

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 1066

Ralph rolled his eyes at the gatekeeper, but he had expected them to stop him. He said, "Then, how can I go inside? I have some urgent matters to discuss with them. You can't expect me to wait outside under the scorching sun, right? Can I enter if Alex grants me entrance permission?"

The gatekeeper was stunned by his suggestion. He did not quite understand what Ralph meant but insisted, "If Mr. Russell allows it, then we won't stop you. However, Mr. Russell is not home."

"Why are you such a knucklehead? Just because he isn't in doesn't mean I can't call him!" Ralph took out his phone and called Alexander, "Hello, Alex. Why did you leave? Where's my mother?"

Alexander glanced at Margaret, who was next to him, "She's with me."

"With you? I thought she said she'd wait for me, why did you leave without me?! Pass the phone to her!" Ralph complained, unhappy they left him behind.

at her,

said you were supposed to wait for him. Is that true?" He realizing, "Oh, I've forgotten all about that! Yes, we were supposed to wait for tapping her head and sighing. Margaret took the phone and told Ralph, "I'm sorry. I forgot about you. Why don't you go home together. It's fine, I'll just wait here for you, but they won't let me enter. Can you ask Alex to tell his she looked at Alexander. "Alex, since it's all my fault, do you think you can allow your uncle don't you tell him to day. If I miss this, I might not even

You can make it for the show then. We can always reschedule