

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 1031

Ralph drove the car while Hannah stayed awake and looked out the window wide-eyed.

Ralph focused on driving but stole glances at her once in a while. He noticed her greedily taking in the scenery like a child, almost like it was the first time she had seen the outside world.

Unbeknownst to him, Hannah could only wish to see the outside world. She had to return immediately after completing her task every time she left home. She could not wander around.

Therefore, she went shopping, bought the jewelry she liked, pierced her ears, and tried hugging and kissing during her time with Ralph. Everything was so new and wonderful that she dared not close her eyes, fearing she would lose everything.

not want to lose these things because they made her happy, the happiest she had been for was satisfied with how they interacted with each other now. 'As long as she remains like this, she is she looked, but her horrible personality made him scared as he opened the door for minding where they were. Since there was not much she could take pleasure from over the years, she was not picky about food or accommodations and would be happy as long as she was bringing the wedding forward, but after what had happened at good mood. Although she's wounded, her injury doesn't seem serious. As for her planned to have a romantic candlelight dinner, create the right atmosphere and then make love to her in the suite he had booked long-term at the hotel. 'Once moody again after s*x.' Thinking this way, he decided not to