

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 653

Last month, Derrick said he would be traveling for business. He was away for several days and had just returned.

Was he gone again already? He had been going back and forth so frequently recently that Joseph had lost track of him.

His current focus was on Damian, and he felt obligated to back him up.

While Joseph still desired his mistress to join them, he had not made concrete plans for her.

"Yes!"

Arianna was surprised, "Didn't you know?"

"How would I know? I haven't seen him recently," snorted, then asked, 'By the way, do you know what Derrick has been busy with recently? Does the company was that Joseph was entirely unsuitable for he was no match for Derrick in only son and was not there was hope, he wanted to take the Tanners' property into his own hands so many trips in person. I asked his secretary, but she didn't know either. In and her mysterious appearance aroused Joseph's curiosity, "What I heard that Uncle Derrick was in a hurry because of Benedict's affairs. Furthermore, his health was not great, so he was actually hospitalized when he claimed to

"Really?"

Joseph was stunned.

course, he was also skeptical of siblings, how could he not know if Derrick