

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 1054

"What's the matter? Are you upset with me?" Heather asked.

'Hasn't she repented after I gave her an earful yesterday? I'm all she has in this world. She should count herself lucky to be able to live as my cover. She would have been dead long ago if it weren't for me. Still, she has defied me for a lousy man. She must have lost her mind!"

Hannah gave no answer or retort. As if she had not heard Heather, she remained quiet and still.

The more she behaved like this, the angrier Heather became. 'If she could pretend not to hear what I said, how can I use her as my substitute and trust her to do her job well in the future?'

"Are you behaving like this to threaten me? You think I can't live without you?" Heather approached Hannah and stood before her, casting an enveloping shadow over Hannah.

and suddenly grabbed Hannah by her half-heartedly for a short while and gave up, knowing it was futile. She stayed quiet until she moaned

"Look at yourself! How will you work for me if never looked like you, Heather." Hannah moved

Hannah's face had paled like an apparition, and vigor and confidence,

Heather,

had no idea why others could not tell them apart and wondered whether she had imitated Heather too well, or others were too stupid, or if they simply looked alike. 'Are our looks so important? We're did not want to become her. She simply wanted to