this feat.

Unknown to them, Lu Man had already become an idol in the public relations industry whose techniques had turned into chapters for media schools.

As long as it was a PR case that Lu Man handled, it would still be discussed and analyzed and be an example for others to learn from.

Yet, just when they finished analyzing one, Lu Man would completely change her strategy and produce another amazing case to be analyzed. It was yet another complete new move. She was just unpredictable!

This time, a sharp-witted PR Department head called his employees for a meeting to follow and analyze Lu Man's situation at night.

When the meeting finally ended at 12 a.m, the manager announced, "Alright, go back home everyone, we'll continue tomorrow."

But the next moment, he sighed helplessly. "There are no boundaries to learning, my comrades."

Everybody: "..."

Meanwhile, Han Zhuoli had Lu Man in his embrace all along. Wanting to spend time with Lu Man, he chose to monitor the situation together with Lu Man on her phone.

Only after quite a while, he reached for his own cell phone. "Send me a screenshot of the box office ranking."

"Hm? Why do you want it?" Lu Man asked as she sent a photo to Han Zhuoli.

Smiling, Han Zhuoli lowered his head and kissed her on the lips. "To stand up for you."

After that, he cropped the photograph, leaving only the part of Fighting Hero's box office collection of 3.56 million and posted it on Weibo. He even tagged Fighting Hero and the official Weibo accounts of the other three cinema operators who still had allotted few showtimes to Fighting Hero.

Han Zhuoli: "@Qi Cheng Cinemas, @Tai Yi Cinemas, @Happy Fortune Cinemas, @Jizhou Cinemas, when are you going to stop airing Fighting Hero? Anyway, Han Corporation has already completely stopped all its screenings."

Usually, Han Zhuoli hardly posted anything on his Weibo.

Unlike other companies' CEOs who would occasionally interact with the artistes in their company or at least repost promotion posts about new works from their company.

All except for Han Zhuoli. If he even posted once or twice a year on Weibo, it was already considered astounding.

This time, he had come online and involved himself in the war waged on the Internet. Thus, the surprised netizens broke into laughter.

“Hahahahahaha, my heart! My male god you are really stealing my heart!”

“You’re too naughty, but I like it!”

“Hubby, quick, come and look, my male god is personally stepping in and slashing his sword!”

Tai Yi Cinemas: “...”

Qi Cheng Cinemas: “...”

Ji Zhou Cinemas: “...”

Zhang Lun: “...”

Zhang Lun was so livid that he grabbed onto his chest in pain. How did he offend Han Zhuoli?

He didn’t, right!

Speaking about offending, Attack Force offended him even more, right!

After all, Red Tiger was produced by Han Corporation and Bourbotte kept trashing Red Tiger.

Even if Han Zhuoli wanted to step in and stab someone, go and stab Bourbotte instead!

“Hahahaha, Director Zhang, if it were me, I would ask to stop screening Fighting Hero on my own accord, lest it becomes more embarrassing the longer you drag it on.”

Being humiliated, Zhang Lun’s anger and fury was justified.

Meanwhile Bourbotte was going crazy too upon seeing Red Tiger flaunt 7 billion collection at the box office through posters and stickers.

As for Love Relationship, and the two animated films, Little Lamb Run Quickly and Little Lamb Run Quickly, they too had started showing off their box office.

Love Relationship’s official Weibo account: “Thank you everyone for your support. Love Relationship’s box office continues to increase and even surpassed the popular movie Attack Force. This is the pride of our locally-produced films! Our locally-produced movies are blooming!”

Little Lamb Run Quickly official Weibo account: “Congratulations to Love Relationship and Little God of Fortune for their amazing box office. Little Lamb Run Quickly’s box office has also bravely attacked and suppressed Attack Force. We joyfully celebrate this!”

Chapter 654: Why Don’t We Settle It Today

Little God of Fortune official Weibo account: "Thank you, Little Lamb Run Quickly. Little God of Fortune's box office surpassed Attack Force. Animated films will shine too!"

Bourbotte: "..."

Shine my a*s!

Having achieved such a high box office collection, didn't they know anything about it at all?

On the other hand, Lu Man and Han Zhouli couldn't care about it anymore.

Han Zhouli was busy discussing about his and Lu Man's impending engagement with Xia Qingwei.

Han Zhouli's wanted to bring Xia Qingwei to the old mansion tomorrow, on Sunday, and have the two families sit down and discuss it properly.

Therefore, Han Zhouli stayed back at Lu Man's home.

It seemed like ever since they moved, Han Zhouli had been spending more time staying over at her place.

He had even started bringing more and more clothes over to leave there.

On Sunday, Han Zhouli drove Xia Qingwei and Lu Man together to the old mansion.

Regarding the engagement, everyone in the Han family respected Xia Qingwei's opinions and had already decided to give priority to Xia Qingwei and Lu Man.

Even Xia Qingwei was modest and said humbly, "I don't have any requests. I'm leaving it all to Lu Man."

Old Mrs Han nodded in agreement. "That's true! After all, Zhouli and Man Man are the ones getting engaged, we will still have to listen to what those two lovebirds think."

"Man Man, what do you think?" Shen Nuo asked Lu Man.

Even Han Zhouli looked towards Lu Man. The whole family had clearly planned to listen to her.

This made Lu Man a little stressed.

"This..." Lu Man hesitated for a moment.

"Don't be stressed, just say what you're thinking, it's fine." Old Mrs Han supported her.

If she wanted it to be grand, it shall be grand. If she wanted it to be a small affair, it shall be small.

If Lu Man wanted it to be grand, the Han family could make it as grand as she wanted.

Seeing Lu Man hesitate, Old Mrs Han thought that Lu Man wanted to make it a grand event but felt apprehensive and apologetic to ask for it, afraid that they would be against it and judge her.

"Actually, I was thinking that we don't have to make it a huge ceremony. Let's just all have a small meal followed by the engagement." Lu Man didn't want it to be too grand, she didn't think that there was any point in it. "Anyway, this is just a matter between our two families."

Old Mr Han nodded, satisfied. She wasn't conceited, extravagant, and was instead a low-profile person. That was good!

"Sure," Old Mrs Han said blissfully, "but the wedding has to be grand."

"I'll listen to you," Lu Man said humbly, with a smile on her face.

Lu Man then turned to look at Han Zhuoli. "Will that be alright?"

She didn't forget to ask for this man's opinion too.

Her soft and meek demeanor sneaked its way straight into Han Zhuoli's heart. Towards others, Lu Man was still a fierce vixen who would bite back if provoked, but in front of him, she would always behave like a young, bashful girl.

In front of him, she didn't have to put her guard up and be strong. She would just be like any other young girl, relying on her boyfriend. Her temper and personality would always soften when she was with him.

He liked watching her beat up others, but he also liked her soft, meek behaviour where she tenderly looked up to him for his care and protection.

His palm couldn't help but itch and he lovingly ruffled her hair twice. "I'll listen to you."

Immediately, Old Mrs Han started feeling a little anxious. "Gosh, since it won't be a grand affair, why don't we settle it today?"

Old Mr Han tugged at her a little. "Why are you so restless? Even if it's not going to be a grand affair, an engagement is still a major event. We should set a day aside and although not grand, we should make it exciting and enjoyable."

It looked like Old Mrs Han forgot that Lu Man's mother was still here.

Today, she was here to discuss the engagement, yet to just get them engaged immediately after saying it was like treating it as child's play, it would somehow make her feel as if their Han family wasn't taking it seriously.

Old Mrs Han did feel that she was too excited and overlooked that fact. Thus, when Old Mr Han chided her, she hurriedly explained to Xia Qingwei. "In-law, please don't misunderstand. I was just too happy and felt that it's so rare for everyone to be present, so I was too careless."

Chapter 655: Engagement

Not taking it to heart, Xia Qingwei just laughed it off and said, "It's alright. I think that your suggestion is pretty good too. It's rare for everyone to be there and also we aren't going to make it a big affair, so honestly it will be the same no matter when they get engaged. Man Man, what do you think?"

By now, Lu Man was mentally prepared to be engaged, but she didn't expect to be engaged today and was honestly a little astounded.

Even though she was seated, she felt like she was floating in the clouds, finding all this surreal.

Just like this... they are really getting engaged?

It wasn't like she did not want to get engaged right now since sooner or later they would get engaged, so it really did not matter whether it was today or not. After all, she was in love with Han Zhouli and would marry him anyway.

However, it was just that today she had come here with the intention of fixing the date of the engagement, but suddenly it turned out that they were getting engaged today, so this really left her dumbstruck.

Lu Man still nodded her head, dazed and confused. "That's ok."

She still felt like she was completely floating in the air. She felt dizzy and confused. She couldn't even hear what the others were saying.

Old Mrs Han asked Han Zhuoli, "Have you prepared the engagement ring?"

"Not yet..." Han Zhuoli suddenly felt that he was wrong, he really wasn't well-prepared.

Old Mrs Han hurriedly chased him. "Then why aren't you rushing off to buy it now!"

Her anxious look was as if she was genuinely afraid that her granddaughter-in-law would regret it and run away.

"This child, how could he be so careless? Since he already knew that would get engaged soon, how could he wait till the end to buy the ring? Does he even want to marry his fiancée!" Old Mrs Han almost lashed out at him.

"..." Han Zhuoli wondered whether Old Mrs Han was helping him out or actually making it worse for him.

What if Lu Man heard it and really thought that he didn't regard her with importance and became angry?

Han Zhuoli carefully sneaked a glance at Lu Man. Seeing that she was still grinning and didn't seem angry, he was reassured.

"I was planning on bringing Man Man along to choose it together," Han Zhuoli explained.

Honestly, the thought of getting an engagement ring never crossed Lu Man's mind. For her, as long as she got engaged it was all fine, as to whether she had a ring on her finger or not it didn't matter. After all, it wasn't a wedding ring anyway.

However, clearly Old Mrs Han highly regarded this matter and hurriedly urged Han Zhuoli. "Then hurry up and go buy it now."

Thus, Han Zhuoli brought Lu Man along to pick the ring. In the meantime, Old Mrs Han got Shen Nuo to socialize and keep Xia Qingwei company as she went to call Han Dongping.

In the past, it was all right if she did not call Han Dongping over, at least he would not be rude to Xia Qingwei and Lu Man.

However, engagement was a big matter, so she had to give invite him over.

In the future, they would all be a family. So they couldn't possibly avoid each other forever, right?

It was fine if they couldn't stand each other since they just had to see each other once every year during the holidays.

Hence, Old Mrs Han returned to her bedroom and called Han Zhuofeng first.

Old Mrs Han really felt that Han Zhuofeng was much more understanding and responsible than his father.

"Xiao Feng, hurry up and come home. Come over right now," Old Mrs Han said.

It sounded rather noisy in the background from Han Zhuofeng's side. "Grandma, what's the matter? Is it very urgent? I'm currently in the middle of a shoot."

"It is urgent. It is a big matter. Hurry up, stop your work and come back." Old Mrs Han urged him anxiously.

"What's the matter?" Han Zhuofeng asked worriedly.

"Zhuoli and Man Man are getting engaged today."

"Today?" Han Zhuofeng was stunned. "Aren't you supposed to be discussing the date of the engagement today?"

"Man Man didn't want it to be extravagant and just wanted family members to enjoy a meal followed by their engagement. It just so happens that the in-law is here today too, so we might as well just have it today," Old Mrs Han explained.

Han Zhuofeng broke into a sweat. "Grandma, you sure are bold. The in-laws are fine with it?"

"Uh." Old Mrs Han said awkwardly, "I was too careless and didn't think through it carefully. Thankfully, Xiao Xia is not a petty person either and so we decided to have the engagement today. Hurry up and come back."

"All right." Han Zhuofeng hung up the phone and informed everyone that they will be calling it a day now.

Chapter 656: Having His Wife Manage His Finances

Old Mrs Han then gave a call to Han Dongping. "Where are you now?"

"I'm discussing business with someone at the golf course." Han Dongping explained. "Mom, what's the matter?"

"Oh you're discussing work." Old Mrs Han contemplated for a moment. Since he was busy, it would be good to not have him over and cause trouble. "Then just go ahead, I won't disturb you from your work. I'll call your wife instead."

After hanging up the phone, Old Mrs Han called Han Dongping's wife, Lin Liye, asking her to come back for a meal.

Lin Liye didn't ask why and simply agreed, thus Old Mrs Han was rather happy. If Lin Liye found out about it in advance and informed Han Dongping, she couldn't guarantee that Han Dongping wouldn't come over and create a scene.

Meanwhile, Han Zhuoli brought Lu Man to a jewelry boutique shop and Han Zhuoli looked at the female rings while Lu Man looked at the male rings.

"Why are you looking at the men rings?" Han Zhuoli pulled her over.

"I want to buy one for you too." Lu Man took his hand in hers, and admired his well-defined and beautiful fingers. "If your fingers are empty, I will be worried too."

Not only Han Zhuoli, even the staff laughed.

"Sure." Han Zhuoli poked her lightly on the nose. "I only know about women wearing engagement rings. This is my first time hearing that a man has to wear it too."

"Not only am I going to make you wear it but I am also going to buy it for you." Lu Man held onto his hand, said earnestly, "You are buying a ring for me, so I'll buy one for you too."

In this shop, even if it was a couple ring, it could also be sold individually.

Apart from the gifts he had gotten from elders when he was a child, since he grew up, this was the first time somebody wanted to buy him a gift, moreover, it was his girlfriend, his soon-to-be fiancée.

An indescribable warmth filled Han Zhuoli's heart and his heart brimmed with happiness.

"Sure." The corner of Han Zhuoli's lips curved into a warm smile.

Right now, he wasn't worried that Lu Man would be spending too much money since with Red Tiger, Lu Man was about to become pretty rich.

Moreover, although the two of them decided to pick a couple ring, Lu Man didn't want the ring to be too high profile, it was alright if it didn't have any diamonds, it would be fine as long as it looked good on him.

However, for this jewelry brand, even if it was a tiny little diamond, it was still pretty expensive. Be it the diamonds or colored jewels, all of them were selected carefully and made using the highest quality of materials.

Choosing around, Lu Man decided on one ring where the diamond was small and delicate with a thin ring band. It looked delicate yet exquisite. It wouldn't be too glaring or shiny at first glance, but would give off an exquisite feel.

Moreover, one couldn't tell that it belonged to this luxury jewellery brand, and they might even think that it was a normal engagement ring which wasn't that expensive.

The male version was even more simple. It was just a ring band. On the ring, a simple yet very iconic design was engraved.

Lu Man used her credit card to buy the ring for Han Zhuoli and when Han Zhuoli took out his wallet and was about to take out his credit card, Lu Man said, "Pass me your wallet for a moment."

And Han Zhuoli readily passed it to her without another word.

This feeling of having his wife manage his finances was really satisfying.

Yet who knew that after using his card, Lu Man would take out his identity card instead.

"What's the matter?" Han Zhuoli asked her curiously.

"I'm remembering your birthday." Lu Man placed his identity card back in. "Turns out that your birthday is next month. If I hadn't seen it, I wouldn't even know. Did you plan not to tell me at all?"

Seeing her all worked up, Han Zhuoli took the packaged rings over from the staff and kissed Lu Man on the lips.

It was just a quick and short kiss, yet this made Lu Man's heart skip a beat and she quickly covered her mouth.

Displaying his affection in front of so many staff members, wouldn't that be a little bad.

"I've already pre-ordered my birthday present long ago," Han Zhuoli said as he laughed deeply.

Chapter 657: The Best Birthday Present

Lu Man blinked in confusion. He even prepared his own birthday present?

Seeing her dazed and confused look, Han Zhuoli found it too adorable. Unable to hold back, he kissed her again.

They already had one round of public display of affection for the staff members.

Yet for them it was adorable to see a handsome man with a beautiful lady. Moreover, their public display of affection wasn't a sore eye to them.

Moreover, these two people were even worthy of the words "Eternal Beauty".

However, Han Zhuoli's sudden kiss made everyone cover their eyes immediately.

Having a handsome man publicly display his affection made them feel pretty jealous too!

They were so jealous of his girlfriend!

"You getting engaged to me and becoming my fiancée is the best birthday present for me." Han Zhuoli grinned, his eyes shining brightly.

The corner of Lu Man's mouth curled up in amusement. When did this man learn to be so romantic?

His words touched the depths of her heart.

The hearts of the staff who were watching their interaction broke in disappointment.

Why are all the great men in this world always someone else's boyfriend?

"But right now, I'm already your fiancée, so it doesn't count as a present anymore. Your birthday still has to be celebrated grandly," Lu Man said with a warm, affectionate smile on her face.

Thus, Han Zhuoli was rather looking forward for it now instead. Curious, he asked, "How do you plan to celebrate it for me?"

"I don't know. Didn't I just find out about your birthday?" Lu Man was smiling rather slyly.

This made Han Zhuoli suspect whether she had already planned it long ago.

Suddenly, Han Zhuoli opened the gift-wrapped ring package and put the ring onto Lu Man's finger.

Seeing Lu Man's slender and fair finger wearing the engagement ring, Han Zhuoli felt blissful and elated. "It would be even better if you wore it on your fourth finger."

Making it a wedding ring .

Shop staff: "..."

When would he be done with his public displays of affection?

Lu Man also took out the other ring and put it on for Han Zhuoli. "In the future, if any woman tried to get close to you, remember to show them your ring first."

Han Zhuoli couldn't help but burst out in laughter. If only the place they were at was not inappropriate, he would have really carried Lu Man up and kissed her passionately.

He then left the jewelry shop together with Lu Man. Although Han Zhuoli strode quickly with his long legs, he still paid attention to Lu Man's place, in case she was struggling to keep up.

Finally relieved, the female staff patted her chest. "They finally left, if they stayed any longer I might even think about breaking up with my boyfriend."

How did this young lady find such an amazing boyfriend?

The moment Han Zhuoli got into the car with Lu Man, he couldn't help but grab Lu Man's hand over and look at the ring, feeling over the moon.

He brought her hand to his lips and kissed the ring as well as her finger.

Even Lu Man felt a fuzzy feeling in her heart, finding it an altogether new experience.

In her past life, she was single until her death, she had never experienced the sweet feeling of being pampered and loved by someone, let alone getting engaged or even getting married.

But in this life, she was being so loved and spoiled by Han Zhuoli. After getting together with him, she had never gotten bullied once and he protected her so well.

This was the first time she found out that a man could actually pamper a woman so much. She was worried that she would be overly pampered by him one day.

The current confident, domineering Lu Man was only because of Han Zhuoli.

She didn't have to worry about anything anymore.

Moreover, now, she was even getting engaged to Han Zhuoli.

Even if they had yet to get married, she has already considered herself as Han Zhuoli's wife.

Wearing the couple rings, the two of them entwined their fingers and held on tightly.

This feeling was really warm and amazing, indescribable!

Interlacing their fingers, Lu Man subconsciously tightened her hold, genuinely afraid that he would leave her or what not.

In her past life, she was betrayed by He Zhengbai but she only felt anger and not sadness. She even accepted the reality pretty quickly and got back on her feet again.

However, right now, even before anything were to happen, even if someone just told her that one day she would be separated from Han Zhuoli, she would undergo severe heart break to the point where she wouldn't be able to even breathe.

Chapter 658: I Don't Dare to Think About a Life Without You

"What's wrong?" Sensing the change in her emotions, Han Zhuoli tightened his grip around her hand and pulled her over into an embrace.

Lu Man shook her head and suddenly wrapped her arms around his neck tightly, burying her face in the crook of his neck. "It's nothing, I just really like you so much to the point where I can't live without you. I really didn't think that it would turn out like this. It really scared me."

This sudden confession by this little girl made hit his heart fiercely.

Who knew that her thoughts would leave her feeling so scared.

Perhaps she didn't think that she would like him so much?

Han Zhuoli guffawed and squeezed Lu Man into his embrace even tighter. Turning his head, he imprinted a burning kiss near her eye.

"Is it that you remembered the moment when you first agreed to start dating me you yourself never expected a day like this?" Han Zhuoli asked, holding back his laugh.

Yet who knew that Lu Man would honestly admit it. "Mm."

Her honesty left Han Zhuoli stunned for a moment but the very next moment, he grabbed this little girl's butt and smacked it a little. "All I did was ask but you really admitted it?"

Lu Man laughed softly. "Back then I thought that I would just try it out with you, but I firmly believed that I shouldn't give you all of my heart as it would be too dangerous to put all my heart out for you. After all, I had such bad experiences in my life."

"However, who could guarantee something like this? Honestly, my heart has long since been given to you, and I couldn't take back a little bit of it anymore. Since a long time ago, it no longer belonged to me, I completely couldn't control it. In fact, I don't even dare to think about a life without you."

"Then don't think about it." Han Zhuoli heard Lu Man's confession and couldn't hold back his happiness. The pounding in his chest became more and more obvious, and a joyful laugh croaked out of his throat. "Because I will always be by your side."

He entwined his fingers with Lu Man's and gently rubbed his thumb over her ring as he lowered his head and pecked her cheeks.

His burning yet soft lips traced the path from the corner of her eye to her lips, slowly kissed away all the uneasiness in her heart.

Occasionally sucking on it gently, he deepened their kiss. Han Zhuoli's heart was overwhelmed with happiness.

This little girl was his fiancée from now onwards.

Even when Lu Man buried her face in his embrace, he still couldn't help but suck on her earlobe gently.

When the atmosphere in the car started getting steamier, Han Zhuoli's suddenly rang, breaking the moment.

Picking it up, he saw that it was a call from Old Han mansion.

"It's definitely Old Mrs Han calling to hurry us up." Han Zhuoli broke into a smile and picked up the phone.

"Zhuoli, are you two done buying the rings?" As expected, it was Old Mrs Han calling to tell them to hurry up.

"We're done. We're just about to head back," Han Zhuoli said.

After he hung up the phone, he reluctantly let Lu Man sit in her seat. After starting the car, he couldn't help but hold onto Lu Man's hand again.

He was precisely holding onto Lu Man's left hand and his thumb frequently rubbed against the ring she was wearing on her middle finger.

Lu Man couldn't help but wonder if the person who invented the car back then had considered such a situation before?

The ladies would wear their wedding rings on their left hands and when the men drove the car on the left, they would be able to hold onto the lady's left hand.

Suddenly, Han Zhuoli pulled Lu Man's hand over and placed it on his lap, holding onto it tightly.

It was rather tiring to keep her hand stretched out all along but Lu Man was reluctant to pull back either. Finally, when they returned to Old Han mansion. Han Zhuoli still had his fingers entwined with Lu Man's making Old Mrs Han even more happy.

"You bought it? Let me take a look," Old Mrs Han said, grinning ear to ear.

"We are already wearing it." Han Zhuoli lifted Lu Man's hand up. "Look."

Chapter 659: Group Mocking

"Good good good." Old Mrs Han was grinning widely ear-to-ear.

Brimming with pride, Han Zhuoli also showed his hand, flaunting his ring. "Man Man even bought one for me. It's a couple ring."

"Oh my gosh, why did you make Man Man spend her money!" Old Mrs Han was worried and a bit sad.

Her heart didn't ache when Han Zhuoli spent his money, but when Lu Man did, it hurt her heart instead.

"Grandma, I can still afford it now, there's no need to feel sad." Lu Man hurriedly explained.

"That's right Grandma, she's is a rich lady now," Han Zhuofeng teased and explained, " Red Tiger is just about to break the 8 billion mark at the box office. From the looks of it now, as long as Attack Force doesn't stop screening, the audience will continue to support our local movies. Moreover, no matter how high Red Tiger's box office collection is, Lu Man would still get a share of it."

Old Mrs Han also remembered this matter. Back then, Lu Man had helped them out in dire times, thus to express his gratitude Ji Cheng had offered to give her a share of the profits.

In this case, Lu Man really could get a pretty decent share.

"It could really hit 8 billion? That much?" Xia Qingwei was rather unsure.

"It can. It's already at 7.6 billion today, it should probably hit 8 billion the day after tomorrow." Han Zhuofeng explained. "10 billion is impossible, but if they want to make a run for 9 billion, it's still rather possible."

"Oh my gosh, now that I mentioned it, let me take a look at the box office for Attack Force today." Han Zhuofeng took out his cell phone and opened the Pineapple Box Office app to check.

The next moment, he broke out into a big smile.

"How's it? How much is it? How much is Attack Force's box office?" Old Mrs Han asked anxiously.

"Hehe." Han Zhuofeng chuckled. "It is really such a huge flop. Attack Force still had a box office over about 160 million yesterday, but today they only had a box office collection of 3 million. Their box office today could probably only hit 10 million. It's even bigger of a flop than when Fighting Hero first aired."

Hearing that, Lu Man broke into a smile too.

Today, she hadn't bothered checking and didn't even opened the WeChat Red Tiger group.

However, now that she saw that Attack Force was such a flop, she could rest assured.

She didn't know that right now, majority of the netizens had the same opinion too.

There were many enthusiastic and supportive netizens who would update Attack Force's real-time box office regularly.

Also, many netizens had the same perspective as Lu Man. "Seeing that Attack Force is such a flop now, I can stop worrying now too."

Those who were dissing on Red Tiger, berating Lu Man, didn't dare to even come out of hiding and stayed quiet.

However, the netizens and several actors as well as the fans of Red Tiger didn't want to let them off so easily and thus left a comment on their Weibo page.

"What's Director Zhang feeling right now?"

"What's Director Lee feeling right now?"

"Come out Director Wang."

"Zhang Xiaoying, you are lucky to be Lu Man's classmate, you should really learn from her."

There were many other people in the industry who received similar comments on their page.

Just then, the doorbell of the Old Han mansion rang again.

Auntie He went to take a look and opened the door, she then turned around and informed Old Mrs Han and others. "Eldest Madam is here."

With a broad smile on her face, Lin Liye stepped in and greeted the two elders first. Seeing that Han Zhuofeng was there too, she smiled and said, "How come you had the time to come over here today too?"

"I do come here quite often," Han Zhuofeng said.

When Lin Liye saw Xia Qingwei and Lu Man who were strangers to her, she froze for a moment. "These two are—"

The next moment, Xia Qingwei and Lu Man stood up politely and Old Mrs Han introduced them happily. "These are our in-laws. I called you over today because Zhuoli and Man Man are getting engaged.

"Huh?" Lin Liye was a little baffled.

Chapter 660: No Need to Tell Him

What? Who were they?

She didn't even hear about Han Zhuoli dating anyone, let alone get engaged to someone.

"This is Man Man, Zhuoli's girlfriend." Old Mrs. Han introduced them.

“You look a little familiar.” Lin Liye thought for a moment. “Are you Lu Man? The one from Red Tiger?”

“Yes.” Lu Man nodded politely.

Lin Liye immediately broke into a smile. “I saw the news on the Internet recently, it really resolved my anger! We can’t let those foreigners mock us and still be so smug. Since they are in our turf, they have to respect us and follow our rules.”

Pleased, Old Mrs. Han nodded with satisfaction at Lin Liye’s reaction. Her daughter-in-law was much more sensible than Han Dongping.

Han Dongping was foolish! However, he finally did one right thing, which was to marry Lin Liye.

As for Lin Liye, she knew that Han Dongping wanted to help Dai Yiran get close to Han Zhouli.

However, she really couldn’t like that girl Dai Yiran.

She was completely dependent on her family and yet she was smug and haughty, feeling that she was the most impressive girl out there in the world.

Thus, Lin Liye really found Dai Yiran to be a very petty person.

How could someone like her marry into the Han family!

Even if Han Zhuoli really agreed to it, the two elders definitely won’t give their blessing either.

However, Han Dongping was adamant on getting on Han Rongcheng’s good side, and thought that he could actually involve himself in Han Zhuoli’s private matters.

Even though Lin Liye was unhappy about it, she also didn’t want to get into a conflict with her husband for Han Zhuoli and thus decided not to say anything about it, leaving Han Dongping to torment himself over it.

If he could really set up Han Zhuoli and Dai Yiran, then that would be good for Han Dongping too.

But even if he couldn’t, it would also help Han Dongping give up on it sooner and stop entertaining Dai Yiran all day long.

Dai Yiran had visited their place a couple of times before, annoying Lin Liye greatly. No matter what, Lin Liye really couldn’t take a liking to her at all.

Therefore, Lin Liye had a rather good attitude towards Xia Qingwei and Lu Man right now.

“Mom, is Dongping still not here yet?” Lin Liye asked.

“He is busy discussing some business with a client so I didn’t ask him to come over.” Old Mrs. Han explained briefly.

However, Lin Liye instantly got the meaning behind her words. Old Mrs. Han was also worried that Han Dongping would be upset and would keep frowning if he was here, affecting Han Zhuoli’s engagement.

Thus, she asked softly, “Then, do I have to tell him about it when I get back?”

Old Mrs. Han looked at Lin Liye appreciatively and her eyes shining with happiness.

Her eldest son might be foolish, but thankfully her eldest daughter-in-law was still pretty intelligent.

“If he asks you about it, and asks you why you came here today, you can tell him straight away. But if he doesn’t ask, there’s no need to tell him either, in case something goes awry,” Old Mrs. Han replied softly.

Lin Liye nodded, indicating that she had understood.

After seeing Lin Liye nod in agreement, Old Mrs. Han shifted her gaze at Han Zhuofeng who was munching on a watermelon and sighed in relief. Thankfully, this mother and son are still pretty good.

“Oh right, Mom, this engagement was so rushed and hasty, have you prepared the dowry? How about the three gold items 1 ? Even if it’s not much money, it is still part of the customs.” Lin Liye reminded her.

Old Mrs. Han patted her head. “Gosh, I really forgot about this matter.”

Old Mrs. Han hurriedly pulled Shen Nuo over. “Why didn’t you think about this?”

Shen Nuo: “...”

She didn’t have any experience getting a daughter-in-law either.

Lin Liye smiled and said politely, “Sister-in-law doesn’t have any experience. I only knew about this because Zhuofeng still has an older brother Zhuoling. He got married two years ago, so I have experience.”

“Then when you helped Zhuoling with his engagement, how much was the dowry and engagement gifts?” Shen Nuo asked curiously.

“That situation was different then. Zhuoling’s marriage was a business marriage, we just gave them a cheque. But for Lu Man... wouldn’t it be too inappropriate to give her a cheque?” Lin Liye said. She then hesitated for a moment before asking, “But if you knew how much the gift for Zhuoling’s engagement was, and you happened to give her less than it, would Lu Man feel that it is unfair?”
