Chapter 661: They Really Found the Right In-Laws

"She definitely won't," Shen Nuo said with confidence. "Lu Man doesn't care about such stuff. The in-laws aren't like that kind of people either."

"That's right, even if we gave them more, they might not even accept it," Old Mrs. Han said.

"Then why don't we just prepare some engagement gifts as of now and discuss it with the in-laws later," Shen Nuo said.

"Sure, I have three gold items here with me already," Old Mrs. Han said joyfully.

"Mom, perhaps it won't be too appropriate to gift something useful." Lin Liye reminded her quietly.

"What are you saying?" Old Mrs. Han said, "These are all new. In the past, before Zhuoli even got to know Lu Man, he didn't even have a girlfriend. I was so anxious that I already bought the three gold items and kept them at home, hoping that maybe it would kickstart his romantic life? Moreover, once Zhuoli were to get engaged, I could gift it too."

Suddenly, Lin Liye and Shen Nuo's faces both froze for a little. Old Mrs. Han was so anxious for Han Zhouli that she had already bought the three gold items a long time long ago.

The three gold items were a gold necklace, gold earrings and gold bracelet. Whether or not it fit the current beauty and fashion trends, they still had to be prepared, it was a part of the customs.

When Old Mrs. Han returned, she was carrying three exquisite boxes in her hands.

"Man Man." Old Mrs. Han sat next to Lu Man. "These are the three gold items for your engagement. Take a look at them, tell me if you like them."

Thus, Lu Man gleefully opened them and took a look. But since Old Mrs. Han had bought it years ago, it wasn't trendy like the current fashion.

However, Old Mrs. Han had bought really extravagant items. Moreover, no matter how trendy the gold jewelry became, it would still be about the same type of design.

The earrings and necklace were exquisite and beautiful, and the pair of dragon and phoenix bracelet was thick and wide, it looked really sturdy and grand.

Lu Man grinned as she accepted it, and naturally told Old Mrs. Han that she liked the gifts.

This left Old Mrs. Han brimming with pride and happiness. The next moment, she called Han Xijin and Shen Nuo over. "Let's discuss the matter about the engagement betrothal gift."

Xia Qingwei hurriedly waved her hand. "Old Madam, since Lu Man and Xiao Han are about to get engaged, we will soon be a family, let's not be so polite with each other. I know that you want to follow tradition, but we really don't have to be so particular about this. Zhuoli has really helped us a lot.

Honestly, Man Man could only have all this success today because of Zhuoli's support. We really don't have to use the engagement dowry as a way to measure how much you care for the bride."

Overwhelmed with emotions, Xia Qingwei almost teared up and said, "Since the first time you saw Man Man, all of you have treated her as family and cared and loved her. Man Man had never experienced familial love in the past, but all of you gave that to her. All of that is priceless! By seeing Man Man marry into your family, I can rest assured. In the past, the betrothal gift would represent the wealth of the groom's family, but now times have changed and it's just to tell who can one-up the other. However, I can tell how much Zhuoli and all of you care for Man Man. So the engagement gift is not important at all."

Besides, it was hard to calculate too.

After all, Han family such a grand household. If it were a business marriage, they would already know what to benefit from the other and thus it would be easy to calculate the engagement gift.

However, right now, if the Han family gave a lot, she really couldn't accept it. What would she do with the few millions or tens of millions of engagement gift?

However, if it they were to give lesser, the Han family would also feel bad about it. Moreover, there were still other children in the Han family who were yet to get married. By that time, if they were to give an engagement gift, won't they have to worry about how much to give them?

If they gave more, they would worry that she and Lu Man would feel unhappy about it but if they gave lesser, they would also worry that the other party would be unhappy too.

Thus, for the Han family, it was indeed a difficult situation.

But Xia Qingwei had taken all of this into consideration.

Even though she didn't say it directly, who could not get her meaning?

They all clearly understood what Xia Qingwei was hinting at.

This made the two elders even happier. They really found the right in-laws!

Therefore, the matter about the betrothal gift was left aside.

Chapter 662: Wang Qianyun's Arrival

Even Han Zhuoli raised his chin slightly and said proudly, "Everything that is mine belongs to Man Man. After we get married, I will leave let Man Man manage my finances."

Han Xijin: "..."

Shen Nuo: "..."

Young brat, he hadn't even gotten married yet, still he was trying to appease his wife so much.

The engagement was decided to be held at the banquet hall in the mansion and even though they didn't go to a hotel or restaurant, Old Mrs. Han still got a chef to come over and Auntie Sun just helped out a little.

Once the engagement banquet was prepared, everyone sat down and started having their meal.

Yet, before they could sit for long, the doorbell rang.

Thus, Auntie Sun hurried over to take a look. Yet when she switched on the intercom, she saw an unknown young lady who appeared on the screen who looked rather pretty.

"May I know who you are?" Auntie Sun asked curiously.

"Hello, I am Wang Qianyun, a friend of Big Brother Han. Uncle Han knows me too. He is good friends with my uncle. I'm here because my uncle told me that I pay a visit," Wang Qianyun said to the intercom.

Although she saw that the lady was rather beautiful and young, Auntie Sun still felt that something was amiss.

Moreover, she didn't know whether she was overthinking it, but she somehow felt like Wang Qianyun's tone was a little off.

Even though there wasn't anything wrong with what she said, and she seemed rather polite, why did her tone sound a little prideful?

Moreover, Han Zhuoli was getting engaged to Lu Man today, so it was also a little inconvenient to have a visitor today.

By now, Wang Qianyun started to get impatient. She had already explained the reason for her visit visiting, so why wasn't she allowed in yet?

"I'm sorry, I came here on my own accord boldly. It was honestly because my uncle only told me about the address but didn't give me a way to contact them," Wang Qianyun explained, hiding back her annoyance.

"May I know who your uncle is?" Auntie Sun asked again.

Wang Qianyun pursed her lips. What was going on inside that couldn't be seen by her? Why was she still asking her so many questions?

Why was Wang Qianyun not considering that not just anybody would directly be allowed to enter the Old Han mansion?

There were plenty of people who wanted to meet the two elders, and their mansion's address wasn't a huge secret either. If someone put in the effort to search, they would definitely find out about it.

However, was it that if someone came, the two elders had to meet them?

Wang Qianyun was really thinking too highly of herself!

“Wang Juhuai.” Wang Qianyun said impatiently, “My uncle is Wang Juhuai. If you don’t know about it, you can feel free to ask Old Master and Old Madam, or Uncle Han.”

“Please hold on.” Since Wang Qianyun had said so much, Auntie Sun also didn’t dare to just willfully block her out.

She turned around, going over to ask. After taking a couple of steps, she suddenly realized that something was wrong.

Hearing from what Wang Qianyun said, why did it seem like she knew that Han Xijin was here too?

She clearly came prepared.

Thus, Auntie Sun went to the dining room and immediately informed them. “Old Master, Old Madam, there is someone out there who claims that she is the niece of Wang Juhuai. Her name is Wang Qianyun. She even said that Wang Juhuai and Second Sir are good friends.”

“Wang Qianyun?” Han Xijin was a little surprised. “I do know her.”

“What’s the matter? Why didn’t she even inform us before coming over to visit? She didn’t even ask if we would be at home or if we were busy. It’s really rude of her to just come here all of a sudden.” Old Mrs. Han pursed her lips in displeasure and grumbled, “Besides, it’s Zhuoli and Man Man’s engagement today, it’s also inconvenient for us to greet any guests. Just tell her the truth.”

“Yes.” Auntie Sun hesitated for a while but still decided to speak her mind. “As I wasn’t sure that she really knew people in the family, I thoroughly asked her some questions. She said her uncle was Wang Juhuai, and if I didn’t believe it, I could ask the elders or Second Sir. I found it a little weird. She sounded as if she knew that Second Sir would be here today or similar. Did she find out about this beforehand? I think that she might here with some ulterior motive.”

Chapter 663: Rejected at the Door

Old Master laughed coldly. “All those who came knocking at our door, who didn’t have any ulterior motive? Wang Qianyun, this name sounds familiar. Where did I hear it before?”

“She’s Wang Juhuai’s niece. Back then, before Wang Juhuai migrated to America, he was classmates with Xijin and would often come to our house to play with Xijin.” Old Mrs. Han did remember him. “He is pretty close to Xijin.”

“Right, after that, he followed his family to America. Every time I would go abroad for work, I always paid him a visit. Eventually, when I brought Zhuoli along too, I would also take Zhuoli along to visit him.” Han Xijin frowned and suddenly remembered that every time he was there, Wang Qianyun happened to be there too.

He could clearly tell the motives of Wang Jugu and his family.

However, considering that fact Wang Qianyun was pretty and seemed so sweet and polite, always pestering Han Zhuoli to play with her as if they were like childhood sweethearts, he didn’t bother.

However, if he really developed feelings for her, it was alright if they were childhood sweethearts.

Also, if Han Zhuoli didn't like her, then that was fine too.

Anyway, he would just let nature take its course.

Eventually, of course, Han Zhuoli didn't like her.

When Shen Nuo found out about this ultimately, she was very unhappy and even fought with him about it.

Everyone knew Wang Jugu's motive.

Someone like him who was rushing so much, how could his family be anything good!

Wang Qianyun was a cunning and scheming even at such a young age, thus Shen Nuo even felt repulsed every time she heard about it. Knowing that Han Xijin was just watching from the side coldly, not doing anything to stop it, she would get into a fight with Han Xijin over it.

It was all because Han Xijin who brought Han Zhuoli over to Wang Juhai's house and attracted the attention of Wang Qianyun.

Wang Juhuai was a pretty good person, but that could not be said about his younger brother and his family.

In the end, Han Xijin never dared to bring Han Zhuoli over again.

That was until Han Zhuoli took over Han Corporation and went on business trips to America, helping Han Xijin to visit his old friend Wang Juhuai.

However, by then, Han Zhuoli has already made him unapproachable by others. Wang Qianyun couldn't even pester him even if she wanted to.

After so many years, Shen Nuo had completely forgotten about Wang Qianyun already.

Until the buzz created by Attack Force recently.

Shen Nuo laughed coldly and said to Old Mr. Han, "Didn't you say she sounded familiar? Recently when Attack Force blew up a storm in the industry, not only did Bourbotte look down on our films, but even Wang Qianyun also spoke up and ridiculed our local movies, she even snobbishly said that she was an American and didn't see herself as a Chinese."

Old Mr. Han hated such supercilious people the most. "Hmph, looks like they have really forgotten all of their roots. They thought that because they have spent so much time overseas and changed their nationality, they could change their roots? I was just wondering why her name sounded so familiar, so it turns out it's her. I've followed that news before too."

Old Mr. Han huffed angrily and warned Han Xijin. "Let me tell you, don't you dare bother with such a girl! Putting aside that Zhuoli and Man Man are engaged now, this woman is a devil, even if Zhuoli was single, this woman shouldn't even think about having an inch of a relationship with our family!"

Even Shen Nuo side-eyed Han Xijin. If Han Xijin hadn't taken Han Zhuoli along in the first place, why would Wang Qianyun start pestering him?

Meanwhile, Lu Man stayed silent, not saying a word. She had already planned to deal with Wang Qianyun. However, the past two days she really didn't have the time to bother with her, but tomorrow onwards she definitely had to deal with Wang Qianyun.

The week where she was waiting for Attack Force to premiere, she had already collected quite some material about Wang Qianyun.

In a blink of an eye, having become the common enemy of the entire family, Han Xijin hurriedly pleaded. "I know, I know, I definitely won't give Wang Qianyun the chance."

By the side, when Xia Qingwei heard the name Wang Juhuai, her heart skipped a beat, but instantly calmed down again.

The next moment, Old Mrs. Han ordered Auntie Sun, "Tell Wang Qianyun the truth. Tell her that our family is having an engagement party and it is inconvenient for us to have any guests."

Chapter 664: Please Look After Me for the Rest of My Life

However, if Wang Qianyun still had some self-respect, once she knew that Han Zhuoli was already engaged, she would stop pestering him.

"Yes, sure." Auntie Sun accepted and left.

Returning to the door, she said through the intercom, "Miss Wang, I'm really sorry, you should have informed us before coming rather than directly just coming here straight."

Wang Qianyun pursed her lips. Was she blaming her for coming presumptuously?

"Unfortunately, our Young Master is getting engaged today, so it's honestly quite inconvenient for the two elders to have guests. Why not you find another date and confirm with us in advance whether the two elders are free," Auntie Sun said.

Engaged?

Suddenly, Wang Qianyun had a bad premonition. "Who is getting engaged?"

"Miss Wang, your question is overstepping a little. How is it any of your business who in the Han family is getting engaged?" Auntie Sun had also heard Wang Qianyun's statement during the premiere, claiming that she wasn't a Chinese anymore and was thus extremely furious at her. She no longer had a good attitude towards Wang Qianyun anymore. "But it's fine telling you, anyway. Our Young Master Zhuoli is getting engaged, so today is really inconvenient."

Wang Qianyun couldn't care less about Auntie Sun's tone and hurriedly asked, "Who is he getting engaged to?"

How could Han Zhuoli get engaged so soon?

She previously heard that he had a girlfriend, but back then she thought that he was just finding an excuse to get away from her.

Could it be that he really had a girlfriend?

And was actually getting engaged today!

On the other hand, Auntie Sun pursed her lips coldly. No wonder no one in the family liked Wang Qianyun.

As to who Han Zhuoli was getting engaged to, how did that have anything to do with her?

Thus, Auntie Sun said impolitely, "Miss Wang, I'm afraid you're being rather rude now. Why are you so interested in Han family's family matters. Who he is getting engaged to has nothing to do with you. I'm sorry, to prevent this matter from being revealed in advance, I can't tell you no matter what. So please go back and wait for the Han family to release the news. Please leave."

Auntie Sun hung up the call with the intercom and didn't bother with Wang Qianyun anymore.

On the other hand, Wang Qianyun stood frozen at the doorstep of the old mansion. Even a maid was looking down on her!

Who could say that Han Xijin and Wang Juhuai were good friends? She had come here, but they didn't even let her in!

She came here this time because she knew there was not much hope left with Han Zhuoli.

So she wanted to impress the elders in the Han family instead.

If she gained the favor of the two elders, Han Xijin and his wife, at least she would have more opportunities to visit the Han family, and that way she would have more opportunities to interact with Han Zhuoli.

As long as the elders in the Han family liked her and supported her, Han Zhuoli's girlfriend could be kicked away as far as she wanted.

With the Han family seniors supporting her, she didn't believe that Han Zhuoli wouldn't give in, and she didn't believe that his girlfriend could beat her.

Who knew that the moment the wonderful idea struck her and she finally came here, she wouldn't be allowed in!

So how could Wang Qianyun just admit defeat so easily, she just returned to the car and waited there.

Didn't she say that the engagement was today?

Then they would come out sooner or later. She really wanted to see exactly how amazing this girlfriend of Han Zhuoli was!

That Han Zhuoli would not even look at her at all!

With just a meal, Lu Man had turned into Han Zhuoli's fiancée.

Old Mrs. Han grinned ear to ear, brimming with happiness. She was already wishfully dreaming about Lu Man giving birth to little great-grandchildren for her to play with.

One, two, three, four...

The house would be filled with little kids crawling and roaming around.

Suddenly, Han Zhuoli suddenly grabbed Lu Man's hand and took out his phone, taking a few photos of her hand.

Unfortunately, Han Zhuoli's photography skills were really not good, thus the pictures turned out to be blurry even though it was just focusing on her fingers.

However, Han Zhuoli didn't mind his own bad photography skills and uploaded the blurry picture where even the brand the ring could not be guessed and just posted it on Weibo.

Han Zhuoli: "Finally Engaged! Dear, please look after me for the rest of my life."

Chapter 665: Skillful Swordmaster

Along with that statement, he attached a very blurry photo.

Within a second, all the netizens instantly blew up with excitement.

You have to know, Han Zhuoli had a lot of fans, he wasn't any lesser than any currently popular young "fresh meat".

He was handsome, cool and domineering, a completely accurate depiction of the arrogant, tsundere CEO in young girls' minds.

He had tons and tons of wife fans 1.

Usually, he didn't even post a single Weibo post for an entire year. But whenever he would post one, he would attract the attention of all his wife fans who would call him "husband" in the Weibo comment section.

When this post was finally out, people were crying and bawling in the comment section.

"Oh god, my husband usually won't even post on Weibo for an entire year. This year, he finally posted something and in just a few days, he even posted another one, yet who knew that it would be so heartbreaking the moment he posted it."

"Husband, how could you get engaged? Do you not want me anymore?"

"Ah ah ah ah, exactly who managed to conquer my male god? I envy you, I am jealous of you, but I hate you!"

"Hold on, since when did he have a girlfriend? He is so good at keeping it a secret! We didn't even know when he got a girlfriend, and suddenly he announced that he is engaged?"

“I have to say, Mr. CEO’s photograph skills are worse than the lowest standard. Look at how blur the photo is. No wonder he never posts any selfies.”

“Since you’re already engaged, you should at least get your girlfriend to improve your photography skills!”

“You must be doing this intentionally, on purpose! You just don’t want other people to clearly see your girlfriend’s hand.”

“Oh god, you don’t even let us see her hand, that is too cool! Tsundere CEO is really so cool, cool cool cool!”

“My male god! Why are you suddenly engaged!”

“I was not prepared at all.”

“Is our male god going to be some skillful swordmaster? In his previous Weibo post, he stabbed Zhang Lun, and now he stabbed us, his wives, he is getting more and more powerful.”

“I really want to know who our male god’s fiancée is. I’m so angry!”

“Did Han Zhuoli’s wife save the universe in her past life?”

“Stop wondering already, it’s actually me. I hate you, didn’t we say not to publicly announce it? Why are you suddenly so high profile about it!”

“I’ve been hiding it for so many years, but it looks like I can’t hide it any longer. I am actually Han Zhuoli’s fiancée.”

“All those who are dreaming, wake up! Stop asking who his fiancée is already. Such a grand household like the Han family would definitely marry someone of the same status for business reasons too. The other party must be a second-generation heiress of some big corporation. Let’s start searching at the rich billionaire list, and see who is still single and looks decent, she could very likely be Han Zhuoli’s fiancée.”

“Wow, you really think very quickly!”

Seeing all these comments, Lu Man broke into a smile. She then turned to look at Han Zhuoli.

Thousands and thousands of wife fans had their hearts broken because of the news of his engagement. The whole internet was blowing up.

So many people were guessing who Han Zhuoli’s girlfriend was, but no one guessed it to be her.

However, when she thought that this man, a man admired by many yet unapproachable to others was her fiancé now, her heart brimmed with happiness.

Han Zhuoli was hers!

Looking at her laughing to herself secretly, Han Zhuoli raised his eyebrows and pulled her hand over, asking in a deep voice, “What are you laughing about?”

“It’s just... I saw all these comments and my ego feels extremely satisfied.” Lu Man smiled so happily that her eyes turned into little crescents.

Even Han Zhuoli broke into a smile. “You actually have an egoistic side?”

If she really did, she would have already announced to the entire world that they were dating.

But he also knew Lu Man’s concern, that if had they announced it, Lu Qiyuan would have tried to cling onto Han family and him.

Even if Lu Qiyuan completely couldn’t get any benefit from it, getting pestered by Lu Qiyuan every day would be nauseating to anyone too.

Footnotes:

Ch 665 Footnote 1

“Wife fans” are a type of fans who consider their idol as their husbands. Other types of fans include “mom fans” or “auntie fans” etc.

Chapter 666: Because You’re Single

Moreover, without the Han family knowing, Lu Qiyuan might very likely use Han family’s name for his personal gains.

Nevermind, if he would create trouble for the Han family, with Lu Qiyuan’s immoral and terrible character, who knew when he would be harmed or taken advantage of by others, and if he had used Han family’s name, the Han family would be implicated too.

With Lu Qiyuan’s shamelessness, even if Lu Man didn’t reach out to him, it wouldn’t be easy for her to get rid of all relations with him.

No contact with him? Getting rid of all relations?

He would not even mind it, he was that shameless!

He knew Lu Man’s concerns.

He wasn’t afraid of Lu Qiyuan troubling him, but he really wanted to cherish Lu Man’s thoughtfulness.

The next moment, Han Zhuoli grabbed Lu Man’s hand and placed it next to his left hand. Just as he was thinking of taking a photograph, he recalled his photography skills and handed the phone over to Lu Man. “You should take it instead.”

Smiling, Lu Man took a photo of both their hands.

Han Zhuoli took the phone back and immediately sent it to the “8864” group chat.

At that time, everyone was busy with their own matters and no one noticed the chat.

Thus, Han Zhuoli took the initiative and tagged Wei Zhiqian. ” @Wei Zhiqian, I’m getting engaged to Man Man.”

After a while, Wei Zhiqian replied, "Congrats, congrats, but why did you @ me only? You should @everyone! Are you dumb?"

Seeing this, Lu Man smiled but didn't say anything. She felt that Han Zhuoli didn't make a mistake, and had done it on purpose.

As expected, Han Zhuoli mocked him. "Because you're single."

Wei Zhiqian: "..."

Why couldn't he just be like any other good friend?

Qi Chengzhi: "Congrats, congrats."

Chu Zhaoyang: "Congratulations."

Qi Chenglin: "Hahaha, congratulations on officially joining our big family!"

Wei Zilin: "Yet another person is no longer single, it's amazing, let's celebrate."

Yan Beicheng: "Even Han Zhuoli, this bachelor for thousands of years, has finally left the singles' club. Old Wei, do your best."

Yan Huaian: "I remember back when Little Zhuo was still single, his ears were always pinched by Old Mrs. Han, or he would get hit with a feather duster. Yet after not long, Little Zhuo is finally not single anymore. Looks like Old Mrs. Han's method is pretty effective."

Wei Zhiqian: "...What are you trying to say???"

He suddenly had a bad feeling about this.

Yu Zi: "What he means is that if you let Old Mrs. Wei do it too, perhaps the next person to leave the singles' club will be you."

Now that Han Zhuoli was no longer single, he felt free and relaxed and even felt some sense of superiority.

So it seemed like when Qi Chengzhi and the others left the singles' club, they also felt this way when they saw all the other bachelors.

Han Zhuoli said nonchalantly, "Perhaps Old Mrs. Han's feather duster is really magical. Now she has taken it out to hit Zhuofeng instead."

Han Zhuofeng: "..."

Was he really his older brother?

Han Zhuoli: "Old Wei, do you want it or not? Let Old Mrs. Han lend her feather dusty to Old Mrs. Wei for a few days and hit it on your brother, you can take some of my luck and fortune."

Wei Zhiqian: "...Shoo shoo shoo shoo shoo!"

Although Han Zhuoli released the news of his engagement on Weibo, he hadn't revealed Lu Man's identity, yet it was enough to create quite a sensation.

Honestly, Han Zhuoli wasn't someone who liked to publicize his private affairs. Unprecedented, this was the first time he publicly announced it on his own accord, but he was really happy about it.

Meanwhile, Lu Man kept looking at his Weibo post over and over again. She didn't want Han Zhuoli to get all excited alone and thus also posted on Weibo.

Lu Man: "From girlfriend to fiancée officially."

She didn't attach any pictures, just a single sentence.

This left Lu Man's fans astounded. "What's the big day today? Why is everyone getting engaged? Is it a very auspicious day in the lunar calendar?"

Chapter 667: Coincidence?

"Ah ah ah, my male god got engaged today too!"

"The above netizen, who is your male god?"

"Of course, it's Han Zhuoli!"

"Oh god, what a coincidence! Lu Man and Han Zhuoli are actually getting engaged on the same day? Can it get any more coincidental!"

"I have a bold idea, could Han Zhuoli's fiancée be Lu Man, ah hahahahaha! I won't lie to you guys, saying it out loud, even I can't believe it."

"Your idea is really bold and wild, but it's impossible. I don't believe it either, it must be a coincidence."

"Congrats Goddess of Fury, Lu Man!"

"It's rare to have someone like Lu Man in the entertainment industry, she's like a breath of fresh air. She didn't even break up with her boyfriend after getting famous and even got engaged to her boyfriend when her career is on the rise."

"Indeed, Lu Man already told us that she had a boyfriend even before she became famous. Now that her career is on the rise, she got engaged to her boyfriend! It's rare to have someone so down-to-earth in the entertainment industry. Other female celebrities are afraid that if others find out that they are dating, it would spoil their career and even think about using the fact that they are single to make certain things more convenient for them. However, Lu Man didn't go down this path and created her own when she entered the industry, relying solely on her works to prove herself."

Not only Lu Man's fans but the usually passive netizens also approved of her.

However, since Lu Man entered the industry, not only did she gain fans, she also gained many competitors.

Moreover, the fans of her competitors weren't friendly or polite.

"Hehe, Lu Man is so shameless! Who knows whether she is really engaged? Han Zhuoli just announced that he was getting engaged, and right after that Lu Man announced that she was engaged too. She is clearly asking for people to misunderstand her relationship with Han Zhuoli. What a joke! As for Han Zhuoli's fiancé, no matter who we guess she might be, she definitely wouldn't be Lu Man. They are two incompatible people from two different worlds. Other than the fact that Lu Man is an artiste under Han Corporation, the two of them look like they won't have any connections at all."

"Hehe, Lu Man has a boyfriend, but she is still lusting and fantasizing over her boss? How brave! If Han Zhuoli knew about it, maybe he would end her career."

"Don't forget what Lu Man real profession is. She is already experienced and skillful at increasing popularity. She clearly saw that news of Han Zhuoli getting engaged blew up a storm on the internet, thus she seized the opportunity to increase her popularity. Wait and watch if you don't believe, she will definitely get up on the trending searches."

"Hehe, she just rides on everyone's popularity, how shameless!"

On the other hand, Lu Man's fans were unhappy. "Our Goddess of Fury, Lu Man still needs to rely on other people for her popularity? Her Red Tiger is so popular right now, all right? She herself is on the top trending searches. Haters stop coming over to show off your small IQ."

"Shut up haters!. She just coincidentally had the same engagement date. What's wrong?"

As for those haters' mocking, Lu Man didn't even bother with it.

After the lunch banquet, Lu Man and Xia Qingwei stayed back at the Old Han mansion to have tea and chat for a while.

At 3 in the afternoon, they got ready to leave.

All this while, Wang Qianyun had been waiting patiently in her car. She was so tired that she was just about to fall asleep.

Finally, Wang Qianyun saw the entrance of the Old Han mansion opening and immediately perked up, staring at the direction of the entrance, not blinking even a single bit.

After a while, she saw Lin Liye and Han Zhuofeng coming out.

Following them, Han Zhuoli was the come out.

Following right behind him, it was actually Lu Man!

There was even an older woman who looked rather similar to Lu Man, it seemed that she was Lu Man's mother.

Behind Lu Man and Xia Qingwei, Shen Nuo and Han Xijin appeared.

After that, even the two elders came out personally.

Wang Qianyun saw Xia Qingwei turning her head, laughing and talking about something with the two elders, Han Xijin and his wife.

They all seemed pretty close and chummy as if they were on really good terms.

Wang Qianyun widened her eyes in disbelief.

Just now, Auntie Sun said that it was Han Zhuoli's engagement. Even on Weibo, Han Zhuoli personally announced it too, saying that he was engaged.

Chapter 668: He Was Afraid of His Wife

Clearly, just now when she said that Han Zhuoli was getting engaged, it wasn't just an excuse.

Moreover, apart from Lu Man and Xia Qingwei, the rest of the Han family was present too.

It couldn't possibly be that Han Zhuoli's fiancée was still in the house and not out yet, right?

Besides, if it had nothing to do with Lu Man, then why would Lu Man be there for Han Zhuoli's engagement?

Suddenly, Wang Qianyun recalled that during Attack Force's premiere, when Lu Man had dashed up to the front to confront Bourbotte, Han Zhuoli had been backing her, standing behind her like a protector.

He was so reliable, and so... gentle at that time.

Moreover, when Han Zhuoli stood behind Lu Man, it gave off a feeling as if the two were really close and intimate, they looked so beautiful, complementing each other.

Back then, she had a rather bad feeling and had felt that Han Zhuoli and Lu Man seemed to be really close.

At that time, she refused to accept and thus, had lied to herself and others, reassuring herself by saying that Han Zhuoli's could never be Lu Man.

However, today she saw Han Zhuoli and Lu Man coming out of Old Han mansion with her own eyes.

The next second, it was useless even if Wang Qianyun was reassured herself by saying she had misunderstood.

Because Han Zhuoli stretched out his long arm and wrapped it around Lu Man's waist. The two of them were so intimate, it was obvious even if she was blind.

She then looked at other Han family members who were grinning from ear-to-ear. They really seemed to love Lu Man to bits.

Honestly, Wang Qianyun found it to be incredulous. The Han family was still a famous renowned, rich, aristocratic family. It was one of the greatest households in the country, weren't they too negligent and careless when it came to choosing their granddaughter-in-law?

They even wanted Lu Man, an actress of such an ordinary caliber?

Moreover, they even seemed to really like her.

At that moment, Wang Qianyun's anger shot straight up to her brain and without thinking, she opened the door and dashed out.

"Uncle Han!" Wang Qianyun called out loudly.

Suddenly, someone came in front of them, almost scaring them.

Frightened, Old Mrs. Han patted her chest and was shocked to see her. "Where did this girl come from? How could she be so rude?"

But wouldn't Old Mrs. Han have guessed it already?

She clearly said it intentionally.

However, Wang Qianyun forced out a smile. "Grandma, I am Wang Qianyun, my uncle is Wang Juhuai. In the past, Uncle Han frequently brought Big Brother Han over to my uncle's place."

Seeing her act so coy, Lu Man secretly placed her hand on Han Zhuoli's waist and pinched him.

How could this girl just appear out of nowhere and call him Big Brother Han?

Unfortunately, Han Zhuoli's entire body was too solid and his muscles were as hard as rocks.

Let alone pinching him, the muscles at his waist were also so solid that he could barely feel anything.

Just as she wanted to pinch, her fingers slipped.

Her weak amount of strength was no different from scratching an itch to Han Zhuoli.

Not only did he not find it painful, he even felt Lu Man's soft finger pressing against his waist a bit sensual, making his heart speed up accordingly. His heart was leaping around like a wild horse, galloping happily.

"Uncle Han." Wang Qianyun didn't really get any reaction from Old Mrs. Han and turn to look at Han Xijin. "Do you still remember me?"

"Oh, Miss Wang." Han Xijin was on good terms with Wang Juhuai. In the past when he met Wang Qianyun at Wang Juhuai's place, because of his relationship with Wang Juhuai, he would call her Qianyun.

However, recently because of Wang Qianyun's clingy and scheming behavior, he felt that Wang Qianyun had changed a lot from when she was younger and didn't really like her anymore.

Moreover, just now during lunch, everyone in the family had shown their displeasure towards Wang Qianyun.

Especially Shen Nuo; she hated Wang Qianyun a lot.

How could Han Xijin still dare to call her that?

Wasn't that just like committing suicide?

That's right, he was afraid of his wife, so what?

Moreover, Han Zhuoli was already engaged to Lu Man and he wasn't unhappy with Lu Man in any way either.

Chapter 669: Intense Animosity

Moreover, Wang Qianyun was at loggerheads with Lu Man, so naturally, he would side with his to-be daughter-in-law.

Instantly, the smile on Wang Qianyun's face froze. "Uncle Han, why... why are you calling me like we're so distant? You can just call me Qianyun as usual."

The next moment, Shen Nuo shot a cold look at Han Xijin.

In his life, Han Xijin had never thought that his friendly nature would create such trouble for his son and thus he looked at Shen Nuo resignedly.

He was very innocent too.

However, Shen Nuo glared at Han Xijin, indicating that she would settle the score with him once they were home.

Turning her head, she then said politely yet distantly, "Miss Wang, is something the matter?"

"Auntie," Wang Qianyun called. "I finally come back home to China, so I wanted to pay a visit to Grandpa and Grandma, as well as Uncle and Auntie so that I could let my uncle tell about you all when I head back."

Raising her eyebrows, Shen Nuo scoffed, "Didn't you say you were an American? What come back home?"

Wang Qianyun: "..."

Wang Qianyun could really feel Shen Nuo's intense animosity.

"Auntie, perhaps there might have been a misunderstanding?" Wang Qianyun said immediately, trying to appease her. "Since childhood, my father and uncle have always reminded me that I am a Chinese and even often practiced speaking Mandarin with me so that I will not forget my roots—"

"If I remember correctly, you went to America with your family after you graduated from primary school, right? You spoke Chinese in this country for ten-plus years, but after going to America, you suddenly forgot ten years of Chinese language and still need to practice it?" Shen Nuo said sarcastically.

On the other hand, Han Xijin stealthily tugged at Shen Nuo's sleeve, hinting at her not be so blunt.

However, this was precisely Shen Nuo's temper. Towards those who she didn't like or didn't have a good impression of, she would definitely not tolerate them.

However, as the wife of the current head of the Han family, there was really not a lot of things she had to tolerate.

Thus, Shen Nuo directly smacked Han Xijin's hand away. "Miss Wang, our family is busy today, it's not convenient for us to attend to a guest today, we can talk about it another day."

Seeing her indifference, Wang Qianyun glanced at Lu Man. "Big Brother Han, your girlfriend is Lu Man?"

"No," Han Zhuoli declined calmly.

Hearing his answer, Wang Qianyun let out a sigh of relief and the corners of her mouth also curled upwards into a smile.

However, before she could break into a complete smile, Han Zhuoli said, "She is now my fiancée."

The very next second, Wang Qianyun's smile froze on her face once again and she shot daggers at Lu Man.

This woman, how was she even compatible!

Seeing her attitude, Han Zhuoli frowned his eyebrows and moved Lu Man behind him, protecting her and blocking Wang Qianyun's gaze. "Miss Wang, please have some dignity."

Wang Qianyun suddenly broke into scornful laughter. "Big Brother Han, you always said you didn't have a girlfriend, how did a fiancée appear out of nowhere?"

If someone heard these words, they would definitely overthink.

Han Zhuoli had always hidden his girlfriend's existence, what was he thinking?

Did she embarrass him?

Was she not worth knowing?

But these disdainful words of hers were ineffective against Lu Man.

Naturally, Han Zhuoli also knew that this little trick would not create a rift between him and Lu Man, but still darkened his face in anger. "Wang Qianyun."

Suddenly, Wang Qianyun's heartbeat sped up.

At this moment, she suddenly realized that even though she had always been calling him Big Brother Han, Big Brother Han, he had never called her by her first name ever.

It had always been a one-sided show where she was chasing him and he didn't even spare her glance or acknowledge her.

Only sometimes when he was really annoyed, he would call her "Miss Wang."

He had never called her Qianyun, not even when they were young.

"I spared you some face because of Mr Wang Juhuai's sake. However, since you shamelessly keep throwing your face on the ground, I shan't be polite either." Han Zhuoli said coldly, "Today, you come over not just to seize the opportunity to suck up to the seniors in my family, but also because of the screenings of Attack Force, right?"

Chapter 670: I Won't Take This Blame

Perhaps it was Han Zhuoli's first statement or his second statement which told her motives, making Wang Qianyun's expression turn frozen and unnatural.

"Big Brother Han, what are you saying? I'm just here to visit the seniors."

“The seniors in my family don’t need you to visit them. The two elders have already not seen any outsider for many years and as for my parents—” Han Zhuoli pursed his lips. “You saw that too, my father has no relation with you and my mother really does not like you. You shouldn’t appear before them anymore, in case my mother misunderstands that something might have happened between my father and you.”

“You brat!” Han Xijin was angry at being implicated by his son.

Han Zhuoli wanted to shoo Wang Qianyun away, but how could he drag him down too?

Clearly Wang Qianyun was here specifically for Han Zhuoli, but once Han Zhuoli said that Han Xijin could care less about what Wang Qianyun was thinking as he hurriedly grabbed Shen Nuo’s hand. “Don’t listen to what that brat is saying! He is pushing the blame on me, I’m not going to take it lying down!”

Already annoyed, Shen Nuo glanced at him coldly and said to Wang Qianyun. “Miss Wang, you should do indeed have some self-respect and keep a distance away from people of the opposite gender that you don’t have any relation with, lest others misunderstand. Be it me or Lu Man.”

“Big Brother Han, you...” Wang Qianyun felt so wronged that her eyes welled up with tears.

Han Zhuoli was intentionally digging a trap for her!

How could she have... have anything with Han Xijin?

Yet, at this time, Han Xijin said quietly to Shen Nuo, “She’s not even good enough for my standards.”

Even though he said it softly, Wang Qianyun still heard it.

This left Wang Qianyun feeling extremely awful as she was insulted by everyone present there.

She wasn’t good enough for his standards, but was he even good enough for her standards?

He was already so old!

“Uncle Han, I genuinely treat you as a senior.” Wang Qianyun felt extremely wronged.

“But you still have to maintain a distance,” Han Xijin said authoritatively, like a proper and serious senior educating a junior.

Annoyed, Wang Qianyun gritted her teeth. Han Zhuoli just said it teasingly, yet they were created a mess for her.

“If it’s genuinely just a visit, you’ve already seen them, please go back,” Han Zhuoli said coldly.

Old Mr. Han also shooed her away impolitely. “Miss Wang, we are also getting old, we don’t have much energy to entertain guests anymore, you don’t have to come over in the future too.”

Clearly, Wang Qianyun’s motive for coming was indeed not innocent. Not only was she here to curry favor with Han family’s seniors, but she also here to ask them to help Attack Force.

After Attack Force became a flop in China, Ryan pushed all the blame to Wang Qianyun, saying that she had lied to the company’s higher management and exaggerated her relationship with Han Zhuoli.

After all, ever since Attack Force 's box office turned out to be a big flop in China, it was also hard for Ryan to report back to the company, and neither could he push the blame onto Bourbotte, so he could only blame Wang Qianyun.

Therefore, other than sucking up to the seniors in the Han family, Wang Qianyun had come over hoping to convince Han Xijin to let Han Corporation give some screenings to Attack Force .

Now that Han Zhuoli had revealed her exact motive, Wang Qianyun was tongue-tied.

Ignoring Wang Qianyun completely, Old Mrs. Han said to Xia Qingwei apologetically, "In-law, I'm really sorry, everything was going so smoothly and well today, but something so disappointing happened out of the blue. But don't worry, our Zhuoli isn't fickle-minded at all, now that he has decided on Man Man, he wouldn't change. If he dared to change his mind, I will break his leg!"

As Lu Man's mother, seeing that her future son-in-law was fancied by another woman, and that woman even came looking for him, it was highly likely that she would find it revolting and would even be upset.

However, this matter wasn't Han Zhuoli's fault either. Although she felt uncomfortable, she couldn't blame Han Zhuoli either.
