

Spoiled by Mr. Russell by Luminous Night Chapter 246-250

Chapter 246

“Since my mission is done, I’m leaving!” Frank patted Melanie on the shoulder. He walked calmly in Nathaniel’s direction, not caring much about the angry man blocking his exit.

“Stop!” In anger, Nathaniel grabbed Frank’s arm and gritted his teeth. “You think you can just leave?”

“What about it?” Frank smirked wickedly.

At first, Nathaniel was still trying to hold in his rage because of Frank’s social status, as he could not afford to be rash. However, when he heard what Frank had to say, his anger erupted, and he punched Frank in the face, yelling, “You b*stard!”

It was a solid punch, but it did not aggravate Frank at all. He fell back, and as he regained his balance, he touched the corner of his lips and saw blood. “I’ll let you off on behalf of Ms. Neville, but if you dare throw another punch, I won’t let you off that easily.”

“Who needs it?” Frank’s words easily set Nathaniel off, and since he had already hit him once, he might as well go all out. Nathaniel charged at Frank and began throwing wild punches at him.

Just as Frank promised, he stopped being civil and retaliated. The two men ended up in a brawl. Melanie threw up in the sink for a while before regaining her composure. They were already tangled up in a fight when she turned her head toward them.

Melanie stood to the side for a few moments to calm down before approaching them to break up the fight, “Please, stop it! Stop fighting!”

It was all in vain, as they were too engrossed in their fight to hear her. The altercation moved from the lab to the hallway outside. Most of the furniture had been overturned, and glass was shattered all over the floor. They were creating such a commotion that Melanie worried it might alert the guard. It would only lead to unwelcome difficulties for them if others saw this.

“Stop it! Stop fighting!” After trying to stop them several times to no avail, Melanie finally yelled at the top of her voice, “Nathaniel! Do you want everyone to know what happened here?”

Her outburst finally broke up the fight. Nathaniel was momentarily stunned, and he ended up taking a punch to the jaw. “Ow...” Nathaniel gasped in pain as he saw stars now. Thankfully, Frank stopped attacking when he noticed that Nathaniel had stopped moving. He let go of Nathaniel and shakily stood up. “Nate...” When Melanie saw they had stopped fighting, she quickly rushed over and helped Nathaniel.

She knew that trying to stop Frank would just be a waste of time, so she aimed for Nathaniel instead, as she knew that he still cared about what others thought of him. Nathaniel staggered to his feet, his head still dizzy. He saw someone moving back and forth in front of him, so he raised his head to look. Once he noticed Melanie's worried face, his anger returned, and he shoved her hard, "Get away from me!" Melanie almost fell backward from the force, but luckily Frank held onto her. This only angered Nathaniel further.

Chapter 247

"Let her go!" Nathaniel's face turned ugly.

"There's no need to be so serious!" Frank wanted to challenge him. He got closer to Melanie's face and tried to kiss her.

When Nathaniel saw this, he could no longer hold back and rushed forward to fight Frank again.

However, Melanie grabbed him. "Enough! Do you want to create a stir for the guard to come and let everyone else know what happened here, Nate?!"

Melanie sounded virtuous as if she had not engaged in indecent behavior earlier. Still, her remarks caused Nathaniel to halt what he was doing. He would be embarrassed if others knew about this.

"Get out! Get out of here!" He pointed a finger outside.

Melanie gestured at Frank but did not move. Frank remained in the same spot, appearing not to take it seriously. Despite his smile, his eyes betrayed his contempt.

Melanie frowned and continued gesturing at him with her eyes. She was anxious as she might be unable to control Nathaniel's temper if Frank stayed longer. Frank shrugged and walked to the elevator unhurriedly before he took the elevator down.

"Nate..."

She called his name softly, but Nathaniel yelled at her, "I said get out! Didn't you hear me?!"

"I know you're angry and in a bad mood right now. However, please calm down!" She pointed at the door and said, "The new sample has just been developed. I tested it, so it should work now. Additionally, I modified the formula. Turn it over to the review team at dawn for a second assessment. Following the test, it can be sent to the manufacturing line!

"I promise this will become a hit and help revive MN Inc. You mustn't act in a fit of anger or MN Inc. won't be the only thing destroyed, do you understand?!" She growled loudly.

Nathaniel stood there dumbfounded. He remained still and appeared to have missed what she had said because his eyes were vacant. Melanie quickly held his hand when she saw his wound was still bleeding.

"I have my reason for doing this, Nate! I'll explain it to you later. Now, we should get your wound dressed and get someone to clean this place. It'd be too late if we wait until others come to work tomorrow." "You have a reason?" Nathaniel turned his head and looked at her sluggishly. "Yes!" She nodded in affirmation and held his hands tight. "Don't you believe in me? I've been with you for so many years. I honestly love my reasons! Nate, let's go dress your wound first, okay?" "Haha, reasons!" He laughed out loud and pulled back his hand forcefully. "Do you think I'm a child, Mel? I saw it with my own eyes!" He responded sarcastically, pointing to his own eyes. He wished he could just dig them out.

"Go away! I don't want to see you! You're not needed here!" He turned around and staggered towards the elevator, looking very disheartened. "Nate!" Melanie was unable to stop him. She turned around and looked at the mess in the lab.

After some consideration, she tucked the sample and formula inside her bag. She then dialed the on-call number that was connected to the downstairs phone. "There had been an accident during an experiment. The lab is a mess. Please get someone up here to clean it up."

Nathaniel drove around aimlessly at high speed, his brain went blank. He occasionally thought back to the disturbing images he saw in the lab! He dared not think further!

In his opinion, Melanie was a gentle and lovely young woman. She would give him occasional little surprises and appear spoiled and pampered. She was also quite seductive. Melanie was all he would ever dream a woman might be. Due to his undying love for her, he was willing to exploit Lily, use the company's name to show his devotion, and... almost jeopardized his career.

Chapter 248

Nathaniel hatefully slammed his fist on the steering wheel. He felt nauseous, wanted to vomit, was dizzy, and lost control of the car. The car swerved as if a drunkard was driving on the empty road. After some sharp screeches sounded, the car uncontrollably rushed to the side.

Crash!

The car hit a tree heavily before coming to a stop. Nathaniel was bleeding as he wounded his head.

Lily felt very comfortable when she woke up the following morning. She did not have any headaches or hangovers. It looked like the hangover soup Alexander learned in a hurry was exceptionally helpful.

She could smell breakfast coming from downstairs. She put on her slippers before going downstairs and saw Alexander serving breakfast in an apron. It was a beautiful morning!

She hurried downstairs and hugged Alexander from behind as she gave him a sweet kiss on the cheek, "Good morning!" Alexander laughed happily and turned to kiss her back in return, "Come sit down and have some breakfast."

Plenty of food was on the table, including oatmeal, crackers, omelet, sausage, and cut fruits. It looked very appetizing. She thought this was all, but he unexpectedly served her a glass of honey lemonade, "I checked online, and this seems to help with hangovers too. Drink it." "I feel wonderful. I'm sober now!"

“No, you must drink it. You can treat it as a drink to help digestion.” Alexander insisted.

Lily obediently drank the lemonade as she could not refuse. Fortunately, it tasted excellent.

“What’s your plan today?” Alexander asked while eating breakfast.

“What about you?” Lily had no plans for the time being as she was still on holiday and did not have any inspiration for a new product yet.

Alexander did not answer her. Instead, he took out his phone and played a voice message, “ Good morning, Mr. Russell. You have three regular meetings and one lunch engagement today. You will have lunch with Mr. Norton from Eco Flora Inc. at 3pm. You will be having regular meetings at...”

He stopped the playback halfway and looked at her, “That’s about it.”

Lily was speechless. ‘Oh well, Mr. Russell is a busy man.’

“I will figure it out myself!” she knew he was busy and said thoughtfully. Edward had arrived while they were speaking and was waiting quietly at the entrance hall.

“Did you send her back safely yesterday?” Although there was no need to worry about Olivia, Alexander still expressed concern as Edward helped send Olivia home yesterday.

“I’ve sent her back safely. To her lobby downstairs,” Edward added.

“Do you mean Liv? Did you send her back last night?” Lily figured out the person.

Alexander glanced at her. It looked like she was very drunk yesterday and did not remember what had happened.

Chapter 249

“Yes.” Edward nodded in reply.

“Thank you!” Lily thanked him sincerely. However, this caused Alexander to feel jealous again, “You only thank him? What about me?” “I don’t need to be so polite with you!” Before Alexander could speak further, Lily added, “ Hey, you were the one who said that.”

‘It seems I’ve stepped on my own trap,’ Alexander thought.

Edward looked at his boss in surprise when he saw Alexander stammering, unable to refute. ‘It seems that only my boss’s wife can make him feel so helpless.

“I might be late today. Call me if you have any problems,” Alexander said while putting on his coat.

“Okay!” Lily tip-toed to help him adjust his shirt’s collar. She suddenly remembered the upcoming trip, “Oh right, you mentioned going on vacation earlier. Do you have a destination in mind? Or have you already decided where to go?” “Not yet. Why?”

“It’s nothing. Liv has a few recommendations. Since you’re busy and have not decided on a place, why don’t the girls and I decide it ourselves?” She was traveling with Olivia and Jenny this time and could decide the destination and itinerary by themselves.

“Sure.” Alexander nodded in agreement.

“You’re the best!”

Lily kissed Alexander, and he laughed, “I should arrange a trip for you every month if I knew you were so easy to coax.”

“Okay!” Lily readily accepted, “However, you should leave for work now, or you will be late for your first meeting!” She pushed him out of the door and waited until the car drove away before going back into the house, Since Alexander had agreed to let the girls decide on the vacation location, all Lily had to do now was discuss things with Olivia and Jenny. She turned on the television to watch the daily news and called Olivia, “Are you the one who brought me home yesterday, Liv?” “Oh, you still remember! I thought you were too drunk to remember.” Olivia teased her.

Lily did not remember much of yesterday. She needed to reflect on it to avoid drinking so much in the future. She seldom drank and did not know her alcohol tolerance but had not expected it to be so low. “Did I say or do something crazy when I was drunk”

“Of course, You were chattering non-stop and refused to go home. You insisted we continue drinking, and I couldn’t stop you!” “R-Really?!” Lily gasped in surprise. She was surprised to find out she was such a lousy drunk.

“Halaha! Of course, it’s a lie! I’m teasing you!” Olivia laughed out loud and continued, “You’re not a bad drunk. You just slept and could barely tell me which block you lived in at Imperial Hills. I couldn’t get in without an access card, but luckily Mr. Russell showed up.”

Olivia paused for a second and continued, “By the way, I told Jenny that you stayed at the Lake Hills. Since that’s near Imperial Hills, I managed to fool her. You almost exposed yourself. Remember this, and don’t mix them up!” Lily was speechless. Indeed, one tended to make mistakes when one was drunk

Chapter 250

“Thanks, Liv!”

“There’s no need to thank me since it’s what I ought to do. Still, I never expected you to already live with the boss. That was quick.” Olivia was dying her hair and carrying a stack of clothes. She pinned her phone to her car with her shoulder as her head slanted to one side. Olivia’s voice sounded broken. “Oh, hey!” Lily wondered if Olivia would be shocked and surprised if she found out Lily and Alexander had already registered their marriage. In fact, they registered a long time ago.

Olivia knew what she had to say was unpleasant, but she decided it was necessary.

From her point of view, Lily was good at everything, just that she was a little dumb when it came to love. Previously when she was with Nathaniel, she blindly contributed so much, but it did not end well.

Now, Alexander was much better at what he had to offer. If this lasted naturally, it would be great, but what if it did not?

Wealthy families were not easy. So many people had married into wealthy families but met a dismal end. Olivia wanted Lily to be happy. She did not want Lily to go down that route.

“I understand.” Lily nodded. She knew Olivia was only concerned about her.

“No, you don’t understand,” Olivia said.

Lily was speechless.

“The boss is a diamond–grade eligible bachelor. He comes into contact with pretty girls all the time in his circle. Lily, I’m not trying to curse you, but you must protect yourself. After all, you have to think about yourself.” Olivia lost her train of thought a little as she said that. “Ah, who cares. I don’t know what I’m saying myself.”

Lily smiled. “I know this is for my own good, little miss nosy. Why haven’t I noticed how nosy you were before? Let me ask you something. When Edward sent you home, did you nag him all the way?” Thinking of his quiet personality, Olivia thought it would be funny if she nagged him all the way.

“Hey! I’m being serious with you, yet you’re joking with me. Fine, I won’t say anymore.” Unknowingly, Olivia’s face reddened. She thought of the apathetic man. Besides the misunderstanding the first time they met, Edward seemed pretty dependable.

To Olivia, a man like Edward was a lot more dependable than the Alexander type. Edward gave one a sense of security. At this point, Olivia suddenly jolted back to the present. She quickly shook her head and tapped her face. ‘Gosh, what am I thinking?!

She was comparing Edward to Alexander and even thought that the former gave one a sense of security. She was not the one choosing a boyfriend!

“Olivia? Olivia!” Lily said her name a few times after not getting a response.

“Uh, I’m here. Go ahead.” “What are you doing? There is so much noise.” She had heard Olivia tapping her face but did not know what had happened. “Oh, it was nothing. A mosquito was flying around, so I was trying to hit it. You can continue talking.”

“A mosquito?” Lily was suspicious. ‘During this season?’

Nonetheless, Lily did not press on and returned to the previous topic. “I said, about the trip, didn’t you have a suggestion? Alexander said it’s no problem, and we can make plans on our own. Let’s meet and talk about it when you have the time.”

“I’m usually free. What about today?”

“That’s fine. I’ll soon...” Lily was about to mention a place for them to meet, eat together, and talk about the trip when a news report on the television caught her attention. “A car accident happened in our city early this morning. A white Benz lost control and hit three road dividers, then hit a big tree by the road. The injured party has been sent to the hospital for intensive treatment. According to reports, the injured person is the CEO of MN Inc., Mr. Nathaniel Hall. The cause of the accident is still under investigation. The studio has included the relevant reports below.”
