

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 1063

Margaret sighed for a long time and said quietly, "Sigh, I'm already so old. Do you think there is any reason to fight with them or even lose my temper? I just want to get justice for you so you can live better in the future.

"I've given birth to quite a few children, but I never had the opportunity of being surrounded by children and grandchildren. I don't know what sin I've committed, but your brothers all left one by one. It's not the first time I've been to a funeral for my children. I have all my hopes on you, and I hope you'll have a better life in the future."

She raised her hand, the back of which was already full of wrinkles, and gently stroked Ralph's head, looking at him with loving eyes and saying, "You're my legacy and my child. I want you to live well. I will leave you someday and want to go at ease."

"Mom, I will grant your wish! You live to be a hundred years old, and your best days are yet to come! You'll be healthy and have grandchildren and great-grandchildren in the future!" When it came to making Margaret happy, Ralph has always had a sweet disposition and never wavered.

Sure enough, Margaret was coaxed into a big smile, "You and your sweet words! Alright, I meet those two brats tomorrow and lure them out. Whatever you do is your business. I won't be able to help you much."
