

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 1029

Ralph's kiss sent Hanny into a faze, and she did not push him away even after returning to her senses. It was probably because this was what she yearned for.

She missed this man crazily, and all she wanted was to be with him.

Therefore, she did not refuse Ralph's kiss and even leaned in to kiss him back.

When Ralph felt her response, happiness washed over him.

She was not as rough and brutal as she was before.

This time, her kisses were shy, like any woman.

In an instant, he had forgotten all his fears and picked her up, pressing her on the sofa.

Hannah felt her head spin.

Their kiss felt wonderful, and she had never experienced anything like it.

While Ralph had forgotten his fears, Hannah had let go of all her troubles.

She allowed him to kiss her lips, face, and neck, then even let him put his hands into her clothes.
